Educational Rally Draws Large Crowd

Supt. Sherrill, Alumnus of M. C., and Ex-Supt. Gilbreath Give Addresses

MORE THAN 1000 SCHOOL CHILDREN ATTEND

Wednesday, Oct. 27, was a great day for the public schools of Blount County. Maryville College threw open her portals to the boys and girls of the country districts. They came by the hundreds. It would be safe to say that fully a thousand children were present besides the teachers and parents. It was inspiring to look upon such an audience, the schools sat in groups in the chapel. Several schools had banners and just before the program began it reminded many of a political convention. Miss Broady, the present Superintendent presided over the meeting, the invocation was pronounced by Rev. James Allen Smith. The Maryville public school girls rendered a chorus, and Miss Lucile Oliver of the Polytechnic school sang a solo, after which Dr. Wilson presented Mr. Waters, who in turn introduced the principal speaker of the day—State Superintendent, S. W. Sherrill. Mr. Waters is the man who taught Supt. Sherrill how to read. The coming of Supt. Sherrill was of great interest, as this was his first official visit to Blount County and to his alma mater. He was born and reared in Blount County on the banks of Little River six miles east of Maryville, where he could catch a glimpse of old Chilhowee Mountain at any moment. Maryville College has always been proud of its alumni who have attained distinction and is no prouder of anyone than Supt. Sherrill. He is considered one of the leading educators of the State and the South. He has been making strenuous efforts to raise the standard of Tennessee's public school system, in which he has been meeting with success.

Supt. Sherrill's address covered the educational conditions of the State and her needs. He emphasized that much of the teaching in the rural districts has been an impediment to the advancement of the child. He said the schools must train for useful life and that the child must be trained according to his environment, for country life is retrograding because the children are educated away from the farm. Education as the means by which an individual may adjust himself to meet the changing conditions of life was stressed. The Supt. said the development of community life must be brought about through the school as a medium, and that the school should be the social center of the community, consequently, more adequate buildings are needed as well as more efficient teachers. One thing he emphasized that should be in every school building is a mothers' room, where the mothers can assemble with the teachers and discuss those things that are for the best interest of the school. Supt. Sherrill said next the need of a system of rural high schools for each county was great. He concluded with an appeal for more cooperation in the education of the future citizenship of Tennessee.

The next speaker on the program was Pres. Sidney G. Gilbreath of the East Tennessee Normal School at Johnson City. His address was very interesting and inspiring. His manner is very pleasing, and there is not a stronger speaker among the educators of the State than he. Pres. Gilbreath always strikes a responsive chord when he comes to Maryville College. His address consisted mostly in placing emphasis on certain points made by Supt. Sherrill and giving statistics concerning the number of school children in East Tennessee attending school regularly. Pres. Gilbreath concluded with a strong appeal that the parents give more attention to the education of their children.

At the conclusion of Pres.

STUDENTS CELEBRATE CHATTANOOGA VICTORY

Parade by Hundreds of Boys Through the Town---Bon Fire on the Campus

On Monday night, Nov. 1st over (300) three hundred loyal rooters of M. C. fell in line on the hill for one of the most spectacular shirt-tail paradeever witnessed in Maryville, celebrating the victory of Maryville over Chattanooga.

Led by a band they marched down town, gave a big snake dance up Main Street, circled in front of the movies and gave yells for the team, the coach and for the college.

The Gem theater opened its doors and the boys went in and enjoyed some of Charlie Chaplin's capers. After yells of thanks were given, the line again formed and started for the hill. On the way over every fellow secured a box, a barrel or something that would burn, in preparation for the big bon fire.

It was a Real Bon Fire too—with the fellows all dancing around to the tune "We hung Chattanooga to a sour apple tree" When the fire had almost died down yells were given for the team, each individual on the team, the coach, the captain and for our president Dr. Wilson.

Leaving the bon fire in the rear the parade moved to the home of Dr. Wilson where, after many calls, the Doctor responded with a talk, which was followed by a few words from Dr. McMillen, his guest—More cheers!!!

Of course the Co-eds were anticipating a visit, so the fellows, quite naturally it seemed, gave them a big snake dance and some yells, and the girls replied very heartily with cheers for the team.

After singing, "Good night ladies," the parade disbanded with yells for "On to Tusculum."!!!

Orange and Garnet Out Plays Moccasins From Start to Finish

WINS BY SCORE OF 13-0 IN FAST GAME

The most brilliantly played and cleanly contested foot-ball game that has been staged on the local field for many years occurred here Saturday when the Maryville College eleven won from the University of Chattanooga, 13-0. The game was such as local fans have never seen put up by a home team, and does great credit to the splendid coaching of Kiefer, as well as to the great enthusiasm with which the student body inspired their team. For this reason Maryvillians were very much surprised, to say the least, at the account of the game as given by the Chattanooga Times. Especially do we most emphatically protest against the insinuation than Ensign, a former Moccasin, gave away any of Chattanooga's signals. When Ensign left Chattanooga he gave his word of honor never to mention any of her plays or signals and to his statement he has remained absolutely firm and true throughout Maryville's entire season. Those who saw the game also do not have the impression that Chattanooga's defeat was due entirely to fumbles, nor that Maryville's line was like so much paper, nor that Maryville's men were bowled over like so many ten-pins. Once and only once was Maryville's goal in danger, that being on the five-yard line in the third quarter, when it is true Chattanooga fumbled. The rest of the entire game was played on Chattanooga's territory. Here is a report of the game as seen by a local reporter:

FIRST QUARTER

Chattanooga received the ball and returned it ten yards. They were then forced to kick. By successive forward passes of 8 and 30 yards, respectively, followed by an end run, a line buck, and another pass, Maryville brought the ball back to Chattanooga's 20 yard line and there attempted a field goal. It failed, and the ball went over to Chattanooga, who punted, the ball rolling out of bounds. Immediately after the ball was put in play Quarterback Callaway carried the ball 25 yards around right end for a touchdown, and Greer kicked an easy goal after kickout. The whistle blew with the score 7-0.

SECOND QUARTER

The second quarter began with Chattanooga receiving the kick, but the ball was soon after lost on a fumble. Maryville punted and held Chattanooga for downs. Here Maryville lost the best chance in the whole game to score a touchdown, when a 15-yard pass through an open field to her right end was dropped on the two-yard line. Maryville then tried another field goal, but failed and the ball was given to Chattanooga on her 20-yard line. Chattanooga punted and Maryville failed to gain. Chattanooga fumbled and Maryville recovered. Then Maryville fumbled and Chattanooga recovered, following this with a completed pass of 20 yards. The half closed with the ball near Chattanooga's 20 yard line and the score 7-0.

THIRD QUARTER

The third quarter opened with Maryville receiving. An incompleted pass and a fumble gave Chattanooga the ball but she immediately lost it by a fumble. Maryville punted and the ball rolled outside. Chattanooga failed on a pass and then fumbled, Maryville recovering, but failing on the next pass. Ensign then made a 25 yard end run, and after two incompleted forward passes Maryville had to kick. The ball was fumbled by Chattanooga's quarterback on the two-yard line and Feeman, Maryville's fast end was right there to carry the ball over. Goal failed. Chattanooga then received and returned the ball almost to the center of the field. Clemmons, Maryville's fullback, intercepted a Chattanooga pass,

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

Once more we are together and once more we have advanced. We feel that we have accomplished much and that at the present rate of progress we will soon be in the sorrowful condition of Alexander the Great, who having conquered all wept because there was not more to conquer. Have we not cause to feel proud and to boast? Have we not come up through the Savage or Freshman stage and the Barbaric of Sophomore stage to this our high and noble standard of civilization. We are different beings now and are not to be held accountable for deeds done in our lower states.

This year has opened with a snap for the class of '18, and things are now in full swing. Though many who were under our banner last year are here no more, we still claim more than half a hundred of the finest specimens on the Hill. Look around you at the various activities of student life, and you will see Sophomores always in the vanguard. Why? Because in them the true Maryville spirit is developed to the n'th power.

FRESHMAN CLASS NOTES

The class of 1919 has already gained fame on College Hill. Last year, as preps, we taught our higher college brothers what true class spirit is, and now, as the Freshman Class, we have lost none of our spirit, but rather redoubled it. Already the most famous class that has ever risen out of the prep. of Maryville, we propose at the outset of this year, and of our college career, to be the foremost class on the hill—Sophomores not excluded.

At our first meeting we elected the following class officers:

The New Weekly.

During the past ten years Maryville College has been growing by leaps and bounds. Each year has witnessed an increase in enrollment of students. To accommodate this influx of students, new equipment has been added from time to time. The new swimming pool just opened is the latest addition to the equipment.

This increase of enrollment and addition of general equipment is accompanied by a marked advance of college spirit and college activities.

The need of a weekly paper, in which this college spirit and these activities could be expressed, has been felt for some time. So urgent has this need become that this year the establishment of such a paper has been determined.

The College Monthly published by the students of Maryville College for years has been a great value to the college, to its friends and to its alumni as a means of communication. Nevertheless, no monthly edition, however well it is edited and supported, can give the students, the faculty and the friends of the college, the news of the college in the fresh and crisp form. For this reason, the editorial staff of the College Monthly has decided to offer to the student body a weekly instead of a monthly publication.

The name of the weekly is the "Highland Echo", and may all the news of Maryville College find an echo in it.

Why Maryville Won The Chattanooga Game

The Chattanooga News, says that every player on the U. of C. team wonders why Maryville won the game with them Sat. Oct. 30. This is the condition of mind that all defeated men have when they overestimate their own strength and underestimate their opponents.

The weakness of the Chattanooga giants was seen in their frequent fumbles and inability to recover them or to recovre Maryville's fumbles. They did not put up a strong offensive game that their superior weight would have supported. Neither did Chattanooga "use their heads" in the game. A striking instance of this is the fact that one player attempted to receive a punt on his five yard line. Not only would he have been doubted twenty yard if he had let the ball go but he would have kept Feeman from making a touchdown from the recovery.

The source of Maryville's strength lay in three lines. The team showed superior coaching, the team went harder, and the student body gave them excellent support.

From a light bunch of mostly new material Coach Kiefer has made one of the best football machines that Maryville college has ever had. So much does the squad respect him as a gentleman and so highly do they estimate his ability as a Coach that twice the number of men are seen on the gridiron for practice that have been seen in former years. From this bunch of men Coach Kiefer is developing a team famous for its punch and for its wonderful team work.

Just a hint at a few facts of the game will reveal the merits of the team. The very fact that eleven men played the whole game for Maryville shows their sticking qualities. So much punch did they put in the game that two Chattanooga giants had to be carried off the field and two others had to be relieved by subs. All this is more remarkable when we remember that Chattanooga had the advantage of about fifteen pounds average to the man.

The student body also showed remarkable spirit in their loyal support of the team. Not only were they at the game en masse, but they made their presence evident by songs, cheers, band music and a boa snake dance. This is the spirit that wins and the spirit that must survive.

So here is your answer: A well coached. hard fighting, united team backed by a loyal student body.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore year for most classes is a critical period. But the horoscope of the Class of '18 has been read, and this is what the stars reveal: A year filled with class spirit, and with many friendships which will last as long as life; a year of many triumphs; a year in which, tho we may be outnumbered, we will never be outclassed; a year when each member of the Class is loyal to every other member, and to the Class as a whole; a year which will leave us stronger than it finds us, and better able to meet the arduous responsibilities of a Junior's life.

Let us all determine that come good, come ill, we will do our individual best that it may be fulfilled which was written for us in the stars.

The Sophomore Party

"There was sound of revelry by night" on the 30th of October, 1915. Scattered here and there over all the town of Maryville were the gathering places of Beauty and Chivalry, where music and gay laughter, and sounds of feasting, and the noise of joyous sports were heard. And the greatest of these was at the home of Major McTeer.

Hither repaired the Sophomores, being greeted as they approached by the ghastly leer of a pair of grinning Jack-O-Lanterns, one on each side of the steps. As they entered the full glory of autumn struck the view. For the house was a perfect riot of vari-colored leaves, mingled with which were the streamers of black and gold, the emblem of the class. And guarding all, more yellow pumpkin heads.

It did not take long for the festivities of the evening to begin. In fact, they started for some poor unfortunates almost as soon as they entered the door. The best balm for pride crushed by a fall is to see someone else make our own mistake. So the dejection did not last long. Then began a search for hidden fortunes. These were perfectly blank and innocent-looking pieces of white paper, but when held over the flame of the Mystic Lamp, words and sayings of the greatest import were discovered. Much excellent advice was given which, if followed, would change the entire course of some lives.

Then the guests had an opportunity to show their skill along the line of sculpturing—with Wrigley's Spearmint, "The Flavor Lasts." The relative merit of the designs was decided by the all-powerful ballot, woman's suffrage being the order of the day, and Miss George Simpson was awarded the first prize, a pumpkin pie, one of Greenlee's best. A Kewpie of manly forms and noble proportions, decked with a huge bow of black and gold was given as a consolation prize to Mr. Willis McClenaghan, in view of the fact that he had not received a single vote.

Finally, after some of the boys had paid their respects to a novel barber shop, and all had visited the punch bowl, and after Major McTeer himself had displayed to an interested crowd come of the many curios and Civil War trophies in his collection, an enormous pie was brough in from whose top, black and yellow ribbons were projecting. Everybody pulled a ribbon, and got out a tiny pumpkin-head, with a slip of paper bearing a well-known proverb. By matching these proverbs, each found a partner for the refreshments, which were next on the program. And such refreshments! We can imagine that when Mrs. Juno entertains the Ladies' Aid of Olympus Heights, she might have such food to set before them. And the Sophomores, being mere mortals with healthy appetites born of a month and a half of Pearson's fare, were in their glory.

When the last of that ambrosial salad was consumed, the finishing touch was given by Roy Anderson, who sang very appropriately, "A Perfect Day." He was at his best, and everybody knows what that means. Then slowly, reluctantly, the guests departed, with one more happy memory to add to their Maryville annals.

and ran 15 yards. The quarter ended with the score 13-0.

FOURTH QUARTER

In the fourth quarter Maryville punted, Chattanooga made an incomplete pass followed by a fumble which Maryville recovered. Ensign then made a long end run and Kirkgard made a gain over tackle. Feeman made a long end run on a fake, but Wallin was tackled for a loss. Maryville had to kick and Chattanooga failed on several passes. The game ended, score 13-0. Maryville used no substitutes in the game while Chattanooga substituted and resubstituted time and again. The stars of the game were Ensign and Feeman for Maryville, and Woodsworth and Hampton for Chattanooga.

On the Gridiron

A mere newspaper account of the game played last Saturday is not enough to describe an event which has set old College Hill throbbing with new life. There are inestimable details, each of which bore an important part in the winning of that game, but after all is told many things will remain unsaid. When the whistle blew on that eventful day and the Maryville boys sped down the field after Clemens' long kickoff every man knew a fight was on such as he had not seen before. Two mass meetings had been held to inspire the team and each member felt he must fight for his Alma Mater. They hardly expected to win. Their only hope was to hold Chattanooga to a small score. They knew they were out-weighed about fifteen pounds to the man, but what did they care. They went into that game to hold Chattanooga or die, and the way they fought was a magnificent spectacle indeed.

Big Day with only a few days of practice supported his side of the line like a mountain of stone. Oh, it was glorious to see that line hold to the inches like they were the last memories of home and mother! And the way that Briggs ragged that Chattanooga line was a shame. He had them so nervous they could have balanced themselves on one foot on the top of Anderson flag-pole —almost! When that Briggs would slap Feeman on the back and point to that Chattanooga tackle, Feeman would smile, but that smile soon faded into a look of defiance as old Feeman set his teeth, rose on his toes, and dashed into a Chattanooga back like a Baldwin locomotive. "Don't mind that, Feeman, think what the Titanic struck!" And about that time "Greaser" reaches around behind a Moccasin, grabs him by the shoulder and lays him on his back. But have you noticed our center? It's his first year in 'Varsity ball but he never wobbled on the job. When Hampton, Chattanooga's giant fullback came plowing into Maryville's line, you knew "Hickey" was under the pile. "Shorty" Wallin and "Turkey" were not behind their fellows in the attainment of honors. Both of them went into the game with old injuries but they were soon forgotten in the wild enthusiasm of beating Chattanooga. When Shorty's rheumatism or Turkey's "Charley Horse" crossed the threshold of consciousness, the old boys clamped down on their nose-guards with a vengence—and made for Chattanooga. Shorty netted a gain of thirty yards on a pass, and Turkey fought steadily and untiringly. And the way our backs worked! Callaway, the mainspring of the whole clock, what a general! What is he going to do—punt, pass, or run? He can do all three, but oh, the doubt, the tantalizing uncertainty with which he inspires his opponents. If it's a pass, it's straight and true, if it is a kick, it is long and high, if it is a run, it's hard and fast. And "Hen" ain't sayin' nuthin'. But what's the matter with Kirkgard? He's all right! Watch him dump that interference, look at him as he carries the ball around the end, or plunges the line for five or ten yards. When the ball is snapped Kirk is off and it takes something more than a Chattanoogan to stop him. He got his arm hurt in the game but what did he care? He was playing Chattanooga—Chattanooga with all her visions of the Southern Championship, Chattanooga, who had not been beaten this season, Chattanooga, who came to Maryville for a practice game —and Kirkgard helped her get her much needed practice. The work of Clemens also cannot be too highly praised. Bob was in the game with all he had, and when Chattanooga's big backs plunged the line he was always there to stop them. In offensive playing, Bob is a star on line plunges, and there is not a harder man on the team to tackle. He is also a fine punter and his kicks proved of much value in Saturday's game. It is true that Bob did not know the score after the game was over, and that he took about a half a dozen shower baths before the boys could get him out, but he appeared very much in his head when he intercepted that pass and ran fifteen yards with it. Last but not least in the constellation of eleven stars, is our small but speedy right-half, Ensign. Ensign is from Chattanooga, but a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. So he was glad to show them things that they had not appeared to see before. His brilliant end runs were the feature of the game, and the way he followed interference and dodged his would-be tacklers was a sight to restore sight to the blind. His tackling was equally spectacular, and his playing was very inspiring to the other members of the team.

We have overcome the spirit of rivalry and conflict and are now anxious to cooperate with our equals and inferiors to help them to rise to the high standard of culture which we champion.

Most classes have trouble in getting a representative group to their class meetings, but this year we are having almost a full roll at every meeting. It was at one of these representative meetings that we elected one of the most efficient corps of officers that were ever seen on the hill. We all united in one voice and chose as President one of the most popular and efficient girls in college, Miss Alice Wright; for Vice-President we have Mr. Pat Quinn; Treasurer, Miss Bertha Wilson; and for Secretary, Mr. Wade Haggard. With these officers as leaders, you may expect to hear of great things being done by the Class of '17 this year.

One of the first things done was to have the most attractive and successful party in the history of the class. In the first place we had an ideal place, an ideal host and an ideal hostess, with these and with such a class how could we have had otherwise than an ideal party. But to make it more than ideal we had three distinguished seniors as guests, who though they dared not forget their dignity, seemed to feel very much at home among such a group of intellectuals, and "Shorty" Wallin and "Red" Walker were even prevailed upon to make speeches, which is enough said, as to that part. We had contests and games which were in accordance with the spirit of the evening and all too soon it was time to leave.

Y. W. C. A.

The new awakened interest, enthusiasm, and energy is in the Y. W. C. A. as well as in the other departments of the college.

One half of the term has passed and this enthusiasm and interest is increasing still; thus our Y. W. C. A. promises to be stronger this year than in former years. One hundred members have been enrolled and a large per centage of this number has been present at every meeting. There has been an interesting leader each Sunday and the meetings have been splendid.

The prayer meeting led by the Y. W. girls was but an open meeting to the student body and it was generally thought and expressed that it was a fine meeting.

Next Sunday Genevieve Gibson will lead and her topic will be "The Way."

Further encouragement has been given the girls by Miss Ina Scheerbeck, the field secretary of the Y. W. C. A. who paid this association a visit. Miss Scheerbeck on the fourteenth and fifteenth of October gave the various committees private counsel and made two addresses. The first to the Cabinet was invaluable and will the students ever forget the Chapel talk that this lady gave us, the four sins that came home so forcibly, namely, Selfishness, Cowardice, Insolence and Cruelty.

Gilbreath's address, Supt. Sherrill arose and said he had an announcement to make. It was that Blount County had a very efficient superintendent. This was known long before Supt. Sherrill's announcement. The success of rally is indicative of her efficiency. She has put more impetus into the schools than they had before her election to the superintendency. Maryville College is also her alma mater.

The exercises of the day were concluded in the afternoon at the Court House. A demonstration of the Canning Club was given, also a cake baking demonstration was given. Miss Broady was assisted by Miss Margaret Ambrose, Superintendent of the Canning Club Work of East Tennessee; Miss Stroud, the Collaborator of Knox County, and Miss Johnson of Anderson County.

FRESHMAN CLASS

D. H. Briggs, President; Emma Miles, Vice-President; Maude Pardue, Secretary; and Ernest K. James, Treasurer.

"Sheenie" needs little introduction. He is known far and wide over the Hill. On the football field, where his good nature keeps things lively; in the class room, where he is a star and in the debating circles, where he is feared. His greatest enjoyment, though, is class scraps, in which, indeed, he gives a wonderful account of himself. Miss Miles is also a familiar personage on the Hill and is noticeable, not only for her size, but also for her pleasant ways. Miss Pardue, although this is her first year in Maryville, yet she is fast winning popularity among her class-mates. "Jaimie" is also an important character. Perhaps you have seen him parading across the campus, his six feet reared aloft and crowned by a pompadour of amber—don't ever call it red hair.

Thus starting with such a wise selection of officers, the class has already given a good account of itself. The first thing "pulled off" was a feast by the girls. This affair took place in Baldwin and was attended by every freshman girl. It was a decided success and the girls are to be congratulated on "pulling off" the first feast the Freshman girls have had in years.

Of course the boys were not to be outdone. So on the night of October 15th, about 9:30 o'clock, the boys collected at a place of rendezvous and marched out on an open field by Prof. Brittain's. Here we had all the good things to eat that can be imagined and after feasting, had an address by our President. After this the following class yell was given most enthusiastically.

"Rippity, Rippity, Zeppity Zim,
Come out of the woods,
And paper your chin;
We're wild, we're wooley,
We're rough, like a saw,
Freshman, Freshman,
Rah, Rah, Rah!"

But not content in simply having a feast we have reached out to higher and nobler fields. Fields where quick thought takes the place of quick action, and where strength of mind takes the place of strength of body. In short we have formally challenged the Sophomore class to a public debate. This they have accepted more readily than they did our invitation on the night of the 15th, but they are, nevertheless, going down in defeat. A defeat from which they will not arise until the dawning of the Junior year.

We must conclude, but in doing so wish to state that we have just begun our course, and that these happenings will be but stepping-stones to greater things during our entire college career.

For the Freshman Class,

Class Editor.

MARYVILLE'S NEW SWIMMING POOL DEDICATED

Size of Pool, 75x25 Feet, Cost, Over $10,000

SPEECHES IN CHAPEL, FOLLOWED BY SWIMMING EXHIBITION

There is a spirit which is continually permeating the atmosphere of Maryville College. This spirit now appropriately bears the appellation of "The Spirit of the Larger Maryville." On Monday, Nov. 1st, the great heart of Maryville was made glad by the final results of this spirit's activity.

Ever since Bartlett Hall has been built the spirit that built it has dreamed of a swimming pool in connection with the gymnasium. Excavations were made, but no further work was done towards a pool until 1914, when the question again came up in a Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Meeting. Determination wrought their dreams into gold and the first of November, 1914, found the student body with what the Faculty had promised to give, lacking only seven hundred dollars to complete a swimming pool. On the first day of November, 1914, a week's compaign was begun to raise the needed amount. The Y. W. C. A. cooperated with the Y. M. C. A. in conducting the financial campaign and on November the seventh the needed seven hundred dollars were in the Treasurer's hands. A year passed, during which the College more than fulfilled its promise and the clang of the hammer has been a constant portend of the joys of Nov. 1, 1915.

As the students were gathered in Chapel Nov. 1st, ebullient with joy over the Chattanooga football victory, there could not have been a more opportune time for the Swimming Pool dedication.

The Swimming pool was complete and the day for the formal opening had arrived. Dr. Wilson gave a history of the "Spirit of the Larger Maryville," mentioning what the Athletic Association, the Y. M. C. A. and the Cooperative Boarding Club had done to advance the college along lines of greatest value to the students.

Pat. Quinn was then introduced to speak for the Y. M. C. A. and to review the activities of that association in helping to build the Swimming Pool.

After reviewing briefly the part played by the Y. M. C. A. in building the Swimming Pool, Mr. Quinn show-

DR. WILSON ADDRESSES LAW CLUB

Pres. Wilson addressed the Law Club at its bi-weekly meeting Saturday night. The subject of his discourse was "The Principles of Hebrew Law." The similarity of the fundamental principles of Hebrew law and modern law were brought out.

Some of the principles guarded by the Pentateuch, as pointed out by Dr. Wilson are: God as a basis, national unity, liberty, political economy, rule by the majority, authority of people recognized, responsibility of officials to the public, cheap and speedy justice, agriculture as a basis of industry, sacredness of the home and farm, checks and balances, and others.

The Club was glad to know that Dr. Wilson once planned to be a lawyer and still has in his heart a warm place for those of the legal profession.

MISS IRENE BEWLEY VISITS OLD FRIENDS AT M. C.

DELIGHTS TOWNSPEOPLE AND STUDENTS WITH READING

One of the greatest pleasures in the course of College events is Miss Irene Bewley's annual visit. Greenville, Tennessee, the home of her parents and her girlhood home claims her for a month every year. While there, she comes to her college home because she loves her Alma Mater and feels that she is the student's friend.

In her Freshman year, (1905) Miss Bewley graduated with honors from the department of Elocution under Mrs. Nita West, who says she is one of the best students she has ever had. The two years following, Miss Bewley studied in Boston, Mass., under the great Leland Powers, who makes this statement concerning her: "She is one of the finest women readers of comedy this school has ever turned out."

The next year Miss Bewley returned to Maryville College to assist Mrs. West in the expression department. This year was a very successful one, but the call of the larger city was alluring, so she returned to Boston.

Miss Bewley makes Boston her headquarters, but reads in Washington, New York and other prominent cities. She makes a yearly trip to Canada, but counts her trip South a much more important one.

For several years the Y. W. C. A. has had Miss Bewley as one number of the Lyceum course, but this year the Young Women's Club of the Presbyterian Church secured her for the evening of Nobemver 4th. The entertainment was splendid and very much enjoyed. The proceeds are to go toward putting a domestic science department in the Battle Creek Mission. In addition to the entertainment, Miss Bewley read two selections at the chapel services Friday morning: the first, a Cape Cod selection, "An Abandoned Elopement" is a favorite with her because she is so well acquainted with those people. The second selection was "Home Again," and this seemed to be an expression of appreciation for her home.

Y. W. C. A. SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HOLDS CANDY SALE

Did you buy some of that delicious candy and did you have some of that tempting pie and cake made by the girls of Miss Clemmie Henry's Sunday School Class? If you weren't among those who were so fortunate you will always regret it.

The sale was given on the lawn of the Presbyterian Church last Friday afternoon. The girls considered this the best place possible as they were able to waylay any who were journeying towards town with loaded pocketbooks.

The sale was a great success as is shown by the profits, which amounted to thirteen dollars and fifty cents.

The girls were very much pleased by the way in which every one helped them so willingly in this effort to make money for the orphans' Christmas tree.

RECITAL BY MUSIC AND EXPRESSION DEPARTMENTS

A recital by the Music and Expression Departments was held in the Chapel Thursday afternoon, November fourth. The program consisted of piano solos by Misses Genevive Gibson, Lena Pardue and Faith Robinette; readings by Mr. Eckles West, Mr. Pat Quinn and Miss Annie Lee Frazier; vocal solos by Misses Josephine Knapp, Lily Mitchell and Edna Byrum. Each number was a treat in itself. These recitals occur frequently and are well worth attending. The only admission fee is your ready sympathy and appreciation.

"What it is all about"—This is Miss Emma Miles' subject for Y. W. C. A. next Sunday. The editor has been given a hint that this subject concerns the Blue Ridge Conference which Miss Miles attended last June, if so, the meeting will be well worth attending.

PROF. WALKER ENTERTAINS SENIORS AT CARNEGIE

FORMALITY CAST ASIDE, AS MEMBERS OF '16 FROLIC

Since our Freshman year Prof. Walker has taken quite an interest in entertaining several members of the class of '16. He has lost much sleep in chasing banner hangers and sign painters from one dark nook of the campus to another; however, now that we have attained the dignity and solemnity of Seniors, he has turned his ever vigilant eye to the classes of '18, '19 and upwards. So to dispel any feeling of neglect in himself and to show his appreciation of our wonderful rise, ours was the honor and pleasure of a delightful party in his apartments in Carnegie Hall, Saturday evening.

The hilarity of the occasion began when it dawned upon each young lady that she was to be escorted by two worthy gents. Not once did this hilarity lag during the entire evening for as soon as all had reached Carnegie in answer to the assembly call given from some lofty height, two captains were chosen who divided those present into teams fo ran indoor track meet, Oklahoma vs Missouri. Some of the representatives from each University starred, of course, but "Fatty" Caldwell deserves special mention in that he won the standing broad grin, doing four inches easy, while Frank Cross was a close second. Chas. Silsby also won merit in the dash-chewing up three yards of string in three seconds for three inches of candy, but had the misfortune of being disqualified for swallowing the string. Though there was much rooting and cheering manifest by both sides, the meet ended in a tie which however was broken and won by Oklahoma when "Mosheim" made the most noise in a "Barnyard Concert" which proved to be a solo. After this there was a nice catchy guessing contest which was won by "Doc Threl" all alone and unaided.

At this point it was announced that refreshments were about to be served so there was no more time for amusements, A very elaborate luncheon was served of rare quality and quantity. The courses consisted of salad, sandwiches, cocoa, ice cream and cake with great plates of 'free for alls' on the center table. The lights flashed, during which momentary darkness Oscar Rob-

SCRUBS SHOW GREAT FORM IN GAME WITH McMINN H. S.

EVERY MAN STARRED IN SATURDAY'S GAME

DEFEAT VISITORS BY 63-0 SCORE

The Scrubs don't always get scrubbed as one might infer from their name. Sometimes as was seen last Saturday they administer a good scrubbing to other teams. The game between McMinn County High School and our second team was another good index to the exceptional football material which Maryville can boast of this year. McMinn H. S. carried home a defeat of 63-0.

Throughout the game the scrubs had things their way, and it was easy to see that they outclassed their opponents. This being the case it is difficult to mention individual stars when every man did his part so well and helped to roll up a large score of 63 to 0.

Coach Kiefer is developing a second team which wont be all second string men next year, for already several of these men are showing wonderful football ability, considering their experience.

Truly this seems to be Maryville's gala season in football, and the schedule is being thoroughly enjoyed by all, and the scrubs are filling their part of the schedule.

The football boys are taking advantage of these fine autumn days and practice is going on daily. Coach Kiefer has about thirty out every afternoon and the boys are working hard for the game with Tusculum which comes November 19th. It will no doubt be the hardest game of the season, but we expect to win as we did last week over the Uuiversity of Chattanooga. This week the team goes to Emory and Henry and the same spirit that helped them beat the Moccas ns will go with them on this their second trip of the season.

On the Gridiron

"Hen" Callaway, who has been having a few days rest on account of a lame shoulder, reports his condition entirely satisfactory.

"Hicky's" bruised shoulder is rapidly coming into form.

Coach Kiefer reports that his own health is in "mediar conditions."

Kirkgard's wrenched shoulder is limbering up.

McCall's and Acton's ankles were so improved Saturday that they were permitted to enter the game against Athens.

Captain Callaway reports the receipt of a letter from former Coach Stanley, congratulating the team for its victory over Chattanooga. Stanley is now assistant coach at Florida State.

"Shorty" Williams and "Turkey" Smith had tryouts Saturday at "offishiating." Some suckers! Do you get the hook?

The Senoir Class celebrated the holiday last Monday with supper in the woods. The evening from four to seven was spent in a social good-time with just enough outdoor cooking and marshmallow toasting to make things worth while.

EDITORIALS

CO-OPERATION

Did the value of Co-operation and Co-ordination in the fullest sense ever occur to you? Did you ever realize the fact that the only difference in a gawky youth and an acrobat or an athlete is that the acrobat and the athlete have better co-ordination of muscles? Skill in any line means perfected co-operation.

To make the most of college life we must learn to get each other's points of view. This will help us to understand each other and to work together. The mission of the Highland Echo is to act as a machine thru which the student can get his fellows points of view and thru which all students may keep in direct touch with the whole College activities.

The success of the Highland Echo depends upon the support of the student body. This support is of three kinds: patronizing those who advertise with us; reporting all current news and writing for the paper in general; and thirdly support by subscribing for the paper.

All who are acquainted with publications of this kind know that it would be impossible, financially, to have a paper without the support of advertisers. Then should we not patronize those who make the existence of the paper possible?

There is enough of news about the college to fill a large paper. The student body realizes, nevertheless, that an editorial staff cannot know of all the news unless it is reported to them. Therefore, it is very important for each one to report any news he may know.

Your support as a subscriber also means much to you as a student and to the editors and managers of the Highland Echo. You cannot afford to neglect the news of the college nor can the weekly be printed without the financial support of the students. So watch the ads and patronize the advertisers, report all the news you hear and, subscribe for the Highland Echo.

Coach Powell—(wittily) I'll tell you we are getting some good coaching along the line of moonshining. Especially do I like the Canadian System.

Miss Townsend (sleepily) When are you going to try the system out?

FACULTY FROLIC

Friday night Oct. 29 the music rooms in the basement of Voorhees chapel were the rendezvous of a unique and interesting party given by Misses Hale, McCampbell and Green to the junior members of the faculty of Maryville College.

The rooms in the music department are especially well adapted for such an occasion, the hostesses making good use of this fact by the effective manner in which they turned the large main hall into a most attractive living room, lit by the subdued light of shaded lamps and Jack-o-lanterns Profuse decorations of Autumn leaves and chrysanthemums made the place a bower of loveliness.

The practice rooms adjoining the halls were used to initiate the guests into the secrets and mysteries peculiar to Hallow'een.

One of the interesting features in this connection was a room presided over by Miss Belle Smith, the art teacher of the College.

Each guest was made to pose for a silhouette, these being later hung upon the wall for inspection.

In the contest ensuing Miss Olga Marshall received the prize for guessing twenty-two out of twenty-six sillouetts. Prof. Myers secured the boobie prize for having guessed two correctly.

A spirit of unrestrained hilarity prevailed throughout the series of games which were played during the evening, at the end of which curtains were thrown back and in the north hall a most attractive banquette room exposed to view.

The long table was lighted by numerous red candles and a unique scheme of decoration carried out. Souvenirs, suggestive of Hallow'een, were the cause of much merriment.

After a delightful supper the party disbanded feeling that it was an occasion long to be remembered.

The Bainonian program of Friday, November 5, was based on Southern contributions to American life and development. One of the best numbers of the program was Miss Hickey's paper on "The South's Contribution to Statesmanship." This was a resume of the periods of United States history from its beginning to the present time by means of which was shown the influence of such men as Patrick Henry and President Wilson in moulding national life.

"An Appreciation of Sidney Lanier," by Miss Porter was a concise and interesting biography of this Southern poet, who is comparatively little known and appreciated. The beauty of his thought and style was brought out by the reading of the selection "The Ballad of the Trees and The Master."

Miss Simpson read Lanier's "Song of Chattahoochee" in which the course of a stream to the sea suggests the journey of a soul through life.

The next meeting, Friday, Nov. 12, will be devoted to the study of "Current Events," dealing with both foreign and domestic topics.

ALPHA SIGMA

After an interesting program was rendered in the Alpha Sigma Hall, Friday night, November 5th, the Society went into its business session. The Senior Section elects its officers for the second term of the year on the first Friday night in November.

The following officers were elected:
J. Chas. Walker ---------- President
Robert S. Gamon ----- Vice-President
Pat. Quinn ----- Corresponding Sec'y.
Horace Dawson ----- Recording Sec'y.
Homer B. Frater --- Asst. Rec. Sec'y.
Andrew Richards -- Sergeant-at-arms
Hunter Rogers ---------- Janitor
David W. Proffitt ---------- Censor
Vernon C. Lansing ---------- Censor
J. Edward Kidder ---------- Censor

The following men were received as members: Harry Wm. Feeman and Henry Kirkgard.

A motion was presented to the Society by Mr. Deck Williams to cooperate with our brothers, the Athenians to give the football team a banquet. The motion was unanimously endorsed. It was ordered by the house that a committee be appointed to confer with a committee from the Athenian Society in arranging this banquet.

ATHENIAN

Friday evening the Athenian Society was entertained by a Southern evening. The program was very well prepared and was both interesting and instructive. The debate was, "Resolved, That the Prisons in the South, as They Now Exist, Are More Detrimental that Helpful." All of the debaters had prepared well and it really seemed that some of them were speaking from experience. They were:

Affirmative—Aubrey Williams, Arthur Acton.

Negative—R. M. Rankin, Young Hayes.

One of the best numbers of the evening was a lecture by Prof. Davis on the agricultural possibilities in Florida. He told how many celery farmers raised as much as $1,000 worth of celery on one acre, and how many people were making fortunes in raising Florida Oranges, for according to him the only sweet, juicy oranges come from Florida. He also told of the great opportunities in cattle raising. The Society enjoyed this number very much. As a whole, all the programs this year have been well chosen and well prepared.

FRESHMEN

The Freshman Class under the leadership of its president, Mr. Briggs, is showing much strength. This organized strength showed itself in support of the class party. Again the Freshman spirit was shown by Mr. Briggs on the gridiron October 30th.

A debate has been arranged between the Freshman and Sophomore Classes. The subject for debate is: Resolved, That the Commission Form of Government Should be Adopted by all Cities in the U. S. Having a Population of Over 8,000.

The same old pep. may be expected in this debate.

It is reported that the girls of Pearsons Hall stow their letters away in their sofa pillows in order to make the pillows soft.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores are certainly to be congratulated on their choice of leaders. Cecil Cross, our chief executive, served us well last year as secretary and treasurer. He is described to served us well last year as Secretary and Treasurer. He is described to strangers as "that tall, handsome man with glasses and curly hair." He is well liked by all who know him, and his tact and judgment are unexcelled. So, here's three cheers for our President, long may he wave!

Just as efficient, just as well-suited to her place is our vice-president, Mary Miles. She is always willing to do anything she can to help her class, her society, her Y. W. C. A., or her College. And what Mary Miles can't do isn't much, either.

Andrew Richards, the ecretary of our noble class, is another of the rocks on which it is built. Although "Andy" hasn't been long over from Scotland, he is a fully naturalized citizen—almost. "Andy" or "Scotchy" has loads of class spirit and is right on his job.

Last, but least in size only, is our Treasurer, Anne Creswell. Anne had great success last year as assistant treasurer, in extracting the long green from poverty-stricken Freshman girls; and the fact that her hair curls in a very delightful manner doesn't detract one whit from her ability as a financier.

With such a corps of officers, what is impossible for us this year?

MARYVILLE'S NEW SWIMMING POOL

ed what other potent meaning can be derived from the initials Y., M., C., A., aside from Young Men's Christian Association. He said Y stands for Youth, the hay-day of life's ruddy June. M stands for Manhood, muscular and active. C might stand for Courtship, Crowns, Coronations, and other things that young men dream about, but, most important of all, it stands for Courage, the spirit that wins. A stands for Activity that produces results.

Miss Erma Russell was next introduced to speak about the part that the Y. W. C. A. had taken in building the Swimming Pool. After reviewing the interest and work of the Y. W. C. A. in this noted enterprise, Miss Russell maintained in an eloquent and dramatic manner that while M stands for Manhood W stands for Womanhood in the fullest sense of the word. Solidified by statistics and sweetened by wit, her speech was exceptionally interesting.

After the chapel exercises the student body marched to Bartlett Hall where the Swimming Pool building now stands completed.

The swimming pool was declared open by Dr. Wilson, after which a number of diving, life saving demonstrations, and swimming stunts were enjoyed by all who could gain entrance to the Swimming Pool Building.

Thus ended another of the herculean labors of the "Maryville Spirit" and the Maryville students can rejoice in the fact that they have at their service one of the finest Swimming Pools in all our South-Land. Let us then breathe a silent prayer that the "Spirit of the Larger Maryville" will not die with this victory nor use this success as a resting place, but that it may be used as a stepping-stone from which we may mount upward and onward to higher things.

LYCEUM TONIGHT

Vol. 1. Maryville, Tennessee, Wednesday, November 17, 1915 No. 3

SECOND NUMBER OF LYCEUM COURSE TO-NIGHT

Famous Lecturer's Subject, "The Martyrdo m of Fools."

MOST EXPENSIVE COURSE EVER GIVEN IN MARYVILLE

The Y. M. C. A. is offering, this year, the best course of late years. The opening number was given by The Kryl Company. It was without doubt the finest entertainment of its kind ever given on the "Hill." Mr. Kryl and his daughters are artists and were made to respond time after time to encores.

The next number will be a lecture by Thomas Brooks Fletcher, a man who has thrilled hundreds of audiences through-out the country with his powerful and magnetic voice, and his dramatic presentation of the burning message that he has to give. His subject will be "The Martyrdom of Fools." Mr. Fletcher speaks on November 17th and is followed by Strickland W. Gillilan, who for twelve years has been causing people to laugh that whole-soul laughter that is so close to tears. He is well known to the reading public through his many short poems that appear from time to time in the Ladies' Home Journal. Mr. Gillilan is an optimistic, constructive humorist, who never fails to please an audience.

Schildkret's Hungarian Orchestra will deliver the concert in February. This number is another feature of this all-star course and will be a rare treat to music lovers. It is said that few men can get as much music from ten men, as Director Schildkret gets from six.

The final number will be the famous Weather-wax Bros. Quartet, an organization of four brothers whose harmony and pleasing personalities have charmed lyceum crowds throughout the Middle-West and have always made good. One of their favorites is "The Little Brown Church in the Vale," the song so familiar to students on the "Hill," and always good for the "once over" when campus glee is in vogue.

The Y. M. C. A. through its Manager, has endeavored to give a course that is of the highest class and inducive to general culture, and if the Kryl Co. is a fair sample it has more than succeeded.

DO GIRLS MAKE GOOD HIKERS?

Seven Fair Maryvillians Prove the Affirmative of This Proposition

Last Saturday a bunch of Pearsons' girls hit the dirt at 7 a. m. and headed for Sheep-Pen, a beautiful spot overhanging the Tennessee River. They made several detours, but reached there about 11 o'clock. After exploring and admiring the interesting cave, which was a place of concealment for Confederate sheep during the Civil War, the party returned to Louisville and did full justice to the fried chicken and pumpkin pie dinner awaiting them at the home of Mr. George King. They rested for awhile, then started back by another road. At five p. m. the girls reached Maryville, having walked more than twenty miles. The party consisted of Misses Susan Green, Sophie Karte, Genevieve Gibson, Elizabeth Henry, Mary Hickey, Lily and Muriel Mitchell.

LOCAL ORGANIZATION MEETS WEEKLY

Have you noticed a student representative addressing the Sunday Schools of the town for the past two Sundays; and do you know that these addresses are to continue during the entire year?

Do you know that a special band of students is to meet with every Young People's Society in town in special meetings, and that that band is to conduct these special meetings?

Do you know what the smallest group of Maryville students is, that has been asked to conduct one of our College Prayer Meetings; and that the meeting is to be conducted by that small band is to be one of the most important and most interesting meetings of the year?

Do you know what organization on College Hill really makes use of the privilege of prayer; and meets every Thursday morning to exercise that privilege?

Do you know the real character of that organization which is represented in more countries than is any other organization on College Hill?

If you are not aware of these different facts, do you know what it all really means?

On investigation we find that the Student Volunteer Band of Maryville College is responsible for these conditions about which we are inquiring. We find that the cause of Missions is being earnestly presented to all who wish to hear, through deputation work of this Board. Deputations from the Board are presenting the world-wide call of missions to the Sunday Schools

DR. CROTHER'S VISIT MUCH APPRECIATED BY STUDENTS

ADDRESSES STUDENT BODY AND MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Last Friday, November 12, Rev. Mr. Crothers, D. D., Chairman of the Presbyterian Board of Education, gave an interesting address to the student body at chapel. His theme was "The Principles which Should Guide Us in Choosing a Life's Calling."

From 10:30 A. M. to 3:00 P. M., Dr. Crothers had personal interviews with the young men and women of the College, concerning the selection of a life's work.

At 3:00 P. M., Dr. Crothers addressed the Ministerial Association in the Chapel.

THE NORTH CAROLINA CLUB

Ever since the beloved son of North Carolina, Tennessee, has reached the age of maturity, the mother State has never ceased to be interested in her son, and to send out some of her numbers to look after her "Wandering Boy." This year Maryville College is beautified with over fifty representatives from the "Old North State."

They have decided that their officers for the ensuing year shall be as follows:

President ----------W. R. Garrison
Vice-President ---------Stella Carver
Sec'y and Treas. ----W. W. Candler
Editor ----------S. E. Wallin

KENTUCKY CLUB ORGANIZED

There are representatives in M. C. from almost every State in the Union. Most of the students, however, are from Tennessee and her neighboring states. Kentucky is her nearest neighbor on the north and from that historic State a delegation of energetic and enterprising students come to Maryville College every year. This year they have the largest representation they have ever had and so, in order to bind themselves more closely together, they have organized a "Kentucky Club."

The officers are:

Miss Crow, Pres.---------Middlesboro
Miss Cora Ball, V.-Pres.------Harlan
Miss Mary Smith, Sec.-Treas...Smith

MARYVILLE WINS FIFTH SUCCESSIVE VICTORY BY EASILY DEFEATING EMORY AND HENRY

Kiefer's Men Maintain the Record of Goal Uncrossed by Shutting Out Opponents

IN SPITE OF WET FIELD SCORE IS 20-0

Maryville outplayed E. and H. Saturday on a wet and treacherous field by a score of 20-0. The scores coming in the first, second and third quarters, and Maryville was bound for another touchdown when time was called for the fourth quarter. It was an interesting battle and not at all one-sided, as the Highlanders' goal was threatened two different times, but they stood the test and refused to be pushed further. The first of the game was marred by fumbling of both teams, but after the first quarter it was not so noticeable.

The stars of the game were Ensign and Feeman whose broken field running was of a high order. For Emory and Henry the stars were Rivers and Jackson; Rivers for his line playing and Jackson for his open field running. The offense of the Lemon and Blue team out shone their defense, while the Orange and Garnet showed the same proficiency in both departments that it has throughout the season, Greer being the defensive star, breaking through the line time and again, dropping the back field before they got under way and blocking two forward passes as they left the hand of the passer.

The game by quarters was as follows:

First Quarter

Feeman kicked off for Maryville to the fifteen yard line. Jackson returned the ball 20 yards. E. & H. gained 5 yards then fumbled, Maryville receiving. Feeman gained eight yards through center and fumbled, E. & H. receiving. Maryville held them for downs. Maryville advanced the ball to 10 yard line. Kirkgard going over Tackle for touchdown, but fumbled. Wallin recovered. Greer kicked goal. Feeman again kicked off and the battle was in E. & H. territory, the quarter ending with Maryville in possession of the ball on E. & H.'s 15 yard line. M. C. 7, E. &. H. 0.

Second Quarter

Ensign went around end for touchdown in corner of field. Ensign punted out. Greer kicked goal. Maryville received and carried the ball into E. & H.'s territory through the line plunging of Kirkgard and Feeman and a twenty-yard run by Ensign, but was forced to punt. E. & H. made two first downs but were forced to punt, Ensign returning the ball fifteen yards. The game seesawed back and forth in the middle of the field until the half ended, with score as follows: M. C. 14, E. & H. 0.

Third Quarter

Feeman kicked off. Jackson returned nearly to middle of field. E. & H. marched down field to 20 yard line, where they were held for downs. Maryville punted. E. &. H. was held for downs in middle of field and Maryville completed a pretty lateral pass for 20 yards. Kirkgard to Feeman, Ensign added 15 more. A forward pass to Flanery added 12 more. By line plunges the ball was carried to 1 yard line. Lloyd went over for touchdown. Goal was lost by default.

Maryville kicked off and E. & H. advanced the ball steadily, but were again forced to punt and Feeman returned twenty-five yards. The ball was kept in the center of the field. Hickman sustained a badly bruised leg and Greer shifted to center, Sentelle taking guard. M. C. 20, E. & H. 0.

Fourth Quarter

E. & H. Carried ball to 15 yard line, but were held for downs. M. C. executed three successful passes: Feeman to Flanery and Kirkgard and later to Lloyd. Ensign tore off another spectacular run for thirty-five yards. The battle then stayed in the middle of the field until near the end of the game when the Highlanders had begun another march for a score, but the game was called.

Final score: M. C. 20, E. & H. 0.
Referee: Bonbam of Roanoke.
Time of Quarters: 15, 12, 15, 12.

Prof. Gillingham Gives Address Before Athenian

Friday evening Professor Gillingham favored the Athenian Society with an interesting and instructive address on "A College Man's Reading." In it he gave many helpful suggestions concerning the outside reading a college man should do. As to periodicals, he said the college man should read a daily paper, a good weekly review, such as The Outlook, The Independent, or The Literary Digest, and for a good monthly review, he advised the World's Work or The Review of Reviews. He advised little magazine or novel reading, "For" said he, "they are like soda water, all fizz and foam." For the reading of books he suggested two general lines, History and Literature. He referred to Rawlinson, Gibbons, Guizot, Green, Macaulay and Channing as the best historians; and Shakespeare, Browning, Tennyson, Longfellow, Bunyan, Ruskin, Kipling and the Bible as the best of literature. He said the college man should read less voluminously and more carefully. "The American people," said he, "are the greatest readers and yet the poorest readers." He attributes the frivolous character of the present day writing to the fact that the American public will read almost anything. It is our duty to demand better literature, for when we demand it we will get it."

We appreciate very much the interest which the Town-people and the Faculty have taken in our meetings this year and are always glad to have them with us.

Several fellows have made their date for the trip to Morristown on Thanksgiving—Get the girls fellows, Maryville has the team.

Only one more week of foot-ball and then the old pig skin will be laid aside for nine months.

C. E. TAKES TRIP TO MONTVALE

Although they were planning to go to Look Rock when they left Maryville last Saturday about 2 o'clock, P. M. these plans of the two wagon loads of members of the Presbyterian C. E. were changed before arriving at Montvale. Scarcely had the enthusiastic party started on the nine mile trip before its ardor, literally speaking, was dampened by the gently falling rain, which had become a steady drizzle by the time Montvale was reached. Casting aside all thought of climbing the mountain to Look Rock, the somewhat sad-looking party stopped at the Montvale hotel, where before a grate fire a free-for-all lunch was enjoyed. Soon afterwards the crowd, slightly subdued and quiet, started for home, where it arrived about 8 o'clock.

EDITORIALS

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Among the loyal supporters of football at M. C., the need of a name for our team has been felt. In this issue of the Highland Echo this question is discussed. Let us hope that a suitable name will be selected soon. The team has proven the fact that it is no longer an infant, and since it deserves and wishes a name, why not name the youngster?

The editorial staff of the Highland Ecoh wishes to thank the students and the friends of the College, each and all, for your hearty support. Not only have you been serviceable in reporting news, but you have responded well to the call for subscriptions. The subscription list is fast approaching the four hundred mark and we hope to reach that point this week. Can't you help us do it?

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Frank Sheddan will lead the Thanksgiving service on the Sunday before Thanksgiving.

Under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. a mountain trip was planned for November 6. Madame Dennee, Miss Belle Smith, Miss Marshall, Miss Clemens, Miss Jewel and eighteen girls went to Mt. Nebo. The party walked from Melrose, the nearest stop, about three miles up a rough mountain road to the Nebo Hotel. They carried their basket of "eats" up to the Mt. Nebo Spring and then scattered all over the mountain side, some in search of fall flowers and the gaily colored leaves, others in search of nuts, but the hungry crowd found a garden and gathered fresh onions and tomatoes for the lunch. The crowd fried bacon and eggs and made coffee; then Miss Jewel brought from some mysterious place a big cocoanut cake which was eaten with fresh fruit as dessert.

After a "hike" up to the tip-top of Mt. Nebo and after taking kodak pictures, the bunch rushed for the train and returned to the Hill with arms loaded with bright colored leaves and souls filled with the grandeur of the mountains, at sunset, on a glorious autumn day.

THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Maryville College has always been noted as a friendly place for ministerial students. For this reason a large number of such students select Maryville as a place where they can spend their long years of preparation in an atmosphere favorable to men of their profession.

The first meeting of this year was held on Thursday evening in Bartlett Hall. Dr. Wilson gave a very valuable talk before the Association on "The Value of the Ministerial Association."

The officers of the Association are as follows: President, Cecil Cross; M. C.—FIVE
Vice-President, Thurman; Secretary, Cody; Program Secretary and Editor, S. E. Wallin.

31 Alexander Hall, Princeton, N. J.
November 10, 1915.

Mr. Pat Quinn,
Bus. Mgr. Highland Echo,
Maryville, Tenn.

Dear Pat:

Receiving the copy of the Highland Echo has constituted one of the most pleasing surprises I have experienced for many a day. A weekly paper is one thing that has been needed at Maryville for a long time. The monthly had long ago outlived its usefulness and become mainly a financial burden to those who were responsible for its publication.

Today one of the things that Maryville needs are alumni who are loyally devoted to and will enthusiastically boost the College instead of meekly crawling into their shells whenever a graduate of one of the large universities happens to open his mouth. I believe one of the best things to arouse this spirit is just such a paper as the Highland Echo promises to be and I cherish the hope that large numbers of the alumni are loyal enough to suport this newest of Maryville enterprises.

Please congratulate "Red" on the honor of being the first editor of the Highland Echo.

I inclose one dollar ($1.00) for my subscription.

Very truly yours,
FRANK L. MILLER, '14

Princeton, N. J.
Alexander Hall 31.

Dear Pat:

I received your letter and paper this morning and I'm very much pleased with it. It's just the thing I have been hoping all along to see at Maryville. You can count me in as one subscription, and I'll try to get the rest of the M. C. fellows to look you up also. Check enclosed for a dollar.

Sincerely,
JAMES K. STEWART.

My dear Pat:

Enclosed, please find a dollar bill ($1.00) for which kindly send me The Highland Echo.

It gives me great pleasure to subscribe to the Highland Echo and it fills me with joy to see the journalistic possibilities of my dear Alma Mater assuming such gratifying proportions.

Wishing you the greatest of success I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
"HOT TURK"

THETA EPSILON

The program for Friday evening, November 12, was one of unusual interest. A scene from Miss Webster's book, "When Patty Went to Boarding School," had been dramatized by one of the members and the Society proved to have some able amateur actors. There were charming school girls, gorgeously dressed gypsies, a dignified young business man disappointed in love and restored to happiness through the secrets revealed by the gypsy fortune tellers. There was a photographer whose business it was to take what he called views of the actors and his advice to "see the birdie" and "look pleasant" were characteristic of his profession; and last of all there was a stern matron who appeared just at the wrong time and in a very matronly manner, broke up the whole proceeding and dispersed the actors. A musical number completed the program.

In addition to the new members already received thirteen more were taken in at this meeting. The censor for the evening was Miss Marie Baker.

EIGHTH GRADE PICNIC

College woods was the scene of merry making Wednesday afternoon when the Eighth Grade students, with their teachers forgot books and rules and enjoyed old fashoned games and the best of eats.

Jones was watching Prof. Knapp use the telescope. Just then a star fell. "By jinks" he exclaimed, "that man is some shot."

WHY NOT NAME OUR TEAM?

It is high time that the teams representing Maryville College have a name. For the past few years there has been much talk of giving the teams that go out from Maryville a title that is charactistic of the team and the College, but nothing has been done in a definite way to provide a name.

In the newspapers our teams are known as the "Blount Countians"! Well, that is allright as far as advertising the fact that they are from Blount County, but we want a name, a real good name, for our fellows to fight under.

We have a College that is justly proud of the teams that represent it, yet there is no title or name that the team can fight under other than "Blount Countians."

Since the "Highland Echo" has appeared we are able to discuss this subject to better advantage before the student body, and the student body can choose the name which our teams will bear with pride.

The Scotch Highlanders have always stood out prominently as a race of people who are sturdy, aggressive and full of spirit for their country. Maryville College is located in the "Highlands of Chilhowee," our college paper is called the "Highland Echo," and our teams have the qualities of all Highland people, those of sturdiness, aggressiveness and spirit for their school. As a natural sequence it has been suggested that our teams be known as the "Highlanders."

Of course we want a name that will be accepted unaminously by the student body and by the teams. This is just a suggestion that may lead, and it is hoped that it will lead to a wider and better discussion of the subject.

Let's have a name for our teams before Maryville College puts another team on the field—a name other than "The Blount Countians."

BAINONIAN

Believing that all work and no play makes Jill a dull girl, as well as Jack a dull boy, the Bainonians took a "vacation" from their usual heavy programs last Friday night and enjoyed a "Stunt Evening."

There were five stunts in all. The first one was given by the Bainonian girls of third-floor Pearsons. This was "Mechanical Dolls," and there was a "lady doll," a "boy doll," a "baby doll," a"Dutch Cleanser doll," a "Singing doll," a "dancing doll," and the "gold-Dust Twins." The latter (Elizabeth Kehr and Agnes Dowin) seemed to be the "stars" of the show.

First-floor Baldwin gave the next stunt which was a "Ladies Sewing Circle." The "circle" was composed of Gail Wilson, Marie Townsend, Abby Runyon, and Marian Wilbanks, and as town gossips they gave many interesting bits of M. C. "moonshining" news.

The second-floor Baldwin girls made of themselves a "Human organ." On this instrument Cora Hopkins as organist played "Alma Mater" to the delight of the audience.

Third-floor Baldwin next presented "Mrs. Jones and Her Accomplished Daughters." All of these daughters were much admired, but the recitation of "Elviny (Notie Fancher) and the solo of "Miss Jones (Nora Elmhardt) especially attested the thoroughness of their "Boston training."

Last, but not least came the second floor Pearsons girls. They gave an "Ad" stunt. First was Lena Pardue as "Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes" girl. Then the "Eastman Kodak" girls, Mary Hickey, Florence and Frances Steelman, and Franke Sheddan staged their ad. Next was Carrie Sheddan as the "Rexal Hair Tonic" girl. Genevieve Gibson as "Hind's Honey and Almond Cream" girl followed and then came Sophie Karte advertising "Old Dutch Cleanser." The last of the series was Jean McKelvey as the "Pompeian Massag Cream" lady.

This group concluded the program with a song composed for the occasion.

FRIDAY'S GAME

A good game is expected with Tusculum Friday. Tusculum played U. of T. a hard game, losing by the small and hard earned score of 21-0.

Recently the Tusculum eleven won a game from Emory and Henry 19-0. The Highlanders' score over Emory and Henry was 20-0, so why should not Friday's game with Tusculum be hotly contested.

Thirty-six men out for practice last Thursday—Some squad this late in the season.

Captain Calloway is out every day helping Coach Kiefer whip the boys into shape for the Tusculum game.

Doc. Feeman has powerful hard knees. Just ask Spurgeon if you don't believe it.

Greaser, alias Greer, drop-kicked a goal from the 40 yard line—in practice, yes he may develop into a kicker after all.

"Fatty" Lecks spends several hours every day getting the team out for practice. What? Trainer Lecks?

The team has better equipment this year than ever before—and there have been fewer injuries. The boys seem to appreciate it from the remarks they made.

Wonder where Coach Kiefer is going over Thanksgiving? There is mystery somewhere—better look to the ladies for a solution of such a puzzle.

Shorty Wallin was heard to ask the question, "Why do they call a foot-ball the "pigskin?"—Day, in his very quiet manner gave him the following answer, "Why Shorty you little ignorant boy, its because it grunts every time somebody falls on it!"

CLASS NOTES

SENIORS

This year Maryville College has the largest senior class it has ever had the responsibility of graduating. Years ago the Seniors of this Institution considered themselves very fortunate if they could say, "We are seven." However that time passed and there came larger classes, until the Class of '11 broke the record by having an enrollment of twenty-nine. It was whispered at that time by all the members of that class and by many others besides that this was a record that would stand for years. At this time the Class of '16 was in the latter stages of its embryonic existence and so received no more consideration than if it had not existed at all. But what of this phophecy? Has there appeared any contradiction? It seems so in some respects at least. Let us consider a moment.

The Class of '16 shows an enrollment of forty-three members, hailing from nine states and countries. Twenty-three of these are "Volunteers," one "Sand-piper," three "Tarheels," one "Jay-hawker," one "Chinck," two "Sooners," three "Yellow-hammers," five "Show-mes" and one "Mountaineer." For one reason or none some of the last year members of the Class did not return this year but their places were more than filled by new recruits who were gladly welcomed to the Class. The secret of this great number lies in one little word, "Unity," which has been the slogan of the '16 Class all through its college years.

Number is not the only thing of excellence in the Senior Class. It has furnished its full quota of men for all the activities of college life in the past three years and bids fair to keep up its record.

SOPHOMORE NOTES

Speaking of football, the Class of '18 claims six "bright particular stars" of the gridiron. Turkey Smith, "Greaser," Happy Lloyd, Cooper, Eaton and Watkins— Sophomores all! Can you beat it?

FRESHMAN NOTES

Among the other activities of the Freshman Class, the Prayer Meeting to be held on December 14th and led by the Class is now claiming our attention. The committee on arrangements has chosen the following members of the Class to take part. Misses Miles and Elizabeth Kehr and Messrs. Briggs, Johnson, Frater, Purdy and Campbell. The subject is "College Ideals," and we have every reson to believe that the participants in this will represent the Class in as able a manner as other members of the Class have in other functions on the Hill.

VOLUNTEER BAND

and Young People's meetings, and are planning still greater appeals for real interest in their cause. Are you interested in missions? If not, why not?

The Volunteer Band seems to have taken on new life this year and the fourteen members make it a point to be present at every meeting. The seven new members are enthusiastic over the work, and we are glad to see the interest manifested by other students who have not yet become members of the Band.

Instead of meeting every two weeks as in former years, the Band now meets weekly, and visitors are welcome and seem glad to attend these interesting meetings. A happy little prayer meeting under the auspices of the Band is conducted in the Lamar Library every Thursday morning between 6:30 and 7:00. In response to a standing invitation to be present, quite a number of students arrange to be present; and much good is received therefrom.

Through work in the Band the Volunteers are earnestly preparing for their greater work; and in a later study we shall have to see just what has been the result of this preparation in the lives of others as seen from the work of some of the members in the years gone by.

PREP. DEPARTMENT OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE GETS HIGH RATING

Prof. Harry Clark Gives Praise For Its Efficiency

One Of Twenty Schools In Tenn. On Accredited List.

Prof. Harry Clark, Commissioner of Accredited Schools, visited our Preparatory Department last year and was greatly pleased with it. He suggested that Maryville make application to the Southern College Association to have its Preparatory Department placed on the Special Interstate List of Accredited Schools. Not long since the application was made out by our college office, and was sent in to Prof. Clark. His reply has just been received. Our Prep. Department is now on the accredited list of the Southern College Association and of the North Central Association. Practically, this will make little difference with Maryville, because its Prep. graduates have been admitted to almost all colleges without examination. But it is gratifying to have official recognition of the excellent work done in our Preparatory Department. Prof. Clark's very kind letter is here appended:

Nov. 12, 1915.

Pres. Samuel T. Wilson,
Maryville College,
Maryville, Tenn.

Dear Friend:

It gives me pleasure to report to you that your excellent College's Preparatory Department has been placed on the Special Interstate List of the Southern College Association. This will permit your graduates to enter any college in the Southern States, and in the area covered by the North Central Association. Furthermore, owing to affiliated relations with sister Associations of colleges, schools upon this list may enter practically every college and university in the nation, without examination.

While your Preparatory Department has doubtless enjoyed this privilege before, we are glad that you saw fit to strengthen the influence of the Southern College Association, by setting the example of having your Preparatory Department apply for accrediting.

Permit me to compliment you on the fact that your department presented the very best credentials of any school that applied for accrediting. Yours was one of the only two schools in which the teachers teach only five periods a day, and your unique study period is not duplicated by any institution which applied for affiliation.

This list is very carefully guarded, and will continue to be so. At present there are less than twenty Tennessee schools on the list. This makes it the more honor for a school to be able to claim membership on this list.

Permit me at this time to compliment you upon the high standard that your College's Preparatory Department has attained, and to wish for you the best of success during the coming year.

Yours cordially,
HARRY CLARK.

BROOKS FLETCHER GIVES DRAMATIC LECTURE

"The Martyrdom Of Fools", A Subject Filled With Thought and Humor

Holds Audience Spellbound By Forceful Address

The large crowd that flocked to the chapel Wednesday night to hear Brooks Fletcher give his address on "The Martyrdom of Fools" was held spellbound by the orator's dramatic presentation of his subject. Mr. Fletcher is truly a live wire when he deals with social problems. He is especially forceful and dramatic in his picturing of social conditions and in his urgent request for the awakening of the public conscience.

The speaker at the beginning of his address, said that there are two kinds of fools in the world today; first, those whom the public declare fools, but who are really great men; secondly, those who actually do unwise and foolish things, but who are not condemned by the dormant conscience of the people. Under the former class he mentioned men who dared to advocate unpopular reforms, and in the face of persecution carried out their measures. The so-called heretics of old, he said, were the men who have made possible our reforms of today. And the persecution of real men is still going on today as is shown in the case of Judge Ben Lindsay of Denver, who has dared to say and do what he believes. He cited other examples to prove his point.

Under the second class Mr. Fletcher placed those people whom the general public should condemn, but does not. He vividly portrayed the evils of child labor, the spread of disease and vice, all as a result of the failure on the part of people to point the finger of scorn at the men who, on account of their wealth and influence, dare to enrich themselves still more by aiding such crimes. For the prevention of such evils, Mr. Fletcher offered no immediate remedies, but urged that people become awakened to the conditions of society today and dare to think right upon these questions, for the speaker emphasized, "One becomes what one thinks."

No one could doubt Mr. Fletcher's sincerity in his masterly representation of the need for reform, and from his recital of his own experience it would not be difficult to apply to him the trite saying, "Expression deepens impression."

The last of the "Current Events" of the program was a "Query Box" over which Miss Kathleen Porter presided. During the past week this box had been placed where all Bainonians might have access to it and put therein any questions they wished to ask. (Anyone who could might

FINE PROSPECTS FOR BASKETBALL

Mgr. Crum Reports Good Schedule Near At Hand.

The time for an indoor sport is near at hand, and naturally we are looking for some kind of thrilling contest to replace the interesting games afforded us by the pigskin artists.

Manager Crum reports that a good schedule is on the road, so the basketball fans will be furnished some good contests.

Robinson, one of last year's star forwards, has been elected captain and no one who knows him doubts his ability to inspire and lead the team to victory.

The prospects for a winning team are flattering indeed. Three of last year's regulars are back again: Garrison and Robinson, forwards; and Crum, center. Several of the near varsity men of last year are back. Some of these are: Smith, McCall, Lloyd, Briggs and Dawson, all of whom are expected to give a good account of themselves.

In order to have the team rounded into form before holidays, practice was called on November 10. About twenty-five responded to the call. There are several players from last year's gymnasium league teams, and a number of new men who are giving good accounts of themselves.

There are also a number of promising players now engaged in foot-ball, who will report after Thanksgiving.

Feeman, a new man who has shown great skill in handling the pigskin and who has an equal reputation as a basket-ball artist, is expected to set things on fire in the basket-ball world.

One serious calamity has befallen the team this year. On account of having to undergo an operation; Proffitt, an old sturdy guard, cannot play this season . His services will be greatly missed.

No coach has been employed, but arrangements for one will be made in the near future.

FRESHMAN NOTES

There seems to be some trouble in arranging the debate between the Freshman and Sophomore classes announced two weeks ago in the Highland Echo. Judging from the amount of argument on the campus and in the dormitories there must be some disagreement. However, we are assured that there is no misunderstanding.

Maryville Maintains Record of a Goal Line Uncrossed by Holding Tusculum to Scoreless Tie

Highlanders Show Strong Defense Against Heavy Line Of Greene Countians

Despite Cold Weather and Downpour of Rain Many Knoxville People Attend

Under extremely disagreeable weather conditions Tusculum and Maryville battled for an hour Friday afternoon on the local field to a scoreless tie. There was a cold west wind blowing and the ground was soft and treacherous, but in spite of these handicaps the Highlanders showed they had the old-time "pep" in them. All day long Friday the hopes of Maryville fans withered time and again when every little clear spell was overwhelmed by a downpour of rain, a flurry of snow, or a gust of sleet. Yet despite the fact at the time a brisk rain was falling, two-thirty o'clock found the great majority of the students on the field, and there they waited patiently in the cold and wet during a long delay and on until five o'clock when darkness rendered further playing impossible. Car after car of Knoxville people rolled into the campus and it is safe to say that if the weather had been right it would have been the largest crowd that ever thronged Highland Field.

First Quarter

The game started at four o'clock with Maryville defending the west goal and receiving the kick. First kick went out of bounds but the second time the ball was kicked to Maryville's 30 yard line and returned 5 yards. The Highlanders made their distance in the next four downs but after some ineffective line bucks and a tackle-for-loss they were forced to kick. The ball went over the goal line and was given to Tusculum on her 20 yard line. By line plunges and recovering a fumble Tusculum was given first downs near the center of the field. Here they were forced to kick and Maryville returned the ball about the same distance. Ensign then made two successive runs around left end for 15 and 35 yards, respectively, resting the ball on Tusculum's 2 yard line. Maryville then fumbled, Tusculum recovered, but the ball went back to Maryville on an off-side play. Ensign then plunged the line, but fumbled, and Feeman carried the ball behind the goal-posts. The referee declared no touchdown on the grounds that the ball was already down before it was fumbled. Ball went over. Tusculum then punted about 20 yards, and after two passes and an end run, Maryville fumbled the ball on Tusculum's 10 yard line and the latter recovered.

Second Quarter

Tusculum was forced to kick and Maryville returned to the middle of the field. Callaway and Kirkgard made some long gains through the line but soon after the ball went over to Tusculum who gained 25 yards on a fluke pass. A few ineffective line bucks and Tusculum punted to Maryville's 15 yard line. Ensign caught the ball, but slipped and fell. Maryville was forced to kick. Tusculum failed to break through the Highlanders' fighting line and was thrown back. It was in this quarter that Greer did his spectacular tackling and Wallin tackled the Tusculum backs for a loss. Maryville's interference was very noticeable.

Third Quarter

Maryville kicks 30 yards and Tusculum returns 5. Tusculum was held for downs and then Maryville was forced to kick after being tackled for a loss and failing to complete a pass. Tusculum fumbled the kick and Maryville recovered. Maryville then made 10, 10, and 5 yards, respectively, by an end run, and line plunges by Kirkgard and Feeman. Maryville was penalized 10 yards but Feeman regained that distance by another plunge through the line. Maryville fumbled and Tusculum recovered. Here Clemens for Tusculum made a terrific line plunge but later Tusculum was forced to kick. The ball rolled out and Maryville took the ball on her 15 yard line. Maryville made her distance and was still coming when the whistle blew.

Fourth Quarter

Plays lasted only a few minutes for spectators were unable to distinguish the players, and the players themselves could hardly see the ball. A gain of about 20 yards was made by Flannery just before the game was called. Final score, 0-0.

The line-up was as follows:

Maryville	Position	Tusculum
Day	left tackle	J. Campbell
Greer	left guard	Register
Hickman	center	M. S. Doak
Smith	right guard	Watson

Theta's program for Nov. 19, opened with a harp solo by Miss Jackson, a variation from the usual piano and vocal number. In the rush of college life, when we are too busy to keep up with current events, a paper on the subject finds ready listeners and Miss Wilson's summary of the week's doings was appreciated by all. As the principal part of the program, a bunch of Pearson girls gave a little play entitled "The Reveries of a Bachelor." Miss Sallie Proffit, attired as the hero, made a handsome bachelor. Pipe dreams (without the pipe) took up the last evening in his bachelor appartments and before him passed all the "has beens" of his fast vanishing "single days." While Miss Dauson played "School Days," Alice Wright, his

Mr. Martin, the evangelistical singer from Moody Bible Institute, who is now assisting in the revival meetings at the Baptist Church favored the Y. M. C. A. with music and with an address, Sunday afternoon.

The subject of Mr. Martin's address was, "Essentials In the Christian Life." The following five points were emphasized: a full surrender, prayer, bible reading, alliance with a church, and active Christian work. Mr. Martin presented these points in a clear and interesting manner, illustrating points from time to time, by his experience as a singer.

The two solos rendered by Mr. Martin were much enjoyed also, by the large number of men who came to hear him.

OUR BUSINESS MEN

It is gratifying to the students of the college to see the citizens of the town show such interest in the college athletics, as they have shown this year.

The students have cause to be thankful especially to the business men of the town. When the proposition was put before them, that they close their places of business at 2:05 p. m. Friday, so they and the citizens might attend the foot-ball game, the business men answered "Yes, we shall be glad to do it." Not only this but despite the rain, the wind and the cold, many town-people attended the game.

Cannot we as students return this favor by patronizing the business men of Maryville instead of those elsewhere? Such co-operation as this will surely be for the interests of both the town and the college.

LET US BE THANKFUL FOR PEACE

During our Thanksgiving season we should not forget to be thankful for the year's success educationally. This can best be appreciated by a comparison.

European universities have been all but demolished in the past year. Oxford, for example, has suffered greatly. Some 700 of her students have fallen and 100 others are reported as missing.

The average number of undergraduates in normal times is between 3,000 and 4,000. Today there are but few over 500; and whereas before the war broke out there were usually 1200 freshmen enrolled, now only 250 have entered.

Besides this loss of students, most of the professors have either met the same fate or have been dismissed as foreign enemies. The revenues also have fallen off, making the whole situation dreadful to think about.

ATHENIAN

Friday evening the Athenian Society was again fortunate in having a distinguished visitor. Dean Barnes visited the Society and gave a practical address on, "The Value of Strict Parlimentary Proc edure in every Assembly." He then took the Critic's chair and served as Supreme Judge of the Assembly while the Society engaged in an hour of Parliamentary practice. Two bills were presented to the Assembly and were hotly fought over. The first was; "Be it enacted by the Assembly that the Preparatory Department of Maryville College be abolished," and the second; "Be it enacted that Maryville College appropriate $5,000, for the construction of good roads on college hill." Both bills were amended and finally tabled. The chief orators of the evening were Smith, Ross, Conrad, Pritchett and Holmes, all of whom showed themselves well fitted for Congress.

ALUMNI

Miss Eva Alexander, '10, was married on July 14, 1915, to Mr. George R. Shelton, '13. Mr. Shelton is at present Professor of Science at Mitchell, S. Dakota.

It is interesting to know that the parents of Edward Ensign, star fullback on this year's football team, are both graduates of Maryville college, Mr. Chas. E. Ensign, '81, and Mrs. M. Lottie Evans Ensign, '83. Mrs. Ensign had charge of the Greek department in Maryville for a time after her graduation.

Dr. John N. Cates, of Maryville, the honored physician, still passes through the campus occasionally. The alumni of the college will be interested in knowing that he is the oldest living graduate of the college and that he has lived all his useful life within sound of the old college bell. He was a member of the Class of 1851. He has had the distinction of being the oldest living graduate of the college since 1910, at which time occurred the death of Mr. James Gillespy of the Class of 1849.

Among the many alumni of the College who are showing interest in our efforts to establish a weekly publication, Wm. F. Buchanan of the Class of 1911, sends us not only his check to cover the price of the paper and his best wishes for the success of our undertaking, but also a few words about himself. At present Mr. Buchanan is practicing law in Atlanta, Ga., and from all indications is doing well. We are glad to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan on the arrival in their home several weeks ago, of a happy little boy.

We wish that more of our alumni, when subscribing for the paper, would gvie us some information as to their work since leaving the College.

ALPHA SIGMA (Junior Section)

The spirit of earnestness, good fellowship, and enthusiasm which has characterized the meetings of the Junior Section of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society throughout all the years of its existence was especially manifested last Saturday night when we elected our new officers. Each member present realized the paramount importance of having the right men at the head, and showed a good deal of thought in selecting them. Great enthusiasm prevailed throughout the meeting. Cody's comical pranks kept everybody in good humor.

SAFETY FIRST

It is most fitting just as we are beginning to use the swimming pool that a few words be said regarding the necessity for care in the using of it. Everywhere we see the slogan "Safety First," and nowhere is that slogan more in need than in our swimming pool. With the large number of students who use the pool daily and the inexperience of many of the users, caution is necessary. Although you may carry some accident insurance, your people are not anxious to collect it because you took a chance in the swimming pool and did not make it good. Now for a few safety rules: First, never push anyone into the water, you are not sure whether he can swim or not. If some one needs help call the one in charge at once. Presence of mind may mean a life, so always have it. Never do anything which will endanger your own life, or that of any one else. Play the game, but play it safe. Let us close with a "slang" fable.

"Once upon a time there was a certain youth dubbed Stephen (Steve for short) Brodie. Now, young Steve was prone to take a chance, in whatever he did. So Steve went forth to indulge in the aquatic sport of swimming one fair day, and as he swam he tried to outdo his companion's stunts. But, alas and alack, Steve took one chance too many, and three days later they walked slowly behind him, singing hymns that poor Steve could not hear. Moral: Go thou and do not likewise.

Y. W. C. A.

During the month of February, 1916, the Y. W. C. A. will celebrate the fiftieth birthday of the organization in America by a Nation-Wide Members' Jubilee. The purpose of this Jubilee is threefold:

First, to honor the girls of yesterday who made ready for us the Association by their faithful work.

Second, to make the purpose of the organization "crystal clear" to every member, to emphasize the relationship of every member to the whole Association; to acquaint the public with the aim, and as members of a local organization to look beyond ourselves out to what other women are doing.

Third, to tie up the loose ends, to sweep the corners clean, to finish half-tried policies and to undertake new and bigger things.

In preparation for this grand climax of half a century's efforts our Maryville Association is asked to search out the facts of our past for a historical pageant.

General Association News

Miss Evelyn Henderson is General Secretary at Knoxville, Tennessee.

The Association is doing a magnificent work at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, which is very important. It promotes the economic, physical, social, intellectual and spiritual interests of the 3000 girls employed on the Exposition Grounds.

Here are facts concerning the work in the main Association Building for six months:

583 secured rooms through the association.

318 girls found positions.

3,731 meals were served in cafeteria, daily average.

Evening classes in stenography, type-writing and store salesmanship are open to girls employed there, so that they will be better prepared for positions when the fair closes.

ON THE GRID-IRON

Friday's game proved that the Maryville spirit can be neither drowned nor frozen to death. Especially do we admire the way those co-eds stuck it out through those two hours and a half of waiting on a wet ground and in the face of a driving wind and cold drizzle. The team ought to appreciate such support as that and we are sure it does. Those rooters were there because they had confidence in the team and they would be there again if the game was to be played over. Members of the band, too, stuck to their posts and cold fingers didn't interfere with their playing.

The way Knoxville people turned out is a compliment to Maryville's team. It shows that Kiefer's Highlanders have made a "rep" that is not soon to be forgotten in foot fall circles.

The student body, as well as the team, appreciates the way the town people co-operated by closing their places of business.

"Watch Lew go!" Did you hear it Friday? But did you see Lew go when Feeman or Flannery hit him? Which way?

"Turkey" had about as big a job as Pres. Wilson when it came to "busting the 'beeftrust,'" but he did it all right.

In his winter vacation, he had a vision of his third, and Mildred Crowe, representing the "Winter Girl," made her appearance. "In the Good Old Summer Time" came Leta Bess Harrison, twirling her parasol and bringing recollections of a glorious two weeks spent at a famous watering place, and as one of the other pleasant acquaintances of the same vacation, came Lillie Proffit as the flirt. Marie Baker as the "debutante," and Gussie Jones as the "widow" were the last subjects of his reverie, but they had hardly disappeared when his future wife, the bride of tomorrow was before him. Jessie Thistle took this last part, and made a charming bride.

The censor of the evening was Miss Ogilvie.

FIRST PREPS.

What's the matter with Flannery? "He's all right," and we know it. What say class? let's give "Flannery Rah."

We are glad to know that the Prep. from Berea College preps. and that negofrom Berea College preps. and, negotiations are under way now for one of the greatest debates ever witnessed in Maryville. We hope to have a representative from our class, and let all orators come out and avail themselves of this great opportunity.

Mr. James Dennis' wisdom and friendly spirit has assured us that we have a worthy and capable President. Let us all stand by him and pull together; if we do this, the success of the class will be assured. "If we make the most of our opportunities, our opportunities will make the most of us."

SECOND PREPARATORY CLASS

"Multum in parvo" (much in little) is an old Latin proverb. "Great oaks from little acorns grow," is a modern proverb. They both mean the same thing. And they are both appropriate "War Cries" for the advancing host of noble, illustrious, lofty-minded and honorable young men and young women who are someday going to wear the "Cap and Gown" —the Second Preparatory Class. Our "War Cries" may be only faintly heard by those who have reached the lofty heights in the College Department, but, like Benjamin Disraeli, who turned the cynical laughter of his contemporaries in Parliament into the mighty applause that reverberated throughout England when he became her Prime Minister, like him we cry: "The day will come when you shall hear us." In addition to the "Current Events" topics, there were three miscellaneous numbers on the program which were greatly enjoyed by all—a vocal solo by Miss Alethea May, a piano solo by Miss Gibson, and a reading by Miss Lillie Henry. The latter was a humorous selection entitled "Her Folks and His'n."

PAT QUINN GIVES TALK TO Y. M. C. A. ON SUBJECT "GAMBLING"

Y. M. C. A. Reading Room Opened.

A. T. Norgan Leads Next Sunday.

Pat Quinn gave an interesting talk to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. His subject was "Gambling." He proved that any plan, whereby we try to get something for nothing is folly. This fact was illustrated by examples from natural processes of growth. Several instances showing the chaotic results of gambling were given.

Next Sunday afternoon Mr. A. T. Norgan will speak to the Y. M. C. A. on the subject, "A Useful Life." This will be a biography. Each man is invited to be present and give a characteristic of some man, who has been an inspiration to him.

Mr. Carver and Mr. Fisher have been appointed as librarians for the Y. M. C. A. reading room. The reading room will be open from 3:00 to 5:15 p. m. on school days, from 8 a. m. to 5:15 p. m. on Saturday, and from 1:00 p. m. to 5:15 p. m. on Sunday.

The following periodicals are in the reading room:

Saturday Evening Post
Missionary Review
Christian Herald
Youth's Companion
North American Student
Country Gentleman
Independent
Popular Mechanics
American Boy
Life
Literary Digest
World's Work
Sunday School Times
Everybody's
Baseball Magazine
McBride's
Review of Reviews
Outing
Colliers
Association Men
McClure's
Cosmopolitan
American Magazine
Journal and Tribune

Besides these periodicals, a number of books, including some of the best novels, may be had on application to the librarian.

The reading room belongs to the students. Every man should broaden the usefulness of the reading room by using it, and by respecting the magazines and books, while he uses them.

FRESHMEN GO ON MOUNTAIN HIKE

Last Friday the Freshman Class spent a delightful day midst the splendors of the mountains near Walland. The morning was spent in exploring a cave and in telling interesting stories. About noon an old-fashioned grab dinner, which the girls had prepared, was totally devoured. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in mountain climbing, and in gathering mistletoe and stones for "keep-sakes" of the trip.

Although it rained slightly there was sunshine most of the time and the trip will ever be remembered as one of the most pleasant ever taken.

Townsend—translating Livy—"In order to escape death, Hannibal took his own life."

BAINONIANS AND ATHENIANS IN JOINT MEET

Coeds Enter Into Joint Debate.

The Bainonians, taking advantage of the Thanksgiving holiday privileges, invited their brother society, the Athenian, to participate in a joint program in the Bainonian Hall last Friday night.

And as the brotherhood responded nobly with their presence, there was a crowded house.

The first part of the program was musical, beginning with a piano duet by Misses Hickey and Rough. The selection was "Comedy Overture," which Misses Hickey and Rough played with their usual skill and finish.

Miss Simpson next sang a contralto solo, "My Soul," and this number also was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

"My Own Folk," which always strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of college boys and girls away from home was sung with so much feeling by Mr. Rankin that he had to respond with a somewhat livelier number, "Uncle Rome," as an encore.

The debate was next in order and two representatives from each society seriously "thrashed out" the proposition "Resolved, That a student should not let his studies interfere with his college education. (Of course the term "College Education" in this relation means community activities of the college group).

Both affirmative and negative discussed the question from the viewpoint of what benefit the individual derives from the interference or non-interference of his "college education" by his studies. The affirmative, Mr. Ross and Miss Lily Mitchell, emphasized in their arguments the supreme value of social adjustment which results from participation in group activities. On the other hand, the negative, Mr. McClelland and Miss Carrie Sheddan, stressed the mental development acquired through the discipline of studies as of paramount importance.

The judges rendered a decision in favor of the negative.

After the debate, Miss Frazier gave a pianologue, "The Girl on the Stairs." As usual Miss Frazier was encored and she responded with "Here's The Way You Look," and so well was this received that she was again recalled by the audience. This time she read "Aw Shoot!" which is always a favorite with M. C. students.

These readings closed the program, and the assembly adjourned notwithstanding several negative votes which are yet a source of amazement to the Bainonian president.

Turner" brother of the deceased was the prosecutor in the case. The defendant pleaded not guilty. It took several hours to complete the examination of the numerous witnesses. Carson-Newman Eleven Helpless Before Terrific Onslaught Of Highlanders

Wonderful Teamwork Shown By Coach Kiefer's Machine

Maryville Avenges Last Season's Defeat By Rolling Up Score Of 99-0

Morristown, Nov. 25.—Before a crowd of five or six hundred people in the ball park here today, the Maryville Highlanders rolled up the score of 99-0 against the Carson-Newman eleven. It was a glorious way in which to wipe out the 3-0 defeat of last year. The game was one-sided from start to finish, Maryville plunging the line time and again for long distances and making consistent gains around both ends. Although Carson-Newman played hard and seemed never to lose their spirit, they were able to make first down only twice against the speedy, well-trained phalanx of the Orange and Garnet players. About three hundred Carson-Newman rooters attended this Thanksgiving game but really it did not look as if, for the time being, they had much to be thankful for.

This is the way the game was played:

First Quarter

Maryville kicks off and C. N. returns 10 yards. C. N. fails to gain and is forced to kick. Callaway receives but makes no return. Kirkgard gains 10 yards but Clemens is tackled for a loss. Kirkgard then makes a 25 yard run around right end and later makes 8 yards more. Clemens fails to gain but Kirkguard speeds down the field 20 yards for the first touchdown. Greer adds to the frolic by kicking goal. M. C. 7, C. N. 0. C. N. returns Maryville's kick 15 yards. A few short gains and C. N. is forced to kick. Ensign receives kick and runs 65 yards for touchdown. Greer with a broad grin sends the ball sailing between the goal posts. M. C. 14, C. N. O. Maryville kicks off C. N. and returns 35 yards. After losing 4 yards and failing to complete a pass, C. N. kicks, Callaway returning 20 yards. Kirkgard gains 5 yards, and on a lateral pass, Ensign to Clemens, a 45 yard touchdown is made. Goal fails. M. C. 20, C. N. 0.

Second Quarter

Second quarter began with Maryville holding the ball on C. N.'s 14 yard line. Ensign with 8 yards and Kirkgard with 6 netted a touchdown, while Greer boots the pill between the upright poles. M. C. 27, C. N. O. Maryville kicks off and C. N. returns 10 yards. C. N. makes 8 and 3 yards, respectively, first down. However she fails to gain and has to kick, Callaway returning 8 yards. Kirkgard gains 12 yards, Callaway 3. Maryville is penalized 15 yards and fails to complete a pass. Feeman runs 80 yards for a touchdown, now and then looking back to put the horse-laugh on his would-be pursuers. But the referee calls the ball back and penalizes Maryville 15 yards. Maryville makes an incomplete pass and then punts. C. N. makes no return and on the next three plays lose about 9 yards. They fumble and Briggs recovers. Wallin and Ensign gain 9 and 8 yards, respectively, and Feeman carries the ball 12 yards for a touchdown, but is again called back and Maryville is penalized 15 yards. C. N. then intercepts a pass but fails to gain and has to punt. Maryville blocks the kick, and Feeman, recovering the ball, runs 15 yards for touchdown. Goal fails. M. C. 33, C. N. O. Maryville kicks off and C. N. returns 10 yards. Ensign intercepts a pass and Clemens gains 8 yards. Callaway gains 15 yards and Kirkgard 5. Callaway carries the ball over and Greer sends the oval cheerfully over the pole. M. C. 40, C. N. O. Maryville kicks off and C. N. returns 20 yards. C. N. makes her distance but later is forced to kick. Maryville blocks the kick and Briggs recovers. Kirkgard gains 6 yards and Ensign 3. Do you as a student have news to report to the Highland Echo? Do you as the editor of a club, a class or any organization, have a news item or a notice that you wish to have published in this paper? If you answer yes, then here are some things to keep in mind if you want to make sure your item will be printed.

Report news as soon as it happens.

Write items legibly on one side of paper only.

Items for Wednesday's paper must be handed to the editor by 7:30 A. M. Monday.

All news occurring before Saturday should be handed in before 12:30 P. M. Saturday.

If these rules are observed it will be possible to print your item. This will also prevent any flood of work upon the editors.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

It is now generally admitted by educators that the pupils in our institutions of learning need some kind of systematized physical training in connection with their mental work.

The action of the foremost educators in the world, the faculties of our leading colleges, permitting the expenditure of many hundreds of thousands of dollars on magnificent gymnasiums, strengthens the assertion.

Maryville is not behind the rest of the colleges in this respect, but invested more for the physical training of the students this year than it has ever done before, and good results have already been gained.

Muscles are in a peculiar sense the organs of the will. They have built all the roads, cities and machines in the world, written all the books, spoken all the words, and, in fact, done everything that man has accomplished with matter. If they are undeveloped or grow relaxed and flabby, the dreadful chasm between good intentions and their execution is liable to appear and widen.

It is with this in mind that the physical department of Maryville has set to work, endeavoring to build up the weak bodies and make stronger the strong ones, and give them grace and co-ordination.

So far the student body has given us their loyal support, and seem to enjoy their physical training. We are trying to make the work as interesting as possible and will continue to do so. We hope that you will keep on giving us your support, and that you will keep your enthusiasm for the work.

On December the eleventh we are going to give the public a chance to see what kind of work we are doing in the gymnasium. We expect it to be the finest exhibition of physical training that has ever been given in Maryville.—H. Weisbecker.

THE COLLEGE AFTER CHRISTMAS

Prospects for a Banner Year. Special Courses. Greatly Increased Enrollment.

The College is preparing to welcome the largest number of after-Christmas students that have ever entered for the winter and spring terms. Among the indications of such an increase is the fact that the present term has, in the matter of enrollment, far exceeded any preceding fall term in the history of the institution. It is interesting to trace the growth in the fall terms during the past five years. In the fall of 1911 the enrollment was 510; in 1912, 555; in 1913, 613; in 1914, 644; and in 1915 it is 669. The winter terms show corresponding increase. Last year the number was 684, with a total for the year of 771. The coming term will not fail to exceed the number on the roll last winter.

The factors in this increasing popularity, and the consequent increasing usefulness of the College, are chiefly three: (1) The high standard of scholarship maintained. (2) The wholesome Christian influences exerted. (3) The exceedingly low prices charged the students.

During the past few years, through the agency of the College Extension Committee, the College has been accredited by the Boards of Public Instruction in a large number of States. Universities throughout the country have for many years given high rating to graduates of the College that have entered those universities as candidates for higher degrees. The Preparatory Department of the institution also ranks very high. Mention was recently made in this paper of the standing accorded the Preparatory Department in the special interstate classification made by the Southern College Association, and reported by Prof. Harry Clark, of Knoxville, whose letter was printed in full. Graduates of the department have access to the freshman class of colleges and universities throughout the country without examination. The College has, moreover, always had especial regard to the needs of young men and young women who are teaching, or who are preparing to teach, in the public schools of Tennessee. The work in teacher training has many times been highly commended by college visitors who are closely connected with the public-school system of the State. Among these, recently, were the State Superintendent of Education, S. W. Sherrill, who graduated from Maryville College in 1892, and President Gilbreath, of the East Tennessee State Normal School.

The first concern of the institution has always been the spiritual well-being of all the students. Great care is exercised in the matter of admitting students to the College, not only with regard to certificates for work done elsewhere, and for which credit is asked, but also, and especially, with regard to testimonials of high moral character. New students, therefore, must bring credentials from their former teachers, or pastors, or from some other equally reliable person. Care is also exercised in the elimination of those who, despite the vigilance of the authorities, unworthily find entrance to the college halls. For the sake of the best welfare of every student positive effort is made to safeguard reputation and to build up character along wholesome lines. Students of positive conviction and Christian character heartily co-operate with the Faculty, and are influential and active in all the student organizations of the College.

As to the matter of cost to the stud[illegible] the reader is recommended to read the college advertisemen[illegible] appears elsewhere in this paper. The principal items are there given with the very low rates that are charged students. One of the greatest services that the College renders is through its ability and willingness to expend for maintaining the institution, more than twice the amount that the student pays in for all his bills. Opportunities for self-help also are afforded to a large number of students that can not meet even these low prices.

It is probable that many who read this brief summary are considering the matter of attending school after the Christmas holidays, and doubtless would like to know something more about the College. Let those that are interested write at once for information, asking for a copy of the catalog, and also for a copy of the application blank. Promptness is necessary, for the dormitories will all be full, and only those students who send to the Registrar the required two dollars deposit will be able to obtain dormitory rooms. A few vacancies now exist, but they will soon be filled. Young men, however, that may not be able to get rooms in Carnegie or Memorial Hall can procure good rooms with approved families near the campus. The Boarding Club will accomodate all that come.

The question is often asked: In view of the fact that I could not be in school during the fall term, what courses can I get during the winter and spring terms? Many new courses, including a large number especially provided for school teachers, begin in January and March. Among these courses are, Methods of Teaching, Psychology Applied to Education, Child Psychology, Educational Psychology, Problems in Secondary Education, History and Civics, Higher Arithmetic, and Grammar, and double courses covering a full year's work in Algebra and Latin. The Home Economics Department and the Bible Training Department offer courses that are accepted for the B. A. degree, and the Music, Expression, and Art Departments provide special work in their respective branches. In the matter of preparatory courses that began in September, students that have had the equivalent of the fall term's work and are able to pursue successfully the work of the class, may be entered at Christmas time in any suitable course.

The winter term opens on Tuesday, January 4, 1916; the spring term on Tuesday, March 28, 1916.

cussed Thomas Coke, Missionary to Africa. The deputation to the Presbyterian C. E. was presided over by Mr. Keith Postlethwaite at which time Miss Lois Wilson and Mr. Commodore Fisher discussed with the society the "Need for Home Mission Work in Our Own Community." The band appreciates very greatly these opportunities for presenting the cause of missions which were so graciously granted it.

The band was again glad to present the cause of missions at our last Tuesday evening prayer meeting. The meeting was announced Tuesday morning when programs in the shape of Africa were distributed throughout the chapel.

At this meeting Fred Hope's work in Africa was presented and every student was urged to contribute something to this, 'our' work. And again do we urge every student in Maryville College to contribute something to this work.

The band presented the other side of the subject, which was presented by Miss Caldwell at the preceding prayer meeting. Miss Caldwell showed that we have indeed freely received and the band urged that therefore we should "freely give." Three representatives of the band, Mr. Frater, Miss Fanson, and Mr. Steelman, presented the subject under three heads "What should we give," "To what should we give," and "How we should give," respectively.

"As ye would the heathen do unto you, if you were where the heathen are, and the heathen were where you are, so do ye unto the heathen."

On the Gridiron

When Coach Kiefer sent his husky bunch of Highlanders into the game last Thursday he told them they were going into a hard game. We do not know whether the Coach is ashamed of his statement or not but the fact remains he has not yet been heard from. Even the team did not get to see him after the game. However the rumor is afloat that he is lodged in some little out-of-the-way place in East Tennessee, possibly Dandridge (a frequent hiding-place for football coaches and young college professors about Thanksgiving time) and that he will eventually appear in civilization. For those who may need a little further light on the subject let us refer the whom-it-may-concern to the following note.

The Misses Staater and Rankin attended the game at Morristown Thursday.

Next to the happiness of beating Carson-Newman the best thing that happened to our football boys Thursday, was the dinner which they were given after their arrival in Knoxville that evening. It was spread at 8 o'clock in the Atkin Hotel and a merry good time was enjoyed by all. All the boys were there but Ensign who went directly to his home in Chattanooga. Vandegriff, and ex-Highlander was also present and helped to make things lively.

Rev. J. W. Thistle of Franklin, Ohio, father of Miss Jessie Thistle, gave an interesting address before the students at chapel Monday. The subject of his address was "Efficiency." The only regret which the address gave to the students was its brevity. The points were "driven home" by Rev. Mr. Thistle's witty jokes.

THE KEYSTONE CLUB

Pennsylvania is not behind the other states in contributing her part to the student body of Maryville College. This was seen a few days ago when students from the Keystone State met for the purpose of getting acquainted and organizing a club. Mr. A. T. Norgan was elected president, Miss Margaret Bassett vice-president, Miss Frances Brown secretary, and Mr. Wm. Merwin treasurer. The roll consists of fifteen loyal Pennsylvanians. Though "a long way from home," the Pennsylvanians are more devoted than ever to their mother state.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. topic for Sunday, Nov. 28, was "The Life of Miss Grace Hoodley Dodge." Leader, George Simpson.

On the Sunday after Christmas, December the twenty-seventh, 1914, Miss Grace Hoodley Dodge died at her home in New York City, after an illness of but two days. Death came to her when the giving that made up her life was at full tide.

It has been said that the Y. W. C. A., of which she was the head, is the "greatest least-known organization in the world." In a similar way, Miss Dodge herself, because of an extreme shrinking from publicity of any kind, was one of the greatest least-known women of her generation. Because of this fact I shall make an introductory statement, to show who Miss Dodge was.

Grace H. Dodge was a daughter of William Earl Dodge, Jr., of New York, and in this city she lived her fifty-eight years of Christian citizenship in its fullest sense.

After graduating from Miss Porter's school at Farmington, she at once began to assume the responsibilities which later grew to statesmanlike proportions.

Her principal interests, in brief, were as follows:

When largely through the influence of D. L. Moody, who was often entertained in her father's home, she began to turn her attention to organized philanthropic work. One of the first things to claim her active service was the State Charities Aid Association. Out of this grew, later, the Consumer's League.

She founded in New York City, the first working Girl's Club ever formed. Later she established the Kitchen Garden, and the Industrial Education Association. She also founded Teacher's College in New York City.

She was one of the first two women on the Board of Education in New York City.

By her support she helped to make possible the organized movement against vice in this country and abroad.

She was president of the Board of trustees of the American College for Girls in Constantinople.

One of her latest and most absorbing interests was the Y. W. C. A. To the presidency of its National Board she gave the greater part of her time during the last eight years of her life. She lived to see the National Board and its Training School for Secretaries housed in a building of its own in New York City. Her last piece of work was thus the grounding of an organization which should strike at the very root of all problems affecting the life of girls—always and forever her greatest concern.

both sides. The jury was out only five minutes. R. M. Rankin, the foreman, rendered the decision which was murder in the second degree.

The attorneys were, for prosecution: D. N. Towe, Atty. General, assisted by Deck Williams. For the defense were C. L. Smith and W. W. Candler.

Judge S. M. Morton presided at this term of court. After the trial Sheriff Briggs took charge of the prisoner and carried him to safety. The lawyers for the defense asked the court for an appeal but it was not granted.

The college courthouse was crowded with spectators from all over the country. There were about one hundred people present.

The next program for the Club will be a U. S. Congress and the passing of a bill from the President.

speaker showed the great stimulus of the war upon all kinds of American business. He showed how, at the beginning of the war, we were England's debtors and were asked by them to pay our debts and how we are now creditors not only of England but of all her allies.

Many students are anxious to hear Prof. Johnson discuss the social and ethical aspects of the war and the part the United States is playing in these phases.

Vol. 1. Maryville, Tennessee, Wednesday, December 8, 1915 No. 6

MRS. WEST VISITS JUNIOR SECTION OF ATHENIANS

Society Favored With Address And Reading

An Evening Long To Be Remembered By Jr. Athenians.

The Jr. Athenians enjoyed a rare entertainment Saturday evening, when Mrs. West favored the boys with a talk on "Voice Training for the Public Speaker," and a number of humorous readings. The word "entertainment" is used advisedly, for the talented head of the expression department did not "talk shop" in a dry class room fashion; but (to use words borrowed from one of her many apt stories) she gave the hearers the "bread and butter of instruction with plenty of jam on top."

She talked inspiringly of the world's most perfect musical instrument, the human voice. She explained clearly and interestingly, correct breathing, proper tone formation, open throat and tone projection. She made many practical suggestions, and told of the great possibilities within the reach of the trained public speaker. The key note of the entire talk of this eminently practical teacher was, the practical character of proper elocutionary study. "It is not," she declared, "the putting of a mahogany finish on scrub pine material." She showed the naturalness of the training that gives one the power to make others think as he thinks, feel as he feels and determine as he has determined.

The readings that followed the talk were enjoyed as only the work of the master artist is enjoyed. The climax was reached when Mrs. West impersonated an old negro "Mammy" whom she had once had in her home.

As a finishing touch to the program Mr. LeRoy Middleton furnished a number of violin selections, accompanied by his sister at the piano. The quality of the music and the skill with which it was executed by the young Texans won prolonged applause.

Altogether the evening will long be remembered by the boys as a red letter event in the history of their society.

ATHENIANS GIVE MIDWINTER ENTERTAINMENT

Frontier Scenes To Be Rehearsed

Voorhees Chapel Friday Dec. 10, 8:00 P. M.

The first number of the midwinter course will be given next Friday evening when the Athenian Society will offer its annual entertainment. The audience will be carried back to frontier times and several characteristic scenes will be presented from "The State of Franklin." One of the special features will be a rustic romance, played by Mr. George Adams and Miss ?. Other noted players are "Fritz" Whalin, Eckles West, Aubrey Williams, and "Turkey" Smith. Those inclined toward the serious side of life will find much interest in the historical setting.

Kid Party Indulged In By The Class Of Dignity

Prizes Awarded To The Most Kiddish

Last Thursday evening the sedate seniors put away their solemnity and dignity long enough to participate in the frivolities of a kid party. Of course great influences had to be brought to bear upon some of the members of the class to persuade them to return to their long-lost youth but finally all responded.

The fun began with the collection of articles for the variously varigated costumes and make-ups and lasted even through the pinches, hair-pulling and free-for-all fights which were innumerable during the evening. "Mosheim" was late because Miss Mollie said she could not permit little folks to moonshine but records soon brought to light the age of the detained couple and they were allowed to proceed. Many other wee feet were late because of the much loitering, playing, quarreling and fighting along the road.

After the kids had all assembled youthful games such as Skip to My Lou, Thimble, Grunt, Fishin and Wink were played with much kiddish enthusiasm and a "Kid Kontest" was held. To the couple winning the contest were awarded a neat little dolly and a tin watch; two all-day suckers were lavishly bestowed upon the boobies in this contest. A pretty pink and blue rattler was presented to Miss Bernice Lowry, who was voted to be the most kiddish kid of all the kids.

The refreshments consisted of things tempting to freckled youth—red stick candy, dough-nuts, pickles, lemonade and sandwiches. Poor little country Dave got left out because "Fatty swiped my tandy."

All too soon it came time for kids to be off to dreamland so after rousing cheers for '16 and Dr. Huddleston and family, the kids went home.

PROF. BRITTAIN TO ADDRESS ALPHA SIGMAS JR.

Next Saturday Night

We had a splendid meeting on Saturday night, December 4th. Mr. Llody Grant read a fine paper on "Current Events," which was spiced with very good humor. Mr. Lawson's humorous reading was snappy and interesting. Mr. Williams and his harp are becoming very popular in Alpha Sigma Hall lately, as is evidenced by the fact that he is always called back for "more." The impromptu speeches by Moore and Cody were splendid both in wisdom and in wit. Last, but not least, the debate on the question of Woman's Suffrage in Tennessee, participated in by Thurdmond and Dennis for the Affirmative, Cook and Simmons for the Negative, were master-pieces, and was greatly enjoyed by all.

All out for the next meeting, Saturday, December 11th! A big, rousing, booster meeting! Main speaker, Professor D. J. Brittain. Subject: "The Essentials of a Good Literary Society." Let's give Professor Brittain a "full house"! Say we do!

MEMBERS OF VOLUNTEER BAND SPEAK AT SUNDAY SCHOOL

Talk On Missions At Young Peoples Meetings

"Why I should give to Missions" was discussed last Sunday morning at the different Sunday Schools of the town by deputations from the Band.

Mr. Charles Silsby discussed the subject with the Southern Methodist Sunday School. Miss Jean Porter's address to the Presbyterian Sunday School was postponed until next Sunday. Mr. Commodore Fisher discussed the subject with the Baptist Sunday School, while Mr. Joel Georges, who was to speak at the Northern Methodist Sunday School yielded his time to Mr. Ralph Young, who presented the urgent needs of the Battle Branch Mission.

In the evening another deputation presided over by Miss Jean Carson, assisted by Miss Helen Brown and Mr. Budd Williams made a study of India with the Epworth League of the Northern Methodist Church.

COMPANY OF BOYS TAKE LONG HIKE TO SMOKIES

Abrams Falls And Old Smoky Visited

Long Distance Covered In 50 Hours

Thursday afternoon at 3:30 our party consisting of Prof. Perkins, Larry LaRue and myself started on our hike to Abrams Falls and the Smoky Mountains.

We crossed the Chilhowee range at 6:00 p. m. and soon after came upon another party of students, camping by a little old cabin. They had a big fire going and were cooking supper and as they were going to Abrams Falls also, we decided to join them, and go into camp for the night.

We woke up about 12:00 that night, the fire had gone out, and it was rather cold. The moon was shining bright so we soon had another fire going and cooked breakfast. Then we all rolled our packs and started onward through the Flats by the Old Gold Mine. The trail and road were pretty good so we reached the Falls Friday morning at 7 a. m. It was a grand sight to see the water rushing down over those high rocks. Here we ate again, and at 9:00 o'clock hit the trail once more. When we reached the road we divided. R. Smith, F. Cross, G. Cooper and B. Watkins decided to go on with us to the Smoky Mts. The road was good and we reached Cades Cove at 12:00 Friday. Here we found out that if we had followed Abrams Creek it would have been about three miles closer. We ate dinner, bought provisions and obtained directions to continue our hike at Birchfield's store.

Our goal for the evening was a cabin called Russel's Cabin on top of Old Smoky Mt. which is about 5,000 ft. high. It was raining a little when we started out and it seemed that the higher we climbed the harder it rained and we were soon wet clear through. When we reached the top we lost the trail in the rain and fog, and missed the cabin. We wandered about for a mile or so, and then

PROF. GILLINGHAM GIVES ADDRESS TO MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Presents Fundamentals Valuable To A Minister

On Wednesday evening the Ministerial association had another interesting meeting. Prof. Gillingham's address on "Personal Conduct" was the principal event of the meeting. His plea to the young Christian leaders was that they strive "to make good" along the five following phases of Ministerial preparedness, scholarship, rhetorical ability, punctuality, economy, and Christian character. Every member expresses his appreciation of the address.

C. J. (Jack) French who was a student here in 1912-13 has enlisted in a Canadian Expeditionary Force and is now in an English training camp preparing to face the Germans. His address is C. J. French, care of Machine Gun Section, Canadian Expeditionary Force, Third Contingent, England.

MARYVILLE QUINTET DEFEATS JOHNSON BIBLE COLLEGE

Highlanders Show Great Speed Throughout The Game

Score Of Game 72-30

Last Friday evening in the first game of the season the Varsity basket-ball quintet won a decisive vistory over the Johnson Bibly College aggregation, the final score being 72-30. This score would have been still more one-sided had not Coach Frater seen it best to give all his second team a little practice in the last half.

The game was called at 8:10 before a crowded house and started off very lively but it was soon evident that the "Preachers" were entirely outclassed. Maryville began by making two fouls which Johnson failed to toss. Feeman for Maryville threw the first goal and from that time on the ball dropped so consistently into Maryville's basket that at the end of the first half the score stood 34 to 7. All the Varsity men started the second half but ten minutes of play saw the reserves in possession of the floor. The last half was much livelier than the first but of course goal-shooting was not so frequent. In the first half Feeman and Garrison starred for Maryville, while Ellis and Hodge did splendid work in the latter half. Overton and Jacobs showed up best for the visitors. Short passes and teamwork, lack of individual playing, and accuracy in tossing were the outstanding features in the playing of the Highlanders, while long shots and poor guarding lost the game for Johnson Bible. It is interesting to note that the Maryville crew scored 8 field goals in two minutes and ten seconds at the beginning of the second half.

This is the way they lined up and scored.

COLLEGE SINGS

Why could not the student body get together occasionally and have a college "sing"? Had it ever occurred to you that we have a good college song book? Do you know the songs?

Suppose we investigate, get our heads together, and boost our college spirit by singing some good old College songs together.

These songs would sound well at basket-ball games. Don't you think so?

TAKE A HIKE

We have asked Mr. Weisbecker to write an account of a hike, which a company, of which he was a member, made to the Smoky Mountains. Mr. Weisbecker kindly consented and the account appears in this issue.

If any students wish to hike to any or all of the places visited by this company, they may get more detailed information concerning distances, directions, camping outfits required, and the like from any of the company named.

The students of Maryville College have a variety of hikes excelled by few colleges. No one should spend a year here without taking advantage of these opportunities.

Y. W. C. A.

"Mountain Peaks in Daily Living" formed the topic for the Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon. The leader's talk told of some of the Mountain Peaks of the Bible and their significance. Then talks were given by Edith Jackson, Helen Adams, Franke Sheddan, Miss Jackson and Erma Russel on the Mountain Peaks of Faith, Happiness, Prayer, Courage, and Service.

Genevieve Gibson sang "Calvary."

The Y. W. C. A. is ready to aid in making the girls' Christmas gift list more complete this year by the sale of some beautiful Japanese goods. Miss Mary Miles and Miss Eva Ogilvie have charge of these goods.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. A. T. Norgan presented a sketch of the life of Jno. Gibson Paton to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. After Mr. Norgan's address several men gave characteristics of men who had inspired them to higher ideals.

Next Sunday Prof. W. L. Johnson will address the Y. M. C. A.

ALUMNI

On June 27, 1915, in this city occurred the death of Mrs. Iva Bryan Payne of the class of 1910. The sincere sympathy of many friends is extended to her husband, Rev. George M. Payne, also of the Class of 1910.

Miss Marguerite Ellen Caldwell, '98, died at New Market, Tenn., on July 3, 1915. She was the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. D. M. Caldwell. Almost all of the Caldwell family are graduates of the college.

One of Maryville's most beloved alumni, Rev. L. B. Tedford, died in this city on the twenty-second day of last June. Rev. Tedford was born in 1851 on his father's farm about two miles southwest of Maryville. He attended Maryville College, graduating with the class of 1877. He graduated from Lane Theological Seminary three years later. On Sept. 13, 1880, he was married to Miss Sarah M. Silsby, and two days later he and his bride started for India to serve as missionaries under the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. He devoted twenty-seven years of his life to actual service on the field in India. His life was truly a life of sacrifice for others, and one that will ever be an inspiration to the alumni of his Alma Mater.

During the past year the Class of 1910 was deprived by death of two of its members, Mrs. Iva Bryan Payne and Miss Kate Edith Sheddan. The latter died at Dandridge, Tenn., on May 14, 1915. Her many friends mourn the loss of Miss Sheddan.

On August 11, 1915, occurred the happy marriage of Miss Lelia Love Graham, '12, and Mr. Harry H. Proffit. The latter is a brother of Prof. Fred L. Proffit.

Dr. S. H. Bright, 1901, was united in marriage to Miss Stella Hill Armitage, October 6, 1915, at Greeneville, Tenn. The newly married couple are living at Norfolk, Va.

Miss Augusta Minnis Newman and Mr. Wilbur L. Y. Davis, Jr., were married June 22, 1915, in Philadelphia. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John Grant Newman, both alumni of the college.

At the time of the sickness and death of Mr. Joe Clemens, there were four of the alumni of the college who were present, his daughter, Mrs. Pearl Clemens Hatcher, 1907, his brother, Rev. Prof. W. C. Clemens, '82, his sister, Mrs. Agnes B. Eakin, '86, and her husband, Rev. John S. Eakin, '87.

The sympathy of the college goes out to Rev. Edgar C. Mason, '87, and Mrs. Anne Moore Mason, '88, in their sorrow caused by the death of the latter's mother, Mrs. J. Dorsey Moore, who died at Knoxville last week.

Prof. H. J. Bassett, '04, who is studying at the American Academy in Rome, Italy, for his Ph. D. degree in connection with the University of Michigan, writes that he is enjoying his work very much. Each morning Prof. Bassett spends in sight-seeing, and the afternoon in study. He finds Rome an interesting place, now that Italy is in the war in spite of the fact that the Italians are taking matters very quietly. Prof. Bassett's address is L'Accademia Americana, Porta S. Pancrozio, Rome.

Fred C. Peterson, who left Maryville a few days ago on account of his health, writes that he has reached Denver, Col., where he expects to recover his health. He can be addressed care of Y. M. C. A.

Lawrence Cross, '14, now at Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, writes: "I received the Highland Echo and devoured it, ads and all. It is a fine little paper and well written. I am trying to get John Stephens, Bill Tilford and "Sheepy" Owens to subscribe.

"But with all my heart I wish Morgan didn't bear such a striking resemblance to a lost love of mine."

—Grace Meyers.

BAINONIAN

"Greek Myths" was the subject studied by the Bainonian Friday night. But before beginning the program for the evening, a well-written and instructive paper on "Southern Contributions to American Literature," which had been postponed from a previous program, was read by Miss Enloe.

The first number of the regular program was a resume of the cycle of Theseus myths by Miss Zeora Brocklehurst, who told of his parentage, his deeds as a hero, and his deification by the Greek nation. The Minotaur myth of this cycle was stressed because it is thought to have a historical significance since it probably shows the political relations between Crete and Athens at the beginning of Grecian history.

Miss Dexter Clayton next told the chief stories of the Ulysses cycle, his activities in the Trojan War, in the destruction of Troy, and his wanderings.

The review of each cycle was not only thorough as to material, but was well told, and not only instructive but entertaining.

The last of the Greek numbers was a pantomime of the myth of "Eurydice and Orpheus," in which Helen Lewis was "Orpheus," Mary Thompson "Eurydice", Ruth Greenlee, a shepherd, Blanche Claibough "Pluto," Ada Smith "Proserpine," and Elizabeth Kehr a ghost. Needless to say this was much enjoyed by everyone.

Three numbers of the program were "modern." Two of these were musical, one being a piano solo by Miss Nora Lee Griffith, and the other a vocal solo by Miss Mary Miles. Both were well rendered and hence were greatly appreciated by the audience.

The other "modern" number was a reading by Miss Nelle Wilson. The selection was "The Last Leaf" by O. Henry, and Miss Wilson's interpretation of it was excellent.

Next week's program which will consist of a scene from "When Patty Went to College" will be short, since the greater part of the evening will be devoted to business and the election of officers. This meeting is very important so let every Bainonian be present.

ATHENIANS

Those who wish a good laugh will have it at the expense of the militia and a Servant of John Sevier, while all those who have their own little romances will get many valuable pointers from the 'lovers.' Neither will the music lovers be disappointed for the college orchestra will play between acts and Mr. Rankin and Mr. Anderson will sing. Everybody and his girl will be gladly welcomed.

STUDENTS DOING GREAT WORK AT MISSION

Sunday, December 5th, 1915, will no doubt be recorded as one of the greatest days in the history of Battle Branch Mission, which is under the leadership of the College students, for on that day new interest and enthusiasm was generated in the Churches in behalf of this great religious and humanitarian work in Maryville, and the Mission itself and all its workers seemed to be permeated with and gripped by a new and a holy fire of enthusiasm, which manifested itself in the Workers' Conference and was felt throughout the Sunday School hour.

The day was started with a simultaneous campaign in the M. E. Church, the Presbyterian Church, the M. E. Church (South), and in the Baptist Church, by representatives of the Mission. The spirit in which the Churches responded to the appeals for funds to meet the estimated budget for the ensuing year, amounting to $110.00, warmed the hearts of the workers, dispelled the gloom of discouragement, caused by the lack of means with which to further the necessary work, and also put new life into all who had the interest of the Mission at heart. As far as we can now learn, the following amounts were pledged by the different churches:

M. E. Church pledged $45.25 and paid $21.75; Presbyterian Church pledged $22.50 and paid $7.00; M. E. Church (South) pledged $15.00 and paid $3.75.

The M. E. Church showed a splendid enthusiasm in giving towards the support of the Mission. The fireworks were started by Dr. J. S. Jones and his class, who were quickly followed by all the other S. S. classes, each giving liberally. The other Churches showed the same spirit.

Great credit is due the Young Ladies' Organizations of the various Churches for the splendid work they are doing towards arranging the Christmas entertainment for the little ones and the grown folks of Battle Branch Mission. They have great things in store for us, and the "tots" as well as the older folks are looking forward with great joy and expectation to the "day of all days." We feel sure that all will be more than doubly repaid for their efforts by the joy they will have in their hearts for having rendered this noble and Christ-like service.

found a trail leading down the mountain. It was here we found snow. We started down the trail, slipping and sliding in the mud, and falling over rocks and trees. When we got about half way down five of the party decided to stop and build a fire and wait until morning before going further. But Smith and I decided to push ahead, and try to find some "civilization." We followed the trail by feeling with our feet for it was so dark that we could not see. We traveled for about an hour after leaving the party and then went into camp as it began raining again. It soon stopped however and the moon came out, so at 1:15 Saturday morning we shouldered our packs and followed on down the trail. We reached the first house at 2.30 a. m. We woke the people up and explained to them our condition. We found out that we were in the opposite end of Cades Cove to that which we had entered and that it was 12 miles across Mt. Rich to Riverside, the nearest railway station. We crossed the cove but could not find the trail across the Mt. Seeing a light in a house we stopped and asked directions again.

The man said that if we would come in and eat breakfast, he would tell us the way. We could see a nice fire burning and as we were still very wet we did not have to be coaxed. The man proved to be W. A. Gregory the father of Abe Gregory who was here last year. We were soon set down to a fine breakfast, which put new life into us. At daybreak Mr. Gregory showed us the trail. We were well dried by this time so we took our leave of those fine people and started on our last climb over Mt. Rich, which is 3,500 ft. high. We had a good trail up the Mt. and a good road down through the Mountains clear to Riverside, which place we reached at 11 o'clock Saturday a. m.

We bought dinner at the store and then cleaned up as best we could. Along about 3:30 the rest of the party came straggling in, and at 3:55 we all boarded the train and arrived in Maryville at 5:10. We had covered a total distance of 50 or 60 miles in 50 hrs. None of us were any the worse for the trip and all glad to be home again.

Although the whole program was composed of vocal solos, so varied were the selections, that the productions grew more entertaining as the program was rendered.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

Center College, at Danville, Ky., and Valparaiso University, both have begun, this year, to issue a weekly newspaper.

Seniors at the University of California have decreed against mustaches. Two men were relieved of half of theirs and compelled to attend classes with the other half on, as a penalty.

Students of Pennsylvania State are rebelling against compulsory Chapel attendance and the system may be abolished.

Davidson is going to dedicate her 1916 annual to President Woodrow Wilson, who is an alumnus of that institution.

Many college publications are commenting upon the fact that Tennessee has a "Kissan Hall." This is the name of one of the girl's dormitories. Why should the college editors be so shocked? Tennessee is just calling a spade a spade.

Approximately one-seventh of the co-eds of the University of California are working their way through.

Sophomores at Montana State College built a large "M" on a mountain near the school, while at Arizona a huge "A" some twenty feet high has been made of concrete upon a nearby mountain.

The home economics department of the University of Illinois has a Pullman car which it uses to give demonstrations through the state.

The record of a field goal by a drop kick was broken Nov. 20th by Payne, of Dakota Wesleyan. The record is 63 yards, a yard more than the old record.

An automobile load of Colorado mines men made an attack upon the campus of the University of Colorado and exploded several bombs. Poor sportsmen and rather stale patriotism, it would seem.

ALPHA SIGMA MIDWINTER SATURDAY NIGHT

Highland Echo

FOOTBALL NUMBER

Vol. 1. Maryville, Tennessee, Wednesday, December 15, 1915 No. 7

ATHENIANS GAVE ENTERTAINMENT FRIDAY NIGHT

"State Of Franklin" Subject Of Program

Large Audience Attends

The first mid-winter of the year occurred Friday evening when the Athenian Literary Society presented a play the title of which was "The State of Franklin." The play was based on the historical facts which led to the birth of a new state, Tennessee, and was centered about the early public life of John Sevier.

The stage decorations were unique in that they were very characteristic of the early pioneer days of East Tennessee. Two rough chinked log cabins had been constructed and there was a profusion of trees on the rostrum which took the mind of the audience back to early frontier days. The costumes of the players were also very characteristic of the early days, some of the higher personages were clad in the best colonial dress, others of lower station, in rougher pioneer style.

The leading characters of the play were, "Gov. John Sevier," Fred R. Whalin, "Col. John Tipton," Aubrey Williams and "Capt. Robertson," Chas. Smith.

Synopsis of the Play

The first act opens with Sevier and his negro servant in a combat of words before Sevier's home in the wilderness. The negro is sent away "to rest." Sevier begins a soliloquy which is interrupted by a messenger announcing the fact that a new state, Franklin, has been formed and he is the first governor.

In the second act Tom Tipton tells his father of Sevier's election. Tipton is disappointed from selfish reasons and plans revenge on Sevier. Tipton orders Sevier's arrest by the militia, but Capt. Robertson and the militia mutiny.

In the third act Tipton has arrested Sevier and threatens his life but spares him and takes him to North Carolina. Later, while Capt. Robertson is addressing a meeting of the Watauga Settlers, Sevier returns very unexpectedly and then Tipton appears. The play closes in a very touching scene where Tipton and Sevier become reconciled.

The play was spiced with wit and humor at the expense of the negro servant and the love affair which ran through the whole play. The orchestra furnished some very good music before the curtain rose and Messrs. Rankin, Leonard, and Anderson filled in the time between acts in the way which is characteristic of them.

The entertainment was something different in the line of midwinters and was enjoyed by a very large and appreciative audience.

PROF. GILLINGHAM TALKS ON SUBJECT PROHIBITION

Urges Student Body To Support I. P. A.

Thursday morning Prof. Gillingham gave a chapel address on the subject of Prohibition. It seems that Prof. Gillingham has been receiving ads. from Bristol, Louisville and Middlesboro, from the way he talked.

He said that the students should support the I. P. A. because it is a popular movement, because it is a progressive movement, and thirdly because much information can be secured from the other two hundred colleges in the association.

Prof. Gillingham told us that the four mile law originated in East

GYMNASIUM CLASSES GIVE EXHIBIT IN BARTLETT

Miss Martin and Mr. Weisbecker Supervisors

It is already a fact that no college is complete without its spheres of physical activities as well as mental. All the larger colleges and universities are adding departments of physical training, and making the work compulsory.

In this form of advancement Maryville is in the front rank, for she can boast of a well equipped gymnasium and an able staff of physical directors, both for the men and women.

On Saturday night, December 11th at eight o'clock a large crowd witnessed the gymnastic exhibition given under the direction of Miss Martin and Mr. Weisbecker in the local gymnasium. To say that the entire program was enjoyed is not expressing the full appreciation as felt by the audience. But the feats of the program, which at times required grace and skill, and at other times strength and nerve were splendidly carried out. The whole entertainment aided by the Orchestra rendered the evening completely satisfactory and enjoyable to all.

FRESHMAN CLASS LEADS PRAYER MEETING

The prayer-meeting Tuesday night was led by our class and those who missed it were certainly unfortunate, for the meeting was a credit to the class. The subject was "College Ideals" and it was well handled. Mr. Johnson was first speaker, his topic being "Should college ideals differ from the ideals of men outside the college?" Mr. Johnson's talk was the product of thought and study and was given in an impressive manner. Miss Miles next spoke on "How may a college student best reach up toward these ideals?" She brought out several points showing how we might attain our ideals. Her speech was well thought out and very pleasingly given. "What responsibilities do these ideals impose on the college student," was handled by Mr. Campbell.

The music was well rendered and added much to the effect of the program.

MIDWINTER BY ALPHA SIGMA SOCIETY SATURDAY NIGHT

Scenes From Great War Are To Be Reproduced

The Alpha Sigma Society will offer its mid-winter entertainment on next Saturday night, December 18, at 8:00 o'clock.

Some of the events of the Great War, and America's attitude toward them, will be dramatized. The strife between the war lords and the common people, as took place in the Bundesrath and the House of Commons, will be set forth. The camp life and the horrors of battle will be presented in a vivid and natural manner.

Following this, America's spirit of freedom and of peace and her attitude toward the present struggle will be explained.

Music, consisting of national airs suited to the subject matter will be given by the orchestra after each of the three scenes.

ATHLETIC BOARD OF CONTROL AWARDS FOOTBALL M's

"M" Men Elect Captain And Manager

On Tuesday, December 8, the athletic board of control met and awarded letters to the following football men: Henry Callaway, Harold Greer, Clyde Hickman, Robert Clemens, David Briggs, Henry Kirkgard, Edward Ensign, H. W. Feeman, Ford Day, Charles L. Smith, S. E. Wallin, Horace Threlkeld.

Elmo Flannery was given special mention.

On the same day Robert S. Gamon was elected manager for next year.

On Thursday, December 10, the letter men met and elected Edward Ensign Captain. Under the leadership of Mr. Gamon and Mr. Ensign, whose middle names are energy, a good season is anticipated for next year.

M. C. GIRLS PLAY GAME WITH CENTRAL HIGH FIVE

Every Girl Starred: M. C. 36, C. H. S. 6

The girls' basket-ball team opened the season on Friday night with a neat victory over the Central High team of Knoxville, to the tune of 36 to 6. The game was played on the U. T. gym floor. Miss Lois Wilson and Miss Martin divided the honors in a scoring way, Miss Wilson scoring 17 while Miss Martin scored 19. The High School girls never had a look in, scoring only one field goal, and that through the charity of a Maryville guard in the last few minutes of play. Every member of the team played well, the forwards, of course, starring by scoring, and also by wonderful passing and team work. The line up follows:

Maryville 36		C. H. S. 6
Miss Wilson	R. F.	Miss Roberts
Miss Martin	L. F.	Miss Barber
Miss Webb	C.	Miss Watt
Miss Stinnett
Miss Sugg (Capt)	R. G.	Miss Grimm
Miss Enloe	L. G.	Miss Lowe
Miss Burchfield

Field Goals—Miss Wilson 5, Miss Martin 9, Miss Roberts 1.
Foul Goals—Miss Wilson 7, Miss Martin 1, Miss Roberts 4.
Referee—Frater.
Umpire—Miss Brown.
Time of Halves—15 Minutes.

GILLILAN GIVES THIRD LYCEUM NUMBER

Monday night, Dec. 7, Strickland Gillilan gave the third number of the lyceum course. For two hours Mr. Gillilan kept a large audience laughing and crying.

The speaker's subject was "Sunshine and Awkwardness." It seemed perfectly easy for him to present both phases of his subject.

Mixed with the excellent wit and humor were found some beautiful lessons of life.

The next lyceum number, Schildkret's Hungarian Orchestra, will be presented on February 21, 1916.

VICTORIOUS SEASON FOR MARYVILLE ELEVEN

Seven Battles Fought Without Yielding One Point

Post Season Glance At The Squad

When Coach Kiefer, Manager Threlkeld, and Captain Callaway got their heads together, early this fall, the prospects for a football team were rather discouraging. Practically no schedule had been arranged, the college had secured Kiefer as coach only two weeks before, and many of the prospective varsity men were scattered. In a week or two some of the men, hearing that a great effort was being made to form a team and arrange a schedule, began to come in. Ensign sallied up from Chattanooga, Turkey Smith abandoned the Colonels Greer completed his job as a ranchman in Oklahoma and step by step this rallying to the flag progressed until the climax was reached when, after six weeks' delay, Big Day rolled in from Virginia.

All the time this enlistment was going on, Coach Kiefer was taking slants at his men, working out plays and coaching the growing squad. Threlkeld was burning precious midnight oil and consuming bottles of ink arranging a schedule. "Hen" was moving about in his quiet way all the while helping to mobolize.

The first conflict of the season was with Central High School, on Oct. 2, resulting in a victory for M. C. by the score of 48-0. On October 9, the Highlanders met the King College eleven at Bristol. Score M. C. 25, King College 0. Washington College on the warm day of Oct. 16 visited the Highlanders only to be defeated 49-0. No greater thrill of the season ran over the nerves of Maryville rooters than ran on Oct. 30, when Chattanooga came up for a "practice game." Eleven Highlanders played against fifteen Moccasins (of course only eleven at a time) throughout the whole game, sending down to defeat that team of superior weight by the score of 13-0.

The scrubs were visited by McMinn Co. H. S. on Nov. 6. Their meet was a victory of 63-0.

The Varsity bagged a game at Emory and Henry on Nov. 13 by a score of 20-0.

The Tusculum eleven came to Maryville one cold rainy day, Nov. 19. Three quarters of a game, in mud and rain were played. Although the Highlanders planted the pigskin on Tusculum's six inch line no scoring was done by either side.

On Nov. 26 Coach Kiefer's wonderful machine pulled the throttle open and displayed its ability to do work by defeating Carson-Newman College at Morristown by the score of 99-0.

Thus was completed one of the most successful football seasons Maryville College has ever had.

TO TAKE A CLOSER VIEW OF THE TEAM

Callaway, quarterback, weight 154. Henry is known for his excellent broken field running and accurate forward passing. He is also a good punter and has the head of a superb football general. No doubt a great deal of the credit for this year's record is due to this latter quality in our quarterback. This is his third year of Varsity footbal... "Hen" was captain of the team.

Clemens, fullback, weight 167. Bob improved throughout the season and developed into a good line plunger. Like the other back field men he was splendid on running interference. His

OUR TEAM

Sweet are the memories of the past football season. And best of all no ugly nor venomous forms are commingled with these memories. This season has been a landmark in the history of Maryville College activities. Many facts make it so.

The enviable record of a team not scored on, though playing a rather hard schedule of seven games, is one of those facts. Another remarkable thing was the punch of the scrubs. Never before have thirty men been seen on the field of scrimmage, even up to the last day of the season.

The student body gave the team better support than it has in past seasons. Let us hope that this support will be manifested in athletics of the future, whether a team be a winning team or not. One of the best ways to improve this already excellent rooting spirit is to sing more college songs at games.

One of the facts of which we should be proudest, is the sportsmanship manifested in every game, both by the players and by the students on the sideline. This manliness was a slogan of Coach Kiefer who continually emphasized its importance.

Then why not point with pride to the fall of 1915 when the Highlanders rolled up a score of 245 points, yielding not a single point to their opponents?

Prof. Walker's Announcement In Chapel

The announcement made in chapel Friday morning by Prof. Walker had more than one point in it. The main point of his announcement was the gymnasium exhibit for Saturday night. This he announced by attaching a humorous statement to each number on the program such as, "When the orchestra has played, the boys will follow with a dumb-bell exercise" and "After rythmic calesthenics by the girls the boys will have to tumble."

One sidelight of the announcement was the answer to the question, "What is the temperature of Moonshine?" Prof. Walker says "Two in the shade."

Another side announcement was that Prof. Brittain has just received into his home a blinking, bouncing, football recruit. Prof. Brittain considers him a "lucky find."

MISSISSIPPI CLUB ORGANIZED

Mississippi is said to be a state where cotton and negroes grow, nevertheless it has a club on "College Hill." There are seven from the old Gulf state, six students and one faculty member. The officers elected are Mr. Frank Cody, Pres.; Miss Helen Lewis, Vice-Pres.; and J. B. Ross, Secretary.

ALUMNI

We are glad to note that our former Professor of Sociology and Economics here in the college is enjoying his work. Prof. Calhoun will take his Ph. D. at Clark University in June, using as subject for thesis, "The Family."

Edwin R. Hunter, '14, has resigned his position as professor of English at a junior college in Wisconsin to take charge of his father's pulpit. We are sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Hunter's father.

BAINONIAN

The Bainonian held its monthly business meeting Friday evening, then proceeded to elect the following officers for the winter term:
Miss Mary Hickey, president
Miss Anne Creswell, vice-president
Miss Lena Pardue, recording sec'y
Miss Elizabeth Henry, program sec'y
Miss Winifred Dekkar, music critic
Miss Harriet Meek, literary critic
Miss Emma Miles, censor
Miss Sophie Karte, sergeant-at-arms

After the election, owing to the comparative lateness of the hour, the program with the exception of a reading by Miss Wilbanks was dispensed with.

Next week's program will be a "Visitation from a Band of Wandering Gypsies."

THETA

Theta's program was somewhat varied on Friday evening. Instead of the usual literary number, the meeting was given over to the consideration of ways and means for the betterment of the society.

One of the speakers, in showing the opportunities and responsibilities of girls at the present time said, "This is the day of enlighted young womanhood. Now is our chance"! Just a bit of local proof in passing; Prof. Mac announced recently that the girls hold a higher per cent in Chemistry than the boys.

Another speaker held up before us the ideal critic. She discredited the use of stock adjectives, and emphasized the ability of the critic to raise the standards of the society by giving honest opinions and suggestions. The open discussion which followed was interesting and beneficial, and several new members took part. A motion was made that Mrs. Brittain be remembered with flowers. It received the hearty approval of all the girls, for we all remember Mrs. Brittain as one of our most faithful and earnest workers. The program closed with a vocal solo.

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB

"We didn't come here to fail to be acquainted," so we taxed ourselves for a sufficient amount to buy chocolate and vanilla ice-cream and cake with red streaks running through it, apples and other small things too tedious to mention and these were ordered to Baldwin Hall where the group of pleasure seeking humanity was assembled. We cannot take time to describe the banjo and guitar music by Wallin and Garrison, the dances by "Shorty" and Candler, and the fun and festivity of all, but suffice it to say that we all enjoyed it so much that we yelled together "Rah! Rah! Carolina, Rah!"

COACH KIEFER

Arthur Samuel Kiefer was born in Kingston, Ohio, April 2, 1889, but shortly after this important event in his life his parents moved to Portsmouth, Ohio, where he lived until five years of age. He was always the "biggest kid in school," and although barely missing being an "April Fool" he turned out to be quite above normal, intellectually speaking.

After leaving Portsmouth he went to Columbus where all his school days were spent. On finishing the grammar grades he entered North High School and enrolled in the literary course. At the end of his third year Arthur decided to discontinue his education for the time being, and spent three years in the photographic business with his father. Up until this time his athletic ability had remained dormant owing to the objections of his parents, but in his senior high school year he took up football and track work, in the latter specializing on the discus throw and the shot put.

The year following his graduation from high school he entered the Agricultural College of Ohio State University and won his numeral in both Freshman track and football. He was also second lieutenant in the annual cane-rush and a member of the tug-of-war team. In his Sophomore year he began his Varsity foot ball career as substitute, but lost only two quarters in the entire season, tying for first place in the amount of time played. He played tackle, guard, and end, won his letter, and helped make his team champion of Ohio. In his Junior and Senior years he played guard, and in these two years lost only the first two quarters of the first game. In his last year his team was again champion of Ohio, and in his Junior year it tied with Oberlin for that place.

Kiefer also played some basketball but had to drop it on account of heavy school-work, averaging twenty hours a week throughout his entire course. His athletic training was taken under such men as Steve Farrel, now trainer at Michigan; J. R. Richards, now head of the Chicago Recreation Department; J. W. Wilce, L. W. St. John, and F. R. Castleman. Kiefer is a non-fraternity man but belonged to several honorary societies. Among these was the Varsity "O" Association, the Bucket and Dipper, Gamma Phi, the Sphinx, and the Horticultural Society.

In June, 1915, he graduated from the Agricultural College in a class of three hundred and eight, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science in Horticulture. Shortly after this he was awarded the first Western Conference medal for combined scholastic and athletic record, and this, he says, is the great thing in his life of which he is proud. And when we consider that such universities as Chicago, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northwestern, Purdue, and Illinois make up the Western Conference we see that he has ample reason to be justly proud.

Since coming to Maryville Coach Kiefer has won his way completely into the hearts of all who have met him. As a coach he has put out a team whose goal line is uncrossed, and not a little of this record is due to the personality of the coach himself. Not a man on the squad that wouldn't do anything for Coach. On the field he maintained his natural reserve and gave his directions with his deep, melodious voice in a quiet, impressive way. On the campus or in the dressing-room no note of professionalism ever marred the personal cantact between him and his men.

Of course Maryville students admire their coach for his physique. Standing six feet three in his socks, he keeps the needle quivering around the two hundred pound mark, and being a brunette the vote from the East End (of the campus) was rather unanimous as to his looks. His voice, also, is of a rare quality, and he made a great hit as second bass on the college quartet. But it isn't for his singing, it isn't for his physique, nor his good looks, nor for the dry wit with which he amused the Bartlett boys; no, it isn't altogether for his ability as a coach that Maryville students admire him most. Coach has a heart—a big heart—a heart that fits well into his big body, and a heart that fits well into "the Maryville spirit." The word "character" is written in his every action. Clean athletics is his profession, with the emphasis on the "clean"—it doesn't seem as if it could be any other way with Coach. Do you wonder, as on the morning of December second, after the boys had yelled and the engineer had whistled out of sight the train that bore him away, that everyone turned back to the Hill with this thought, "There goes a Man."

VICTORIOUS SEASON

work as defensive fullback was very noticeable, and when carrying the ball his knees were a terror to would-be tacklers. This is his second season.

Ensign, left half, weight 138. He was the star of the team on broken field running and following interference. He was also extra good on receiving forward passes, and as a defensive player was "death" to the man carrying the ball. This is his second year on the team but last year he was not in school. He is long to be remembered by the way he played against Chattanooga.

Kirkgard, right half, weight 150. Making the team his first year in school, he developed into a prize combination of running and plunging halfback. He is a sure tackler and—incidentally—is from Texas.

Wallin, left end, weight 140. "Shorty" was a good consistent defensive player throughout the season. He did his best work at the receiving of forward passes, and in spilling interference. Although he won his "M" in the Middle Ages of Maryville football history he played his last game when Carson-Newman went down in that overwhelming defeat. "Shorty" wished it had been Tusculum.

Feeman, right end, weight 170. Possibly the best end that has ever come into the lime-light in Maryville College. A hard and sure tackler, his defensive work made his position almost impregnable. No team ever gained consistently around right end, and no interference could smother him. He also starred as a line plunger and kicker, and received passes for long gains. This was his first year in football here.

Day, left tackle, weight 175. Although shifted from guard to tackle he showed the same consistency in line play that he manifested last year. He could always be counted on to open up a hole, and few gains were ever made over him. A second year man.

Greer, left guard, weight 202. Being the "baby" of the team he was capable of holding one whole side of the line if necessary. He often broke through the line, blocking kicks and passes, and breaking up plays before they had well gotten under way. His real name is "Greaser," and he has played on the team for three years.

Smith, right guard, weight 155. Although shifted from back field to the line, he found his right position and made good in it. Out-weighted in almost every game, he was always good for a hole when called on. The teamwork between "Turkey" and Briggs was always too evident to opposing linesmen. This is his fourth year of Varsity ball.

Briggs, right tackle, weight 165. "Sheeny" was outweighted in nearly every game but never outplayed. He is a great hand to recover fumbles back of the line, and a sure tackler. His greatest compliment is "He was the life of the team," for his team mates never failed to respond to his sunny smile and good-natured wit.

Hickman, center, weight 160. This is "Hickey's" first year at Varsity ball but he developed into an accurate passer and a good defensive player. His work in opening up holes and aiding guards was very noticeable.

Flannery, weight 160, although not winning his letter, received personal mention in the meeting of the Athletic Board. It was hard to distinguish between the quality of his playing and that of the regular ends and without a doubt next year will find him in the position which the wheel of fortune barely reserved for another turn. He starred especially in defensive work and his tackling resembled that of "Doc."

Sentelle, weight 180, never failed to make good as an extra linesman when substituted in the positions of tackle or guard. He will be of great value to next year's team.

Lloyd, weight 140. Though playing

PROF. JOHNSON GIVES ADDRESS TO Y. M. C. A.

The address before the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon drew one of the largest crowds that has been out this year, about eighty men being present. Prof. Johnson, although choosing a subject that is often discussed, presented his material in such a novel and attractive way as to command the interest of all present. He spoke on, "Why Christian Living is Essential to a Successful Life." In the beginning he read a few stanzas from Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam and included the philosophy of this Persian poet, in a brief mention of that of the Stoic, Epicurean, Moralist, and Rationalist. As he compared these ancient and modern philosophies with that of the Christian he showed that, in the last analysis, only the choice of the latter could bring a man to success. Success, said the speaker, does not lie in one's ability to command a high salary, or in commanding the praise of certain people, but success is attained only through service for others. A man, as a moralist, may live a clean upright life, but it is a selfish, negative life, or a man may be guided by reason and live the same righteous life, and yet will lack that motive power, Jesus Christ, to impel him on to positive influence for good. Only as we take Christ into our lives can we hope to be real successes. And especially did the speaker drive home this point, that, although we have the right ideas of success now, ten years hence may find us in an almost opposite attitude, for the pressure of vocational life will change our motives, and what we consider essential now, may then be swamped by more worldly views.

The meeting next Sunday will be led by "Red" Turner, his subject being "Imago Christi."

At a cabinet meeting Sunday afternoon the following committee was elected to nominate officers for the ensuing year: S. E. Wallin, F. K. T. Postlethwaite, H. Turner, G. N. Steelman, and Homer Weisbecker.

ATHENIANS Jr. ELECT OFFICERS

The good attendance, interest, and harmony that have made the recent meeting of the Jr. Athenian so successful were features of the business session held Saturday evening. Officers for the winter term were elected as follows:

in only two games he was a good substitute quarter or halfback. He excelled in defensive work.

Acton, weight 160, a man who couldn't have been kept off the team under ordinary circumstances. In spite of a late entry and an early injury which kept him out of the game to a great extent, he showed excellent form as a running and plunging halfback. Although the "I" doesn't prodominate in Acton, yet it is a safe bet that he well deserves the name of "Action." He graduates this year.

Cooper and Ford will make excellent material for next year's line. Stephens, still young, will develop into a good halfback, and Eaton stands a good show on account of his kicking ability. Morgan will probably not have to spend another year in fighting the Varsity, but will very likely be next year's star as defensive end.

Threlkeld deserves much credit as a manager. Appointed after the football season opened with no schedule begun, he got busy and forged thru a good schedule. "Threl" is another miracle man.

ALPHA SIGMA GIVES ANNUAL MIDWIN TER ENTERTAINMENT.

Different Phases of the Great War Dramatized.

Orchestra Renders Excellent Music.

ALPHA SIGMA MIDWINTER.
"Herr Von Hindenberg!"
"Yah!"
"Herr Von Spreckleberg!"
"Yah!"
"Vater Martin Luther!"
"NEIN!"

This, gentlemen, is a record of the names of some of the members of the Bundesrath and the way they voted on the question of war, when it was presented to them, after the masterly address by Herr Von Deck Williams and Herr Von "Shorty" Wallin. The names of the other members of the Bundtsrath and the way they voted can be secured from the German Kaiser, Jonathan Edward Kidder. Vater Martin Luther (Her Von Andy "Deacon" Richards) distinguished himself by emphatically and decisively voting "Nein" on the question. When the German Kaiser declared war and finished addressing his staff, the curtain went down on the first scene of one of the best Midwinter plays ever given on College Hill. This Midwinter was presented by the Alpha Sigma Literary Society in the Chapel on Saturday night, December 18th.

The play was divided into two acts, the first act presenting four scenes from the theater of the European war. The first scene, mentioned above, shows the German Bundesrath in session, debating the question of war. The German Kaiser is seated on his throne, and on his right in his military staff.

The second scene transplants us to England, and we see a review of the English troops by Earl Kitchener, ("Happy" Lloyd) and hear him address his soldiers. The drill, which followed his address, led by General Douglas Haig (Pat Quinn) was almost perfect, and showed a good deal of work. It was pleasing to watch the perfect symmetry and harmony of the movements of the soldiers as the commands were given.

The large audience that witnessed the play will never forget the realistic effect of the third scene, which showed a battle in Northern France. The scene was enacted behind a white linen screen, upon which a red light played, while all other lights were cut off. This threw the shadows of the actors into bold relief on the screen, and as the opposing armies came into closer and closer conflict with each other, as the bombs and shrapnels and Krupp guns claimed their victims, who fell dead here and there, as ever and anon a shriek, a cry, a moan, would go up from the wounded, as those ministering angels, the Red Cross nurses, came to carry off the victims, all through this wonderful scene, the audience sat spellbound and entranced.

Scene four showed a French hospital at the front, wounded soldiers lying in their cots, and the Red Cross nurses and a Catholic priest ministering to them. Some people still refuse to believe that the nurses (Jack Cook and Harry Ferntheil) were not of the feminine sex, which speaks well for Miss Fanson, the artist, and for the delusive article which some folks use on their faces.

Act two, which presented the last scene, showed some Maryville students in a military camp. They recalled old college days, and had a good time at the expense of Aubrey Williams, and some members of the faculty. The play closed with a fitting climax, when the picture of the Prince of Peace was thrown upon a

MISS CLEME HENRY GIVES AN ADDRESS TO Y. W. C. A.

Y. W. C. A. Entertains Girls in Baldwin Parlors.

The association made a very good beginning with the new year socially. On Saturday evening the Y. W. C. A. reception was given in the form of a tea party. The Baldwin parlors were prettily decorated and made to look homelike. The cabinet members presided at five tea tables, on which were electroliers or candles, and attractive tea services. While drinking the social cup of tea, the girls were entertained by Victrola music.

For the first meeting in 1916, Miss Cleme Henry gave the Y. W. C. A. girls a New Year Message. There were three impressive things in this address: First, an appeal to accept the friendship of Jesus Christ; second, an appeal to those having already accepted to get into a more intimate friendship with Him, not for the entire year, but for each day as it comes; third, an appeal to be friends in deed and truth with those around you.

The Y. W. C. A. invites every girl in college to join the association and give herself to the work of forwarding the noble purpose of the association.

Heavy Legg was standing on the sidewalk as Professor Gillingham drove up in his Ford, jumped out, and siezing a blanket from the car, began to cover the hood.

Carson-Newman College will send its quintet here with the expectation of taking a game from our five on January 12th, at 8 p.m. Maryville's aggregation won a game from Johnson Bible College Monday. One prediction is sure, a fast and hard fought game may be expected.

M. C. GIRLS FIVE WIN DECISIVE VICTORY OVER KNOXVILLE Y. W. C. A.

Home Team Shows Great Skill Throughout the Game.

Score is 83 - 10

On the evening of December 16th, in Bartlett Hall, the Maryville girls defeated the Knoxville Y. W. C. A. girls' basketball team to the tune of 83 to 10. The game was spectacular, not because it was hotly contested, but because of the wonderful work of Maryville's forwards. Miss Martin scored 25 goals from the field, while Miss Wilson scored 16. This is surely the record for the past few years, and probably will not be equaled for years to come. Great credit is also due Miss Webb for her excellent work at center. The guards had very little opportunity to display their ability, as the ball was seldom in Knoxville's territory, Maryville's scoring was about evenly divided between the two halves, 40 points in the first and 43 in the second. The scoring was monotonously regular, averaging more than a field goal a minute for the entire game. Miss Kehr played best for the Y. W. C. A. The box score follows:

Maryville, 83.		Knoxville, 10.
Martin	forward	Love
Wilson	forward	Kehr
Webb	center	Thompson
Sugg (capt.)	guard	Cain
Enloe,		Eldridge,
Stinnett	guard	Pitillo

Field goals—Miss Martin 25, Miss Wilson 16, Miss Kehr 5.

Foul goals—Miss Martin 1.

Referee—Frater.

Umpire—Miss Goddard.

Timekeeper—E. R. Walker.

Scorer—J. C. Walker.

OLD STUDENTS VISIT MARYVILLE DURING HOLIDAYS

Six M. C. Men at Princeton

The week before holidays and the week following holidays was a kind of home-coming time for old Maryville men.

Just before Christmas, Mark May addressed the student body at chapel. On Tuesday morning of the closing week of the fall term L.E. Bond led the morning worship at chapel and spoke to the students. Mr. Bond, who served the college so well as physical director from 1911 to 1915, is now engaged in the same work at Laurel, Miss.

Like Bond, J. V. Stevens has been visiting friends on High street. He paid his alma mater a visit and led chapel worship.

On January 4th Mr. Frank Lewis Miller led chapel exercises. Mr. Miller is one of six Maryvlle men who are studying at Princeton now. The other five are: Mr. E. H. Seel, Mr. J. K. Stewart, Mr. Harry O. Bush, Mr. D. F. Gaston and Mr. Anize Atiyeh.

On January 4th Mr. Hammon addressed the student body at chapel. The subject of his theme was "Preparedness."

We are glad to say that the friendly relation with Princeton which we have been so fortunate as to have in the past is growing more intimate.

President J. Ross Stevenson, of Princeton Theological Seminary, is a director of Maryville College, and has helped it on every possible occasion. We are glad to know that our own president, Dr. S. T. Wilson, is to preach at Princeton Theological Seminary on April 23, 1916.

MARYVILLE VICTORS OVER KNOXVILLE TIGERS.

Fast and Thrilling Game is Played by Both Teams.

Final Score 31 - 21

It was a lively time when the Highlanders met the Knoxville Y. M. C. A. "Tigers" on the local court Friday night, December 18th, and administered a threshing to the tune of 31 to 21. The defeat of the "Tigers" was due partly to the fact that they were accustomed to a larger court, but more on account of a lack of practice together, and the failure to throw fouls. Maryville's team displayed superior training, but was not at its best. Smith, without doubt, played the best all-round game for the winners, while Garrison starred at foul-throwing. Feeman played an excellent game. Thompson starred for the visiting team. The game was rough from the start and grew no milder as it progressed. In fact, the latter half degenerated into an extreme specimen of indoor football, and foul after foul was called. Four of these were thrown by Maryville, but the "Tigers" threw only two. Only five field goals were thrown in this half, three of them by Maryville. The "Tigers" shifted positions throughout the game.

The line-up:

Maryville.	Position.	Tigers.
Garrison 4	forward	Thompson 5
Feeman	forward	Klein
Crum 3	center	Reeder 1
Smith 2	guard	Rule
Robinson 1	guard	Davis 1

Fouls—Garrison 11, Reeder 6, Davis 1.

MARYVILLE FIVE WINS GAME FROM THE J. B. COLLEGE QUINTET

Rough, Hard Fighting Featured the Game

Score: M. C., 36, J. B. C. 23

On the afternoon of January 10, Maryville's basket-ball tossers had the pleasure of again trouncing the Johnson Bible College team , this time the final count being 36 to 23. At the end of the first half the score stood 19 to 8, but in the second half the play degeneratd into a rough house, the Johnson crew trying to hold the score down by roughing it. They did not succeed in that, but did manage to score a few more points. Feeman and Garrison were the shining lights for Maryvile, while Overton played best for Johnson.

The detailed score follows:

Maryville, 36		Johnson B.C. 23
Feeman	right fiield	Overton
Garrison	left field	Riggs
Crum	center	Beck

Foul goals—Garrison 8, Overton 3

Referee and umpire—Frater and Weller, alternating.

Timer—Ellis.

Scorer—Hodge.

Time of halves—20 minutes.

EDITORIALS

With the new year comes new opportunities, new abilities and, of course, new goals. The characteristic attitude at the beginning of the year is that of a dreamer, a resolute pilgrim setting out on a mission. This would surely be a good attitude to maintain throughout the year.

One aim of ours, as college sudents, should be to glorify our alma mater. Since a college consists not so much in buildings and walks as in the character of its faculty and its student body, the greatest service we may render our college is this: to do conscientious and thorough work as a student and help our fellow students by entering actively into the social life of the college. This means loyalty and service in the literary societies, in the Y. M. C. A., or Y. W. C. A., loyalty to the clubs of our choice, support of all athletic teams and an interest in the student publication that will make us do for it or die.

READ THE BIBLE REGULARLY

Those who have found regular Bible reading difficult because of lack of a definite plan will be greatly helped by the systematic daily readings outlined by Miss Etta Konitzky.

One outline provides for daily readings both morning and evening By following this, the whole Bible is completed in one year;or the morning and evening readings may be used separately, and a two years' course folowed. Psalms and Proverbs and the New Testament are used for the evening readings,while the rest of the Old Testament is outlined for morning readings. Another plan provides for single daily readings in the New Testament only, giving one year to the reading. This plan is commendable for its simplicity and definiteness. The leaflets and cards giving the readings to be followed can be secured by sending a two-cent stamp to Miss Etta Konitzky, Reistertown Road, near Kate avenue, Station E, Baltimore, Maryland.

Orator for War Party—S. E. Wallin.

Hospital Attendant—"Doc" Feeman.

THETA EPSILON ELECTS OFFICERS

Only a short literary program was given in Theta on December 17, the main business of the evening being the election of officers. The society followed a different rule from that heretofore in use. As usual, the nominating committee made out the slate, but several other members made speeches in support of their favorite candidates, adding interest to what is always an important meeting. In one case so much was said to recommend the nominee that ballots were dispensed with and a unanimous vote by acclamation was the result. The officers elected for the winter term are as follows:

President ----------Edna Dawson
Vice-President -------Nellie Wilson
Secretary --------Mary Kate Lewis
Treasurer ----------Helen Adams
Critic ----------Grace Myers
Sergeant-at-Arms ------Maud Hite

PROF. BRITTAIN WILL ADDRESS JR. ATHENIANS

The Junior Athenian society was the first to open the new term's literary society work on College Hill. when it rendered a short program Saturday evening. It was marked by the established "Athenian spirit," which is a combination of enthusiasm and harmony. No less than ten new members have already signified their intention of uniting with this society and a fine term's work is a certainty.

Among the good things promised for this term are: A musical evening by Miss Staater, head of the voice department; addresses by several others of the faculty and special programs to be announced later.

This week, besides the joint meeting, the Junior Section will hold a rousing meeting Saturday evening, Besides a short program, including debate, Prof. Brittain will deliver one of his excellent talks, subject, "When I Was An Athenian in Maryville College."

All new students will be most cordially welcomed.

BAINONIANS GIVE GYPSY PLAY

December the seventeenth was "entertainment" night in Bainonian, the usual program of study being set aside for an original Gypsy play written by Misses Elizabeth Kehr and Marie Townsend.

The first scene of the play was fortune-telling in a Gypsy camp, where Miss Elizabeth Lent as a Gypsy woman told the future of a handsome man of the tribe, Miss Florence Steelman, and also that of the gypsy belle, Miss Doris Wilson.

In the second scene the prophecies came true, when the handsome man wooed and won the belle with a love song, she replying in song. But their happiness was temporarily shadowed by the appearance of a good-looking hunter—Miss Frances Steelman, with whom the gypsy maid fell in love. The hunter, however, did not return her affection and soon departed, followed by the angry and jealous fiancee.

So the third scene showed the belle moping by the camp-fire, grieving over the loss of her lover. The innext appeared and after berating the girl for neglected work, proceeded to beat her. But the maiden was spared the beating by the remorseful lover, who came forward gallantly to rescue and protect her, and the scene closed with their happy reconciliation.

The last scene was that of the wedding, where the couple were married over the camp-fire in true gypsy style by a tribesman—Miss Ethel Burchfield. Immediately after the wedding followed the wedding feast, and finally came the dance, in which all members of the tribe participated.

Besides the characters already mentioned, Irrovia Correy and Marie Townsend played the parts of gypsy women, while Stella Carver was a gypsy man of the tribe.

The play was entertaining throughout, and the scenery and costumes made it especially effective, so that it won the approbation and praise of the college girl expressed typically by the term "cute" and her hearty laughter.

After the play, the officers for the next term were installed and with the new year they will begin their duties in earnest.

WHAT FLORIDA PRODUCES.

Florida is known as the land of fruit and flowers, the land of the sunny south. This is not all, since there are in Maryville some products of Florida which are neither fruit nor flowers, but which reflect the sunshine of the state itself.

There is a club of ten members which met and organized Monday in spite of the "heavy" snowstorm. The following officers were elected:

Mr. S. Story—President.
Miss F. Sheddan—Vice President.
Mr. J. Witherspoon—Sec.-Treas.

With this splendid official body and the co-operation of the members of the club, we expect to be as strong a body as was ever organized on College Hill, and hope to bring honor and glory to our native state.

FRESHMEN HAVE PARTY DURING THE HOLIDAYS

Not all of our class had the pleasure of going home during the holidays, and those of us who remained kept alive the class spirit.

On the night of December 30th we were invited by Miss Carrie Sheddan, a member of our class, to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Murray, where we spent a most enjoyable evening. Various games were played and light refreshments were served.

Nearly all the class is back this term and there are also several new members. We hereby extend to every member wishes for a prosperous year and hope that this term will be a record-breaker for the class of 1919.

FACULTY GIVES RECEPTION IN BARTLETT HALL

Students Enjoy the Afternoon

The faculty gave a reception to old and new students on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Bartlett Hall. About three hundred students attended. The students, after meeting and greeting the faculty, were served with refreshments, after which all enjoyed a lively social chat together.

It is reported that the faculty, after receiving and meeing the students, indulged in a game of snap. Two incidents featured the program. One, Miss Mollie chasing Dr. Wilson, and the other, Miss Jackson trying to catch Professor Johnson.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION HAS BEEN ENLARGED TO INCLUDE ORATORY.

Reading.

For graduation from this department, two years of individual lessons with their required hour of practice each day are necessary. Further requirements for graduation are the same as those in the Department of Expression, except that in addition, two terms of public speaking are required in oratory.

Heretofore, no credit has ever been given in the literary courses for the work done in the Department of Expression. But for the future that, too, is changed. Note this extract from the college records: "Three terms of individual, weekly lessons in Expression or Oratory, with their required hour of practice each day, shall, when completed, receive credit on the college records as equivalent to a one term's regular course of study, and shall be entered on the records as 'public speaking.' Not more than two terms of such credit shall, however, be allowed."

Monthly recitals are given in Voorhees Chapel, thus offering the student an opportunity of doing public work. Opportunities are also given to many students, when their work is adequate, to read for church organization societies, clubs and lodges. Such readings are gladly furnished upon application to the department.

VETERAN DEBATERS HOLD FIRST WAR COUNCIL

Many New Men Enter For Preliminary Tryouts.

Chauncey Conrad and S. E. Wallin Divide 24 Men in Two Squads

Thursday, January 13, the veterans of last year's forensic encounter with a number of aspirants for this year's laurels in the aforesaid field, met in Voorhees chapel for the purpose of getting a little enthusiasm, and deciding in what manner and when the teams should be selected to represent Maryville in the coming Tusculum-Maryville and Carson and Newman-Maryville contests. It was finally decided in order that the number of candidates and the relative strength of the teams be evenly divided, that Wallin and Conrad choose up, Wallin representing the Tusculum-Maryville proposition, and Conrad representing the Carson-Newman Maryville proposition.

The following men were chosen by Wallin:— Quinn, Briggs, Johnson, Campbell, Candler, James, Wilson, Dawson, Witherspoon, Rodgers, Norgan, and Purdy.

By Conrad:—Whalin, Smith, D. Williams, Turner, Cox, Ross, Hayes, Frater, Holmes, Logan, Powell and Caldwell.

Others may be chosen later if they desire to enter the preliminaries.

The preliminaries will be held about the first of March, and the finals will be held about the 1st of May.

The Tusculum- Maryville proposition is: "Resolved, That the eight-hour day should apply to all industrial laborers in the U. S. (excluding salaried employees, clerks and farm hands.)"

The Carson-Newman - Maryville proposition is: "Resolved, That a Federal Board be established to which all labor disputes shall be referred for arbitration"

LAW CLUB VISITED BY JANCER L. TWEED

The Maryville College Law Circuit court met at its regular session Saturday night, Jan. 15. Judge Jancer L. Tweed, of Marshall, N. C., presided.

The case of Cora Jones, (Jim Cook) vs Will Jackson, (Hunter Rogers) was tried and a verdict was rendered by W. J. Carter, foreman of jury, in favor of the plaintiff.

A brief history of the case: John Jones (W. H. Pritchett,) husband of the plaintiff, traded cows with Will Jackson. Cora Jones filed a bill of indictment to replevy her cow. Durand N. Towe, a witness for the defendant, and a laborer of the Jones family, testified that the cow was mutual property of the family.

The lawyers were: For plaintiff, Pat Quinn and Fred R. Whalin. For defendant: C. L. Smith and Glen Lloyd. The case was well argued and the judge was very brief in his charge to the jury.

--At the next meeting members of the club will discuss different phases of law.

JUNIOR ATHENIANS HEAR PROF. BRITTAIN TELL OF THEIR NOBLE PAST

Saturday night, after a few numbers by members, the Junior section of the Athenian Literary society was favored by an intensely interesting talk by Prof. Brittain on the topic, "When I Was an Athenian." Prof. Brittain, in his talk, carried us back to former epochs in the history of our society, and cited many events which were full of the characteristic Athenian spirit. He recalled to us the famous 1909 Mid-Winter which drew an audience of more than one thousand. He spoke at length of the men who were in the society in his day, classifying them according to their outstanding characteristics into three classes, the faithful, the brilliant, and the gay. Among those mentioned were the familiar names of William and Addison Moore, Wiley Rutledge, the Cuesta Brothers, Jim Jewell, Eph Rankin and Astels. He also mentioned men who were Athenians at an earlier date, such as the local physicians, Drs. McCulloch and Gamble, Dr. Mitchell, of George and Mitchell, Principal Ellis, Prof. Bassett, Prof. Gillingham, Charles M. Alexander, the world famous evangelist singer, and President S. T. Wilson, of Maryville College.

Needless to say, those present who were Athenians were made to feel proud of our old society and its glorious past.

COACH KIEFER PICKS AN ALL EAST TENNESSEE ELEVEN

Gives Valuable Information About the Game in East Tennessee

Groups College Teams Into Two Classes

College football in East Tennessee presented a few surprises throughout the season of 1915. Although several of the schools showed up strong, the real struggle for the college championship was a race between Tusculum and Maryville Colleges.

Tusculum played the University of Tennessee early in the season and made a creditable showing. She also showed her strength by defeating the East Tennessee teams that she played. However, Tusculum did not play as heavy a schedule as did Maryville.

Maryville started out in the early part of the season with poor prospects, but ended up, having played seven games, with the record of not having a point scored against her, while she had amassed 245 points on her opponents. Maryville's biggest game was with the University of Chattanooga, which she won by a 13 to 0 score.

King College did not come up to her usual strength, being defeated by both Tusculum and Maryville. King however has some good material and will show strength in the future. Carson - Newman was a sad disappointment. She showed up weak and dropped out of the race for the championship early in the season.

Washington, Cumberland, Tennessee Military Institute and Athens made fairly good records.

The Colleges could be placed in two distinct groups, when classifying them as to strength. In the first group, Maryville and Tusculum. In the second, King, Carson - Newman, Cumberland, Washington, T. M. I., and Athens. Most of the games played by the above teams were played in the state, no long trips being taken. The season has been characterized by the clean football played. As a rule good officials were obtained and the good conduct of the Eighth Grade to be Dropped Next Year.

The Board of Directors of the College holds two meetings a year, the annual meeting, at commencement time, and the semi-annual meeting,in January. The semi-annual meeting was held on last Wednesday, the 12th, with the following members present: Dr. C. A. Duncan, Dr. W. E. Finley, Dr. R. I. Gamon, H. G. Hutchison. M. D., Hon. J. C. Crawford, Rev. J. M. Alexander, Dr. W. R. Dawson, Hon. T. N. Brown, Rev. T. J. Miles, S. O. Houston, Esq., Hon. W. A. Mc Teer, President Wilson and Treasurer Proffitt. Rev. E. A. Elmore, D. D., the president of the Board, has just been on a visit North, and was unable to be present. Dr. Hutchison presided in his absence.

One of the principal matters of interest was the beginning, at least on a small scale, during the coming year, of the proposed Agricultural Department. The Committee on Professors and Teachers was authorized to employ a man who should give part of his time to the teaching of Agriculture. The Committee will offer this work to Coach Kiefer, a graduate in the Agricultural and Horticultural Departments of the Ohio State University, the work to be carried on in connection with the position of Director of Athletics, which has been offered him. It is earnestly hoped that he will accept the position.

The Directors voted thanks to several friends, who have been contributing pledges of stock for the college farm and of money towards a barn and equipment. One lady has pledged $500.00 a year towards the work. Some of our local county farmers and stock raisers have promised to give valuable stock to the College. Much interest is being manifested by the people of the town and county as they hear of this proposed improvement.

The Board adopted a resolution of thanks to Treasurer Proffitt for his work in connection with this department. The resolution is as follows:

That the Board expresses its hearty appreciation and approval of the efforts that Treasurer Proffitt is making toward interesting local and other friends in contributing stock, equipment, and funds for the development of a college farm and of the proposed Agricultural Department; and express also its gratification that the work thus far done on the college lands, in accordance with the authorization of the Board at its meeting last January, has been done in such a way as to defray the ex-

NEWS IN TENNESSEE COLLEGES

Next Sunday, Dr. W. D. Weatherford,, special student secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in the south, will begin a three days' evangelistic campaign at Cumberland Gap.

Sec. S. B. Parker, who is just from Webb school, says that twenty-one Bible classes are conducted in this school. All of these are taught by students, and more than eighty per cent of the 200 boys are enrolled.

Vanderbilt will soon begin to send out deputation teams to do evangelistical and social service work in high schools and in towns. During February and March six high schools will be visited.

Prof. Trawick was at Chattanooga U. for two days last week.

DEATH OF REV. STANLEY D. JEWELL, D. D., AT HIS HOME

A telegram was received Friday announcing the death of Rev. Stanley D. Jewell, D. D., of Fredericktown, Mo., the father of Miss Grace D. Jewell, '13, and Rev. James Porter Jewell, '10, and uncle of Prof. Bassett, '04, Miss Almira Bassett, 09, Miss Almira Jewell, '08, Miss Ruth Jewell '11, and Rev. Stanley H. Jewell '07. Dr. Jewell's wife was Miss Belle Porter, an old student of the college and sister of Rev. James Boyd Porter of the Class of 1877.

Dr. Jewell delivered the address before the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at the Commencement of 1913. He has always been a warm friend of Maryville college and of several students who were directed here by his influence.

He was a Christian statesman and was greatly depended upon in his section of Missouri in the guidance of the work of the church, an able and consecrated minister, whose almost premature death seems a calamity. He was a graduate of Union College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He was sixty-two years old. His death will be heard of with much regret by all who knew his strong and useful personality.

Mrs. Minnie Jewell of Maryville had reached Fredericktown before Dr. Jewell's death took place, and represented the Maryville relatives at the funeral.

NEW SYSTEM IS ADOPTED FOR AWARDING CLASS HONORS

Class Orators to be Chosen on a Different Basis in the Future

Miss Irene George and Frank Cross to be Orators

New System of Senior Honors

The faculty last week adopted certain resolutions changing the system of graduation honors. The details of the plan are as follows:

1—That members of the Senior Class that have been resident students for twelve terms and have an average scholarship of 95 per cent. shall be graduated, Summa cum Laude.

2—That members of the Senior Class that have been resident students for at least nine terms and have an average scholarship of 92½ per cent. shall be graduated, Magna cum Laude.

3—That members of the Senior Class that have been resident students for at least six terms and have an average scholarship of 90 per cent shall be graduated, Cum Laude.

4—That this distinction be indicated on the diploma and published in the commencement program and in the catalog.

5—That two orators be chosen, by the Faculty, one young man and one young woman, both of whom shall be at least Cum Laude graduates.

It is believed that this system of honors, which prevails in many institutions, will have a tendency to encourage students to use their best endeavor throughout their college course in order that a permanent and worthy badge of distinction may be won. Heretofore, the Senior honors have been confined to the appointment of two orators,one chosen from the young men and one from the young women.

The orators for the current year, chosen on the old basis, are Mr. Frank Cross and Miss Irene George.

The rules, 1, 2, 3, and 4, go into effect this year.

MARYVILLE QUINTET EASILY DEFEATS C. N. C. FIVE

Visitors Shoot Only Two Field Baskets

Score 71 - 14

Over a team that would have been easy prey for our second team, the Maryville Highlanders defeated the Carson-Newman five here Wednesday evening, January 12th, with the final score of 71-14. The game can hardly be dignified by the name, but was really a travesty on basketball. A practice game with the scrubs would have been more interesting to the large number who had assembled to see the contest. The editors of the Highland Echo will have to confess that they had no grounds for the prediction made in the last issue, or that they were badly fooled. Carson-Newman threw only two field goals, these being in the second half during the greater part of which Maryville scrubs had the floor. During this period Davis threw six fouls, and since he seemed to have the edge on any of the other C.-N. players, every one wondered why he had not been put into the game sooner. Feeman was easily the star of the game, throwing twelve field goals which number could have been much larger but for his willingness to pass. Raymond Smith is rapidly coming to the front as an A1 player, and his work was really brilliant. The goal-shooting of Crum was also very much in evidence.

The line-up:

Maryville	Position	C. N. C.
Feeman 12
H. Smith	right forward	Fry 1
Garrison 2		McBee
Crum 6
Hodge	Center	Patton
Robinson 2		Greenwell
Clemens	right guard	Henley
R. Smith 7
Ellis	right guard	Taylor

Fouls:—Garrison, 7; Ellis 1; H. Smith,1; Fry 4; Davis 6.

MISS GREY WEBB GIVES SENIOR COUNTRY CLUB A CHAFING DISH PARTY

Miss Gray Webb gave a very delightful informal chafing dish party to the senior country club at her beautiful home on High street last Friday evening. The evening was spent around the dining table in the construction and consumption of the repast interspersed with the elevated and dignified conversation, characteristic of seniors on such good terms and as bountifully fed as on this occasion.

Those present were Misses Alma Adams, Bernice Lowry, Margaret Jones and Edna Foster. Messrs. Fred Whalin, Harwell Park, George Adams and Horace Threlkeld.

The only member absent was D. W. Proffitt, who had a previous engagement with the chicken pox.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATING CONTEST

Preliminary negotiations in the debating field have been varied and, while the final results are not just what was anticipated, they are such as to furnish a pleasant prospect for all debaters, old and new, on the Hill.

The triple entente, consisting of Tusculum, Carson-Newman,and Maryville is a thing of the past, but in its place there have come into existence two dual alliances, one consisting of Tusculum and Maryville; the other of Carson-Newman and Maryville. Two much space and time would be required to give in detail the history of the breaking up of the triangular debating league. The explanation, in short, is in the fact that a slight change in ruling caused a considerable difference in opinion, with the result which everyone knows While we sincerely regret, of course, the passing of the triangular league, we are happy to see arise from its ashes the Phoenix of the dual leagues. In terms like those of the French Revolutionists we can cry: "The triangular league is dead, long live the dual alliances!"

So, although for a while it looked as if debating were going to perish from off the face of the Hill, that catastrophe, fortunately, did not occur. A crisis is safely past, and it is for al of us to do everything we can for the cause. There has been good response to the call for men for the preliminaries, and matters are progressing in a promising way, but it is all-important that debating receive the hearty support not only of those who can debate, but of the entire student body. Let all the men who have any debating ability at all turn out for the trials, but let us not rest matters there. Let every Maryville student who has the interests of the College at heart show it by standing back of the debaters as loyally and consistently as the students supported the victorious football team of last fall. Those who can not debate can talk about debating, can help keep up a lively interest in the subject. They can show those who do debate that the student body feels strongly in sympathy with the teams that represent Maryville. That is the kind of spirit we want; that is the kind there is in Maryville; all we need to do is to stir it up and keep it very much alive.

There are able debaters for the teams, and they are going to fight to a finish to win the laurels from worthy opponents. There is fine spirit in the student body;let it be shown in a whole-hearted backing of the men who are giving their time and energy in order to bring credit to their college

ESSAYS ON COLLEGIATE LIFE

Too often college students are too busy to think. The daily routine of preparing lessons and taking exercise occupies all of their time and no chance is given for practical thought—applied thought, independent of books.

We, the editors of the Highland Ech, in order to give a field for some practical, constructive thinking and also in order to deepen the interest of the students in college life, wish to offer a chance to the student body for such thinking.

We offer space in the editorial columns of the Highland Echo for any articles written by students on subjects concerning student life in college. Subjects such as "Student Government," "Athletics Supported by an Entrance Fee," "The Point System of Dividing College Honors," "Military Drill," are some of the many subjects that are of interest to all wide awake college students.

These articles should not be over seven hundred words in length, and must be handed to the editor or be placed in the Highland Echo news box in Anderson Hall.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mr. Frank Cody, who for the past week has been in the hospital, because of an injured foot, is now able to be aboutwith the use of crutches.

Miss Helen Lewis has entirely recovered the use of her knee, which was injured during a game of snap.

Those in the hospital during the past week because of la grippe, and are now convalescing are:

Mr. Jules Gratiot, Mr. William Jones, Miss Gladys Graham, Mr. Robert Adams, Mr. Allen Avery.

Those in the hospital at present with la grippe are:

Mr. Ernest Chandler, Miss Esther Randolph.

Mr. David Proffitt and Mr. Harvel Park are enjoying (?) a brief stay in the hospital.

Mr. Proffiitt says he never had a whole chicken (chicken pox) for Sunday dinner before.

Y. W. C. A.

The attendance at the regular Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon was good in spite of the "sleepy" day. Miss Jean Porter led the service, her topic being " The Open Window." The fact most emphasized was that the windows out of which we look upon the world, should be wide open, both from the top and the bottom. The sunlight of our ideals is seen clearly from these windows but the leader warned us not to overlook the little things that lead to those ideals and on he other hand, not to look constantly at the ground, although it is bright in some places it is sometimes gloomy. We know that every task accomplished makes a bigger, harder task easier, so if we do the things which appear in our window views, the hazy, indistinct things in the distance will appear clearer instead of vanishing.

The Y. W. C. A., as well as other departments, will miss an efficient worker when Miss Porter leaves for Oberlin, Ohio, where she will continue her school work.

The year 1915 has been a good year for the Y. W. C. A. members, the number enrolled—an even hundred. It has also been one of the most successful years financially.

Y. M. C. A. FAVORED BY VISIT OF SOUTH KNOXVILLE MALE QUARTET

The Y.M.C.A. was led Sunday by the Mission Study Committee. The three classes offered for study by the Y. M. C. A. this term are: "The New Era in Asia;" "The Unfinished Task," taught by Prof. D. J. Brittain; and "Medical Missions," to be taught by Prof. F. M. McClenahan.

Messrs. Weisbecker, Fisher and Steelman gave a brief review of the three courses at the Y. M. C. A. devotional meeting Sunday afternoon.

It was the good fortune of the Y. M. C. A. to have with it in this meeting the South Knoxville male quartet consisting of the folowing men:

King, first tenor; Carson, second tenor; King, first bass, and Smith second bass. Two selections were well rendered by the visiting quartet.

All those interested in Y. M. C. A. work were much pleased to see so large a number out at the devotional meeting Sunday.

BAINONIAN

Friday night the B. L. S. entertained the new girls of the winter term in Bainonian hall. Most of the evening was spent informally with contests and games, but there was also a short program consisting of a reading by Miss Elsie Tipton and a vocal solo by Miss Helen Bryan. Needless to say, both numbers were much enjoyed and heartily encored. During the evening Misses Margaret Sugg and Lena Pardue each rendered several piano solos.

One of the most interesting features of the entertainment was the "Special Bainonian Weekly" which, being edited by all present, was a fount of information as to affairs, serious and otherwise, here on the hill.

While the paper was being printed refreshments were served, and after the distribution of the copy, the staff went home.

ALUMNI NOTES

Miss Williamette Bays, '12, is a teacher in California.

Miss Lucile Cawood, '12, has finished her Domestic Science Course at Simmons College, Boston, and is now teaching Domestic Science in Knox county, Tenn.

It is of interest to Alumni as well as students to know that in the choice of wives, Dr. Wilson, Prof. Gillingham, Principal Ellis, Prof. Brittain, and Treasurer Proffitt selected their help-mates from among Maryville students.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

praises of the work done

The Board also adopted the following resolution:

That the Board record this expression of its gratitude that Misses Henry and Gillingham, while traveling on their mission, in behalf of the College, escaped without very serious injury from the railroad accident in which others lost their lives; and that it express again its hearty appreciation of the extraordinary service being rendered the College by Miss Henry in her unending campaigns of addresses and correspondence.

The action that provided for the dropping of the Eighth Grade next year is as follows:

That the Eighth Grade be dropped at the close of the current year, in acordance with the established policy of the College to drop off the lowest preparatory classes as the improvement of the public school system may make it possible so to do without injury to our constituency.

Appropriate action was taken preparatory to the launching of the great effort to raise the Centennial Forward Fund for 1919.

Several of the directors accompanied the treasurer in a walk over the fields that are to be devoted to the Agricultural Department and the college farm, and were enthusiastic regarding the possibilities of the department.

The Directors were pleased to know that the attendance was the largest that has ever been gathered at the College, and that the esprit de corps of the student body seems so wholesome and worthy.

teams on the field has gone a long way in producing a better class of football in this section.

One other team has been playing with this group of schools, but is just in Virginia, and so has not been considered. This is Emory and Henry College. She was represented the past year by a strong team and if she had been considered, would have been placed at the head of the second group.

In picking the champions, we have two teams that rank about equal. Maryville played seven games, won 6; tied 1; lost 0,and was not scored on. Tusculum played five games, won 3; tied 1; lost 1. Tusculum played Maryville with the result of a 0 to 0 score. This gives both teams a claim to the championship, but when records are taken into consideration Maryville has the edge, and has been generally conceded the champion. Efforts were made to have this tie played off, but owing to the difficulty of arranging a time for such a game the tie still stands.

When it comes to selecting a mythical All East Tennessee team, it is a very difficult matter to get material from the second group of teams,since few men stood out prominently. However, taking everything into consideration, East Tennessee produced some creditable players. The men who make up the selection below are those who have been chosen because they can fill their positions in any possible emergency and not because they played on the best teams in the section.

Literary Society," he compared the organization to a tree, and showed that the essentials of both are identical. "A tree," he said, "must, first of all, be well-rooted to stand thru all the testing storms. This literary society must be well-rooted in fertile soil of righteousness and principle to stand.Like a tree, the Alpha Sigma Literary Society should keep pointing up towards heaven and the eternal things. Again, like a tree, your literary society should branch out. It must be interested not only in literary activities,but also in the athletic, religious and social departments of the College. Your society should, like a tree,put on new leaves and a green coat each year. Do new things, or old things in a new way.

Finally, your society must be useful. The world discards useless things.

The speaker closed by praising the illustrious founder of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society, Dr. John Grant Newman, and other great men produced by the society.

The evening was interspersed with good humor, splendid music, and good readings. The Alpha Sigma quartet, Sisk, Armstrong, Turner, Walker, rendered a humorous selection entitled "Whoa, Mule."

Mr. Robert Adams' piano selections were enjoyed by all. Ralph A. Young gave a reading "Bernardo del Carpio," which was enjoyed. Pat Quinn did not know how he was going to get across when he started but he came back across famously, making a big hit in his talk on "Looking Backward."

"Shorty" Wallin spoke on "Looking Forward." He wore a pair of dark mysterious "goggles," which seemed to frighten the audience at first, but it became accustomed to them.

F. F. Cody read a splendid paper, on "Alpha Sigma Advance," which was very humorous and instructive. Some of the remarkable remarks were:

"The Athenians want to know what we will do with the 'Alfalfa Hay' "

"Shorty Wallin says we will feed it to the 'horse' that we pu t on the Athenians in the Midwinter entertainment."

ATHENIANS SENIOR HAVE PROMISING TERM'S OPENING

Judging from the opening program the Athenian is going to have a more wide-awake term than ever before. In his opening address the president said that as the college expects each term to be its best, so the Athenian expects each new term to be its greatest both in numbers and in quality. Mr. Howard gave a discussion of "Ford's Peace Ark." Mr. Middleton rendered a violin solo that was greatly enjoyed by the society.

Mr. Post's Athenian revealed a new genius on the hill, a Strickland Gilllilan, if you please. The program closed with music by Mr. Rankin. His first solo, " On the Road to Mandalay," was so loudly applauded that he sang as an encore "Out on the Deep." These and other numbers made the joint meeting a great success.

TAILORINC COURSE ADDED TO HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Greatly Increased Enrollment In This Department

Twenty-Six Taking Tailoring

The Home Economics Department of the College has rapidly increased in enrollment. This term there is an enrollment of eighty-two against an enrollment of sixty-seven in the winter term last year. The enrollment is as follows: first year, fifty members; second year, twenty-six members; third year, six members.

An attractive feature of the work of this department is tailoring,taught by Mr. B. I. Lewis, of Knoxville. The department is very fortunate in being able to secure again, this year, the service of Mr. Lewis. There is also a marked growth in this line of work. The enrollment this year is twenty-six, against an enrollment of eleven members last year. Those enrolled in this department are Miss Helen Ryland, head of the Home Economics Department; Miss Mae Smith,teacher of Home Economics; Miss Caldwell, Dean of Women; Miss Hale,head of Music Department; Miss Green , Professor of Biology; Mrs.Snodgrass, Librarian; Mrs. Walker, teacher of Expression; and the following students: Misses Brothers, Burchfield, Lula Creswell, Gallion, Garrison, Gibbons, Margaret Jones, Lent, Jennie Rogers, Loma Rogers, Vola Runyan, Scarborough, Stevens, Trent, Wells, Olive Wilson, Mr. Melvin Lawson, and Mesdames W. S. Davis and E. Spencer of town.

M. C. BREAKS ITS PAST RECORD FOR WINTER TERM ENROLLMENT

Number Passed 700 Mark This Term and Total Year's Enrollment Will Exceed 800

For the first time in any one term of any year throughout the ninety-five years of useful service that Maryville College has given to the cause of Christian education, the enrollment has passed the 700 mark. The total enrollment for a full year has, to be sure, been much larger, having reached during 1914-1915 a total of 771. With more than 700 in one term, however, there is every reason to believe that the roster for the year will contain the names of 800 students.

On the thirteenth day of the winter term six years ago, 500 students had enrolled, and on that day this term 712 have enrolled. This growth is the more remarkable when we remember that Maryville has been raising her standards and abolishing grade work.

This record for a term's enrollment, climbing from 500 to 712 in six years, naturally brings the question, what has been the total year's enrollment during the past few years. Briefly stated, the enrollments are the following: for 1900-01, 389; for 1909-10, 609; for 1914-15, 771; and for 1915-16, as stated before, there will be probably over 800 enrolled.

Prof. Myers—Mr. Brown, how would you characterize Anglo-Saxon words?

Brown—They are common, every-day words used around the house.

Pleasants: "I want my hair cut, please."

Pleasants: "Yes, off."

PROF. JOHNSON ADDRESSES JUNIOR ALPHA SIGMAS

Professor W. L. Johnson addressed the Junior Section of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society Saturday night, January 22nd. Taking for his subject, "Is Literary Work Worth While?", the speaker showed that sucess in life depends on two things: first, one must have a mastery of his life work; again, one must have a strong personality. He showed that literary work will help a student to develop both things. "Literary work", he said, "will make you think, and thinking will help you to master your subject. Personality counts in every walk of life , and literary work will help you develop personality. In the first place, it will develop self-control, which is absolutely necessary. Again, it will develop confidence. The last thing that literary work develops, the speaker said, was persuasiveness. He said it is necessary in one's life work, and also in "moonshining", otherwise known as courtship. Some members of the society are anxious to know why the Professor does not show the results of his persuasiveness.

The Society installed its new officers, which are as follows:

E. F. Cody, President.
John Hite, Vice Pres.
Joel S. Georges, Rec. Secretary.
Homer Weisbecker, Program Sec.
Seargent at Arms, Herbert Enloe.
Censors, R. A. Young, Chas. Simmons Gibson.
Janitor, Sam McLeary.

Two new members were received into the Society, with promises of more coming. Bring them on!

"FAULTS AND IDEALS" IS SUBJECT Y. W. C. A. PROGRAM

Miss Mary Miles Led the Discussion.

It was such a beautiful day this Sunday that Y. W. was unusually well attended. Miss Edna Byrum favored us with a solo, "His Name is Jesus." Miss May Miles led the service, the topic being "Faults and Ideals." There are many faults such as conspicuous lack of moral earnestness, insincerity of speech, maligning, lack of reverence at religious services, lack of respect for the aged, carelessness of one's good name, disregard of health.

During the service we learned that the essential elements of true womanhood are gentleness, purity and faithfulness. It it faithfulness not only in the big things but also in the little things that make for good character. We must have high ideals, "hitch our wagon to a star," so to speak.

We must strive to be more Christ-like. "The King's daughter is all glorious within, and her clothing is of wrought gold."

It is only through the divine grace of God that our high ideals may be realized.

The meeting was one of deep thought and interest, demanding the best in each of us. Y. W. is always so interesting.

Come and help make it more interesting for yourself.

I. P. A. MEMBERS HOLD FIRST MEETING IN BAINONIAN HALL

Purposes of the Association are Outlined

Secretary, Treasurer and Editor are Elected.

Last Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock the Local Prohibition League met in the Bainonian Hall and an interesting program was enjoyed by some twenty members. Miss Erma Russell presided and opened the program with a very instructive address on "Why College Students Should Be Interested in Prohibition." Miss Maude Hite rendered a selection at the piano, after which Andrew Richards explained the "Extent and Peculiar Advantages of the I. P. A. Oratorical Contests". Fred R. Whalin then spoke on "The Efficiency of an Organization" and his remarks were well put. He encouraged the members to more determined effort by showing that the efficiency of an organization resolved itself into the efficiency of each individual member. The business of the evening consisted in the adoption of a constitution, the election of Horace Dawson as Secretary and Treasurer, and the appointment of J. Edward Kidder editor.

To those who are contemplating joining the Local League and entering its contest, the regulations for the same can be had by applying to any of the above mentioned persons. To those who have not given the matter a thought the following reasons should convince you of the advantages of these contests.

1. It deals with a controverted and intensely live public issue, one on which people are universally thinking and feeling. Such an issue and such an occasion have always been the source of the greatest oratory.

2. It develops patriotism where needed—in dealing with internal social conflicts. The fight instinct, the war spirit is not suppresed by abstract calls for peace, but its "moral equivalent" is found in the conflict with strongly organized and vicious political forces.

3. It offers the fairest possible competition, a uniform general topic with variations to suit personal convictions.

4. It is intensely practical—a civic issue with an every day universal meaning.

5. Student orators use the material and orations thus prepared in public addresses, anti-liquor campaigns, debates, lectures, and sermons for years following the contests entered.

6. The contests are alike open to men and women, and cash prizes of from $15 to $150 are offered.

It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this fine opportunity to show their ability in dealing with this live subject.

CUMBERLAD COLLEGE FIVE COMING TO PAY HIGHLANDERS A VISIT

On Wednesday, January 26th, at 8:15 p. m., Maryville will play Cumberland College from Williamsburg, Ky. This team played Maryville to a standstill last season. Maryville was able to win only one in the last minute of play. U. of T. defeated this team last Saturday by roughing out a victory. The Cumberland boys exhibited superior passing and team work from start to finish.

Everybody come out and see a real game of basketball between Maryville's first team and the fast aggregation from Kentucky.

THREE MISSION STUDY COURSES OFFERED BY Y. M. C. A.

The mission study campaign has had a good beginning by enrolling 53 students who think as the Y. M. C.A. think,—that is, that no man can consider himself well read who has not some knowledge of the conditions now existing in the foreign countries They are also grasping the chance to come to a fuller appreciation of the extent of the missionary enterprise and the significance of the work being done by men and women who have given their lives unselfishly to this great work of the church.

Every Sabbath morning, at eight o'clock classes meet to study the following subjects:

1. The New Era in Asia, or the opening up of opportunities for christian civilization in Asia. This class will meet in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room. Dr. Barnes, who leads this class, makes his classes exceedingly interesting by bringing current events into the field.

2. The Medical Mission Class, led by Prof. McClennahan, meets in the Y. M. C. A. reading room. This is one of the most interesting courses, for in it one learns of the ways in which the superstitious natives of foreign lands treat diseases.

3. The Unfinished Task, led by Prof. Brittain, meets in the Alpha Sigma hall. This course shows the extent of the mission work and what is still left undone. It is one of the

M. C. GIRLS ADD C. N. C. TO LIST OF THE VANQUISHED

Fast Game Results in a Score of 44-16

At Carson-Newman on Monday night, the Maryville girls added another C.-N. scalp to the string, when they won a hard fought, fast game, 44 to 16. The game was exciting, and at times, seemed as if it might become rough. From the time the first whistle blew, there was action, and lots of it. As usual, the M. C. forwards both played star basketball, and Miss Webb at center deserves special mention for her playing. The guards, too, played well. For C.-N. Miss Baskett and Miss Catlett were best:

M. C. Girls, 44	C.-N. Girls, 16
Miss Martin	f. Miss Catlett
Miss Wilson	f. Miss Schuelson
Miss Webb	c. Miss Baskett
Miss Sugg (c)	g. Miss McDonald
Miss Enloe-Stinnett	g. Miss Paugle

Field goals: Miss Martin 9, Miss Wilson 12, Miss Catlett 3, Miss Schuelson 4.

Foul goals: Miss Martin 1, Miss Wilson 1, Miss Schuelson 2.

VARSITY FIVE PROVE TOO MUCH FOR THE MUTE QUINTET

Visitors Put Up Spirited Game Although Decidedly Outclassed.

SCORE 54-11

Wednesday evening, Jan. 17th, Maryville added another victory to her unspotted record by defeating the team from the Tennessee State Deaf and Dumb School by the score of 54 to 11. The game was much livelier than the score would indicate for the Mutes never gave up but stuck to their opponents tenaciously throughout the whole game. All their points were made in the first half, while Maryville divided her scores almost evenly. All of the latter's points were made in the first goals. The work of the Mute center was very noticeable,but when it came to shooting baskets Crum was the whole show. Feeman made twenty points, Crum following closely with eighteen. For the Mutes Duncan starred in his position of right forward. A large crowd witnessed the game.

The line-up was as follows:

Maryville	Position	Mutes
Feeman, 10	right forward	Duncan 3
Garrison, 5.
Lloyd	left forward	Bright
Crum, 9	center	Blevins, 1
Robinson
Ellis	left guard	Bradshaw
Smith	fight guard	Mankins

Fouls: Bradshaw 2, Duncan 1; Referee, Chambers; Umpire, Frater; Timekeeper, Walker.

B. B. RESERVES SHOW GREAT FORM AGAINST KNOXVILLE HIGH INDEPENDENTS

Lightning Flashes Shown In Passing

Saturday night saw the dawning of another constellation of stars in the already well filled solar system of Maryville basketball, when the Maryville Reserves, better known as the "scrubs," clashed with a strong team of Knoxville players. For the first few minutes, things looked bad, but after giving the Knoxville lads a lead of seven points just to encourage them, our boys turned loose some excellent pass work, slowly overcoming the lead. Just before the end of the first half, the Junior Highlanders went into the lead, and when the half ended the score stood 21 to 18 the right way. During the second half, excellent team work and accurate shooting enabled Maryville to "put the pill in the bucket" enough times to count fifty-two when Referee Smith's whistle put an end to the contest.

Captain Ellis and Clemens were the shining lights for Maryville, and Boyd and Ellenburg were the best for Knoxville. The box score follows:

Maryville 52	Pos.	Independents 34
H. Smith	Lloyd	r. f. Boyd
Witherspoon-Davidson	l. f.	Garrett
Hodge-Hernandez	c.	Ellenburg
Clemens-Steelman	r. g.	Ware
Ellis-Flannery	l. f.	Payne-Sharp

Field goals: Witherspoon 4, Lloyd 3, Hodge 2, Hernandez 3, Clemens 7, Ellis 6, Boyd 6, Garrett 3, Ellenburg 4, Ware 1.

Foul goals: Lloyd 2, Garrett 5, Boyd 1.

Referee, R. Smith;Umpire, Parker; Timer, Proffitt; Scorer, Walker.

OUR DEBATERS

After reading the article in this issue on the increased enrollment of Maryville College we certainly feel that we are attending an institution that is very much alive. Just think since this century began sixteen years ago the enrollment has more than doubled.

We are glad to see the immediate action and organized efforts that the men, who are trying out for the intercollegiate debating teams, are showing. This is the stuff that wins. Can't we who are not trying for the teams promise a support equal to or greater than that which has been given to our victorious athletic teams?

We will all agree that the interlectual is the primary training and the physical secondary in our four years work at College. Then to be consistent must we not say that our literary contests with other colleges be considered paramount?

One unfavorable criticism of college student publications is that ninety-five per cent of the space is given to athletics and five per cent to the literary life of the colege. Can we say as truly that ninety-five per cent of our pep goes to athletic contests, leaving only five per cent for literary contests?

THE WAR AND COLLEGE STUDENTS

Those who have an interest in the Great War would profit by reading an article in the Literatry Digest for Jan. 22, 1916, page 177.

This article is an account of examinations in Bowdoin, Williams and N. Y. University, relative to the war and the warring countries. Besides showing the ignorance of the average college student concerning the Great War, it reveals the collegiate ignorance of primary European geographical and historical facts.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Those in the hospital during the past week are: Miss Ruth McCall, Miss Eva Ritchie, Miss Lucile Middleton, Mr. G. A. Fogleman, Mr. R. B. Guess, Mr. Harold Kirkgard, Mr. Harold Coles, Miss Katherine Mullineaux, Miss May Smith, Miss Nora Phillips, Miss Neva Ebehardt, Mr. Harwell Park, Mr. David Proffitt.

Miss Mullineaux has a sprained ankle and will probably remain in the hospital for several days.

Mr. Proffitt and Mr. Park willl spend another week in the hospital.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. devotional service was led last Sunday by Vernon C. Lancing, who chose as his subject "The Marks of Manhood." Speaking from the text found in Gal. 6:16, "I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus," Mr. Lancing pointed out that while all want to play the part of men,all are not willing to pay the price or to undergo the discipline necessary to be a man. In considering the marks of Jesus which ought to be branded on our characters, he dwelt on purity, temperance, truth, pleasantness and abiding work.

The service next Sunday afternoon will be led by J. G. Purdy, and a special feature will be made of the singing. The song books to be used during the February meetings will be used.

Last Sunday afternoon the Social Service Committee started a series of meetings to be held for the prisoners in the Maryville jail. Ralph A. Young spoke to the men on the topic "The Wages of Sin is Death," and it was evident to all that he knew whereof he spoke and that this was not his first visit behind the bars. The eight state prisoners who attended the service seemed to be greatly blessed and earnestly urged us to come back.

The mission study class has now started work in earnest and everything points to this being a record-breaking year for mission study.

The prayer meeting this week will be led by the Y. M. C. A The general topic, "Growth," will be discussed by Frank Cross, Blaine Crum, Haskew Turner and Homer B. Frater.

Special attention will be given to the musical side of the program.

EXCHANGES

On account of the frequency and brevity of the Highland Echo's publication, it is not possible to have our exchange review in every issue. However, we carefully examine every Magazine we receive from other colleges, and wish to keep up the exchange department as we have in the past.

The "Isaqueena" is perhaps the best magazine that we have seen this year. It is published at the Greenville Woman's College, at Greenville, S. C.

The Davidson College Magazine and the U. of N. C. Magazine, rank next in the scale of merit. Both are large publications with every department interesting.

The Daleville Leader deserves our mention because of its noticeable system and regularity. No matter what may befall other exchanges, we always know that this magazine will reach our exchange table.

We acknowledge the receipt of the following college magazines: The Oracle, of Cleveland, Tenn.; The Vista, of Greenville, Ill.; The Journal, of Clarksville, Tenn.; The Carson-Newman Collegian Jefferson City, Tenn.; The Topic, Jeffersonville,Ind.; The Pred, Anniston, Ala.; The Column, West Tennessee State Normal, Memphis, Tenn.; The Pharos, Aurora, Ill.; The Elevator, Bowling Green, Ky.; The Blue and Gold, Johnson City, Tenn.; The Gold and Blue, Athens, Tenn.

We regret that space does not permit a thorough review of all the above publications, but we shall endeavor always to vary our reviews of the different exchanges.

PAST GAMES

Truly this has been a glorious year in the history of Maryville athletics. In addition to a football team that was not scored on, we have up to the present two basketball teams that have not been beaten. Our Varsity has won all its games with large scores to its credit. The girls' Varsity has had even greater success. Its total number of points is 119 as against 16 for its opponents. The following is a record of the games played.

Maryville, 72, Johnson Bible College 30, at Maryville.

Maryville 31, Knoxville Y. M. C. A. 21, at Maryville.

Maryville 36, Johnson Bible College 23, at Kimberlin Heights.

Maryville 71, Carson-Newman 14, at Maryville.

Maryville 54, Deaf and Dumb School 11, at Maryville.

FUTURE GAMES

Monday night our girls' Varsity plays at Carson-Newman, and there is no doubt that the feminine Highlanders will return victorious.

In her two forwards the Maryville girls' team has two players that would be hard to beat in any locality, Miss Martin and Miss Wilson.

Our Varsity boys play Cumberland Unlversity of Kentucky tonight and it will perhaps be the best game of the season on the local court..No one will wish to miss it. Next Friday morning the team leaves for a week's trip through North Carolina, expecting to arrive in Maryville at 3:45 Saturday afternoon. The following excellent schedule has been made out:

Friday, January 28, Carson-Newman College.

Saturday, Jan. 29, Asheville Y. M. C. A.

Monday, Jan. 31, Statesville Y. M. C. A.

Tuesday, Feb. 1, Wake Forest.

Thursday, Feb. 3, University of North Carolina.

Friday, Feb. 4, Greensboro Y. M. C. A.

In addition to these games the date of Feb. 2 will also probably be filled. For home games two games with Tusculum will be scheduled, one on the local court, and the prospects of a game with Florida State are also good. In this event Stanley, our former coach, will probably accompany the team. Later in the month the team will make a trip to Kentucky, and there will play Cumberland at Williamsburg, and Kentucky State at Lexington, on the 25th and 26th. The girls will play Washington College here on February 3rd.

ATHENIANS JUNIOR

The weekly meeting of the Junior Section of the Athenian Literary Society last Saturday evening was indeed a great succes. There was an unusually large audience and a well rendered program which was both instructive and entertaining. Mr. Leslie Jones gave a discussion entitled, "Presidential Possibilities," in which he mentioned Andy Richards as a very popular "possibility" in the race for the presidency of the Alpha Sigma society.

Mr. Bell gave a hair-raising "spook" story. His number was followed by a fine debate on the question: "Resolved, That Militarism and Not Commercialism Caused the Present War."

Mr. Huber's vocal solo was enjoyed by all, as was also "The Athenian" by Ramon McGinley.

Six new men were sworn in and new names were received.

Next Saturday night, Jan. 29th, Miss Zanna Staater, head of the vocal music department of Maryville College, will favor our society with

FOURTH PREPS

The Fourth Preparatory class finds itself back at work, and as we realize that only two more terms remain before our preparatory course comes to a close, we are planning to make them the best of our four years.

We hope that all of our members will stay together and start in the next year with as much animation as we are manifesting this year.

Zollie Howard is, proving himself very capable of holding the office of president of the class.

Kenneth Martin, well known on the Hill, is our vice-president.

Our secretary and treasurer, Sandy Marshall, is helping the class very much in his line of work.

Kathleen Porter is our editor.

The "Annual" committee is already at work and it hopes to represent the class well in the "Chilhowean."

FIRST PREPS

We didn't come here to be inconspicuous. We realize that we are very far behind, but it takes "first preps" to make seniors, and seven years from now, we hope to have the same "V" over our door that is now to be seen over the door of Mr. Cross in Anderson hall. We are living, and will continue to live up to our watch word—"Sail On."

Thursday, Jan. 3. a meeting was called for the purpose of mobilizing our forces, and electing officers to fill the vacancies that ocurred during the holidays. We found by a close count that we are "last but not least." It seems that we have always had this honor, but our majority has been greatly increased since the holidays.

The following officers were chosen:
Elmer W. Graves, President.
Edgar H. Sawyer, Editor.

HIGHLAND GLANCES

One of Maryville's extraordinary events is the annual snow fall. It came last week. We are glad to report that there are no broken arms or legs, fractured ribs, or smashed noses, as a result of the coasting and skating. Remarkable! Did you see how gracefully some landed—down the corduroy?

BAINONIANS GIVE ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT

Ancient Grecian Life is Reproduced In An Effective Manner

An Enjoyable Evening For All Who Attended

The Bainonian Literary Society gave its annual midwinter entertainment Friday evening with great success. The chapel was well filled and everyone enjoyed immensely a Greek program well rendered.

With the platform representing a Grecian home, walled off by light blue curtains set off with several appropriate pieces of Greek furniture,Miss Green, dressed in a beautiful Grecian costume, began the program with a zither solo.

Next Miss Lois Wilson gave an exceedingly well written and delivered oration, telling of the ancient Greeks.

Miss Helen Bryan sang a beautiful Grecian folk song with her usual ability. After this Miss Nellie Wilson read "Perdita," the story of the Greek maiden who, at her own request, was turned into a marble statue to escape the caresses of her unloved lover.

A scene from the life of Sappho, founder of a school of poetry on the island of Lesbos,was one of the main features of the entertainment. Each player was well suited to her part and did exceptionally well.

Next was a garden scene in front of the temple, and twenty-four girls dressed in the society colors beautifully rendered a chorus from Antigone. The garden was set off by lattice work intertwined with ivy.

A folk dance of undescribable grace and beauty closed the program for the evening.

The excellent work of the midwinter committee was evident in every detail of the entertainment and the participants whom they so skillfully selected certainly did not disappoint them.

LAW CLUB HOLDS ITS BI-WEEKLY MEETING

Points of Law are Discussed

The program of the Maryville College Law Club Saturday night, Jan. 29, was one of much interest. Different phases of law were discussed by five of its members.

Jason B. Deyton was the first speaker of the evening. His subject, "Exposition of Crime," was introduced with a history of criminal law. He told of the three phases of it, which were felony, treason and misdemeanor.

"Habeas Corpus" was the subject of J. H. Turner's theme. He said that "Habeas Corpus" originated in the year 1216, during the reign of King John, and in the Magna Charta.

Ray Quinn spoke on "Dower." He defined it thus: "It is that portion of the lands or tenements of a man which his widow enjoys during her life, after the death of her husband." The amount of dower, he said, varies acording to the laws of the different states. Some states allow the widow in her dower one-third and others one-half of the real estate of the husband's estate.

"Torts and Contracts" was well discussed by Jesse B. Ross. He defined and showed wherein torts differ from contracts. "Torts," he said, is a legal wrong committed outside of a contracted relation or infraction of some duty wherein damages occur." "A contract," he said, "is an agreement between two or more persons based upon sufficient consideration, to do or not to do some particular thing."

E. K. James talked on the "Immunities From Execution." He mentioned a phase of the homestead law in Florida and Tennessee. He spoke chiefly on the homestead law.

Y. M. C. A.

After the special song service of the Y. M. C. A. devotional meeting Sunday afternoon, Mr. J. G. Purdy spoke on "The Development of a Life af Service," using Romans 12 for the Scripture reading. His talk was good and enjoyed by all the fellows out.

Prof. Brittain will lead the service next Sunday afternoon. If you do not hear Professor you know you are missing a fine thing. What say you, fellows? Say we go.

Dr. Wilson talked to the personal workers for a few minutes after the Y. M. C. A. meeting. His talk was the beginning of a series of prayer services to be held in the auditorium each evening from 6 to 6:30. Some member of the faculty will speak and special prayer for the meetings will be made.

REV. WILLIAM BARTLETT WILL CONDUCT FEB. MEETING

Rev. Mr. Bartlett an M. C. Man Of Class Of '01

Meetings To Begin February 7.

The February Meetings have become as much a part of the curriculum as any branch of study. Since its founding these Meetings have been a big part in the college life of Maryville.

They are always conducted by men of quiet, sane methods. And by these same methods the meetings of the past four years have been nothing short of wonderful. In 1912 Rev. Mr. Bartlett conducted them and every College student was converted, in '13 Rev. Joseph Broady had charge of them and almost the entire student body was brought to Christ, in '14 Dr. Mahy and Dr. Chocran held a splendid series and in '15 Dr. Elmore gave us a series of sermons that turned many lives to Christ and brought every one in the college nearer to God. This year will be no exception.

Rev. William Bartlett, son of the late President Bartlett, will have charge of them. He is well known to most Maryville students, having been connected with the college since his birth, in fact having been born on the campus. He graduated with the class of '01. But to most people here and thousands thru out the south where for a number of years he played in the Southern League, he is known as "Bill" Bartlett. He has preached many sermons to the grand stands on Sunday. He knows young people, is thoroughly sympathetic and loves them all, being one himself.

It is not the policy of the College to excite any one in these meetings but simply to get each one to face his or her duty to God. The students have always appreciated this and have given every possible assistance to aid in their success.

Dr. Wilson will open them Sunday night and Mr. Bartlett will arrive in time for the meetings Monday.

ARTHUR S. KIEFER ACCEPTS POSITION AS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Will Also Instruct In Agriculture Department

Mr. Kiefer Now A Teacher In Penn. State College

This week a letter came from Arthur S. Kiefer, who is now an instructor in the Agricultural Department of Penn. State College, saying that he accepts the position of Athletic Director at Maryville College. Mr. Kiefer writes:

State College Pa.
Jan. 22, 1916.

Dr. S. T. Wilson,
Maryville College,
Dear Dr. Wilson:

I am very sorry that I have kept you waiting so long for my answer to your letter offering me the position of Director of Athletics. I have had quite a hard time deciding the question of where I should go next year.

After fully considering the situation, I feel that it is best for me to accept your offer and come back to Maryville next year. So in answer to your kind offer I will say that I accept it.

If I come back I cannot promise that I will turn out teams in all branches of athletics, that will make as good a record as that made by the team last fall. I will say this however, that you can depend upon me to give you folks the best that I have and to do all in my power to develop clean athletics and good clean sportsmen. I will also do my best in the other work, or the teaching.

For the rest of this school year until about June 1, I shall be located at Penn. State College of Agriculture I am teaching horticulture, working under Prof. Karns who is at the head of the department. I am getting good experience, I have now students in the short course of Agriculture at the beginning of the semester, I shall have both regular four year and short course students in horticulture.

I know you are a busy man so I will not take more of your time.

My address now is 119. S. Athertton St.
State College, Penn.
Yours very truly,
Arthur S. Kiefer.

Mr. Kiefer took his B. S. degree in the department of agriculture and horticulture at the University of Ohio in '15. During his three years football career there he was out of the game only one quarter, and that was the first quarter of his first game Mr. Kiefer was also a valuable track man. Only heavy literary work prevented him from playing basketball.

The thoroughness of his work is shown by the fact that he was awarded the first Western Conference medal for combined scholastic and athletic work.

Mr. Kiefer will have general supervision of all departments of athletics. Besides he will teach two or three hours each day. In this work he will be an instructor in the Agricultural Depratment to be begun next year. Mr. Kiefer's past preparation and experience especially equips him for work as an athletic director and as a teacher of agriculture.

He will spend next summer at Ohio State where he will study coaching.

C. E. GIVES SOCIAL

Last Saturday evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church held a social in the Sunday School annex. About fifty young people were present and all report a good time.

Boys! Girls!
A Treat! A Treat!
Come Friday
And Get Eats! Eats!

Bread, pies, cakes, candies and everything good to eat, things like mother cooks, and you will be hungry and imagine that you received a box from home.

Cooked by the girls? Why certainly, the girls of the first year class can cook. If you don't believe it come to Science Kitchen Friday afternoon and be convinced.

There will be on sale breads of all kinds, cakes both big and little, and for the pies, oh! well! There will be no use to name them because there will be so many kinds that it will take too long—and numerous other things too, which, of course, you will enjoy.

Meet your friends there and be sociable. Encourage the girls by buying their eats and also help the department to purchase a punch bowl and set and at the same time treat yourself to something good to eat.

All are invited, both town and college folks. Friday afternoon, from 3 to 4 o'clock, third floor Science Hall.

INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS GIVEN BY REV. DR. THORNTON WHALING

Development of South Dwelt Upon

Spoke Concerning Need of Laborers in Home Mission Field

Rev. Dr. Thornton Whaling, President of the Theological Seminary at Columbia, S. C., gave a very instructive address to the student body at chapel Thursday morning. His text was "Beginning at Jerusalem," and the subject which he gave to his address was "The Greatest Thing in the World." The weight of his address was thrown for home missions.

Among the many arguments he put up were these. "The United States is now and must continue for some time, to be the predominating nation. She is like a human body possessing a heart, brains and feet, sending forth her hands to aid every existing nation and with the same instruments bringing unto herself rich treasure. If the U. S. is to save she must herself be saved. Only the saved can save."

"The U. S. is a pivotal nation. Her mission as a saving force can be felt like that of Paul if she will but save herself as Paul himself was saved. If we as a nation are saved, the immigrants returning to the Eastern World will carry that saving power.

"Especially must the South rise to the call. The "back door" of the U. S. is fast becoming the "front door" since the Panama canal has been built. Galveston as an export city is second to New York City. Rural life is being transformed by agricultural colleges, good roads, community centers, automobiles, co-operative clubs, wise legislation and the like. Tenants are becoming land owners."

"If missions are re-inforcing the life saving at home, young men and women should give their whole lives, instead of a short term, to the work."

This last plea was strongly emphasized by Dr. Whaling.

The whole address, mixed with excellent humor, was both instructive and entertaining.

CUMBERLAND FIVE FASILY DEFEATED BY HIGHLANDERS

Reserves Show Good Speed And Tie The Score In The First Half Of Game

Varsity Five Roll Up Score Of Score 63-23

Wednesday evening, Jan. 26, Cumberland College of Williamsburg, Ky., went down in an overwhelming defeat before the invincible Highlanders, the final score being 63-23. To show how scared he was of the Varsity's getting beaten Coach Frater gave the scrubs the privilege of starting the game and they did so well that it was not necessary to change until the beginning of the second half. It is doubtful if even then a change was really necessary for the score was 13-13 at the end of the first half, and it is safe to say that the Junior Highlanders would have done better as the game progressed. At least that is the way it seemed in the first period. No doubt Cumberland felt very much encouraged when they found that Maryville scrubs could hold them down, and then when the Varsity got to "playing rings around them," all hopes that they ever entertained vanished like a thin mist in the blaze of sunlight. In the first half Hernandez and Lloyd seemed to be the shining lights for Maryville, while in the second the guarding of Robinson and goal-shooting of Feeman stood out in the limelight. Marlowe starred for the visitors.

The line-up was as follows:

Maryville	Cumberland
Lloyd 2
Garrison 4	left forward	Ellison 3
Witherspoon 1
Smith 4	right forward	Marlowe 4
Hernandez 2
Crum 5	center	W. Berkman 1
Clemens
Feeman 8	right guard	H. Berkman 2
Ellis 1

Fouls: Garrison 3, Ellis 1, Ellison 3.

Timekeeper, Harper.

HIGHLANDERS WIN GAME AT CARSON-NEWMAN COLLEGE

Rough, Hard Playing Featured the Game

Score 54 - 19

In a fast, rough game, marred only by the unsportsmanlike conduct of one C. &. N. man, Maryville defeated Carson-Newman 54 to 19. The game was played in an abandoned skating rink, where the ceiling was low, the idea being that "the low ceiling would hinder our long shots." The Highlanders took the lead and were never headed, the first team making Carson-Newman stand and gaze in awe at some real pass work. Crum and Smith were the stars in the scoring line, while Patton and Davis played best for Carson-Newman.

The box score:

M. C. 54	C. & N. 19
Smith-Feeman	r. f.	Davis
Lloyd-Garrison	l. f.	Frye-Wilson
Crum	c	Patton
Ellis-Robinson	l. g.	Henley
Clemens-Smith	r. g.	Taylor

Field goals: Smith 6, Feeman 2, Lloyd 4, Garrison 1, Crum 9, Davis 5, Frye 1, Henley 1.

Foul goals: Smith 7, Lloyd 3, Davis 3.

Referee, Frater .
Umpire, Moore.
Timer, Gallion.
Scorer: Robinson-Clemens.

A BASIS FOR OUR ATHLETICS

How are we students to place our athletics on a sure and solid basis? First, must athletics not be supported? How must athletics be supported? How is each student to lend his support—only to groan, or grumble when the price of a game is demanded and let the thought of the spent quarter dampen his spirit at the game? Or will you, with your intelligent interest, co-operation and your efforts especially directed along this line help to oil the cogs of our athletics and make them "hum?" The Maryville College spirit in athletics has been fine this year—almost as good as in the years when we used to beat the University of Tennessee. Yet, could we not have still more spirit?

This is the first reason, then, why Maryville College should charge an athletic fee from each student on entering every term and make all the games free to the students. If the side-lines were crowded, the gymnasium jammed, or the grandstand packed, the spirit and interest both on the part of the team and the onlooker would be at its height. This crowd would necessitate some band music and there would be some concrete evidences of hoarse voices saying, "That's the best game I ever saw,"

If a study or merely an inquiry were made as to conditions of our athletics financially, it would be found that they are on a very unstable basis. The official buyer must purchase cheap equipment for the team because the funds in the treasury are low and uncertain and it certainly is true that in the end it pays to buy good materials. Each team manager has to worry about the financial side of the question as well as the schedule side. But if each student paid the fee, which would not need to be more than fifty cents a term, at the beginning of school, our athletics would be on a solid basis.

A BEAUTY CONTEST

A special feature of the Chilhowean this year will be a beauty section, containing the pictures of the four prettiest girls on the "hill." This does not mean a popular girl, but prettiest, and the voice of the student body will be obtained in the following manner: During the next ten days you will be solicited for an annual, and if you sign up for one you will be given a coupon good for five hundred votes; if you pay in advance for your annual your coupon will call for seven hundred and fifty votes.

These votes are to be cast in the Treasurer's office where a ballot box will be placed, and every day a count will be made by a committee of the faculty, and the standing of the "beauties" will be posted in the bulletin board at the chapel. Secure your coupons, fill in the name of your choice as the most beautiful girl on the "hill", and the four receiving the most votes will be put in the beauty section.

The contest will open on Feb. 3rd and close on the 12th.

OLDEST ALUMNUS DIES

At a meeting of the faculty of Maryville College, held on Tuesday, Jan. 25, 1916, the following action was taken:

Whereas, the long and honorable life of Dr. John Wilkinson Cates, a member of the Class of 1851, and for some years past the oldest living graduate of the College, has just been terminated by death, be it

Resolved, 1. That we place on record this expression of our deep sorrow at the loss we have sustained in the removal of one so long and honorably a representative of the work of the old College with which he and we have been connected; but that, at the same time, we also place on record this expression of our gratitude to Almighty God for the long and greatly useful life that was granted to our departed friend.

Resolved, 2. That we commend to the young people of the present generation the inspiring example that this life presents of scholarly preparation for life's work, of unwavering honor in the toil of his profession, of faithful devotion to duty, and of conscientious performance of the work that Providence assigned to his hands. The annals of the College and the work of the world have been enriched by this life of devotion.

Resolved, 2. That, while sympathizing with the kindred of our friend in their great loss, we congratulate them that he was allowed to round out a long and useful life and to enjoy with them years of a tranquil and happy old age; and that his end was peace.

Biographical sketch of John Wilkinson Cates.

John Wilkinson Cates was born in Maryville on April 7, 1833. His perents were Reuben Louis Cates (born on Jan. 26, 1796; died on April 20, 1866) and Amanda Wilkinson Cates. The family home then stood on Main Street where Mr. Reagan's store now stands. His father came to Blount County from Orange County, N. C. His mother was Amanda Wilkinson (born on Sept. 1, 1800; died on Sept. 17, 1867), daughter of John Wilkinson, Esq., originally from Pennsylvania and serving in Blount County, Tennesssee, as Attorney-General for many years, and dying in office in 1829; and of his wife, Margaret Brady Wilkinson, originally from Rock Bridge County, Va. The marriage of Dr. Cates' parents took place on June 3, 1819.

Dr. Cates was educated in Maryville under Dr. Isaac Anderson at the old College, from which he graduated, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, in the class of 1851. He also took a complete medical course and graduated at the Nashville Medical College. While in the Medical College he gained a fifty-dollar prize for proficiency in anatomy, having carried the honor off among two hundred students. He returned to Maryville, where he began his practice of medicine about the year 1857. From the beginning he commanded the respect of the community as being one of the most thoroughly educated and skilled physicians that had ever practiced in our section.

The war interrupted his career, as it did the career of all the young men of the South. He and his brother Charles enlisted together in the Confederate army at the outbreak of hostilities in 1861, He was commissioned as First Lieutenant of Cavalry under Capt. W. C. Holland, a company belonging to the battalion commanded by Colonel George R. McClellan. Soon afterwards, however, he was appointed surgeon in the army and resigned his lieutenancy. He served as surgeon for three years in the field and in hospitals in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia. He was present on the battle field at Shiloh and witnessed the death of General Albert Sidney Johnston. He rendered most faithful, skillful, and untiring service during these dangerous and arduous years. He resigned from the service in 1864 and came back to Maryville, where he resumed his practice.

On May 31, 1864, at Boyds Creek, Sevier County, Tenn., he was united in marriage by Rev. John M. Caldwell, the son-in-law of Dr. Anderson, with Miss Mary Elizabeth Brabson, daughter of Benjamin D. and Elizabeth Toole Brabson. The young couple set up housekeeping in the house which stood where Dr. John Mitchell now lives. In 1867 they removed to their residence, Sunny Hill, as they called it, where they had their happy home for thirty-nine years. They removed from their old home, which was sold to the county for the site of the present Court House, and have lived since in South Maryville, at the home where he has just passed away.

Into the home there were born five children, all of whom survive him. They are: (1) Benjamin Brabson Cates, now a surgeon of Knoxville; (2) Reuben Louis Cates, now an attorney of Knoxville. (3) Edgar Wilkinson Cates, now a farmer near Maryville. (4) Jessie Dickson Cates, who married John M. Clark, Esq., on Oct. 1, 1894, and living in Maryville: (5) Johnnie Berry Cates, who married Dr. E. J. Foute on April 12,1898, and residing near Trigonia.

On Monday evening, January 24th, at his home in Maryville, in the eighty-third year of his age,Dr.Cates, after a very brief illness, passed to the nobler life.

Y. W. C. A.

At the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet Saturday night the National Jubilee was discussed. Plans are being made to do great things in February, get ready to be interested in them!

The Maryville College Y. W. C. A. has invited Cabinet Council Conference, made up of the East Tennessee Schools, to meet in Maryville this spring. About twenty-five guests are expected and the association will need the "friendliness" of every student on the Hill in entertaining these delegates.

The meeting Sunday afternoon was an unusual service. It was an enjoyable story telling hour. Miss Ethelwynn Porter, a Y. W. C. A. secretary from Chattanooga, told two very interesting stories, one about "Peter of the World," the other "The Shut-Up Posy." Then, in a pleasing manner she told in story form of her work in the City Y. M. C. A. of Chattanooga. In this way she led up to the National Jubilee and explained it.

"Ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty throughout the land." Lev. 25, 10.

SENIORS FROLIC

Although Mrs. Waller knew that the Seniors were going to have a party at her home on High street Thursday evening, she was somewhat surprised when the first couple arrived, on account of the unusual greeting. This was the call of the country door bell, "Hello," from our new recruit, Mr. Acton, which gained for him immediate access. Some, however, being more timid, preferred to remain on the porch until they were called in by the captain of the buckeye race or by the chilly spring breezes. The first part of the evening was spent in a good congenial social hour, after which were games and contests.

Dave and Fatty chose teams for the buckeye race. They divided the company into two groups, the chief qualification for first places in the lines being nerve. The first ones chosen were Misses Edna Dawson and Margaret Bassett. The groups lined up and a buckeye on a knife was passed to the foot of the line and back behind backs. Who ever heard of a "Fatty" winning any race?

Following this came charades and word contests. These were very novel, interesting, and were enjoyed by all. Apropriate prizes were given to the winners, Mr. Frank Cross and Catherine Sugg, nad on account of the especial merit shown by Frankie, he was unanimously dubbed class poet.

Mr. Kidder was seen to be getting very nervous by this time, casting a look first at the clock then at the dining room door. The committeeor refreshments came to his rescue however, bringing him (ditto the others) a plate of sandwiches and a cup of hot chocolate. This was followed by a slab o' pie and good night.

HOSPITAL NOTES

La grippe, now so prevalent in many parts of the land, persists in its attacks among the students of Maryville. La grippe is known to be an exceedingly contagious fever, and as such it has more than once swept with great rapidity over practically the whole civilized world, attacking even 41 per cent of all exposed. The germ is most apt to attack the respiratory tract. In many cases nervous features predominate — headache, profound depression, prostration, etc. That la grippe seldom kills is indicated by the fact that its mortality is only 0.5 per cent. But as a disease which destroys health, few can equal it.

Of the following students who were patients at the hospital during the past week, a majority had symptoms of la grippe: Percy Buchanan, C. S. LaRue, Agnes Wilbanks, Annie Cochran, Ida Zunstein, Sara Stinnett, Katherine Guess, Frank Huber, Frances West, Zelma Kennedy, Horace Dean, Earnest Chandler.

Miss Katherine Mullineaux will remain in the hospital another week.

RECITAL IN CHAPEL

Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 26th, the departments of Expression, Voice and Piano gave a recital in the chapel. Miss Ruth Quinn gave a cutting from Jean Webster's "When Patty Went to College," in which she described vividly the trials of the student as examinations approach. Miss George Simpson read a poem of Edmund Vance Cooke's entitled "In the Old School House."" The Murder of Zoroaster," by Crawford, was delightfully rendered by Miss Elsie Walker. Vocal numbers by Misses Minerva Barnett and Nellie Wilson and piano solos by Misses Edith Brothers, Celia Rough and Sara Kittrell were received with appaluse.

MISS STAATER SINGS FOR JUNIOR ATHENIANS

On last Saturday night a large audience in the Athenian chapel was favored by one of the best programs ever given in the hall. Miss Staater, accompanied by Miss Pardue, gave six or seven selections among which were "War," by Rogers; "Requiem," by Homer and several other numbers. All of them were rendered in the beautiful and unexcelled manner characteristic of Miss Staater. It is needless to tell how much this entertainment was appreciated. We wish to heartily thank the faculty members who have helped us in our programs. Besides Miss Staater's numbers, we had two readings by Mr. Wood, and an Impromptu debate on the question, "Resolved, That moonshine should be abolished on College Hill." Mr. J. Z. Howard supported the affirmative and Mr. Green the negative,

Next Saturday night Mr. Jenkins will discuss "Christianity as Affected by the War;" Mr. Gratiot will elucidate some of the "Evils of the Wilson Administration." The question, "Resolved, That state universities are of more value than denominational schools," will be debated. Mr. Marthans will end the program with a mandolin solo.

HIGHLANDERS WIN GAME FROM N. C. CHAMPIONS

In a Fast and Thrilling Game Asheville Y. M. C. A. is Defeated

Score, 48-39

In the fastest, cleanest game of the season, Maryville won the second game of the trip when they defeated the Asheville team 48-39 Saturday evening.

Both teams displayed excellent team work and great passing. Asheville took the lead in the first few minutes until the Highlanders became accustomed to the floor. Maryville then went into the lead, the score at the end of the first half being 26 to 22 in our favor.

From the begining of the second half Maryville kept the lead all the way, Asheville never coming closer than five points.

For Maryville the whole team starred and for Asheville Newton played the best game.

One very pleasant feature of the day was the splendid treatment given the team by every one connected with the Asheville Y. M. C. A. Another pleasant feature was the very splendid refereeing of Mr. Jackson. A better referee cannot be found.

The box score:

Maryville 48 Asheville Y. M. C. A. 39

The part of the doctor was taken by Miss Abbie Runyan, that of nurse by Miss Gail Wilson, while Misses Imogene Copeland, Maud Pardue, Helen Adams, Della Carpenter, Doras Wilson, Agnes Dolvin, Clarice Phipps, Beatrice Wilson and Louise McClenahan were patients. All of the parts were well played and the audience was very much pleased.

THETAS GIVE THEIR ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT

SCENES FROM AMERICAN LIFE DRAMATIZED

Crowded House Sees Interesting Program

The Theta Epsilon Literary society gave its annual midwinter entertainment Friday evening, Feb. 4. The work was almost entirely original, and reflected credit on the members of the committee which planned it.

The programs, a map of the United States in blue and silver, were a fitting introduction to the evening's performance in which typical scenes from the four sections of our country were depicted. A little girl from Mars, having been dropped onto the earth by a star, meets Columbia, who thru the magic wave of her hand, calls up an Indian girl and shows the little visitor primitive America. The Indian sings, vanishes, the wand waves again, and a girl of today, with her ideals and achievements, appears. She is typical of the changed position of woman due to our modern civilization, but the suffragettes who immediately follow her, demanding the vote and equal rights, show what her status will be in the future.

Columbia and the maid from Mars now start on a journey from coast to coast, going first to the north, where winter sports are at their height. The magic wand brings into view a cedar grove during a snow storm and a group of young people snowballing around a snow man, while they wait for the arrival of the sleigh. The seigh bells ring, the young people are gone,, and the wand calls up a troop of college girls, four "lordly seniors," in caps and gowns. who lament the end of college days and the separation so soon to come. They offer to help a nervous little freshman prepare for a recital, and her interpretation of "The Old Oaken Bucket," delighted the little girl from Mars, as well as the audience.

The next scene represented the South "befo the wah," and was typical of old slavery days. The old "nigger mammy" singing over the wash tub was so highly enjoyed that most of the song was drowned in the laughter and applause. She told stories to the children and welcomed home her "own precious chile" who had just received a college diploma, to the evident grief of mammy, who thought she had been vaccinated.

The west was represented by a "cow boy girl" whose reading of "The Requital" gave a realistic picture of the west in a wild back woods settlement.

The closing scene showed the "Gateway of the Nation." A crowd of immigrants, each jabbering in his own tongue, some rushing pell mell into the arms of waiting friends and others overburdened with baggage and followed by their numerous family swarmed down the gang plank. There was Dutch Hans and his good wife, Katrina, French Marie and Irish Bridgett, with many others, representative types of our great foreign population. After their examination they gave a little entertainment for their own amusement.

The midwinter committee consisted of Miss Erma Russell, Miss Grace Myers and Miss Eve Ogilvie.

MARYVILLE COLLEGE RECEIVES GIFT OF $75,000

To Be Part of $300,000.00 Centennial Forward Fund

Growth of Enrollment Demands Larger Equipment

Tuesday of this week newspapers throughout the country announced the action of the General Education Board appropriating to Maryville College the sum of $75,000.00 towards a Centennial Forward Fund of $300,000.00, to be added to the present endowment of the institution. This news will be joyfully received by all friends of the College. The action of the Board comes as the climax to painstaking toil on the part of President Wilson extending over a period of many months. It is only the beginning, however, of a campaign to raise this Centennial Forward Fund of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars imperatively needed to enable the college to meet its opportunities and obligations in the task of furnishing the highest possible educational advantages to young men and young women of limited needs.

The present equipment of the College consists of an invested endowment of $498,000.00, $119,000.00 of which is subject to annuity; and its plant of 235 acres of campus and woodland, and twelve buildings, valued at $416,000.00. This total of $914,000 is so handled that the College contributes as much to the cause of education as colleges less happily situated are able to do with much larger sums. Nevertheless the management is unable to meet the increasing demands of modern education and the ever increasing host of students without such additional income as the proposed Centennial Forward Fund of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars will provide.

Among other new developments of the College that this Fund is to provide is an Agricultural Department. A start toward the establishment of this department has already been made. Gifts amounting to $800.00 have been received from friends outside of Tennessee, and friends in Blount County are contributing live stock and farm implements. Treasurer Proffitt has special charge of the inauguration of this department and should be corresponded with by alumni and friends who may desire to have their contributions to the Forward Fund applied to this special work.

President Wilson will labor unsparingly to secure contributions to the Fund, and will spend most of his time in the field. Correspondence from alumni and other friends of the College regarding the Fund should be addressed to Professor Clinton H. Gillingham. Contributions should be sent to Treasurer Proffitt.

PROF. BRITTAIN ADDRESSED THE Y. M. C. A. LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Y. M. C. A. devotional meeting last Sunday was one of the largest of the year, and well it might since Prof. Brittain was the leader and he had chosen for his topic, "Christianity—the Gentleman's Religion". He dwelt upon the different view-points of some people on Christianity and showed how much greater value it had for us, by reviewing the character of Christ. At the close of Prof. Brittain's address State Student Secretary S. B. Parker spoke very fittingly urging the men to take up the opportunities presented to them in the February meetings.

SUFFRAGETTES MEET

"Br-r-r—!" "Down with the men!" "Rights for women!!" "Lords of creation—Bah!" Soprano shrieks and alto rumbles, grim faces and disheveled hair. Now isn't that your idea of a bunch of women in a suffrage meeting? Well, that just proves that there is something new under the sun, for on the first day of February, 1916, a suffrage meeting was held which was as different from the traditional "Votes for Women" conference as Cleopatra was different from Frances E. Willard. This meeting was for the purpose of organizing an Equal Suffrage League among the young women of Maryville College. The spirit of the League was eloquently set forth in a speech by Erma Russell, and after a little more discussion, and with much amusement the following officers were elected: President, Muriel Mitchell; Vice-President, Maude Pardue; Secretary, Gussie Jones; Treasurer, Marie Townsend.

There were eighteen girls present at the first meeting, and many more have since expressed their desire to join the League. A New Idea has been born in Maryville College, and is now a lusty and promising youngster, all in the course of a week. The girls have started something! Three cheers for Equal Suffrage!

PANAMA MISSIONARY CONGRESS TO BE HELD

Beginning next Thursday, February 10, and continuing ten days, the Panama Missionary Congress will be in session. This Congress is on the same principle as the Edinburgh World's Missionary Conference of 1910. Delegates from practically all the Protestant denominations of North America and sixty-seven Missionaries from Latin-America will be present. The daylight sessions will be devoted to the discussion of commission reports and the evening sessions to popular meetings, each addressed by one North American and one Latin American representative. Evangelistic meetings will also be conducted both in English and Spanish.

The Congress is to be held in the Hotel Trivoli. There will be a frank and friendly discussion of actual conditions in Latin-America, with freedom of speech so far as it is Christian in spirit and relates to vital facts, but without bigotry or unnecessary acidity. It is expected that Robert E. Speer will be president of the Congress, nad his presence in the chair will insure courtesy, constructiveness, spirituality and prayer as characteristic of the sessions.

This is a time for prayer. This Congress is for conference, not for legislation, and the spirit is one of loyalty to the highest ideals as set forth by our Lord Jesus Christ. Let all Christians everywhere remember this conference in their daily devotions and pray earnestly that God will guide the officers of the Congress not in our way but in His way and that, amidst the differing view points that will be presented, the view point of Christ may prevail.

JUNIORS WILL PUBLISH CHILHOWEAN

Officers Elected

The Sophomore class has established a precedent, and at the suggestion of the Faculty, has decided to publish the Chilhowean next year instead of the year after. They have elected a very efficient editorial staff: Josephine Knapp, editor-in-chief; "Red" Turner, business manager; "Happy" Lloyd. photographer: Horace Dawson, poet; Genevieve Gibson, artist.

Other editors are to be appointed later. The class of '10 deserves to be complimented on their courage and college spirit in undertaking this task a year before the appointed time.

GIRLS WIN WITH EASE OVER WASHINGTON COLLEGE FIVE

SECOND TEAM SHOWS SKILL IN SECOND PART OF THE GAME

Final Score 52-7

On last Thursday evening our girls defeated the Washington College girls' team by the score of 52-7. The Washington girls seemed unable to fathom the fast passing and basket shooting of our girls. Miss Martin and Miss Wilson were shooting in usual form, and starred during the first half. Miss Sugg also played a fine game at guard for Maryville. The score at the end of the first half was 39-1. M. C.'s first team played a few minutes in the second half. The second team finished the game and also outplayed the visitors. The visitors scored all their points, not geting a field goal.

The line-up:

Miss Lois Wilson r. f. Miss Carson
Miss Zeora Brocklehurst
Miss Arda Martin l f. Miss Alexander
Miss B. Marshall
Miss Dixie Webb c. Miss Bowman
Miss Stinnett
Miss K. Skuggs r. g Miss Greenway
Miss Ethel Burchfield

ALUMINUM MEN MEET AND HOLD BANQUET IN TOWN

A Merry Evening Reported By All The Aluminum Salesmen

"It was great."

These were the sentiments of all the boys who had carried the "Wear-Ever" grip, as they came out of the Sanitary Dining room, after having feasted for an hour on real oyster soup (with oysters in it), roast chicken, ice cream and cake, and so on. We would mention some other things, but we have mercy in our heart. It is remarkable how quickly the chicken disappeared after it was put on the table. E. F. Cody, John Witherspoon and "Shorty" Wallin were there. Nuff sed. Cody, in order to divert attention from himself, while he was secretly storing away the "stuff," warned Ed Campbell not to rub up against John's pocket, or else he'll get greasy. Everybody who heard Ernest K. James eat, was convinced that he enjoyed it immensely. We all entertained a very kind and sympathetic thought for the boys on the Hill who found it impossible to be present.

After a good feast, a man's mind usually turns to the realms of oratory and eloquence. "Shorty" was there with his usual wit and humor. In introducing Professor Johnson, a former "Wear-Ever" salesman, he asked us to find the man whose head is far away from his heart, except when he is excited, and then it is in his neck. Of course, all the bright minds guessed who it was. But the Prof. made a homerun and a touchdown simultaneously when he told us that as he watched "Shorty" swallowing so much water, it struck him that this is the first "windmill" he ever saw that was run by water. Poor "Shorty!" He sat dumbfounded amid the roaring laughter that shook the banquet hall. It was hard to swallow, but S. E. took it like the

SCRUBS PUT UP FAST AND THRILLING GAME WITH WHEAT

TURN DEFEAT IN FIRST HALF INTO VICTORY IN SECOND HALF

Score 28-23

On Saturday evening, Feb.5th, in a very fast and exciting game, the Maryville reserves defeated the team of the Wheat High School by a score of 28 to 23. In the first half the contest was too close to be interesting to the fans, who are pulling for a scoreless home record this year and a little shakiness was in evidence when the score 14-15 in favor of Wheat was announced. No one, however, felt for a moment that it was possible to lose the game. So in the latter half, the scrubs overcame the lead with the result mentioned above.

Davidson, who was a member of the Wheat team last year, was easily the star for Maryville, scoring five field goals. W. Fritts, of the visiting team, was the shining light for Wheat scoring seven field goals, two of them being thrown from the opposite end of the court. Wheat's big center, who is reported to weigh 325 pounds, was the center of attraction.

The teams lined up and scored as follows:

Maryville	Position	Wheat
Davidson 10	f.	W. Fritts 14
Hernandez 6	f.	Driskell 6
	forward	James
Hodge	c.	P. Fritts

FIRST GAME LOST TO STATESVILLE ATHLETIC CLUB

Rough Playing Featured the Game.

Score 44-36

In the roughest game of the season Maryville lost her first game to the Statesville Athletic Club. The unsportsman-like playing of the Statesville team, combined with poor refereeing made it impossible for Maryville to win. Feeman and Crum were the particular stars of this game.

Smith	R. F. Kimball
Crum	C. Ethridge
Ellis-Feeman	R. G. Guy
Clemens-Robinson	L. G. Overcash

FIELD GOALS:—Lloyd1, Garrison 2, Smith 2, Crum 4, Feeman 3, Clemens 1, Robinson 1, Newman 5, Kimball 7, Etheridge 2, Guy 5.

WAKE FOREST SHOWS GREAT FORM AGAINST HIGHLANDERS

M. C. Five Defeated in Fast Game by Score of 48-21

Although badly crippled, and very tired from an all night trip, the Maryville boys played hard against the Wake Forest crew, but lost 48 to 21. The Wake Forest boys have the State championship of North Carolina colleges and universities already won, and they really deserve it. A faster, cleaner bunch the Highlanders have never met. Feeman played his usual star game, while W. Holding and Hall were the stars for Wake Forest.

THE MEETINGS

We are fortunate in having secured Rev. Mr. Bartlett to conduct our February meetings. Mr. Bartlett is a man who knows the whole meaning of college life. He knows the needs of college students, is thoroughly in sympathy with their ideals and wishes to serve them in showing them how they may best attain those ideals.

It has been the experience of those students who have attended the February meetings in the past, that no wave of exciting, nerve storm is found in any service. One simple but sincere purpose seems to run thru all the services—to show the sanity of living the Christ life.

The meetings are not of the ultra-emotional type that is so common in many revivals. The sermons delivered by a college man to college students are meant to impress upon thinking people the reasonableness and the practical value of the Christian life.

Those who already have Christian standards of actions will be stirred to new endeavor by atending these meetings.

Those who have not seriously considered the question of consecrating their lives, or those who are still in doubt, will find in these services the strong appeal that Christianity always makes to the best that is in manhood and womanhood.

No attempt is made to play upon the emotions. It is the earnest desire of the college that Christianity be presented in its true light, that it be clearly shown that faith has its foundation on fact; and that religion is not something that appeals to weaklings but that it holds a challenge today as never before for real men and women who shall go forth, made strong by what Christianity can give them to fight victorious battles for righteousness.

OUR MIDWINTERS

Progress along literary lines shows itself in a form no less vigorous than other departments of our college life. Our growth in buildings and equipment, the remarkable record of our athletic teams and the excellent work of our Christian organizations, have been equalled by our literary organzations—our literary socities.

The work of these four organizations has been demonstrated in the midwinter entertainments, the last of which was given last Friday night. Every society deserves praise for the excellent literary program which it gave. Each society boasts that its midwinter, this year, was the best in its history. This is a feeling, we are sure, that is amply justified.

Such remarks as "That was a good as a lyceum number," "If you didn't hear that you missed a treat," "I should like to see that program rendered again," characterize the student's appreciation of these midwinter entertainments.

The people of the town contributed much to the success of our entertainments with their attendance, for which the societies are thankful, we are sure.

Let us hope that the painstaking, working out of those plans which has characterized each of our midwinter entertainments this year will not be lacking in years to come. If they are to be an index indicating the work of the literary societies they must continually grow better.

ALUMNI

Rev. Harvey Cawood Rimmer, '99, came to Maryville last week from Dandridge, Tenn. He is in charge of mission work in New Mexico. Since he left the Theological Seminary, his work has been principally in Texas and New Mexico, where he greatly enjoyed his work. He has, for two years past, had a wife to assist him in his pastoral duties. Like other old students, he was greatly pleased to see the advance the college is making. He visited chapel Thursday morning.

On the same morning Rev. Rimmer visited chapel, another of our alumni was on the Hill, Mrs. Katherine Toof Stiles, '07, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Since her graduation she has taught in New York State, where she found that the diploma of Maryville was accepted by the state regents for the granting of teachers' certificates. Mrs. Stiles was one of our best students during her stay in college.

The "Kentucky New Era" for Jan. 14, has a page article about the success of the rural schools of Christian County, Ky., which are under the guidance of Supt. Lloyd E. Foster, a member of Maryville's class of 1907. It tells of the many lines of advancement in which Supt. Foster has been leading the educational forces of the county. Eleven new school buildings, of a better type than had before been built, have been erected, while seventeen buildings have been thoroughly made over.

A new High School building is being erected at Howell, Ky., of which school Prof. J. Leonard McGinley, '12, is principal.

Supt. Foster's wife is an old Maryville student, Miss Minnie McGinley. Supt. Foster and his wife are rejoicing over the birth of their first child.

Rev. Richard W. Post, '99, and his wife, Mrs. Mame Stebbins Post, '02, missionaries in Siam, are at home on a furlough, and have been living with Mr. Post's mother on Indiana avenue since the holidays. Their two little girls are attending the private school in Maryville. Mr. Post and his wife have both been called upon to deliver missionary addresses since their return. Two brothers and two sisters of the Post family have taken the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Maryville, and the other brother, Alfred, is now a student in the institution.

A PROTEST

There was, to the left of the path leading out through the college woods, one of those rarely beautiful spots. A temple, so many have said who really enjoy nature at her best, a natural temple of God where one may look upon Him as the giver of the best.

This refuge used by many of our best students as a place of rest and thought; this retreat where we have habitually communed with nature in our endeavor to understand the full love of the Father; this altar where many have poured out their hearts to God has been desecrated by the hands of Man.

Man, where he has a worthy purpose in view, is, according to his knowledge, helping in the Great Plan. Man, where he assists in the beautification of the world, does not violate the laws of Nature. But man, when he deliberately "hacks" off the branches of trees with no regard for beauty or the protection of those trees, becomes a destroyer not to be tolerated in a community which is proud of its natural resources.

We who love the beautiful ask you all to examine this one-time natural temple and judge whether it is now a worthy place of worship.

C. F. L.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Nellie J. Garrison led the meeting Sunday afternon. Her subject was the "Stewardship of Influence,"which was an appropriate topic for this season of our college year. The three girls who aided Miss Garrison gave interesting talks and these were enjoyed. Miss George Simpson rendered a sweet, contralto solo.

The following is a policy the Y. W. C. A. cabinet at Randolph-Macon adopted last year, and it is published here with the hope that the Maryville college Y. W. C. A. will add its good points to her policy.

1. As a cabinet, we shall make it our supreme aim to (a) bring girls to Christ; (b) train girls in Christ; (c) send girls out for Christ.

2. As individual members of the cabinet, we will set our personal standards as high as God gives us vision to see, and by His help we will attain these standards.

a. We will personally cultivate and stand for strict honor in all College work or play.

b. We will personally spend our Sundays in such way as with clear and conscience shall best interpret Jesus Christ to the college.

3. As a cabinet we declare for high moral and social standards in the college—and we shall work together to make them more effective.

(a) We will work more actively to bring about a more reverent attitude in the chapel services.

(b) We will work actively to form a strong and effective sentiment against Sunday study.

(c) We will stand together against unwholesomeness in any form as it arises, in the relationship of new girls with old—in extravagant friendships, etc.

4. As chairmen of the several committees of the Association, and as a single group pledged to loyalty to Jesus Christ, we will lift up this Christ before the student body—we will cooperate with each other in such a way as to make His teaching and His ideals supreme in our college life.

5. As a Cabinet we will undertake any responsibility which Jesus Christ shall indicate in order to make Him and the principles of His kingdom effective through us, His agents, "not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit saith the Lord of Hosts."

little man that he is. The Professor also told us that he gained great experience during the time he sold the "Wear-Ever" aluminum cooking utensils, and gladly recommended it to any young man who wishes to make enough money to carry him thru a scholastic year, and gain great experience besides.

Splendid testimonies to the money-making potentialities of the "Wear-Ever" line, to the fine treatment received from the Company, and to the enjoyment derived from the work followed in quick succession. Mr. Wallin reminded us that the first year he went out with the "Wear-Ever" goods he made over $400.00, besides having a good time. Mr. E. K. James told us that he sold over $600 worth of goods last year, putting him in the "Star" salesman class, and receiving a handsome premium from the companuy, besides the bonus. Ed. Campbell was out a short time, but made good profits during the period he went out. John Witherspoon also made out splendidly.

After these testimonies and speeches were over, the boys gave fifteen Rahs for the "Wear-Ever" Company, who had treated us so royally last summer and is continually interested in its salesmen.

A few salesmen signed up for next year, with many more coming, promising the biggest year for "Wear-Ever" in Maryville College.

All the boys thanked the proprietor of the Sanitary Dining Hall for the good treatment received and for the splendid "eats."

By Friday, February 4th, when the Greensboro Y. M. C. Feeman and Smith were again the stars for Maryville, Jones being the chief point getter for Greensboro.

CHATTANOOGA CLUB IS ORGANIZED

A Chattanooga club has been recently organized with Mr. Keith Postelthwaite as president; Miss Ethel McElvy, vice-president; Edward Ensign, secretary and treasurer, and Clyde Hunt editor. The members and visitors enjoyed a social Saturday evening in the Pearson parlors. Dixie Rook was the diversion of the evening, after which an apropriate luncheon was served.

The resolution of the club is to promote the interests of Maryville College among prospective students from Chattanooga and to foster a friendly spirit among Chattanooga students at Maryville College.

BEAUTY CONTEST POSTPONED

On acount of the revival meetings the "Chilhowean Beauty Contest" has been postponed until the 18th of February. However, this will only allow a little more time for the girls to work on their complexions and persuade friends to buy a copy of the 1916 Annual and cast their vote.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE WINS GAME FROM HIGHLANDERS

M. C. Five Gives Tar Heels a Lesson in Passing

Score 39-24

By the time the Highlanders played the University of North Carolina on their own floor on Thursday night, the hard trip had begun to sap the reserve strength of the men. Although taking the short end of a 39-24 score, the M. C. men displayed their superior team play by passing "rings" around the University men at times. Feeman, Smith and Crum starred for Maryville, and Capt. Johnson of the "Tar-Heels" was their best man. Crum played the far-famed Tandy to a standstill.

FEBRUARY MEETINGS VERY HELPFUL TO STUDENT BODY

Rev. Mr. Bartlett Gives An Excellent Series Of Sermons

83 Converted and 285 Reconsecrated Their Lives To Christ

Again the glorious and heaven-filled days of the annual "February Meetings" have come and passed! Like the traveller, we have climbed to the highest peak of the mountain, above the clouds, and have beheld the wonderful beauty of the Sun of Righteousness. We have experienced the exhilirating atmosphere of the spiritual heights, its wonderful joys and pleasures, and the memory of these days will always remain with all who had the privilege of participating in them.

If Voorhees Chapel could speak, what a tale it would tell, of battles fought and won, of stubborn and contumacious wills surrendered, of doubts evaporated, of faith renewed, of lives transformed, of decisions made and of Doxologies sung! From the first Sunday night, when President Wilson sounded the keynote of the campaign in his sermon on "Prepare to Meet Thy God", all thru the twelve days, down to the last Friday morning, when Mr. Bartlett, overwhelmed with the great joy of the splendid victories won, asked the boys to give the College yell for Jesus Christ, the Chapel was an "upper room" that resounded and reverberated with notes of petition, praise and thanksgiving,.

To say that Mr. Bartlett, the Evangelist, won the hearts of the students and teachers is to put it very mildly. Himself a Maryville College student of the Class of 1901, son of the former President of the College, having been born in Baldwin Hall, he knows students and their problems, and knows how to help them. His love for the students and his sympathy with their struggles, coupled with his strong personality---these were great factors in the success of the meetings. As a man, Mr. Bartlett is well worth the second glance. One feels, as he looks at him, that, should the occasion ever arise, he would be able to give a good display of what has been termed "muscular Christianity." And well he needs his strong constitution, for as Associate Superintendent of the Synod of Tennessee, he is charged with the eversight of five presbyteries, with headquarters at Chattanooga, Tenn.

As a preacher, Mr. Bartlett is of the John the Baptist type, filled with a passionate love for God and for righteousness, and blazing a way for His Master. One could see from the first sermon that he preached on the first Monday morning, when he told the non-Christian boys that "we are not after yours, but you" that he was in for a campaign, and that he meant business. His sermons were that of a strong man to strong men and women. They were logical and appealed to the fair-mindedness of the students. His sermon on "Faith" was a good illustration of his sober, sane, reasonable and intelligent presentation of the great truths of the Gospel. He proved the necessity of faith in our daily life, in the dining hall, and in the school-room. He asked us to exercise the same faith toward the spiritual realities. While he was cool-headed and sensible in his preaching, yet he did not lack emotion. His sermons on "The Love of God", "The Grace of God", "Back to Bethel", were filled with passion and feeling. His manly appeal to the students to decide for Christ and the Christian life, and his straightforward challenge "Will you do it", led many young men and women to openly confess Christ.

In one of his opening sermons, Mr.

ADDRESS GIVEN AT Y. W. C. A. BY MRS. F. L. PROFFITT

Subject: "The Kingdom Of Our Thoughts"

Y. W. C. A. Begins Two Mission Study Courses, Taught By Miss Jackson And Prof. Johnson

Since the last publication of the Highland Echo, there have been two meetings of the Association. Prof. Knapp led Feb. 13, on the theme "Addition Not Subtraction." It is hoped that this splendid talk may be published later. Mrs. F. L. Proffitt led the meeting last Sunday. Her topic, "The Kingdom of Our Thoughts," was a very interesting one and she developed it in a manner inspiring and helpful not only to the girls who recently took a stand for Christ, but for all the Y. W. C. A members. The points dwelt upon were summed up briefly: "To live the strong, useful life we must banish the destructive forces—negative thinking, selfish thinking, critical thinking; impure thought, and hold fast to the great constructive forces—optimism, altruism, and full surrender to the will of God."

Y. W. C. A. may stand for Young Women's Christian Activities as well as Young Women's Christian Association. The Association stands for the complete education of woman. It provildes for the physical, mental, and spiritual training; as an educational force in the world today, it ranks very high.

Believing that college women should have some knowledge of the great field of Missions, the local Association plans for a Mission Study course each year.

This term our Association offers two especially interesting courses: Miss Jackson, who has been a missionary in the mountains for many years is to conduct a class on the Southern Mountaineer. This course should be of special value to every Maryville girl, as these people are our near neighbors and friends. The text book will be one written by our own Dr. Wilson. Prof. Johnson will lead a study of Missions in Asia. To the student interested in Foreign Work this class will be helpful indeed. The text bok used will be "The New Era in Asia," written by Dr. Sherwood Eddy.

Classes will meet on Wednesday evenings, 6:20 to 6:50, Miss Jackson's in Baldwin parlors, Prof. Johnson's in the Bainonian hall. Let us make these classes a success!

HOOSIER CLUB GIVES A PARTY IN THETA HALL

Twelve Of The Seventeen Members Present

On February 12, in Theta Hall, the members of the Indiana club upheld the honor of their state by a social for Hoosiers alone. The afternoon from 2 to 5 was spent in playing Progressive rook. Indiana songs were heartily sung and delicious refreshments were served.

There are seventeen members, of which number twelve showed their loyalty by attendance: Messrs Perkins, LaRue, Weisbecker, Barbour; Misses Crum, French, Rowe, Jones, Thompson, Covert, Adams, Butler.

BUCKEY CLUB HOLDS A PARTY IN PEARSONS PARLOR

The Buckeyes showed their existence on College Hill by assembling at Pearson's parlor Saturday afternon. A good time was enjoyed by all. In spite of the fact that Purdy's cry for more sandwiches was always in the air, the supply did not become exhausted. The afternoon was spent in playing rook.

Adjournment at 5:04.

Rev. W. T. Thompson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Knoxville will address the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

MISSIONARY CORNER PLACED IN LIBRARY BY VOLUNTEER BAND

Students Invited To Special Meetings of the Band

Students, get acquainted with the Missionary Corner in the Library!

With the consent and assistance of the faculty, the Band has transferred al of its curios,books, pamphlets, etc., to the Lamar Memorial Library, where our leader, Mr. Postlethwaite, assisted by members of the Band, has constructed a special cabinet for them. All new pamphlets and other things of interest will be kept on the desk and everone is invited to make himself acquainted with them.

Recently the Band was favored by an address by Rev. Richard Post, about his work in Siam, where five other Maryville representatives besides himself are engaged in Mission work. Rev. Mr. Post presented many up-to-date facts that we could not get from books, and the Band considers itself fortunate in hearing one of the old charter members tell of his work and of the things that are waiting to be done by the coming missionaries—by "us" as Rev. Mr. Post suggested.

All of these special meetings are open to visitors, and we feel that no one can regret having atetnded any of them.

Y. M. C. A.

Undoubtedly the most impressive Y. M. C. A. meeting of this College year was enjoyed by the Y. M. C. A. men on Sunday afternoon when Pat Quinn addressed the association,using for his subject, "On the Firing Line." Pat, being a lieutenant in the state militia of Tennessee, was able to know all the tactics and maneuverings of military science which he used to depict the Christian as a soldier preparing for the front.

He carried the Christian through all the stages of military life and finally on the front as a wounded soldier. He exhorted them to appeal to the Great Physician to be healed. His greatest point was that we should stand by our principles, no matter what method of attack the enemy might employ.

In the midst of his very earnest appeals, the audience interrupted him with enthusiastic cheering, led by Dr. Wilson.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, a trial of sorrow has come upon our Principal, Prof. Horace Ellis, in the loss of a dear sister, Mrs. Estelle Hardy, whom God in His Providence has called from this Earth to her home in Heaven.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the Teachers of the Preparatory Department of Maryville College, extend to Prof. Ellis the sincere sympathy that we feel in our hearts for him, and be it further resolved, that a copy of these Resolutions be given to Prof. Ellis, and also that they be published in the Highland Echo.

MISS GLADDEN EWERS GOES TO CHINA TO DO MISSION WORK

Miss Ewers Is An Old Maryville Student

Work Among Children Will Be Her Specialty

Apple River, Ill.—Miss L. Gladden Ewers, daughter of the Rev. A. E. Ewers, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Apple River, sailed from San Francisco, about January 8th, for Hengchow, China, where she is to teach in the girls' school which is under control of the Presbyterian Missionary society. She left Apple River about January 2nd, so as to arrive in San Francisco in time to take passage on a Japanese ship which is scheduled to sail around the 8th.

She was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the time her father was a student in Lane Seminary, preparing for the ministry. She was graduated from the high school in Kirkland, Indiana, and from Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee, in the class of 1910, Since that time she has specialized in children's work, and has done work for children in different places. It has been her intention since her graduation, to become a missionary, but she has been waiting for her brother who is to go to China as a medical missionary, but as it will be some little time yet before he will be sent out and possibly they will not be sent to the same place when he is sent, she has decided to hasten on to her work without him. Her brother Dr. Ernest M. Ewers, who is now an interne in the Presbyterian hospital at San Juan, Porto Rico, where he was sent by the missionary board, after his graduation from the University of Louisville Medical School last spring for extra hospital training and to await his commission which will probably be forwarded to him some time next summer. When Dr. Ewers sails for China it is understood that his father will accompany him.

Both Dr. Ewers and Miss Ewers have the honor of going as the representatives of their Alma Mater,Maryville College, which is no slight distinction, but which will, without a doubt, reflect honor upon the college.

Hengchow is in the south central part of China, in the Hunan Province. It is the very last mission to be opened in China under Presbyterian auspices. The work was begun there about tewnty-five years ago. At the present time there are twelve missionaries there, and outside of the girls' school there is also a boys' school, a dispensary and a hospital.

In spite of the fact that Hengchow is as far south as the central part of Florida, the winters are quite cold and severe, probably on account of the high altitude, but the summers are, on the other hand, long and hot.

Miss Ewers is very enthusiastic over her prospects in the new field and hopes very much that her work will be among younger children.

We bespeak for Miss Ewers a splendid career of usefulness in her chosen field of service.

Deck Williams in Prof. Knapp's Class.

Prof. Knapp, Deck has a triangle four corners?

Deck, Yes Sir.

MARYVILLE FIVE WIN GAME WITH EMORY AND HENRY SQUAD

Visitors Put Up A Fast And Spirited Game

Score 55--30

One of the most exciting games of the season was staged on the local court last Friday evening at eight o'clock, when the Maryville Highlanders defeated the fast Emory and Henry aggregation by the score of 55-30. It being a holiday, a large crowd took the opportunity of seeing the two teams clash, and no one was disappointed with the way they showed up. The game was hard and fast from start to finish, marked by good sportsmanship and lack of roughness, distinguished especially by the excellent way in which it was refereed by D. W. Proffitt. Suffice it to say that the last few minutes of the game were played very, very fast. Emory and Henry has a fine team, well drilled in passing and accurate in throwing, but their defeat was due largely to too many attempts at long shots. Several of these, however, were successful and likewise spectacular. The interruption of their victorious march through East Tennessee was inevitable at Maryville. Neighboring colleges are about to become aware of the fact that this year marks the flood-tide of athletics in the little highland county seat of Blount County. Just for a reminder let us state that on Saturday night the Universiy of Tennessee defeated the Emory and Henry bunch by the score of 27-16.

MARYVILLE RESERVES DEFEAT MADISONVILLE FIVE AT MADISONVILLE

Turn Defeat In First Half To Victory In Second Half

Score 37--28

The Maryville Reserves distinguished themselves by capturing the scalps of the Madisonville High School at Madisonville Saturday night, the score being 34-28. Williams was the star of the evening throwing six field goals for Madisonville. Hernandez scintillated somewhat, also, getting away with five. Davidson and Hodge did some good work, each getting four. The first half was very close, and people talked in undertones when the score of 19-20 in favor of Madisonville was announced, but in the latter half the Junior Highlanders assumed the lead and held their opponents to eight points.

THE FEBRUARY MEETINGS

No man in business thinks of passing up his yearly inventory. Sometimes these inventories reveal to the business man some startling things. Perhaps some department which he thought paying well proves to be loaded down with overhead charges, is overstocked, has leakages that make it in reality a losing department of his business.

Those who have never been in our February meetings do not appreciate them. But those who have attended the past series of meetings realize how, in the lives of the students, they are like an invoice in the business world. Each man discovers the departments of life that are not paying profits; he discovers leakages that sap the vitality of his manhood, he discovers better methods and new departments of life which he may introduce into his own to make it pay larger dividends for himself, for his fellowmen, and for his God.

"Some people regard Christianity as a life insurance. This is the meanest conception of religion."

"We cannot put God Almighty in our cellar and use Him for convenience."

"Dedication means giving OVER, not giving UP."

HARDER WORK IN COLLEGES

There is evidence of a disposition on the part of college authorities to make college work harder. There has been, say some who are in a position to pass judgment, too much "intellectual pampering." Things have been too easy. And there has been too much indulgence. The road to knowledge, in short, has been made too easy and too smooth. President John Grier Hibben, of Princeton is among those who hold to these views. Says he:

If I were asked to name the greatest defect of the present undergraduate, I would say it was his tendency to postpone until tomorrow the task of today. Colleges connive in this by making his work agreeable; the teacher at once helps him over any difficulty. Men in the world must earn their daily bread by the sweat of their brows, but the student can acquire knowledge quite vicariously without having to exert himself for it. He should be made to think his way out of difficulties for himself.

There is a great deal of truth in this, of course. That fact is quite obvious. The surprising thing about most college graduates except those perhaps, who have had technical training, is how little they seem to know. They may know a very great deal, to be sure, but they fail somehow to inspire any one with confidence in their knowledge. Was that the case with the college graduate of twenty or thirty years ago? We fancy not. He came from the university surer of himself than the graduate of today. He was more independent; he had greater selfreliance. He appeared to be less helpless. He seemed to have acquired with his education a certain degree of steadiness, of decision, of faith in himself.

This is not to say that the college graduate of today lacks assurance. He has that, as a rule, in plenty. But conviction. This might easily come from the fact that, as President Hibben charges, colleges make his work too agreeable, and at the same time the same colleges are always too ready to help him when difficulty confronts him. He does not find it as necessary to "dig" as his father did. His own powers and abilities, consequently, remain unknown to him; he does not discover them. He is not so sure of himself, therefore, as he would like to have us believe he is.

This is theory, of course. When it comes to analyzing the college graduate the obstacles are many and the results far from certain. But what such educators as President Hibben have to say is worth considering. They have every opportunity to acquaint themselves with the facts.

BAINONIANS

"Great minds run in the same channels," we are told, and probably for that reason Bainonian almost had a Leap Year program last Saturday night. The program committee had planned only one leap year number—the debate, but Miss Helen Lewis evidently allowed her mind to run in the same channel as that of the composite mind of the committee, because as the first literary number of the program, she read "A Leap Year Proposal."

Needless to say the reading was heartily encored, for not only was Miss Lewis' excellent interpretation appreciated, but her subject also.

The subject of the debate was, "Resolved, That girls should seize the opportunities which Leap Year Offers." Miss Lily Mitchell debated the affirmative, and Miss Carrie Sheddan the negative side of the question.

The chief points made by the affirmative were: First, "Preparedness" results from training so obtained which fits one for present and future emergencies in case the man does not rise to the occasion, and in case it becomes a question of survival of the fittest should our fair country receive within her bounds surplus women immigrating from Europe as a result of the present European war. Second, "Novelty is the spice of life," and therefore the rare Leap Year opportunities should not be ignored, as they may at least help to lighten the weary years of single blessedness. Third and last, but not least, the slow but sure trend of social custom toward equality of sexes should be furthered by all progressive maidens.

The argumeut for the negative was based on: First, the financial embarrassment incurred by bold damsel in assuming the extra expense of leap year opportunities. Second, the loss of the lady like instinct and shy modesty. And third and finally, the agony of soul which would fall to her lot should she be "stung."

Both debaters waxed eloquent, and so the suspense was great until the judges rendered the decision in favor of the affirmative.

The next number brought us again to the real issues of life. This was a reading, "The Heritage," given by Miss Stella Carver. The selection is a beautiful thought, beautifully expressed, and Miss Carver's work was heartily applauded.

The musical part of the program was a piano duet by Misses Gibson and Meek, and two vocal solos by Miss Doris Wilson. Miss Wilson first sang "Until," and then in response to an encore "Just A' Wearin' for You" which is a favorite with everyone.

The program committee is planning some instructive and interesting programs for the future and to these visitors will be cordially welcomed, for the Bainonian latch string is always out.

TWO TAKE HIKE TO CUMBERLANDS

The Cumberland Mountains lie parallel to the Smokies and Chilhowee Mountains and cross the State of Tennessee in a northeastern and southwestern direction about seventy-five miles from the Chilhowees. In hiking from Maryville to the Cumberlands, the valley of East Tennessee is crossed. This great valley is the trough between the Smoky range and the Cumberland tableland.

All the streams that collect in Southwestern Virginia and in the northern part of East Tennessee crawl down through the hills and ridges of this valley. So in hiking from Maryville to the Cumberlands, streams, low ridges and small valleys are crossed.

Leaving Maryville at 3:40 Thursday afternoon, we, a party of two, reached Knoxville in time for supper before 5:30. At about 5:30 p. m. we left Knoxville on the Maynardville pike, a good road that runs northwest, directly toward the Cumberlands. After having crossed seven ridges, seven valleys and seven creeks, and having covered twenty-four miles of moonlit road, we arrived at Clinch river at 11:50 p. m. We crossed by canal. Two miles farther a farmer kindly received us at the still hour of 12:40. We arose in time to get breakfast by daylight, ready for the final dash. The pike had been left twelve miles behind, a graded road had ended four miles back and now we were traveling over roads that the buffaloes had surveyed—rough and hilly.

At about 6:30 Friday morning we set out to cover the last twenty miles of our journey. After traveling two miles we crossed Powell River. Our road led up this river to Davis Creek. Following Davis Creek for about eight miles we came to Pawell's Valley, a wide fertile valley that spreads out like a carpet at the feet of the Cumberlands.

After crossing the valley and climbing the mountain we reached McLain Rock, on top of the Cumberlands, at 12:30 p. m. After drinking in the wonderful landscape spread around us, and after picking out familiar scenes in our road behind us, we went beyond the mountain top about a half mile to Alum Cave. The mouth of this cave is about 20 feet wide and 100 feet high. Over the center of the top of the mouth pours a small stream, which hits below in a spray. The cave is a beautiful piece of nature especially bedecked with es of evergreens as it was. icicles and surrounded by thick mass-

Here, under the roof of the cave, broiled meat and roasted eggs added much to the pleasures of the hour. We were within eight miles of the Kentucky line. This was the end of our journey, our ultimate objective.

Returning by a different road we reached the home where we had spent the night before, at about 7:00 p. m. Here we remained until 12:30 the next day, Saturday, when we started for Coal Creek, a town fifteen miles southwest of us. Here we took a train for Knoxville, arriving at about 7:00 p. m.

The K. & A. carried us back to M. C. on Monday at 8:15 a. m.

We had crossed the valley of East Tennessee, had seen the Cumberlands, had crossed four rivers and many creeks, had been in seven counties, and had accumulated thousands of red corpuscles.

ATHENIANS JR.

Again the Junior Section of the Athenian Literary Society rendered an excellent program. Mr. Graves gave us an interesting talk on "Hook Worms". As he has been studying this work it is natural that he could give us some good information concerning this disease and also tell us how it can be destroyed. Besides this talk we had a good debate and two excellent readings. Every one that was on the program came out and showed their spirit by being well prepared. I am sure all the boy s present enjoyed themselves.

On Saturday Febraary the twenty-sixth there is to be a rare treat for the Junior sections of both the Alpha Sigma and Athenian Literary Societies. These two societies are to meet in the Athenian hall and join in a brotherly meeting. We want to see the hall full. We are anxious to see all the men from both societies out. Don't disappoint us by not coming. You will regret it if you do for there certainly is to be an excellent program rendered.

Bartlett spoke of the essentials in a revival campaign. He mentioned three factors, the Holy Spirit, the Truth, and the people of God. From the start, the Christian students of the College worked together in uniy and harmony, realizing the great responsibility that rested upon them as the "people of God" of Maryville College. In the prayer services for the workers at the Y. M. C. A., in the meetings on the various floors in the halls, in the personal conversations of the student-workers and teachers with those who were as yet undecided as to their relations to Christ, a general spirit of helpfulness and good-will pervaded. It was wonderful to look on and notice how all differences were laid aside between student and student, and between student and teacher, and how closely students were united to each other and to the faculty. Surely the Gospel of Christ can work wonders! It makes one forget self in his or her zeal to win others for the great Christ.

The closing service on the last Friday morning will long be remembered as the most impressive service of the whole meeting. The battle had been fought. The victory had been won. Yet there were a few who were still undecided. Mr. Bartlett asked those who had accepted the Christ during the meetings to again confess Him by standing, and many young men and women responded. In a very earnest, tender and loving appeal, he asked those who had not made the decision as yet to "come across" on the last morning. To his great joy, and to the great joy of all the Christian students, a good number responded. Following the custom of the whole meeting, the Doxology was sung for each of the students who had made the decision, and then Mr. Bartlett asked the students to give the "How-we-How" for Jesus Christ. He then asked all who had decided for Christ to come forward to the platform, shake his hand, and receive a beautiful little pocket Testament, which would help them keep close to the Saviour they had found. With the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love", and "God be with you till we meet again," there closed the twelve happiest days that the sudents had yet experienced on College Hill.

Almost the whole student body followed Mr. Bartlett to he train on which he was to leave for Knoxville. A number of the young women were seen with tears in their eyes as they saw him leave the Chapel, and no doubt there was a "thump" in the hearts of the young men, too. At the train, standing on the rear end, the great man asked us to sing the chorus "Since Jesus came into my heart", which drew the attention of all the passengers on the train. He then asked us to sing the Doxology three times, the last verse being sung as the train was pulling out, while all the students were giving him the Chautauqua salute.

As a result of the meetings, 83 young men and women openly confessed Christ for the first time, 285 students reconsecrated their lives to God, all had their faith renewed and strengthened, their vision enlarged, and their hearts warmed. Faculty and students have been drawn together in a closer bond of love and fellowship, and a spirit of good will is prevalent all over the hill. All feel like saying with Joseph of old, "Surely God is in this place!"

LYCEUM NUMBER IS GIVEN BY HUNGARIAN ORCHESTRA

Mr. Schildkret's Company Shows Great Musical Skill

Large And Appreciative Audience Hear The Concert In Voorhees Chapel

Those who attended the performance given in Voorhees chapel last Friday night by the Schildkret Hungarian orchestra, were certainly treated to a musical feast. Although we could hardly call this repast a Hungarian goulash, still it cannot be denied that it consisted of a little of everything.

First came the "Miserere," from Il Travatore, beautifully executed. The artistic effect was decidedly enhanced by the rendering of the tenor solo part by the flute, from the rear of the chapel. Then followed a delightful program the varied nature of which is indicated in part, at least, by the following numbers: Hungarian waltzes; medley of grand opera airs; The Last Rose of Summer; Sari Waltzes; Dixie; My Old Kentucky Home. Beethoven's Minuet in G; Schubert's Serenade; Home Sweet Home; The Rosary; I Love You Truly; Farewell, from the Bird of Paradise; Think of Me, an original composition of Mr. Schildkret's; When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day; and the Star Spangled Banner.

Every one of the company was an artist, and a whole souled artist. The result was that the performance was not only one in which the listener could enjoy the perfection of technique, but it was one which was pervaded throughout by a spirit of buoyant enthusiasm that transmitted itself from the platform to the audience.

Mr. Schildkret, the leader of the orchestra, is a man whom an audience cannot help admiring as an artist, nor can they help liking him as an individual. HeH plays his instrument, the flute, with remarkable technical finish, and with an abandon and fervor that carry his hearers with him whether they will or no. And he possesses a droll humor that was responsible to no little degree for the pleasure of the evening's entertainment. His assurance, after each number, that the best was yet to come, was as true, however, as it was humorous.

The best IS yet to come, when the Hungarian Orchestra returns to Maryvllie to give us another treat.

REV. W.T. THOMPSON D. D., GIVES AN ADDRESS AT Y. M. C. A.

An Excellent Address On The Subject "Purpose"

Says A Great Evil In College Life Is Lack Of A Fixed And Unmovable Purpose

The Y. M. C. A. was complimented very highly on Sunday afternoon by having Rev. W. T. Thompson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Knoxville as its leader for the special meeting of this month. Mr. Thompson had a large audience waiting for him when he arrived in an auto from Knoxville. His subject was "Purpose" and he beautifully presented his arguments for "Purpose" by claiming that a purposive life must be noble, self-denying, and founded on Jesus Christ. The speaker being a young man with a pleasing and winsome personality and a voluminous vocabulary, he was able to interest the Y. M. C. A. men in a unique manner.

This was Mr. Thompson's second visit to our Y. M. C. A and it is hoped that he will respond many times more to our earnest solicitations for other visits by him.

MR. WILLIAM T. McINTYRE SPEAKS AT CHAPEL IN INTEREST OF I. P. A.

Urges College Men To Get Back Of The Great Prohibition Movement

Mr William T. McIntyre, secretary of the Inter-collegiate Prohibition Association, gave a short and instructive address at chapel last Thursday morning. Mr. McIntyre says that the saloons are being stamped out at the rate of 40 each day.

In the interest of the I. P. A., Mr. McIntyre said that one-half of the colleges in the United States are in the organization. The Association has 10,000 members and 2,500 students are enrolled in study courses given by the I. P. A. and credited by colleges.

He said that the oratorical contests conducted under the supervision of the I. P A. constitute the greatest forensic contest now in existence. Last year 1,200 students competed in this series of orations.

Mr. McIntyre urges that College men support the Prohibition movement because College men, although constituting 2 per cent of our total population, furnish more than 80 per cent of the leaders of the country.

Speaking of the success of the movement at present, the speaker said that 19 states now are dry and that a constitutional amendment for nation wide prohibition is receiving favorable consideration at the hands of the congressional committees, and is expected to show an increased number of supporters when it is presented to Congress for a vote.

Mr. McIntyre said that the I. P. A. has been organized in Tennessee colleges for only four years and is now supported by only half of the colleges of the state, while in some of the states in the north and the east the organization has existed for 16 years.

COACH EVERETT

Coach Everett Calls For Baseball Recruits

The first step in the coming baseball season was taken last Wednesday when Coach Everett called for applicants for the squad. Many southern colleges began practice last week. On the first break of warm weather we are expecting to see a serpentine line trailing around the diamond and track getting up wind. Soon the thud of the catcher's mitt will be heard and at the sharp crack of the bat the white oval will be sent scintilating toward the vaulted blue. Then it will be great to be alive.

On account of the absence of some of the stars of the past seasons, the coach is anxious for all candidates to come out early so a team may be whipped into shape before March 16. "Hook" Dawson is pitching law books at Chicago this year. "Rabbit" Kelley, instead of scooping up the oval around third, is scooping hay. Lindsay Johnson, the crack second baseman, before whose stick the pride of so many pitchers vanished, is at Davidson.

With the large number of recruits, and with the excellent schedule that Manager Carver has arranged, we are expecting Coach Everett to present a formidable team.

SCHEDULE FOR 1916

The baseball schedule is as follows, however all the dates are not absolutely correct, but most probably the games will stand practically unchanged from the dates given in the following:

Wheat High School at Maryville, March 17 and 18.

Knoxville Independants at Knoxville March 25 (tentative).

Athens Dept. University of Chattanooga at Athens March 27 and 28 (tentative).

Philadelphia Athletics at Knoxville April 3.

Erskine College at Due West, S. C. April 10.

CHANGE OF FACULTY IN DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

Prof. A. S. Myers Resigns To Accept Position In N. Y. City

Rev. C. K. Hoyt D. D. Of Hamilton College Is Secured as English Professor

Prof. Albert Stuart Myers was elected to the chair of Rhetoric and Public Speaking at Maryville College last summer and has been conducting that work during the current year Recently he decided to enter other work at the end of the year and has found it to his advantage to return to New York this winter and enter upon that work. He, however, loyally offered to remain at Maryville College throughout the year if it should prove difficult to supply his place.

By a happy chance it was possible to make satisfactory arrangements for his work, so he was released from his engagement and carries with him the hearty good will of the College authorities.

Prof. Myers is a thorough and accurate scholar. He has had the best advantages that are afforded by culture within the home and in the university, for his father was Rev. Dr. Myers of the Marble Collegiate Church of New York City, and his university was Columbia. He has thrown himself into the college work while at Maryville Colege.

The College was very fortunate in securing as substitute for Prof. Myers, Rev. Charles Kimball Hoyt, D.D., a very prominent educator. Among his fields of labor have been Bellevue College, where he was professor of English literature for fourteen years, and Huron College, where he taught for four years,leaving there last commencement on account of the rigorous climate. Dr. Hoyt is a graduate of Hamilton College, so famous for the type of public speakers it develops; and of Auburn Theological Seminary. He was once secretary of the College Board of the Presbyterian Church. He was a contributor to the last edition of Johnson's Encyclopedia.

Dr. Hoyt began his work at Maryville on Monday, and took hold of his task with vigor and enthusiasm. He has a room at Prof. Hall's.

BEAUTY CONTEST CLOSED SATURDAY AT NOON

Sixteen Beauties Were Voted Upon, The Four Winners Being Misses Rice, Townsend, West and Copeland

As the city clock made its final stroke of 12 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 26, the Maryville College Beauty Contest closed.

The four most fair, graceful and lovely damsels on college hill were selected by the popular vote of the students to be placed on record as the four most beautiful girls in college. These four young ladies who were thus blessed by nature and who are characterized by their grandeur and magnificence are here named according to the number of their votes: Miss Marie Townsend, of Clenton, N. J.; Miss Mabel Dorothy Rice, of Seven Mile, Ohio; Miss Frances West, of El Paso, Texas, and Miss Anna Copeland, of Sparta, Tenn.

The writer is prevented by lack of words in expressing a true description of the above named superb beings. It woluld necessitate the vocabulary of a Samuel Johnson or of a Noah Webster, or of a William Shakspere in rendering a just portrayal of these four individuals. While these young ladies must possess ample outward beauty,they surely must possess individuality to a great extent to

FACULTY--SENIOR GAME HARD FOUGHT AND EXCITING

Faculty Men and Ladies Win in First Halves Only to be Defeated in Last Half.

Score of Ladies, 17-10 Score of Men 18 to 16

Perhaps to the largest, and without doubt the most interesting, crowd that ever thronged Bartlett gymnasium, the Faculty and Seniors of both sexes issued a fac-simile of the popular game known as basketball last Thursday evening. The scores of both games were 17-10 and 18-16, against the "faculty girls" and the" faculty boys", respectively. But these plain figures are too prosaic to in any way represent the high class performance which so delighted the large and sympathetic audience. "Ladies first" brought cheer after cheer, not only the "root-te-te-toot" from the gallery, but a prolonged voiceferous outburst from the northeast corner of the gym. where the active athletic Gillingham was leading his strong bunch of superannuated former stars. For ten long minutes the battle raged, Misses Fanson and Alexander, time and again, pushing an opponent over a line for a gain of six inches while Miss Green starred most gracefully in falling on the ball. Miss Martin played a star game in her position, forming a very effective barrier to further progress to any in whose way she might happen to be. The half ended with the score 5-6 in favor of the faculty girls, And now here is where the real fun began, when the sturdy Seniors who have for many weeks been holding down prominent positions in an A league clashed with the old-timers of the faculty who made a last desparate attempt to "come back", Capt. "Slim" Johnson, "divinely tall, and just a trifle spare", with his sociological head and historical feet really looked swell in his new jersey bought on last St. Patrick's Day but worn on this occasion in honor of the Freshman Class. Although Referee Feeman had lots of trouble keeping "Red" Walker in the same ring with Johnson, out of courtesy to the two gentlemen he merely suppressed a smile and drew in his mind's eye another circle which would better suit the occasion. Prof. Davis, in order not to be confused with Prof. Johnson, et al had also adorned himself in a sweater of very distinct hue. His real purpose in this has not yet been discovered but, at least this one conclusion was drawn—Prof. Davis' hair is not red at all—it's just a pale pink. This famous player, with his Roman nose and Grecian beauty played a most magnificent game, guarding well and passing in many instances where others less brilliant would have flunked.

Prof. Walker also played a very scientific game—it not being the first time he had come into contact with the Seniors, he was pretty well up on their tactics and fought shy of Rankin's knee and Harwell's stiff arm, not to mention Dave's "Look out here, 'fessor". But the real star of the evening has not yet been mentioned. "Dad Jim" Brittain literally starred. Observers from the gallery were so amazed at it's peculiar characteristics as to size and motion that some trouble was given as to how to classify this stellar phenomenon. Some said it was about the size and color of a Pearson's plate, others claimed a kind of fringe encircled it. Sometimes it appeared to be controlled by no natural law but darted here and there with great velocity among the other heavenly bodies. All agreed that it shone brightly, presenting an effulgent beauty almost dazzling in whiteness. But the best is yet to come. Without doubt Prof. Perkins was the favorite of the evening. No one has ever had such good luck in holding down a varsity player. Dave

STUDENT SELF-GOVERNMENT

In modern ideals and ideas, student self-government is prominent both in theory and in practice, and much can be said in its favor. But its chief advantages result from the development of character of the individual and from training him for efficient citizenship in the future, for the last necessarily follows the first.

Student self-government develops the character of the individual first in making him feel his responsibility to himself and to his fellows as a member of a self-governing semi-political social group for the law and order of that group. Thus it tends to make him self-reliant and at the same time co-operative. It enables him to foresee the needs and issues of the day, and it developes his leadership as well as his moral courage in placing on him the responsibility of meeting and satisfactorily disposing of these issues.

Again, self-government will tend to develop loyalty to principle instead of loyalty to a personality, and thus it will train the judgment in weighing the relative merits or values of the issue at stake. And these elements are the essentials of strong character and of good citizenship.

Next one would know, What are the types of students to be influenced or affected by student self-government? In every student body there are three distinct types or classes of students. First, there is the conscientious student who obeys the rules and regulations of the existing form of government because he feels that, having voluntarily placed himself under this government, he can do no less than stand by its rulings so far as they do not demand of him violation of his principles, altho he may not consider them altogether just. His response to student self-government will be conscientious initiative based on deliberate judgment and self-control.

Then there is another type of student—he who obeys rules for policy's sake, fearing an infringement might mean to him the loss of some aid. But in the system of self-government, the motive of policy being removed, this student, though less conscientious than the first, will uphold the system sincerely because he has no fear save the merited censure of his fellows should he shirk his part and responsibility.

The third type of student will probably be aided more than either of the others. He it is who asserts his independence and "originality" by breaking a rule because he feels it unjust or irksome, and because he likes to prove to himself most of all his ability "to slip one over on" those in authority. He does this because he regards authority by which he is hampered as despotic. With this attitude the consequence to himself or to others following a breach of law is given little consideration. Yet were he made responsible for existing laws, he too would learn to appreciate the responsibility of the individual in maintainng the law and order of the social group of the student body, responsibility comes "nearer home" than in a larger and less primitive type of society.

With the existing order of things, Maryville College is not ready for self-government now. But when her plant shall have been enlarged by the addition of new buildings made possible by the fund for the Forward movement, it will be possible also for the Prep and College departments to be separated, and self-government for the College students will then be feasible.

This will result ultimately in good for both departments. It will give the College students the "meat" of school life, instead of the "milk," which they now have in common with Prep and Eighth grade students, for all are under exactly the same restrictions. To the Preps it will present a goal toward which they may strive. And since self-government means responsibility, let us strive to make ourselves worthy and capable of assuming that responsibility in the future by a just and "square" attitude toward our present form of government.

THETA EPSILON SOCIETY ADDRESSED BY MRS. ALEXANDER

The Theta Epsilon society was fortunate in being addressed by Mrs. Alexander on Saturday evening, Feb. 26. She took as her subject Rabindranath Tagore, the Hindoo poet of Bengal, and her talk wasmade doubly interesting by the use of pictures. Tagore was born in India in 1861. His family is distinguished for its talent, for he has a brother who is afamous musician, and a sister whois the first Indian editor of a magazine, while he himself is the second Anglo Indian to receive the Nebel prize. He has studied for some time in England and is master of the languages ofhrd and is master of English as well as of the languages of India. In this way he has done some valuable work in translation, for altho his English is pure, yet he preserves to a high degree, the color and softness which form the atmosphere of Oriental literature. Tagore is also the founder of a boys' school, half Indian, half European in its plan, but highly successful, nevertheless.

It is needless to say that Mrs. Alexander's talk was greatly enjoyed by the Theta girls. We are all acquainted with her beauttiful and interesting manner of presenting a subject, and Thetas thoroughly appreciate her kindness in coming to us.

Tusculum College has organized a Community Improvement League composed of the men of the college. The purpose of the league is three fold: First, to promote the good fellowship of the people of the community; secondly, to augment the social idea and advance social life; thirdly, to seek out ways of improving the appearence and welfare of the town.

LAW OF THE TABLE

(The "Highland Echo" suggests that the members of the Maryville College Co-operative Boarding Club read the following, which is a modification of an article by Dr. Frank Crane, of the New York Globe, and apply as much of it as possible to themselves at Pearsons Hall:)

1. Bring with you a CHEERFUL MIND to the table.
2. Don't read at the table. We won't "kick" if you apply this also to the "Highland Echo".
3. Converse with the folks at the table. Don't sit there like an automatic dummy, whose mouth opens every time its elbow goes up.
4. Don't hurry. Subject to modification if you get in late. Prof. Walker's bell (Blessings on it or words to that effffect!) don't even wait for Aubrey Williams.
5. Never reprove the waitress or some body else at the table. Wait till you see them outside.
6. Neglect no one at the table. Remember the poor fellow who sits at the end.
7. Laugh as much as you can . It helps your digestion. Crack a joke once in a while. Sing,—if you can. (Subject to change by the Boarding Club authorities.)
8. Avoid satiety. Arise from the table a little hungry.

Y. W. C. A.

The usual Sunday afternoon Y. W. C. A. service was held in the Theta Epsilon hall last Sabbath and there was a good atendance. This day was was set apart especiallyfor prayer for the World-Wide Student Federation. Then in an tineresting manner, Miss Elizabeth Kehr reviewed one of the "Inch Library" books—"The Difference Between Feeling and Willing in a Girl's Religion."

" 'Way down in the bottom of our hearts there is often a secret about our religious life that torments us. We took that promise,—"Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in to him;" and we opened the door of our heart the best we knew how, and—we might as well own up—we did not feel any difference in us. God did not seem any nearer; in fact, we did not feel as though anything new had come to us.'

Miss Kehr showed that there had been a confusion—feeling with willing; we had been more concerned about having spiritual sensations than about having a will that is given over to God's purposes. There were three special musical selections which added a great deal to the ef-have won in this contest. For one kind of beauty is injury without the other, and it soon passes away as does that beauty of a delicate flower; while the other kind of beauty can live as long as time goes on, unfettered and uncontrolled.

There is no question in the unprejudiced and intelligent minded people that we will be well represented by the chosen four in the beauty world.

With malice towards none, with good will for all, the writer can say with the support of a large number of students, that there could be other four damsels chosen from among our college girls who would not in the least bring discredit to this institution in such a contest.

The management of the Chilhowean deserves credit for originating such a unique plan for increasing the value of the Chilhowean to this extent. There is no question that there will be marketed more and better annuals this year than ever before in the history of this college.

FACULTY-SENIOR GAME

tried his best to get away on hearing those strange mutterings when he happened to approach ezvous zu vill, but Perkins stuck to his men and played a game that if seen in the realm of social etiquette would have made a Scotch Saturday afternoon pale into insignificance.

At the end of the first period which was one continuous round of applause the score stood 8-7 in favor of the faculty. So it became necessary to put in Mr. Frater and Mr. Weisbecker who for several reasons failed to turn the tide. Of course we would not accuse Homer W. of being disloyal but it is a self-evident ward the Seniors Class, and it is safe to say that after seeing the outcome of the girls' game he was so overjoyed that he just thot he'd make her feel good by "making it two". Like Sampson the strength of Homer F. lies in his hair, but since the night he lost his hirsute growth near the corporation line on West Main Street he has been a little weak. Instead of being the muscular physique he once was, he is now a little shaver.

ATHENIANS JR.ENTERTAIN ALPHA SIGMA JR. IN JOINT MEETING

Although the remarkable trial of the man with the "red hair, red beard, flashy eyes and rather rough lookin' " cut a big slice out of the splendid program that was laboriously prepared by Mr. Zollie Howard, Athenian, and Mr. R. A. Young, Alpha Sigma, yet, we are thankful to say, it didn't spoil all the fun.

One of the best debates ever given in the Junior societies was "pulled off" last Saturday night at the joint meeting. The subject for debate was, "Resolved: That the literary test should be applied to all immigrants entering the U. S." Mr. Jules Gratiot and Mr. E. F. Cody showed up splendidyl for the affirmative and Mr. Ralph A. Young and Mr. James Martin did likewise for the negative.

The music, violin and piano, furnished by Messrs. Rawles and Huber was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The last number on the program was "The Athenian—Alpha Sigma Journal" by Messrs. Hernandez, Howard and Jenkins.The "Journal" seemed to be more humorous than instructive. Some of the jokes were rather "raw", but most of them were thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed.

The members of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society (Junior) wish to express their appreciation to the members of the Athenian Literary Society (Junior) for their hospitality and kindness in inviting them to this Joint meeting, and hope to be able to reciprocate in the near future.

taking from J. B. Ross and selling of five head of cattle on Nov. 14, 1915. The state proved by its witnesses that the defendant stole the cattle and sold them in Knoxville. The defendant pleaded not guilty and the defense tried to prove that the defendant was at home cutting wood at the time the cattle were taken. They failed to sustain their position by proper evidence.

The case was well argued on both sides, and was one which involved much interest. There was a large crowd of young people present at this trial.

STUDENT BODY GIVES OVER $100 TO BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE

Money to be Used in Constructing a New Auditorium.

Dr. Weatherford Speaks on Oriental Conditions.

At our chapel service last Wednesday morning, Dr. W. D. Weatherford, Southern Field Executive Secretary of the Student Department of the Y. M. C. A., gave us one of the best missionary talks it has been our pleasure to hear this year. He spoke at length of the conditions in the Orient and showed how Christianity was gradually obtaining a firmer hold, although greatly hindered by the superstitions of the people. He told of the eagerness of the Oriental student to study about Christianity and of the many invitations he had received to speak in the Colleges and Universities of China, Korea, and Japan. He closed by appealing to the students to devote their lives to God's service in the Orient--the place where it can count for most.

After finishing his missionary talk Dr. Weatherford announced that he had still another talk to make so he proceeded to tell of that "Palace in the Woods"—Blue Ridge, the home of the Southern Student Conferences. A few days ago the writer received in his mail "A Toast to Blue Ridge" and he feels he cannot do better than quote from it. "I think Dr. Weatherford who selected this conference ground must have had in mind the men and women all over the South, who when the long hot days of summer came, need a vacation in the mountains and can go to Blue Ridge for two weeks rest and recreation.No more delightful place could have been chosen in which to offer the members who gather there every year a happy and profitable vacation. There are classes in Bible study, mission study, social service, personal evangelism, efficiency, and many

FIRST PRELIMINARY INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES HELD

Captains of Teams and Sides of Question are Chosen.

The first of the intercollegiate preliminary debates was held in Voorhees chapel Wednesday night, March 1, 1916. The proposition for discussion was: Resolved, That a Federal Board should be established to which all labor disputes shall be referred for compulsory arbitration.

The debate started at 6 o'clock with Prof. Johnson as chairman,Prof. Davis timekeeper, and Professors Barnes and Hoyt judges.

Those contesting were Deck Williams, O. H. Logan, J. M. Cox, Homer Frater, W. B. Holmes, J. H. Turner, and C. E. Conrad. Each speaker was given 10 minutes, and 5 minutes for rebuttal. The contest was very exciting as well as hard fought. However, the judges had to select some one to be the alternate, and the lot fell to J. M. Cox.

Then came the problem of selecting the teams in such a maner as to make them of approximately equal strength. After much deliberation Deck Williams was chosen as captain of the negative team, with W. B. Holmes and J. H. Turner as his colleagues, and C. E. Conrad was chosen captain of the affirmative team with Homer Frater and O. H. Logan as his colleagues. This was really an example of compulsory arbitration, with Prof. Johnson as judge of the court. The remarkable thing about it was that the awards did not have to be enforced, but each side accepted them as being just. The affirmative hope to be able to prove that this will be the result in every case, while the negative will, no doubt, prove that this was an exceptional case, and that the court will have to enforce its awards.

P R O F. JOHNSON TAKES "CITY PROBLEM" CLASS TO KNOXVILLE

Various Departments of the City Studied.

Much Shown Students by the City Officials.

A new standerd was set for sociological study by Maryville students when Prof. Johnson took his class in City Problems to Knoxville last Saturday, in order that they might do some first hand investigation. Of course the entire class could not go, for various reasons, but about twelve of the boys, accompanied by Prof. Johnson, boarded the 7 o'clock L. & N. train for the metropolis of Knoxville. Immediatly after our arrival there we went to the Board of Commerce and were given letters of introduction to a number of plants and institutions. The first visit of research was made to the Market house and city offices. Here we first called upon Commissioner Little, who received us very cordially, and who willingly gave all the information for which we asked. He is head of the Department of Public Safety, and so it was here that we gained our knowledge concerning the Knoxville Police Department, and something of the Fire Department, although we visited that later. He also took us through the city halls and police headquarters Fortunately, or otherwise, we all escaped from there and soon were turned over to Commissioner John W. Flenniken head of the Department of Public Improvements. He told us many interesting and instructive things about the conditions and developments of his department. Some of the things told us here were the conditions and expenses of the Knoxville streets, including paving, lighting, and planning in general. We had expected to patronize the K. R. & L. Company's street cars for further visits, but Mr. Flenniken's hospitality extended further than "nice talk," and to our pleasant surprise he furnished two large and beautiful autos for our transportation to the Knoxville water plant, the only municipally owned public uility of the city. Here we had a good visit, and learned among other things that about eight million gallons of river water are filtered there every day for use throughout the city.

About 11 o'clock a. m., we were taken to the main division of the Fire Department. Here our good treatment did not cease, for Chief Boyd gave us a real treat by explaining in detail the different kinds of sparatus the department uses, and also by demonstrating for us. From all we could see and hear, Knoxville has one of the best fire departments of any city in the south. Certainly very few cities have a better posted and more accommodating chief than is chief Boyd. It was now noon, and although we had not visited all the places of interest we were compelled to discontinue our investigations, for the afternoon was to be otherwise occupied. The trip was a grand success, and it is to be hoped that we shall take others in the near future.

Judge: "What's your occupation?"

Mike: "I'm a sailor"

Judge: "You don't look like a sailor. I don't believe you were ever on a ship,"

Mike: "Do you think I came over from Ireland in a hack,"

"Little" Nellie Wilson giggles in German all the time.

Mary Kate: "Why are locomotives considered as being in the feminine gender?"

Frater: "A locomotive is considered as being in the feminine gender because it takes a man to run it."

BALDWIN GIRLS ENTERTAIN MRS. PYLE AND MISS COOK

On Friday night several Baldwin Hall girls entertained in honor of Mrs. Pyle, Miss Jackson's visitor, and Miss Cooke, who is visiting the College. The back parlor of Baldwin was prettily arranged with pillows and potted plants. Each guest was escorted to the parlor by one of the hostesses, and there conversation held sway until refreshments were served. The first course was: potato salad, cheese straws, pickles and beaten biscuit; The second: tea and doughnuts. The guests were then entertained with readings by Misses Clarice Phipps, and Marie and Gail Wilson, and music by Miss Josie Miller and her banjo. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all.

Those present were Mrs. Pyle, Misses Cooke, Jackson, Caldwell and Coulter, Anna Cochran, Vola Runyan Loma Rogers, Katherine Guess Clarice Phipps, Blanche Gallian, Frances West, Josie Miller and Marie and Gail Wilson.

The baseball practice was delayed last week by darue nature, who covered the diamond with a soft layerer of snow. This week the artists of the pellet are to be seen in their opening practice.

Already new suits have been orderde that, with the exception of the phisiogornies of the team, will enable our team to rank with the best in appearance. Someone said that the grin of the Coach and the reflected rays from pitcher LaRue's glasses will add luster to the "superb magnificence" of the team.

Lester King, who has been teaching, and who has been so much feared by College pitchers, will be out of school ready to enter Maryville College soon.

Teams are to be met in North and South Carolina which no Maryville team has ever faced.

The old varsity men, who will try for first team positions, and the number of years that they have played follow:

All things bid fair for a most successful baseball season. Our coach openly challenges all schools, association or non-association for the Southern Championship.

STUDENTS MEET WITH MUCH SUCCESS IN MISSION WORK

Over 100 Enrolled in Battle Branch Sunday School.

Special Music Given by Male Quartet.

The workers of the Battle Branch Mission spent a very enjoyable and profitable evening on March 2nd., at at the home of President S. T. Wilson, through the courtesy and kindness of Miss Mamie Wilson, who is one of the Sunday School teachers at the Mission, besides being its Secretary and Treasurer.

The Mission Sunday School has had a phenomenal growth since the beginning of the year. The attendance has increased from the usual twenty or thirty to one hundred, which was the attendance last Sunday. The Mission is to be congratulated upon its efficient and earnest corps of workers, who are all working together in unity and harmony to better the moral, mental and spiritual (as well as physical) condition of the people in the slums of Maryville. We all feel especially grateful for the infusion of new life into the Mission with the enlistment of "Bob" Gamon, as teacher of the Boy's Class, and Pat Quinn, as teacher of the Young Men's Class. "Bob" is doing a great work with his boys, as was evidenced from the recent hike which they took together. "Bob" is working to help the boys physically as well as spiritually.

Mr. C. F. Leonard has been leading the Friday night Preaching Services, and he is planning upon an extensive evangelistic campaign for the rest of the year. In connection with this, he has organized a plan of visitation work, which is now being carried on among the people by the workers, each worker giving as much of his or her time to it as possible.

Last Sunday we had the privilege of having with us "Shorty" Wallin's Quartet, including, besides Mr. S. E. Wallin, Mr. Pat Quinn, Mr. "Turkey" Smith, Mr. Reed Garrison. Everybody enjoyed their sacred selections, and, as an evidence of the popularity they have gained by this visit, they will be in Jail next Sunday (having been engaged for the Jail by the Social Service Committee of the Y. M. C. A.)

All students who are interested in the Mission work are cordially invited to pay us a visit, and be inspired by the work that is being carried on.

MRS. ALEXANDER AT CHAPEL SPEAKS OF Y. W. C. A. JUBILEE

Gives a Short History of the Work of This Organization.

Students Enjoy the Excellent Address.

Mrs. Alexander gave a very interesting address at chapel last Friday morning on the subject. "The Object Of The Y. W. C. A. Jubilee." She said that the object of the jubilee was two fold viz: To honor Miss Grace Dodge and to raise money for the Y. W. C. A., and second to give publicity to the work of the Y. W. C. A.

In giving the characteristics of the Y. W. C. A. the speaker said that it was organized soon after the Civil war to care for the young women who had to leave the country and seek employment in the city.

The usefulness of the association is seen in the service which it rendered to those who attended the Panama Exposition. There over 10,000,000. lunches were served to women, about 500 questions were answered each day and about 15,000 attended each of the vesper services held by the Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. also entertaines women who travel, by providing rest rooms for them. Mrs. Alexander said that she had been entertained in Glasgow, in Edinburg and in many other European cities by this association.

It is a special feature of the Y. W. C. A. to care for the laboring girls in the cities. So valuable has the organization proven that today it has 343,000 members in the United States and about 780,000 members in the whole world.

M. C. GIRLS WIN GAME FROM ATHENS QUINTET

Visiting Forwards Shot Accurately When Ball Got to Them.

Score 45-9

Last Friday night Maryville Girl's Varsity added another stupendous victory to their immaculate record, by defeating the team from Athens by the score of 45-9. Athens started off by scoring a point or two and it looked as if a good game was in the making. But the Maryville guards tightened up a little on their opponents, and the forwards began their usual goal-tossing feast. The basket honors were divided equally between Misses Martin and Wilson each making twenty-two points, and the latter tossed the only goal. Both guards played an excellent game, keeping the ball well out of the hands of their opponents as they found it wise to do so. For Athens Miss Grey played the best. Maryville's best playing came in the last half when the score was 29-4.

The line up:

Wilson 22	forward	Grey
Martin 22	forward	Jenkins
Webb	Center	Rowan
S. Stinnett	guard	Johnson
Maryville 45		Athens 9
Enloe	guard	Dodson

MARYVILLE FIVE LOSE GAME TO KENTUCKY AT LEXINGTON

Game Was Fast and Hard Fought From Start to Finish. Score 25-36.

Saturday night, following the night of the Cumberland game, Maryville lined up against one of the strongest teams of the South. The fans had expected a real basket-ball battle in the game and they were not disappointed when the last whistle sounded. Maryville was in the lead most of the first half; but in the last three minutes of that half the Ky., boys made a desperate effort to get in the lead. Their efforts were not in vain and the half ended 17-16.

The game was clean and fast throughout. Feeman, Crum and Smith did excellent work for Maryville. Hart and Server did the stellar work for Kentucky. The score ended 25-36.

CUMBERLAND FIVE FALL VICTIMS TO THE HIGHLANDERS

Score 33-22

The Maryville five added another one to their list when they easily took the scalp of the Cumberland bunch last Friday night, Feb. 4, by the score of 33-22. The Cumberland boys played a clean and hard fought game. However, they did not make their work so effective during the first period as they did the second. They came back so strong the second half with their noted passing and accuracy in long shooting, that it seemed more of a real battle. Crum and Witherspoon played the best game for Maryville. This was the first varsity game for John and he gave a good account for himself. Marlow shined for Cumberland while Ellison and W. Burkman were his close seconds.

THE FIRE

The fire that broke out last Saturday morning on the second floor of Carnegie Hall in room 50 comes as a warning to Maryville College. Had the fire begun thirty minutes later everybody would have been at luncheon and the flame would have gained such headway that it would have been impossible to extinguish it.

There are eleven buildings, including the President's residence, on the campus. The only equipment provided for the protection of these buildings from fire is a cambrous chemical machine kept in Anderson Hall.

A little over a year ago the College installed an excellent water system, at the expense of several thousands of dollars. Located as it is on the highest part of the campus, the reservoir holds an abundant supply of water and given and a high pressure of water is had in all parts of the college buildings.

The only thing needed to have a thoroughly adequate protection from fire is to put faucets, with hose attached, in all of the buildings. Then by a simple turning of a key a good stream of water could be played on any arising flame.

Such a system would cost but little and would be very efficient and easy to operate. It seems penny wise and pound foolish to ignore such an opportunity for protection especially when almost every week brings news of the loss by fire of some college building.

MILITARY TRAINING

During the last few months there have been very grave conditions arising on all sides, of such a nature as to make the more serious minded citizens wonder what the United States could do if she were forced into war.

This is a very serious question, and after studying conditions the most loyal citizen is forced to admit that his country would be placed in an awkward situation. The magazines and newspapers have been airing conditions of the army a great deal during the last few months. Most of the shortcomings of our army are well enough known to need no discussion here. The gravest need of our army today is more officers. hundred and fifty men each year, which number falls far short of the need.

Where then are our officers to come from in case of emergency? Our American Colleges whose aim is to develop leaders among men are becoming awakened to the situation Tusculum has recently applied for installation of a government military school. Other colleges throughout the country are also doing this. Why cannot Maryville College have a military school?

The effect of such a step would not have the demoralizing influence that many people fear. I have been for two years a student in a college where military training is compulsory, and am somewhat familiar with its influences. The student is greatly benefitted in almo stevery way by military training of the proper kind In our colleges of this sort, the training is under the personal direction of an officer of the U. S. army. Also, rifles and all the other necessary equipment are furnished by the war department. All the student has to furnish is his unifor, which is in no case expensive, and the college has to furnish only room to keep the equipment. In many cases each cadet keeps his equipment in his room.

The detailed officer bears the title of "Professor of Military Science and Tactics" for which department he assumes all responsibility. The instruction is very interesting as well as beneficial. In a college of this kind, where most of the men room in dormitories, there would be roll call and about twenty minutes of setting up exercises in the morning from about 6:30 to 6:50, followed later by inspection of the rooms. At a convenient hour during the day there would be an hour of drill, and practice for those in the band, the instruments and instruction for which would also be furnished by the federal government. The common close order drill is done in separate units of companies. There are enough able bodied men here to form four good sized companies which would together form the larger division of the batttalion. The officers of the battalion would be selected from those of the students who had before received training, and promotions made from time to time with reference to the general ability to command, scholastic standing, military bearing and perdrill, there would be during the spring months extended order drill which is the actual combat practice, together with occasional cross country marches and an annual encampment at the close of the school. The theoretical work consists of classes conducted two or three times per week, using as texts U. S. Infantry drill regulations, manual of guard duty and studying great campaigns. The effects of military training and discipline are of greatest value to the men. Its most obvious effects are personal neatness, erect soldierly bearing, and a respect for the flag and persons in authority. Cadets are required to salute the flag and their profession.

The college is also greatly benefited. The watchword of the system is discipline which is of greatest benefit to any college. Also there may be noticed more consciencious attendance to classes, as he finds that "cutting" is a serous offense. Best of all however, it seems to develop a spirit of loyalty. In the corridor of the main building of the University of Missouri, there is a beautiful bronze tablet erected in memory of four students who lost their lives in the Spanish American war. That school is proud of those boys who went forth from her classic halls to the bullet infected trenches.

This system has also a most commendable effect on the nation. These schools develop and inspire loyalty and loyalty is much needed by the country, aside from this is the most obvious benefit of developing officers Let Maryville show that her love for "Old Glory" is as deep and as profound as is any institution's and if our men were called on to defend our nation's honor they would"Stand not upon their bidding but go in a way that becomes the sons of a country like ours. —Contributed.

VOLUNTEER BAND

On last Wednesday afternoon when Dr. Weatherford told the Band of the great need for Missionaries we felt that he justly lamented the fact that such a small percentage of our college students are even considering this need in deciding their life work. He stressed the fact that the missionaries work is a man's job and that only the strongest of the strong can do such work.

To be honest with oneself every man must face this question—"Can I render my greatest service as a foreign Missionary?" The Volunteer Band invites you to visit its weekly meetings and let it help you decide this question right.

Our study of China at the regular weekly metings is proving very interesting and instructive.

The Band continues its deputation work as earnestly as when it began. The Epworth League of the Northern Methodist church turned over the meeting of last Sunday night to the Band and an earnest study of the topic "Others, the Watchword for Christians" was made.

Y. M. C. A.

Using as his subject "Systematic Living," George M. Adams, led the Y. M. C. A. devotional service last Sunday afternoon. For his scripture reading Mr. Adams chose the account of the Creation and showed how it was an example of perfect order, particularly concerning us at present, since students have a tendency to drift into a careless way of doing things. He dwelt at length on the logical order of creation and showed how God's system was consistent with twentieth century progress.

This service marked a departure from the old order in which the President always presided. Vice President Crum presided at this service and henceforth the members of the cabinet wil preside in regular order.

Next Sunday the service will be led by Durward N. Towe and it is urged that the beautiful Spring day be not made an excuse for absence.

BAINONIAN

In these days of conflict, one almost forgets that France has ever contributed anything to the constructive forces of the world's civilization, and thinks of her now as a land of soldiers. So the French evening in Bainonian last Friday night was something in the nature of a "Lest We Forget" with an interesting and instructive program devoted to the study of French literature, art, and music.

The first number on the program was an instrumental solo by Miss Gibson. The selection was the scarf dance, composed by Chaminode, of the modern French School of Music. The last number of the program, also, was musical, being a vocal solo by Miss Sutton. Miss Sutton's selection was "Vilbanelle," composed by Dell' Acqua. These selections typlfy the happy spirit and grace of movement of the French Life, and young lady gave a fitting and pleasing interpretation of this idea in her work.

In a review of the life andl style of each of the three great French artist, Miss Gail Wilson showed how invaluable their works have been not only to French art but to that of the world as well.

Miss Anne Creswell read "Le vase brise" which is one of the most beautiful poems of French literature.

The chief feature of the evening's program was Madame Dennee's talk on Moliere, the greatest writer of French comedy. Madame Dennee made Moliere's vivid, creative personality seem actually alive before our eyes.

At the close of her talk, Madame Dennee, in her inimitable way, read selections from several of Moliere's comedies, and showed interesting pictures of the great man.

Madame Dennee's talk was an inspiration to everyone present, and the Bainonians are deeply grateful to her for contributing so greatly to one of the most enjoyable and instructive programs of the year.

ALPHA SIGMA JUNIOR

Once upon a time, in the dim dark ages of the past, when "Shorty" Wallin's hair played tag with his shoulders, (because the College was minus a student Barber Shop) and when Pat Quinn's knees shook hands with each other when he was called on to orate, in those days, according to Deck Williams, the Alpha Sigma Literary Society very vociferously and obstreperously debated the question as to whether or not the Society should continue to have one section or be divided into two sections. In those days there were giants on the hill, and "Shorty" Wallin, being a full-fledged giant, (some say he once played with the Giants), led his troop of formidable giants up to Alpha Sigma Hall and very vociferously and obstreperously denounced the new move. "Shorty" was a Prep then. Now that he is a Senior, he has changed his point of view. These, and other interesting things, Deck told the members of the Junior Alpha Sigma last Saturday night. Deck is taking "eggs-pression" these days, (much to the writer's sorrow, who lives just above him) and if he keeps on, he'll have Patrick Henry, Patrick Quinn, Wendell Phillips and W. J. B. beat a mile.

Besides Deck's encouraging speech we were also addressed by Mr. Candler, of the Senior Section, and his remarks were greatly appreciated and enjoyed. Mr. Bernard Hatcher gave some fine readings and Mr. C. C. Duncan rendered beautiful zither selections.

But the surprise of the evening was Mr. Enloe's "Alpha Sigma Advance", which drew the remark "Another Mark Twain, gentlemen!" from the austere critic.

Next week being election week, all the members of the Junior Alpha Sigma are urged to be present next Saturday night, and are also urged to think seriously as to the new corps of officers. A program is being arranged for March 18th., which is going to stir up the slumbering abilities and hidden talents of the members, and is promised to make things "hum". See if it doesn't. Remember March 18!

FIRE BURSTS FORTH IN CARNEGIE

One of those unusual occurances happened last Saturday to break the monotony of the unvarying and irksome sameness of events on College Hill. But this unusual happening did not come with a pleasant surprise as do many of our "spell breaking" events. Yet it came with a large warning and a portend of what might happen at any time when we are not looking.

Just before dinner that awful and exciting cry of "fire" was heard and all the boys in Carnegie soon came rushing to the end of the Hall where the flames were seen. The door was locked and the occupants of the room were away so it was necessary to burst open the door. As the door flew open the flames and smoke had the room filled and it was encouraging to see how the fellows worked with buckets and brooms to save their Hall. When the "bucket brigade" got to going well the monster destroyer was soon under control and very little damage was done as a result of quick action.

Nobody knows how the fire started for both boys had been away most of the morning, but this should be a message to the careless one to see to it that he does his part to protect our good Hall from the flames for not only the careless one will suffer, if the worst should happen, but many are co-partners in the privileges of Carnegie and it is the duty of each one to do his part WELL in protecting his part of the building.

ALPHA SIGMA

Last Friday night the Alpha Sigma Society met in regular session in the College wood. A glowing fire was built from logs and sticks. Around this fire the boys gathered and sang many old familiar songs.

Flashlight pictures of the group seated around the campfire were taken. After this informal diversion, President Kidder called the society to order for a business session. Mr. Horace Dawson was elected treasurer to fill out the unexpired term or Mr. Edward S. Campbell. Mr. S.E. Wallin was elected program secretary, which office was made vacant by Mr. Briggs.

After this session, the question of establishing an office of Public Defender was debated by Caton and Watkins for the affirmative and by Williams and Quinn for the negative. The decision of the judges was in favor of the affirmative.

After a humorous reading by Robt. Adams, the society broke camp.

other phases of Association work, all led by men and women of broad experience and keen intellect. The afternoons are devoted to long walks and drives, tennis, baseball, and other games, and swimming in a beautiful swimming pool out of doors. To Blue Ridge, the Palace in the Woods, I offer my toast with apologus to Longfellow:

You who worship high ideals,
Strength of purpose, true endeavor,
Heart and mind that work together:
For your good, and that of others,
For your help and inspiration,
With the members who will meet there,
Trying hard to solve the problems
That to-day we all are facing,
Come to conference—come to Blue Ridge.

You who love all out door pleasures,
Playing tennis, gayly swimming
In the pool, beneath the shadow
Of the grand old Blue Ridge Mountain,
Come where days are all well rounded—
Work and play and study mingled.
Come to conference—come to Blue Ridge.

You to whom companions mean much
Friends to know and talk things over,
Love the men of all the nations,
Want to know and love them better,
Want to work and study with them,
Ther's a sweet-voiced bugle calling—
"Come to classes—come to Blue Ridge."

You who love the haunts of nation,
Love the grandeur of the mountains,
Love the spruce and laurel thickets
With their wondrous wealth of fragrance,
Listen in the quiet evenings
When vacationdays you're planning!
When a breeze blows from the mountain
It will whisper, "Come to Blue Ridge".

The auditorium at Blue Ridge has been unsuited to the work of the conferences and indeed was only a temporary affair so it is planned to replace it with a new auditorium capable of meeting the needs of the South. It is planned to raise the money for this auditorium among the Colleges of the South and to have a suitable tablet placed in the building showing which colleges made it possible. At the close of Dr. Weatherford's address over a hundred dollars were subscribed by Maryville College students towards this fund and about fifteen signified their intention of going to Blue Ridge this summer.

WEATHERWAX BROS. QUARTET GIVES LAST LYCEUM NUMBER

Program Consisted of Singing, Reading and Trumpet Quartets

Lyceum Course is Very Successful This Year

Wednesday evening, March 8, the Weatherwax Brothers Quartet gave us a splendid entertainment. In addition to their fine vocal music and good reading, the Brothers gave some rich music, as a trumpet quartet. Trumpets are comparatively seldom used in this country, so we had one of the rare and novel treats.

Unlike most other male quartets, the Brothers had two exceptionally good readers—"Lester in Pathos"and "William in Comedy." The former gave "Mother," "A House by the Side of the Road," and "An Old Sweetheart of Mine." The latter made the house roar with laughter as he rendered his essay on "Grass." When he read "The Raggedy Man" the picture of a very small boy was very vivid to the audience.

One of the best features of the program—"The Little Brown Church in the Vale," was sung with the lights turned low. Although this is an old song, it was never sung more beautifully. Perhaps the reason the Brothers sing it so effectively is this: the Little Brown Church is only fifteen miles distant from their home, Charles City, Iowa.

During the program in connection with some of the Riley selections presented, the incident of the visit of the Brothers to Riley's home was told.

The Lyceum number was a pleasing number with which to close the year's course. It has been a course well run, for there have been large audiences, and more than that, satisfied audiences. It is with regret that we come to the close of the season, but we will look forward to a good course next year.

"BOB" OLIVER GIVES AN INTERESTING ADDRESS AT CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

"Why Men Fail" Was the Subject of His Talk

Letters From Prominent Men Used in Presenting the Subject

Sunday night at the C. E. in the Presbyterian church, many college students as well as others took advantage of the oportunity to hear a very unique and helpful address given by Mr. Robert Oliver on the "Causes of Failure." Mr. Oliver, whose life is a living monument to the power of Christ, spoke from the depths of his own rich experience, and in adition read several personal letters from men of distinction in which they gave their opinions as to why men succeed or fail. Mr. Oliver said in part:

"The government is spending many thousands of dollars trying to find out why the Roosevelt dam failed. The failure of the New York bridge is receiving similar attention. Why then should not the human life, the builder of bridges, the maker of big dams, likewise be investigated as to whether it fails or succeeds. I believe, first of all, failure is due to disobeying the laws of God.

"I canot see how a man can deny God when he observes the world around him. A few years ago I was at High Bridge, Ky., when Halley's comet appeared. They told me how many millions of miles it was away. How many thousands of miles it traveled a second, and yet it only returns once in eighty years. How small is man, and yet we cannot help but feel how great is God's love!

"There are those who pretend to deny God. But what would happen

DELEGATION TEAMS TO BE SENT OUT NEXT MONTH BY THE Y. M. C. A.

Three or Four Towns Will be Visited for Evangelistic Work.

Teams to Consist of About Eight Men

As part of their work for the spring term, the Evangelistic and Music Committees of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet are planning a series of campaigns among the boys of smaller towns of East Tennessee. A team of from five to seven men will go into the town where the campaign is to be held on Friday and remain until Monday morning. The programs for these meetings will be about as follows:

Friday evening--"Get - acquainted Meeting" with all the boys of the town.

Saturday morning--Hike or Athletic contests.

Saturday afternoon--Personal interviews with boys.

Saturday evening--Meeting for all boys with boys with evangelistic talk.

Sunday morning--Members of the team will speak in the various Sunday Schools and churches.

Sunday afternoon -- Evangelistic meetings for both older and younger boys.

Sunday evening--Personal interviews and Church services.

Among the men on each team will be a quartet, a leader for the singing, at least one man of athletic ability, and several men that can speak. It is planned to have these teams go to three or four towns during April. During the first week of April, Mr. S. B. Parker, State Student Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. , will be in Maryville, and will hold a training conference for two days with those men who are going out on the various teams. Any men who are interested in this plan may get further information from any member of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet at any time. Get in on it, men, we need your cooperation in order to carry out these plans.

DR. WILSON RETIRES TO GIVE HIS ATTENTION TO CAMPAIGN FOR THE FORWARD FUND

Doctor Wilson has retired from the official duties as president of the College to direct his energies in the work of raising the forward fund of $300,000.00. Only very important matters will be referred to him.Dean Barnes will atend to the general work of the president's office.

The first few weeks of Doctor Wilson's work will be to finish a history of Maryville College, which he is now writing.

BASEBALL NEWS

Baseball has not been smiled upon with special favor by the weatherman during the past few days, but owing to the nearness of the first games and the necessity of getting muscles and batting eyes in good shape, the coach has insisted on light workouts each day. These workouts have been composed mostly of batting practice and jaunts around the park.

This week,tho', the team will get down to good hard work.

Efforts are being made to stage a game for Friday with Athens.

Then on the 27th and 29th, the team will journey to Athens for two games and to Chattanooga for two games with the University of Chattanooga.

These early games call for practice and lots of it, so the crack of the bat and thud of the mitt will become very common noises on College Hill this week.

There are about fifty men out from which the coach may pick the team and amoung this bunch there are several besides the old men who show signs of having had quite a bit of experience on the ball field before this season.

PROF. McCLENAHAN TO TAKE A GROUP OF STUDENTS TO COPPER HILL

Mines and Manufacturing Processes Will be Studied Between Terms

Prof. McClenahan will take a group of students to Copper Hill, leaving here on March 24 and returning on March 25. Copper Hill is on the L. & N. line about one hundred miles south of Maryville.

The purpose of the trip is to study the iron and copper mines there; to investigate processes of mining and smelting these ores, and the manufacture of acids.

The total expense of the trip will be about $5 for each person. All who are interestid in taking an outing between terms and at the same time get valuable, first-hand information concerning the mining and manufacturing of iron, copper and acids, will please see Professor McClenahan at their earliest convenience. This punctuality will contribute much to the success of the trip by making it possible to get cut rates on railroad fares and in arranging other features of the trip.

FIRST YEAR DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLASS ENTERTAINS FACULTY

In Their Handsome Suite of Rooms in Science Hall

On Saturday night, March 11, the the members of the faculty were the guests of the first year class of the Home Economics Department at an informal reception in the Domestic Science Apartment.

The rooms were artistically decorated in green; and attractively furnished with pillows and pennants. In a bower of green in one corner, on a handsome table of mission wood, was the new punch bowl with necessary accessories. Miss Johnnie Catlett with some fitting passages of poetry, presented the bowl and Prof. Proffitt appropriately represented the faculty in receiving it.

Following this ceremony, several contests occupied the attention of the faculty members:-chief of these were the famous "bean contest" and a proverb match" (similar to a spelling match.) Interest was aroused when each guest was presented a small gift, and was compelled to weave a story around it. Refreshments of chicken salad, cheese straws, olives and mints were served and the punch bowl corner was eagerly visited throughout the evening.

OUR COLLEGE IS TO HAVE A HAND-BALL COURT

Site for Court Has Been Selected

All Men Interested in Game Called to Meet Tomorrow

A game that is played throughout the United States, a game very popular in Y.M.C.A.'s and athletic clubs, is going to be played in Maryville College this spring.

Several fellows have decided to play all winter, but no court has been provided, so they are going to build a court at once. A desirable location has been secured for the court.

All the fellows interested in this project, and want to get in on a good thing, meet in Prof. Johnson's room tomorrow at 12:10.

Come fellows, get in on it.— No dues!!! Just EXERCISE.

BLOUNT COUNTY TEACHERS TAKE STATE EXAMS IN ANDERSON HALL

On March 10 and11, the teachers of Blount County took examination for licenses to teach. These examinations were held in Anderson Hall of Maryville College. On the former day examinations on Reading, Writing, Spelling and Grammar were taken; on the latter day the tests were on Tennessee History, U. S. History and Geography. On May 31 examinations on Arithmetic, Physiology and Reading Circle Books will be given, which will complete the tests.

The work was conducted by Miss NaNcy Lee Broady, Supt. of Public Instruction for Blount County; Principal H. L. Ellis; and Prof. C. W. Henry.

The number of teachers taking the examinations was larger than ever before, the number reaching 130. Of this number, several are students in Maryville College.

The manuscripts will be sent to Nashville where they will be graded by a committee of three who grade all such manuscripts in this state. The grades will be returned in about one month.

SOCIAL GIVEN FOR MEN BY THE NEW PROVIDENCE CHURCH

That the Church is realizing her opportunity to serve as a social center as well as a spiritual centre was very evident from what was aptly termed a 'Get-to-gether' social held at the Presbyterian Church Friday night March 10th., which had a good representation of college men. It was for "men only", althongh the men were given a pleasant surprise by being waited on by some of the prettiest girls in Maryville, which is saying a for its feminine beauty.

good deal, for Maryville is renowned

Professor D.J. Brittain was the presiding officer (or toastmaster, if you please) of the occasion. It is enough to say that the Professor, in discharging his duty, lived up to his reputation. In introducing Professor Johnson, one of the speakers of the evening, he showed his knowledge of history by his ability to name all the great Johnsons of modern history, from Samuel Johnson down to Hiram Johnson, who was "Teddy's" runningmate on the Bull Moose ticket a few years ago. Prof. Johnson---long and a trifle spare---very timidly and bashfully came forward and took his place among the great sons of John. He spoke on the "Church and the Young Man". It was a very frank and sincere statement of the reasons why the Church has been losing its hold on the young men of to-day, and how to win them back.

Rev. R. I. Gamon was introduced as an athlete, which appellation he timidly accepted, having played against the Princeton football team

DEBATE ARRANGED FOR BEREA AND M. C. PREPS.

Marpville Chooses Its Debating Teams by Open Preliminaries

Question of Our Philippine Problem to be Subject of Debate

The college department has had intercollegiate debates for many years, and the failures and successes of the college debating teams have been put to the account of the whole college. But this was not fair, as the greater part of the college, the preparatory department, had not helped lose or win those contests. So last fall, when the preparatory department of Berea College., Ky., sent us a challenge to debate, they got an enthusiastic and unanimous affirmative answer from the preparatory department of Maryville College.

As agreed upon by both parties, there are to be three speakers on each team, and each of the speakers is to have 10 minutes for a constructive speech and 5 minutes for rebuttal. The speeches are to be judged on a basis of 70 per cent for composition and 30 per cent for presentation. The question agreed upon is as follows: "Resolved: That the United States should permanently retain the Philippines."

There are to be two debates, both on April 21st, one at Maryville and one at Berea. Each college is to debate both sides of the question—the affirmatie at home and the negative away.

About thirteen energetic and talented men tried out, and the judges mtfp- 7890$ 123457890$ 789012343 of the preliminary debates had a hard time deciding that the following young men were the best debaters: Joel Georges, James Martin, James Cook, J. Z. Howard, Ralph Young, Homer Weisbecker, W. J. Carter, and J.H.Kiger. The first three men compose the team which remains at Maryville, with J. H. Kiger as alternate the next three compose the Berea team with W. J. Carter as alternate.

Shall we win? Say wedo! The admission will be only 15 cents—don't be stingy with yourself. Come and boost just like you did at the Chattanooga football game.

RECITAL GIVEN IN VOORHEES CHAPEL BY EXPRESSION AND MUSIC DEPARTMENTS

Excellent Program Given to the Students Free

Thursday afternoon, March 2, the departments of Expression, Voice and Piano, gave a recital in the chapel. A varied and interesting program was rendered. Misses Josephine Knapp and Edna Porter of the Voice department, entertained the audience with solos, and Misses Edith Brothers, Winifred Decker, Sara Kittrell and Jonnie Catlett represented the Piano department. Alfred Noyes' "The Highwayman" was effectively read by Miss Helen Adams. Miss Imogene Copeland held the atention of the audience by her skillful interpretation of William Green Hill.

Miss Jonnie Catlett entertained the ladies of the Chilhowee club and their guests, Friday afternoon, by reading Bulwer-Lytton's "Aux Italians" to a musical accompaniment.

Friday night, March 3, Misses Annie Lee Frazier and Marion Wilbanks of the Expression department, and Mr. Roy Anderson, of the Voice department, gave a recital at Rockford, under the auspices of the Rockford Christian Endeavor.

Musical numbers were rendered by Miss Nellie Russell, Rev. E. W. Hall and by the Rockford quartet, also.

WHO HAS A STUNT?

Many colleges have Stunt Nights. There are many students in Maryville who know a good stunt. How many are interested in such sport? With an energetic leader an exceedingly interesting program, that wold mean much to college spirit, could be arranged. The best stunts could be given by the Y.M.C.A. andY.W.C.A. delegates at Blue Ridge, on college stunt night next June.

WHY NOT HAVE A MANDOLIN-GUITAR CLUB?

Why not have a Mandolin-Guitar Club? There is plenty of material. Continually the hum of these instruments may be heard in the different rooms of the halls. All that is needed is a leader. Who will he be?

A NEGLECTED SPORT.

The athletic world in general is beginning to sit up and take notice of the teams Maryville College is turning out this year.

The football team, probably the best ever put out, went thru its entire season with an uncrossed goal line, and not only that, but on its string of victories , Chattanooga's scalp dangles.

The Basket ball team has upheld this record by winning a greater part of the games played and the unanimous decision of the student body is the "best ever."

Likewise the hardest schedule, and the best prospects for a southern championship team are before the base ball fans in the coming season.

In the Hill these three games are given a very prominent place, and are the exclusion of all other sports.
well supported by students and Faculty, and well they should be but not to the exclusion of all other sports.

In all colleges and universities as a general rule, another game is given a prominent place in inter-collegiate athletics, but which in M. C. is hardly recognized as a game. That game is tennis.

For the past five years, the tennis courts provided in the college woods have been absolutely inadequate and and very unsatisfactory. Only three courts have been built for the large student body and only two of these are kept in playing condition. During the Tennis season, on each afternoon fully fifty fellows come out to play tennis. Under the present system or rather lack of system, each fellow plays according to the time at which he arrived, and as a rule he is paired with a beginner or poor player who happens to come when he does. Their opponents, usually worse than they are, sometimes better, are hit or miss in the same manner. On account of the large number who come out to play, and the fewness of courts, about one set can be played in an afternoon and that a very uninteresting one as a rule.

A fellow wastes from an hour to an hour and a half awaiting his turn, and then being paired with an inferior player, they either play a team of beginners, who can't interest them or the other extreme, a good team against whom they have no chance.

Such tennis is discouraging to the beginner and very disgusting to the really good players. As a result those fellows who could play if they had the opportunity quit coming out and the others learn very little.

Such conditions as these have prevailed for years and naturally no interest is taken in tennis; and a game in which more fellows could take part than any other is laid upon the shelf.

The student body has been asking for more and better courts and finally last year, action was taken by the faculty.

Through the perseverance and persistence of the manager, a petition was presented and a measure passed providing for two new courts and improvements upon the old ones, with a man whose duty was to keep them in good playing condition. This however was as far as the measure went, tho' work was begun on a new court, it was never finished and the present season finds tennis in the same condition as usual and unless some immediate action be taken, the prospect is very gloomy.

Tennis is an intercollegiate game equally as well as the other three;provisions for awarding of letters have been placed in the Athletic Association Constitution! Every year letters from such colleges as Univ. of Tenn., Tusculum, Carson-Newman, from many high schools and clubs have to be tuned down thru lack of interest produced by existing conditions.

The large and unusually level campus affords abundant space for enough courts to amply supply the demand; the large number of students affords sufficient material for a tennis team equal in ability to any other athletic team; and the student body as a whole joins in petitioning the Faculty to put into effect the action already taken by them, and to take the necessary steps to place tennis in its proper sphere as a recognized sport on the Hill, and to give it a place among Intercollegiate contests.

REV MR. SMITH SPEAKS TO MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

A very helpful and interesting meeting was enjoyed by the Ministerial Association Wednesday night, when Rev. James Allen Smith, pastor of the Baptist church of Maryville, gave an interesting address on the minister's life in actual service and experience. Among the large number of useful things which Rev. Mr. Smith advised us about, was the very interesting advice that we should all marry soon after entering upon our life's work. While we know that many will have much difficulty in following his directions, still we hope that this will not lessen their determination to follow their chosen vocation.

IMPROVEMENT IN COLLEGE WOOD

It is a delight to see the improvement in the college woods about the entrance. About five acres of the wood lying adjacent to the tennis courts, and which had, on accont of the thinness of the trees, grown up in weeds, briers and sprouts, has been cleared, harrowed and sown in blue grass.

The natural beauty of the College wood will soon be enhanced by this park-like entrance. The only thing remaining to be done is to move the fence back and include this part of the wood in the moonshine territory.

Prof. (in "Reinforced Concrete") "Pay strict attention to this, you will need it in your dam construction."

Here is to America—
The land of my birth,
The home of "Old Glory"
The best land on earth.

The Americans were Americans
When the Englishmen weren't much
They'll still be Americans,
When the English turn Dutch.

The downfall of old England
As many Germans see
Is approaching so rapidly
The Irishmen feel free.

Old England is destined,
To walk with a crutch,
Surrounded by German's
And all talking Dutch.

MRS. S. T. WILSON GIVES AN ADDRESS TO Y. W. C. A.

We Y. W. C. A. girls were delighted to have the wife of our college president spend the Y. W. hour with us Sunday. This was really a Missionary meeting, but Mrs. Wilson merely told us a true story of one little Hindoo girl. She told this story in a very pleasing maner indeed and we thank her very much.

College Women in the South Central Field

Voluntary social service work at the University of Tennessee is being done by the Women's Association this year for the first time. Twenty-one girls are regularly teaching cooking, sewing, etc.

Alabama Girls' Technical Institute, Montevallo, has organized a separate Association club for town girls and has furnished a room for them.

At Alabama Woman's College, at Montgomery, the girls have fitted up a domestic science kitchen in one of the settlements, and teach there every week. They also gave a Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner to the factory children in the city.

Loulie Compton Seminary, Birmingham, Ala., have helped with the city extension work.

The above notes are printed with the hope that the local school Association will take up some social service work in Maryville.

BOB OLIVER'S ADDRESS

if God shoud turn over this perfectiy constructed world to one such for a week. Many a man denies God that cannot tell you what is wrong with his carburetor. God's work in nature is perfect and minute. Not long ago I stood on Brooklyn bridge and watched the flood of people sweep by Not a single face was the same. When we put a leghorn egg in an incubator we don't expect to get a buff cochin, or an owl or a sparrow. If we take a grain of our Blount county Hickory King corn and plant it in the heart of Africa, we get a stalk of Hickory King corn. Aand yet men who can't explain this deny God.

"Many men think they can do better than another man is doing. Some think they could run the world better than God is running it. One day I was coming to Knoxville from Salisbury, N. C., when a drummer got on at Asheville. The train was an hour late, and he was kicking. He went to bed and kicked all night long. When he started to get off at Knoxville he was still kicking, and I just stepped to him and said, "Say, what's the mater with you?" "This train's an hour late, that's what!" he said. "Well, do you believe that you can manage this railroad better than the president is?" "Yes, I know I could." Then I said "Convince the Southern Railway Company of that and you've got a $50,000.00 job waiting for you. You had betetr stop tacking up soap signs and go after that job."

Mr Oliver then surprised his audience by reading letters from men of national repute. Here are a few extracts from some of them:

Cardinal Gibbons said: "A successful life means duty done to God and neighbor."

John House Peyton, president of the N. C. & St. L. railroad, said: "A successful life is one that produces at its close a noble character."

Wiley L. Morgan, managing editor of the Knoxville Sentinel, stated: "A succesful life is one in which is reflected the achievement of conscientious effort to attain personal advancement morally, spiritually, intelectually and financitlly: but no man can achieve the acme of real success who is other than an exponent of an unselfish existence."

F. L. Fisher, president of the East Tennessee National Bank said: "Failures in business are due to a lack of aptitude and application."

Dr. S. T. Wilson wrote:"A successful life is one (1)that provides well for and properly develops one's own body, mind and soul; and (2) that is wholesome and helpful to other lives; and (3) that wins the approval of Almighty God."

Letters from Dr. R. E. L. Jarvis and Rev. W. W. Hamilton were also read.

SOCIAL AT NEW PROVIDENCE CHURCH

when he was studying in the Seminary branch of that university. Space forbids giving a detailed report of his very witty and yet very helpful address. He urged all the men present to get-together, and get out after the other man who needs the Savior.

The College Quartette and Miss Althea May furnished the music of the evening, and these, too, lived up to their reputations.

Refreshments were then served by the afore-mentioned young ladies. It has been reported that Mr. Webb, Mr. Steelman and "Bob" Gamon showed very good eating abilities.

As the writer looks back on the social and its splendid spirit, he feels that it was more than a "get-togeth er" social. It was a "Feast of Brothers". Every man present felt his close kinship to his brother man, and manifested it in his actions. Why should not the Church take advantage of man's social instinct and use it more and more for the Kingdom of God?

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. devotional meeting last Sunday was led by Durward N. Towe who spoke on the subject "Crime and Criminals." Mr. Towe's talk showed a great deal of preparation and appealed to the manhood in the young men to see to the proper handling of criminals and th elimination of crime. He showed that heredity and environment were the contributing factors in the making of criminals and defined criminals as meaning those who have violated the laws of God or of man.

The meeting next Sunday will be led by F. R. Whalin and all the young men are urged to be present. Remember the time and place—next Sunday at 1:00 in Bartlett hall.

NEIGHBORLY AXIOMS. THE SEVEN COMMANDMENTS

"Cut not the grass of thy neighbor's lawn,"

"Sweep not thy neighbor's walk"

"Be thy neighbor's guardian. Watch him in his going out and his coming in."

"Hearken to every sound in thy neighbor's domicile. If he have a telephone on the same party line as thine, cling to it with all thy might."

"Covet not thy neighbor's property, Neither his rake nor his lawn mower nor his automobile pump shalt thou covet. Covet them not nor Borrow them."

"Return to thy neighbor all that he has loaned thee before thou changest thy residence, in order that thy life may be prolonged in peace, for wisely hath it been said, 'Thou shalt not steal on a small scale'."

He expressed his faith in th Junior Alpha Sigma, and spoke of the good work it has done in the past. Mr. Quinn also gave a reading from James Whitcomb Riley's poems, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." Pat evidently will not remain a bachelor.

The following officers were elected for the next term:

Mr. James Cook------ --President
Mr. Ray Quinn -- --Vice-Ppesident
Recording Secretary ---- D. Baird
Asst. Rec. Sec. ------D. W. Eitner
Program Secretary ----Lee M. Cross
Sergeant at Arms ----Robert Guess
Censors:
E. C. Thurmond
J. Callahan
Homer Weisbecker
Janitor -- -- -------- E. F. Cody

The extraordinary program which was promised last week has been arranged . Next Saturday night will be staged a sensational divorce trial, which will break all records. Miss Ethel Fanson will give a reading, and Mr. Robert Adams together with Stanley Armstrong will furnish the music.

THETA EPSILON

In the absence of the president on Friday evening, the vice president occupied the chair. The program was opened with a piano solo by Miss Jonnie Catlett, followed by a debate on the question: Resolved: That leap year privileges should be granted oftener. Affirmative, Miss Helen Newell, Miss Edna Porter. Negative, Miss Cora Stevens, Miss Maude Hite.

Both sides put up a strong argument but the decision went to the affirmative. Miss Elsie Tipton's number was one of the most pleasing of the year. Aux Italiens, with the accompaniment of, Il Trovatore at the piano creates a thoroughly Italian atmosphere, and makes one feel the warmth and impulsiveness of the Italian nature. Miss Edith Jackson, told the story ofGood Will Farm, the school in Maine that she formerly attended, and her account was so interesting that she won many friends for Good Will. To know what other schools are doing has a tendency to broaden our view, which is sometimes in danger of being narrowed to our own duties and pleasures on College Hill.

Y. W. C. A. MISSION STUDY COURSES ATTENDED BY 96 GIRLS

Two Classes are Led By Miss Jackson and Prof. Johnson.

Much Interest Shown in Mission Work

Have the Y. W. C. A. Mission Study classes been a success? How could they fail, when two of the most interesting teachers on the hill are leading them; when two very interesting topics of Present Day Missions: Mountain Highlanders and Orientals are being discussed; and when the girls come regularly adding information with interest? Yes, they have been a success!

Ninety-six girls have been enrolled and the attendance has been good. At the next meeting Miss Jackson is going to tell of the founding of her school in West Virginia where she worked for eighteen years. At the last meeting of Prof. Johnson's class Rev. Mr. Post gave the girls a talk on the status of, Women in Siam, which was very interesting.

Girls, there are just two more meetings of the Mission Study classes, ir you have not been to them before, come to these; if you have been, well, we will expect you again.

MRS. H. L. BASSETT GIVES AN ADDRESS TO THE Y. W. C. A.

"Our Attitude at Church Worship" Was the Subject Chosen

A Very Helpful Address

The "Round Table Talks" on Reverence and Respect given to the girls Sabbath afternoon, made the service one of the best and most helpful of the services held this year. Mrs. Bassett, who is a dear friend to all the hall girls, lead this meeting.

The scripture lesson involved the third, fourth and fifth commandments which were given in concert. Then twelve girls, to whom Mrs. Bassett had given Bible verses, suggesting the many phases of the subject gave short talks. The following is a helpful inscription Mrs. Bassett quoted: "On your way to the Lord's House, be thoughtful, be silent, or say but little, and that little good. Speak not of other men's faults---think of your own—for you are going to ask forgiveness. In Church, bow down at once, very humbly, and pray. Spend the time that remains in Holy thought. In prayer, remember the Presence into which you have come. Never look about you to see who are coming in or for any cause whatever. It matters nothing to you what others may be doing; attend to yourself; fasten your thoughts firmly on the holy service; miss not one word. This needs a severe struggle, so you have no time for vain things. The blessed Spirit will strengthen you if you persevere. When service is over, remain kneeling, and pray. Do not cover your head until you are outside—the Church is God's house even when prayer is over. On your way home, be careful of your talk; the world will too soon slip back into your mind. Love prayer and praise best; preaching is but the help to that heavenly work."

Perhaps the reason why this meeting was so good was, the leader and the girls were sosincere and reverent.

SENIORS FROLIC AT HOME OF MR. S. B. PARKER

Prizes Given to Winners of Contesting Games

A Full House of the Dignitaries Enjoyed a Moonshine Evening

On Thursday evening, March 16, the Seniors took advantage of their dignified privileges and broke the monotony of the daily routine with a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Parker on Indiana Avenue. The night was ideal and inspiring; the moonshine was perfect so "Shorty" was in the best of spirits and already having a good social time even before the delinquents had arrived. The musical talent, both instrumental and vocal, helped to soothe the turbulent spirits that could not completely forget coming exams and daily tests in physics and chem.

Several contests occupied the time and the thoughts of the jolly group, also adding the mental exercise missed by the failure to observe the night's study hours. The most interesting of these mind-mixers was a 'Floral Love Story', which was won by Caldwell—and Conrad— first and booby prizes, respectively. Another was a 'Musical Guess' which was a unanimous tie on account of the excessive musical talent present.

"Shorty" Fisher had an alcove all to himself, and it is reported by various reliable sources (names censored) that he was seen to speak six whole sentences. Bill Powel was seen to move one whole centimeter during the entire evening but seemed to have a jolly good time in spite of this.

Punch was anticipated and slyly obtained (by others). Three courses of refreshments were served; fruit salad with whipped cream and doughnuts; chicken salad sandwiches and pickles, and ice cream and cakes.

All too early the clock steadily marched to the danger limit and the retreat was beaten back to the hall by forced march.The retreat was orderly and did not begin until after all had given rousing cheers for "Parkers" and "Skull and Cross-bones" for the Seniors

P.S. "Gummy" did the retreat at his usual rate.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TAKE TRIP TO THE MOUNTAINS

Miss Postlethwaite and Professors Davis and Johnson Chaperoned

Sunshine and Mt. Luke Visited

On Saturday March 25, under the auspices of the Freshman class, one of the most delightful social events of the year was held. Fourty-four of the members and friends of the class boarded their special car on the 8:15 train and started for Sunshine. Miss Postlethwaite, Prof. Davis and Prof. Johnson were the chaperones of the party. After leaving lunch, sweaters, and other superfluous articles at the store, the entire party started up Mt. Luke. Some went by trail, some straight up the side of the mountain, but none of the couples established any speed records going up. It is said that one or two couples that started to come straight down he mountain side came down so fast that they set the woods afire. But at last they were all assembled around the spring, and the well filled lunch baskets were opened. Sandwiches by the

SUFFRAGETTES HOLD FIRST MEETING

On Saturday night March 18, Bainonian Hall witnessed a sight altogether unparalleled in the History of Maryville College. Any hypothetical mice in the wall must needs have pedished then and there, overcome by the complexity of their emotions; and truly it was an occasion upon which man as well as beast (ask Prof. Johnson,) needed to be a quick-change artist; for the first program meeting of the M. C. Equal Suffrage Club went forward so enthusiastically that there was nothing to do but surrender to the spirit of the occasion.

Thus it was, when some thirty maidens arose, with a delightful spontaneity (said spontaneity being the result of careful coaching on the part of the president), and saluted the Suffrage banner. Thus it was, while the president, Miss Muriel Mitchel prefaced the program with graceful and fitting remarks. Thus, and exceedingly more so, it was, when "Miss Mitchell,—Miss Lily Mitchell" was announced and in dignified but hesitant tones proclaimed musically,

"My mother bids me bind my hair—". Considering that on this evening Miss Mitchell's features were in imminent danger of being totally eclipsed by her coiffure, considering the contrast the little song introduced amid all the modern, new-woman ideas supposed to be present, and considering many other considerations evident to the feminine mind, it is but natural that the audience should have followed the singer into appreciative tears.

Prof. Johnson, the speaker of the evening, was then introduced, his subject being, "Suggestions For running the Local Organization." Prof. Johnson claimed that he could better have discussed the historical or ethical side of woman suffrage than the topic given him. He also mentioned his unsuccessful attempts to transfer the task to Professors Davis and Perkins. He then proceeded to make his introductory statement rather dubious by giving a well-outlined and practical talk.

Prof. Johnson believes that one way in which women may convince the men in this matter is by cultivating a broader interest in the affairs of the world. College women and (college men, also) fail to keep themselves informed as to modern movements and current events. Since college women are to be the leaders, Prof. Johnson suggested that the local organization become acquainted with the arguments for women suffrage, study the history of the movement, and also study the status of woman in former times.

One of Prof. Johnson's closing suggestions was that the Maryville club get into communication with the strong League in Knoxville. Prof. Johnson's talk received the close and earnest attention of the Suffrage Club, and it is probable that his advice will be put into practice soon.

The proper constitution of the club was next read, but action upon it was postponed until the next meeting.

Still another change of mood was afforded the audience by the evening's program, when Miss Erma Russell read, "Why Women Cannot Vote," by Dorothy Dix. In this selection, which was rendered with much spirit, a strong-minded colored lady proves that woman's failure to gain the ballot, or anything else she may desire, is due to her lack, since the days of Eve, of spinal coulmn,—"BACKBONE!"

Having entered upon its career with this varied and enthusiastic meeting, its ardor not even dampened by the tragic discovery that it was — Study Hours.

Saint Patrick's Day Is Celebrated By the Company

Appropriate to the Occasion Were The Games and Refreshments

On. St. Patrick's day from 3:30 to 5 P. M., the third year Home Economics class entertained the faculty ladies and the first and second year classes to a party in the Domestic Science apartment of Science Hall.

The guests were well arrayed in green, in honor of the Saint..

Several interesting and well known games were played. The potato race was enjoyed. (the loser paying the penalty of telling an Irish joke); the "plate" was spun in the center of the circle of guests, "gossip" was an enjoyed pastime, and many "charades" were well acted. Deligntful refreshments in accordance with the color scheme of green, were served, and every minute of the evening was enjoyed by all present.

MARYVILLE OPENS BASEBALL SEASON WITH YOUNG HIGH

Visitors Win in a Six Inning Contest

SCORE, 12—3

The first game lost on the home ground by a Maryville 'Varsity team for this year was staged last Thursday. The Young High School team, who had just defeated Johnson Bible College, was the victor. The visitors showed great skill in the National game, pounding the pill for seven hits and twelve runs. Bunched hits in the first and fifth inning account for the large score. Lack of practice and loose playing, featured the game for Maryville.

Doyle, pitcher for the visitors, who yielded only three hits to Maryville, and who wielded the pole for two hits, was easily the star of the game. One of these hits was a two bagger, with the bases full.

VOLUNTEER BAND GIVE TALKS AT NEW PROVIDENCE CHURCH

Band Visited And Addressed By Richard W. Post Of Siam

The Volunteer Band was called on to conduct the regular Sunday evening preaching service at the Presbyterian Church for March 19 and responded with its usual willingness. The work of the band was presented under three heads:

1. A history of the student Volunteer Movement---Mary Miles
2. The Fruits of the Volunteer movement---Commodore Fisher
3. The Personal Appeal---Homer B. Frater

From the tone of these talks and the earnestness of the other members of the Band Dr. Lyle got the impression that something was being held back that should be expressed. Omitting his sermon, Dr. Lyle then called on each member of the Band to answer the questions, "Why I am a Student Volunteer," and "Where I want to Go," to which each member readily responded.

After the meeting five or six young people responded to Dr. Lyle's appeal for a definite decision to devote all of one's life to Christian Service.

The Band condncted the Young People's meetings at the Southern Methodist and Presbyterian Churches last Sunday night.

On Thursday Morning Proyer Circle was favored on last Thursday with a talk by Rev. Richard Post on the subject, "Siam." Six Maryville representatives are working in the field and Mr. Post brought us in close touch with them.

OUR Y. W. C. A.

When Miss Porter talked to us a few weeks ago about the work which the Young Woman's Christian Association was doing in Chattanooga, did it not strike you that the Association in Maryville accomplished very little? For us, Y. W. C. A. means a place to spend a pleasant and profitable hour on Sunday afternoon, a reception twice a year and the privilege of getting books from the Y. W. library.

These are all excellent things, and the work of our Association is not to be depreciated for it has been of wonderful value to every girl who has come under its influence. But could not the scope of its influence be broadened? There are so many things that we could do to help girls who can not be benefitted by our present system, girls who cannot come to college and share in our advantages.

Right here in Maryville, there is a need for Y.W.C.A. workers to supplement what the Y.M.C.A. is doing. If we knew the condition existing less than a half hour's walk from the Hill, and really wanted to do something to better these conditions, much could be accomplished, either directly or indirectly.

And in the mountains only a few miles away are many girls who have lived all their lives among poverty, dirt, disease, and, worst of all, ignorance. Can we not help these girls? Colleges all over the country are organizing Extension Departments to carry on their work in different parts of the state.

Why can't we start a, "Y. W. C. A. Extension Department," to devise and execute some plan of making the world a pleasanter place for girls who have never known the joys of companionship with other girls, who can not come to college, and who have before them only the prospect of a life of few joys and unceasing toil? Nothing would have a more broadening and invigorating effect upon our local Association than an undertaking of this sort.

But it is not to be supposed that everything we can do is in the line of Extension work. We also need a more systematic way of looking after the new girls who come to Maryville—a way by which the rough places can be smoothened for them, not only during the first week, but through all the year.

You have heard of the "Big Sister Movement" which is growing so rapidly among the higher schools of learning throughout theUnited States The idea is to provide every new girl, who wants one, with a "Big Sister", who will be confidant, counselor, confessor, who will help her to make the right sort of friends, come to her rescue when she is lonely or in trouble, and generally do everything which a big sister is ideally supposed to do. This plan is followed in State Universities, so it ought to be successful here. And whence should it start but from the Y. W. C. A.?

These are merely a few suggestions which might be carried out, and there are many more things that we can do to make our section of this old world better and happier.

"Let us be content to work
To do the things we can and not presume
To fret because its little."

WHERE IS THE BAND?

Last September there were evidences of a brassband somewhere around Maryville College. In fact it even made its appearance at several of the foot-ball games, and livened things up considerably. But where is it now?

On inquiry we find several difficulties. It seems that the band is in need of several new instruments. Some of the instruments now in use ought to be retired on pension. The snare drum, a necessity in any band is totally lacking. New music is also needed. But for some reason these things are not obtainable. And in addition, a meeting place and a regular practice night must be had. Often the band fellows have assembled at the chapel on the regular night, only to find it occupied.

However there might be some incentive to the band members and leader to work under difficulties if there were opportunity given for playing in public, occasionally at least, and helping to make the college livelier and more up-to-date. But even this is not possible. What fellow wants to pay for the right to play at a game, no matter how much money and spirit he has? And yet only after using the art of persuasion to the utmost was the band admitted to a few games last fall.

Certainly a good, lively band is a paying proposition; at least it is self supporting. It is reasonable to suppose, if a band were at every football, basketball, and baseball game, to play between halves, and before and after the game that the increase in gate receipts would more than pay for any small expenses of the band itself. And certainly there would be a great deal more spirit and enthusiasm. More than this, in many ways it would be an advertisement for our college.

The baseball season will soon be on Let's get up a little interest and have the band at every game. Why not have a few little concerts on the Chapel steps Friday nights when the weather is warm? The band ought to be willing, if given a chance. Let's put a little more pep into M. C!

BIBLE STUDY

The Y. W. C. A. offered two Bible study classea during the first semester. They were taught at the regular Sunday School hour at the Presbyterian church. The pastor and the superintendent, very kindly, gave the use of two rooms in the s. s. annex for the classes.

It took a great deal of time, and planning, to get the classes organized and to running under this new management, but we hope, in the following years, that the Y.W.C.A. can organize Bible Study Classes in the other Sunday Schools in town. It will not be so difficult aftetr the beginning made last fall.

The course offered for the advanced students was, "Student Standards of Action." Prof. Myers lead the class in a very proficient manner. The class enrollment was nineteen, with an average attendance of fifteen. It was not only a very interesting study but one of great value. The standards set before the students were not only ideal but very practical, and may be used as standards for daily use after the college career is past.

The other class with an enrollment of ten studied, "Christian Citizenship for Girls," a book equally suited for study by the younger girls. It was very interestingly and impressively taught by Miss Mary Kate Rankin. This class increased its enrollment from seven, at the beginning, to ten later in the term, which speaks very creditably of the leader.

score met their fate, eggs as by magic disappeared by the dozen, apples and bananas were soon a minus quantity, but strange as it may seem, by far the greatest demand or all was for pickles. This fact may not have any significance to the uninitiated, but the initiated will learn with surprise hat Fisher got away with the greatest number of Heinze's favorites. Athletic games and shooting matches under the able direction of Prof. Johnson served to occupy all the time in the afternoon for most of the assembly. Among the features of this part of the program was the exceptionally active and graceful gyrations of Prof. Johnson as he paid the penalty for having too many counters in his hat while playing Hat ball. The Professor still claims that it was a "Frame-up", but the opinion of most of those present was that "Happy" Lloyd was trying to get even for his sufferings in the City Problem Class.

By four o'clock the clans had gathered at the magnificent Union Station at Sunshine and awaited the coming of the Walland-Flyer.' At last with a great noise, it rolled into the station and the tired but happy crowd bade farewell to the scene of a HAPYP day. During the trip, especially after leaving Walland the rear platform of the train was turned into an observation car. A stock of beverages was obtained at Walland, and the festive grape juice was the cause of much hilarity. But all good things must have an end, and at last the Flyer backed into the Maryville station. The march across the campus, ending at Baldwin Hall, where fifteen rousing Rahs were given for the chaperones ended the day.

Mrs. Jones (to Bill just home from college) "Billy, bring in an armful of wood"

Bill: "Ma'am?"

Father (graduate from same college): Bill, transpose from the recumbent collection of combustible material upon the threshold of this edifice, the curtailed excesence of a defunct tree."

MR. AND MRS. S. B. PARKER ENTERTAIN Y. M. C. A. CABINET

After Dinner the Evening Was Spent in Singing and Story Telling

The Boys Enjoyed a Very Pleasant Evening

Did you notice how lively the members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and deputation committees were Saturday morning? Well, I guess they had "some" dinner at the Parker home Friday evening. Mr. Parker proved to us that he knows what students need, even in Maryville.

While some of the chosen band were making their approach, we, who believe in being first, indulged in the art of "gabbing." Later upon being begged to enter and partake of "such as there is" and having replied with that conventional phrase "how sudden", we entered.

We seated ourselves, and forthwith did eat—and ate some more. Red Turner tried to keep up as long as his candle burned but finally gave in. Sisk was eating so rapidly and silently that Prof. Johnson fearing that Mutt might choke, awakened him by suddenly asking,"What did you say?"

After raising a good head of steam, we went into secret session, all doors and windows being barred. Miss Parker at the piano and Mr. Parker as choir leader assisted us thru many of the old songs. But say, did you ever hear a crowd of salesmen swapping stories? Our Y.M.C.A. bunch can almost outdo them although they look so young and innocent. Even this evening had its close however when we silently and fearfully slipped forth into the night lest we be shot for further disturbances of the peace.

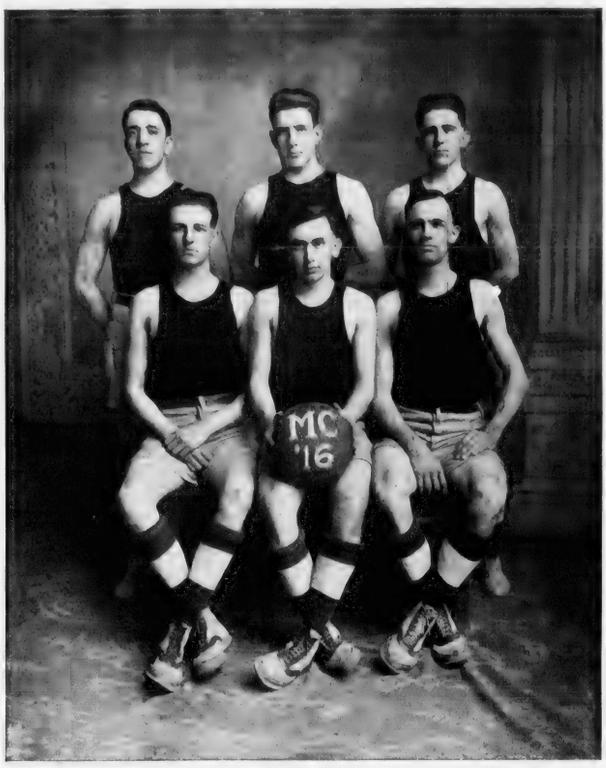
Saturday morning the society editor of this paper was informed that "a good time was had by all" and further—

The members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and Deputation Committee thank the Parker family for one of the most enjoyable evenings of their college life, an evening at home.

Y. W. C. A. ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

Miss Alice Wright is Elected President

Interesting Program Rendered Sunday



"The old order changeth, yielding place to new." So it is in the ranks of the Y. W. C. A. After a year of faithful and efficient service, the officers, Lula Creswell, Mary Miles, Eva Ogilvie and Cora Burns, are retiring. They deserve the laurels of the victor for having given to the Y. W. C. A. one of the best years in its history; and the association wishes to take this opportunity of thanking each girl personally for the splendid work she has done.

Our new President, Alice Wright, is one of the most capable and enthusiastic girls on the Hill. Moreover, she has a great deal of Maryville spirit, having been here since her prep. days; and she has always been an interested and active member of the Y. W. C. A. So we are expecting great things of her.

The other officers are: Vice-Pres., Edith Jackson; Secretary, Dexter Clayton; Treasurer, Mary Thompson. This is the first year for each of these girls, but they have all proved their abilities and their sympathy with the spirit of the organization. The prospects for next year are very rosy indeed, and our co-operation with the Cabinet is all that is needed to make it the best one we have ever had.

Last Sunday's Y. W. C. A. was rather unique and it was led by the

PROHIBITION ORATORICAL CONTEST HELD

Pat Quinn Wins First Place With Miss Erma Russell Second

Four Entered the Contest

The modern world is fast coming to realize that Prohibition is a vital question both morally and economically; and from the time of the ancient Greeks men have delighted in oartory and all sorts of contests. So it was with a threefold interest that the students lisened to the speeches made in the Chapel, Friday evening March 31.

The speakers were as follows: Horace Dawson, who spoke on "The Trial of the Century;"Durward Towe on, "National Constitutional Prohibition;" Erma Russell, "The Nation's Call"; and Pat Quinn "Public Wrongs and Private Rights."

These speeches were all remarkable for their excellent composition and delivery. The arguments were sound and logical and were put before the audience in a logical and convincing manner. The judges rendered a decision in favor of Mr.Quinn who will be our delegate to the state contest at Knoxville, and will be awarded fifteen dollars; and Miss Russell received the second prize, of ten dollars. Dr. Hoyt was the presiding officer. Music was rendered throughout the evening by Miss Lena Pardue.

BASKET BALL TEAM HAS A GOOD SEASON

Majority of Games Won and Scores are 3 to 2 in Highlanders' Favor

Without doubt, Maryville's past season in basketball has been crowned with more glory than any previous one. Out of sixteen games played only five were lost, these being by close scores and on courts away from home. Not only this but defeats came only when prominent membehs of the team were laid up with injuries and sickness.

The season was especialiy marked by the excellent passing and the team work.. In spite of the fact that more strong teams were played than ever before 643 points were rolled up as against 432 of their opponents.

The personnel of the team was made up of three old men and three new, the average weight being 164 pounds.

Robinson, Captain, weight 150, was very speedy and never lost his fighting spirit. His work at left guard was especially noticeable for offensive guarding and the way he intercepted the opponent's passes. Oscar showed improvement over his former playing and this, together, with his unfailing "pep" made him a worthy captain for such a team. He graduates this year.

Feeman, right forward, weight 170 was one of the fastest men on the team, an accurate passer and a star in teamwork. "Doc" had a delightful way of getting the ball out of the enemy's territory, but his long suit was his ability to shoot at close range under pressure. This is his first year with us, but all who saw him play, know well the keystone position which he held on the team.

Garrison, left forward, weight 169, showed a wonderful improvement in "the tip off pass" and aggressiveness over his previous seasons. Reid could always be depended upon to basket the difficult shots, and in foul shooting not only made an enviable record for himself, but added very material-

M. C. NINE TAKES TWO GAMES FROM ATHENS

Thirteen Inning Game a Victory for Maryville Scores 9—2 and 10—7

The base ball team went to Athens for two games March 27 and 28. The weather was exceedinly unfavorable and the ground slippery and muddy, but despite this, both games were played. Maryville won both contests, the first by a score of 9 to 2, and the second went thirteen innings Maryville winning by he score of 10 to 7.

The team by all who know baseball is said to be the strongest put out by this school in years, and certainly must be since there are only four new men on the team and these four in the opinion of our coach, who is no novice in baseball and at coaching are superior to those whose places they are filling.

On the 8th, the team will leave on an extended trip through North and South Carolina to play several of the best college teams in these two states.

Mr. F. P. Miller of Washington and Lee University, was a visitor at the College last Friday. Mr. Miller is the international Y. M. C. A. Secretary of preparatory schools. In one of the best Chapel talks of the year he told of the great number of students who have gone from colleges and universities of Canada and Europe and given their lives that the cause for which they fight might win. He illustrated by comparison the stupendous number of soldiers who have either been wounded or fallen at the front believing their cause to be worthy of the sacrifice. The speaker then made the point that if a material cause is to be won at such an enormous cost, how much more worthy is the divine cause. During the fore noon Mr. Miller was in conference with members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and members of the extension movement, giving some very the work which is about to be undertaken. All who heard Mr. Miller were impressed by his manly personality and his earnestness in his work.

M. C. NINE MAKES GOOD RECORD AGAINST CONNIE MACK'S MEN

Leaguers Held to 7 Hits While Collegians were Getting 5

Final Score 8—2

The game between the Maryville College team and that of Connie Mack's Athletics which was played in Knoxville on April 3 was a good exhibition of the National pastime. The score of 8—2 is an excellent one for a game between a college team and major league team. But the game was better even than the score indicated, as the Philadelphia team made nearly all its scores in one inning.

Maryville took the field and not being accustomed to the big leaguers two men got on, all of which was no fault of pitcher LaRue's but the next man up hit into a double at second which was executed by Mackie with an accurateness and swiftness that baffled the Athletics for a minute and then it was all over and no scores. Mackie led off for Maryville and walked. McCall next up was expected to bunt and so the infielders played in close but Newt crossed them up and placed a beautiful single over the infield. Kelly put down a perfect bunt advancing the runners to second and third. However the next men up were unable to deliver a hit and the side went out. In the third inning, Mackie and McCall got on in the same manner as they did in the first. Kelly again sacrificed them and this time Wickham did the dirty work by putting a fast one between short and third. For four innings the game went hard with the score 2 to 1 in favor of Maryville, but naturally something is expected to happen when a college plays a big league team and the crowd wasnot disappointed. If it had been disappointed Maryville would have to get another ball team for Connie Mack would have wanted a bunch that could beat his team. But again the scoring was not LaRue's fault and was all over in a short time and the game settled down to hard work again. During the six innings that LaRue worked he gave up only six hits, which was an average of one hit an inning. This was an excellent record, especially when the opposing team were working so hard to get some bingles, but Larry just would not split the plate and his success in cutting corners demonstrated his good control and pitching ability in general.

Whitney pitched the last three innings for Maryville and to say he held the Athletics scoreless is putting it mildly, they did not get but one hit off Whit in these three innings. His work was excellent. Both pitchers, and the team as a whole received some very flattering remarks from the veteran and celebrated player Lajoie, who was on second base for Connie Mack's team. The box score is as follows:

Mackie	2	1	0	0	0	1	3	0
Kelly	3	0	0	0	2	1	3	0

ly to the scoring of the team. Reid has two more prospective seasons with us.

Crum, Center, weight 165, came out wonderfully in his goal shooting and consistently throughout the season held his man to few points. At center he rarely ever failed to start the plays right, for only a few times during the season was he unable to get the tip-off. Crum showed an improvement in guarding and in helping to return the ball to safe territory. He is a Junior.

Smith, right Guard, weight 150, it will be remembered made his debut basket-ball last year. "Smitty" could always be depended on for his "pep" and snappy passing. Though a guard he was constantly evading his forward and slipping one in the basket before he could be observed. 'Smitty' has a brilliant record and the fans as well as his team mates regret that this is his last year in College.

Clemens, utility Guard, weight 180 showed conclusively that he posseses basketball ability. Bob was noted for breaking up passes and recovering the ball. He could be relied upon to hold his man to few points. He has his college course before him and great things in the basket ball world are expected of him in seasons to come.

While recounting the attainments of various basket-ball players it would not do to omit those of the second team whom time alone has reserved fr future Varsity teams. Witherspoon, Ellis, Lloyd, Hernandez Hodges, Davidson and Steelman—all have shown promising ability and no doubt will be heard from in seasons to come..

BOYS HIKE TO ABRAHAM'S FALLS

As soon as the examinations were over Friday afternoon, March 24, we set out for Abram's Falls. There were five of us, Avery, Kellam, Moore, Rogers and Thompson. It was the third trip for two of us, but if a person sees the falls once he cannot resist the temptation to go again. We spent the night at the gold mine, on top of the Chilhowee Mountains and went on to the falls the next morning

The falls are about a mile from the Cade's Cove road and are a little difficult to find. Recently there were two different parties that took the trip and came back without having found them. Abram's Creek is a large swift, winding mountain stream. The falls are twenty-two feet high and there is a deep oval pool at the foot of them. There are a few small islands and a lot of drift wood at the other end of the oval.

About noon, Messrs. Jones, Morgan, Purdy, Smith, and Thurman came up, having started from Maryville early the same morning.

A mile up the creek from the falls we came to a horse shoe bend, the sides of which are so close together, that a man, standing on the ridge between them. can throw stones into the water on both sides. We climbed this ridge at its highest point, and were rewarded by a splendid viewon all sides . We could see far up and down the creek, and could make out the opening in the mountains where Cade's Cove is.

In Cade's Cove, the people kindly permitted us to use an empty school house for our headquarters. We had two breakfasts at Mr. Burchfield's in the lower end of the cove. After breakfast Monday morning we started towards Maryville. In spite of the rain we nearly made a record on the return trip, walking from Cade's Cove to Maryville in six hours and twenty minutes.

newly installed president, Miss Alice Wright.

The Matrons were all requested to be absent.

The topic: "A Banquet" was a very interesting one and it was developed in the following manner. "Happiness and Where to find it," by Miss Wright, followed by a splendid discussion of "The Blues, their Cause, Effect and Cure," by Miss Erma Russell, and this should help everyone to be more cheerful.

The next, Miss Edith Jackson on, "Dormitory Life and the Girl's relation to Her Matron," contained a great many pointers. There was an unusually large crowd present and the unanimous verdict was that it had been a very successful meeting.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT Y. M. C. A.

The spring fever has not been in attendance at the Y. M. C. A.. This was made evident by the fact that a large enthusiastic body of young college men attended the meeting Sunday afternoon.

The meeting was led by three men. Messrs. O.G.Robinson, J. Chas. Walker and H. H. Ferntheil. They spoke of the Blue Ridge Conference to be held at Black Mountain June 16--26 and made a strenuous endeavor to encourage men to attend this conference. Mr. O. G. Robinson outlined the work that is done there each day. Mr. J. Chas. Walker told of the number of good speakers who have a good message and attend the conference. Mr. H. H. Fernthal spoke of the cost of the trip and the ten days stay. And he also spoke of the fact that the Y. M. C. A. cabinet is preparing to start a conference fund, so if there are some men who want to go to the conference and lack funds the Y. M. C. A. will be ready to help them.

The meeting will be led by Mr. Thurmond next Sunday at one o'clock Let us see if we can fill that auditorium.

THE STUBBORN MULE

The stubbornest critter I ever seed,
Was a mule that wouldn't start;
She pawed, she kicked, she snorted loud,
But she wouldn't budge the cart.
They got a tow-sack Blinder
And put around her head;
That mule kicked out behind 'er,
And a man was laid out dead!
With mamma's quilting needle
They probed her in the side,
And then they used the needle
To sew up daddy's Hide.
They built a fire beneath 'er—
Burnt up the whole blame cart—
By Hokey! That thing fotch 'er!
That made that blame mule start!
A-coming back next morning,
Dad gave his brow a mop,
And said, "Doggone that donkey;
Too stubborn now to stop!"

TWO SENIORS TAKE LONG HIKE IN CHILHOWEES

104 Miles Covered in 3Days, 1 hour and 46 Minutes

Not having had sufficient vacation on the previous day at Sunshine, Vineyard and I left Maryville Sunday afternoon, March 26, for what was to prove to be the longest hike we had ever taken and perhaps one of the longest known to Maryville hikers Certainly it was a rather unusual one but one in which all the glories of Look Rock, Sheep Pen and Abram's Falls combine with a delightful trip through smoother country and a visit to a few small towns.

We left College at 2 P. M. carrying nothing but a roll of blankets each. A few miles east of town we turned off the Sevierville pike on to the Ellejoy road which we followed until we had crossed the concrete bridge over Little River when we turned north. Nightfall found us about 13 miles from Maryville just inside the Blount County line, where we camped for the night. The sky was threatening rain and no sooner were we well settled in an old pig shed about 6 ft. by 4 ft. than a good steady rain set in. Our shelter lasted for some time but about eight o'clock we were forced to find more suitable quarters. We were located in a patch of woods and with great difficulty, by striking matches, we were able to get out and cross the road to a little log barn we had noticed before dark. We climbed the ladder on the outside and dropped onto the hay in the center, where with birds and bats overhead, rats working industriously beneath us, and an old cow ringing her bell all night long continuously, we spent a peaceful (?) night.

Leaving this place a little before 6 A. M. we traveled about an hour when we came to a store and to a little colony of farm houses. Here we had the most delightful experience of the trip, for while eating our bite of store products a Mr. Wolf engaged us in conversation and on learning who we were and our purpose, he insisted on doing us a favor. Under our protest he crossed the road to a house and phoned his wife—evidently he must have said something—for in a few minutes we went back down the road and met his daughter carrying a newspaper piled up with fried eggs, biscuits, jelly, preserves, apple pie and cake. To say we appreciated the White-hearted act of this Good Samaritan is stating a grand fact in such simple language as to allow it to fail in its full significance. At any rate the memories of this man's kindness cheered us all the rest of our journey.

That morning we turned aside again from the straight road and although we made a detour of no less than 15 miles we never regretted it for a moment. In fact the greatest experience of the trip was the climb up Bluff Mountain and the magnificent view we obtained from Du Pont Springs, on its crest. We began the ascent at 8:30 and reached the top by the most direct route at 10:00. Fog still enveloped the valley but it seemed that it lifeta just a moment for our especial benefit. In those few entrancing minutes we were able to look far out over foothills and plains and to trace the winding road we had followed since daybreak. Into three counties we looked, and on a clear night, it is said, the lights of Maryville, Knoxville and Sevierville can all be plainly seen. But we could not stay here long, so crossed on over the mountain, down Walden's creek, and came into Sevierville from the east at about three P. M. having traveled 40 miles. Remaining about an hour we set out for Line Springs on the Little River Railroad, 20 miles away. Night overtook us near Pigeon Forge about seven miles from Sevierville and we camped for the night in an empty cabin. The day had been a little rainy but we built a fire in the fireplace and managed to sleep until a rather late hour in the morning.

Tuesday found us following the well graded road over the mountain towards Line Springs Hotel where we arrived about 11 A. M. An hour later we were on the railroad going towards Elkmont, seven miles up the line. We reached Elkmont at 2:30 P. M. and left in less than an hour, intending to get back to Line Springs in time to find an empty cabin or a barn in which to spend the night. We succeeded but not without difficulty. Darkness was close upon us and at the last house we asked we were told that there was a man living about two miles down the railroad, who had built a new cabin and so probably could let us sleep either in that or in the old one. We knew that was practically the only habitation between Line Springs and Townsend, but we decided to risk it and so at top speed we reeled off two more miles in the semi-darkness. No doubt we would have been unable to find the little cabin, which sits back in a secluded valley away from the road had it not been for the fact that I had camped there for a week about five years ago. After long persuasion and lengthy explanation as to ourselves and our mission, the owner of the cabin gave us his permission to occupy one of his two new cabins, and there on the hard floor we passed the night..

Wednesday was occupied in getting back to Maryville, a distance of 28 miles. We passed through Townsend about 9:30 and about an hour later the familiar scenes of Sunshine came into view. At Walland we stopped for lunch and the hour of inactivity made us very stiff, but after resuming our journey our old "pep" returned and the last 10 miles were made in time which much surprised us. Our fondest hopes placed our time of arrival in Maryville at 4:30 P. M., but at Hubbard we took the pike and in the final dash made as good time or better than we did at the start. We reached he Hill at 3:45, tired and happy, having covered a distance of 104 miles in 3 days, 1 hour and 45 minutes.

GIRLS FINISH A MOST SUCCESSFUL BASKET-BALL SEASON

Each Player Has a Remarkable Record

The girls' basket ball team of Maryville College, this season, has made a record that certain is enviable. Five of the strongest teams in Tennessee have been met by them, all of whom were decisively defeated. The total score of this team bears the ratio to the total score of opponents as 5 to 1. The team almost tripled the score of its nearest competitor.

The boys' team, although it won a smaller percentage of games, finished a very successful season doing honor to itself and to the College Observer will note that the first games lost were on the Carolina trip where some of the players received physical injuries that crippled them for the remainder of the season. Despite these defects they played the game heroically.

This is the spirit that does honor to the college. It is the spirit that, not only all athletic teams, but all students would do well to emulate.

Arda Martin, right forward. First year on the team. While her Maryville career has not been long it has been exceedingly brilliant, for she threw seventy-nine field goals and scored eight points from the foul line, during the eleven halves in which she played. Although her "floor work" has been aggressive, she starred at goal shooting and this quality coupled with Miss Wilson's speed formed a combination so far superior to any opponent of the year that its mention became a terror to them.

Lois Wilson, sixth year on the team Speedy, aggressive, consistent and versatile, she has been an exceptionally useful and forceful exponent of the game, for years. She has been a star throughout her basket-ball career and her loss by graduation this year is likely to prove a serious one to succeeding teams. Miss Wilson is especially good at getting hold of the ball and "floor work' in general, in which department of the game she has easily out played any of her opponents throughout this season, as well as several previous ones. She is also a good shot at the basket, having made 134 points in the eleven halves in which she has played this season. Miss Wilson was manager of the team

Sarah Stinnett, right guard. First year on the team. Although her basket ball career is rather short, yet she has already displayed her ability as a player. She has "pep" and determination which are essential qualities to a good player. She is always in the thick of the fight working hard and will be a valuable member of next year's team.

Nell Enloe, substitute. While she did not play in all of the games her work was consistent and effective in those in which she did play. Miss Enloe is tall and aggressive and should be a very valuable member of next year's team.

Dixie Webb, center. Third year on the team. Although this was her first season at center her versatile playing there, has no doubt, led many spectators to believe that she had spent several previous seasons at the pivotal position of the team. Her superb head work was in evidence throughout the season. Aggressive, consistent and a hard worker, she has well filled her important position on the team. Her jumping has also been of a phenominal character, for she has excelled all opponents in this department of play.

Catherine Sugg, left guard. Third year on the team. A consistent and aggressive fighter this season, as well as during the previous years of her Varsity career. She is especially good at sticking to her forward and this valuable quality of her playing has blasted the hopes of many a visitor, who before had been considered a star. She has been cool and consistent in her duties as captain as well as in her playing. Miss Sugg graduates this year.

BAINONIANS GIVE STORY OF STAGE FAVORITES LIVES

These were, Ethel Barrymore, Ed Sutherland, Maude Adams, And Julia Marlowe

There was a very interesting and somewhat unusual program in Bainonian Friday night, for the four favorites of the American stage were presented to us in words if not in actual being.

A biography of each was given, and the how, the why, and the when of the choosing such a career was told in each sketch.

Ethel Barrymore developing from a typical American School girl into the great actress that she is today was presented to us by Miss Franke Sheddan. Then the biography of Julia Marlowe of English parentage but the greatest American actress, and the greatest living actress in Shakespearean roles was sketched by Miss Simpson.

Ed Sutherland, who has shared honors with Miss Marlowe in their joint productions of Shakespeare's plays, was the only actor whose history was told, but Miss Kathleen Porter did full justice to him .

And last but not least was Maude Adams who endeared herself to young and old alike in her "Peter Pan," and it was her work in this role especially that Miss Fisher emphasized in the biography.

A piano solo by Miss Charlotte McKoy was the only musical number on the program but as it came first, it was a fitting "curtain raiser" for the others.

THETAS CELEBRATE SEASON OF HOUSE CLEANING

"In the spring a lovlier iris changes on the burnished dove."

In the spring a young girl's fancies, (speak it softly) turn to—Spring House cleaning. This has been fully demonstrated in the past week, as anyone who attended Theta on Friday evening will testify.

The floor, which had become scarred and worn by the footprints (or perhaps the shoe soles) of many loyal Thetas, has renewed its youth and rejoices in a coat of dark walnut stain. The table for a long time some what crippled and uncertain on its feet, has been replaced by a library table of which we are all proud and at the windows hang fresh, new curtains. The hall has been thoroughly cleaned and renovated and no pains have been spared in making it attractive.

MARYVILLE PREPS WIN TWO DEBATES FROM BEREA

First Contest of the Kind For M. C. Preps.

One Debate at Berea, and One at Maryville

It was with a great deal of confidence, which, however, was mingled with uncertainty, that the Maryville College Preparatory Debating team, escorted by Professor Knapp, boarded the train at the Southern station en route to Berea College, Berea, Kentucky, to lock horns with the debating team of Berea Academy. Plenty of "pep" was shown by the debaters on the train, but. Prof. Johnson very tenderly exhorted them to save the ginger for the crucial hour. And the crucial hour came, as we shall see.

"Bee-rea" ! shouted the conductor. The ventricular contraction of three hearts on the train increased 100 per cent as they got off the train, and were hustled into an auto to be taken to— they knew not where. Prof. Knapp pleaded wih the driver not to take him to the Jail.

Supper time came, and the Maryville team was hustled over to the Academy Dining Hall, where, besides having the honor of sitting at the faculty table on a raised platform, were given an ovation such as they will never forget. The Dining Hall folks had divided themselves into Maryvillians and Bereans, and each side yelled, sang and rooted for their team. The Maryvillians far excelled the Bereans in rooting, and we felt it was our duty to WIN with all this splendid support.

The long-expected hour came at last. A big audience filled the Chapel. The first speaker forBerea began the debate, unfortunately for his team tried to prove very trickily that the word "permanent" does not mean permanent, which Zollie Howard rebutted by saying, "Honerable Judges, the first speaker on the Affirmative tried to take the permanency out of permanent", which drew a big laugh from the audience. The debate was nip and tuck until the last rebuttal, when Zollie Howard tore the affirmative's argument to pieces, took the props from under them, and did to Berea what Maryville expected to do to U. T.

The debate over, and the usual music and heart-breaking wait passed, the Chairman announced the decision of the Judges in favor of Maryville, whereupon the Team gave 15 Rahs for Berea and the good old "How-we-How!" There were three happy young men in Berea that night, namely, Homer Weisbecker, Ralph A. Young, and J. Zollie Howard. They were given an after-debate banquet by some members of the faculty, at which the Berea team was present, which gave both teams a chance to talk over the battle morefrankly than they would have done an hour before.

But the joy of Maryville's team reached its climax when on to-morrow they received news by wire that the team at home had also beaten Berea, making a good record for the Orange and Garnet.

"Maryville, Oh Maryville,
The Hill sends back the cry,
We're here to do or die.
Maryville, Oh Maryville,
We'll win this game
Or know the reason why.
And when we win the game,
We'll have a good old spread,
And we'll sing to dear old Maryville
Till time to go to bed.
As we go marching,
And the band begins to P-L-A-Y,
You can hear the people shouting,
Maryville is out to win the day,
Rah, Rah, Rah!"

Y. W. C. A. CLOSES WITH A VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

A Nnmber of Girls to Attend Blue Ridge Conference

As this is the time for a general review of College activities, the Y. W. C. A. claims its space in the Highland Echo to give a summary of this term's work.

The regular devotional meetings covering a variety of subjects, have been exceptionally good.

The Y. W. C. A. was very fortunate in its number of special services. Miss McCampbell's interpretation of Daniel's four-fold vision and her application of the vision to our lives deepened our spiritual thoughts.

The following announcements show something of the way in which Easter was observed:

"To Baldwin's lawn at half past six
Come girls, and together mix,
'Tis Easter, the time when rabbits do stunts,
And in the grass their eggs, we'll hunt.
The Y. W. C. A. never forgets
(Tho' we're grown up in years)
We're little girls yet,
So come one an' all, we'll have a good time,
But bring two cents to get over the line."
"At six-thirty in the morning, the first day of the week,
The Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. on Baldwin lawn will meet.
Come with hearts full of praise
And glad songs we'll sing
In sacred commemoration of our Risen Lord and King!
A glad Easter message from the heart of Dr. Hoyt.
Will vanish every doubt and make the saddest heart rejoice!"

Pre-season Camp to be Held.

The foot ball schedule for 1916 is well balanced and contains three "big" games for the Maryville Highlanders. Prospects are bright for a good team, and with Coach Kiefer again at the helm, it is to be expected that the Orange and Garnet will have a successful season.

The schedule reads as follows:—

Sept. 30, Central High School, at Maryville.

October 7, University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

October 14, Washington College, at Maryville. (tenative.)

October 21 Centre College, at Danville, Ky.

October 28, King College, at Maryville.

November 4, Tusculum College, at Greeneville, Tenn.

November 10, Emory and Henry, at Maryville.

November 21, Mississippi A. & M., at Maryville.

November 30, University of Chattanooga, at Chatanooga, (tenative.)

Plans are being made to have the fellows back a week before school opens, to allow them to get in shape for the U. of T. game on Oct. 7.

Most of the old men have signified their intention of being with Maryville next season, with the exception of Hickman, who has joined the "Mr. and Mrs." Association.

MISS HATTIE B. LESTER OF CLASS '13 LEADS CHAPEL

Speaks of Experience Gained in Teaching

Miss Hattie B. Lester, a member of the class of '13, who is principal of the Anneville Academy, in Ky., was a visitor at the College June 1. After leading the worship at chapel she urged that all tell their friends about the greatness of Maryville. All kickers are eliminated.

Miss Lester urged that in life,we must have a clearly defined purpose, and lead a united group of people to become animated with the same purpose. She recommended that all kickers should be eliminated from an organization of this kind.

We have seldom had as helpful an address as Miss Lester gave..

WATER CARNIVAL IN THE NEW SWIMMING POOL

Receipts go to Support Pre-season Football Camp

First Carnival Good and Attended by Large Crowd

Of all the events on College Hill this year, the Water Carnival, held Thursday evening, June 1, probably proved the most spectacular. From the opening Arrow dive to the closing number, the spectators were kept on tip-toe from excitement, by a continuous series of daring performancies. The boys and girls that took part showed a skill and polish rarely found in amateurs. Much credit is due them for their thorough preparation and also to director Frater whose persistent and untiring efforts have been in a large degree responsible for the success achieved.

Some of the events creating most favorable comment were, the submarine, by Weisbecker, and a double dive, executed by Percy Buchanan, Montgomery and others. Bill Jones in his difficult under water swim and other events displayed a high degree off efficiency. Bob Gamon's impersonation was appreciated by the crowd. Our girls in diving from the foot platform showed a nerve and an ability which very few of their sex possess.

In the class relay which was exciting and enjoyed by all, Freshman took first place, third preps second, and Juniors third place.

Viewed from many angles the carnival was a success and it is a safe prediction that affairs of this nature will in the future prove among the most popular events on the Hill. A neat sum of money was realized, which will be used in connection with a pre-season training camp in preparation for football, next Fall.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

ad Athletic board of Control

On May 14, the Athletic Association met and elected the following officers of the Athletic Board of Control: M. B. Crum, President; Reid Garrison, Vice-president; F. L. Proffitt, Treasurer; H. W. Feeman, Secretary; G. W. Hodges, C. E. Ensign, Emma Mils, and Arda Martin, student representatives; Prof. W. L. Johnson and Prof. Geo. A. Knapp, faculty representatives.

Mr. Robert I. Gamon is pushing the football work for next year. A schedule is near to completion and a pre-season training camp is being arranged. The large receipts received from the water carnival will contribute to this movement.

BASEBALL LEAGUE CLOSES SEASON

Capt. Webster's Team, The Cubs, Win First Place

The baseball league organized by physical director, Mr. Weisbecker, and which was conducted for the benefit of the boys instead of gym. work, closed the season with teams ranking as follows:

1—Cubs ..... Capt. Webster
2—Browns ..... Young Hayes
3—Giants ..... George Steelman
4—Athletics ..... Paul Kidder
5—Tigers ..... A. T. Norgan
6—Braves ..... — Cox

Each team played eight games. Mr E. F. Cody rendered valuable service as official umpire.

M. C. NINE FINISH A VERY SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Hard Schedule Played and Long Trip Taken

14 of the 21 Games Were Won

Maryville started its baseball season with Young High. It was some start— for Young high won 12-3.

Then between terms the Highlanders journeyed down to Athens and played two games with that department of the U. of C. Both games were good and interesting and altho played on a slow muddy field, M. C. won both contests, scores 8-2, 10-7, the last being a thirteen inning game.

Our next game was at Knoxville where the Philadelphia Athletics were met and quite a creditable showing made, M. C. losing by the score of 8 - 2.

A few days later Johnson Bible College came down to meet the Highlanders and were easily disposed of 8 - 0.

There were no more games at home for a time, as the Highlanders left for a long trip. Our first game was won from Weaver College in an eleven inning game 8 - 7.

Then we journeyed down to Due West, S. C. and met Erskine, who defeated us in a fast, well-played game, score 3 - 0.

The next day we landed in Greeneville, S. C. and played two games with Furman University, winning the first 3 - 0, and losing the second 12 - 9. The first was as fast and well-played as the second was loose.

Next we landed at Belmont Abbey and played the Catholic boys of Belmont College, fourteen innings to a 4 - 2 score. M. C. breaking the tie by hard hitting.

At Catawba College, Newton, N. C. we were disposed of 5 - 3 in a hard fought game.

Then we met Davidson, winning 3 - 2, which was hard on Lindsay Johnston.

Our next game was with Lenoir College at Hickory, N. C., who were defeated 7 - 3 in an up-hill game. The Highlanders won in the eighth inning.

Then we started home but played two very good games at Asheville, against the league team of that city. We lost our first 6 - 5, 16 innings, and won on the second day 7- 3.

Then there was a rest for a time and then the Knoxville School for Deaf and Dumb came over to the "Hill" andwere defeated 9 - 5. Then another rest until Emory and Henry came over and were defeated 10 - 0, and 5 - 3. Tusculum came next hoping to tear us up. They lost out 13-5.

Then came M. C's. worst beating of the year before one of the biggest crowds of several seasons. U. of T. won 12 - 0. The game was a little better than the score indicates.

Then we went over to Wait Field and made U. T. hustle to win from us 10 - 6.

These last few games brought out some very promising material.

Mailing price, $1.00 per year. Local subscription, 75 cents per year.

The Highland Echo entered upon its first year of existence with some handicaps that would have proved fatal to its existence had it not been a fundamental need of Maryville College. It was not until school had been in progress for some weeks that the editor knew of his appointment, as editor of the College Monthly. As soon as the Staff, composed of the class and organization editors, and a business manager had been elected, a meeting of these resulted in the plan of publishing a weekly instead of a monthly.

No subscriptions had been solicited, no advertisements secured and no previous organization in the past to build on its way. No advance in price over upon,and the first term of school well that of the monthly was made and no advance in advertising. The subscription price of seventy-five cents per year was retained and space for ads cost the same for four times a month that they formerly did for once a month. The Highland Echo has been well supported by the student body excepting a surprisingly large number who have not paid their subscriptions. A feature that promises much for the publication is the fact that the alumni subscriptions have been larger than ever was had by the Monthly and new ones were received throughout the year.

Last year there were five issues of the Monthly published. This year there have been nineteen issues of the Highland Echo published. During the course of the year the subscription list has grown to nearly four hundred.

We believe that a very successful and useful future awaits the Highlanr Echo. The subscription price should be raised to that of similar publications in other schools and the advertising rates doubled. The paper is worth it, the advertisement is worth it, and a successful publication demands it.

A movement is now planned by the societies to select the editor, not from a society, but to make the selecion of his officer competitive. All who desire to become editor shall have to write some editorials, news items, and other articles and the one who shows himself most capable will be selected. Jhis one will then have to assist the editor one term and learn the job. A business manager will be selected in like manner. We commend this method to the student body. It will insure an efficient editorial staff.

We the class of '16 believe that God has a great future for M. C. The word of this college during the past century, fills us with pride, and the prospects in the new life it is now entering upon, intoxicates us with joyous hopes. The spirit of M. C. at the present is best exprest by our poet, Holmes,

"Build thee more stately mansions,
O my Soul,
"As the swift seasons roll,
"Leave thy low vaulted past,
Let each new cell more nobler than the last,
"Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
'Till thou art free,
"Leaving thy outworn cell by life's unresting sea.

BAINONIAN

Bainonian has maintained her high standard of efficient work during the spring term, despite the obstacles encountered, such as, rush for time, spring fever, and the like. The large attendance at each meeting showed the interest of the members. The spirit of work and loyalty pervaded the wholesociety. The success has been due largely to the faithful officers, who have rendered excellent service. Our programs have been varied; some required careful thought and deliberation in the preparation of them; others were in a lighter vein and were given for our enjoyment, rather than for instruction.

Our first meeting was a grand success. In accordance with its title, Spring-time, various selections of music and reading were given. But the special feature was the address given by Dr. Hoyt. He gave us some excellent ideas for our work. In following out the suggestions offered, our society has been greatly helped..

Our next program was, "An Evening in Society". Although this did not require so much serious thought it was delightful and it depicted the present-day customs. The two important features were, The Social Fibs, and the Debate. The question was:

Resolved: that the so-called society hand-shake should be shaken straight down, out, away from an honest limb unto utter limbo.

The faculty evening was the most instructive of all our meetings. Miss Rankin sang for us. Miss Fanson gave two very excellent readings. Miss Green told us of "stunts" and her experience at Smith College. Miss Alexander discussed, "Why I Came to College." She compared woman of this age with women of former ages, emphasizing our privileges and also our obligations. One evening was devoted to the study of the present-day movies. The debate was the important number of the program. The debate:

Resolved: That the motion picture houses are a menace to the American stage, was very interestingly discussed.

Last Friday evening was a swapping party. Each girl brought a package carefully wrapped and exchanged it with her neighbor. An extemporaneous program followed, consisting of an essay on Man, a debate, and a moving picture scene.

Our last meeting willbe held Saturday afternoon specially for the Seniors. At this time diplomas will be awarded the following seniors: Lois Wilson, Gray Webb, Catherine Sugg, Mae Smith, Lily Mitchell, Ethel McKelvey, Harriet Meek, Alethia May, Zelma Kennedy and Lula Creswell. They have been faithful workers and we regret very much to lose them.

New officers will be installed this week. Bainonian will be in the hearts of all its members during vacation, and they will come back in the Fall with many ideas for more efficient work.

THETA EPSILON

On Friday evening, May 26, was held the closing meeting of the Theta Society for this year. The program was entirely in the hands of the seniors of the music and expression departments, and, those who were present know that we are justly proud of the members who go from us this year.

At a business meeting a few weeks ago it was decided to change the time of the election of officers until the middle of the fall term, instead of holding it at the end of the spring term, as has previously been the custom. In this way, the old corps of officers will open the new school year, and will be more competent to handle the situation arising from the coming of the new students.

Theta is already looking forward to the coming year, and preparing to give a friendly welcome to the new girls.

The year just closed has been one of the most successful in the history of the society, and the prospects for the future are unusually bright.

JUNIOR ALPHA SIGMA

The Junior section of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society looks back with keen satisfaction upon the past scholastic year. The Society has been given great opportunities, which meant great responsibilities, and she has faced them with a cheerfulness and characteristic determination, which brought honor to herself and reflected glory upon the institution which she represents.

For the first time in the history of the society, opportunity was given the Junior men to show their debating ability, in the contest with Berea College, of Kentucky. Of the six men on the two teams representing Maryville at home and abroad, four of them were loyal sons of the Junior Alpha Sigma. How well they succeeded in this the most subtle of all arts is a matter ofjoyful history. Suffice it to say, they "brought home the bacon" from Berea, and besides, kept the home "bacon" as well.

At the last meeting of the society, the following officers were elected to serve the first term of next year:

President ---------- Ralph A. Young
Vice-President -- Pedro J. Hernandez
Recording Secretary --D. W. Eitner
Assistant Rec. Sec'y ---- J. Calahan
Corresponding Sec'y ---- E. F. Cody
Editor ---------- Ray Quinn
Serg't-at-Arms -- Cualde C. Buckner
Janitor ---------- James Cook

FRESHMEN WELL REPRESENTED IN COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

The school year of 15-16 is about to close on the class of '19 as one of the most successful freshman classes in the history of the college. Our success has not been confined to a few activities, for in practically every student organization are found worthy representatives of the freshman class. Our victory at the relay race in the water carnval, June 1, only speaks partly of our athletic ability. We have been well represented on all athletic teams of the year.

We have not only given an account of ourselves in the various organizations on the hill, and in athletics, but we have developed some men of literary ability. Probably no other freshman class has equalled us in this respect. We have produced as many inter-collegiate debaters as all the other classes combined. It is true, however, that our class activities have not been wholly unaccompanied by misfortune. Indeed we lost both our president and editor. Nevertheless the freshman talent has not been lacking. Should we continue the next three years in the same spirit that we have shown in our freshman year, we shall indeed be a worthy centennial class, fitted to represent the college in such a celebration.

JUNIOR ATHENIANS

MARYVILLE PREPS WIN TWO DEBATES FROM BEREA

First Contest of the Kind For M. C. Preps.

One Debate at Berea, and One at Maryville

It was with a great deal of confidence, which, however, was mingled with uncertainty, that the Maryville College Preparatory Debating team, escorted by Professor Knapp, boarded the train at the Southern station en route to Berea College, Berea, Kentucky, to lock horns with the debating team of Berea Academy. Plenty of "pep" was shown by the debaters on the train, but. Prof. Johnson very tenderly exhorted them to save the ginger for the crucial hour. And the crucial hour came, as we shall see.

"Bee-rea" ! shouted the conductor. The ventricular contraction of three hearts on the train increased 100 per cent as they got off the train, and were hustled into an auto to be taken to— they knew not where. Prof. Knapp pleaded wih the driver not to take him to the Jail.

Supper time came, and the Maryville team was hustled over to the Academy Dining Hall, where, besides having the honor of sitting at the faculty table on a raised platform, were given an ovation such as they will never forget. The Dining Hall folks had divided themselves into Maryvillians and Bereans, and each side yelled, sang and rooted for their team. The Maryvillians far excelled the Bereans in rooting, and we felt it was our duty to WIN with all this splendid support.

The long-expected hour came at last. A big audience filled the Chapel. The first speaker forBerea began the debate, unfortunately for his team tried to prove very trickily that the word "permanent" does not mean permanent, which Zollie Howard rebutted by saying, "Honerable Judges, the first speaker on the Affirmative tried to take the permanency out of permanent", which drew a big laugh from the audience. The debate was nip and tuck until the last rebuttal, when Zollie Howard tore the affirmative's argument to pieces, took the props from under them, and did to Berea what Maryville expected to do to U. T.

The debate over, and the usual music and heart-breaking wait passed, the Chairman announced the decision of the Judges in favor of Maryville, whereupon the Team gave 15 Rahs for Berea and the good old "How-we-How!" There were three happy young men in Berea that night, namely, Homer Weisbecker, Ralph A. Young, and J. Zollie Howard. They were given an after-debate banquet by some members of the faculty, at which the Berea team was present, which gave both teams a chance to talk over the battle morefrankly than they would have done an hour before.

But the joy of Maryville's team reached its climax when on to-morrow they received news by wire that the team at home had also beaten Berea, making a good record for the Orange and Garnet.

"Maryville, Oh Maryville,
The Hill sends back the cry,
We're here to do or die.
Maryville, Oh Maryville,
We'll win this game
Or know the reason why.
And when we win the game,
We'll have a good old spread,
And we'll sing to dear old Maryville
Till time to go to bed.
As we go marching,
And the band begins to P-L-A-Y,
You can hear the people shouting,
Maryville is out to win the day,
Rah, Rah, Rah!"

Miss Edna Dawson was May Queen. Miss Ocie Webb, at the piano, furnished music for the exercises. The orchestra gave some excellent music.

Y. W. C. A. CLOSES WITH A VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

A Nnmber of Girls to Attend Blue Ridge Conference

As this is the time for a general review of College activities, the Y. W. C. A. claims its space in the Highland Echo to give a summary of this term's work.

The regular devotional meetings covering a variety of subjects, have been exceptionally good.

The Y. W. C. A. was very fortunate in its number of special services. Miss McCampbell's interpretation of Daniel's four-fold vision and her application of the vision to our lives deepened our spiritual thoughts.

The following announcements show something of the way in which Easter was observed:

"To Baldwin's lawn at half past six
Come girls, and together mix,
'Tis Easter, the time when rabbits do stunts,
And in the grass their eggs, we'll hunt.
The Y. W. C. A. never forgets
(Tho' we're grown up in years)
We're little girls yet,
So come one an' all, we'll have a good time,
But bring two cents to get over the line."
"At six-thirty in the morning, the first day of the week,
The Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. on Baldwin lawn will meet.
Come with hearts full of praise
And glad songs we'll sing
In sacred commemoration of our Risen Lord and King!
A glad Easter message from the heart of Dr. Hoyt.
Will vanish every doubt and make the saddest heart rejoice!"

MANAGER ROBT. I. GAMON ANNOUNCES FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Big Games Coming for Football Fans

Pre-season Camp to be Held.

The foot ball schedule for 1916 is well balanced and contains three "big" games for the Maryville Highlanders. Prospects are bright for a good team, and with Coach Kiefer again at the helm, it is to be expected that the Orange and Garnet will have a successful season.

The schedule reads as follows:—

Sept. 30, Central High School, at Maryville.

October 7, University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

October 14, Washington College, at Maryville. (tenative.)

October 21 Centre College, at Danville, Ky.

October 28, King College, at Maryville.

November 4, Tusculum College, at Greeneville, Tenn.

November 10, Emory and Henry, at Maryville.

November 21, Mississippi A. & M., at Maryville.

November 30, University of Chattanooga, at Chatanooga, (tenative.)

Plans are being made to have the fellows back a week before school opens, to allow them to get in shape for the U. of T. game on Oct. 7.

Most of the old men have signified their intention of being with Maryville next season, with the exception of Hickman, who has joined the "Mr. and Mrs." Association.

MISS HATTIE B. LESTER OF CLASS '13 LEADS CHAPEL

Speaks of Experience Gained in Teaching

Miss Hattie P. Lester, a member of the class of '13, who is principal of the Anneville Academy, in Ky., was a visitor at the College June 1. After leading the worship at chapel she urged that all tell their friends about the greatness of Maryville. All kickers are eliminated.

Miss Lester urged that in life,we must have a clearly defined purpose, and lead a united group of people to become animated with the same purpose. She recommended that all kickers should be eliminated from an organization of this kind.

We have seldom had as helpful an address as Miss Lester gave..

WATER CARNIVAL IN THE NEW SWIMMING POOL

Receipts go to Support Pre-season Football Camp

First Carnival Good and Attended by Large Crowd

Of all the events on College Hill this year, the Water Carnival, held Thursday evening, June 1, probably proved the most spectacular. From the opening Arrow dive to the closing number, the spectators were kept on tip-toe from excitement, by a continuous series of daring performancies. The boys and girls that took part showed a skill and polish rarely found in amateurs. Much credit is due them for their thorough preparation and also to director Frater whose persistent and untiring efforts have been in a large degree responsible for the success achieved.

Some of the events creating most favorable comment were, the submarine, by Weisbecker, and a double dive, executed by Percy Buchanan, Montgomery and others. Bill Jones in his difficult under water swim and other events displayed a high degree off efficiency. Bob Gamon's impersonation was appreciated by the crowd. Our girls in diving from the foot platform showed a nerve and an ability which very few of their sex possess.

In the class relay which was exciting and enjoyed by all, Freshman took first place, third preps second, and Juniors third place.

Viewed from many angles the carnival was a success and it is a safe prediction that affairs of this nature will in the future prove among the most popular events on the Hill. A neat sum of money was realized, which will be used in connection with a pre-season training camp in preparation for football, next Fall.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

ad Athletic board of Control

On May 14, the Athletic Association met and elected the following officers of the Athletic Board of Control: M. B. Crum, President; Reid Garrison, Vice-president; F. L. Proffitt, Treasurer; H. W. Feeman, Secretary; G. W. Hodges, C. E. Ensign, Emma Mils, and Arda Martin, student representatives; Prof. W. L. Johnson and Prof. Geo. A. Knapp, faculty representatives.

Mr. Robert I. Gamon is pushing the football work for next year. A schedule is near to completion and a pre-season training camp is being arranged. The large receipts received from the water carnival will contribute to this movement.

BASEBALL LEAGUE CLOSES SEASON

Capt. Webster's Team, The Cubs, Win First Place

The baseball league organized by physical director, Mr. Weisbecker, and which was conducted for the benefit of the boys instead of gym. work, closed the season with teams ranking as follows:

1—Cubs ---------- Capt. Webster
2—Browns ---------- Young Hayes
3—Giants ------- George Steelman
4—Athletics ---------- Paul Kidder
5—Tigers ---------- A. T. Norgan
6—Braves ---------- — Cox

Each team played eight games. Mr E. F. Cody rendered valuable service as official umpire.

M. C. NINE FINISH A VERY SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Hard Schedule Played and Long Trip Taken

14 of the 21 Games Were Won

Maryville started its baseball season with Young High. It was some start— for Young high won 12-3.

Then between terms the Highlanders journeyed down to Athens and played two games with that department of the U. of C. Both games were good and interesting and altho played on a slow muddy field, M. C. won both contests, scores 8-2, 10-7, the last being a thirteen inning game.

Our next game was at Knoxville where the Philadelphia Athletics were met and quite a creditable showing made, M. C. losing by the score of 8 - 2.

A few days later Johnson Bible College came down to meet the Highlanders and were easily disposed of 8 - 0.

There were no more games at home for a time, as the Highlanders left for a long trip. Our first game was won from Weaver College in an eleven inning game 8 - 7.

Then we journeyed down to Due West, S. C. and met Erskine, who defeated us in a fast, well-played game, score 3 - 0.

The next day we landed in Greeneville, S. C. and played two games with Furman University, winning the first 3 - 0, and losing the second 12 - 9. The first was as fast and well-played as the second was loose.

Next we landed at Belmont Abbey and played the Catholic boys of Belmont College, fourteen innings to a 4 - 2 score. M. C. breaking the tie by hard hitting.

At Catawba College, Newton, N. C. we were disposed of 5 - 3 in a hard fought game.

Then we met Davidson, winning 3 - 2, which was hard on Lindsay Johnston.

Our next game was with Lenoir College at Hickory, N. C., who were defeated 7 - 3 in an up-hill game. The Highlanders won in the eighth inning.

Then we started home but played two very good games at Asheville, against the league team of that city. We lost our first 6 - 5, 16 innings, and won on the second day 7- 3.

Then there was a rest for a time and then the Knoxville School for Deaf and Dumb came over to the "Hill" andwere defeated 9 - 5. Then another rest until Emory and Henry came over and were defeated 10 - 0, and 5 - 3. Tusculum came next hoping to tear us up. They lost out 13-5.

Then came M. C's. worst beating of the year before one of the biggest crowds of several seasons. U. of T. won 12 - 0. The game was a little better than the score indicates.

Then we went over to Wait Field and made U. T. hustle to win from us 10 - 6.

These last few games brought out some very promising material.

Mailing price, $1.00 per year. Local subscription, 75 cents per year.

The Highland Echo entered upon its first year of existence with some handicaps that would have proved fatal to its existence had it not been a fundamental need of Maryville College. It was not until school had been in progress for some weeks that the editor knew of his appointment, as editor of the College Monthly. As soon as the Staff, composed of the class and organization editors, and a business manager had been elected, a meeting of these resulted in the plan of publishing a weekly instead of a monthly.

No subscriptions had been solicited, no advertisements secured and no previous organization in the past to build on its way. No advance in price over upon,and the first term of school well that of the monthly was made and no advance in advertising. The subscription price of seventy-five cents per year was retained and space for ads cost the same for four times a month that they formerly did for once a month. The Highland Echo has been well supported by the student body excepting a surprisingly large number who have not paid their subscriptions. A feature that promises much for the publication is the fact that the alumni subscriptions have been larger than ever was had by the Monthly and new ones were received throughout the year.

Last year there were five issues of the Monthly published. This year there have been nineteen issues of the Highland Echo published. During the course of the year the subscription list has grown to nearly four hundred.

We believe that a very successful and useful future awaits the Highlanr Echo. The subscription price should be raised to that of similar publications in other schools and the advertising rates doubled. The paper is worth it, the advertisement is worth it, and a successful publication demands it.

A movement is now planned by the socitties to select the editor, not from a society, but to make the selecion of his officer competitive. All who desire to become editor shall have to write some editorials, news items, and other articles and the one who shows himself most capable will be selected. This one will then have to assist the editor one term and learn the job. A business manager will be selected in like manner. We commend this method to the student body. It will insure an efficient editorial staff.

We the class of '16 believe that God has a great future for M. C. The word of this college during the past century, fills us with pride, and the prospects in the new life it is now entering upon, intoxicates us with joyous hopes. The spirit of M. C. at the present is best exprest by our poet, Holmes,

"Build thee more stately mansions,
O my Soul,
As the swift seasons roll,
"Leave thy low vaulted past,
Let each new cell more nobler than the last,
"Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
'Till thou art free,
"Leaving thy outworn cell by life's unresting sea.

BAINONIAN

Bainonian has maintained her high standard of efficient work during the spring term, despite the obstacles encountered, such as, rush for time, spring fever, and the like. The large attendance at each meeting showed the interest of the members. The spirit of work and loyalty pervaded the wholesociety. The success has been due largely to the faithful officers, who have rendered excellent service. Our programs have been varied; some required careful thought and deliberation in the preparation of them; others were in a lighter vein and were given for our enjoyment, rather than for instruction.

Our first meeting was a grand success. In accordance with its title, Spring-time, various selections of music and reading were given. But the special feature was the address given by Dr. Hoyt. He gave us some excellent ideas for our work. In following out the suggestions offered, our society has been greatly helped..

Our next program was, "An Evening in Society". Although this did not require so much serious thought it was delightful and it depicted the present-day customs. The two important features were, The Social Fibs, and the Debate. The question was:

Resolved: that the so-called society hand-shake should be shaken straight down, out, away from an honest limb unto utter limbo.

The faculty evening was the most instructive of all our meetings. Miss Rankin sang for us. Miss Fanson gave two very excellent readings. Miss Green told us of "stunts" and her experience at Smith College. Miss Alexander discussed, "Why I Came to College." She compared woman of this age with women of former ages, emphasizing our privileges and also our obligations. One evening was devoted to the study of the present-day movies. The debate was the important number of the program. The debate:

Resolved: That the motion picture houses are a menace to the American stage, was very interestingly discussed.

Last Friday evening was a swapping party. Each girl brought a package carefully wrapped and exchanged it with her neighbor. An extemporaneous program followed, consisting of an essay on Man, a debate, and a moving picture scene.

Our last meeting willbe held Saturday afternoon specially for the Seniors. At this time diplomas will be awarded the following seniors: Lois Wilson, Gray Webb, Catherine Sugg, Mae Smith, Lily Mitchell, Ethel McKelvey, Harriet Meek, Alethia May, Zelma Kennedy and Lula Creswell. They have been faithful workers and we regret very much to lose them.

New officers will be installed this week. Bainonian will be in the hearts of all its members during vacation, and they will come back in the Fall with many ideas for more efficient work.

THETA EPSILON

On Friday evening, May 26, was held the closing meeting of the Theta Society for this year. The program was entirely in the hands of the seniors of the music and expression departments, and, those who were present know that we are justly proud of the members who go from us this year.

At a business meeting a few weeks ago it was decided to change the time of the election of officers until the middle of the fall term, instead of holding it at the end of the spring term, as has previously been the custom. In this way, the old corps of officers will open the new school year, and will be more competent to handle the situation arising from the coming of the new students.

Theta is already looking forward to the coming year, and preparing to give a friendly welcome to the new girls.

The year just closed has been one of the most successful in the history of the society, and the prospects for the future are unusually bright.

JUNIOR ALPHA SIGMA

The Junior section of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society looks back with keen satisfaction upon the past scholastic year. The Society has been given great opportunities, which meant great responsibilities, and she has faced them with a cheerfulness and characteristic determination, which brought honor to herself and reflected glory upon the institution which she represents.

For the first time in the history of the society, opportunity was given the Junior men to show their debating ability, in the contest with Berea College, of Kentucky. Of the six men on the two teams representing Maryville at home and abroad, four of them were loyal sons of the Junior Alpha Sigma. How well they succeeded in this the most subtle of all arts is a matter ofjoyful history. Suffice it to say, they "brought home the bacon" from Berea, and besides, kept the home "bacon" as well.

At the last meeting of the society, the following officers were elected to serve the first term of next year:

President ---------- Ralph A. Young
Vice-President-- Pedro J. Hernandez
Recording Secretary --D. W. Eitner
Assistant Rec. Sec'y ---- J. Calahan
Corresponding Sec'y ---- E. F. Cody
Editor ---------- Ray Quinn
Serg't-at-Arms -- Cualde C. Buckner
Janitor ---------- James Cook

FRESHMEN WELL REPRESENTED IN COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

The school year of 15-16 is about to close on the class of '19 as one of the most successful freshman classes in the history of the college. Our success has not been confined to a few activities, for in practically every student organization are found worthy representatives of the freshman class. Our victory at the relay race in the water carnival, June 1, only speaks partly of our athletic ability. We have been well represented on all athletic teams of the year.

We have not only given an account of ourselves in the various organizations on the hill, and in athletics, but we have developed some men of literary ability. Probably no other freshman class has equalled us in this respect. We have produced as many inter-collegiate debaters as all the other classes combined. It is true, however, that our class activities have not been wholly unaccompanied by misfortune. Indeed we lost both our president and editor. Nevertheless the freshman talent has not been lacking. Should we continue the next three years in the same spirit that we have shown in our freshman year, we shall indeed be a worthy centennial class, fitted to represent the college in such a celebration.

JUNIOR ATHENIANS

The society looks back on a year that thrills every member thru and thru.

The past has been the most successful ever recorded. More new members have been enrolled and more work accomplished this year than ever before.

We are especially grateful to the girls who have stood by us and helped us out in close places; among whom are: Misses Mabel Rice, Genevieve Gibson, Ethel Fanson, Muriel Mitchell Marion Wilbanks, Nellie Wilson, Mrs. West and Miss Staater. We thank them one and all.

Saturday the officers were elected for the following year:

Vice-President, S. W. Maxwell.

KARL LEHMAN AT MARYVILLE

Enthusiastic Christian Endeavor Secretary, Addresses Maryville Audiences and is Cordially Received.

Karl Lehman, Southern States Christian Endeavor Secretary, was in Maryville Sunday, Oct. 1, and spoke at the New Providence Presbyterian Church, afternoon and evening.

After being introduced at the evening service, he told of a remarkable introduction which he received at a certain college. The man who introduced him was from a neighboring institution. He said: "Before Karl Lehman began speaking to us we thought we had a wide-awake C. E. Society, but, after he had spoken to us for forty minutes, we found we were all asleep."

Karl Lehman impresses one as a man who is dead in earnest for God and for His Kingdom. He puts as much vim and enthusiasm into his work for God as he did into his work on the foot-ball team, when he played Rght Guard for the University of New Mexico.

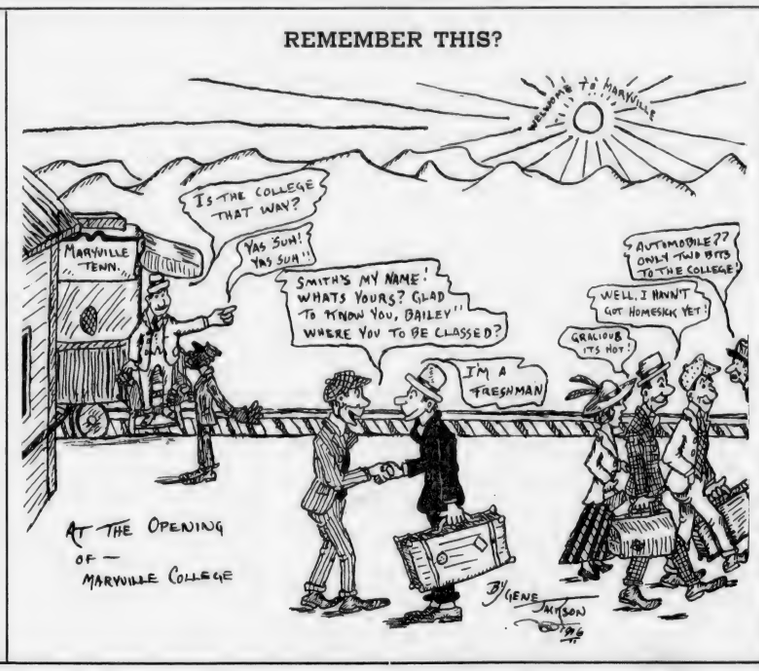
Here are some figures. He started out to organize 1000 C. E. Societies in Dixie in five years, and some folks doubted whether he could do much the first year. At the close of the first year in September, he had organized 770 societies in the South, one every 11 hours; had secured 30,000 new Endeavorers, one every 16 minutes.

Karl Lehman has a great love and respect for Maryville College. The student body bids him Godspeed in his glorious work among the young people of Dixie.

BIG LOSS SUSTAINED BY COLLEGE

The sudden death of Miss Margaret E. Henry took place in Knoxville, Tenn., July 7, 1916.

Miss Henry was a graduate of Maryville College. Since 1903 she had been securing scholarships by which needy students were assisted in their effort to win a college education.



Miss Henry was a tireless worker, a friend of every student and her loss is keenly felt by the college and the student body.

THETA EPSILON

With the opening of the school year of '16 and '17, Theta Epsilon Literary Society again takes up its march of progress and prosperity. Theta's doors were opened on Saturday evening, Sept. 23, for the society's reception of welcome to the new girls. The evening was spent in various forms of entertainment. One interesting feature was the performing of stunts by twelve groups of girls. The groups represented the twelve months of the year; and for each group there was a representative booth, decorated, and provided with favors appropriate to that month. Dainty refreshments, consisting of a salad course and punch, were served. At the flashing of the lights, the crowd dispersed, all proclaiming the entertainment a decided success.

The history of Theta Epsilon is one of progress and achievement. The organization has yearly become stronger and more potent in the lives of its members. This year, Theta extends a most cordial welcome to all girls who desire the best of opportunities for social and intellectual development.

SENIOR CLASS ORGANIZES

Officers Elected and Plans Perfected

On the first Monday after school began the members of the Senior Class were assigned their regular seats in chapel. On the same day they met and the following officers were elected:

President, Wade Haggard; Vice-President, Miss Franke Sheddan; Secretary, Miss Jean Carson; Treasurer, H. W. McCord; Editor, Cora Hopkins.

Following the meeting the class went to the dining hall where it was honored by having a table especially for its members. Extra chairs were inserted and subjects of interest and merriment to those present, were discussed during the meal.

The new members of the class have already been made to feel at home.

On Saturday, September 30th, the class had its first social meeting. Since it was strictly a class affair each girl did not have a chap alone, but Miss Postlethwaite and Prof. Davis were delightful chaperones for all.

The class met on the lawn in front of Pearsons at five o'clock and went to the college woods "en masse". In a few minutes every one was busy making fires or preparing the supper. When brown bacon, fried eggs, coffee and toasted brown marshmallows failed to tempt any longer, all gathered around the glowing light of the campfire and sang familiar songs among which were Dixie for the Southerners, Yankee Doodle for the Yankees, and a motion song for the little ones. The singing came to a close with "Alma Mater". Then followed the college and class yells.

It was a "get-to-gether" party all the way through, and at its close every member of the class of '17 felt that it was two hours profitably and delightfully spent.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Literary contributions, news items, jokes, things of interest to the student body, should be given to members of the editorial staff before Saturday noon of each week.

BIG PEP MEETINGS THIS WEEK

The College Chapel Will be the Scene of Much Activity Every Night After Supper.

In order that the students may give the team their best support in the game against the University of Tennessee, at Knoxville, Saturday, Oct. 7, mass meetings will be held in the chapel Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings after supper.

At these meetings old and new yells and songs will be practiced. Every student should be present to become familiar with these so that the support given the team may be united.

A number of speakers will be heard each night.

The speakers will probably include Prof. Brittain, Coach Kiefer, Capt. Ensign, Manager Gamon, Greer, Clemens, and Briggs of the varsity squad and others who may be called for.

No one who attended the University of Chattanooga game will forget the spirit and enthusiasm at those meetings and the results shown the next day.

This year's team should have the same support behind it and in order that it may your presence will be needed in the chapel on the above stated evenings after supper.

The K. & A. railroad will have in effect round trip rates to Knoxville on all trains Saturday. The game will be concluded early enough to give the students more than an hour down town before the last train for Maryville.

The prospective line-up of the team is as follows:

Bryson, Flanney, Ends; Briggs, Ford, Tackles; Greer, Reed or Hurst, Guards; Sentelle, Center; Ensign, Quarter-back; Sears, Feeman, Halfbacks; Clemens, Full back.

Courtesy is the oil that lubricates the wheels of progress.

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association, has ministered, in some way, to every new girl during these tryng first-days of college life. A social event, of notable mention, was the picnic held in the college woods on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 23. It was a camp-fire picnic, marshmallows being toasted and games played around the fire. Mrs. F. L. Proffitt gave an inspiring talk.

The first devotional meeting was held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 24. The leader Miss Cora Hopkins, choosing the very appropriate subject, "My Little Sister". Every member was made to realize that it was her duty as well her privilege to be a "big sister" to some new girl, and the new girls to feel they were gladly received as "Little Sisters". The new girls gave testimony of their appreciation of the big sister spirit that was being shown them in numerous ways.

The Y. W. C. A. opens wide her door to receive and to help, in every way it can, each new girl.

FRESHMAN CLASS LARGEST EVER

Over one hundred have enrolled in the Freshman Class this year. This is the largest class of Freshman Maryville has ever welcomed. There are representatives from all parts of the United States and from several foreign countries.

Keep your eye on the Class of 1920—it has power and ability and will make things move on College Hill 'ere many moons pass.

PROSPECTS FOR A WINNING TEAM

M. C.'s Outlook for Present Season Brightest in Years—Hard Schedule Has Been Arranged.

Better prospects than at the same date last year for foot-ball is the way close followers of the game speak of the Maryville team for 1916. And Maryville had a winner last year.

To Coach Kiefer's call for candidates more than thirty men have responded, most of whom have had foot-ball experience at Maryville or elsewhere.

From last year's team comes Captain Ensign, Greer, Clemens, Feeman, Flannery, Briggs and Sentelle.

Bryson of the 1914 team is back in school while from last year's scrub team the following have returned and are showing up well: Spurgeon, Norgan, Stevens, Cooper, Ford and others.

Several new men have appeared on the field showing excellent work in the short scrimmages and preliminary work-outs.

The backfield will be heavier than last year with less weight in the the line, but more speed.

Several scrimmages have already been held and with the arrival of the tackling dummy the first of the week both veterans and new men are fast rounding into form for the first game, Oct. 7 with the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

Those who thought last year's schedule was not hard enough will have no reason for complaint this year as Manager Gamon has arranged a good schedule, harder than Maryville has had in several years, including Sewanee, University of Tenn., Mississippi A. & M., University of Chattanooga and other games with small colleges.

The U. T. Game will be played in Knoxville Oct. 7, and the greatest gathering of M. C. fans that has ever been on Wait field is predicted for that day.

Ten years have passed since a Maryville foot-ball team has defeated Tennessee and this year finds M. C. with bright prospects and U. T.'s outlook slightly discouraging.

Coach Kiefer does not claim to have a team that will not fail to defeat Tennessee, but does claim a team that will force U. T. to cross the goal line more than once before Maryville is defeated.

Maryville students and alumni have always gathered in great numbers to witness this game and have always given the Maryville team good and continuous support even against great odds.

The schedule for the season follows:

Oct. 7, University of Tenn., at Knoxville; Oct. 14, University of South, at Sewanee; Oct. 21, Centre College at Danville, Ky., Oct. 28, King College, at Maryville; Nov. 4, Tusculum, at Greeneville; Nov. 10, Emory and Henry, at Maryville; Nov. 20, Mississippi A. & M., at Maryvile; Nov. 30, Chattanooga, at Chattanooga.

GROWTH

Maryville College has entered its 98th year of consistent growth.

As students this year we are receiving the benefit of many years' experience and study; we have the opportunity to profit and grow as a result of these years spent in the building of Maryville College.

College life should mean to us a life of continual growth and development along all lines.

In after life we will cherish the days and months we spent in college. Let us make each day, each week have something worth while in it that we may look back upon with satisfaction.

THOUGHTS ON THE GRIDIRON

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for the redoubtable Highlanders to play their first game with the strong Vols from U. T., and to try to cover the Orange and Garnet with glory, it, in turn, becomes the duty of the student body of the College to stand up as one man, and pledge the team its loyal support through thick and thin. It is no easy task our men have undertaken, and we must help them, so far as we can.

Those of the student body who were out to see the game between the Varsity and the Scrubs, Saturday morning, had a good chance to get a line on the probable team that will face U. T. The spectators, who were able to judge, were well pleased with the showing made by the Varsity.

There are some new additions to the team this year. It is probable that big Sears will get a permanent place on the Varsity. He is fast, cool-headed, and has plenty of avoirdupois. He will probably play left half. Reed, another new man, will perhaps be placed at a guard position.

One of the bouquets thrown at the Maryville student body last year, by the Knoxville newspapers, was that the students stuck to the team all through that memorable baseball game between Maryville and U. T., at Maryville. There is every reason in the world why the present student body should live up to this "rep" at the Football game next Saturday, on Wait Field. Let's all turn out to the game, and root for "our boys".

Why not cheer our boys with a song, now and then, during the game?

The student body in general, and the foot-ball enthusiasts in particular are certainly glad to see Coach Kiefer, known as the "Silent Giant" back on the job. He is working hard on another championship team.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. ANNUAL RECEPTION

Saturday evening, Sept. 16th, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s gave their annual reception to new and old students. The doors of Bartlett Hall, the home of the Y. M. C. A. were thrown open to one of the liveliest crowds ever assembled for a reception on college hill.

Lest some modest celebrity should slip in unknown to the throng every one was labeled with his or her name. This label proved invaluable in making acquaintances during the evening. The crowd covered the gym floor, and soon became happily engaged in the usual arduous task of making acquaintances. In ac orner of the gym one of the young ladies played popular songs on the piano, some of the more ambitious, speaking in vocal vernacular, joined in the chorus.

Mr. Ferntheil, the president of the Y. M. C. A. announced the formal program of the evening which was headed by a vocal solo by our popular tenor, Mr. Roy Anderson. Miss Buxton then entertained very pleasingly with a reading entitled—Mistress Penelope. Coach Kiefer following with a talk on the physical welfare of the student body, which was well received.

The program over, a peanut hunt was indulged in by the entire gathering, including members of the faculty. Miss Dudley won first prize, a box of candy; Prof. Johnson, second prize, a quart dipper, showing his familiarity with solar bodies, Coach Kiefer, the third prize—contents revealed on application only.

After the peanut hunt then ew students were introduced into the mystic rites of our popular pastime, familiarly known as snap. The play became very enthusiastic, the enthusiasm quieting down only when some one whispered that eats were being passed around elsewhere.

Thus closd one of the best, if not the best reception tendered on college hill.

"AN OCEAN VOYAGE IN TIME OF WAR"

That was the subject of an interesting narration given by Prof. Bassett in chapel Thursday morning. His talk was full of personal experiences, many of them very humorous. We hope to have Prof. Bassett give us more of his first hand knowledge of the European War, its effects, present and future.

NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS IS THE ISSUE OF THE DAY

PERSONAL PREPAREDNESS IS THE VITAL QUESTION WITH YOU

A great many young people are making the mistake of leaving the schools and going to work during the present great period of ease in securing employment without the Education and Training needed to take advantage of future chances for advancement and promotion.

Are You Going To Make That Mistake?

You have heard the same story—over and over again—from men and women who have done this thing. Unsuccessful people realize when it is too late that it has been the great mistake of their lives. Realization of their error will bring many of the young folks of today back to school a few years hence—but the intervening years of labor in minor business positions will have been just so many years of their lives wasted. They will be started at the bottom in business life again—at a time when they might have been well on the way to the top, had they been prepared in the beginning to take advantage of their opportunities for advancement.

Why Wont You Profit By The Experiences of Others?

A course of study at the Knoxville Business College is exactly the preparation you need. Get your Business Training first—and then enter business life qualified to take advantage of your opportunities as they may arise. You can't hope to get very far in business until you have a Business Education.

Send for illustrated catalog giving full information about the different courses of study. Then come in and see the proof that our students are getting ahead in the business office.

ADDITIONS TO THE FACULTY

G. R. Shelton of Columbia, Ky., returns to Maryville College following an absence of five years, during which he has gained a great deal of experience, and incidentally a wife. He takes the chair of chemistry during the absence of Prof. McClenahan.

Mr. Shelton received his A. B. from Maryville in '11, A. B. from Cornell University' 12, Majoring in Chemistry. He was instructor of Chemistry and Physics in the City High School of Hasting, Nebraska, 1912-13. Head of Science Department and instructor of Chemistry, Mitchell, S. D. 1913-16. Married, Eva Alexander, (A. B. Maryville College '10), July 14, 1915.

Prof. Shelton has a worthy record and has launched into his new duties with enthusiasm. We welcome him to the "hill."

Miss Hope Buxton

Miss Hope Buxton of Boston, Mass., has taken up her duties in the Department of Expression as Mrs. West's assistant.

Miss Buxton was graduated from "The Leland Power's School of The Spoken Word", Boston, Mass. While there she received instruction from the artists, Leland T. Powers, Mrs. Leland Powers, Phidelah Rice, Elizabeth Pooler Rice, Mrs. Rachel Noah France and others.

We are indeed glad to have such a strong addition to the Department of Expression and wish Miss Buxton success in her first year at Maryville.

Y. M. C. A.

A joint devotional meeting was held on the first Sunday, it being the first joint opening meeting in Hill history. The speaker of the day was unable to be present so one friend, Mr. S. B. Parker stepped into the breach, and spoke earnestly and convincingly on "The True Power". Three hundred were present to hear this inspiring talk.

"Trunks hauled -25 cents!" The Y boys with the college team had a fine job handling trunks the first three days of school. The returns were applied to paying off some of our back debts. We wish to thank those whose trunks we hauled for their quarters, and especially we wish to thank the boys who assisted in the work.

An information bureau was conducted by the Y. M. C. A. during the opening days of the term, so that rooms could be found for boys, directions could be given, and any other information desired could be had. A survey of all rooms for rent was made previous to the opening day, and this service was well rewarded in the number of boys helped to find comfortable rooms.

A reception to men was held on Saturday night, September 23rd. President Ferntheil gave the address of welcome, Frater spoke on extension work, and then Prof. Gillingham made the address of the evening. As a preliminary he asked that 15 Rahs be given for the Y. M. C. A. Prof. Gillingham then gave us a red hot talk on "Fellowship". His remarks were well received, but there were too few out to hear such a fine speech.

Sunday the 24th, Ferntheil led the devotional meeting, speaking on "The Essentials of a Christian Life". His talk was inspiring and was a message of great help to all of us.

Last Thursday night we had a sing for the men. Mr. Parker led the music and the occasion was one of great enjoyment. The boys sang themselves hoarse over such good old timers as "Home, Sweet Home", "My Old Kentucky Home" and other college songs. On Friday morning Mr. Parker spoke briefly in the chapel, making an appeal for the men to join the Y. M. C. A. We would be glad to have every man on the Hill out to our meeting next Sunday. Come and enjoy yourselves for an hour. The meeting is held at 1:15 p. m.—Let's get together.

ON THE GRIDIRON

Calloway, Captain of the 1915 team has entered the Vanderbuilt Medical School.

Badgett and Crawford former foot-ball captains at Maryville after seeing the team work out, express belief in a great year at Maryville.

Five of last year's Maryville team were placed on the All S. W. Va. and All East Tennessee foot-ball team.

Bryson, who starred at end in 1914, is out again for his position.

Greer's reappearance on the field put new life in the team and greater hope in the fans.

Scruggs who was injured in the first game of the 1914 season is back in school and hopes to be in the game before the season ends.

Kirkgard last year's half-back is receiving much favorable comment at Hardin, Texas where he is expected to star this year.

H. W. Samsel for three years a varsity lineman is forced to join the fans on the sideline owing to injuries received in a game in 1914.

Don't forget the mass meetings just after supper.

"Turkey" Smith a member of the class of '18 and for two years a member of the varsity foot-ball squad will enter the University of Chicago this fall.

Prof. Brittain has not yet predicted that Maryville will defeat Tennessee, but the professor will be heard from in the mass meetings.

Reed is another Trinity College Athlete to enter Maryville.

Coach Kiefer and Capt. Ensign were in Knoxville Saturday to see the Tennessee-Tusculum game. Maryville plays both of these teams this fall.

The foot-ball squad was the recipients of a very useful and much needed first aid kit Friday morning at chapel. J. S. Hall's Sons, known as Hall's On-The-Square, Knoxville, Tennesse were the donors. The foot-ball teams greatly appreciates the gift as does the student body. A rising vote of thanks was extended to the donors by faculty and student body at chapel.

H. W. Threlkeld, manager of the championship 1916 team has a High School squad of his own this year. He is in Fenton, Mich.—Professor if you please.

PERSONALS

Miss Pearle Miller of Knoxville, was the week end guest of Lucile Morris

Mr. E. L. (Bumcomb) Kelly, an old Maryville base-ball man visited friends on the hill Sunday.

Ocey Webb visited her parents over the week end. They have just returned from an extended eastern tour.

It's good to see Prof. Bassett back on the hill. We missed him last year.

(From Pearsons) Friday night the old girls felt at home. The pleasant aroma of fried oysters and chocolate blended in the same old way.

Coach Kiefer is as reticent as ever on the lady question.

Prof. McClenahan is in Pittsburg, Pa., with his family. He was extended a year's leave of absence in order that he might pursue his studies further.

Where is the "Hall of Science"? I wish to take my physical examination.

Everybody to Knoxville, Saturday —We are after U. T.—Let's get 'em.

Professor and Mrs. C. H. Gillingham are rejoicing over the advent of a new "Gillinghamlet", who will some day be a voter, regardless of the present day suffrage discussion.

Roy Jenkins is the new pianoist at the Y. M. C. A.—Tickle 'em up, Roy—Tickle 'em up!

Rev. Hubert S. Lyle, pastor of the Presbyterian Church is rapidly recovering from a critical illness.

Miss Mollie Caldwell, former matron of Pearson's Hall, left on Thursday for a three month's tour of the east. Miss Mollie, as she is familiarly known is taking up Miss Margaret Henry's work of securing scholarships. Miss Alice Gillingham accompanied her on the tour.

We trust that Dr. Wilson will make his appearance on the campus before he leaves on his campaign. The old students want to see him and shake his hand, the new ones desire to meet him. Consider this an urgent invitation.—Come on the hill, if only for an hour—do it, Doctor.

OPENING MEETING ALPHA SIGMA

If Dr. John Grant Newman, the illustrious founder of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society, could have been present at the opening meeting of the Society, Friday evening, September 22nd., in Alpha Sigma Hall, he would have undoubtedly smiled and said: "Dee-lighted!" The large audience, the excellent program, the good fellowship, and the enthusiasm which characterized the meeting, prophesied, in no uncertain tones, that 1916-1917 will prove to be the greatest in the history of Alpha Sigma.

When President Robert S. Gamon, of the Senior Section, arose to welcome back the old students, and to greet the new men, the Hall was so taxed to its capacity, that only standing room remained.

The great majority of the audience was ignorant of Coach Keifer's musical abilities, but these soon had their ignorance dispelled, when the Coach sang two beautiful selections, and, judging from the applause which followed, he earned the title, "Basso-profoundo". Coach has evidently as much musical sense as he has "muscular sense".

Mr. Joel Georges followed with an address on "Every Student a Literary Man". Mr. Georges' remarkable progress in the mastery of the English language and of delivery, is in itself a forceful argument for literary effort.

Mr. Haggard made the audience relax by telling of "The Humorous Side of My Vacation", which was interrupted by frequent outbursts of hearty laughter.

"Character" was the subject of the oration delivered by Mr. Norgan, which serious subject was followed by the humorous and serious "Alpha Sigma Advance" edited by Mr. Cody's son Frank.

The Program closed with a reading by Mr. R. A. Young, given with his usual pep, and the Censor's report, with Deck Williams doing the censoring.

The "wholesome eats" which were promised on the cards announcing the meeting, proved to be ice cream, cake and lemonade (not pink).

When the opportunity was given the new men to join the Society a good many enthusiastically embraced it, including "the prodgal son", Moody Nicholson, who said he was "tickled to death" to get back to the fold once more.

THE ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The history of the Athenian Literary Society is a record of 67 years of literary and social development. From its walls have emerged debaters, declaimers, orators, and musicians who grace every calling of life. Seventeen of the graduating class of '16 represent the "Owl and the Crescent". Its noble sons have gone to all parts of the world, ever remaining true to the incentives received on "College Hill."

And now as the early waves of its 68th year roll upon us, the brilliant record of the past illuminates the rising billows with confidence and good cheer. Devotion to duty has been our motto, which is now reaping its faithful reward.

Two interesting programs have already been rendered in the Athenian hall this year. Prof. Bassett gave a very vivid, interesting, and instructve lecture entitled, "See Naples and Die". He gave a picture of Southern Italy and the beautiful Bay of Naples that will not be easily erased from memory. Miss Hope Buxton, the new expression teacher will favor us with selected readings at the next meeting, Friday night.

All old and new members are urged to come and receive a hearty welcome. Those desirious of literary training can not make a mistake by joining us. Every one who believes in work and growth should get in line and grow with the Athenians.

BAINONIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Bainonian has already begun to grow. We were forty members strong when we began work September 11th. Promising recruits were soon found to take the places of those of our members who are not back this year. Thirty-three names were presented for membership at our first meeting.

Each girl feels herself responsible for the success of our Society this year. A spirit of enthusiasm and harmony pervades Bainonian.

On Friday evening, September 15, we had a get-to-gether meeting of all new and old girls in Bainonian Hall. Our reception for the new girls was held Friday evening, September 22. Music by Misses Bryan, Herd, Hayes, Sugg and Henry was enjoyed. Readings were given by the Misses Wilson and Pardue. The Society colors, green and white, were emphasized in the delicious ice course.

Our first regular program was rendered Friday evening, September 29.

Bainonian means "going forward". Let's go forward this year and make it the banner year for Bainonian. We are very fortunate in having all of our officers back this year.

President, Anne Creswell; Vice-President, Elizabeth Henry; Secretary, Muriel Mitchell; Program Secretary, Franke Sheddan; Censor, George Simpson; Sergeant-at-Arms, Agnes Dolvin; Literary Critic, Nelle J. Garrison; Music Critic, Florence Sisk; Editor, Mattie Fisher.

TRAINING TABLE THIS YEAR

Ninteen members of the foot-ball squad are now being served, specially prepared meals at the training table in Pearsons Dining Hall.

Coach Kiefer makes out the menu and the fellows do the rest.

This is a move in the right direction as it keeps the fellows together and at the same time gives them the food needed to keep them in fit condition.

We owe a vote of thanks to Prof. E. R. Walker for his cooperation in establishing this innovaton.

Some people can be happy, some people can't be happy and some people wont be happy.

THE HIKE

Taken by Five Fellows Prior to the Opening of College---Back as Far as the Great Smokies

Five of our boys, namely Shorty Leonard, Cooper, Frank Cody, Weisbecker and "Tommy Atkins" Loft, left Maryville on Tuesday morning, Sept. 5th, at 9 o'clock headed for a hike in the mountains in, around, and adjacent to Maryville.

The start was made and the trip passed uneventfully, until they had passed Lookrock and Happy Valley. Here the fun commenced as the only available place to camp was in a swamp. The water was wet, according to the report. Then on to Alcoa where the Aluminum Co. has a power station, and Cheoah where there is an enormous dam. The scenery was majestic and indeed inspiring.

They returned to the Carolina line and started up the dividing ridge. When they were at the top some one was heard to shout, "Say, Boys". They looked around and Tommy Loft was missing. Later he was found, and is now present on the hill as direct proof of this statement. The boys continued along the ridge and that night the only camping place to be had was in a marsh. The camp was made, "and the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth," so much so in fact, that it took two hours to get a fire started, and incessant blowing by Frank Cody to keep the fire going.

On the next day there was to be a long climb, so Shorty suggested that they get up at four to make a good start. When he aroused the bunch in the morning, Cody wanted to know why they should travel all night. As it was the last water hole before reaching the other side of the ridge (you readers of Zane Grey know what that means) a liberal supply of cornmeal and water was laid in. Fortunate indeed, for the only food they had for the next three days was cornmeal, water and fat bacon.

From the ridge in every direction could be seen the mountains rearing their majestic heights to the sky. Clothed in soft green, and bedecked with silver garlands of water, they stood the unchanging sentinels of God.

From the ridge the route was over Parson's Bald, up and down hills and valleys, and then to Gregory Bald. On Parson's Bald the boys found a supply of May pops and huckleberries, which offered a splendid variety from the original menu mentioned above. The next stop was at Spence's Cabin, where a further article of diet was added, s-h-h, not so loud, onions! That night was spent in camp about a quarter-mile from Spence's Cabin. The five slept in a single tent, with Coop at the bottom, under all the blankets.

The next morning the bunch went over Thunderhead and from there saw Cades Cove, Bote Mountain and the Government trail supposedly leading to civilization. Thinking to save time they cut across the range over Defeat, and strayed too far to the east. A rhododendron thicket was before them, another behind them, and one on each side. That trail was LOST. They plunged down the hill and came to Thunderhead Creek. As the creek seemed to be the only way out our heroes dashed into the icy flood without even removing the coverings to their pedal extremities and slid, fell and otherwise scrambled down the creek. At times they descended by sitting down and letting the water do the rest.

Tommy Loft at one time thought he was doing a high dive so he came down wrong end up. He was found with his head between two rocks, with his sensitive ears wiggling at the chill emanating from the embryonic building material. Three hours did this modern descent of man continue, until finally they reached the bottom. Such a run on the bank has never been witnessed. As a reward for their heroic efforts an apple orchard was waiting for them, and the boys filled up on their first real meal in three days. A mountaineer directed them to Walker's Valley (not E. R.'s) where they met the original Mr. Walker, who told them some of the legends concerning that part of the mountains. It rained here, so the boys waited until the rain was over before starting for Townsend. On this last lap Cody said he had blisters on his feet "as big as dollars", and Loft was out of the game with a bad hip, so the progress was at a snail's gallop.

Townsend at 7:30 p. m. with a big meal and real beds for the first time in five days. Then on to Maryville by train. Coop, Cody and Loft went no further, but Leonard and Weisbecker, taking on two more campers, Chang and Watkins, went to Sheep Pen over Sunday. Sheep Pen entertained a native of the celestial kingdom for the first time in history. Here they rested, filled up on baked beans, watermelons and cheese, and returned on Monday morning to Maryville, prepared to enter the new school year, invigorated and refeshed by the great hike.

GIVE US A CHANCE

The college swimming pool, a ten thousand dollar ($10,000) investment of the students and college, has not been opened to the students, although one month of the school year has passed and the cold weather is approaching with no promise as to when it will be opened.

Those who took advantage of the pool last year during the winter months would certainly know how to appreciate a swim while nature furnished the supply of heat and warm water.

A man generally feels blue when he exhibits a yellow streak and paints the town red.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

The department of Expression was reorganized and amplified during last year, and is now known as the Department of Expression and Public Speaking.

Mrs. West, Head of the Department, beginning her thirteenth year of work in the college, is greatly gratified at the steady growth of the department, and at the interest manifested in its work.

Miss Hope Buxton, graduate of the Leland Powers School of the Spoken Word, is giving valuable service as assistant teacher.

The enrollment in the department is a third larger than ever before in the history of the college In fact all the students who desire to take the work cannot be accommodated, until a third teacher is secured. This teacher will no doubt be engaged for the winter term. Among the new features of the department, are classes in Bible Reading, in Shakesperian Interpretation, Story-telling and Dramatization.

The class in Dramatization, which is under the tutelage of Miss Buxton, is planning to present some interesting features during the year.

A number of students will finish the course this year, and interesting recitals may be expected from the members of the Senior Expression and Public Speaking Class during the year.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL TEAM HAS WORK OUT

Good Material—Schedule Being Arranged Now. Many Good Games Promised for The Season.

The girls not only believe in supporting the boys' team, but believe in turning out successful teams also. And in order that the girls' basket ball team this year may be as successful as those of the past the first call for candidates was issued last week for the initial practice.

Miss Ethel Burchfield, a member of the team for the past two years has been elected manager and is arranging the schedule now.

Miss Burchfield and Miss Webb are the only members of the Varsity to return this year, although Miss Stinnet, a sub on last year's team, is in school and a candidate for a position on the team.

From last year's second team several promising players have returned for practice. These include Misses Ocey Webb, Elsie Dawson and Beatrice Marshall.

The schedule for the year will not be completed for some time, but Miss Burchfield hopes to arrange for a long Southern trip which will include some of the best girls' teams in the South.

In any event the schedule will include Central High School of Knoxville, Knoxville High School of Knoxville, Park City High School of Park City, Knoxville Y. W. C. A. Grant University of Athens, Washington College, East Tennessee Normal, Centenary College of Cleveland, Tusculum, Carson-Newman, Memphis College and others, besides the Southern trip that it is hoped may be arranged.

MARYVILLE MEETS DEFEAT IN FIRST GAME OE SEASON

University of Tennessee Wins Game in Last Half Score 32 to 6. Maryville Fights All the Way, and Receives Excellent Support From Side Lines

The Maryville foot-ball team returned to the University of Tennessee schedule covering themselves as individuals and the college with glory and giving Tennessee the worst scare they have had on Wait field in several years.

Accompanied to Knoxville by hundreds of loyal rooters the Maryvillians started things their way in the first few minutes of play and continued to sweep Tennessee off their feet by end runs, forward passing and broken field running, until at the end of the first half U. T. was completely dazed by the brilliance of the Maryville team which had been displaying mid-season championship form throughout the half.

Every man on the Maryville team seemed by his own individual fighting and by his work as a part of the Maryville machine determined to add glory to Maryville and a victory over Tennessee.

Bryson's long run for a touchdown when he carried the ball 80 yards, receiving it on a forward pass from Clemens, was the feature of the game and this with Ford's 50 yard run gave Maryville the two longest runs of the game.

Some Knoxville followers of the game called Bryson's run and the interference afforded him the most brilliant single piece of foot-ball ever exhibited on Wait field.

The Maryvillians, working together as a team with the wonderful backfield led by the great playing of Capt. Ensign and the line by the veteran Greer, out-played Tennessee see in every department of the game with the single exception of punting.

A former All-Southern foot-ball man watching the game declared that Maryville had a Southern championship backfield and this with the Maryville line made one of the best college teams in the South this year, and he continued by declaring Maryville fully a 30 percent better team than U. T.

Maryville advanced the ball during the four quarters 300 yards while Tennessee advanced it only 202 yards. It was in the second quarter that Maryville gained 100 yards while Tennessee in this quarter made only one gain, that being for 45 yards, on which they scored their first touchdown on a fluke.

In the third quarter Maryville advanced the ball 125 yards to Tennessee's 81.

Tennessee was the first to score when Emory received a forward pass from Clemens and carried 45 yards for the single score of the first half.

It was in this half that Ford received the ball on a Maryville punt carrying it 50 yards, within 15 yards of the Tennessee goal when he stumbled and a Tennessee man recovered the ball.

Maryville worked the forward pass for a total of 150 yards during the game.

Tennessee settled down to a punting game with Hatcher gaining from 10 to 30 yards on each exchange of punts and to this, with the fact that in the latter part of game when Tennessee sent in new men, they sent in men as heavy or heavier and as good as the men they had taken out, might be attributed the fact that they were able to score four touchdowns in the last half.

Too much praise can not be given the team as a whole nor to the men as individuals nor to Coach Kiefer who has developed the team.

The Maryville fans returned home in high spirits knowing that the team had made the better showing and with a determination stronger than ever to get Tennessee next year.

The details of the game follow:

First Quarter: Maryville won the toss and chose to kick-off from north goal. Tennessee received on 25 yard line. Maryville recovering on a fumble. Clemens carried the ball around right end for 10 yards, and then M. C. lost ball on downs. Tennessee punted out of bounds. Maryville's ball Feeman gained 5 yards over center, Feeman 2 yards over center and an attempted field goal failed. U. T. ball on U. T. 25 yard line. M. C. penalized 15 yards, holding. M. C. kicked to U. T. 8 yards. Ring making no return. U. T. kicked out, M. C. receives and Ensign makes 11 yards at left end. Feeman over right tackle 10 yards. Forward pass Clemens to Feemen 8 yards. Feemen loses it, tackle. Tennessee kicked. Maryville receives no advance and Feeman makes 15 yards over left tackle.

Shelby gains 4 yards over left tackle, Ring 5 yards over center, Shelby 12 yards around left end, Ring twice through center 6 yards each time. Tennessee works forward pass for 20 yards. Luck 4 yards over left tackle. Shelby 6 yards over left tackle. Shelby gains one yard. Quarter ends ball on Maryville 5 yard line. Score Maryville 0 U. T. 0.

Second Quarter:

Tennessee's forward pass fails. Maryville's ball on downs. Maryville gains 21 yards forward pass. Sears gains 3 yards left tackle. Sears 3 yards over center and Ensign 3 yards through center. Tennessee ball on downs. Shelby lost 2 yards over center. Tennessee kicks on second down. Maryville off side. Maryville's ball on three yard line. Maryville kick. Ford recovers and makes one of the sensational plays of day carrying ball to U. T.'s 15 yard line. Tennessee's ball on fumble. Tennessee kicks to Maryville's 45 yard line. Maryville fumbles forward pass and Ensign lost 4 yards over center. Maryville forward pass. Clemens to Feeman gains 30 yards, Feeman gains 1 yard. Forward pass fail. Ensign lost 8 yard. Maryville kicks and recovers ball. Forward pass fail and Maryville kicked to U. T. 10 yard line. U. T. kicked to Maryville 45 yard line. Tennessee penalized 10 yards holding. Maryvilles ball, forward pass fails and Maryville lost 10 yards around R. end.

Maryville lost ball on fumble. U. T. kicked to Ensign who returned 15 yards. Forward pass, fails, Ensign around left end gains 20 yards. Maryville penalized 2 yards. Emory recovers forward pass from Clemens on 45 yard line, securing first touchdown for U. T. Hatcher fails to kick goal.

Maryville kicked off to U. T. 35 yard line and Hatcher kicked to safety. Kemp's ankle fractured and Capt. Vowell replaced him at right

ATHLETIC FEE FOR MARYVILLE

To be successful, college athletics depend upon proper financing. Every athletic team needs equipment, good equipment. Good games on the local fields usually cost more than the gate receipts show. As a result of these circumstances the Maryville College Athletic Association is now in debt to the sum of eight hundred dollars. We have had good equipment, and some good games, but the growth of the College numerically does not seem to provide better equipment or better games.

The average student does not know the cost involved in outfitting a football team or a basket ball team, nor does he understand the expenses attached to bringing the team of another college to play on our fields. The cost never enters the student's mind until he goes on the field where he is charged a nominal sum—too large in his estimation.

This condition, which has existed in Maryville College for many years, can be remedied as it has been in many other schools and colleges. The method used is charging an athletic fee to all students entering college, giving them an annual ticket to all athletic games and contests.

With the cooperation of the college authorities Maryville could put her athletics on a sound financial basis, at the same time assuring her teams the support of the entire student body.

What is meant by, "with the cooperation of the college authorities", is that with their sanction an athletic fee of one dollar and twenty-five cents a term could be charged each student enrolling. This fee is very small, yet it would be sufficient to insure better equipment and stronger games for the local field. It will make, possible a budget system, whereby the manager of each team is allotted a specific amount with which to purchase equipment and entertain visiting teams.

The need can be plainly seen. The student body believes in its athletic teams, and desires to support them. Let the students take hold of this movement and make a big push for an athletic fee which will solve the problem and put Maryville College Athletics on a sound financial basis.

BAINONIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The effect of the European war upon the arts, was the very interesting subject of the program for Bainonian on Friday evening, October 6.

Some national aids by Marion Henry were greatly enjoyed. Also Mary Miles rendered a vocal solo which was highly appreciated.

Miss Notie Fancher read an interesting paper on music and the war.

Miss Muriel Mitchell read several poems which have been written during the war. Among those were, "A Chant of Hate Against England", by Ernst Lissoner, and its answer, "A Chant of Love for England", by Helen Gray Cane. One of the best war poems, "August, 1914", by John Masefielt was also read.

The effect of the war on art was given to us in a most interesting way by Helen Brown.

Our patriotic spirit was shown when at the close of the meeting, we stood and sang together, "The Star Spangled Banner".

Those whose names were presented at our first meeting took the oath of membership and several additional names were presented.

Bainonian always extends a hearty welcome to visitors as well as to new members.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The class of '19 continues its unexcelled record of last year and finds its members again taking an active part in college activites.

The class numbers nearly fifty and although we regret the loss of many faithful members, we are glad to welcome the new additions to our class.

Officers for 1916-17 are:

J. H. Purdy, President; Mary Kate Lewis, Vice-President; Young Hayes, Treasurer; Mildred Crowe, Secretary; E. S. Campbell, Editor.

With such a selection of progressive officers the class cannot help having a successful year. So here's three cheers fellow Sophs, for a prosperous and studious year—and for the class of 1919.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class met on September the 20th and the following officers were elcted:

President, Elizabeth Henry; Vice-President, Robert Taylor; Secretary, Roy Anderson; Treasurer, Reid Garrison.

The Juniors have always held their own on College Hill and although the class has lost some of its old members, it is still the undaunted class of '18.

The class has before it this year the publishing of the Chilhowean. The staff which it has elected is proficient and although this is the first time in the history of Maryville College that a Junor Class has attempted the publishing of the Chilhowean it is the hope of '18 to make this year's annual the best ever.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The opening meeting of the Ministerial Association was held in Bartlett Hall on Monday evening, October 2nd., 1916. The meeting consisted of devotional exercises and the election of officers for the ensuing year, 1916-17. The following officers were elected. President, Thurmond; Vice-president, Miner; and Secretary-Treasurer, Norgan.

The first act of our new president was to appoint a financial committee, whose duty is to draw up the annual budget. Four members were appointed on this committee, Messrs. Cody, Bell, Frater and Thurmond.

The mission work at Battle Branch and elsewhere was discussed by the association and two committees were appointed to lend a helping hand in this noble work.

After deliberating upon other matters pertaining to the welfare of the association, the meeting adjourned, and was dismissed with prayer by Mr. Cody.

On Thursday afternoon, Oct. 5th, the constitutional committee of the association met and commenced work on the new constitution, to replace the old one, which was destroyed in the Carnegie fire. Good progress was reported.

"PROF. BASSETT PINCHED"

So ran the second interesting chapel talk by Prof. H. J. Bassett. He told of the many embarrassing and ridiculous experiences he suffered at the hands of the Italian Police Officials.

What is next professor? "My Italian Romance". ?

The one first class popular priced Cafe—Where all Maryville People are Welcome

Prof. Johnson as seen in Knoxville Saturday.

PERSONALS

Cooper (In Logic) "Here's a proposition, Professor Davis. No plants are metals".

Prof. Davis. "What about Aluminum Plants?"

"A-ha I have you—you need not run!" Yes, Mr. Moore, proctor of the campus after sunset has returned to his old hunting grounds. "Be-Ware".

Mr. Wood Wright, brother of Miss Alice Wright, and an old Maryville student visited the hill on Friday. Mr. Wright is a practicing attorney at Madisonville, Tenn.

Heard at the training table—Coach Kiefer, "Hayes, how do you get enough to eat? Between looking at that fair damsel across the way and talking to Doc Feeman I don't see how you have time to eat".

Hayes—"Well Coach, you know my capacity is limited, I can't eat during the entire half hour like some people."

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hickman visited in Maryville over the week-end. They live in Knoxville you know with "the folks".

Miss Cora Burns—(Burnie) steamed into town on Friday afternoon, a little late, but she is all ready for work. Gained 15 ounces during vacation. How did you do it Burnie, Tanlac?

Y. M. C. A. next Sunday at one o'clock.

"Prof. Bassett pinched"! O say, have a heart—have a heart!

Anyone who passed down Court Street on Saturday night would have noticed two ladies on the side walk in front of Mr. Jack French's residence. The two ladies were Miss Rankin and Miss Staater. They had entered the house and heard something. 'Tis said they thought they heard a noise which sounded unfeminine—hence the retreat to the sidewalk and the wait for reinforcements. They were still on the side walk when the French family returned from Knoxville at 11:30 p. m.—Yes the family possesses a cat.

Miss Darby requests all chewing gum to be placed under the chairs in the dining room, not under the plates, it clogs the dish washing machine.

"What a nice lot of advertisers you run!" True, tell them you saw their ad in the ECHO.

What do you think of the new English Type heading—Pretty neat, eh?

Gene Jackson, he who drew our cartoon last week, sojourned a few days in the hospital the past week.

Any man can sit down at the table when the bell rings, but it takes a wise man to know when to get up.

Miss Muriel Mitchell, '17 has departed from the environ of Pearson's. She and her mother have a suite of rooms at the residence of J. H. Webb on High Street.

The parents of Mr. Edwin Stearns dined at Pearsons on Sunday.

Mr. James Brittain of the class of '14 was in Knoxville Saturday. Yes he pulled hard for his Alma Mater.

Prof's. Johnson, Bassett, Knapp, Davis and Perkins added much grace to the snake dance on Wait field Saturday. The only trouble we noticed was that Prof. Bassett seemed to find it a hard job to keep hold of Prof. Johnson's coat-tail.

EXPRESSION DEPARTMENT GRADUATE VISITS THE HILL

Miss Irene Bewley needed no introduction when she stepped on the rostrum Friday morning. She entertained very satisfactorily, judging from the volume of the applause with a humorous story and a monologue.

Miss Bewley is a graduate of the Expression Department of Maryville College.

She goes on a Lyceum tour through the middle west, starting next month. We trust she will return to her Alma Mater once more before she leaves.

MASS MEETINGS LAST WEEK

The results of the three big mass meetings held in the chapel last week could be seen and heard on Waite field Saturday.

M. B. Crum presided, and the speakers were from the team, the faculty and our town supporters.

After the game Coach Kiefer was heard to make the following remark, "The student body is to be highly complimented on the backing they gave the team, also the manner in which they responded in cleaning the field between the halves. Ried Garrison proved himself an indominable cheer leader and the squad appreciates the hearty support."

ALUMNI NOTES

Hymen has been very busy among Maryville graudates during the past season. He has at least a dozen more nuptial knots to his credit since these notes were last published. Very likely the list given below is not complete, but it should be sufficient to convince the most skeptical that the firm of Venus, Cupid and Hymen is still doing a flourishing business. The cordial good wishes of Maryville Alumni follow the happy couples.

Mr. Paul Hughes Roose, was married to Miss Hattie V. Davis, August 3, 1916, at the home of the bride's parents in Ashland, Kansas. They are now living in Belle Plaine, Kansas.

Rev. James R. Jewell, '10 was united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Smith, of Patton, Mo., on the 8th of August. Mr. and Mrs. Jewell are living in Fredericktown, Mo., where "James" is pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Prof. W. J. Yourd, '10 was married last June to Miss Nettie La Grange of Columbus, Nebraska. Prof. Yourd has charge of the High School at Fullerton, in the same state.

Still another of the class of 1910 is to be added to this list for on the 11th of July, Mr. Charles Gordon Cissna claimed as his bride Miss Clarice Hawkins '10. They are at home in Denver, Colorado.

Mr. Clarence M. Franklin, '11 and Miss Nancy Elizabeth Hallens were married at Clarksville, Tennessee on the 8th of August. After a brief visit with the family of the groom at Jefferson City they went to Sparta, Tenn., where Mr. Franklin is agricultural agent.

Mr. M. Blaine Duggan, '12 is another Maryvillian who has grown tired of single blessedness. On September 11, he married Miss Esther Donoghue. Mr. and Mrs. Duggan are living in Detroit.

Mr. H. Clarence Mourice and Miss Grace Jewell, '13 were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother in Fredericktown, Missouri, also on September 11, Rev. Stanley H. Jewell, '07, officiating. They have set up housekeeping on the groom's farm near Fredericktown.

The class of 1914 deserves special mention. At least four of its members have a place on this roll of honor. Mr. Ralph Carson and Mr. A. G. Hinkle lead the way. They were made happy on the same day—the 15th of last May. It was not a double wedding however for Mr. Hinkle found his bride, Miss Mary Liebert, in Laconia, Indiana, while Mr. Carson was married at Jefferson City, Tennessee, to Miss Mary Emma Coile, a former Maryville student. Mr. and Mrs. Carson are at Louisville, Kentucky, where Mr. Carson is completing his work in the Theological Seminary.

Miss Elva Watkins were united in marriage on the 10th of August.

A recent Maryville wedding of interest to Maryville Alumni was that of Mr. Ernest Taylor, of Ducktown, Tenn., and Miss Jonnie McCully, '14 of this place. The ceremony was performed by President Wilson, September 14, 1916. The newly married couple are living at Ducktown.

Another Maryville wedding took place on the 29th of June in New Providence Church, President Wilson and Rev. Dr. Lyle officiating. Mr. Lester E. Bond, '15 and Miss Kate Hill, also a Maryville College student, were the happy couple. They are located at Laurel, Mississippi, where Mr. Bond has a position as Physical Director.

The last wedding on our list is that of two graduates of the college, Mr. R. W. Carver, '16 and Miss Ruth Butler, '15 were married in Knoxville, June 10, by Rev. J. P. Calhoun.

NEXT?

Y. M .C. A.

Andy Norgan gave a fine talk to the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday, on the topic, "Don't be a Coward". He spoke of the many phases of moral cowardice that we can unconsciously adopt, and his words were convincing as he gave some very personal testimony. His topic was based on a study of Pilate, the Roman judge. A good crowd was present and thoroughly enjoyed the meeting.

Next Sunday Roy Anderson is to have charge of the meeting, which will be a special song service. He has been working hard to prepare a program and it will be to every one's interest to come out and praise the Lord in song.

EXTENSION WORK BY Y. M. C. A.

Last Sunday evening five members of the Y. M. C. A. went to Rockford to conduct a meeting there The men were working under the extension plan of the Y. and had a fine meeting. Frater was the speaker of the evening. He took his text from Ephesians VI, 11, and with frequent use of illustrations showed that the church today must depend on its young people to do the fighting. The other members of the party, Ferntheil, Loft, Jenkins and Jordan were also asked to speak. These men spoke briefly on other phases of the work among the younger class, after which the meeting was closed. The extension work that the Y. M. C. A. is planning will cover East Tennessee and we hope that with God's help we will be able to do great deal of good.

GRIDIRON "DOPE"

Four players and the manager of Maryville's 1906 team were in Knoxville Saturday to see what changes ten years had wrought.

A. C. Samsel, four years a varsity foot-ball and basket ball player, was in Knoxville for the U. T. game. He was captain of the foot-ball and basket ball teams for two years in succession. He is probably the best known athlete ever produced by Maryville, being picked as an All Tennessee basket ball player for two years.

The girls will deserve the same support this year in basket ball as they are now giving the foot-ball boys.

"The Maryville team is better coached than Tennessee", was a remark made after the Tennessee game by a former Kentucky State Star.

"Patsy" Patton of the '10 and '11 varsity foot-ball squad was on the side lines Saturday. Patsy was one of the heaviest men ever in a Maryville line, weighing 230 pounds the last year at Maryville.

The equal of Bryson's run and the interference given him will not be seen in Knoxville this year.

A continual wail from the U. T. section was, "If we only had Greer".

A championship backfield is what one Knoxville man said of Maryville's backfield.

Sentelle kept everyone aware of the fact that he was in the game by continually tearing through the U. T. line.

"Greaser" was hungry between halves, that was the only thing troubling him.

Two older men who are always counted upon for their support for Tennessee wished that Maryville's backfield and Greer could be added to U. T. and then Tennessee would have a team.

Kemp sustained a fractured ankle which will keep him out of the game the rest of the season.

MARYVILLE SCORES ON SEWANEE

One of The Best Teams in The South Defeated Maryville 68-7 on Field Covered With Dust.

On a field three inches deep with dust, no rain having fallen in seven weeks, Maryville puts up a game fight against a sueprior team.

Maryville won the toss and chose to kick. Greer kicked fifty yards and Sewanee returned 20 yards. The dust rolled up in clouds and the play could not be followed from the side lines. Sewanee, taking advantage of the conditions of the field ran their plays rapidly to Maryville's 5-yard line where they fumbled and M. C. recovered. Bryson punted 40 yards, no return by Sewanee. With line plunges the Sewanee team forced M. C. to their goal line and carried the ball over by an end run.

Two more touch downs were made in this quarter. Score end of first quarter 21-0.

In the second quarter M. C. secured the ball and made good gains on end runs and forward pass. Sewanee made only one touch down during this period—the half ending with the ball in Sewanee's territory. Score, Sewanee 27, M. C. 0.

The second half opened with changes in both line-ups. Sewanee placed two new backs and three line men. Maryville replacing Reed with Tulloch, Ford with Cooper.

During the third quarter Captain Ensign received a punt on M. C.'s 20 yard line and dashed through the Sewanee team for a touchdown. Sewanee made two touchdonwns in this period via the aerial route—their backs shooting the pill fifty yards to the waiting ends.

The quarter ended with the ball in M. C.'s possession in the middle of the field. Score Sewanee 41, M. C. 7.

The last quarter was played in the gathering gloom, Sewanee having possession of the ball most of the period. Maryville was forced to punt, failing to make the required distance.

The last touchdown of the game was made by Sewanee in the last minute of play. A sensational end run of 40 yards by Sewanee's left end. Final score, Sewanee 68, M. C. 7.

Time of Quarters 12 1-2 minutes.

The entire Maryville team played hard foot-ball, Feeman and Flannery doing splendid defensive work, Greer and Briggs leading the attack of the forwards.

TRUE MARYVILLE SPIRIT

It was suggested that the editor and business manager of the Highland Echo be chosen on a competitive basis from the student body rather than the respective societies electing them. This year the Athenians were to elect an editor and a business manager, but acting on their policy of "All first Always" they set the precedent, and the editor and business manager were chosen on the Competitive basis.

The Athenians believe in that broader Maryville spirit.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER BAND

The Student Volunteer Band has made a good beginning, since four new members joined at the first meeitng. Miss Akerstrom of New York was elected President.

The year 1916-17 promises to be a hummer. The organization welcomes all students who are interested in foreign study or missionary work to become members.

MISS IRENE BEWLEY ENTERTAINED

First Event of The Year to be Held in Chapel, Benefit of Y. W. C. A.

Miss Irene Bewley who visited the hill last week returned Monday night and pleased a large and appreciative audience. She was well assisted by the college music and expression departments. Miss Bewley first gave several short humorous readings, following these with one of her inimitable impersonations. The feature of the evening was a three act play, "The Prince Chap". Miss Bewely took three and four characters and read them perfectly.

Miss Jonnie Catlett and Miss Bernice Lowry rendered musical selections, which were well received. Miss Zanna Staater sang two very charming songs, "Yesterday and Today", "My First Love" accompanied by Miss Lena Pardue. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present.

EQUIPMENT IN STORAGE

Stored away in the basement of the Y. M. C. A. building is some gymnasium equipment purchased at great expense upon the advice of a former Maryville gymnasium director.

This equipment although practically new and of best design has been removed from the gymnasium and placed in the basement with articles saved from the Carnegie Hall fire.

At the time of its purchase this equipment was of the best quality and design known and was intended for years of service but before its value to the students had hardly had an opportunity to be tested it has been removed and stored away as junk.

If this was of service in keeping up and building up muscle last year it surely ought to do the same this year.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The regular semi-monthly business meeting of the Ministerial Association was held in Bartlett Hall, Thursday evning, Oct. 12, 1916.

President E. C. Thurmond delivered an enthusiastic address on "Sticktoitiveness".

The new constitution was adopted on first reading

A synopsis of the year's work was given by the program secretary Andrew Richards.

R. A. Young, superintendent of Missions presented this feature of the work in a splendid manner.

A date has been set aside when a real banquet will be held.

This meeting was the best meeting the association ever held and a glorious year is prophesied for the association.

NO MORE OF THIS

At last the pool has been opened for the use of the students. The water and room are heated and an instructor is in charge. Great care should be taken by every one using the natatorium not to endanger a life by carelessness—Safety first always.

NOTHING LIKE THIS ON THE CAMPUS. WAIT TILL SPRING.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting of last Sunday was under the leadership of Roy Anderson, who conducted several hymns as part of his message, and then spoke on the topic, "A Call to the Individual." His theme was based on the duties of the college man after graduation, and the influence he will have in forming the rising generation. The largest crowd of the year was in atendance. Keep coming fellows.

EXTENSION WORK

A team composed of Ferntheil, Leonard, Campbell and Miner, presided at the morning services of the M. E. Church. The topics as presented were, Miner, "The Y. M. C. A."; Campbell, "A Plea for Playgrounds; and Leonard, "How to Reconcile a Boy's Religion and Grown-up Religion". A solo by Roy Anderson, and music by Miss Lena Pardue was also part of the program. Many enjoyed the service and the team was thanked for its work.

"THE MORNING WATCH"

"Morning Watch" services have been started in Memorial Hall. They are being held every morning at 6 a. m. Those who wish to come out every morning are asked to see Mr. Riggs or R. A. Young.

EXCHANGE

The purpose of the Highland Echo is to express the very life of Maryville College. To do this it is not only necessary to have the support of the student body, but there must also be a certain amount of cooperation with other colleges and universities, both through exchanges and personal suggestions. We feel sure that such an exchange will be of great benefit to us, and we hope that our publication may be of some service to others.

A man never has any trouble about his habits when he is devoted to honest work.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE IMPROVEMENTS ON COLLEGE HILL

Maryville College, founded in 1819 with five candidates for the ministry as her total enrollment, has developed as an oak from an acorn, until today she is rapidly gaining recognition as one of the leading colleges of the South. The secret of her success lies in the faithful, unselfish and splendid service, which her past and present faculties and directors have and are rendering, as well as the sincerity and loyalty of the students who have sought an education from her hands.

The fine spirit of fellowship which has always characterized her student body is still in evidence. The first day I arrived here two years ago, I was favorably impressed with the social atmosphere of Maryville College. At the station were assembled students who made it their business to be here early and welcome the new students and make them feel at home. From the station we were escorted to Pearsons' Hall and, after partaking of the refreshments the girls had so thoughtfully provided, we were helped through the preliminaries incidental to securing rooms, etc. The impression I received from such a cordial welcome on the part of the upper classmen was indelibly stamped upon my heart and would have required a mighty counter-influence to erase. All of us, no doubt, have had this same delightful experience upon coming to Maryville for the first time.

Being absent from college last year and finding that circumstances permitted me to again engage in study, I wrote to our Registrar requesting a catalogue. The very first page, as I turned back the cover, gave me an impression of progressiveness on the part of the college. It was a small matter in itself that the illustrations throughout the contents of the catalogue were new, but they indicated the spirit of Maryville—a desire to replace the old by something better. They made me feel that the college was still pushing ahead and that I was not making a mistake in returning to her bosom.

Nor was I disappointed. I found the atmosphere of Maryville the same as before with the same high standards prevailing; and in addition I noticed improvements on the campus, also those of an altogether different character.

The first improvement which meets our eyes as we approach the campus, is of course our new Carnegie Hall which is rapidly nearing completion. Here from the ashes of that memorable fire of last April is springing up, through the loyalty and generosity of her friends, one of the best domitories in the South, a building of which Maryville may well be proud.

Our swimming-pool which was opened for use for the first time a year ago is one of the improvements in Maryville's equipment. This annex to Bartlett Hall was badly needed and its value cannot be overestimated.

The fountain given by the graduating class of 1916 is especially worthy of our notice. This fountain is artistic, appropriate and is full of sentiment and symbolic meaning. It brings to our remembrance the happy associations of many who belonged to this class, some of whom perhaps we shall never meet again.

Our Alma Mater has launched upon a new era in her history. She is keeping pace, as far as her limited resources will permit her, with the best colleges of the South. Let all work to win the race and place her, not merely in the front ranks of Southern colleges, but in the foremost ranks of the colleges of the country.

Our hats go off to all who have so magnificiently and loyally done their part in the past in pushing Maryville to the position she now occupies. Our duty lies before us and let us with a vision of the future, do our part to kick the goal.

COLLEGE TEAMS NOW IN ORDER

After Meeting Two University Squads M. C. Lines Up Against Teams in its Class Rest of Season.

The football team having already met two of the hardest teams on its schedule is now ready to begin preparation for the college teams of Maryville's class and the home schedule.

Two more road trips are on the schedule and a third with the University of Chattanooga will probably be taken.

Friday the team leaves for Danville, Ky., to play Centre College. The scores between Maryville and Centre have always been close, Maryville having the disadvantage of having played Kentucky State the previous day. But this year Maryville meets only Centre College on the trip and should win by a decisive score.

Centre College has played two games this season losing to Kentucky State by a large score and holding the University of Louisville to a scoreless tie.

After the Kentucky trip the team will return to Maryville for the first home game playing King College October 28.

Sewanee rolled up a large score Saturday but Maryville was able to score owing to the spectacular dash of Capt. Ensign, who ran back a punt through the entire Sewanee team for a touchdown.

A large number of men continue to report for practice each day and thus the varsity is able to be kept in the best of condition. The management hopes to have a local game and a trip for the second team soon.

Scruggs reported for practice the first of last week and made the trip to Sewanee. Although playing with a weak ankle he expects to return to his old form soon in which event he will make a valuable backfield man.

The Maryville management has not yet settled definitely whether or not Maryville will play the University of Chattanooga at Chattanooga Thanksgiving day. If Maryville does not meet the University of Chattanooga a game will probably be played at Maryville as the Maryville team has never had a Thanksgiving game at home. Whether or not the game will be arranged for the home lot will be decided by the attendance at the coming games. If the attendance will justify, a good game will be arranged, but the only way Maryville fans can be assured of a Thanksgiving game is by turning out a large crowd for the games to be played here soon.

A NATION AT WAR

Prof. H. J. Bassett annouces that he will be unable to speak on "My Italian Romance" for lack of material and illustrations. Never-the-less he will talk at chapel on Thursday morning, subject, "A Nation at War". No body will "cut" on Thursday.

A Voice—Mary! what are you doing out there?

Mary—I'm looking at the moon, mother!

Mother—Well tell the moon to go home and you come on to bed.

WE MUST HAVE IT

There have been many favorable comments on the article published last week entitled "Athletic Fee For Maryville".

There must be some constructive action taken on the part of the student body in order to assure recognition by the Board of Directors. A petition giving the facts and showing the need of an athletic fee, and the value of such a fee should be drawn.

The students who favor this means of supporting athletics, and desire to have it instituted in Maryville College should sign the petition and it will be presented to the Board of Directors at their January meeting.

THE DETAILS

Do you know that the large corporations and big business houses of this country are as careful in selecting employees to handle the details as they are about choosing the men for the big jobs.

The man who sits behind the mahogany desk is the man who first mastered the details.

Human nature has a tendency to shirk the details and attempt to do only the bigger things.

A college student should learn above all things to master the little things—the details of his college work. It is a prerequisite to a successful life.

Learn to do the details first, the larger things will follow and it will be easier to accomplish the big tasks when you have the art of handling the details.

DR. WILSON COMING

Dr. Wilson, who has been very busy during the past nine months preparing a history of Maryville College announces that the book will go to the press this week. It contains over thirty illustrations and is divided into two sections. Ten chapters containing the anti-bellum period and ten chapters the post-bellum period. The book is to be used by the Doctor in his efforts to raise the $300,000 centennial fund.

As stated clerk of the Synod of Tennessee Dr. Wilson goes to Nashville, Tenn., where the fall meeting is to be held beginning Thursday. Upon his return to Maryville he will appear at chapel.

The day he will make his appearance cannot be definitely announced but it will be next Tuesday in all probability.

The Doctor will surely receive a hearty reception from the entire student body and faculty.

ATHENIAN

A delightful program was rendered in the Athenian Hall, Friday night. The aesthetic element of education formed the central feature of the program. The question, "Resolved, that music and expression should be college credit courses instead of extra curriculum courses", was well debated by Mr. McCord and Mr. Hamilton on the affirmative and Mr. Witherspoon on the negative.

Mr. Leonard gave a piano solo which illustrated the power of music and Miss Buxton gave selected readings which illustrated the power of expression. These two numbers so influenced the audience that before the debate opened, it had decided in its minds that these courses should be credit courses.

The selections given by Miss Buxton were greatly enjoyed by every one present. "The Highwayman" was her first reading, to encore she responded with a story entitled, "One Man in a Thousand", but the audience would not yet suffer her to go. To the second encore she responded with the story "The Little Boy and his Swim".

The Athenians feel very grateful to Miss Buxton for her part in making the program so interesting.

PROF. H. J. BASSETT ADDRESSES JUNIOR ALPHA SIGMA

"Forty-five minutes with Prof. Bassett in Italy"—so read the Junior Alpha Sigma bulletin. Those who heard the Professor tell of his remarkable trip from Naples and back felt that the forty-five minutes were well spent.

The address was illustrated by a blackboard drawing and by photographs of towns visited by the speaker. One of these towns—Paestum is said to be over 2500 years old, and the Professor showed some photographs of its runined temples, Neptune and Basilica, built over 2300 years ago. After taking those present by train to the city of Salerno, the Professor took them into his confidence and related his disastrous expereince in that town. After arriving there, he arranged for a room in one of the prominent hotels, and departed.

Upon his return—Oh, hororrs!—he found that his room was occupied. The frightened pedagogue evaded the eys of the unwelcome guests long enough to creep in between the sheets and cover himself, head and al. But (more horors) he soon found that he was mistaken. He had not evaded the eyes of his multitudinous to occupants. After a microsopical search they found him, and the 3847 long-billed mosquitos went to work on their victim. They enjoyed this new American dish so much that the Professor found no peace that night. He declared war then and there—and oh what a slaughter there was! We should like to tell what the Professor said that night, but we do not like to speak ill of the dead.

The rest of the trip was not so eventful. We might tell how the professor was robbed of his bar of milk chocolate by some officers who claimed it for "duty," how one of the guards recognized the padagogue as an American by his shoes, how the driver was determined to take him to another hotel, when he wanted to go to Hotel Cappachini-Conventi, but space forbids. Suffice to say, the men who were absent missed "half their lives." Moral: Attend every meeting.

Next week Professor Johnson will speak on a very interesting subject. Don't miss it.

BAINONIAN

All who attended Bainonian on October 13 enjoyed an evening with the American Poets. The program was instructive and each number showed careful preparation.

Miss Myra Bogart read an interesting paper on Whittier, the new England Poet. "North and South", a poem by James Whitcomb Riley was read by Miss Irrovia Corry. Miss Sophie Waibel gave a review of the life of Sidney Lanier, the Southern Poet. She also read two of his best poems, "My Springs" and "A Ballad of Trees and the Master." A paper on Joaquin Miller, the poet of the West, was read by Miss Gladys Graham. "Annabel Lee", by Edgar Allen Poe, was given by Miss George Simpson.

Miss Mary Heard rendered two vocal solos, "When Mabel Sings" and "Somewhere a Voice is Calling". Also a duet by Misses Hartman and Armentrout was enjoyed.

Three is a crowd, and there were three.
The girl, the parlor lamp and he.
But two is company, and no doubt
That's why the lamp went out.

LARGEST ENROLLMENT IN COLLEGE HISTORY

Prospects For This Year's Attendance Best on Record.

The books in the registrar's office show that 666 students have matriculated to date. This is the largest number of students enrolled at this time in the year in the history of the college. It is estimated that the names of 850 students will be on the books after Christmas. If you have any friends who you think might be interested in making Maryville College their school apply for a catalogue and send it to them. Everybody is pushing for a "Bigger and Better Maryville."

BUCKEYE CLUB

The second state to organize was Ohio—the Buckeye State. Carl Wilson, president; W. K. Lippert, vice president; Mable Rice, secretary and treasurer.

Last year the Buckeye State was the largest state club on the hill. The Ohio students have the "pep"—watch them do things this year.

POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS IN FOREGROUND

Many Little Groups Can Be Seen Around The Campus Discussing Who's Who and Why.

Although some are too young to vote by many seasons, some too indifferent and others not intending to vote they all can tell who is going to be elected.

The Hughes Club and the Wilson Club hold yell feasts daily, hot air "blows" hourly and discussions continually. Each Club has a prominent political personage they are going to have on the hill to address the "voters".

A joint debate on the issues of the day by Wilson and Hughes might create a little excitement on the hill—it is hoped that the respective clubs will ararnge such a meeting of the candidates. "He saved us from War!"—"We would never have been humbled by Mexico" and similar expressions are becoming "by words", even the suffering-jets talk with limited intelligence on the subject. Here's hoping we have either Charles and Woodrow with us soon—that will settle the question.

GRIDIRON DOPE

Former Coach Stanley of Maryvilel is at Florida State this year as head coach.

Mr. Roy Vandegrift a three-year line man at Maryville is now connected with the passenger department of the C. C. and O. Railroad.

Maryville has not failed to score this season and will continue scoring when our team meets Centre College Saturday.

The Maryville foot-ball team met Sewanee for the first time but did not have as much success as the Maryville baseball teams have had with Sewanee.

Theodore Shaver, a former Maryville student, is playing with Georgia Tech this year. Coach Heisman of Tech predicts that he will develop into one of the best players in the South.

Eugene Jackson, a former gridiron star on the "Hill" is developing a very successful team at Polytechnic this year.

Due to injuries received in the Tennessee game Clemens did not go to Sewanee but will make the trip to Kentucky this week, adding much strength to the backfield.

Tom Calloway a former varsity backfield man now enployed by the Aluminum Company is still pulling for Maryville, and is on the "Hill" every week to see the team workout.

The Dressing Room Glee Club with Bob Clemens as leader gives concerts each afternoon at five p. m.

The students should take some definite action concerning their attitude toward an athletic fee for Maryville.

Miss. A. & M. overwhelmed Chattanooga Saturday, Maryville fans will have an opportunity to see one of the best teams in the South in action when Miss. A. & M. plays here.

Several Maryville men are already showing form that will undoubtedly cause them to be picked as all East Tennessee men this year.

Hurst, who sustained a sprained foot in the U. T. game was on the field again Monday, ready for service.

"Peanut" Bond for four years varsity end is located at Laurel, Miss., where he is Y. M. C. A. physical director.

Tom Henry, a varsity lineman for three years is in the Automobile business in Kansas City.

A large attendance for the home games will assure Maryville fans of a Thanksgiving day game.

Reed, received a fractured collar bone in the Sewanee game. He will be out of the line-up for a couple of weeks.

Ford was sent to the etherial kingdom for a short visit in Saturday's game. When he returned to mother earth Coach, in order to test his powers of perceptability, addressed him thusly, "Ford, who is this". Ford pointing to Coach. "This is you."

The Coach was heard to say "we must have more speed!" Guess we will then!

REMARKABLE REMARKS

Prof. Bassett: "I can pass for an Italian in Italy because of my altitude.

Hon. John. W. Overall: "I believe in woman suffrage!" (Tremendous applause from the "suffering--jets.")

Deck Williams: "Hoo-ray for Wilson!"

Howard McGrath: "Solidify!"

Coach Kiefer (To the team) "Play a clean game, boys!"

"Tommy Atkins" Loft: "I say, dod-gast your bloomin' hide, do you know I chaperoned Miss Erma Russell until 10:15 p. m. Friday night?"

Dean Barnes: "Let there be quiet" —(and there was quiet.)

Prof. Walker: "Please don't take any food from the Dining Hall. The Ministerial Association will meet right after supper." Why, Professor?

Pedro Hernondez (writing from Cuba): "I hear Maryville has a Peanut-Hill now. I guess you've begun to raise 'Peanuts' and to deal in 'Bonds'."

Prof. Johnson: "To say that Prof. Brittain is taller than Prof. Davis by a hair's breadth is to insult Prof. Brittain.

ALUMNI NOTES

The Alumni Editor will appreciate it very much if Maryville Alumni will keep him informed as to their own doings and as to matters concerning other graduates of the college. It is impossible for any one person to keep in touch with all. Marriages, births, deaths, promotions, changes of location, political, business literary and social activities,—anything and everything that has to do directly or indirectly with our Alumni will be most welcome. Do your part.

Rev. Dennis Crawford, '03, who for several years has been pastor of a Presbyterian church in Chattanooga spent several weeks in Maryville recently among his relatives. While here he supplied the pulpit of New Providence church during the sickness of the pastor. Mr. Crawford has resigned his pastorate in Chattanooga and is spending the year at Cincinnati doing postgraduate work in Lane Theological Seminary and in the University of Cincinnati.

Miss Christine Alexander, '13, sailed last August for Egypt where she has accepted a position in the American Girls' College at Cairo. This institution is under the direction of the United Presbyterian Church. Miss Alexander has entered upon her work and is very much pleased with it. She is teaching English. Miss Anna Taylor, a former Maryville student, left America last month to teach music in the same college.

The many friends of Rev. H. S. Lyle, '99, will regret to learn that he has been seriously ill recently. He was taken ill very suddenly and was, for a short time, in a very critical condition. He recovered sufficiently to occupy his pulpit last Sunday morning.

Prof. J. W. Ritchie, '0 Professor of Biology in William and Mary College is at present on leave of absence in New York. He is working on a Biology for use in colleges. Prof. Ritchie has already published several books in his line and they have been well received and widely used. He is at present residing in Yonkers, New York.

Rev. S. H. Jewell, '07 resigned his pastorate at Barton, Maryland last summer and has taken up work in Missouri where he has charge of the Presbyterian Churches at Piedmont and Ironton. His address is Piedmont.

Volume 2 Number 4 | Maryville, Tennessee, Tuesday, October 24, 1916 | Five Cents

KING COLLEGE PLAYS HERE SATURDAY

First Game On Home Grounds This Season—Big Crowd is Expected to Witness The Annual Clash.

After being played to a scoreless tie by Centre College Saturday, the Varsity squad began preparations Monday for the opening game on the home grounds.

King College will open the local season playing at Maryville Saturday in a game which will eliminate either Maryville or King as a contender for the championship of East Tennessee.

Maryville and King College have met five times, Maryville having won a majority of the games. During the last three years Maryville has won two games and King one, this year King is determined to even up by defeating Maryville on the home grounds for the first time.

Of the five games played by the two teams only twice has the winner scored more than two touchdowns while one ended in a scoreless tie.

King College this year has one of the best teams in its history as seven of last year's men, including entire backfield, are again with the team.

The following men from last year's squad are with the team, Detter, Keys, McFadden, Buckles, Newland, Wood and Smith.

The weight of the King team is not known but they usually average just a little more than Maryville. And in their line-up they generally carry one or two star players who can hardly be equaled on an average college team.

King has already defeated Carson and Newman by a large score, and it is said that this score would have been doubled had the field been in good shape.

Capt. Smith of King is bringing his team to Maryville confident of victory and determined to win.

Those who have seen the team in action report it as a well balanced and well coached team with plenty of speed and punch.

The Maryville team will probably start the game in the best condition that it has entered any game this year. Reed will be the only regular player who will be unable to play Saturday. Several changes may appear in the line-up as the coach was not entirely satisfied with the work against Centre College. Just what changes will be made has not been hinted, but every effort will be made to get a better working combination in order that Maryville may get a good start toward the East Tennessee championship.

Clemens who did not enter the Centre College game until the fourth quarter will be able to play the entire game Saturday and this will add much to better team work in the backfield.

The work of the line against Centre College was very commendable and also of the ends, especially the playing of Flannery who was the star of the game.

The game Saturday will start promptly at 2:30 p. m. and will probably be one of the closest and hardest fought on the local gridiron this year.

The officials have not been selected yet but it is probable that Jackson who officiated at Maryville last year will act as referee.

The King College team will line up as follows:

McDowell or McCarty	-	Right end
Dettor	-	Right tackle
Anderson or Nolen	-	Right guard
Keys	-	Center
Spahr	-	Left guard
Smith (Capt.)	-	Left end
Wood	-	Quarter back
McFadden	-	Left half
Buckles	-	Right half
Newland	-	Full back

PROF. BASSETT SPEAKS ON "A NATION AT WAR"

Prof. H. J. Bassett spoke at Chapel last Thursday morning on "A Nation at War". He told of seeing men with arm bands all over Italy, indicating that they were soon to be sent to the front. He spoke of seeing deserters taken to be court-martialed, prisoners and wounded taken back from the field of action. Trolley cars in Italy are especially fitted up to carry the wounded. "It was a very sad sight", said the Professor, "to see thousands of anxious-looking people coming to the hospitals to visit wounded friends and relatives".

We want more, Professor!

SENIORS WILL HAVE PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack French on Court street will be the scene of much activity Friday night. The class of '17 will enjoy its first real party of the year.

An evening's entertainment that will tax the dignity of every senior is being arranged. There will be some invited guests of course and a big time is in line for '17.

WHAT? YOU ARE NOT GOING TO PEARSONS BEFORE THE GAME?

LET US IMPROVE THE CAMPUS

The Student Body Can do Much To Improve The Appearance of The Campus.

We all love our campus, "beautiful for situation", none more so anywhere. We like it even as it is, trash, sedge-grass, and barrenness along with attractive trees, lawns, and hedges. But we should like it better minus the trash and the like, and plus more general attractiveness. Of course we should.

The grounds have been greatly improved during the time the College has occupied its present site. Some progress is made every year. The force at work on the grounds, however, is small, and the funds available for aesthetic improvement, smaller still. We are glad to see in the catalog among the special needs for which the Centennial Forward Fund of $325,000 is being sought, that President Wilson asks for $5000 for streets, walks, and other improvements of the campus. When this becomes reality we shall see more rapid improvement in the appearance of college hill.

In what has already been accomplished the students of former days have had a large share. The old cedars that crown our hill were here in diminutive form when Anderson Hall was being erected, but most, if not all, of the beautiful maples, elms, walnuts, beeches, and like trees were planted by the students. The fountain, the latest addition to campus attractiveness, was also the gift and labor of students, the Class of 1916.

Students have not only helped; they have also, in some ways, hindered. Trees, carefully planted and nurtured, have been ruined by rough and thoughtless handling; grass has been trampled out; and portions of the hedges have been broken and destroyed. Within a few days, thoughtless vandalism has marred the beauty of the fountain and taken the first step towards its destruction.

The College will, of course, repair the fountain, just as it has, so far as possible, reset trees and hedge and resown worn-out lawns. But this fact only emphasizes the responsibility of the students to cultivate a thoughtful regard for the appearance of the campus, and to see to it that we at least do not detract from its beauty by acts of destruction. Let us begin with the fountain. The students of 1916 gave it, we can take good care of it. Especially let us develop such a sense of community self-respect that the far-famed Maryville spirit may add to its virtues that of caring for the natural and artificial attractiveness of the college campus. Let us improve!

C. E. Kelly—(Bumcomb again) paid a little visit—we mean he paid a little girl a visit at Pearsons last Sunday.—How many visits do you owe big boy?

INTERNATIONAL Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY

Visits Maryville Sunday—Speaks in Presbyterian Church and on The Hill—A Live Wire in Action.

The Rev. A. M. Trawick, International Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for Social Work, came to town on Saturday. Mr. Trawick is one of the leaders in Social work in the Y. He was received by a committee from the Y. M. C. A. cabinet who had made arrangements for his entertainment while here.

Mr. Trawick occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church for both services on Sunday, and also spoke at a joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. at the chapel in the afternoon. The attendance at the meeting in the afternoon was very good, about three hundred students hearing his sermon on "Students' Personal Prayer Habits". Mr. Trawick advised a time set apart in the early morning for communion with God and emphasized the fact that there must be times when one can be absolutely alone with the Master. His sermon was full of illustrations, the most notable of which was the fable about the roaring rabbit. The moral was "Don't roar unless you have the goods". The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are both on the job in cultivating healthy roarers, and when they roar they have the goods to back it up.

After the joint meeting, Mr. Trawick met the Y. M. C. A. cabinet in personal consultation, and laid before them a tentative plan of work for the rest of the year. This plan comprises a series of related subjects to be discussed during the devotional meetings. The working out of the program will be left to the Devotional Secretary.

On Monday morning, at the chapel hour Mr. Trawick addressed the student body on "Service". The idea of personal service as an indication of true christianity was broadly set forth and the students were told that opportunities for work in many lines were open to all who cared to engage in them. Maryville is a fertile field for the showing of a real true seven days-a-week Christianity, and the Associations should be, and if they are to be of any value, must be in the fore-front of the battle to take a man-size Christianity to every home and place of business in Maryville.

The Associations wish to thank Mr. Trawick and Mr. Parker for their presence and the inspiration they gave. The value of their words will be shown more and more as time passes and the Associations go on with the work of presenting Christ as the basis and corner stone of a real and effective life.

SCORELESS TIE SLOW FIELD

Maryville and Centre College Battle With Neither Team Being Able to Cross The Line.

The day was cold and snappy, sky overcast, field somewhat slow following a week of rain. About 250 people were in the stands—till the game started—then they rushed to the side lines.

Maryville played splendid defensive ball—the Orange and Garnet goal being in danger at only one time during the forty-eight minutes of play. The offense of M. C. was not consistent. The backfield at times showed flashes of form—while at other times they seemed to lose interest. Flannery was the bright star of the game playing a great game at end.

Centre was weak on line plunging and end runs. Their only means of gaining ground was via over head route and punting, which the Danville boys did well.

Centre won the toss, choosing to defend the west goal.

Greer kicks off and Centre returned, fumbled. Sentelle recovering. Maryville's ball on Centre's 35 yard line. Feeman three yards gain over tackle, Sears one yard, Ensign two yards—M. C. punts. Centre's ball on their 10 yard line. Centre punts 46 yards, Ensign returns 5 yards. Centre fails to gain required distance and is forced to punt. Centre kicks 60 yards, the ball rolling out of bounds. M. C.'s ball on their own 20 yard line. Feeman punts 20 yards. Centre returns 5 yards. Here Centre attempted to score using drop kick—but it is blocked and M. C. recovers. Maryville's ball on their 43 yard line. Failing to make the necessary ten yards M. C. punts 42 yards. Stevens replaces Ensign at half. Ensign relieving McNutt at quarter. Centre returns the kick Ensign returning the ball 20 yards. Stevens called over tackle, fumbled—Centre's ball.

At this point in the game Centre opened up and by a series of short passes over center of the line made first downs twice, Maryville tightened up, held Centre for downs, ball going to M. C. on their 20 yard line, Feeman 4 yards off tackle.

First quarter ends—Score 0-0.

The second quarter found both teams resorting to open play.

Maryville's ball on their 24 yard line. Feeman 3 yards, Ensign no gain, Stevens 1 yard. Feeman punts 25 yards, Centre making no return, being nailed in his tracks by Flannery. Centre's fullback makes pretty run of 12 yards around M. C.'s right end. After trying three forward passes without success and a line plunge for three feet Centre loses ball on downs. Feeman tries line—no gain, Sears 4 yards off tackle, Ensign over center 1 yard. M. C. forced to punt. Beautiful punt of 60 yards, Centre making no return, Greer tackling hard. Centre fails to gain necessary 10 yards—punts to Ensign who returns 6 yards. Stevens short end run 15 yards, Feeman fails to gain through line; forward pass Sears to Feeman 15 yards, Sears, 10 yards through

EFFICIENCY

The cry of the twentieth century is EFFICIENCY! What does it mean? Producing results, competent, is the manner in which the dictionary defines it. How can a student in college be efficient and thereby make his college efficient?

Competency in college must not be interpreted to mean only a thorough scholar, it has a broader meaning.

The institution of learning whose student body is scholarly, loyal to its athletic enterprises, to its literary societies, to its religious organizations is the college which is efficient—competent.

The man who comes to college with the intention of acquiring what is commonly known as "book sense" may as well stay at home and take a correspondence course. The four years spent in college must be years of efficiency, in order that they may prepare for a life vocation.

Stand back of your college in every phase of its work. Go to the lecture room and absorb, to the literary hall and declaim, to church and worship God, to the athletic field and pull—pull hard for your team. Be competent in the different activities of student life and you will be competent in your life's work.

Efficiency is the call of the age. Are you efficient? Let's have an efficient student body in Maryville College—really efficient.

BOOSTERS

The persons that advertise in this paper are the friends of the college and of its publications. They believe in boosting. Why not stand by those who favor us and help to make possible our weekly paper. Come on! Fall in line and boost the firms that boost us and you will have a clear conscience.

CHILHOWEAN STAFF OBTAINS DESK SPACE. THE 1916-17 ANNUAL GETS STARTED

A capacious room on the fourth floor of Science Hall has been secured for the use of the staff in publishing the annual. The printers and engraving contracts have been let, and the advertising department has been hard at work securing advertisements which appear in the Bulletin Board in front of the chapel.

PERSONALS

Misses Hale and Green spent the week end as the guests of Miss McCampbell at her home in Fountain City, near Knoxville.

A. Stewart Meyers, who held the chair of English here last year is in the editorial department of the Alexander-Hamilton Institute, New York City.

Mrs. Hartman of Rockport, Indiana is visiting her daughter in Pearsons.

Sounded like a seashore bathing beach around the pool last week.

Mr. R. A. Young preached at the Fifth Presbyterian Church in Knoxville Sunday.

We noticed it was 4:15 when chapel convened Thursday morning—at least that is the way the chapel clock told it.

Mrs. E. R. Walker, who has been seriously ill at the Lincoln Memorial Hospital is reported to be rapidly improving.

Extra copies this week—See Business Manager.

Earl Scott spent a few days in the hospital last week. He was threatened with appendicitis. He later departed for Nashville to undergo an operation.

Don't forget to make your date for the class parties. They come only once in awhile—a great while.

Miss Coulter, who plans the meals at the boarding club, visted her sister in Wildwood one day last week.

Thurmond, E. C. enjoyed a three day visit to the hospital—at least that is the way he tells it.

Miss Newton of Sweetwater was the week end guest of her sister, Miss Winston Newton.

Don't forget to mention the Echo to our advertisers—they are boosters.

There has been much co-operation at the boarding club during the past few days. Dean Barnes has cooperated in disposing of the edibles—quite proficiently they say.

Miss Katherine Armstrong had a slight attack of tonsilitis—hence she was seen at the hospital.

LESS RACKET MORE WORK

You may think because we Freshmen are not making just all the racket we can, that we are not doing much. But that is a mistake.

With the following officers: Mr. Horace Brown, President; Miss Mamie Pleasants, Vice-president Miss Kathleen Porter, Secretary; Mr. Albion McClenahan, Treasurer, at our head, you may rest assured that things are not at a standstill! And we can count on making this a most successful year.

After getting the machinery of the class in good running order, we can now turn our attention to the most important business of the year—The Class Party.

The committees are getting down to hard work, and from all reports if you don't want to have a good time you had best not go; for there is fun in store for everyone who attends. Wear the class flower but don't buy any wall flowers. We know there aren't any on the Hill—so don't order any. Get right for the Fun!

SENIOR PREPS ELECT JAMES COOK PRESIDENT

The Senior Preparatory Class elected a very capable corps of officers for its final lap in prepdom—James Cook, president; Miss Buchanon, vice-president; George Callahan, Secretary and Treasurer; Miss Elsie Dawson and John Robinson jointly hold the office of business manager and Homer Weisbecker represents the class as editor.

MASS MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT AFTER SUPPER

Enthusiasm Meeting Before The King Game to be Held In Chapel.

The memory still lingers—those rousing big "pep" meetings before the U. T. game. Everybody out on Friday night and get in line for Saturday's game—the team needs the help of the student body, give it the backing it deserves. The team has been on the road two weeks and knows how it feels to hear the yells of the opposing teams' supporters.

Be OUT and let 'em hear their own crowd yell.

THE CHARGE OF THE HASH BRIGADE

Half a yard, half a yard,
Half a yard onward;
Jammed altogether there,
Hungry six hundred,
"Forward the Hash Brigade!
Charge for the seats", they said.
Into the dining room
Rushed the six hundred.

"Forward the Hash Brigade!"
Is there a man dismayed?
Not one must hesitate
Not one must stumble.
Stop not to argufy,
Stop not to reason why,
Chairs we must gain or die!
Into the dining hall
Stormed those six hundred.

Tables to right of them,
Tables to left of them,
Tables in front of them,
Loaded with plunder.
Pushed, yea, and jerked at will,
Jostling and jostled still,
Watch ye,—no waiter's kill!
Into that dining hall
Poured those six hundred.

Gazed they with savage glare,
Arms sawed defenseless air,
Grasping their comrade's hair
Fighting for vacant chairs,
While the girls wondered.
Each has some goal to make,
Each has some seat to take,
Right through the lines they break
Till, with a final gasp
Chairs in their hands they grasp,
Conquered, they have at last!
Hail the six hundred.

Tables to right them,
Tables to left of them,
Tables all around them,
Loaded with plunder
Then Walker tapped the bell,
Into their chairs they fell,
They who had rushed so well!
Safe through the jaws of death,
Straight through the hall pell mell
Thus they had gained their seats,
All those six hundred.

When can their glory fade?
Oh, the wild rush they made!
New students wondered,
Honor the rush they made
Honor the Hash Brigade
Noble six hundred! ! ! ! !

HOOSIERS ORGANIZE STATE CLUB

Last Wednesday all Indiana students were summoned to meet in Prof. Perkin's room. Ten loyal Hoosiers responded to the call and an Indiana Club was organized. The officers elected were: Homer Weisbecker, President; Miss Esther Covert, Vice-president; Miss Mary Teeple, Secretary and Treasurer.

There are surely more than ten Hoosiers in Maryville. If you are from Indiana and were not present at the meeting hand your name to Miss Teeple so that you may be listed with the ten.

When you're foolin' in the library
And havin' lots of fun,
A laughin' and jabberin'
As if your time had come.
You'd better watch your corners
And keep kinder looking out,
Er the librarian 'll git you,
Ef you don't watch out.

GRIDIRON DOPE

After scoring on Tennessee and Sewanee Maryville's offense failed at Danville. It is hardly reasonable to suppose that Centre plays greater defensive ball than either Sewanee or Tennessee.

Carson and Newman is hopelessly out of the foot-ball race. Carson and Newman seems unable to hold the men as this year has shown a real dearth of material and little signs of development of what is on hand.

Newlands at full for King College has been tearing through the opposing team's line at will and has announced his intentions of continuing this against Maryville, but "Sheeny" Briggs speaking for the line says that Newland's line bucking will be halted in the first quarter.

Since Ford had to run sidewise to keep from flying off Wait field into the Tennessee river at Knoxville he has been planning once again this season to get up the same speed. Saturday has been selected for the date and Maryville has been assured one touchdown.

A battle royal will be staged around the pivotal position as Sentelle will be opposed by Keys of King College reported as one of the best linemen in this section.

A report was heard late in September that Frank Hall, quarterback on the 1913 team would return as a candidate for his old position at quarter. He is now employed by the Firestone Rubber Co., at Akron, Ohio.

Present indications point to the fact that Maryville will have the largest opening crowd at the King game that has witnessed an opening game on the Maryville gridiron.

Don't forget to stay off the field during scrimmages and remember to keep behind the wire fence Saturday.

Flannery played a wonderful game at Danville Saturday.

King College has started a "Greater King" movement; the defeat of Maryville at Maryville is a part of the plan.

Maryville or King will be eliminated from the East Tennessee championship race Saturday. King and Emory and Henry have already disposed of Carson and Newman.

The fans were glad to see Ensign return to his old position at half and it was a wonder to see him work during the scrimmages.

Maryville and King have met five times and only twice has the winning team scored more than two touchdowns.

Capt. Smith of King is going to bring his team to town to trounce Maryville. No other reason is given.

Sentelle says he is going to "cow-tramp" King College. Now don't think "Big Henry" doesn't know how it is done, he was one of the Maryvillians at the Sewanee game.

Centre College expected Maryville to win. Maryville expected to win. Result Maryville didn't win.

King College has the same backfield it had last year and they are said to be the smoothest working backs in this section.

SHALL IT BE A FRAT OR A SOCIETY?

The Alpha Sigma Hall was the scene of much enthusiasm last Friday evening. Two extra good readings were rendered, "Refined Character", and the second "Crystals." A debate followed: "Resolved that Charles E. Hughes should be elected President." Forceful and persuasive arguments were offered by both sides. The ten minutes discussion of the question gave us a chance to hear many views and pent up feelings over the issues. The parliamentary drill caused much lively discussion as to whether or not the society should be converted into a frat. The motion was tabled. Many say that the enthusiasm of these last few meetings excelled that of the years 1912-13.

A RECIPE FOR A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Y. W. C. A. Conducts Weekly Prayer Meeting In Effective Manner.

The Tuesday evening College Prayer Meeting of Oct. 17, was conducted by the Young Women's Christian Association.

Miss Wright, president of the Association had charge of the meeting. The Scripture lesson was followed by a special selection from a quartette of young ladies. They sang "It Pays to Serve Jesus".

The subject, "A Recipe for a Successful Year", was divided into three main heads: "Faithfulness", which was discussed by Miss Kathleen Porter, "Earnestness", by Miss Mary Kate Lewis, and "Whole-heartedness" by Miss Mattie Fisher. Miss Margaret Bassett sang very impressively "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings".

Next Sunday Miss Akerstrom will lead the regular Y. W. C. A. meeting.

He writes: "I spent a Summer Session at the University of Chicago this summer and was greatly pleased to run across a number of Maryville boys and girls. They all said they wanted to come back for the grand celebration in 1919, if they could not get there sooner". Prof. Hunter is the one who has for some years provided the Oratorical Medal for the Alpha Sigma Literary Society.

Miss Nannie Broady, '06, is doing efficient work as County Superintendent of Schools for Blount County, Tennessee. Miss Broady has held this position for several years and by her energy and ability has accomplished much for the schools of the county.

John E. Tracy, '01, is located at Marquette, Mich., where he is a member of the law firm of Miller, Tracy and Eldridge.

Mark H. Barnes, '15 is in Purdue University this year. He is an assistant in Chemistry and carries some class work besides.

line. Centre penalized for holding, placing the ball on Centre's 3 yard line. With four downs Maryville failed to penetrate the Gold and White wall losing the ball on downs on Centre's 1 foot line. Centre punts 45 yards, Ensign returns 10 yards. Maryville tries forward pass—intercepted by Centre and gain of 25 yards. Half ends, ball in center of field. Score, 0-0.

Second Half

Centre kicks to Maryville, Feeman returns 10 yards. After trying end run and forward pass without success Feeman punts 40 yards. Centre returns five yards. Centre tries the line three successive bucks to no avail and kicks to Ensign 56 yards. Centre attempts forward pass, Sears intercepts and runs 10 yards. Maryville tries the line again with no gain, and end run only netted 3 yards so Feeman punts to the goal line of the Gold and White. Centre kicks from behind their goal line 43 yards, Ensign returns 8 yards. M. C. completes short pass. Sears to Stevens, 5 yards. Feeman off tackle for 4 yards Ensign through center for 6 yards and first down. The Centre forwards again tightened and held M. C. for downs. Feeman punts 33 yards, Flannery tackling receiver in his tracks. Centre made good gain on end run from punt formation. No gain through M. C.'s line. Centre preparing to kick when time was called for the quarter. Score 0-0.

Fourth Quarter

Maryville received the kick on the 60 yard line and Ensign returned 15 yards. The M. C. backs began to make consistent gains around the ends and over the line, carrying the ball to Centre's 20 yard line. Clemens, who had been on the side lines with a bad ankle, replaced Sears, at full, Sears having injured his hip.

Clemens and Feeman carried the ball 10 yards using the lateral pass. The same play being tried around the other end a moment later—but no gain. A forward pass failed—Clemen's bucks line 3 yards. In one final attempt to score a trick play was used, but the delay was too short and it failed. With the ball ten yards from the Centre line Clemens drops back 8 yards and tries a place kick which failed to go between the goals by about 6 feet.

The ball went over to Centre on their 25 yard line and was punted out of danger. The remainder of the quarter was spent in exchanging punts neither team being able to gain consistenly. The fourth quarter ended with the ball in Maryville's possession on their 45 yard line. Score 0-0.

AN EVENING OF FOLK-LORE

Some exceptionally interesting Literary programs have recently been enjoyed by the members of Theta Epsilon. One of the best was "An Evening of Folk Lore", presented Friday evening, October 20.

Miss Akerstrom gave a very interesting talk on the Origin of Folk Song. Miss Josephine Knapp sang an Irish Folk Song. Then a quaint Irish Folk tale was delightfully told by Miss Cola Turner. The next number was a pretty folk-dance by Misses Eleanor Crum and Mabel Rice. A Russian Folk-tale was told by Miss Genevieve Tetedoux; a German Folk-tale, by Miss Mamie Pleasants; and a Scotch Folk-tale, by Miss Minnie Hunter.

WHO WOULDN'T BE A FOOT BALL HERO?

"Oh! Tom", she said on greeting me,
In tones of great alarm,
"They said that in the game today
You'd broken your right arm."

I calmed her tender, groundless fears
With vehemence and haste,
And just to prove the arm was sound,
Slipped it gently 'round her waist.

So, nestling close beside me, she Smiled sweetly in my face:
"That's great" said she, "not broken,
Nor even out of place"

TUSCULUM NEXT TEAM IN LINE

Maryville Journeys to Greeneville Saturday to Meet Strong Eleven, Great Rivalry Between The Two Teams.

Saturday morning the Varsity squad will leave for Greeneville to meet Tusculum in what will probably be the hardest fought game of the year on Maryville's schedule. The game will be played at Tusculum three miles from Greeneville.

Tusculum has a habit of playing harder against Maryville than any other team; it is the great desire to once defeat Maryville. According to the Tusculum manager Tusculum is not as strong as they were last year. They have played two games losing to Tennessee at Knoxville 33 to 0., and being beaten later by the strong Emory and Henry team 35 to 0. Manager Dugger said his team is practicing hard and Coach Anderson expects Tusculum to win. A large crowd is expected at the game as the entire Tusculum student body is behind their team pulling for a victory.

According to dope the two teams are very evenly matched with M. C. offense just a shade the better but this will be offset by the fact that Tusculum will play on their home grounds.

In Doak, Fox and Register, Tusculum has three good men who will cause trouble for any team at any time. Tusculum will place their hopes of defeating Maryville principally in these three men.

The Tusculum team will outweigh Maryville considerably and has fast backs and ends.

Tusculum and vicinity is permeated with a feeling of an easy victory over Maryville, but the Maryville followers are still confident, that Maryville will win although they realize that Maryville will have to fight for every inch of the hundred yards.

Maryville and Tusculum have met twice before, Tusculum losing in 1914 by score of 7-6, and last year through continued breaks of the game going against Maryville, Tusculum was able to hold Maryville to a scoreless tie.

The Maryville team will be given hard practice this week getting their offense in shape and strengthening their defense against certain Tusculum plays which the Tusculum coach had expected to spring as a surprise on Maryville.

The Maryville line-up will not be given out officially until Friday, but it will probably be the same as that of Saturday with Reed still out on account of injuries.

A Maryville man who was up at Tusculum to look them over reported the team as fast and heavy, quick to get off with the ball and a number of good plays which they were intending to launch against Maryville.

He said the following would probably be the line-up Tusculum would use against Maryville:

M. Doak, left end; H. Watson or McCollum, left tackle; Register, left guard; Dugger or Sargent, center; Ramsey, right guard; A. Doak, right tackle; Campbell, right end; Frank Fox, left half; Piper, right half; Malmar or Watson, full back.

She: "Oh. I feel so blue; nobody loves me and my hands are cold."

Shy Guy: "Oh you shouldn't say that, God loves you and your mother loves you, and you can sit on your hands".

SPLENDID REPORT GIVEN SYNOD

The Synodical Examiners Here Two Weeks Ago Commend Work Being Done by Maryville College.

On October 10th and 11th your Committee, except the Rev. A. M. Penland detained at home visited Maryville College. The weather was ideal and we received the warmest welcome, every possible courtesy from the faculty and student body being given us. We took meals at the faculty table in Pearsons Hall, where over five hundred students and teachers are served three good, well-cooked meals a day. The system and sanitation of this dining department seemed to be perfect; it is so near the ideal, the committee found no grounds for any suggestion, other than that of highest commendation. The marvel is, how so many are fed so orderly and quickly, and how such satisfactory meals can be provided at the low price of $7.80 a school month. The rare genius of the institution is seen here.

Every advantage and facility were given us to look over the school and inspect the whole plant by Registrar Gillingham, Dean Barnes, and other members of the teaching force. The executive headquarters is a big and well-equipped office, from which the affairs of the whole College are directed by the best up-to-date administrative methods and with the assistance of thoroughly efficient helpers. The system used in keeping the complete record of the pupils is the best obtainable, and preserves full information of the daily standing of all students. In this connection, we observed the printed rules and regulations regarding demerits and unexcused absences of the pupils; also saw a copy of the regulations touching the attitude of students toward the buildings, furniture, the grounds, and the like, the daily program of activities, and the rules concerning daily conduct. These regulations, wisely drawn and tactfully enforced, safeguard property and decorum on the one hand, and make the largest results possible for all hopeful students on the other hand.

Classrooms in all departments were visited, and in each of these the order of conduct and the character of work done were of the highest type. The feeling of companionship apparent among teachers and students, emphasized by the spirit of the classroom, suggested to us that there is a happy fellowship between teacher and pupil. As in other departments, the interest and work in the Music and Expression Departments were gratifying. More room and larger quarters will soon be needed for these. The Department of Home Economics, one of the youngest, is skillfully managed and is doing splendid work, filling that long-neglected gap in educational development which all modern schools are seeking to supply in these days of better things. The systematic Bible study, provided for and emphasized in the curriculum, was enjoyed and heartily approved. The scope of Bible study for the year, as shown by the teacher's outline or syllabus, is carefully planned, and will give the pupil, if followed out studiously, a good working knowledge of the old Book.

Among the many advantages and splendid buildings of the campus attention is called to the Hospital building of thirteen wards, with its trained nurse and visiting physicians ready to receive any pupil and to give to him at a small cost all

WHEN HE MADE THE DATE.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES TONIGHT

Everything in Readiness For A Delightful Evening. All Classes, Seniors Excepted, Out For a Good Time.

October 31st, the same date on which Hallowe'en has made its appearance for many years, finds the hill on its toes—ready for the fun. Decoration, refreshment, entertainment and coupling committees have done their laborious duties and now await the arrival of the guest at the appointed places.

The Hallowe'en parties are always a source of much merriment and jollification.

SENIORS SPEND PLEASANT EVENING

Friday evening, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles French was the scene of one of the most delightful parties ever enjoyed by the class of '17.

The house was decorated in Hallowe'en style with pumpkins, black cats, and witches. A number of new games were introduced by different members of the class. During the evening a witch appeared who gave each guest a supreme test by binding his right hand to his side. Refreshments were then served in two courses, and all who were able to eat with their left hands, without being aided or unbound were said to pass this strenuous test. No one flunked. A number of selections of vocal and instrumental music were rendered during the evening.

Reluctantly the guests recognized the hour of departure and slowly gathered on the front porch where they said goodnight and thanks in the form of yells for host, guests and '17.

MINISTERS TO ENJOY BANQUET

The first annual banquet of the Ministerial Association, will be held in the Sanitary Dining Room, Thursday evening, Nov. 2nd., 1916. after the regular business meeting. Every member of the association is urgently requested to be present. The committee on arrangements has spared no time nor pains to make this an elaborate affair.

Good speakers and good eats, and a good time for all, is assured to those who attend. Remember the time, 7:30 p. m. Nov. 2nd., 1916, the place, Sanitary Dining Room.

KING COLLEGE DEFEATED BY MARYVILLE

The M. C .Team Shows Marked Improvement—Backs Work Smoothly. Line Easily Holds Opponents.

The Maryville foot-ball team put an end to King College championship aspirations Saturday when it defeated King 34-0 in the first home game of the season. When Maryville defeated King they placed themselves in the real East Tennessee championship race as now only Maryville and Emory and Henry remain undefeated. The Maryville eleven out-played and out-generaled the team from Bristol and the lack of weight and speed of King College made more certain their defeat.

The day was ideal, with a clear sky and plenty of sunshine. An average crowd witnessed the game.

Capt. Ensign starred for Maryville making two touchdowns in the first half and carrying the ball 50 yards for the longest run of the game.

King College was able only once to make first down twice in succession.

The detail of the game follows:

Stevens gained 8 yards and fumbled, Maryville recovering. Ensign then carried the ball 8 yards over left tackle for a touchdown. Greer kicks goal. Score M. C. 14. King 0.

Maryville kicked off 40 yards. King College fumbled but recovered. Vance gained 3 yards around right end. Newlands called back to full, gained 6 yards over left tackle. Newlands gained around left end 2 yards. First down King College ball. Wood loses five yards around left end, time being taken out when Woods was tackled by Feeman. Vance gained 2 yards over right guard. Vance no gain over center. Newlands punts 40 yards and Maryville makes no return.

Stevens and Ensign failed to gain and the quarter ended with ball in Maryville's possession. Third down 14 yards to go. Score M. C. 14. King College 0.

Third quarter, Maryville recovered at west goal, Newlands of King kicking 40 yards to Bryson who returned the ball 25 yards. Stevens gained 2 yards over right tackle. Ensign gained 18 yards around left end. Bryson gained 9 yards over center. Clemens carried ball on next play, King offside penalized 5 yards. The Maryville backs then confused the signals and failed to gain. Maryville worked a forward pass. Clemens to Feeman. Ensign gained 6 yards on a cross buck over left tackle. Time out for Ensign who was injured when tackled. Stevens then carried ball on shift play around right end for 15 yards for a touchdown. After two and one half minutes of play, Clemens then kicked out from goal line to Ensign and Greer kicked goal.

Score, M. C. 21. K. C. 0.

Sears replaced Ensign at half. Capt. Ensign was given a rousing cheer as he left the game.

MARYVILLE AHEAD

At the East Tennessee Educational Association meeting in Knoxville last week the president of the University of Tennessee, Dr. Brown Ayers, commended Maryville College very highly.

Dr. Ayers stated that Maryville College sent more of its alumni to graduate universities than any other school in Tennessee.

This is a feat that many knew Maryville College to be capable of doing, yet few realized that she had done it until Dr. Ayres spoke last Saturday.

The fact that we are ahead of the other colleges is convincing enough, yet it will require much effort and push to stay on top. It is no small honor, but an honor which befalls only the institution whose graduates are competent and thoroughly prepared.

We sigh for things that mother cooked,
And yet there is no doubt,
They must have been the very ones
That father kicked about.

EAST TENNESSEE EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Attended by members of the faculty and many alumni of Maryville College the E. T. E. A. convened last Thursday night in Knoxville. It adjourned Saturday afternoon.

Dean Barnes spoke on "Should Colleges Drop Their Preparatory Departments."

Prof. H. L. Ellis spoke on "The Economics of Time and Material in Teaching High School Mathematics."

Dean Barnes was honored with the chairmanship of the college department of the association.

A. P. CALHOUN MARRIED

Mr. A. P. Calhoun, professor of Social Science and Economics in Maryville College, 1914-16, was given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy last June at Clarke University. Shortly after he had received his degree he was appointed to the faculty of Clarke. Last August he married a lady from Hopkinton, Iowa.

"The American Family", is the title of a book which Doctor Calhoun just completed. It is now in the hands of the publishers.

It is with much pleasure that the many friends of Dr. Calhoun learn of his success since leaving Maryville.

DR. WILSON HERE FRIDAY MORNING

The students and faculty have been looking forward to Doctor Wilson's public appearance with much enthusiasm. The Doctor's appearance at chapel will be the scene of the heartiest reception accorded a visitor in many years. Dr. Wilson expects to leave for New York next week to begin active campaigning for the $325,000 Centennial Fund. In all probability he will not return until the Revival meetings in February.

MEDAL FOR BEST ORATOR

It was formerly the custom of the Junior Athenians to hold each year an oratorical contest, the winner of which was given a medal. At a meeting some time ago this matter was taken up and it was decided to resume the contests. Prof. Brittain, who was present, generously offered to start a subscription to purchase the medal, or to pay for it all if necessary. A committee was formed to see to the purchase of the medal which will be on exhibition in the near future. The contest is open to all members of the Junior section of the Athenian Literary Society.

SECOND EPISODE NEXT THURSDAY MORNING

Prof. H. J. Bassett will give the second installment of his lecture "A Nation at War". It will treat the civilian's side this time. Everybody is interested and looks forward to this—the second episode.

SPLENDID REPORT GIVEN TO SYNOD

needed medical aid. Then, the facilities for recreation, under proper regulations, give the best advantages for indoor and outdoor exercise. The new concrete swimming pool, full and ready, is the latest addition to this equipment.

Every department of this college life seems to be carefully managed, and appears to be in good working order. The enrollment reached the high mark of 805 last year, representing 32 states and countries. Present indications point to an increased attendance this year. Students are coming in almost each day.

The buildings, rooms, grounds, streets, and all appliances are in good condition, making it a beautiful as well as a desirable school to which to send our children. The ruins of the Carnegie Hall, caused by the burning of that building last April, are being rapidly replaced by a magnificient structure, excelling the old in every appointment, and will, when completed, be the palace of the campus.

But it is that splendid student body, directed by a teaching force, including the assistants, of approximately 60 in number, all working for the realization of those attainments which can only be achieved by Christian education, which makes the supreme asset of the Maryville College. The deepest impressions were made on your Committee, when, with members of the faculty, we joined with over 300 students in their voluntary Tuesday evening prayer service; and, then, at the morning worship, when all pupils and teachers were assembled in Voorhees Chapel for song, prayer, and study of God's Holy word. These services were inspirational to us, and must be daily sources of great power and Christian ministry to those who worship there statedly.

We congratulate the Synod and the whole church on the work this school is doing, and hereby acknowledge our debt to those who have made, and to these who are now making, this institution what it is to our great church and Christian education. It is worthy, and deserves all that has been put into it, or that we may have a chance to put into it in the future.

Oscar E. Gardner, Chairman.

GHOST STORIES GALORE

Bainonian met Friday evening for a very unique and interesting Hallowe'en entertainment. A ghostly torch furnished a weird light for the hall. Miss Smith told some extremely thrilling ghost stories. Several of them were true, in which she and the ghost were principal characters. Madame Dennee, in her charming way, gave her experience with a ghost in Russia.

NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS IS THE ISSUE OF THE DAY
PERSONAL PREPAREDNESS IS THE VITAL QUESTION WITH YOU

A great many young people are making the mistake of leaving the schools and going to work during the present great period of ease in securing employment without the Education and Training needed to take advantage of future chances for advancement and promotion.

Are You Going To Make That Mistake?

You have heard the same story—over and over again—from men and women who have done this thing. Unsuccessful people realize when it is too late that it has been the great mistake of their lives. Realization of their error will bring many of the young folks of today back to school a few years hence—but the intervening years of labor in minor business positions will have been just so many years of their lives wasted. They will be started at the bottom in business life again—at a time when they might have been well on the way to the top, had they been prepared in the beginning to take advantage of their opportunities for advancement.

Why Wont You Profit By The Experiences of Others?

A course of study at the Knoxville Business College is exactly the preparation you need. Get your Business Training first—and then enter business life qualified to take advantage of your opportunities as they may arise. You can't hope to get very far in business until you have a Business Education.
Send for illustrated catalog giving full information about the different courses of study. Then come in and see the proof that our students are getting ahead in the business office.

GOV. TOM C. RYE MAKES ADDRESS

Rye Says He Will Send Capitol To Maryville if Necessary. Addresses Student Body in Chapel.

Hon. Tom C. Rye, governor of Tennessee, in an address to the student body in Voorhees Chapel, last Thursday morning, was so impressed with the enthusiastic demonstration accorded him, that he stated, should the necessity arise, he would not only offer the use of army tents, as he did after the Carnegie fire, but would also be willing to send the Capitol here. This statement brought the house down.

The Governor spoke to the students under the auspices of the Woodrow Wilson Club, and was introduced, in a brief speech, by the President, W. W. Haggard. Mr. Haggard, in the course of his remarks, told the distinguished visitor that the students were not unmindful of the fact that he showed deep interest in the College after the fire last April.

The Governor spoke of the many leaders in education which Maryville College has produced, notably the State Superintendent of Education, S. W. Sherrill. Gov. Rye also answered some of the objections raised against his administration by his competitor, and expressed confidence in a Democratic victory on Election Day. The Governor's remarks were frequently interrupted by applause and cheers.

BLACKBOARD TALK BY MISS AKERSTROM

An especially helpful and interesting program was rendered at the devotional meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday, Oct. 29.

After a vocal duet by Misses Pardue and Gibson, Miss Emma Miles played a piano solo; while the leader, Miss Akerstrom, with colored crayons, drew a picture illustrating the pathway of life.

After the picture was finished she gave an excellent talk on, "Choose Ye this day whom ye will serve" closing with a poem.

Tonight, the dormitories will remind one of the summer hotel in January, or the North Pole any time—Nobody around.

FOR A BIGGER AND BETTER MARYVILLE

Vol. 2 No. 6 | Maryville, Tennessee, Tuesday, November 7, 1916 | Five Cents

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME HERE FRIDAY

Emory and Henry Meets Maryville for the Championship of East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia.

For the third time in succession the foot ball championship of East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia will be settled in Maryville. Although twice previously the championship game has been played in Maryville the Maryville team has failed to win either time. They have lost once, tied once and this year they are to win. This year's contest will be between Maryville and Emory and Henry and the game will be played Friday afternoon starting promptly at 2:30 p. m. In 1914 Maryville and Carson and Newman met at Maryville in a championship game. Maryville losing by score of 3-0 Last Year. Tusculum and Maryville met and played to a scoreless tie in what was to be the deciding game.

FEEMAN

The game Friday will be attended by probably the largest crowd ever at a game in Maryville. Last year in spite of a hard storm more than 50 cars came over from Knoxville carrying Knoxville fans to the Maryville-Tusculum game, and if fair weather prevails many more are expected over to Maryville-Emory and Henry game.

Maryville and Emory and Henry have met once before, that being last year when Maryville defeated the Lemon and Blue warriors at Emory, Va., by the score of 20-0. Emory and Henry has this year the strongest team in the history of their school and this will be one of the strongest teams that has visited Maryville in several years as some critics are rating Emory and Henry as good or better than the University of Tennessee. The Emory and Henry team will average about 155 pounds, and is reported as the speediest in Virginia. The team is made up of experienced men and Captain Jackson at quarter back is said to be one of the best in the entire South. He handles the team well, is almost perfect on defense and can hardly be downed in a broken field. One of the Virginia papers in speaking of Tilson, the Lemon and Blue full back says he is one of the best line plungers ever on a college football team.

The Maryville team will enter the game in good shape with the exception of Ford who will be out this week on account of injuries received in the Tusculum game. Reed after three weeks absence was able to join the squad again Monday and will probably be seen in Friday's lineup. The Orange and Garnet team is confident of winning and thus bringing the undisputed championship to Maryville. The team showed new life Saturday and played a remarkably good offensive and defensive game. The interference and the team work was especially brilliant and this caused the Tusculum men who have seen both teams in action to predict a Maryville victory.

PROLONGED APPLAUSE GREETS DR. WILSON

Students Show Their Love for President Upon His Initial Appearance at Chapel.

Friday morning. The atmosphere seems to be charged with electricity. An air of expectation pervades the hill. What's up? "Dr. Wilson will be in Chapel this morning!" Ah, that explains it all.

In Chapel. A venerable, white-haired man on the platform. Doors shut. Tremendous applause. The venerable man stands up and acknowledges this unanimous token of esteem and respect.

"The best College President in the country", is Dr. Barnes' introduction. The students applaud; show their approval. Samuel Tyndale Wilson, President of Maryville College, arises to speak. Again the students applaud.

The Doctor tells of his great desire and longing to be in school, but how he is forced to play "hookey". He speaks of the two great losses that the College has had,—Carnegie Hall, replaced by a better one, and Miss Margaret Henry, whose services cannot be replaced. He eulogizes Miss Henry, her loyalty and devotion to Maryville, her splendid character, and her ability as a public speaker, inheriting the latter from her ancestor, Patrick Henry. He analyses the Maryville Spirit, saying it has four distinct qualities, Democracy, Thoro Scholarship, Manly Religion, Unselfish Service. Speaks of the future of Maryville College. Full of hope in regard to the $325,000 Forward Fund. Requests the prayers of all the students, as he enters on the campaign for the Fund.

Prolonged applause. Cheers for Dr. Wilson, Centennial, How-we-How.

PASTOR OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH KNOXVILLE, TENN.

The Rev. Wm. Thompson of the First Presbyterian Church, Knoxville will lead a joint devotional meeting in the chapel on Sunday, Nov. 12.

Mr. Thompson led one of the Y. M. meetings last year, and his speech was of the type that would inspire manliness in the worst specimen on the Hill. He is a strong believer in Y. M. and Y. W. work, and he has promised to bring a powerful message.

AN ECHO FROM FROM BLUE RIDGE

With above statement for a topic the leader, Miss Garrison, arranged and carried out a very interesting program for Y. W. C. A. on Nov. 5th. Other young ladies who attended the Y. W. C. A. Conference last Spring assisting. Miss Agnes Delvin spoke on "Scenery", Miss Fisher on "Recreation", Miss Hickey on "Mission Study", Miss Wright on "Bible Study" and Miss Garrison on "Lectures".

Misses Russell and Mitchell told of a little six year old girl living near the Conference grounds, and like hundreds of other little mountain girls her needs are many. The Maryville College Y. W. C. A. has decided to take this little Elizabeth Sneed as its protege so that they may have a real live interest in Blue Ridge.

A special choir sang several songs that were favorites at the Conference last Spring.

BIG DEMONSTRATION FOR HOLIDAY

Yesterday morning the entire student body arose with mighty acclaim and requested the powers that be grant a holiday out of respect to the presidential election.

It was to no avail, the Dean in his official capacity explained the difference between a need and a desire.

The Dean proceeded to make a very good talk on the many steps taken in electing the most powerful executive in the world.

Everyone enjoyed the speech, and had the holiday been given the Dean would have been raised to the highest pedestal of student hero worship.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR DEBATING TEAMS

Interest Growing With Preparation For Preliminaries. Much Good Material on The Hill.

Although it seems quite early in the year to begin planning for inter-preparatory and intercollegiate debates, nevertheless, preparations are already being made for the contests that are to take place in March. Even now the men of the preparatory department are "getting set" for the struggle with Berea Preparatory Department while the aspirants for places on the college teams are predicting what they will do to their opponents.

The debates with Berea last year, which resulted in two victories for Maryville, have arroused so much enthusiasm among the preps that twenty-two men are this year competing for places on the two teams. Three members of last year's teams are back and are working to make the teams again this year. Among the others who are trying out are men who have also had considerable debating experience, so that the prospects for a successful year are assured.

The question for debate with Berea this year is "Resolved, That the United States should further restrict immigration by means of a literacy test". This question is not only one of exceeding interest but one of special importance at the present time. The fact that Congress has twice passed laws providing for a literacy test to restrict immigration, only to be vetoed by President Taft and Wilson, adds interest to the question. The debate will, in all probability, take place during the first or second week in March. The preliminaries for the choice of men to represent the preparatory department will be held during the first week in December.

Nothing definite can be said in this week's issue in regard to intercollegiate debate, except that there is a great abundance of "debating material" on the hill this year. With eight of the men of last year's teams back and with many more men who have had considerable practice in debating there can be no doubt about Maryville's having winning teams. The best indications of a great year in debate is the enthusiasm and earnestness being shown by the men who are interested in this line of work.

At the present time an effort is being made to arrange for a triangular debate with Emory and Henry College and the University of Tennessee. If such a league can be formed there is every assurance that the teams of Maryville as well as the whole student body will unite their efforts in bringing honor to their Alma Mater. Just now the prospects for the formation of such a league look quite favorable. As soon as this matter is definitely settled arrangements will be made for the preliminaries for the choosing of men to represent the college.

Everything seems to be pointing toward one of the most successful years Maryville has ever had in forensic work. With the interest growing, as it is at present, debating is certain to come into its rightful place on the hill.

NEXT WEEK

Beginning next week a Calendar will be published in these columns. It will contain the program of the week's events, time and place. The Dean requests all student organizations to cooperate with the Echo in this new feature thereby relieving the morning chapel hour of the usual long list of announcements.

MARYVILLE DEFEATS TUSCULUM 20-0

Greeneville, Tenn., Nov. 4, 1916.

The Maryville College foot ball team defeated Tusculum here today by the score of 20-0, but this score does not indicate the real superiority of the Maryville team as Maryville advanced the ball 560 yards while Tusculum advanced it less than 80 yards.

In the punting the distance was about equal but the advantage was with Bryson as the Maryville backs returned the ball on the Tusculum punts from 10 to 30 yards. The Maryville team worked as an almost perfect unit and especially was the work of Bryson, Clemens, Feeman and Ensign commendable.

Tusculum failing to gain over Briggs on two attempts and a forward pass. Punted to Clemens who returned 10 yards. Stevens gained 2 yards, Bryson 5, Clemens 1 and the ball went over.

Tusculum's shift play failed and on the next three plays Fox gained 2 yards. Fox's nose was broken but he continued in the game. Maryville lost 5 yards on a fumble and Bryson punted 55 yards. BE OUT

The attendance at the King College game was good, but not what it should have been. The cheering sounded well, yet it should have had more volume. Did you do your share?

The foot-ball squad works hard every afternoon. The men train to the limit for each game. Coach Kiefer has drilled, lectured, and pushed until the boys are in good shape. The squad and the Coach have done their part, now it's up to the good students of Maryville College to get out and do their part.

Friday afternoon the championship of East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia is at stake. The Emory and Henry team will come down from Bristol to take home the game and the championship.

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET ENJOYED

The first annual banquet of the Ministerial Association was held in the Sanitary Dining Hall, on Thursday evening, Nov. 2nd., 1916.

The room was prettily decorated with the motto and the slogan of the association hung in a conspicuous place. The tables were also adorned with some beautiful bouquets of chrysanthemums. Then the banquet itself—What eats they were!

The speeches, too, were not of the kind to be overlooked. Prof. Gillingham, the toastmaster, ably performed his important part of the program and his introduction of the different speakers will long be remembered by all.

The address of the guest of honor, Rev. Dr. Hoyt, was a feature of the evening. His impressive remarks will remain fixed upon the walls of our memories for years to come.

The association also enjoyed the witty and splendid addresses of the other speakers.

The evening closed with the benediction by Dr. Hoyt. Each one heartily enjoyed himself and pronounced the affair "one great, grand, glorious time".

THEY MADE CAMPAIGN SPEECHES

In the interest of the Republican National ticket the following speakers from the Hughes Club made extensive campaign tours before election;—Horace Dawson, Robert Adams, Deck Williams and Edward Campbell. Campaign speeches were made at Wildwood, Louisville, Walland, Miser's Station and Friendsville, while Monday before election short speeches were made in nearly all the districts and voting precincts in Blount County.

PERSONALS

Now that the election is over, where is the man who says "I told you so?"

Mrs. Calderwood of Alcoa visited her daughter last week.

Mr. Charles R. Stanberry, a student of the college in 1914-15 is a chemist in the Nitric Acid Laboratory of one of the powder plants in City Point, Va.

"Tommy Atkins" Loft, a typical "Fresh" who thinks it a novelty to sojourn in the hospital, spent a few days under the care of Miss Postlethwaite last week.

Do your Christmas shopping—incidentally your "cramming" early, —only 47 days until Christmas.

Mrs. J. E. Calloway was the guest of Miss Alice Wright Friday night.

Messrs. Bryson and McClenaghan spent the week-end with Mr. Henry Sentelle at his home near Greeneville, Tenn.

Miss Jean Porter, a former student and member of the class of '17, is in her senior year at Oberlin College, Ohio.

Yes—some mighty pretty girls at Tusculum—according to our authority on the fair sex, Mr. "Red" Hayes.

Miss Elizabeth Jackson's mother visited her last week.

Messrs. Frater and Sears remained over Sunday in Greeneville, Tenn. Extension work—of some kind.

Don't forget to make your date for Friday, fellows—A big day. Football game and Lyceum.

A feast was held in room No.—? Pearsons last Friday night for the benefit of the "Happy Fats". It's good they are "Happy!"

The young ladies of '17 were delightfully entertained at a "feed" last Friday night. Miss Franke Sheddan entertained in honor of her sister, Miss Hazel Sheddan of Stetson University. Miss Sheddan was formerly a Maryville student.

Who chaperoned the faculty on their trip to the mountains?

Miss Arda Martin, accompanied by several Normal girls, came down from Johnson City to witness the Maryville-Tusculum scrap.

The Class Parties were a roaring success.—Most everybody looked the part at breakfast next morning.

Mrs. E. R. Walker has returned to her home after being confined for three weeks in a Knoxville Hospital. She is rapidly convalescing.

Prof. Perkins spent the week-end with Tracy Knapp in Knoxville.

The Glee Clubs are having practices every week—suppose we will have them in action in the near future.

Miss Coulter, of boarding club fame, has recovered from an illness which confined her to her room for several days last week.

Be at the game Friday afternoon —the Lyceum at night.

E. C. THURMOND LED "Y" ON SUNDAY

The subject was "Watch" and it was a 23 jewel, solid gold, 50 year guaranteed watch at that. The meetings of Sunday afternoon are the real power plant of the Y. M. C. A. To become more powerful more men are needed to come out and sit in the game. When the "Every Member Canvass" comes off the Y. M. expects to have the auditorium crowded to the doors. Get in line now, so that you will be used to the crowd. Come early and avoid the rush.

ALUMNI NOTES

The class of 1916 is publishing a quarterly class bulletin to enable the members to keep in touch with each other. The first issue appeared last month. It contains brief summaries of the summer doings of many members of the class and information as to their present location and occupation. The Alumni Editor is indebted to the class secretary, Miss Aletha May, for a copy of this Bulletin. A number of the items below are gleaned from it and more will appear in later numbers of the Echo.

We noted last week that G. M. Adams, '16, is teaching at New Market. During the summer he travelled in Michigan and Wisconsin as advance agent for the Redpath Chautaqua.

A. B. Caldwell, '16, spent the summer working at Alcoa. He is teaching this year in the high school at Chassel, Michigan.

Miss Florence Moore, '08, is teaching Expression at Ensley, Alabama.

J. C. McTeer, '07, who was engaged in educational work in Loudon County, Tennessee, after leaving college, first as a teacher and later as a County Superintendent, abandoned the teaching profession some time ago, and is now dealing in school supplies. He is located in Knoxville.

Mrs. Jonnie McCulley Taylor, '15, of Ducktown, visited with relatives in Maryville the first of last week.

H. R. Easterley, '08, is teaching in the High School at Greeneville, Tennessee.

Rolfe Rankin, '16, has a position in Mt. Pleasant, Utah, where he is teaching Mathematics and Science in Wasach Academy.

Prof. D. J. Brittain, '10, who has already served one term in the State legislature was reelected yesterday, as is noted elsewhere in this issue. Prof. Brittain has shown himself a faithful and painstaking public servant, and we congratulate him on his reelection.

Alfred Biggs, '15, is holding a position as head of the Academic Department of a boys' Agricultural School in Lakeville, Conn.

BLUE RIDGE CLUB

The girls who have been to the Y. W. C. A. Conferences at Blue Ridge met on Wednesday November 1, and organized a "Blue Ridge Club" with the following officers.

Mattie Fisher, President; Annie Pleasants, Secretary and Treasurer; Nelle J. Garrison, Editor.

The purpose of this club is to perpetuate the spirit of the conferences in the devotional meetings and to work for a larger delegation from the local association to Blue Ridge next year.

BASKET BALL PRACTICE GETS UNDER WAY

The first call for basket ball candidates was issued last week and more than thirty men responded the first day. Most of the men were seen for the first time on a Maryville court and little is known of their ability but from last year's varsity the following have reported, Capt. Garrison, Crum, Feeman and Clemens, also a large number of the 1915-16 reserves.

Manager Crum is arranging a good schedule which will include at least two long trips and an unusually large number of home games. The schedule will include Maryville's old rivals and several teams which Maryville has not played before.

ENJOYED TRIP TO ELKMONT SATURDAY

Last Saturday was an ideal day for a mountain trip. A crowd of Faculty people and a few friends took advantage of it and made an excursion to Elkmont. Provisions were taken from Pearsons and these were supplemented by the purchase of three dozen eggs, nine of which were afterwards exchanged at the store in Elkmont for twenty cents worth of stick candy. On the way back at Townsend the party had time to go through the saw-mill, which has recently resumed operations, and for a little boating on the river. Prof. Johnson acted as Business Manager and when he discovered that all assessments had been paid in full and that assets and liabilities balanced exactly he rapturously ejaculated, "We have come to the end of a perfect day! !" The others echoed the sentiment. Those composing the party were: Misses Green, Hale, Buxton, Postlethwaite, Rankin, Dawson, Foster and Bassett and Professors Davis, Johnson and Bassett.

OLD HOME SINGERS IN THE COSTUMES OF LONG AGO.

The Old Home Singers, who are to fill a big Lyceum season this year, make a specialty in their programs of carrying their audiences back to childhood scenes and recollections.

Of the five young artists who comprise this company each is a soloist of pleasing quality, capable of singing the heart songs. They form a mixed quartet, capable of superb ensemble work, as is evidenced by their artistic rendering of the quartet from "Rigoletto". That they meet the requirements of the program perfectly is shown in the many reports already received from committees.

At the opening of the program the five young people have just returned from a musical where a song composed by one of the young men has proved to be the hit of the season.

Following the congratulations a discussion starts regarding the music of today. By way of illustration they sing selections from grand opera, oratorio folks songs, heart melodies and fascinating songs of former days.

The Old Home Singers open the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum Course here Friday evening, Nov. 10, at 8:00 p. m. It promises to be one of the most pleasing numbers of the season, and no doubt a large audience will greet them.

The Doctor came to Maryville yesterday to cast his ballot for the presidential candidate. He is waiting for the first proof of his book, "A Century of Maryville College" to be returned for his corrections.

Semi-monthly reports of the Doctor's work while in the East will appear in the Echo.

The next appearance of our honored president will be at the February meetings, in which he takes an active part.

GEORGE HODGES WILL CAPTAIN 1917 BASE-BALL TEAM

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Board of Control, George Hodges was elected captain of the Varsity baseball team for 1917. The election by the Athletic Board was made necessary on account of the fact that the team failed to elect a captain in the time limit set last spring. "Big Boy" as Hodges is known to the entire student body is a member of the Senior Class and one of the most popular fellows on the "hill". He has played two years with the Varsity and his work is weil known by all Maryville followers.

MISSISSIPPI PLAYS HERE MONDAY

Big Game To Be Played On Maryville Gridiron Monday Afternoon. Team In Good Shape.

Monday, Nov. 20, football fans of this section will have an opoprtunity to see one of the best teams in the South in action at Maryville, as Mississippi A. & M. will visit Maryville for the first time on that date. The Mississipians play Kentucky State at Lexington, Nov. 18 and stop over Monday on their return trip to play Maryville.

Mississippi has a fast and heavy team and is considered one of the best in the South. They have lost only two games this year, both by close scores. They lost to the powerful Auburn team 7-3 and to Louisiana State which is considered the best in the Southwest 13-3. In Schwill, Mississippi has one of the best drop kickers in the South as twice he has saved his team from a shut-out by a drop kick from the 45 yard line. Spurlock the Mississippi center is well known for his brilliant and aggressive work to all Southern football fans.

Little can be doped out on the two teams from comparative scores as only one way is possible that being by the Sewanee-Chattanooga and the Mississippi-Chattanooga game. Sewanee defeated Chattanooga 54-0. And A. & M. defeated Chattanooga 33-0, giving Sewanee about 20 points over A. & M. Sewanee defeated M. C. 66-6 thus giving Mississippi about 40 points over Maryville. Yet Maryville was playing on the Sewanee Mountain for the first time and against Mississippi they will be at home. And it must be taken into consideration that Mississippi plays Kentucky State only two days before the Maryville game and this with the long trip will tend to cut down the score considerably so Maryville should hold Mississippi to a very low score, while Maryville's backs and forward passes to Feeman will no doubt score a touchdown for Maryville.

The Maryville team will enter the game in fine shape, this week will give them time to get the injured men in better condition. Clemens will probably be able to start the game and his forward passing to Feeman will no doubt be a feature. While Coach Kiefer has in Capt. Ensign, Bryson, Sears, Clemens, McNutt, Stevens and Hayes seven good backs on whom he can depend at all times. Reed will probably be able to enter the line for awhile and with Ford in better shape the team will present its best game of the year.

The game will be attended by what is probably the largest crowd in the history of Maryville football, as the Mississippi team has a great reputation throughout the South and this is its first game in this section.

Maryville is speedily becoming a city—just see by it's movies—Dreamland, Palace and Gem.

KALTENBORN QUARTET AND ELSIE BAKER

The Kaltenborn Quartet, New York's leading chamber music organization, appears in Voorhees Chapel Wednesday night, at 8:00 p. m. With this organization, Miss Elsie Baker, contralto, widely known concert oratorio and recital artist, will appear as vocal soloist.

Miss Baker is widely known thruout America, not only for her concert work, but for the large number of her records made for The Victor Talking Machine Company. As a prominent member of the Oratorio Artists, Miss Baker has also traveled under Redpath management.

Miss Blanch Barrot will appear as pianist and accompanist. Miss Barbot was also for some time pianist with the Oratorio Artists.

The personal of The Kaltenborn String Quartet is Franz Kaltenborn First Violin; Max Barr, Viola; Herman Kuhn, Second Violin; Max Droge, Violoncello.

The repertoire of the Kaltenborn Quartet includes the best works of all the composers of Classical and modern chamber music, and the programs include quartets, quintets, trios, sonatas, violin and 'cello solos.

The quartet has concertized at the leading colleges, clubs and musical societies, churches and private musicales throughout the country, and prominent artists have appeared in conjunction with the Kaltenborn Quartet.

THE REV. W. T. THOMPSON, Jr. LEADS JOINT MEETING

On Sunday, Rev. W. T. Thompson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Knoxville, led the joint devotional meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. in the college chapel. A body of four hundred students and town people were present to hear him. The service was directed by President Ferntheil of the Y. M. C. A.

Owing to the condition of the roads, Mr. Thompson was unable to arrive at half past two, but put in his appearance in good time. As his subject, Mr. Thompson took the text, "And I sought for a man among them."—Ezek. 22-30. The topic was presented under two general heads, the first that man was made to work; and second, that God wants unselfish men. Mr. Thompson is a powerful and impressive speaker, and the words he uttered were full of meaning to college men and women. The demand of today for men and women who are strong, who are consecrated to the service of Jesus Christ, was put forth in such a way that all who heard him realized that their education was but a means of learning how to help the other fellow.

The Associations wish to thank Mr. Thompson for his splendid talk. Such meetings are the source of much good. May there be more of them.

BAINONIAN REMINISCENSES

Bainonian is to be specially honored next Friday evening by having present Mrs. Hood, one of its charter members. She will tell of its organization, early Bainonian experiences, and of the growth of the organization since that time. This promises to be a very interesting talk, and all members are urged to hear Mrs. Hood.

ALUMNI GAME MAY BE ARRANGED

Former Maryville Men Will Probably Return to Hill to Oppose Varsity on Thanksgiving Day.

Maryville having no definitely arranged game for Thanksgiving day an effort is being made by Alumni to schedule a game with the varsity for former Maryville players on that day. Great interest has been shown locally in the game and it is hoped that enough Maryville men may be brought together so that the game may be arranged. It would prove a great drawing card as Maryville has never played at home on Thanksgiving day.

The following men have already been mentioned as being located so they could return to the Hill for a few days: A. C. Samsel, Eugene and Alf Jackson; Lon Badgett, Ben, Ed. and Newton McCall, L. MARYVILLE WINS EAST TENNESSEE AND SOUTHWEST VIRGINIA CHAMPIONSHIP

Ensign and McNutt Play Great Game. A Decisive Victory For The Orange and Garnet.

The Maryville College football team annexed the football championship of East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia Friday when they defeated Emory and Henry in a rough and bitter contest. Emory and Henry entered the game a favorite by comparative score but their defense was helpless against the attacks of McNutt, Ensign and Bryson, and after Clemens entered the game they were unable to halt the forward passes Clemens to Feeman.

Maryville was penalized a total of 105 yards, 65 of which came in the final quarter.

Maryville won the toss and chose to receive at the West goal. Emory and Henry kicked 35 yards to Bryson who returned 8. Sears and Bryson on two plays added 8 yards. NEW CARNEGIE NEARS COMPLETION

Work Started on New Structure June 20th, 1916. To Be Finished Dec. 20th. Good Weather Aids The Contractors.

New Carnegie Hall, the mangnificent dormitory that has replaced the building burned in the memoriable fire of last April is nearing completion.

Work is being pushed rapidly on the interior finishing work.

The floors are nearly all down, the windows are in the sashes and the wagons are clearing away the rubbish that has accumulated during the construction.

The contractor is positive he will be able to turn the building over to the college on Dec. 20th.

Many improvements can be noted, the wide hall-ways, better located baths, the stair ways well lighted, bigger and more appropriate entrances, fire protection on each floor and many more but space will not allow the discussion of them.

New Carnegie seems to be a much better appointed building than the old. The added floor gives a number of additional rooms, and the utilization of the basements for dormitory purposes has aided in increasing the capacity.

Room deposits can be made now.

The building will be opened,—furnished complete throughout, Jan. 1, 1917. The dedication will be in the spring term in all probability.

DR. WILSON DEPARTED FOR NEW YORK

Monday morning, Dr. S. T. Wilson departed for New York City where he will spend the largest part of the winter working on the "Forward Fund". Not many of the students knew the time or place from which the Doctor started, hence few were present to bid him God speed.

The young ladies of Baldwin and Pearson Halls gave Dr. Wilson a receipt for one hundred dollars for the forward fund. This sum was raised by individual subscriptions and the smile which came over the Doctor's face expressed the pleasure it gave him to know that the young ladies were back of him and his efforts.

EDITORIALS

A splendid article on "Unselfish Service" was contributed to the Echo this week but space would not permit its use. However we hope that it can be printed in the near future.

All articles submitted to the Echo must be signed in full.

--:--:--

Last week a suggestion was made in this column that something be done to improve the fountain which stands in such a prominent place on our campus.

Several members of the class of 1916,—the class which left the fountain to the college, have communicated with the Echo in regard to its condition, and means of improving the same.

It has come to light that '16 gave this beautiful fountain, for it would be beautiful were it taken care of, to Maryville College with the understanding that the college would take care of it—keeping it in good condition.

As it is now two of the marble caps are missing, the water does not run,—the drain seems to be clogged the lights don't light, white paint has long since failed to resemble its original color.

If Maryville College wishes to encourage the custom which has long been established, namely class memorials, it should by all means keep in repair and in working order the emblems (or gifts) bestowed by the graduating class.

The class of 1916 has come forward, very generously, and offered to put the fountain in good condition at its own expense, rather than continue to see and hear of its present condition.

Let us hope though, that the college will attend to this seemingly trivial matter and make the fountain a real feature of the campus instead of its black eye.

WHERE DO THEY GO?

There is a situation on the "Hill" for which the Faculty have not been able to find a solution. What do the students say should be done? In a certain Political Science Class there were references given to a book of which there were five copies in the Library. The day after the references were given everyone of these books disappeared and not one was charged at the librarian's desk. A week later two volumes were returned but the other three have never been seen. This is only an example of an every day occurance. Is it any wonder that we do not have any better library?

The students say they want student government. Why not take this matter up and show the authorities that we can be depended upon to handle little matters and then they will give us a chance at bigger things.

PERSONL AND KRITICAL KOLM

No! It's meant to be that way.

In Logic Class:

Prof. Davis to Jordan: Mr. Jordan give us an example of a fallacy.

Jordan:—"No cat has two tails. One cat has one tail more than no cat. Therefore one cat has three tails."

Prof.—"How can that be disproved?"

Jordan—"Haul up a cat!"

Miss Cora Burns has returned to her home in Flemington, N. J.

Big Game Next Monday,—Talk It Up!

Quite a crowd of Maryville sports were at the Vandy-U. T. game Saturday.

Miss Jackson's niece Norma is visiting on the hill for a couple of weeks.

Mr. Lynn Toney, '15 and brother Frank were in Knoxville Saturday to witness the U. T.-Vandy game.

Miss McCampbell spent the week-end at her home in Fountain City.

A young lady came to Maryville last week, ostensibly to secure a husband. She only stayed a short time—departing singly. Wonder if she saw "Kiech Coafer".

Needed by Sears a couple teeth—extra large, no questions asked.

AN EVENING WITH MYTHOLOGY

Thursday evening Prof. H. J. Bassett entertained most delightfully at his home on the campus the members of his class in Latin Mythology and a few invited guests. The early part of the evening was spent reviewing pictures and curios connected with Latin Mythology which the professor had collected on his trips to Italy. The remainder of the evening was spent in contests and games, followed with delightful refreshments. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, Prof. Bassett, Misses Runyan, Wilson, Dixon, Mosby, Brockelhurst, and Bassett and Messrs. Williams, Watkins, Brewer and Martin.

STUDENTS SHOW "YE OLD PEP"

Celebrate Football Victory With "Shirt-Tail Parade" And Huge Bonfire.

Not since last year's famous 13-0 victory over Chattanooga, when the old hill resounded with the yells and cheering of the frenzied followers of the victorious Highlanders, was there such an exhibition of enthusiasm as was shown by the students last Friday night.

The occasion, of course, was the celebration of the 27-0 victory over the numbered warriors from Virginia. And the way these joyous celebrants counted the score showed clearly to all outsiders how badly these "numbered warriors" were outnumbered by the fast and heavy Maryville eleven.

After supper, a big crowd of yelling, whistling, cheering, singing students gathered in back of Memorial Hall, and, led by Frank Cody, marched, single-file, towards town, stopping long enough to yell for the girls at Pearsons and Baldwin. In town enthusiasm ran high as the boys yelled for the team, for Coach, and counted the score. After marching through the Dreamland and Palace Theatres, the crowd wended its way back to the hill, where a huge bonfire served to stimulate them to further demonstrations of enthusiasm.

HEARD ON THE HILL

BRILLIANT OPENING FOR LYCEUM

On Friday evening the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum Course gave its initial number. The Old Home Singers, a company composed of five charming young people entertaining a large and appreciative audience in Voorhees Chapel.

Manager Roy Anderson, in introducing the course, spoke of the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. to secure the best possible talent for the five numbers.

The Old Home Singers carried their audience back to the days of their grandfathers by a number of well chosen selections, typical of that period.

Miss Bloomquiss, contralto, won much applause with her excellent work; Mr. Williams tenor received quite a "hand" on his impersonations. The work of Miss Walker, pianoist, Miss Wilson soprano, and Mr. King, busso, was well received, and they each received their share of the applause.

It was an evening long to be remembered by all who attended and it is to be hoped that the Old Home Singers will appear again on a Y. M. C. A. Lyceum Course.

UNABLE TO OBTAIN DESK SPACE

The managment of the Echo has made an earnest appeal to the faculty of the college for desk space on the hill. Owing to the lack of room it seems impossible, at present, for the desired space to be given the staff of the Echo. In order to facilitate matters until a suitable room is secured it will be necessary to have a box placed at the entrance of Anderson Hall where all communications, material and the like should be placed on or before Saturday night each week. It is to be hoped however that a desirable location may be secured after Christmas where staff meetings can be held and the paper assembled.

FACULTY CUP TO THE WINNER

Cross Country Run Takes Place Friday Afternoon—Much Interest Being Shown.

The first cross country run of the year will be held Friday afternoon at 3:15 p. m. The distance will be three miles, starting from the library and going to the pike road at the edge of the campus and continuing along this road back to the campus finishing at the library. The first four men to finish will be awarded the Maryville track "M", and the faculty track cup will be given the name of the winner.

This is to be the first of four cross country runs announced by Manager Caton. Two will be held this fall, and two in the spring.

Great interest has been shown in this meet and more than thirty names have been entered. Among those who have entered are Gibbons, Brown, Cinvus and Loft. All of these men are expected to make a great showing as their track work is well known. Especially Gibbons who while in high school was considered one of the best prep track men in the Southeast.

WHY NOT GIVE THIS A TRIAL HERE?

A new spirit has made itself manifest among the students at the daily chapel service. No more does the buzz of conversation continue until the faculty arises for the first hymn, or someone rush for his seat as the first words of the hymn sound forth. Instead there has been quiet and appreciative listening to the selections which Prof. Rowe renders. This change of attitude is one, which has long been needed in Wooster, and it is a commendable fact that it has been brought about this year, and doubly commendable, because done upon the students' own initiative. Chapel is the only meeting place of the whole student body and consequently a convenient place for seeing one's friends, making the dates and doing other kindred things, but it is a religious service also, recognition of which is seen in the new spirit displayed during the chapel exercise.

KALTENBORN QUARTET PLEASED A BIG HOUSE

Assisted by Miss Elsie Baker And Miss Derby a Delightful Program Was Rendered LAST WEDNESDAY

The Redpath Bureau struck a responsive chord in the audience at the chapel Wednesday night by giving as the second number of the Y. M. C. A. course the Kaltenborn Quartette.

The men composing this famous organization are artists of the highest order and the enthusiastic applause which greeted them at the conclusion of each number was an evidence of the keen appreciation of the audience.

In the string quartette, the violins, 'cello and viola blended in a harmony so perfect that the listener recognized at once the mastery of each man over his instrument.

Mr. Kaltenborn under whose direction the work of the quartette is done displayed in his solo by Vieuxtemps a wealth of temperment which found artistic expression in the Fantasie Caprice.

Mr. Gegna on the 'cello gave to the audience a surprising conception of what may be done on this instrument when in the hands of one skilled in a knowledge of its possibilities.

We take it as a compliment to the intelligence of the audience that the Kaltenborn Quartette at no time descended to the common place by giving popular numbers to satisfy the less intelligent, but sought rather to raise the standard by a careful selection of compositions from the works of Greig, MacDowell and Rubuistrin. We consider this a step toward the education of the public in a finer understanding and appreciation of the best in music.

Miss Derby proved herself a pianist of high order by the splendid tone work in her rendition of Mendelssohn's On Wings of Song, and in her artistic accompaniment of the various soloists.

To Miss Elsie Baker remained the task of giving the finishing touch to this delightful programme; this she did with such skill that she was repeatedly recalled. Miss Baker combines with a contralto voice of richest quality, a personality, so charming that she captivates her audience from the beginning and holds them throughout her programme in enthusiastic support.

We congratulate the boys of the Y. M. C. A. on having given us the Kaltenborn Quartette and wish we might have others of so high an order.

FIRST CROSS COUNTRY RUN A SUCCESS

The Cross Country run held Friday afternoon was a decided success in point of attendance and in the race itself as the men finished in good time and in excellent codition.

First place in the race was won by Gibbons who ran true to form and as predicted was an easy first, finishing the three and one-half miles in twenty-three minutes and twelve seconds. The day was ideal and the course being in good condition every man was able to finish the entire distance. The first six finished as follows, Gibbons. Callahan, Cuens, Riggs, Loft and Brown, while Dean Blea, Lee, Beel and Watersworth finished only a little distance.

The next race will be run the afternoon of November 29 over the same course and a much closer race with better time is predicted by Manager Caton.

Frank Spurgeon journeyed to Chattanooga last Saturday. He witnessed the U. T.-Sewanee scrap.

PROF. J. W. PERKINS RESIGNS CHAIR

Goes to Washington, D. C. to Enter U. S. Government Service. College Regrets Sudden Departure.

Prof. J. W. Perkins, for the past two years head of the department of modern languages in Maryville College departed last Friday morning to accept the position of Civil Service Examiner at Washington, D. C.

Prof. Perkins, in his unostentatious manner, won a large host of friends and admirers during the two years of his professorship in Maryville College. His work as an instructor cannot be too highly spoken of, while his interest in musical organizations on the "hill" stood out prominently.

The appointment Prof. Perkins received was made as the result of an examination taken last summer. He is known officially as examiner in the department of foreign languages. This is a very important position, all the civil service examinations relating to foreign work pass through this department. The permanent headquarters of the Civil Service examining board is in Washington, D. C.

Although the student body and the faculty regretted the sudden departure of Mr. Perkins, they wish him success in his new work and congratulate him on his good fortune.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO BE BANQUETED

Local Business Men Will Tender Banquet to Highlanders Next Week.

The loyal town supporters of the football team have arranged to entertain at the Sanitary Dining room next week. An orchestra will liven things up and some rousing big speeches will be made. Plans will be discussed for next season, and the captain will be elected.

This event promises to be one of the most elaborate affairs ever given in honor of an athletic team, and the fellows are all looking forward to it with a great deal of pleasure

SLOW BUT SURE

The work of the Student Volunteer Band is progressing slowly but surely. The membership is steadily incerasing. As the course of study for the term, the Band has taken up the books, "Decisive Hour of Christian Misisons", and the "Third Report of the Board of Missionary Preparation". Through the study of these books, the members will get a better and broader knowledge of the preparation necessary for the missionary work than they have known before. Various kinds of deputation work are being done. One talk each month is given in each Sunday School of the town on Missionary Sunday and meetings of the various young people's societies are lead by the Band.

On Nov. 26th, the Band will lead a meeting of the Y. C. T. U. at the Baptist church. Several talks on the Baptist missions in different countries will be given.

Former Member of Faculty At The University of South Dakota Comes Highly Recommended.

Mr. E. E. Schaeffer of Yankton, South Dakota entered into his work as Professor of German this morning.

MISSISSIPPI A. & M. HELD TO TIE IN BEST GAME OF SEASON

Final Score 7-7. Game Featured by Fierce Attack of Both Teams.

The Mississippi A. & M. team held the Maryville team to a 7-7 tie Monday afternoon in a game featured by the fierceness of the attack on both sides and the superb resistance offered by the Maryvillians when the ball had been carried within their 10 yard line. The Maryville team playing its best game of the year held the A. & M. team safely with but one exception that being in the third quarter when A. & M. scored.

Bobo and Schwill were the chief ground gainers for A. & M. going mainly through the line as A. & M. relied entirely on straight football for consistent gains.

For M. C. Capt. Ensign, McNutt and Bryson in the backfield played a particularly brilliant game. Capt. Ensign's run of 45 yards for Maryville's touchdown being the longest of the day.

Sentelle in the line, playing against Capt. Spurlock an all Southern selection, was more than able to hold his own and made good openings for the M. C. backs.

A. & M. scored first in the third quarter, coming back strong and fresh after the interval's rest and started a march toward the goal line which the Maryvillians were never able to halt and on 17 successive line bucks A. & M. advanced the ball 25 yards. Bobo going over tackle after being momentarily halted for A. & M. first and final touchdown.

M. C. scored in the fourth quarter after holding A. & M. for downs on Maryville's 32 yard line. A. & M. was twice penalized and a lateral pass Ensign to Bryson added 5 yards, and Ensign on a cross buck went through the A. & M. line and eluded all would be tacklers and outustanced all pursuers carrying the ball 45 yards for Maryville's first touchdown.

The M. C defense was forced to its utmost on three occasions and only once did it fail to safely hold A. & M. that being when A. & M. scored. In the second quarter A. & M. advance the ball within kicking distance, but Maryville's line broke through and blockaded Schwill's kick. In the fourth quarter following a Maryville fumble A. & M. had the ball first down goal to go, but on four attempts failed to break through the M. C. defense which was finally backed up to its three yard line. Just previous to this A. & M. carried the ball to the 30 yard line but an attempted field goal failed after the M. C. line had resisted like a stonewall all attempts to be broken through.

In the fourth quarter with only thirty seconds to play, Bryson while tackling Bobo suffered a broken bone in his foot that will put him out for the rest of the season.

A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed the game and at no time did the teams lack in support of that kind. Among the visitors was the entire U. T. team contenders for Southern Championship honors.

DO SOMETHING

Will you kindly ask through the columns of the Highland Echo if some way may be devised by, means of which it shall be made an offense for persons in the audience to talk during the performance of musical programs.

Last Wednesday night the Kaltenborn Quartette gave a musical program of the highest order, of which the Y. M. C. A. may well be proud. yet the performers as well as persons in the audience were visibly annoyed by the musically indifferent who seemed to be there for the sole purpose of moonshining and of interfering with the pleasure of those desiring to listen.

It has been suggested that this situation might be met if each person who suffers from the annoyance will publicly repremand any who interfere with the enjoyment of the program. But I wish to inquire whether these objectionable offenders may not be invited to remain away until they learn a lesson in courtesy?

AT OTHER COLLEGES

The old tradition, nurtured in the minds of college upper classmen, from time immemorial, that Freshmen are of a lower order of intelligence than other human beings will meet final proof or disproof by the Professors of Psychology at Northwestern University. Tests will be made and a full attendance of '20 men is expected.

President White of Wooster College asked for the help of the students in the Jubilee Campaign. This campaign is to be completed on the fiftieth anniversary of the laying of the first cornerstone of the first college building, which will be in June 1918.

Along with an educational campaign there is to be an appeal for one Million Dollars for the necessary enlargement of the college.

All students were urged to cooperate by getting their parents and friends interested in the movement.

The Junor Class has started something new in Mississippi College, and they feel a little proud of it. They have purchased jerseys for the class instead of pins. The jerseys are white with a red shield and the figure "'18". They appear quite attractive and even the Seniors are compelled to notice them.

THE POOR SCRUB

I've a dislocated shoulder
And a finger out of place,
I've a nose that's busted open,
And a cut across my face.
I've an arm that's badly swollen
And a leg that's on the bum
I've a knee that's nearly broken,
And a peacherina thumb.
I have sprained my blooming ankle,
And my other ankle too.

And my solar plexus hurts me
Till I don't know what to do.
I have lost the epidermis
Growing once upon my side,
I have cut my ear to pieces,
And I'm minus half my hide.
I am like another Lazarus,
Judging from my color scheme;
But the thing that hurts the most—is
That I didn't make the team!

GREAT SUPPORT FROM SIDELINES

Big Celebration After Game. Town People Out "En Masse".

When the matchless Ensign received the ball on a fake play and breaking through the whole Mississippie team, raced down the field, ala "Rabbitt" Curry style, for a touchdown, the immense crowd went wild with enthusiasm. Somore and staid Maryvillians broke loose, threw their hats in the air, slapped each other on the back, hugged each other, (the men did) and the scene on the sidelines reminded one of a madhouse

When the first half ended with Maryville's line uncrossed, the student body, led by the Cheer Leaders, took possession of the gridiron, and danced a "beautiful" snake dance around the field

At all stages of the game the Highlanders received splendid support not only from the student body but also from the town folks, from the Knoxvillians, and, strange to say, from the U. T. football team and students, who were present at the game. Maryville students appreciated U. T.'s support and reciprocated with frequent yells for Tennessee.

In the Dining Hall, mighty yells were given for the team and for Celebration Shortly after supper, all the team turned out for a monster "shirt-tail" parade, led by the Cheer Leaders and by "Doc" Mitchell. The celebrants assembled in front of the Library, yelled there, went to town, enjoyed the hospitality of the Dreamland and Palace Theatres, and yelled, there, and ended up with a big bonfire, at which words of encouragment and advice were given by Dean Barnes, Prof. Walker and "Doc" Mitchell.

BASKET BALL UNDER WAY

Manager Crum Is Working On Hard Schedule. Good Prospects.

This week will mark the beginning of real practice for the basketball squad. A large number of men have already reported and Capt. Garrison desires any others who may be candidates for the team to be out not later than Wednesday Several men on the football squad will report for practice Wednesday provided no definite arrangements are made for a Thanksgiving game. And the Coach will take charge of the team at that time. The prospects for a winning team are very good and judging from the material it seems that the team this year will be as fast as that of last year with much more weight.

Manager Crum is not yet prepared to announce his schedule but it will include a Kentucky trip, a long Southern trip and many home games, besides the annual short trips to schools of this section. The first game will probably be played December 9. Two teams will be met before the Christmas holidays they will be Milligan College and Emory and Henry or the Knoxville Y. M C. A. Tigers, a team that has a reputation in the South wherever basket ball is played

FRESH-SOPH CONTEST NEXT

Class Games to Take Place Soon. Watch 'Em Go.

In spite of the fact that foot-ball days are waning and that only a few more days of the present season are left the football spirit and talk is now greater than ever on the "hill". This has been brought about by the unusual interest in the Southern Championship race in which Tennessee is now leading, by the great interest shown in the Mississippi game and by one event which is yet to take place, that is the Soph-Fresh Contest which is scheduled to take place Thanksgiving week.

This is the first time in five years that the foot-ball teams of rival Maryville classes have met and the return of this event is being joyously greeted by all students.

Great preparations are being made by both classes for the event and each class is planning to send its team into the game with the best support ever accorded a Maryville team. No admission charge will be made for the game and judging from the interest and talk already aroused on the "hill" and in town over the game a very large crowd will witness what promises to be the hardest fought battle of the season.

The Sophomores have usually been easy marks in foot-ball contests with the Freshman at Maryville on account of the great difference in the number enrolled in the two classes, but this year, in spite of that fact, the Sophomores have turned out a team which could more than hold its own with the average college team of this section. The Sophomore team is in charge of Coach Ensign and Capt Briggs and as all the men are in the pink of condition and have been training they are developing rapidly into a regular foot-ball machine. In fact one of Maryville's most ardent supporters standing near the "gym" Saturday morning and noticing the smoothness and rapidity with which they were going through their signals under the tutelage of Coach Ensign remarked that the varsity sure looked good for the A. & M. game. The Sophs had fifteen men out for their first practice all of whom have had foot-ball experience and do not need especial training in the rudiments of the game. but are now ready to get down to real team work. The Soph team has a fast and heavy backfield, composed of the following men, Hayes and Hamilton, halves; Sears full and McNutt quarterback while in their line they have Capt. Briggs, Johnson, Norgan and other experienced men.

Although the Sophs got the start on the Freshmen in practice the Freshmen followers promise to put on the field what will be the best team that ever represented a Maryville class. In the Freshmen Class there is an abundance of fast and experienced men who will make up a good team. Clemens is captain of the team and it is coached by Bryson. The Freshmen backfield also promises to be the particularly bright spot of their team as in their backfield will be Capt. Clemens, Eb. King, Blea and Candellive, while in the line will be Bingham, Hickman, Baird, and other good men.

The Freshmen have been holding class meetings, practicing yells, getting better class organization and in other ways perfecting their plans for the greatest class demonstration ever given at Maryville. Both classes are confident of victory and are sure that their class will be given the greater ovation.

The teams will probably line-up as follows:

Soph.		Fresh.
Norgan	right end	Baird
Briggs	right tackle	Hickman
C. Wilson,	right guard	Bingham
Johnson	center	Heller
Cagle	left gaurd	R. Moore
Lane	left tackle	Reed
Smith	left end	Parks
McNutt	quarter back	Candellive
Hayes	left half	Blea
Hamilton	right half	King
Sears	full back	Clemens (capt.)

Substitutes Sophomore: Witherspoon, Bryant, Ellis and Frater. Freshmen: George, McClenahan, Ottinger, Thurmond, McLoughlin, Gibbons, Carson.

'91. Dr. Chas. C. McGinley is Synodical Superintendent of the Presbyterian Church in the State of of Missouri. He is at present directing a state-wide campaign among the churches to promote efficiency in work and administration. In September and October he conducted six conferences in various parts of the State. As noted in a recent issue, Rev. W. T. Bartlett, '01 is assisting in this campaign, as he has recently begun his work as Synodical Evangelist.

'05. Rev. R. L. Houston, for several years pastor of the Fifth Presbyterian Church at Knoxville, resigned some time ago to take the pastorate of the church at Shannondale, where he is now located.

'10. The letter of Mrs. Tootell, '11, referred to elsewhere in this column states that Miss Gladden Ewers of the class of '10 is in Nanking, China, studying in preparation for work in the Hunan Mission in China.

'11. Through the kindness of one of the members of this class, the Alumni Editor has been allowed to see their class letter which is now in the midst of its travels. Mrs. Dr. Geo. T. Tootell, (formerly Miss Anna Kidder) writes a most interesting letter from Changteh, Hunan, China, where her husband is connected with the Presbyterian Hospital. When the letter was written (last March) the Imperial troops were marching through the town on the way to quell the rebellion in North China and the hospital at Changteh was being prepared for one hundred wounded soldiers. Mrs. Tootell was busy in preparation for Red Cross work. Dr. and Mrs. Tootell have a son, John Edward, who arrived October 26, 1915.

Another member of the class of '11 who is far away from his Alma Mater is Adam Pence who is located at Nato Barracks, Agusan, Philippine Islands, has been connected with the Constabulary since the winter of 1911. Part of the time he was in active service against ehe Moros and was under fire. He has been stationed at different times in several islands of the archipelago, and is at present in command of the First Agusan Company in Mindanao.

'12. Miss Marivine Kirkpatrick is teaching Science in the Boone High School at Boone, Iowa.

'13. Rev. H. L. Weir has charge of the church and school at Alpine, Tennessee.

'14. Miss Mayme Maxey is Principal of the Grammar School at La Follette this year. She spent a week-end at home recently, making the trip by auto.

'16. F. K. T. Postlethwaite has been surveying this season at Rock Island, Tennesee. He is no novice at this sort of work and finds it very much to his taste.

H. W. Threlkeld has a good position in Fenton, Michigan, where he is teaching science and acting as Director of Athletics.

MISS SCHULER TALKS "FRIENDSHIP"

The Y. W. C. A. was especially favored on Sunday, Nov. 19, by having Miss Schuler as leader of the devotional meeting. After a special selection by the choir Miss Mary Miles sang, "A Little Bit of Love". Miss Schuler made an excellent talk on "Friendship". Having been a college girl herself, she has a clear conception of what true friendship means to the college girl, especially through the Y. W C. A. After the address Mrs Sisk sang, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought".

This week the association will send a box of good, warm clothing to its protege. little Elizabeth Sneed, at Blue Ridge.

A HINT TO THE WISE

The pastor of a church in a country village, after preaching a very interesting sermon at the 11 o'clock service on Sunday, made the following announcements before dismissing the audience.

The Sunbeams will meet at the home of Mrs. Jones this afternoon at three-thirty. The W. C. T. U. will meet in the church library Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

At the close of services this morning the Donkey Club will meet just outside the front door of the church, line up watch the ladies pass and make their usual remarks. The chief donkey will bray and the others will follow suit.

'Tis needless to say that the Donkey Club did not meet that day. Is this sufficient?

THE MOST POPULAR BUILDING ON THE HILL

The Result of a Heated Discussion—The Library Wins.

If one were to ask the question, which is the most popular building on the hill these days, he would undoubtedly receive various replies. One student would make Pearsons Hash Hall the most popular, and he would not be far from right. Some students think, dream, ponder, reflect, imagine, and hope only in terms of "hash". At morning they cry, "I wish it were noon". In the afternoon they sigh, "I wish it were eventide". At night, this is their constant wail, "Oh that it were time for breakfast"! Another student might venture to make Anderson or Science most popular. He would, however, have many dissenters. Still another student might maintain that Bartlett Hall, with its Swimming Pool annex, is most popular. But to many students the swimming pool is an unknown quantity, and the "gym" classes only vary in their degree of torture.

There is one building on the hill, however, which all would acknowledge as being very popular, and which the majority would designate as "most popular". This building may be called "Maryville's Storehouse of Knowledge". It is situated along the walk leading from Science to Pearsons, and the most attractive thing about it, as one beholds it from the outside, is its white dome, which was undoubtedly placed there to give it an appearance of architectural beauty.

As one enters the building his attention is at once arrested by a beautiful stained-glass window, varicolored, depicting Christ blessing the poor, sick and needy, with this inscription underneath, "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God". As he looks around he notices the room crowded with students, some persuing the current magazines and newspapers, some absorbed in deep study. Here and there are students doing some parallel reading, in connection with their class work, other students doing some research work on a debate or other literary production.

Upon inquiring, he is informed that the Library now has more than 19,000 volumes, with other books being added continually. He is also informed that fifty-four new volumes have been added for the Agricultural Department. Fifty-eight periodicals are now on the Library list, with five new magazines being added, and the library is so crowded, that it has been found necessary to add new chairs and tables for the accomodation of the students.

The spectator now climbs the stairs leading to the gallery, and he notices a small museum. Here he sees such curios as a Chinese tea pot, images of Buddha, ornamental work from India, Confederate currency and Chinese coins, Japanese wooden shoes and turbans of the Brahman caste, magazines dating back to the year 1784, a Bible dating back to 1715, a Latin book printed in the year 1521, a peacock fan, and Buddhist scriptures. Here the spectator stops, for the bell is ringing, calling the faithful ones to the "Hash Hall". Which is the most popular building on the hill? The Library, of course.

The student body appreciates the benefits it secures from the Library, and condemns those who abuse the privileges by failing to return borrowed books, maltreating the magazines or newspapers, or by taking books from the Library without the Librarian's knowledge.

Nobody may ever know anything about it—nobody but yourself.

DEBATING COUNCIL ORGANIZED THURSDAY

To Further Interest In Intercollegiate Debates.

Thursday night after supper, the debating talent of the "hill" collected in the Alpha Sigma Hall to organize a debating council for the coming year. Twenty-one men joined the council and the following officers were elected: President, W. W. Haggard; Vice President, H. B. Frater; Sec. and Treas., E. S. Campbell.

The purpose of the council is to advance the interest of intercollegiate debate among the student body of Maryville. Long has the interest in this form of literary work been on the wane and it is hoped that the council will be able to place the intercollegiate debate on a higher plane than ever before.

A committee composed of Prof. Johnson, Pres. Haggard, Mr. McCord and Mr. Williams was appointed to draw up a constitution.

This year a triangular intercollegiate debate has been secured with Emory and Henry and the University of Tennessee. With twenty-one of the best orators on the hill out for preliminaries, two teams will be selected who, it is hoped, will trim both these schools. The final question for debate has not yet been selected, but the work on the preliminaries is going on and they will be held immediately after Christmas.

ANNUAL THANKSGIVING HIKE

For the past few years it has been a custom for many of the students to go to points of interest in the vicinity of Maryville during the holiday period.

This year the party will go either to Alcoa or Elkmont. Both places are situated in the heart of the Chilhowee mountains and afford scenic wonders unexcelled on this side of the Rockies.

The party will be well chaperoned, and if the weatherman is agreeable a very delightful trip will be enjoyed.

In case the weather is inclement the trip will be postponed for a day, taking place then on Saturday instead of Friday as planned.

AN AMBITIOUS CROWD

Prof. and Mrs. Brittain entertained the Senior Class Friday evening in their beautiful country home East of Maryville.

All present were dressed to represent their ambition for twenty years hence, even the Brittain baby. As many vocations were represented as there were members present.

During the evening each guest was required to tell some striking impression that had come to him from his youth. Some of the impressions were certainly "striking".

After a few happy hours borrowed from the distant future the party found their way back to the hill where they were mere seniors again.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM

A very interesting Thanksgiving service was conducted by Miss Bailey at the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 26. The meeting opened with a piano solo, by Miss Pardue, Miss Turner sang "Wonderful Peace". Miss Helen Brown gave a brief history of the first Thanksgiving, then the leader followed with an exposition of the Thanksgiving of today and a comparison of the two Thanksgivings.

On next Sunday Miss Dexter Clayton will lead.

COLLEGE PATRONS APPRECIATE GOOD FILMS

The splendid movies shown in the local houses during the past few weeks have created much favorable comment from the people on the hill. Students and faculty alike seem to be taking a great interest in the world of the camera, and the local theatres are to be commended on the high class pictures they are showing.

BRYSON RECEIVED FRACTURED LEG IN A. & M. GAME

A. D. Bryson, Varsity fullback, was in a Knoxville hospital last week having an X ray taken of his ankle. It was found to be fractured, the fibula being cracked for some little distance. He returned to the "hill" Friday afternoon, but was compelled to return to Knoxville Sunday and have the bone reset. A small ligament was found to be out of place. He is now around again, but will accept the aid of a pair of crutches until New Years.

MID-WINTER ENTERTAINMENT NEXT WEEK

Alpha Sigma First Society to Present This Year.

Literary societies have long held a most prominent place in the various student activities on the hill.

The first society was organized in 1868, and since that date three more societies have come into being.

Today Maryville College has four thriving organizations which attain to literary excellence. The Athenians, Alpha Sigma, Theta Epsilon, and Bainonian, the first two for men and the last two for ladies.

In order that the members of the different societies, and those who did not belong to any, might see and know what each respective society was doing an entertainment was given during the winter months showing the progress and accomplishments of each organization.

When this custom was inaugurated purely literary programs were rendered. Today the entertainments are most elaborately aranged, with appropriate settings and a background which enables the talents of the respective societies to be displayed to better advantage.

Two societies give their entertainments before the Christmas holidays, two following the vacation period.

Alpha Sigma will present its program on the night of December 8th, 1916. "The Progress of American Literature" is the title of the sketch.

The mid-winter performances always abound in literary worth, and at the same time contain many humorous scenes. "Mid-winters" as they are called draw big houses, and very few miss this feature of student life.

BASKETBALL SEASON TO BE USHERED IN BY CO-EDS

The first basketball game of the season for the local court will be played Saturday evening at 8 o'clock the Maryville girls' team meets the strong team from Central High School of Knoxville. This will be one of the hardest fought games of the season as both teams are made up of experienced players and are well coached. Central High School is always in the running for the East Tennessee Championship and will play harder against Maryville, the present title holder, than any other team.

The Maryville team is one of the best in years as there has been an abundance of material. The girls expect to get a good start for the Southern Championship. The Maryville line-up will not be announced until Friday.

VARSITY AWARDED EMBLEMS MONDAY

At a meeting of the Athletic Board of Control Monday the following men were awarded foot-ball letters, Captain Ensign, Greer, Flannery, Briggs, Sentelle, Tulloch, Ford, Bryson, Clemens, Feeman, Sears, Cooper, Stevens and Manager Gamon.

The above men will elect next year's captain at the banquet Wednesday night.

Five members of the Varsity played in every quarter during the entire season.

"How cold your nose is!" The words came from the parlor of Baldwin.

"Is one of those old dogs in the parlor again? demanded Miss Jackson from the hallway. There was a long pause. Then came the timid answer. "No, Miss Jackson, there's no dog in the parlor." And then the blissful silence was resumed.

SOPH-FRESH GAME ON WEDNESDAY

Great Contest Between Rival Classes. Much Enthusiasm.

Wednesday afternoon foot-ball fans will be given their last opportunity to witness a local football game this season when the annual Fresh-Soph contest is returned as a regular game for Maryville fans. It has been five years since these two classes have met at Maryville and both sides are making great preparation for the game. Both classes have been meeting daily to practice their yells and get their support ready and both are not only confident of winning but of entirely smothering the other class with their yells.

The Sophomore team under Coach Ensign has made great progress and especially since all of its men were experienced it has rapidly rounded into shape and at present appears as one of the best teams ever on college hill. The Sophomores have also an abundance of experienced subs who have been drilling and practicing hard all season.

Flannery was selected to pilot the team and his work has been very satisfactory and efficient; considering the short time he has had the team the results shown are almost marvelous. The team is lighter than the average and lacks the experience of the Sophomores but shows up with great speed.

The game promises to be very close and the hardest fought of the season with the winner in doubt until the last whistle has blown. The Sophomores will probably enter the game a slight favorite but this fact alone will spur the Freshmen to a greater effort. The Freshmen will depend upon the speed of their team and upon play with a large number of reserves to send in fresh at the critical moments of the game to defeat the Sophomores. To overcome this the Sophomores have gotten together a team of experienced and heavy men who will rely on line plunging to advance the ball for them. The Sophomores will have the advantage on the punts and should be able to gain 10 to 15 yards on each exchange of punts unless the Freshmen backs are speedy enough to make returns that will offset the extra distance of the punts. In Blea and Canddiline the Freshmen have two backs who are very speedy and unless halted before they get a good start will be able to run back the Sophomore punts for a good gain and no doubt the Freshmen will rely on these men to run the Sophomore ends for frequent gains.

The game will be witnessed by an unusually large crowd as great interest has been shown in the game and practically every student will be out beside a very large number of townspeople have already expressed an intention of seeing the game.

Twelve minute quarters will be played. Officers for the game have not yet been elected. The two teams will line up as follows:

Sophomore		Freshman
Smith	left end	Bingham
Larue	left tackle	Moore
Wilson	left guard	Marshall
Johnson	center	Heller
Cagle	right guard	Georges
Briggs (capt.)	right guard	McLaughlin
Norgan	right end	Walker
McNutt	quarter	Blea
Hamilton	left half	Candiline
Sears	full back	King
Hayes	right half	Hickman

Substitutes, Sophomores. Witherspoon, Bryant, Ellis and Frater.

Freshman, Carson.

Opportunity can enter no door unless the interior is fitted to receive it.

The marble caps have been replaced on the fountain! Well and good! Now for the cleansing fluids.

- :--:--

Would it be possible to have a short Thanksgiving praise service in chapel Wednesday morning?

- :--:--

How welcome the two holidays will be! It will be wise not to squander the entire time—do a little work that will count for something.

- :--:--

The day set aside by our Puritan fathers in the year 1621 to offer up thanks to our Heavenly Father is near at hand.

It behooves us as college men and women to observe this day appropriately and render thanks to God for the magnanimity of his love.

It is true th[at] we have suffered severe losses d[ur]ing the year, yet under the wise guidance of the Pow[er] er above we have overcome seeming[ly] ly insurmountable obstacles and reached, in a large measure that standard for which we are constantly striving, a bigger and better Maryville College.

Let us give praise and thanksgiving to this all wise and powerful God for the multitude of blessings He has so generously bestowed upon us.

We should endeavor in the coming years to retain those things which we have received, or in the words of Thos. Fuller, "Many favors which God giveth us ravel out for want of hemming, through our own unthankfulness; for though prayer purchases blessings, giving praise doth keep the quiet possession of them."

IMPROVE BARTLETT

We wonder if the students of Maryville College realize how much they can help in keeping the campus and buildings in good condition.

Visitors get a wrong impression of our school when they find that the students take no pride in the appearance of the property of the school.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that the condition of Bartlett Hall can be improved by the co-operation of the students.

Do you think that it adds to the appearance of the building to litter the halls with all sorts of rubbish?

Do you think it proper to break or carry away the electric bulbs placed in the halls and locker rooms, or to break up the furniture in those rooms?

Do you think it proper to pay no attention to the sanitary conditions there?

We all want to see a gymnasium and Y. M. C. A. building that is sanitary and will-kept, a building that we will be proud of.

Since attention has been called to the above we believe that every student will co-operate with the school authorities in improving Bartlett Hall.

PUT THE ECHO IN HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARIES

As a means of advertising Maryville College throughout the High Schools of Tennessee and nearby states it has been suggested that the Echo be placed in their reading rooms.

The possibilities of this move as an advertising medrium can be readily seen. It will permit prospective collegians to see, week by week, the student activities, and through this the spirit of Maryville College.

It is hoped that the college will take this matter up in the near future and thereby arouse an interest in the minds of prep students for Maryville College.

GIRLS BASKET BALL TEAM WANTS UNIFORMS

Since athletics for girls have been established on college hill the girls have been turning out good teams. This is true in the girls' tennis teams, their baseball teams and especially true of basket ball for the Maryville College girls have not just been champions of East Tennessee but of Tennessee and their claim to the Southern Championship has not been disputed.

The fact that the girls have turned out winning teams has drawn very large crowds to their games which have been of profit to the student athletic association and a great advertisement for the college.

So considering the large share which they were contributing to athletics on the hill financially and in championship teams the girls in Pearson and Baldwin Halls have decided that the teams representing their part of the school should be properly equipped and not forced to appear in uniform of many patterns and in colors varying from an autumn sunset to the Memphis blues. So with this in mind Miss Burchfield manager of the girls' basketball team is making a great effort to have the athletic association furnish uniforms for the girls' basketball team as it does for every other team on the hill. Investigation has shown that in many of the schools the girls are not only furnished with uniforms, but also with their playing shoes. This is done with the boys' teams at Maryville, and the girls being an active and contributing part of the athletic association, feel that they should be allowed a small expenditure for uniforms for their teams. Sentiment among the student body is strong in favor of this and it is hoped that it will pass successfully at the next meeting of the athletic board of control.

'93. Rev. J. R. Burchfield of Centerview, Mo., has received a call to the Presbyterian Church at Florence, Colorado.

'03. E. N. Quist, of Hanford, Washington, has just invented, in company with a partner, a machine for extracting iron from the sands of the Columbia River Valley. They have incorporated the Great Western Iron Co., and expect to proceed at once to the development of over six hundred acres of these iron-bearing sands on which they have secured the mineral rights. They estimate that these holdings will produce eight hundred thousand tons of pure iron. Samples extracted by this machine have been examined at the government assay office in Washington and pronounced high grade magnetite iron, carrying less than one percent foreign matter.

LIVY CLASS ENTERTAINED BY H. J. BASSETT

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by the members of the Livy class at Prof. Bassett's last Thursday. There were present about ten couples, Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, Miss Bassett, and Prof. Bassett. During the early part of the evening Prof. Bassett gave a lecture on Rome, illustrating it with photos, collected by himself, which was much enjoyed by all present. After this came games and eats. All present agreed that they had the best time they have enjoyed this term on college "hill".

Cigarette Sales in America for the fiscal year ending August 1 amounted to 13,465,000,000, as against 9,651,000,000 the year before. The heavy increase is explained by the fact that Ad Wolgast has contracted the habit.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE HERE NEXT MONDAY

Strong Quintet to Meet Highlanders in First Game of Season. Local Team Rapidly Getting In Shape. Bright Outlook for Fast Team.

The Varsity basketball team will open its season Monday, Dec. 11th, when it is met on the local court by the Milligan College team. The game will start at 8:00 p. m. and a real basketball scrap is promised.

The strength of the Milligan team this year is not known but if it is to be judged by that of last year Maryville has much more than a game on hand. Last year Milligan and Maryville did not meet and both teams claimed the East Tennessee championship. Milligan receiving the support of several East Tennessee papers. Milligan wishes to start again for a successful season and as they are meeting Maryville for the first time, are hoping to make the best showing of the year.

Twenty men have been reporting to Coach Kiefer for practice and a very good team will be turned out. From last year's team Coach Kiefer has the following with which to start his team: Capt. Garrison, Manager Crum, Feeman and Clemens. Several players from other high schools and colleges are working out.

The Maryville team has not yet been given a definite line-up, but a team will be turned out that will force Milligan throughout the entire game.

A large crowd is anticipated as nearly three hundred witnessed the girls' game, and it was not advertised. With a little publicity the meeting for two claimants for last year's championship should draw a very large crowd. It will be some scrap anyway you look at it.

TRIP TO ELKMONT

Quite a large number of students took advantage of the excursion to Elkmont, last Friday. A crowd of ninety-one, (Mr. Childs was number ninety-one) armed with kodaks and frying pans, boarded the train at Maryville for the trip through the mountains. The kodaks were very much in evidence after the observation car had been put on at Townsend, and many magnificent views were snapped. It was noticed that Coach Kiefer always sat on the side where the most mistletoe hung. Nearly all the short three hours at Elkmont were spent in preparing and consuming the large baskets of provisions. By the way, we understand that the Freshmen lost some of their eats. Too bad!

The time in Elkmont was all too short as is proved by the fact that the train had to be held waiting for several straggling couples; indeed, there was one couple who did not get to the train at all. How they got home will be told in a following chapter.

On the return way, the crowd stopped for an hour in Townsend. The whole trip was very much enjoyed, and the only complaint that could be made was that the day passed too quickly.

If things do not come your way, seek the way they are coming.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN AGAIN NEXT TUESDAY

The second cross country of the fall will take place next Tuesday afternoon, 3:15 p. m. As usual the starting and finish will take place in front of the library.

The same men who competed in the last race are training daily for the coming event.

Much interest is being taken in cross country work, and some big surprises may occur next week.

Gibbons finished first in the last race with little trouble, but no doubt he will be pressed hard to finish in the same position next Tuesday.

ALPHA SIGMA MID-WINTER FRIDAY NIGHT

First Student Entertainment of The Year. The Trend of Our Nation to be Shown.

One of the most important questions before thinking America will be presented, "Is America Losing Its Vitality Because of Commercialism?"

The light of our nation as to its development or deterioration. - Instructive portrayals during the entire program.

Humor and excellent music will also characterize the evening. Such men as Mark Twain will participate and other men equally as great or greater.

James Whitcomb Riley will be present with his pleasing rhymes.

The Alpha Sigmas expect to measure up next Friday evening with their glorious past, which will be difficult to do; but determination can do all things.

A CENTURY OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE—A STORY OF ALTRUISM

President Wilson's new book, under the above title, will be ready for distribution by December 18. The volume of 250 to 300 pages tells the story of the self-sacrificing heroism of Dr. Isaac Anderson, the founder of the College, and his contemporaries, and those who, with equal devotion to a great work, have followed him; and of the miracles of faith and achievement that have given to many generations the remarkable blessings of Maryville College. The story, told with the charm of Dr. Wilson's well-known style, is brimful of romantic interest. Thirty-six full-page illustrations, prepared expressly for the publication, add to the attractiveness of the book and the interest of the story.

Many will want copies of the book for themselves or for Christmas gifts to their friends or to send to friends of the College. Upon receipt of one dollar a copy, books will be mailed from the publishing house, postpaid, each containing a neatly-printed card conveying your Christmas greeting, directly to the addresses that you furnish, and in time for Christmas. Write names and addresses plainly so that the book may not be missent, and send them promptly, with one dollar ($1.00) for each copy, to Professor C. H. Gillingham, Registrar, or F. L. Proffitt, Treasurer, Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee.

THOS. BROOKS FLETCHER WILL LECTURE

Second Appearance of This Famous Lecturer on Local Platform. A Capacity House Will Greet Him.

Thomas Brooks Fletcher, who is to lecture here Saturday night is starting on his eleventh year as a lecturer. He is the youngest man of similar renown on the American lecture platform. He is pronounced to be the leader of the younger lecturers and thinkers of this generation.

Reports from the lecture course committees that have engaged him class him among the most distinguished orators of the present time. He has been substituted for the late Senator John P. Dolliver and at Findlay, O., was substituted for the famous Ben B. Lindsey of the juvenile court of Denver, Colo., and this was his second appearance before the Findlay audience within eight months. He has lectured in nearly every state in the Union, and his success has been as remarkable in Massachusetts and the New England states as it has been in Iowa and the west. He has appeared before some of the largest college and university courses everywhere, and there are few places where he has not been recalled for the second or third lecture. This is the second appearance of Mr. Fletcher on a Maryville platform. He lectured here last year to a capacity house, which justified his early recall.

THOMAS BROOKS FLETCHER.

This year the subject of Mr. Fletcher's lecture will be "The Tragedy of the Uuprepared", a theme which will interest any college audience.

Besides his extensive lecture work, he is the editor of a live newspaper, the Marion (O.) Tribune, having for a newspaper competitor Hon. Warren G. Harding.

Forty-one people are employed in the Fletcher newspaper plant, almost twice the number employed when the business was purchased two and a half years ago. Marion is one of the best and most rapidly growing cities in Ohio.

Mr. Fletcher during the summer of 1915 appeared with great success on 118 Redpath Chautauquas in Florida, Georgia, the Carolinas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois. The past summer he appeared on the Ohio Redpath Chautauqua.

A. D. BRYSON TO MANAGE 1917 FOOTBALL TEAM

Monday afternoon the Athletic Board of Control elected A. D. Bryson to manage the foot ball team next year.

Bryson played at the position of full-back during the past season, receiving a broken ankle in the final game of the year.

Mr. Bryson will enter at once upon his duties as manager and a good schedule will no doubt result from his efforts.

The 1917 schedule will be announced as soon as it is arranged.

GUESTS OF BUSINESS MEN

Football Team Royally Entertained at Banquet. Captain for 1917 Elected.

Last Wednesday night the members of the Varsity football squad were the honored guests of Maryville business and professional men at the Busy Bee Cafe.

Covers were laid for thirty. Eighteen members of the squad, the coach and manager and the official buyer of the Athletic Association along with some of the local business men, were seated around the tastefully decorated table.

An elaborate five-course turkey dinner was served, and throughout the evening the orchestra of the Dreamland Theatre furnished lively selections.

Mr. J. L. Tweed, a local attorney, ably filled the toastmaster's position, and appropriate toasts were enjoyed from R. B. Oliver, F. L. Proffitt, E. F. Harper, the Coach, Captain and Manager.

After the sumptuous dinner and the toasts had been enjoyed the fourteen letter men elcted th Captain for the 1917 team. Harold H. Greer, right guard on the Varsity for the past three years, was chosen to lead the Highlanders next season.

PREPS ORGANIZE DEBATING COUNCIL

The preparatory sutdents met in Prof. Johnson's room Wednesday, Nov. 29 to organize a debating council for this year. Seventeen boys joined the council and elected the following officers: President, J. H. Vaughn; Vice President, H. D. McGrath; Sec. and Treas., N. M. Black.

The purpose of the council is to advance the cause of debating in the preparatory department, so that the victory over Berea may be renewed this year

The preliminaries were held in which seventeen of the best debaters of the preparatory department hotly contested for places on the teams.

The judges were Professors Ellis, Knapp and Brittain. After a long and careful deliberation the following were chosen to represent Maryville against Berea; Black, Dillinger, McGrath, Miner, Weisbecker, and Ralph Young, regulars; and Vaughn and Cuevas, alternates.

The final question for this debate which is to take place the first Friday night in March is "Resolved, That the U. S. Should Further Restrict Immigration by Means of a Literacy Test".

Berea is going to put up a hard fight because of her defeat last year, but by the consistent efforts and work of the prep debaters Maryville hopes to add two more victories to her list.

CO-EDS OPENED BASKETBALL SEASON

Central High Smothered by Accurate Tossing of Maryville's Forwards. Final Score 54-5.

Saturday evening the Maryville College girls' basketball team started on their way toward a championship when they easily overwhelmed the Central High School team of Knoxville by the score of 54-5. In spite of the score the game was very interesting and was played with much more speed and snap than usual.

The Maryville team compared very favorably with the team of last year, although the team work of last year's team was missing. The team this year has much more speed and aggressiveness and it is only a matter of a few games until the team work will begin to show to better advantage.

Maryville used two entire teams in the game and a pleasant surprise to Maryville fans was the work of Misses Hackworth and Cameron who appeared on a Maryville team for the first time.

Misses Webb and Cameron starred for Maryville. Miss Webb making 32 of Maryville's points, while Miss Cameron at guard by her speed and aggressiveness kept the ball out of her territory and at no time did Central have a chance to score while she was playing.

The Central team was light and inexperienced and was able to make only two field goals against Maryville. Misses Capps and Whittle showed up best for Central.

Maryville scored after a half minute of play on a foul goal by Miss Hackworth and was soon followed by a field goal by each of the forwards on long hard shots, and after that there was no doubt as to the outcome of the game.

The first half ended 21-0.

The teams lined up and scored as follows:

Maryville		Central
Webb 32	forward	3 Capps
Hackworth 10	forward	2 Johnson
Marshall 12	forward
Creswell	forward
Stinnett	center	Whittle
Phillips	center
Burchfield	guard	Lowe
Cameron	guard	Grimm
Moseby	guard
Lewis	guard

Time of halves 15 minutes. Referee: alternate, Weisbecker and Miss Capps.

She—Harold, seriously, now, what do you think about kissing?

Harold—Say, that's a swell idea. (Smack.)—Chaparral.

The holidays came,—we enjoyed them; now for the last lap before Christmas.

--:--:--

Some folks don't appreciate an education until examination week, but it only takes a short time then for it to dawn upon them how hard one is to obtain.

--:--:--

Football season has come and gone. During the past season the Highlanders have received the support of an enthusiastic and loyal student body. In spite of the fact that the first two games of the year were disastrous for the team, the backing of the students, faculty and town, together with the tireless efforts of Coach Kiefer, the team made a credible showing the remainder of the season. Had not this splendid support been accorded the team and coach the season would have been a failure from every view point. This gives conclusive proof, that if given encouragement, a team will work harder and fight harder in every game of the year.

Basketball was ushered into our circle of activities rather auspiciously by the co-eds last Saturday night. A crowd of three hundred persons witnessed the game. Very little assistance from the side lines was needed to win this game, but later on in the season some hard games are booked.

The boys' team plays games in which every point is contested. Let's be out there and show them we are for them, for them strong, win or lose.

ATHENIANS JOINED WITH BAINONIANS

In a Most Delightful Evening's Program. Social and Literary Combination Proves Big Success.

For years it has been customary for the Bainonians and Athenians to have a joint meeting Friday after Thanksgiving. In honor of this custom the following program was rendered in the Bainonian Hall last Friday night.

Vocal Solo, - - Mrs. Sisk
Reading - - - Miss Taylor
Debate: Resolved, That the Bainonian and Athenian Literary Societies should be combined. Affirmative, Mr. Holmes and Miss Wells. Negative, Miss Townsend and Mr. Cross.

The decision of the judges was in favor of the negative.

Shadow Play, Miss Creswell and Messrs. Witherspoon, Marshall and Hayes.

The program was very interesting as was anticipated. The Hall was crowded, more than were expected attending the meeting.

After the program was completed refreshments were servd and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

When the lights flashed all came away feeling that "it was good to be there" and wishing that the annual Thanksgiving meeting would come several times a year.

IT HELPS

He bought a nice bill of goods and while I was wrapping his parcel he said to me, "I came in here because I saw your ad in the Echo, and I believe in backing the firms that back our college paper". If only more of the fellows would say "I'm from the college', or "I am a Maryville student" we would have a point of contact.

The above is what a merchant who advertises in the Echo told the other day. They believe and know it pays to advertise, but just mention where you saw their "Ad" and it will help you and help your college paper.

AN O'POSSUM HUNT

A NARRATIVE

One day last week a friend of mine took me in his car over into Knox County, where it was rumored the 'possums were thick.

Upon arriving at our destination we were joined by two natives of the afore-named county, who professed to know every nook and crook of the surrounding hills.

At seven o'clock, the four of us, with our dog, started out in quest of the elusive "fire-eyes". After tramping silently for a short time through the underbrush, we heard a faint bark,—Listen. Ah! he has "treed". We started in the general direction the bark came from. The trail was rough, the exposed parts of our epidermis getting the results of our mad dash. Over a hill we went, losing the sack we had brought along to carry home the game in, on the way. Up a second hill,—no it was a mountain I am sure, till we reached the dog seated at the foot of a sapling. He would bark—then look up into that terrible darkness out of which two little balls of fire shown. As soon as we recovered our breath, not over ten minutes were taken up in accomplishing this Herculean task, we concluded some one would have to climb up the tree and shake him out. I was the unfortunate victim, I should say acrobat, and up that tree I went. With no little effort the 'possum was dislodged and he fell to the ground with a thud. The dog soon had him and the fun was over.

In the course of the evening we caught three more of the brethren, which made a 'possum to the man to carry home. No they never slip out of your hand, for the tail coils tenaciously around one of your digets and never lets go until he is put on his feet.

Tired and worn we drifted back to our friends home and at one G. M.; G. M. meaning good morning, we retired for a good night's rest.

GREER TO CAPTAIN 1917 FOOTBALL TEAM

Harold H. Greer, '18 was elected captain of the 1917 football team at the banquet Wednesday night.

Greer has played right guard on the Varsity for the past three years, next year being his last on the team.

"Greaser" is a well-known figure on the hill and he looks every inch the man he is. With Greer to lead the team in its battles and Coach Kiefer back to oil the machine the outlook for 1917 is exceedingly bright. The team looses only one man this year, although he is one of the most important and dependable backs, Captain Ensign, '17.

THERE IS A GREAT SCARCITY OF STENOGRAPHERS A ND BOOKKEEPERS

That there is a great scarcity of, and a strong demand for, competent Stenographers and Bookeepers is a fact recognized by business men and all others who make it a practice to supply office help to business houses.

This condition should dispel any doubt you may have as to your being able to step into a good business position after completing a course in Business Training.

The only question before you today is—"Can you hold any good business position if you succeed in getting it?"

You can secure and hold a good business position if you take the course in Business Training at this school. It has been proved by the success of hundreds of Knoxville Business College graduates who have taken the course of study and are now holding good positions. They have a reputation for doing efficient work and their services are in demand by the best business houses.

There is nothing imaginary about the situation. This country has entered a new era of industrial prosperity. It affords you an opportunity. What move do you anticipate toward securing your share in the prosperity of the country? Are you going to try to succeed without Business Education and Training?

The sooner you begin your preparation for business life the sooner you will be in a good business position drawing a good salary. You had better come in and see me about your Business Education.

Inspect the list of calls we are receiving from business men for Stenographers and Bookkeepers—and you will be convinced that we can help you.

ANNUAL REPORT OF Y. M. C. A.'s OF NORTH AMERICA ENCOURAGING

The annual statistical reports of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America show that the movement has been marching forward. The summary was completed earlier than usual and with 37 less Associations having been heard from than a year ago.

FRESH-SOPH GAME

Giving only a short notice of their intentions the Soph and Fresh football teams met yesterday, the Sophs winning in a close and exciting game by score of 7-0. The Freshmen carried the ball across the Soph line twice but were called back each time. When time was called in the fourth quarter the ball was in Freshmen possession and only a few inches to go.

A drizzling rain preceded the game and seemed to make more certain a victory for the heavy Soph backs but such was not the case for the Sophs outplayed the Freshmen in only one quarter, while in the other three quarters the Freshmen outdistanced the Sophs. As the game opened it seemed that the Freshmen were to be the agressors, but they failed to gain consistently and in the second quarter the Sophs came back with such a rush as to sweep all hopes of a successful opposition by the Freshmen.

During the game the Sophs advanced the ball 163 yards against 157 yards for the Freshmen, but of the Sophs gains 133 yards came in the second quarter when taking the ball on their 20 yard line the Sophs with 5 line bucks advanced the ball 40 yards, then Sears broke through center and carried the ball 40 yards through an open field for the only touchdown of the game. Sears kicked goal.

In the fourth quarter the Freshmen playing by moonlight made a great attempt to tie the score, two long runs by Candellera threatened to result in touchdowns before he could be caught. The ball was carried to the 4 yard line and King sent across but both teams were offside.

Sears and Hayes starred for the Sophomores, both making long gains through the line and Sears finally on long line bucks with Hayes carried the ball for a touchdown. For the Freshmen King and Candellera played best, the Soph line being no match for the plunging of King and he gained every time he carried the ball while the speed of Candellera carried him around the ends and off tackle for repeated gains and only a slow field resulted in his being brought down several times.

The Sophs won the toss and chose to receive at the east goal. The quarter ended after several exchange of punts during which the Freshmen forced the ball back to the Soph 5 yard line, but in Soph possession.

The Freshmen started the second quarter with small but steady gains and carried the ball to the Soph 25 yard line where an attempted drop kick failed. The Sophs taking the ball on their 20 yard line for the only time during the game, showed their real strength. Sears gained 16 yards, Hamilton 5, Hayes 12, Sears, 5, Hamilton 2, and on the next play Sears broke through the line and ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Sears kicked goal.

The Sophs then kicked to the Freshmen and later took a Freshman pass, and the Sophs worked the only successful pass of the game. After an exchange of punts Watkins recovered a Soph punt and once more the Sophs started steady gains, but were penalized 15 yards. Sears kicked and King gained 5 yards, Candellera 15 yards, Blea 3 yards, Hickman 7, Candellera 12, King 4, and Candellera added 18 more. Lewis carried the ball to the Soph 4 yard line with first down goal to go. King carried the ball over but both teams were offside. King and Blea made short gains and the quarter ended with the ball in the Freshmen possession, fourth down and less than a foot to go. The teams lined up as follows:

XMAS HOLIDAYS BEGIN DECEMBER 20—WINTER TERM JANUARY 2, 1917

The fall term examinations come on Dec. 18, 19 and 20, the last day of the term being Wednesday. The general exodus of students will take place on Thursday morning. The holiday period this year is only twelve days, somewhat shorter than customary.

There are usually about one hundred students who remain in Maryville during the holidays, their homes being too far distant to make the trip home worth while. Social privileges are almost unlimited for those who stay and everybody has a big time.

MARYVILLE OPENS SEASON WITH VICTORY

Deaf and Dumb Team Outclassed. Clean Shots Feature. Feeman and Garrison Star.

The Varsity basketball team opened its season Monday evening by defeating the State Deaf and Dumb School team by score of 67-29. The score does not indicate the real fight the Deaf and Dumb team put up, but they were simply outclassed by Maryville's experience and weight. The Maryville team was at no time hard pressed and tossed in easy goals throughout the game.

The Maryvillians although playing their first game showed a well developed team and much team work was in evidence. The shots at the goal were not as long and sensational as have been made by local teams, but this was due to the fact that more passing of the ball was indulged in and fewer long, chance shots.

Had it not been for Duncan's ability as a basketball player the locals would have had much less trouble in disposing of their opponents, but Duncan who is one of the fastest basketball players turned out by the Deaf and Dumb school showed his speed and shooting ability by scoring 19 of his team's 29 points. He had nine free tosses at the goal and missed only two.

The game had gone only one minute until Maryville had scored two field goals, the Deaf and Dumb school scored its first goal after seven minutes of play. At the end of the first five minutes M. C. had already scored 14 points.

During the middle of the first half the M. C. team showed to best advantage and here the smooth, even work of signals was easily in evidence, but before the half ended the Deaf and Dumb boys came in with a sudden rush and several goals were thrown before time was called. The score at the end of the first half was 40-15.

During the second helf the Maryville team seemed to be slowed down considerably as the final score for the second half was 27-14.

The Deaf and Dumb team did not get a great number of shots at the goal, and for some time their shooting was considerably off while the Maryville shots were short and well aimed, and but few were banked.

Feeman and Garrison starred for M. C. and with the good work of Crum at center were able to run up a large number of field goals. Clemens and Ellis at guards held the opposing forwards to 8 goals. Duncan and Bradshaw starred for the Deaf and Dumb team. Duncan making 19 of their total points. He scored 6 field and 7 foul goals, and no doubt only lack of a better team to support him prevented other goals as Duncan is a very speedy player and a good shot.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Maryville		Deaf & Dumb
19 Garrison (c)	forward	Duncan 19
26 Feeman	forward	Bright
12 Crum	center	Blevins 4
		Acuff 6
8 Clemens	guard	Bradshaw
2 Ellis	guard	Mankin

Substitutes for Maryville, Sears for Crum and Witherspoon for Ellis.

Substitutes for Deaf and Dumb school, Acuff for Blevins, and Lucads for Bradshaw.

Referee Chambers, Moses school; Umpire, McCall, Maryville; Timekeepers, Moore, Deaf and Dumb, Martin, M. C.; Time of halves 20 minutes each.

Score by periods:

M. C.	- - - -	40	27	67
Deaf and Dumb	- -	15	14	29

BOARDING CLUB TO BE OPEN

The Cooperative Boarding Club will remain open during the Christmas holidays for the accommodation of those who will be here during the holiday period.

Walker, who manages the Club, requests all students who are planning to remain in Maryville over the holidays to hand their names to him at once.

THE LAND OF ICE AND SNOW

Athenians to Present Their Mid-Winter Friday Night. Second Event of Its Kind This Year.

Large sums of money were paid by the United States Government in order that an investigation might be made before the purchase of Alaska. Years passed before the final report but the facts gathered were worth more than many times the cost for "The Land of Ice and Snow" had become "The Land of Promise".

It was learned that for the small sum of $7,200,000 we had received a country rich in natural resources and the possible home of a new race of men that would be able to cope with any situation presented to them.

No college student can afford not to know about the great Alaskan Territory purchased by the United States in 1867 and waiting for the people of this day for its development.

This subject would be important, instructive, and interesting, if presented by the most common talent, but, when the Athenians consider it fit and appropriate for their Mid-winter you can be very sure that you should not miss its presentation on Friday evening, 7:45 o'clock.

JUNIOR ATHENIANS ELECT BLACK PRESIDENT

The Junior Athenians met Saturday night, December 9th., and elected officers for the coming term. In chosing Black for President, White for vice president, and Green for critic, a decided taste for color was shown by the members "Red" Young and Roy Bell tied for janitor and the deciding vote was cast by the president, giving the office to Bell. The staff for next term will be:

N. M. Black, President; George White, vice president; Oliver Hudson, Recording Secretary; M. B. Measamer, Program Secretary; Percy Buchanan, Treasurer; G. C. Green and W. H. Dilinger, critics; Leslie Jones, editor; Roy Bell, janitor

HIGHLANDERS MADE GOOD SHOWING PAST SEASON

Maryville College fans who have read Southern football summaries during the past few days feel that Maryville made an even better showing this year than they at first realized. Maryville was able to hold Mississippi A. & M. to a 7-7 tie and in the Sunday American last week Coach Heisman mentions six Mississippi A. & M. men among the best in the South.

The men mentioned were Spurlock, center; Patton and Carpenter, tackles; Reece, end; Bobo and Schwill, backs, Coach Heisman classed Spurlock, Schwill and Carpenter as the second best in their respective positions in the entire South.

THE TRAGEDIES OF THE UNPREPARED

Thos. Brooks Fletcher Heard By Largest Crowd of Year. Full of Enthusiasm and Interest. His Second Appearance Here.

When Thos. Brooks Fletcher stepped out on the rostrum Saturday night he received a warm welcome from the audience. The main floor was almost entirely occupied and the gallery was displaying the S. R. O. sign.

He launched immediately into his famous lecture "The Tragedies of The Unprepared". The whole theme and thought of his lecture seemed as if it were prepared especially for a college audience. The tragedy in the lives of those who were unprepared was forcefully presented. Mr. Fletcher treated the subject of success in the world as he knew it to be from the standpoint of a business man.

All who heard this lecture will never forget the end that awaits the unprepared.

The Y. M. C. A., through its manager, Mr. Roy Anderson is to be congratulated on securing Mr. Fletcher, and a third appearance would captivate a Maryville audience as have the past two.

Summer Conference of Students in The Blue Ridge Mountains.

W. H. MORGAN

"Save a dollar a week' is the title of a placard going to each student Y. M. C. A. in the South at this time. This is an advance word concerning the unique gathering of students held every summer in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

"Blue Ridge" is a place unsurpassed in natural beauty, convenience and comfort. Located near the mountain village of Black Mountain, and only fifteen miles from Asheville, it is increasingly becoming the play ground for the entire South. Here are the most majestic mountains of the entire Eastern America-High Top, the Craggies, Black, the Seven Sisters, Clingmans Dome, and Mitchell, the highest east of the Rockies. Mountains climbing therefore ,as well as sight seeing, kodaking, and the like, always occupy a prominent place in one's stay at Blue Ridge. And abundant facilities for tennis, baseball, volley-ball, and swimming, complete the list.

The equipment, too, furnishes every necessity. The spacious Robert E. Lee Hall and the numerous cottages built by the colleges fur-

The new students who will enrol after the holidays are making their selection of rooms now. About one hundred and twenty-five new students are planning to make Maryville College their home the first of the year. With this large addition the student body will number over eight hundred in 1917.

Act III.

The third and last act is the celebration in the Birds' home.

Mrs. Ruggles joins the party after dinner and Mr. Bird is induced by Carol and Uncle Jack to join in the spirit of the party.

Carol goes to sleep while the others are in an adjoining room, and an angel takes away her crutch, then the scene closes.

THE TIGERS ARE COMING

Fast Y. M. C. A. Quintet of Knoxville. An All Star Team. Proffitt Plays A Guard. Highlanders Ready

The Knoxville Y. M. C. A. Tigers will invade Maryville, Wednesday, Dec. 20, but will confine their activities to the college gymnasium and will then attempt to make the Maryville basketball team the victims of their efforts. The game will be called at 8:00 p. m. and as school troubles will be temporarily at an end the Tigers will no doubt draw much more than their usual large crowd. In the past the Tigers have been one of the best drawing games on Maryville's schedule, due largely to Maryville's inability to beat them and the fact that they usually carry with them stars of the first magnitude.

The past games between Maryville and the Tigers have been hard fought and brilliant exhibitions of basketball team work and individual play. Last year by a close score Maryville defeated the Tigers for the first time, but the Tigers had had no real practice when they played Maryville last year, and if they have been able to get together for regular practice this year all attending the game may fairly expect to see a real basketball game in which the final winner may have to be declared after extra time has been played.

The Knoxville Tigers until their team was broken up two years ago had one of the best teams in the South, and at that time had men who were recognized individually as among the best in the South. In order to gain back their old prestige the Tigers are going to make every effort to win their first game. To do this they have placed in their line-up such men as Reeder, Jacobs, Rule and Thompson, all of whom have appeared against Maryville with the Tigers or with U. T. And also Proffitt a former Maryville star.

While Proffitt was playing with M. C. he was known to Maryville College students as he played guard for three years for Maryville and when in condition is a guard feared by all forwards.

Sweeney, a well known all round deaf and dumb athlete will probably be with the team.

The college team will probably use the same line-up as used in the Dummie game and local students are confident that with Garrison and Feeman at forward and Crum putting them over at center that Maryville will be able to drop in more goals than the Tigers. This will be given much consideration toward the East Tennessee championship; the Maryville team is going to put up the fight of the season and a capacity crowd is expected out to see the game. The teams will line-up as follows:

Maryville		Tigers
Feeman	forward	Reeder
Garrison (c.)	forward	Thompson
Crum	center	Rule
Ellis	guard	Jacobs
Clemens	guard	Proffitt

Substitutes for Maryville College, Witherspoon and Sears; Substitutes for Tigers, Webb and Sweeney.

Old fellow, if I could grasp your hand
For a minute you'd understand
Without any fixed up card from me
What a bully Christmas I want yours to be.

When the weather suits you not, try smiling. When your coffee isn't hot, try smiling. When your neighbors don't do right, or your relatives will fight, sure it's hard; but, then, you might—try smiling.

EDITORIALS

From the days of our childhood, courtesy and respect have always been part of our make-up. Every man and woman who has had the privilege of a home knows and appreciates the meaning of those two words. Surely college men and women realize the ill-manners of one who is discourteous and disrespectful.

Last Saturday night in Voorhees Chapel, for the second time this year, a Lyceum number was treated disrespectfully. The first time it occurred was during a musical program, the second time during the address of one of the foremost lecturers on the American platform.

Does it raise the standard of a college and its constituents to have a man stop in the heart of his oration and request a certain couple to stop conversing with each other? Is it a reflection on the guilty parties altogether? No, it is a reflection on Maryville College and its students for allowing such a thing to go on. It is not a faculty matter, but a student affair from start to finish. Of course the faculty might station its members over the house after the order of a police dragnet during a strikers meeting, but that is not the proper solution of this problem of discourtesy.

There is a way whereby the student body might remedy this even though we have no student government system. Granting that the large majority of the student body wishes to stamp out this contemptable practice of annoying the entertainers, each class should appoint a committee of two to meet with the respective committees of the other classes and decide upon ways and means of abolishing such ill-mannered practices.

Let some action be taken at once by the student body, as there are many more entertainments to come this year and it is high time some people were educated to the extent of proper conduct in public places and public gatherings.

THE HISTORY OF AMERICAN LITERATURE

Big House Greets First Mid-Winter. Program of Literary Worth Rendered. Orchestra Augmented for Occasion.

"Is Literary America Deteriorating?" was the question asked, discussed and answered by the Alpha Sigma Literary Society, Friday evening, November 8th, in their annual public entertainment. The plan of answer to such a great question was cleverly and carefully worked out, showing the whole galaxy of America's best writers, with each one giving a portion of his acknowledged best production.

As in the case of many great questions, the evening's discussion started at a simple game of checkers between two men of high literary tastes, but of very different temperaments. For, as is to be expected, one was a pessimist and the other an optimist. Literature was discussed freely from the pessimist's angle of perception. As he praised the early writers, beginning with Capt. John Smith, each appeared in the background and remained long enough to give an idea of his style and message.

A pseudo poet of the present came forward, meanwhile, and gave his chief-d 'ouvre, a fearful combination of imagist and cubist art. This only made the pessimist surer than ever of his position, and he listened with relief to Jonathan Edwards, and other famous literary lights, as impersonated to the best of Alpha Sigma ability. The optimist, a younger man and more in sympathy with the times, now spoke for modern writers, showing their high place in the literary world, which Emerson and others of the past might well respect. These later luminaries gathered as he spoke, around a banquet table and responded to the ocassion with their famous wit and wisdom.

The final scene, a tableau of past and present writers was presented while the optimist made a bright forecast of the future of Literary America.

The performance was well cast showing that the parts had been carefully studied and assigned. So well were spectacles, swallow tail coats, wigs and beards adjusted, that the audience had no difficulty in recognizing favorite writers. Those particularly well represented were Ben Franklin, Poe and Emerson. Rip Van Winkle with his good voice and graceful beard, rising from a suggestive bed of leaves amused the audience by his Irving like scolding of "Wolf". Longfellow himself would have been proud of the "Farewell to Hiawatha". This scene was a favorite with the audience, the braves paddling the canoe and the smoking of the peace-pipe creating just the right "atmosphere".

The quartette produced pleasing changes from literature to music. The negro servant, while thoroughly black and thoroughly "Bill" furnished by means of his shirt and his chuckle, a lighter touch of color and fun.

The evening was thoroughly American and at the same time literary. Literary societies presenting such programs serve a double purpose. They not only prove of great benefit to those who give them, but those who receive are very fortunate in having a review of national literature. America is proud of her great men. To bring them before the minds of the people in America's ideals, to play again the Star Spangled Banner is to impress anew love and faith in that "land of room enough".

mish the most comfortable "quarters". The grounds and buildings are all supplied with electric lights, water works, sewerage and every other modern convenience.

It is here that the men convene their conference just after the close of the college women's gathering. It is here that the students gather for addresses for Bible study, Mission study, for round table discussions, for enlarged conceptions of, and thorough training in, the whole program of religious work in the colleges and preparatory schools. It is here that men have often secured aid on their life work. And it is here through comradeship one student with another and with great student leaders like Robert E. Speer, Bishop McDowell, E. T. Colton, Dr. E. M. Potcat, Dr. O. E Brown, Prof. H. H. Horne, Dr. W. D. Weatherford and others, that men have caught a new vison for themselves, as well as a new sense of their responsibility to their fellowmen. It is here, in short, that men have been inspired to do their work.

Over four hundred men were in attendance at this gathering last June. Already scores of students are planning for the next one June 12 to 21, 1917. Many men will make good the opportunity while at home Christmas to plan for this next greater gathering.

A school teacher received the following note:

"Dear Madam: Please ixcuse my Tommy today. He won't come to skule, because he is acting as time keeper for his father, and it is your fault. U gave him a ixample if a field is 2 miles around how long will it take a man walking 3—miles an hour to walk 2—times around it. Tommy ain't a man so we had to send his father. They went early this morning and father will walk around the field and Tommy will time him, but pleas don't give my boy sich ixamples agin, because my father must go to work every day to support his family." —Exchange.

Doesn't change the things, of course, just smiling. But it cannot make them worse—just smiling. And it seems to help your case, brighten up a gloomy place, then it sort of rests your face—just smiling.—

MISS BROWN HERE THE PAST WEEK

Student Y. W. C. A Secretary of The South Central Field. Y. W. C. A. Conducts Service in Presbyterian Church.

The afternoon meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday, Dec. 10 was conducted by Miss Brown,, a Students' Secretary, who arrived on Saturday the 9th, and who is to be a visitor of the Association for a few days.

Miss Brown, in her very impressive manner, told us of what the Association has done for other girls in giving to them, "Friendship, a larger ideal of life, service, and growth".

Miss Bassett sang a solo, and Miss Mary Miles rendered a piano solo.

By invitation of Dr. Lyle, the Y. W. C. A. took charge of the Sunday evening service at the Presbyterian church. Miss Wright, the president conducted the meeting. The subject "The Relation of the Young Woman's Christian Association to the Church" was divided into four points. Miss Crowe gave a brief history of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Mosely spoke on, "The Y. W. C. A. as a Recruiting Station for the Church". Miss Hunter on "The Share of Y. W. C. A. Girls in the Work of the Church", and Miss Apharine Striplin on, "The Aim of The Y. W. C. A. and That of the Church is the Same." Then Miss Brown spoke very briefly of the scope of the "International and National Work of the Association and its Relation to the Church".

The special music added very greatly to the program. The Y. W. C. A. Orchestra, the quartet and the vocal solos by Miss Herd and Mrs. Sisk.

YOUR MIND
A healthy mind is as necessary as a healthy body

Doubtless God could have made a better berry than the strawberry, but doubtless God didn't.—Izaak Walton.

Doubtless man could make better pictures than the Triangle, but doubtless man hasn't and isn't likely to. See them every Monday and Thursday at the DREAMLAND and be convinced.

TUESDAY, Dec. 12. "Poor Papa", a Triangle-Keystone Comedy featuring DeWolf Hooper. 2 reels. "Pearl of the Army", 2nd. Episode of this wonderful serial featuring Maryville's favorite, Pearl White, 2 reels. "Take two heaping spoonfuls of adventure, a large dash of peril, a goodly portion of mystery, flavor with romnace, and there", said Miss Pearl White, heroine of Pathe's new Military-mystery serial, "Pearl of the Army", the 2nd. episode of which is booked at the Dreamland Theatre today. "You have a genuine elixir of youth". "You will notice", added Miss White, smilingly, "that I have made Sarah Bernhardt's whole recipe—love—just a minor portion of mine. I say a flavor of romance, and I think I speak advisedly because there is nothing so cloying as so-called love when you get too much of it. Is it not so?"

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 13—Paramount Feature in five acts, "The Sowers", featuring Blanche Sweet. There is a timeliness in the presentation on the screen of a story like "The Sowers". Iti s a filmed version of Henry Seton Merriman's widely read novel and the story tells of movements in Russia to free the serfs from political and industrial suppression. In "The Sowers" Blanch Sweet will take the role of the daughter of a royal Russian household and she will have an opportunity to display many beautiful costumes.

THURSDAY, Dec. 14.—Douglass Fairbanks thought there was nothing to live for when the girl he wanted to marry became engaged to another man. So he tried a professional assassin to end it all in "Flirting With Fate", in 5 parts, the latest Triangle Play. But when the girl changed her mind Fairbanks dared not go near enough to the assassin to tell him of his desire for life. When you see thisp icture at this theatre you will appreciate why Triangle Plays are leagues above the average.

FRIDAY, Dec. 15—"Gloria's Romance". The 18th chapter of this beautiful serial holds your interest to the last scene. "Liberty", 2nd. Episode of this great Universal Serial featuring Marie Walcamp, Eddie Polo and other starts. Watch our lobby. 2 reels. "The Surf Girl", a screaming Keystone Comedy in 2 acts, featuring Fritzi Schade. Yes, she's a new one.

SATURDAY, Dec. 16.—Paramount Feature in five parts, "The Moment Before", featuring Pauline Frederick.

MONDAY, Dec. 18—Triangle Feature in 5 parts, "The Deserter" featuring Charles Ray. The Indians Nearly Killed Him. Closer and closer the savage Indians crept to the little band of settlers. Women and children were falling on all sides, and the only chance for rescue of anyone was relief from the fort. Charles Ray risked his life, for the sake of the brave comrades behind him, in the latest Triangle Play—"The Deserter". Under cover of night he eluded all the savages but one, and then it was a race for life. Up hill and down the race continued, and finally ended in a plunge over a 70-foot cliff—one of the most daring pieces of motion picture work ever seen. Shown at this theatre tonight. One Universal Comedy.

FOR A BIGGER AND BETTER MARYVILLE

Vol. 2 No. 12 | Maryville, Tennessee, Tuesday, January 9, 1917 | Five Cents

TUSCULUM WILL APPEAR FRIDAY NIGHT

Highlanders Have Hard Game Ahead. Chance to Get Line on U. T.

After one season's intermission, Tusculum College and Maryville will resume basketball relations, and the teams of these old rivals will meet for the first time in two years, in Bartlett Hall Gym, Friday evening, at 8:00 p. m. Tusculum plays Tennessee on this trip and a comparative strength of Tennessee and Maryville will be possible after this game.

Coach Anderson of Tusculum reports his team as being in perfect physical condition and fully prepared for a hard and gruelling game at a rapid pace. Rumors reaching Maryville also report the Tusculum team as a well experienced team and one which hlans to carry off East Tennessee honors this year. As the East Tennessee teams do not all meet each other this season it will be necessary to select the champions by comparative scores and for this reason and for the reason that one team will be eliminated Friday evening, both teams intend to start the game with a rush and play to their limit throughout the contest.

Ellis will be absent from guard and this with the continued absence of Coach Kiefer will greatly handicapp the local team and all will watch with great interest to see how the new combination works. Witherspoon will probably start at guard, but no doubt McCall, a former well-known all around athlete on the "hill" will also be given a chance at guard.

The game will start promptly at 8:00 p. m. and 20 minutes halves will be played. The teams will probably line-up as follows:

Maryville		Tusculum
Garrison (c)	forward	Watson
Feeman	forward	M. Doak
Crum	center	Fox
Clemens	guard	C. Doak
Witherspoon	guard	Coile

Substitutes for Maryville, McCall, Sears, and Hodge.

FIELD REPRESENTATIVES RETURNED FROM THE EAST

Miss Mary E. Caldwell and Miss Alice A. Gillingham returned from a three months tour of the east before the holidays. The field representatives were working in the interest of the scholarship fund and reported very pleasing results. Everywhere they visited they were accorded a hearty welcome. With headquarters in Philadelphia, New York, and Hartford, a month in each place, they averaged five engagements a week, which is considered excellent progress for field work.

Miss Gillingham was accompanied to Maryville by her aunt, Miss L. H. Gillingham. The Misses Gillingham have apartments in Carnegie Hall, the suite corresponding to the one formerly occupied by Prof. McClenahan.

Miss Caldwell has resumed her position as Dean of Women and Matron of Pearsons.

DEAN BARNES VISITS PREXY IN NEW YORK

The American Association for the Advancement of Science with twenty five hundred members present met in New York City, Dec. 26-31. Dean Barnes, who is a member was present at the different sessions.

On December 27th, the American Psychological Association convened at the same place. Dean Barnes was president of this organization in 1915. Prof. Yerks of Harvard was elected to that office for 1917.

On two different occasions Dr. Barnes saw President Wilson and confered with him. It seems that Prexy is in good health and very much encouraged over the outlook for the success of the Centennial Fund. On January 1st., Dr. Wilson began the soliciting of funds, and he plans to remain at this task until he returns to Maryville in February.

A. S. KIEFER UNABLE TO RETURN TO HILL

Popular Athletic Director Detained in Columbus, Ohio. May be Here For Spring Term.

Owing to the sudden and unexpected death of his father, the day before Coach arrived at his home has caused him to remain in Columbus with his mother and sister indefinitely. It was with the greatest sorrow that the student body learned of Mr. Kiefer's loss and with deep regret his intention of not returning to Maryville for some time.

Coach Kiefer's father conducted a high class photographic studio in Columbus and was a well esteemed business man of that place.

As Athletic Director and Professor of Agriculture, Coach Kiefer was "making good" at Maryville. The basketball season is just getting under way and the squad will miss the "Silent Giant" sorely.

However, it is hoped that matters will be arranged so that the coming of spring and baseball will find Coach again in charge.

Miss Mollie is again in Pearson's "Be it ever so humble there's no place like home". Welcome to our city! !——For the gentlemen to read —Beware fellows! Beware, she's been on the job before. This last statement should suffice.

Over 200 Fellows Like New Home. Student Governing Council Formed. Few Vacancies.

On Jan. 2nd., trunks, suit cases, hat boxes, all kinds of baggage was moved into the handsome new dormitory. Some 200 fellows accompanied their luggage and soon established themselves in their new quarters. All the fixtures and furniture are new and the interior appearance is all that could be desired. The new hall is the crowning glory of the campus, it is the ne plus ultra of all dormitories.

Thursday evening, after supper, the boys of Carnegie Hall met in the chapel for the purpose of electing a council for the hall this year.

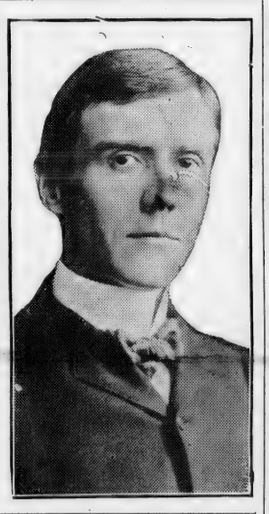
W. W. Haggard was elected president of the council and eleven men were nominated to be voted on by the fellows in the hall. The six getting the highest number of votes to compose the council. The returns from the election, with 105 of the 115 voting precincts heard from give: Crum, 96; James, 93; Dawson, 92; Feeman, 92; Thurmond, 90; Garrison, 68; Briggs, 62; Holmes, 52; Leonard, 50; Logan, 45; Cody, 35.

The purpose of the council is to look after the welfare of the hall, to see that no damage is done to the building and to recommend penalties for those who violate rules.

PROF. D. J. BRITTAIN GOES TO NASHVILLE

Prof. D. J. Brittain and family departed for the capital of the state the first of the year to attend the legislature which is now in session. Mr. Brittain was re-elected for a term of two years in the recent election.

Mrs. Brittain and baby were compelled to return to Maryville on account of the prevalence of measles in Nashville. They hope to be able to join Mr. Brittain in Nashville later in the month.



ALTON PACKARD, CARTOONIST

One of World's Greatest Entertainers. Has Appeared Here Before.

Alton Packard, cartoonist, illustrates his humorous lectures by drawing enormous cartoons in the presence of the audience He carries with him an immense easel, with a large quanitiy of paper and a variety of crayons.

Mr. Packard's splendid evening of entertainment includes not only the cartoons, but also original songs, the accompaniment of which Mr. Packard furnishes on the piano. One of his greatest successes is "When You Get What You Want You Don't Want It."

Mr. Packard has sufficient material with which to give a weeks series of entertainments. The various evenings are known as 'Vanity Fair', 'Uncle Sam's Folks', "Funny People", "Fun and Fancy In Form and Color" and 'Success and How to Dodge It' He is to give one of these entertainments at the chapel on Wednesday night, Jan. 10th, at 8 p. m.

During his career as a cartoonist Mr. Packard has covered practically the entire United States. He has been recalled a number of times in such cities as Boston, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Oklahoma City, Long Beach, Cal., Kansas City and Chicago. He has been upon the Lyceum and Chautauqua platforms for more than twelve years.

Mr. Packard is often referred to as the successor of the late Frank Beard, the famous cartoonist of the Ram's Horn.

The following from the Omaha World-Herald is one typical press notice concerning Mr. Packard's work:

"Packard was all that he was advertised to be—entertaining funny, instructive and in every way satisfactory. While his delineations of American life in cartoons, impersonations, song and story are full of wit, humor and fun, there is a sober thought through it all that says, 'Have a worthy aim in life.'"

"A CENTURY OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE"

Handsomely Bound Volume Received From The Publishers Last Week. A Story of Altruism.

The Echo was the recipient of a copy of Dr. S. T. Wilson's latest work, "A Century of Maryville College." This attractively bound book in the college colors of orange and garnet is the result of much effort and a masterpiece of re-search into the annals of our college's noble history. With over two hundred and fifty pages of interesting and instructive reading matter, interspersed with thirty-six well chosen illustrations, it is truly a character sketch of Maryville College. The intrinsic value of this book can not be counted in dollars and cents, as it brings to every one interested in the college a feeling of greater respect and deeper interest in its past and a stronger desire to brighten its future. The book itself will remain a perpetual monument to the untiring efforts and zeal of its author in behalf of his Alma Mater. Every student should read it and send a copy home.

INTERCLASS BASKET BALL GAMES IN SIGHT. WHO WILL WIN THE RAG?

Committees from the four college classes have been appointed to meet together to arrange for an interclass basket ball league on the "hill" for the winter term. The committee hopes to arrange for two leagues from the college classes, one for the ladies and one for the men, and thus play doubleheader games each time.

The number of games to be played and the schedule will not be announced until next week and it is hoped that soon after the league may get under way.

The committee in charge is to be a permanent one and the final court of appeals in all matters concerning the league. It is to settle upon any disputed games, the eligibility of players, and the officials for the games.

Great interest has already been manifested in the coming Fresh-Soph game and with the entry of the Junior and Senior classes into a league with them the interest has increased and a large attendance is assured for all the games. As has previosuly been the custom for class games, admission will be free.

A large basket ball championship pennant is to be awarded the class winning the championship.

The basket ball talent of the 'hill' seems to be fairly well distributed to the four classes, but the seniors and sophs are slight favorites.

Coming South from Cincinnati after Christmas Holidays in Pullman:

Prof. Johnson talking with Miss Carson when an old friend of Prof. Johnson's comes in.

Prof. Johnson: "Mr. Blank meet Miss Carson"!

Mr. Blank: "Mrs. Johnson de e e-lighted". So you are married Johnson! When did it happen, etc. etc.

Miss Carson: "Very red in face".

Well 1917 you're here,—Welcome! See what progress Maryville will make before they usher you out.

--:--:--

"The world goes merrily on".—Sure, let's keep up and keep up smiling.

--:--:--

"A Century of Maryville College" makes all Maryville students feel proud—both of the book and its author.

--:--:--

Now is when every student must stand back of athletics. We are temporarily without the services of our indominable Coach—Everybody get in back of the basketball teams and help out.

--:--:--

The greatest and most note worthy step taken by the students in the past few years was last Thursday night. The fellows rooming in Carnegie Hall got together and organized a student council to control the actions and conduct of the fellows rooming therein. Of course this is only a step in the evolution of student government. No doubt the other dormitories will follow the lead taken by the fellows in Carnegie. It is a move to be proud of and it will be a great force in bringing student government to Maryville College. The altruistic spirit continues to make its presence known. Let the good work go on.

GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE INSPECTOR HERE

On Monday, Jan. 8th., an inspector, sent by the government to look over the postal situation in Maryville College, spent several hours on the hill. The visit of the inspector followed a petition to the Bureau of Mails in Washington to send a man to investigate the advisability of putting a sub-station on the campus. It is hoped that a favorable report will be sent in and that Maryville College will have a post office of her own. Postmaster Cates of the Maryville city office is very kindly co-operating with the college in its endeavors to get the much needed sub-station.

Seaton's Barber Shop is one of the advertisers, carrying an advertisement since the first issue of the Echo. This shop has become one of the most popular places in town with the students.

A CIRCUS

An Evening of Fun.
Y. W. C. A. Social.

Nothing has ever equalled the circus for drawing a crowd. On Saturday evening, Jan. 6, Pearson's Hall was transformed into the excitement which always attends the advent of a circus. The parade, consisting of Tent Crier, the Circus Band, a number of clowns, and a crowd of people representative of those who follow the parade, drew a large crowd to the main showgrounds in Pearson's.

Pink lemonade, striped stick candy, peanuts and popcorn could be purchased on the grounds by presenting a ticket at the different stands.

The wierd sounds from the tent of, "The lair of the devils", aroused the curiosity of even the Seniors and they forgot their dignity as they elbowed their way into this sideshow.

It was not surprising to see the jamming and pushing that was continually going on in front of the fortune-teller's tent, for what fair maiden does not desire to get a glimpse into the mystic future?

It was almost impossible to get a peep at the "Old Plantation Singers". At each performance, unless you were near that location at the first sound of the music, the crowd was such that those small of stature were deprived of the pleasure of seeing the performance.

The fattest baby in the world was on exhibition, 21 months of age, weight 500 pounds.

The wild woman of Borneo was almost perfect in representation. The creepy sensations which followed a visit to her cage were indescribable.

The cirucs band furnished music at intervals during the evening. The clowns and monkey did their part in adding fun to the occasion.

Everyone went away with much the same feeling as when they went to town on, "circus day".

FRIDAY WAS A BIG DAY ON THE HILL

Friday afternoon the faculty and their wives (those fortunate in having them) entertained the student body in Bartlett Hall. It was the bi-annual reception given by the members of the faculty to the students. Dean Barnes stood at the head of the line and after he had given a hearty handclasp the different members of the "powers that be" did likewise. Refreshments were served and everyone present had an enoyable afternoon.

SNAP AT NIGHT

Following the custom, the good old game of snap was revived again on the first Friday evening after the opening of college. A big crowd was present and the game was fast and rough. Many of the old students came back on the hill just to have a chance to join in this time-honored game. The play lasted from 8:00 p. m. until 10:00 p. m. when the floor was cleared in order that some of the more enthuiastic would have time to rest before breakfast.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE NOW COMPLETE

Manager Crum has completed his basketball schedule for the season, and as at present arranged the schedule includes fourteen games, five local and nine for foreign floors, with a possibility that the Indian team from Kewattin, Wisconsin may be added as a local contest. Of the five local games three are with universities belonging to the S. I. A. A. The other two, one with Tusculum and the other with Knoxville Y. M. C. A. are good teams that always play close games at Maryville, so Maryville fans are assured five good games for the season, besides others that may be arranged later.

The schedule includes a southern trip to Mississippi and Alabama, playing Chattanooga in route, and a trip to Asheville, N. C., and to Greeneville, Tenn.

No definite schedule has been arranged for the second team yet, but it will probably include Murphy College, Jan. 18th., and at a later date Wheat High School, T. M. I., Knoxville H. S., Grant University, and Carson-Newman. The Varsity schedule is as follows:

IT HAPPENED DURING THE HOLIDAYS

Something like one hundred ate three regular meals at the boarding club. Prof. Walker, who had charge of the club as usual, lasted two days and then the regular meals got the best of him and he retired from the front ranks to the base hospital for a week—had la grippe. However, Miss Coulter prepared the menu each meal and they continued to be served in fine style. The folks who went home should have stayed on the hill just to have had an opportunity to get a whiff of sweet aroma from real coffee—lots of things that never graced a table in Pearson's before appeared to appease the hunger of the ones who stayed behind. If you can't believe all this tale just ask any of the many who stayed here and enjoyed the good times.

MR. MOODY NICHOLSON APPOINTED HEAD OF MISSION

At a recent meeting of the Ministerial Association, the resignation of R. A. Young, as superintendent of Mission work, was accepted. Mr. Young resigned owing to other work which would not allow him to be at the Mission in his leisure time. Mr. Moody Nicholson was appointed superintendent and has taken on his new duties. Mr. Nicholson has had experience in church work, having been pastor of a church in Oklahoma for several years. While pastor of this church he raised funds sufficient to construct a handsome brick edifice.

QUESTION FOR DUAL DEBATE DECIDED

The question for the intercollegiate dual debate with Tusculum has finally been decided. It is "Resolved, That the United States Supreme Court should be denied the power of declaring laws unconstitutional."

As yet the question for the triangular debate with Emory-Henry and U. T. has not been decided, but it will probably be decided in time to announce it next week with the results of the preliminaries.

ALUMNI GAVE VARSITY GOOD SCRAP

Maryvillians and students remaining over for the holidays were given a rare treat Friday evening, December 29th, when local Alumni arranged for a game with the Maryville Varsity. The Varsity won by score of 36-30 after a fast and rough contest.

The Varsity was handicapped by two members of the team being away for the holidays, and the Alumni was greatly handicapped by lack of practice and team work; this being the first time any of the Alumni team had played this year.

The first half ended 16-12 in favor of the Alumni. Garrison scored all the Varsity's points in this half, making three field goals and six fouls. But in the second half the Varsity came back with unexpected speed and accurate passing and tossed 11 field goals and two fouls while the best the Alumni could do was to toss seven field goals.

Garrison with 18 points and Ellis with 8 starred for the Varsity. Smith a former Varsity guard with 16 points showed up best for the Alumni, and it was his brilliant playing that kept them so well in the game.

The teams lined up and scored as follows:

Alumni		Varsity
16 Smith (c)	forward	8 Ellis
4 Brittain	forward	18 Garrison (c)
Goddard	center	2 Greer
8 McCall	guard	4 Clemens
2 Calloway	guard	4 Flannery
McReynolds, guard.

Free toss Alumni by Smith 2; Varsity by Garrison 8. Substitutes Alumni, McReynolds for Calloway. Time of periods, 20 minutes each.

Score by periods Varsity, 12 24 36.
Alumni 16 14 30.

A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

"This Year For Christ"—Y. W. C. A.

The first devotional meeting of the year was held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 7, 1917. The subject was, "This Year for Christ". Miss Morton spoke on "The Value of Making Resolutions", then Miss Aletha May sang a very beautiful solo. The leader, Miss Simpson, spoke on "This Year for Christ as a suitable Resolution."

Do not forget the services for next Sunday. Prof. Knapp will speak on "Addition and Subtraction". Every girl who misses this will have missed a great opportunity of hearing something worth while.

JUST A PARAGRAPH

This is just a paragraph. So many paragraphs are written to mean something, and that is the trouble with them. They are compelled to have a point. They are made to jab something or tickle some one. They are either swords or feathers.

But this is just a paragraph. It has given us pleasure to write it. We consider it in the light af relaxation from the arduous duties of this, so to speak, task.

We shall write many more like it in the future. It is a departure. It might go on forever.—Ex.

TUESDAY, Jan. 9th.—"The Closed Road". A World picture featuring House Peters. Its a Brady made. "The Katzenjammer Kids". That good cartoon that pleases everybody.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 10th.—"Clara Kimball Young" in "THE COMMON LAW". This great picture has been returned by the request of scores of our patrons. The story of "The Common Law" is pretty generally known, but for those who might not have read Chamber's startling novel, it might be said that it is just what the name implies a story of the common law and how near its dangers came to reaching a good girl.

THURSDAY, Jan. 11th—7th Chapter "Lass of the Lumberlands", featuring Helen Holmes. There are more big scenes in single chapters of this than the average serial contains in its entire length. Vogue Comedy, featuring Rube Miller. A regular rib tickling comedy. Don't fail to see Rube.

FRIDAY, Jan 12th.—"A Woman Alone", featuring Alice Brady. The title is one which should sink deeply into the minds of all husbands and husbands-to-be. Carried away by the bustle and excitment of the financial world, few men realize how utterly lonely the averge home can be. At least there are friends or theatres to go to evenings in the cities, but even those pleasures are denied the heroine of this beautiful feature. Every man, woman and child should see this picture. (Don't forget its Brady made.) International Split Reel. Cartoon and Educational Film, (worth the price of admission alone).

SATURDAY, Jan. 13th.—"The Shielding Shadow", featuring Grace Dearmond, Leone Bary and Ralph Kellard. Tenth Episode. The plot developes over considerable space in the number entitled "The Vanisihng Mantle" and with swift action there is a good deal of suspense. Come and see Luke operate his Movie Show. One big laugh from start to finish. "Luke's Movie Muddle". "Hearst News No. 107." A newspaper in pictures.

HIGHLANDERS TOOK TIGERS INTO CAMP. MAY PLAY HERE AGAIN

Wednesday evening, Dec. 20th, the Knoxville Tigers and the Maryville Varsity met on the local floor, and after a fast and rough game the locals were returned winners by score of 30-24.

But in the meantime the Tigers had put up such a fierce resistance and had afforded the fans such a fast rough and tumble affair that Manager Crum, owing to the great number of requests, has decided to have the Tigers return later in the season.

The Tiger defeat was due to the rush and punch put in the game by the Highlanders.

The best showing for the Tigers was made by Donaldson and Reeder and this in spite of the fact that the Maryville defense was almost entirely concentrated on Reeder during the entire game.

Feeman and Ellis starred for Maryville and it was the rushing and passing of these two men that enabled Maryville to keep a safe lead. Ellis was playing on the home floor in his first big game and his showing against the Tigers was great and he was continually in the limelight.

The Tigers scored first on a foul by Reeder and three minutes later Maryville scored on a foul by Garrison.

The first half ended 17-14 in favor of Maryville, but just before the whistle the Tigers started a rush that threatened to give them a long lead if continued.

The second half opened with rough play and few goals were thrown as the men were trying to "show up" each other individually.

Crum was forced to retire from the game at the beginning of the second half on account of a broken nose.

The half ended 13-10 in favor of Maryville.

The teams lined up and scored as follows:

Maryville		Tigers
4 Garrison		4 Thompson
	(c.) forward
12 Feeman	forward	2 Reeder (c)
Crum	center	6 Davidson
8 Clemens	guard	4 Bittle
6 Ellis	guard	Hoofer

Foul goals for M. C., Garrison 2; for Tigers, Reeder, 2.

Substitutes for M. C., Garrison for Crum; Ellis for Garrison; Witherspoon for Ellis. Substitutes for Tigers, Reeder for Davidson.

Score by periods, M. C. 17 13 30. Tigers 14 10 24.

Referee, McCall, M. C. Umpire, Davis, C. & N. Timekeeper, Harper, M. C. Time of periods, 18 minutes each.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM TO CLASH WITH MURPHY CO-EDS

The Murphy College girls' basketball team will journey down to Maryville Monday, Jan. 15th. and meet the Maryville girls at that time in what the Maryville girls consider the hardest local game of the season.

The Murphy team has appeared in Maryville before and while here have shown themselves to be the scrappiest girls' team and to have more pep than any other girls' team that has ever played in Maryville. Maryville and Murphy have met twice, Maryville winning once and Murphy once, but Murphy has run up a much larger score for the two games than Maryville. Miss Massey forward on the Murphy team often scores more points alone than the entire opposing team and those who have seen her play know why she is referred to as one of the best forwards on a girls' team in this section.

The Maryville line-up has been changed somewhat since last term, as with the return to school of Miss Stinnett, Miss Webb went to forward and Miss Stinnett to center. It is thought that the new line-up will give better team work and it has been decided to try it at least for one half.

The game will start promptly at 8:00 p. m. and twenty minute halves will be played.

The teams will line-up as follows:

Maryville		Murphy
Webb (c)	forward	Montgomery
Marshall	forward	Massey (c)
S. Stinnett	center	D. Cates
Birchfield	guard	Flannigan
M. Stinnett	guard	M. Cates

Substitutes for Maryville, Misses Cameron and Hackworth.

FOR A BIGGER AND BETTER MARYVILLE

Vol. 2 No. 13 | Maryville, Tennessee, Tuesday, January 16, 1917 | Five Cents

TENNESSEE NEXT ON SCHEDULE

Highlanders to Meet Vols In Knoxville. Dope Looks Good.

The Maryville College and the University of Tennessee basketball teams will meet for the first time in three years, Saturday, January 20, at the gym of the Central Y. M. C. A. at Knoxville.

The last time these teams met was in Maryville when the University, due to the playing of Lum Reeder and Jacobs, defeated Maryville, running up a large score. These two men are still with the University team, but judging from the comparative scores of the Tusculum-Tennessee game, and the Tusculum-Maryville game, Maryville has in the meantime developed players more than the equal of the Vols.

Saturday's game with Tusculum was Coach Bender's squad's first game and his team may fairly be expected to make great improvement during the week for he is recognized as a man who plays but one game at a time.

It is quite probable that Crum will be able to be in the game Saturday, and with him playing it would seem that only over confidence and a miraculous development on the part of Tennessee can prevent a Maryville victory.

Maryville was able to d feat Tusculum 83-11, while Tennessee was only able to run up a score of 36-11 against Tusculum.

Maryville will enter the game great favorites and with the best chance of defeating the University in the history of the College. Judging from the games with Tusculum the defense of Maryville and Tennessee is about equal, but the goal shooting of Garrison and Feeman makes Maryville great offensive favorites.

The game will be stayed at 8:00 p. m. at the Central Y. M. C. A. gym and it is thought that Maryville will have on hand a large number of followers to lend their support to the team.

Twenty minute halves will be played and the teams will line-up as follows:

Maryville		Tennessee
Feeman	forward	Garret
Garrison (c.)	forward	J. Reeder
Crum	center	L. Reeder
McCall	guard	Jacobs (c)
Clemens	guard	Wolfe

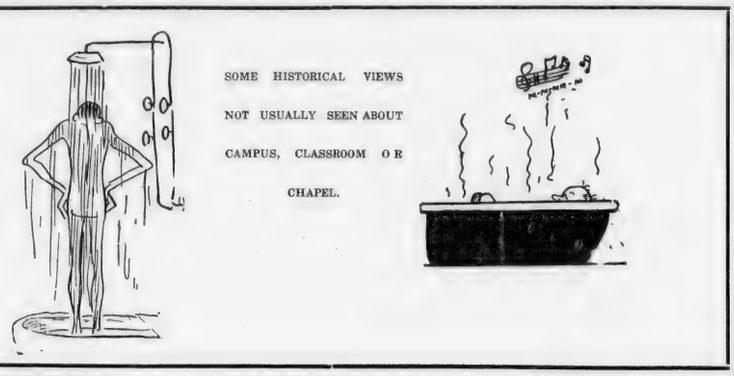
Substitutes for Tenessee: Harrison, Davidson, Wexeer, Tucker, Calloway, Gentry, Schubert, Lander; for Maryville: Sears, Hodges, Scruggs, Davidson, Witherspoon.

THE LATIN-AMERICAN CLUB ORGANIZED

January 12 about ten Latin-American students met and organized The Latin-American Club. And the following officers were elected:

Pres., J. O. Candelaria; Vice-Pres. Luis G. Cuevas; Sec., Manuel Hernandez; Treas. Benito Garmandia.

Glancing over the pages of the history of Maryville College, there does not appear one of its kind. The members of this club endeavor to meet and learn the different expressions used in the different Latin-American countries. They expect to obtain a great enjoyment out of these meetings.



DID HE SWEAR?

Miss Clayton: (Reading in German II.) "Am Abhang der Erhohten Dammstrasse." (Puzzled.) What does this mean. Professor?"

Prof. Schaeffer: (Translating.) "The sloping, raised-up Damm Street."

Class: "O-h-h-h-h-h!"

Professor: "Don't you folks go out of here and tell the students that I swore! If you do, I'll flunk every one of you".

DEBATING TEAMS WERE CHOSEN

Prelims Held Last Week. Contest For Places Close. Four Teams Named.

The debating preliminaries held last week, were a decided success from the standpoint of bringing out debating material. Of the twenty-two men who tried out, sixteen were selected to represent Maryville in the coming debates. The contest in the preliminaries was very close, as shown by the fact that no two of the judges had the same man graded first on his list and that the decision on some was too close to be comfortable.

Of the sixteen men chosen, eight debate against Tusculum in the dual debate and eight go against Emory and Henry and the University of Tennessee in the triangular. The affirmative team which debates Tusculum at Maryville is composed of Messrs. E. K. James, Capt.; E. W. Mounce, W. W. Haggard and J. K. Witherspoon, alt. The negative team which debates Tusculum at Tusculum is composed of Messrs. Deck Williams, Capt.; Joel Georges, D. H. Briggs, and Herbert Kiger, alt. The third Friday night in March has been set as the time for the Tusculum debate and already both teams are hard at work gathering materials and discussing points on the question.

In the triangular debate, the affirmative team, which debates the University of Tennessee at Maryville is composed of Messrs. Horace Dawson, Capt.; Robert Adams, E. S. Campbell, and W. H. McCord, alt. The negative team, which debates Emory and Henry at Emory, Va., is composed of Messrs. W. B. Holmes, Jr., Capt.; H. B. Frater, W. Y. Hayes, and O. H. Logan, alt.

The question for the triangular debate has not yet been finally decided, but it will in all probability be compulsory arbitration for labor disputes.

Maryville has a big proposition on her hands this year in putting out four teams but the splendid work done in the preliminaries and the active interest taken in the debate by all who made the teams, give indications of a winning year for Maryville. For a long time intercollegiate debating has been on the decline here, but this year the interest has revived and under the efficient leadership of Prof. Johnson, Maryville should win all four debates.

MAY BE REPEATED SOON

The many requests that have been pouring into the Expression Department for a return of "The Bird's Christmas Carol" may yet receive a favorable reply. A number failed to attend the first time it was produced and most of those who did, want to see "the kids" in action once more.

CARNEGIE HALL WELFARE ASSOCIATION

The following resolutions were drawn up by the Board of Councilmen and ratified by all living in the hall:

Whereas, we the students of Carnegie Hall support the principle of student self government; and, whereas, in order to protect our hall and ourselves, we have seen fit to organize ourselves into what is known as the Carnegie Hall Welfare Association, having a president and board of six councilmen. Therefore be it

Resolved: That we, as members of this association, pledge ourselves to gentlemanly conduct and further pledge to report to the board of councilmen any ungentlemanly conduct coming to notice. Be it further

Resolved: That we support any recommendations that our president and board of councilmen shall deem wise to make.

The hall will be canvassed this evening for sanction of everyone.

THETA EPSILON MIDWINTER SATURDAY

Animated Lecture. Graphic Description of Effects of War on Women.

Saturday night at 8:00 p. m. the Theta Epsilon Literary Society will give the third mid-winter entertainment of the year. The subject will be "The Effects of War on Women". The sketch is divided into two parts. There will be four scenes. Each scene will depict the work of women in one of the nations now at war. Humor and pathos have been combined in such a manner as to make the program exceedingly interesting. The last scene, and climax of the evening, will show America responding to the S. O. S. call from Europe.

The Theta's have long been known as the producers of interesting and entertaining mid-winter programs. They will not disappoint the large audience which always attends the literary classic of the year.

WHALIN—ADAMS

To the many friends of Miss Alma ("Jim") Adams and Mr. Fred R. Whalin the word of their marriage will come as a great surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Whalin, both members of the class of 1916 were popular students during their college career.

Mrs. Whalin had been teaching school near Jellico, Tenn., since September, but resigned at Christmas time.

Mr. Whalin is with the Little River Lumber Company as civil engineer, a position he has held since last June.

Mrs. Whalin's former home was Union, S. C., while Mr. Whalin hails from Oklahoma. They will make Elkmont their future home.

TUSCULUM SWAMPED BY HIGHLANDERS

Fast One-Sided Game. Maryville Shows Much Speed. Feeman and Garrison Star

When the Maryville and Tusculum basketball teams came on the floor Friday evening the large crowd present anticipated a close affair on account of the rivalry between the two schools. Both teams had been working to the limit in preparation for the game. But the only excitement came in the second half when the Tusculum players tried a rough house game and tried to play the men while Maryville played the ball. The visitors received even a shorter end in this department than they had already received while trying to play the ball.

Feeman and Garrison starred for Maryville. Feeman making 18 field goals and Garrison 10, besides 7 foul goals, while McCall scored six goals and Clemens four.

The Maryvillians started the first half with a rush, and during the first ten minutes run up more than 25 points. The shooting of goals during this time was phenomenal and the accuracy of the passing and the team work was a revelation.

Garrison was easily putting it over Ramsey at center and the signals were working as smoothly as by clock work. Feeman and McCall were having little trouble with their end of the game and the manner in which Clemens at guard played the defense and kept the ball returned to Maryville's end of the floor was beautiful. Witherspoon started his first game as a regular and played a magnificent defensive and passing game. At the end of the half the score stood 45-3 in favor of Maryville.

During the second half the Tusculum team made its best showing, and the game during this period was livened up considerably by the attempted rough play of the Tusculum players. The score for the half was 18 to 8.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Maryville		Tusculum
35 Feeman	forward	1 M. Doak (c)
12 McCall	forward	4 O. Ramsey
27 Garrison (c)	center	2 B. Ramsey
8 Clemens	guard	C. Doak
Witherspoon	guard	4 Benson

Referee, Wexler, U. T.; Timekeeper, Harper, M. C.; Field Goals: Maryville, Feeman, 18; Garrison, 10; McCall, 6; Clemens, 4; Tusculum: O. Ramsey, 2; Benson, 2; B. Ramsey, 1; Foul Goals: Maryville, Garrison, 7; Tusculum, M. Doak 1. Time of halves, twenty minutes.

MURPHY CO-EDS PLAY GREAT GAME

Defeat Maryville Girls In Fast Game. Miss Massey the Star for Murphy.

Believing that gallery support goes a long way towards victory the Murphy College girls' team arrived in the city yesterday, accompanied by a large number of about the most loyal and enthusiastic rooters that ever visited college "hill".

On a comparative score basis using the K. H. S. game of comparison Maryville had almost two to one as good a team as did Murphy, but the comparison failed and all Murphy hopes and boasts centered in Miss Massey at forward materialized and the end of the first half found Murphy with a doubled score and a lead that Maryville would never overcome.

The game was attended by the largest crowd of the season and was full of pep and fight to the finish. The Murphy team showed good all-round work and although there was much evidence of team work and combined effort on the part of the Maryville players their goal shooting was off and a large number of shots went wide of the mark. With only two minutes to play in the last half the Maryville players started a rally in which Misses Hackworth and Marshall made desperate efforts to overcome a ten-point lead, but were able to cut it down to only three points before the final whistle blew, but at this time they were going at such a pace that a great sigh of relief went up from the Murphy section with the sound of the final whistle.

Murphy took a big lead in the first half, Miss Massey scoring 14 points to Maryville's 7, but in the second half the Maryville guards shifted and Miss Massey was able to score only three field goals. The score for the second half was Maryville 13, Murphy 9.

Miss Massey's performance at forward made her easily the star for Murphy as she scored 21 of their total points, but her efforts were aided greatly by the playing of Dixie Cates at center, and Miss Flannigan at guard.

Miss Marshall at forward scoring 12 of Maryville's points and Miss Webb at center stand for Maryville, but the team work of Miss Hackworth at forward was also a feature. Misses Cameron and Burchfield played a brilliant defensive game and their returning of the ball, especially in the second half was exceptionally good.

The team lined-up and scored as follows:

Maryville		Murphy
6 Hackworth	forward	21 Massey
14 Marshall	forward	2 Montgomery
Webb (c)	center	D. Cate
Burchfield	guard	Ingle
S. Stinnett	guard	Flannigan

Field goals, Maryville: Hackworth 2; Marshall, 6; Murphy: Montgomery, 1; Massey, 9; Foul goals, Maryville, Hackworth, 2; Marshall, 2; Murphy: Massey, 3. Substitutes for Maryville, Cameron for Stinnett; for Murphy, M. Cate for Ingle. Time of halves, 15 minutes. Referee and Uumpire, alternate, Weisbecker and Miss Harrison. Timekeeper, Walker, M. C.

With the formation of a Prep and a College Debating Council and the selection of teams to debate against other colleges in this section, things forensic have made rapid strides in the past two months.

The Prep teams are hard at work on their dual debate with Berea College. The College teams, chosen after the recent preliminaries, are gathering material for their respective debates.

It was not many years ago that Maryville stood out in the front ranks in oratory and debate. This year she is coming into the foreground once more.

Orations and debates are as much a part of college activities as athletic sports and should receive a corresponding amount of support.

The debating teams, both prep and college, are made up of the best that can be found on the hill. The student body believes this and is going to support them from the start to the finish.

Let this year be the greatest year Maryville has ever known in oratory and debate.

In last week's issue an unintentional error was made.

Dean J. C. Barnes was stated to have been president of the American Psychological Association in 1915. He was president of the Southern Psychological Association, which is a division of the American Association, during the year 1915.

JUDGE PRESTON ADDRESSES STUDENTS

"God's Golden Age".

Judge Preston, who graced the bench of Atlanta, for 10 years, spoke to the students in chapel, Monday morning.

Judge Preston, during his term of office, tried about 20,000 cases annually and states that 75 per cent of these cases were the result, directly and indirectly of the liquor traffic.

The Judge is very optimistic regarding the future. In fact he calls this period in the world's history, "God's Golden Age".

He seemed very jubilant over the fact that the Supreme Court declared constitutional the Webb-Kenyon Bill recently, prohibiting inter-state shipping of the "stuff".

Judge Preston is not blind to the hard fight that the liquor interests are putting up. He stated that 43,664 gallons of liquor were shipped into and sold in Knovxille, Tennessee, during the last four months of 1916. These were sold at forty cents for half a pint, under the sobriquet of "a boy".

Judge Preston stated he was convinced that Maryville is the best school in the South.

MARYVILLE TO HAVE TURKEY DAY GAME NEXT YEAR

For the first time in many years Maryville football fans are assured a Thanksgiving game on the home lot. Manager Bryson and Manager Dugger of Tusculum got together Friday during the Tusculum basketball team's visit on the "hill" and arrangements were completed for a two-year contract, which gives Maryville the 1917 Thanksgiving day game with Tusculum and the 1918 game for Thanksgiving day goes to Tusculum.

Mr. Bryson is having much success with his schedule and already the following games have been contracted for: Emory-Henry at Emory, Va., King College at Bristol, University of Tennessee at Knoxville, Tusculum at Maryville and Centre of Kentucky at Maryville.

The Mississippi A. & M. manager desires a game with Maryville to be played at Starkville, Miss., and this may be scheduled. The schedule will also include a game with the University of Chattanooga, at Chattanooga; Roanoke at Maryville, or Roanoke; and either S. W. P. U. or Cumberland University at Maryville, and Grant University at Maryville for the opening game.

The schedule as shown above is a good one and with the several good trips and home games should attract a number of promising young athletes to the "hill" for next year.

MATRICULATION VERY LIGHT NOW

To date 684 students have matriculated. At this time last year 692 students had registered. There are a few students who will enter late and it is thought that this term's record will surpass the corresponding term last year.

A CUMBERLAED UNIVERSITY MAN SAYS:

INTER-CLASS BASKET BALL LEAGUE FORMED

Schedule of Games Arranged. Teams of Both Men and Women. Trophies For Winners.

The college interclass basketball league committees met Saturday morning and were formally organized into one committee with H. B. Frater as permanent chairman.

The following students represented their classes: Ann Creswell and M. B. Crum, '17, Reed Garrison and Eleanor Mosely, '18, Ethel Burchfield and H. B. Frater, '19, Ocey Webb and McLaughlin, '20. In most instances those representing their classes are either manager or captain of their respective teams.

By a unanimous vote it was decided to eliminate all varsity squad players from both the ladies' and the men's league. Whereupon Messrs. Crum and Garrison withdrew the request of the Senior and Junior classes for a team in the men's league.

It was then decided to have the girls' league organized with four teams and to play each Saturday for six weeks and also that the Freshmen and Sophomore boys play six games, one each week until the six have been played. It was also agreed by a unanimous vote that after six weeks' play to permit any team to use Varsity men or women in its class. At that time the Juniors and Seniors will contest for final championship with either the Fresh or Soph boys according to which has won in their series, but the girls' teams will continue as a four team league during the six weeks.

Handsome trophies are to be awarded the classes winning final honors in each league.

The first game will be played Saturday, January 20th., when the Freshmen and Sophomore boys meet and also two girls' teams.

Judging from the interest already manifested, especially in Baldwin and Pearsons Halls, the largest crowd of the year will be on hand to help successfully inaugurate Maryville's first inter-class series.

Admission is to be free.

FEEMAN RESIGNS BASE-BALL MANAGERSHIP—McCALL ELECTED

At the meeting Friday of the Athletic Board of Control H. W. Feeman tendered his resignation as baseball manager for the coming season on account of other duties making it impossible for him to give the necessary time to the work of arranging a schedule and managing the team. The Board then elected Newt. McCall for manager for the 1917 season.

McCall has played centerfield on the Varsity for three years and is known and respected by all players and coaches as the best outfielder in East Tennessee.

The schedule for the season will be announced soon.

ATTENTION! !

Now that our President is out in the wide, wide world working for a Bigger, Better Maryville, let us who are getting wise and weighty here, not become so absorbed in Trig, Snaps, Theism, Moonshine and the rest that we forget all about the Forward Fund. In his last chapel talk he told us how we might help; and there are many ways. If any movement is started by which the students can show their practical interest in this product of altruism, our Alma Mater, will YOU be for it?

BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO MEET FEBRUARY 7th.

The semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of Maryville College, which usually takes place about the middle of January has been postponed. The chairman of the board has sent notices to all the members informing them of the change of date. Dr. S. T. Wilson will be in Maryville on February 7th and will be able to meet with the directors at that time.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Dedicated to Herb. Jordan and Harry Ferntheil:

A certain young man around Maryville College wanted to take a girl that didn't belong to him to church last Sunday morning. In his proposal to take her to listen to the sermon, he used this beautiful language:

"Will you allow me the excruciating beatitude of transporting your feminine personality thru the ether of this Mundane sphere of the solar system from Pearson's Hall under the glorified rays of the winter's moon (shine) to the edifice constructed and dedicated to divine Meditation, and to perfect the nocturnal delectation by wending our way back to Pearson's under the azure canopy, after the sidereal illuminaries have sought their resting place below the horizon of the occident"?

What do you think she replied?

For the best five answers (which will be published in the next issue of the "Highland Echo") the staff will give the authors the extreme delight of seeing their names in print.

Place answers in Echo box, Anderson Hall.

THIS IS UNCANNY.

Are figures clairvoyants? This looks like it.

Put down the number of your living brothers.

Multiply by two. Add three. Multiply the result by five.

Now add the number of your living sisters. Multiply the total by ten.

Add the number of your dead brothers and sisters. Substract 150 from the total.

The right-hand figure will be the number of deaths, the middle figure the number of living sisters, and the left-hand figure the number of living brothers.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Y. W. C. A. ADDRESSED BY PROF. KNAPP

On Addition and Subtraction. Mission Study Courses will Start.

On Sunday afternoon, January 14, the Y. W. C. A. was favored with an excellent address by Prof. Knapp on, "Addition and Subtraction". The association greatly appreciates his kindness in speaking. The Misses Moore sang, "Out of My Bondage".

The Association will begin two mission study courses on next Wednesday, January 17th. One is to be a lecture course on, "The Problems of South America". Prof. Johnson will have charge of the class. Meeting place Bainonian Hall. The other class will study Dr. Wilson's book, "The Southern Mountaineer". Miss Jackson who has had several years experience with the work in the mountains of West Virginia, will teach this class in Baldwin Parlors.

These classes are for the instruction of any girl who wishes to attend. It is the desire of the Association that a large number of the girls, whether members of the Association or not, shall take advantage of the opportunity offered by these courses.

Y. M. C. A.

On Sunday, Jan. 14, Prof. E. W. Davis led the Devotional Service, speaking on the topic, "Picking up the Little Things". The common things that are missed ordinarily are the things which make or mar the college and future life.

The talk was very strong and presented so that college men could not fail to understand their duty in regard to the things that are apparently small in themselves, but when taken in the aggregate comprise so much of college life.

The attendance at the Sunday afternoon service has been small. The cabinet is trying in every way to make these services of the highest type, securing speakers of known ability, and having the meetings short and snappy. The meetings never last more than an hour and are usually shorter. The time spent at the service is time invested in a great movement so that the cabinet feels justified in asking for a large attendance every Sunday afternoon.

Two mission study classes will begin next Sunday. One conducted by Candelaria will take up the question of "Mexico Today". and the other conducted by McNutt will deal with the "Present World Situation", using the text of John R. Mott. Both of these courses are open to any of the men, and the attendance counts as a Sunday School credit. The meeting place for Candelaria's class is in Alpha Sigma Hall and McNutt's class will meet in Athenian hall.

Wolf will lead the service of Sunday. Jan. 21st.

THE PLANTS IN THE DINING ROOM

Did you ever stop long enough to look at the many plants placed in the dining room window sills. Were they not there they would be missed. Yet some people never fail to miss brushing them when entering or leaving the room. Some coffee has even been thrown on them. Of course human beings can endure coffee, yet the poor plants have trouble to digest it. Give the plants a chance, they add to the appearance of the room.

RHETORIC CLASSES LARGEST IN HISTORY

Never before have there been so many students in the two classes in College Rhetoric. Dr. Hoyt is teaching the classes this year and the work is well under way.

There are 74 in one division, and 65 in the other. The reason for such large classes is the great number of Freshmen this year.

The course in Rhetoric is one of the most popular of the required subjects, and is very helpful in whatever line of work one may take up.

PACKARD'S EVENING PLEASED LARGE CROWD

Packard was all he was advertised to be. He had his audience, which was large, with him after his first few humorous remarks. His cartoons were drawn very cleverly and rapidly. His audience was never left to sleep and dream while he was drawing as he kept a constant verbal strain flowing. His caricatures of the different types from the several parts of "U. S. A." drew hearty and deserving applause.

The piano seemed to be as familiar to Mr. Packard as his crayons. The many pleasing songs kept him at the key board longer than he usually spends there during his program. The little ditty. "When You Get What You Want You Don't Want It", was the hit of the evening, as was prophesied by the advance notice.

It was a most enjoyable evening and Mr. Packard is a versatile entertainer, yet he always has in mind the ideal of his life, "Make Something Worth While".

The last number on the Lyceum Course will be Friday night, Jan. 26.. the Panama Singers.

MATERIAL FOR CHILHOWEAN MUST BE IN

Friday, January 19, is the final date set by the staff of the annual for all material to be in their hands. It is imperative that this be attended to at once by the committees of the respective classes and organizations.

The Chilhowean, the year book of Maryville College, promises to be up to standard this year. The class of 1918 is publishing it this year and every effort is being made to make it the "best ever". Remember the final date, Friday, Jan. 19.

FOR A BIGGER AND BETTER MARYVILLE

Vol. 2 No. 14 | Maryville, Tennessee, Tuesday, January 23, 1917 | Five Cents

CHANCE TO SEE VOLS IN ACTION

Tennessee May Play Here Saturday Night. Mississippi Trip Called Off.

Manager Crum of the varsity basketball team found it necessary to call off his Mississippi trip for this week on account of Mississippi A. & M. cancelling because they do not have an adequate gymnasium.

Local fans, however, may have reason to rejoice for arrangements have about been completed for the visit of the Tennessee team to Maryville Saturday evening.

If the final arangements are completed local fans will enjoy the first visit of a U. T. basketball team to Maryville in several years, and the local management predicts the largest crowd that has ever witnessed a basketball game in Maryville and in view of this fact arrangements are being made for extra seating capacity in the gymnasium.

Coach Bender of the University would not say positively that his team would come over Saturday, but he indicated that they would and as some members of the team are very desirious of getting another chance at Maryville it is considered almost certain that they will come over Saturday.

The game in Knoxville Saturday was said to have been the best ever played on the Y. M. C. A. court, and a second game between Maryville and Tennessee would be a real basketball show.

Tennessee would be at a greater advantage on the Maryville court on account of its size, because they are unable to carry the ball consistently to their end on a long court such as was played on at Knoxville, and besides with one or two exceptions all the members of the University squad have played on the Maryville court, while Captain Jacobs and Lum Reeder are about as familiar with the Maryville court as they are with that of the Y. M. C. A. at Knoxville.

If the arrangements are completed for the game a mass meeting will be held Friday evening to practice yells and to get the cheering squad in readiness for the game.

The game if played will begin promptly at 8:15.

Miss Fanson Gives Address

The devotional meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on January 21, was led by the Student Volunteers. Miss Fanson, a member of the Band, conducted the meeting and gave an impressive and very helpful address on the subject, "What is Worth While?" This was followed by an open meeting giving the girls an opportunity to speak of some of the things they considered worth while to them.

The Junior class is to lead the meeting n next Sunday, January 28, subject "Throw Away Your Hammer and Get a Horn". Every girl is especially invited to be present.

SEASON OPENED WITH A RUSH

Interclass League Shows Class. Big Crowd. Enthusiasm Ran High.

The inter-class basketball league opened Saturday afternoon and from the interest and enthusiasm shown in the opening game the league is going to be about the liviest organization on the hill this winter. A large crowd was out for the games Saturday and each team had on hand a large number of supporters.

Three games were played and the dope was upset in every instance for each of the losing teams appeared on paper to be the better.

The Fresh-Soph girls' game was the real feature of the afternoon, the Freshmen winning by a score of 6-4.

The girls' games were much faster than usual and each team worked with such energy and pep that there was at no time a lack of interest. The closeness of the score in the Fresh-Soph made the results of the game in doubt until the final whistle.

No varsity squad players are on any team, but the games Saturday showed that there is an abundance of material on the hill from which to draw the future varsity teams.

The first game of the afternoon was the Junior-Senior girls' contest which was won easily by the Juniors by score of 14-5. The Juniors showed the best work of any of the girls' teams, and the playing of Miss Moseley at center and Miss Simpson at forward was a feature. For the Seniors Misses Sheddan and Striplin played best. The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Seniors		Juniors
3 Striplin	forward	10 Simpson
Akerstrom	forward	4 Brockelhurst
Mitchell	center	E. Moseley
Hickey	guard	Knapp
Pleasants	guard	E. Henry

Field goals, Seniors: Striplin 1; Sheddan 1; Juniors: Simpson 5; Brockelhurst 2; Foul goals, Seniors: Striplin 1; Substitutes, Sheddan for Akerstrom.

The second contest was between the Fresh and Soph girls and was a real fight from start to finish. The first half ended with a tie score of 4-4, but in the second half Miss Hayes brought the entire audience to its feet with a sensational shot from a difficult angle and this was the winning shot for it was the only goal made during the half.

For the Freshmen the work of Misses Wells and Hayes at forward and of Miss Templin at guard made them the stars. Miss Davis starred for the Sophs. The line-up and scoring was as follows:

Freshmen		Sophomore
4 Wells	forward	4 Davis
2 Hayes	forward	Bailey
Newton	center	Howard
Templin	guard	Thompson
Henry	guard	D. Clayton

Field goals for Freshmen: Miss Wells 2; Miss Hayes 1; for Sophs: Miss Davis 2; Time of halves 12 1-2 minutes; Referee, Feeman.

The third game was between the Freshmen and Sophomore boys and was exciting at all times, due to the intense rivalry between the two

PANAMA SINGERS FRIDAY NIGHT

Final Number On Lyceum Course. Male Quartette Widely Known.

The Panama Singers will appear Friday night, Jan. 26th., in Voorhees Chapel. A synopsis of the evening's entertainment follows:

Four graduates of the same well known school of engineering are at work together in Panama.

They are impressed with the magnitude of the project, fully informed of its history, interested in the native people and romantically touched by the love songs of the southern country. They are a thousand miles and many months from home. They are young men.

The program opens with the boys in their quarters at evening. They sing the oft sung college and campus songs. Many darky songs and southern jubilees follow.

Their thoughts return to their present purpose in Panama, as set forth in the stirring song, "In Panama", especially written and composed for this timely program. The Indian days in Panama are portrayed in the original song, "The Lament of Aztec". The attempt of the French to build a canal through Panama is characterized in "The Failure of the French".

The program is Pan-American, as it includes the Spanish-Mexican, the Indian, the Negro and the American songs. Many of the popular songs of the day suitable for such a program are sung.

The program concludes with a medley of song hits of the evening.

This number will bring to a close one of the most popular Lyceum Courses ever given under the Y. M. C. A.'s management.

Manager Anderson has provided numbers that were both entertaining and highly instructive. The large number of patrons' only regret is that the Panama Singers is to be the last number of the course.

The fewer promises a man makes, the more he is sure to keep.

HIGHLANDERS DEFEATED UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE QUINTET IN KNOXVILLE

Vols Outclassed. Game Rough and Tumble Affair. Final Score 21-13.

The Varsity basketball team swept aside Saturday night with a grand rush the old idea that the orange jersied warriors of Tennessee are a hoodoo for Maryville by a score of 21 to 13. They were able for the first time in many years to return home with the scalp of a Tennessee athletic team at their belt.

The University students realizing that the inevitable turning of the road had come had on hand a large number of rooters in an attempt to bear up the spirits of their warriors and to freeze out Maryville, but likewise local followers had not overlooked the fact of giving support to the Highlanders and a large number of students and alumni gathered at the Y. M. C. A. building to give their support.

The Maryville team was considerably out-weighed, but at no time were the Vols able to make this count for anything for the speed of the Highlanders took advantage of the large Y. M. C. A. court and at times passed the ball so completely around the Vols that it seemed as if the Highlanders were having a little practice passing the ball.

The score of 21-13 does not indicate the real superiority of the Maryville team and U. T. fans congratulated themselves on account of their good fortune in getting away as well as they did for the Orange and White players were out classed in every department by what, at the close of the season, will no doubt be called one of the best teams in the South this year.

Coach Bender evidently realized that his team was going to pull a miracle if it won and sent in his players with a defensive line-up and orders for a defensive game in the hope of holding down the score. The Vols stuck close under the Maryville goal and for awhile it seemed as if the entire Tennessee team was centered on Garrison and Feeman, but these two were soon able to shake the hopes of Tennessee to the floor, and were soon running loose dribbling and passing all over the floor.

The locals took the ball to their end of the floor on the first toss up and at once the Vols began a defensive game, even the forwards seemed unwilling to break away from the Maryville guards and this close playing soon brought rough tactics into the game.

After a few minutes play Clemens running with lightening speed took the ball and shot a goal from a difficult angle, but referee Coe called a foul on Maryville and did not count the goal.

At the end of five minutes neither team had scored, but the Vols had lost several chances to score on fouls called by referee Coe whose decisions at times were very unpopular to both sides, especially on personal fouls which later resulted in Feeman having to leave the game.

After ten minutes of play the score stood 6-0 in favor of Maryville and the U. T. followers were calling in desperation to Capt. Jacobs and Reeder to check up. About this time Feeman made the prettiest goal of the evening, receiving the ball in mid-floor he made the goal without even scratching the ring. The half ended with a score of 10-6 in favor of Maryville who had never been headed during the game.

That Coach Bender told his men something between halves was evident for they came onto the floor with a rush in an attempt to rough the game and rush Maryville off her feet. Capt. Jacobs and Reeder ran hard and charged all over the floor, but more often the Orange and Garnet players eluded them and sent them sprawling and grasping.

During the second half the locals seemed to come stronger than in the previous half and Feeman, Clemens and Witherspoon repeatedly took the ball from their heavier opponents and shut off the Vols' chances of scoring when near their goal. It was in this half that Witherspoon with two and Clemens with one long hard shot, brought the fans to their feet.

Tennessee unable to win from Maryville going at the clip the Orange and Garnet players were, tried to eliminate them on personal fouls and with three minutes to play Feemen had to leave the game on account of four personal fouls having been called aginst him. He was replaced by Hodges, who played a good game while he was in. During the last five minutes Coach Bender sent in new men to inject new spirit into his team, but they were unable to score.

For Tennessee Capt. Jacobs and Reeder starred, but Reeder was a disappointment to Knoxville fans as Clemens held him to two goals and scored one for himself.

Feeman and Witherspoon starred for Maryville. Feeman was able to secure three goals in spite of the fact that Tennessee concentrated her defense on him. Garrison was able to ring five free tosses and played a great game at center. Clemens and Witherspoon played the Vols' end safe and at no time did the ball remain long at Tennessee's end of the floor. McCall was closely guarded at all times but secured two field goals.

After the game Coach Bender's only comment was "you have a good team". The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Tennessee		Maryville
9 Reeder	forward	4 McCall
Gentry	forward	6 Feeman
Davidson	center	5 Garrison (c.)
Wolfe	guard	4 Witherspoon
4 Jacobs (c.)	guard	2 Clemens

Substitutes for Maryville: Hodges for Feeman; for Tennessee: Harrison, Lovell and J. Reeder. Referee, Coe; Umpire, Hunter; Timekeeper. Walker, M. C.; Time for halves 20 minutes. Field goals, for Maryville: McCall, 2; Feeman, 3; Witherspoon, 2; Clemens, 1; for Tennessee: Reeder, 2; Jacobs, 1; Foul goals, Maryville, Garrison 5; Tennessee, Reeder 5; Jacobs 2.

If a rainy winter means a clear dry spring—well, Maryville should look like the Sahara desert along in March.

--:--:--

The interclass league started off with a rush. Keep it up, it will be the foundation of great athletic teams for the college.

--:--:--

"There is a time for all things", is the statement often made when a suggestion is made with regard to a change in the daily chapel exercises. The change that we wish to suggest is not radical, is not uncalled for nor unnecessary.

We are often favored with chapel talks that are instructive, but there are so many days when the monotony is never broken that the good live exercises are lost sight of. This is not the fault of anyone, as it seems to be nobody's business whether we have special chapel exercises or not.

That one morning every week be set aside as "Open Morning" and some good wide-awake talk or program be given is the plan we would suggest. This "Open Morning" could be made a feature in our campus life and the many departments of the college would be enabled to entertain the student body. That stress should be laid on the quality of the programs, that they be kept up to standard, is a prerequisite to the success of the project.

This innovation, if made, would enable the scheduling of special speakers or entertaining musical and expression programs.

Let's hear from the students on this question. Let's hear from the faculty. Is it feasible? Will it improve the weekly order of events? If so—why not get it started.

--:--:--

There has been much speculation among the student body in regard to the "Winter Opening" of the swimming pool. There is a spirit of dissatisfaction on the part of the students because it has not been open.

It was our privilege to discuss the matter with the management of the college and certain interesting facts were revealed.

Owing to a leak in the vacuum system, which removes the condensed steam from the radiators, it has been very difficult to heat the buildings which are daily in use. This leak was discovered and remedied last week and the pool will be open as soon as the water is temperate.

We will welcome a plunge and we hope that it will remain open long enough to revive interest in the natatorial sport.

PREXY WILL ARRIVE HERE FEBRUARY 1st.

It has been officially announced that President S. T. Wilson will arrive in Maryville on the first day of February. The morning chapel exercises on Friday, February 2nd. will be led by the Doctor.

The annual series of evangelistic services will begin on Sunday, Feb. 4th., and Dr. Wilson will, as usual conduct the opening on the evening of that day. These meetings are the foremost thing in Dr. Wilson's mind and he always takes a leading part in the work.

During Prexy's stay on the "hill" the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the college will be held.

The recent publication "A Century of Maryville College", by Dr. Wilson is proving itself to be a valuable aid in the work of raising the Centennial Fund. Cordial receptions have greeted the Doctor where ever he has appeared, and he feels very much encouraged over the prospectus.

CO-EDS TO PLAY MURPHY AGAIN

Return Game At Sevierville. Hope to Win. Team In Good Condition.

The girls' varsity basketball team will journey up to Sevierville Friday and will meet the Murphy College team at that place Friday evening.

As a result of having been defeated at home by Murphy the Maryville girls are going to make a great effort to win back their laurels by defeating Murphy on their home court, a feat that has never yet been accomplished. The Maryville girls are determined to come back with the long end of the score and have been working very hard in preparation for this game. The line-up used will also probably differ slightly from that which started the game at Maryville. Miss Burchfield will probably guard Miss Massey, the whole dependence of the Murphy team, and if Miss Burchfield does as well Friday as she did during the one half she guarded Miss Massey at Maryville the chances are that Maryville will win, for when it comes to scoring Miss Massey is about one hundred per cent of the Murphy team. Miss Cameron will probably start at the other guard for her work in Maryville last week demonstrated her ability as a real basket ball player.

The line-up will not be announced until Friday and just who will play at center and at one forward can hardly be figured in advance.

A party of ten including Coach Weisbecker and Miss Ethel Burchfield, manager, with eight other players will make the trip by automobile, leaving Maryville Friday morning.

SENIORS TO FROLIC TOMORROW NIGHT

At the home of Mrs. Cawood on Indiana Ave., one of the most elaborate events of the year will be in order. Mrs. Cawood is well known for her genial hospitality, and a most enjoyable evening has been arranged. The members of the class have invited some friends and a large crowd will cast aside its cloak of dignity and seek pleasure for a few hours Wednesday night.

BAINONIAN'S HAVE MOCK FACULTY MEETING

When the Bainonians entered the hall Friday evening they were greeted with that mysterious feeling that something "was up". Miss Gibson in her delightful way proved, as she sang, "It is Better to be Laughing than Sighing". Miss Helen Lewis read interestingly "A Borrowed Dinner".

The feature of the evening was the "Faculty Meeting". "Dean Barnes" exercised much "self-control" in the manner in which he presided over the meeting. "Miss Mollie" and "Prof. Davis" agreed that there was too much time given to social affairs. "Prof. Johnson" pleaded for a trip for his Social Science Class, but subsided immediately when Prof. Proffitt asked "that the expense be considered". Great sympathy was shown when "Prof. Bassett' announced that "Grandfather's watch has failed me for the first time". "Prof. Gillingham" kindly offered to tell the time, but found to his dismay that he had "left his watch at home, with the children." Upon Prof. Proffitt's suggestion that "time saved was expense saved", the faculty adjourned in a refined and gentle manner, showing great culture.

The Bianonian Symphony Orchestra with Miss Beatrice Marshall as director, ended the program with appropriate selections.

To do more in less time and better than before is to be efficient.

Dr. Nathan Bachman, Father of the February Meetings.

"THE FEBRUARY MEETINGS" BEGIN IN TWO WEEKS

In the old chapel, which was in Anderson Hall, the first February meetings were held forty years ago. Rev. Nathan Bachman led the meetings which proved to be the birth of the greatest movement for Character building Maryville College has ever known.

The purpose of the meetings is to open before the student body a new vision of life and to instil the principles of Christian living into every heart.

The first Sunday in February will witness the opening service this year as it has done in the past. Dr. Wilson, who decided to live a Christian life during the first series of meetings in 1877, will preach the opening sermon Sunday evening.

In 1912 Rev. Wm. T. Bartlett, who conducted the meetings last year, held the most successful series judging by numerical returns. There were 113 decisions made during the twelve days. This is an enviable record, yet it is hoped that the fortieth anniversary will show larger returns.

THETAS PRESENTED "THE OTHER HALF"

Last Friday evening, the Theta Epsilon Literary Society presented its mid-winter production in the Voorhees Chapel to a large and appreciative audience. "The Other Half", or what might have been termed, as Dean Barnes suggested, "The Better Half", is a story of a noble and true womankind in Europe, who, at a time when the very existence of their countries are at stake, have thrown themselves into the breach for loved ones, and home, and posterity.

The first curtain was raised upon a scene of suffering Belgian women, robbed of home and fireside, and seemingly, of every interest but one, in the official bulletins giving the long lists of killed, and wounded, and missing men and boys, whom they had bid "God-speed" from their own hearths. The second scene was a typical shopping centre in London, and it was very apparent that war was not such a grim reality in "Napolean Cockpit" across the Channel. Here the women, supported or employed by the Government, were enjoying many little luxuries that were denied them in times of peace. The curtain was then lifted on Germany's harvest fields where her sterling women have supported their soldiers on a 3,000 mile firingline, now for two and a half years.

Part Two presented a very pretty scene on the Marne in the garden of an American lady just at the time when the Germans were checked in their early advance on Paris. Here troops were active and military operations were much in evidence, perhaps to the embarrassment of some of the more timid in the audience. The final scene was in our own homeland; "America answering Europe's S. O. S." This was a clever presentment of an International Bazaar in aid of the sufferers of all the belligerents, an impressive picture of American women clasping hands with the women of Europe across the ocean.

The whole project was well arranged from start to finish. The scenery indicated much thought, and care, and labor, and the "make-ups" were excellent. The "setting", too, was splendidly balanced, the pathos of the earlier scenes giving place to the humor of the bazaar, where the needs of the soldiers were met, even to the point of tooth-brushes, and bedspreads, and pajamas and pills. Special recognition must be given to the group of dancing girls. The graceful ease with which they entertained had a most charming effect.

The evening furnished another striking example of the resourcefulness and ingenuity of the young ladies in matters of this sort, and they are to be warmly congratulated that in this and a hundred other ways, they have so well won for themselves such a designation as "The Better Half".

SEASON OPENED WITH A RUSH

teams, but the Freshmen took such a lead in the first half that the Sophomores could never hope to over come it.

The Sophs scored only one goal during the first half while the Fresh men scored seven, but in the last few minutes of the final period the Sophs had an awakening and tossed four field goals in rapid succession. The game was slow and easy compared to the usual Fresh-Soph affairs on the hill and at times the game threatened to become a regular pink tea affair.

The Freshmen team is well balanced and should develop into a much better team with a little more practice. For the Freshmen Burkhart at forward, Walker at center and Drake at guard each with three goals showed up best.

McNutt and Norgan were the stars for the Sophs. The teams lined up and scored as follows:

Freshmen		Sophomore
Marshall	forward	4 McNutt
8 Burkhart	forward	Cox

PROF. SHELTON TO LEAD Y. M. C. A.

The Cabinet wishes to thank the men who attend the devotional meetings so regularly, and also to ask those regulars to bring a friend with them to the next Sunday meeting. The new song books are full of tunes that have been selected for men's voices and it is a real pleasure to sing from them. The Devotional Secretary has secured for the next two Sundays, Prof. Shelton and Prof. Schaeffer, both of whom are strong speakers. These men will bring messages that are real and vital to the college man, and it is the duty of every college man to be on hand to hear these talks. Men are not only members of the Y. M. C. A. for the sake of the membership card and the privileges it brings, but also for the practical good and guidance that comes from attending the regular meetings. Men, make it a point to take a little time on Sunday afternoon to go over to Bartlett and join the fellows in a sure enough man's meeting. You'll enjoy it and it will do you good.

Next Sunday—Prof. Shelton will lead the devotional service, speaking on the topic, "First Things First". As a chemist, Prof. Shelton is well qualified to speak on first things, and the results of mixing the proper kinds of first things.

COME OUT!

CAMERA MEN BUSY

"Where are you going?" "Oh I have to be in a picture". "Gee I wondered why you were so dolled up today". The foregoing is the substance of many conversations heard about the campus during the past week. Yes, the camera men are very busy these days making pictures of the various classes and organizations on the "hill". The Chilhowean goes to press soon and the last call for "your likeness" has been issued.

TEN GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD NOT EXERCISE

1. You might have some fun.
2. You might make some new friends.
3. You might so improve your appearance that your friends would not know you.
4. You might become so full of snap and vigor that you could not restrain yourself from overwork.
5. You might become so strong that you could do odd jobs around the house such as cutting wood or bringing up the coal.
6. You might create such an appetite that the folks at home might complain that you eat too much.
7. You might never get sick and therefore be unable to take a day off now and then.
8. You might take too many baths as a result.
9. You might be able to run for a car without being winded.
10. You might become so graceful in your movements and so light on your feet that your friends would not recognize you by your walk.

DREAMLAND

January 23rd.—"Puppets", a fantasy in black and white. This is a decidedly different Keystone Komedy, featuring DeWolf Hopper, 2 reels. "Pearl of the Army", chapter 8 of this thrilling serial which is growing stronger with each episode. The Silent Menace certainly keeps them guessing, 2 reels.

Wednesday, Jan. 24th.—Paramount Feature in five parts featuring Dustin Farnum in "A Son of Erin", a beautiful story, a tale of old Ireland told as only Dustin Farnum could tell it. Those who were fortunate enough to see Mr. Farnum in "The Parson of Panamint" know what a treat is in store for them here on this date. We are arranging for some special music and the Dreamland will carry the Irish spirit out to the limit, which means a hearty welcome to all. Today is also Ham and Bud day, and when you come, check your troubles at the door, Ham and Bud will make you forget to take 'em home.

Thursday, Jan. 25th.—"Hell-to-Pay-Austin", a Triangle feature with Wilfred Lucas and Bessie Love. This is the story of a rough man, a lumber king, who is monarch of all he surveys and is a bully to all in camp except the little orphan girl, to whom he exhibits another side of his character. A true story of human interest and some exciting scenes of lumber camp life. Everybody loves Bessie Love. How could they help it, and if you see her in this play you will be one of the many who look forward to her appearance on our screen, 5 reels. Universal Comedy, 1 reel.

Friday, Jan. 26th.—You know that feeling of falling from a dizzy height you sometimes have in a dream? Here is the story that gives it to you—only you get it while you are wide awake. "Liberty"? Of Course. This 8th episode contains thrill after thrill. After the thrills come the laughs and "The Winning Punch" is full of them. A Keystone Komedy featuring that long, lean lanky cuss, Slim Summerville, 2 reels, Ford Animated Weekly—All Ways Good. 1 reel.

Saturday, Jan. 27th.—"The Plow Girl", a Paramount feature in five parts with the dreamy eyed Mae Murray as the star. Nobody has ever yet witnessed a bad Paramount feature. We have the Paramount Program every Wednesday and Saturday. Why not get the Paramount habit. It's a good one.

Monday, Jan. 29th—"Lieutenant Danny, U. S. A.", a high class Triangle picture, featuring William Desmond and Enid Markey. 5 reels. Universal Comedy, 1 reel. Then comes Chaplin, the world's funniest man in his latest success "Behind the Screen", showing the laughable part of life in a motion picture studio. This picture was due here Jan. 15, but Mr. Chaplin was injured in making it, and the release date was postponed two weeks, as will be the date on all other Mutual Chaplin specials, making them arrive every six weeks instead of one each month as formerly.

FOR A BIGGER AND BETTER MARYVILLE

Vol. 2 No. 15 | Maryville, Tennessee, Tuesday, January 30, 1917 | Five Cents

REV. JOSEPH M. BROADY OF BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

Will Conduct February Meetings. Here in 1913. A Strong Speaker.

Rev. Joseph M. Broady, a former student of Maryville, now the pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in Birmingham, Ala., will arrive in Maryville on Monday, February 5th.

Rev. Broady as a pastor has been very successful since he entered the ministry. The church which he now holds is the strongest in its Presbytery. The membership is over four hundred, with an active Sunday School of more than three hundred.

As an evangelist his reputation stands on the record he has made. In 1913, when he held a series of meetings here, there were 99 decisions, not to mention the reconsecrations.

Mr. Broady is a big, active man, with a most pleasing personality. He puts all he has into it. This is evidenced by the fact that he put so much zeal and earnestness into his work in Birmingham that his health began to fail. His congregation insisted on him going away for a month's rest. He is now in Florida, and he writes that he will be in the best of condition when he opens the meetings next week.

"A School for Life Direction", is the way Mr. Broady defines the meetings. He goes on to say, "A life is not properly directed until it finds Christ, and then finds the place where it can best serve."

The coming series of meetings will command the attention of everyone on the "hill", and much interest is being manifested already. The opening service is on Sunday evening, Feb. 4th.

CO-EDS BASKET BALL TEAM GOES TO KENTUCKY

The girls' varsity basket ball team leaves Thursday for a trip into Kentucky, the first game will be played at Williamsburg where the Cumberland College team will be played. Maryville and Cumberland have never played before and nothing can be learned of their relative strength although the Cumberland College team is reported to be a good one.

The second game will be played with the team at Barboursville, and this team claims to be the best in Kentucky, so the Maryville girls are going to make a great effort to defeat the Kentuckians.

In the two Kentucky games the Maryville team will be handicapped by the fact that the teams are to play under the "one-center-line" rule. The Kentucky teams play under this rule all the time, but it is new to Maryville players and may prove to be a disadvantage to Maryville on account of the fact that it permits a greater amount of team work and much more passing. The Barboursville team will play a return game in Maryville in February.

The third and final game of the trip will be played against the Central High School team of Knoxville, at Knoxville, Saturday afternoon.

The Maryville team will line-up as follows, but the subs for the trip with the exception of Miss Stinnett have not been announced.

Hackworth, forward; Marshall, forward; D. Webb (c), center; Burchfield, guard; Cameron, guard.

SWIMMING POOL OPENED AT LAST

The "Winter Opening" of the swimming pool took place rather inauspiciously last Wednesday afternoon. After two long months of inactivity the natatorium resounded with the usual sounds of splash and yells. It will take some little time to revive interest in the art of swimming, but the annual water carnival will be pulled off again this spring.

Aspirants for class teams are already beginning to "crawl" and "trudge" the length of the pool and some good material will show up in the prelims.

THROW AWAY YOUR HAMMER. GET A HORN

Don't Be a Knocker; Be a Booster.

The devotional meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Sunday, Jan. 28th, was conducted by the Junior girls. The class President, Miss Elizabeth Henry led. Miss Eleanor Mosely spoke on, "Throwing Away the Hammer". Miss Mary Miles related some Bible incidents where the people did more 'Boosting' than 'Knocking.'

A piano solo by Miss Gibson, a vocal solo by Miss Knapp and a vocal duet by Misses Miles and Simpson gave an added pleasure to the meeting.

A business meeting was held, after the regular service, for the purpose of electing an annual conference member. Miss Sheddan was nominated and elected by acclamation.

The Association is to be favored February 4th, with an address by Miss Clemmie Henry, subject, "The Battle Within". Every girl should be present. Come, it will do you good.

WILL SUSPEND PUBLICATION UNTIL FEB. 20.

With this number the Echo will suspend publication until Feb. 20th. The advent of the February meetings, during which student activities are neglected, causes the staff to feel that it will be for the best of all concerned to omit two numbers.

The number of issues guaranteed will appear regardless of the two weeks lost.

DR. WILSON AT CHAPEL FRIDAY MORNING

Arriving from New York on Thursday, February 1, and speaking at the morning chapel exercises on Friday is the good news that comes from Prexy.

A big reception will be accorded the Doctor on his appearance here for the first time in two months.

Sunday night the opening meeting of the coming series will be in charge of the president and a packed chapel will undoubtedly greet him.

WHAT DR. WILSON SAYS ABOUT THE FEB. MEETINGS

Despite the fact that he must keep going day and night in the interest of the Centennial Forward Fund, Dr. Wilson has taken time to write a few words to the "folks back home." What a man says who made a decision for Christ forty years ago, who is now president of Maryville College as the result of that decision, carries great weight.

"A gentleman who successfully organized a great State School to which immense annual appropriations are made, has just written me, among others, about the coming February Meetings. He said: "I was greatly interested in what you wrote me about the result of the special meetings held at the College last February. I do not think it possible to attach too much importance to this term of special meetings when the whole thought of the student body is concentrated on the importance of personal religion. It must certainly be a valuable thing for young people to have the whole interest of the school express the estimation in which all the teachers hold the claims of religion."

"My friend is correct in his estimate of the value of the February Meetings. Forty years ago this February all the purposes and principles and conduct of my own personal life were transformed. I am in New York now working for Maryville solely because of a decision that I made in Room 24 of Memorial Hall, late at night on February 12, 1877. The good that I am profoundly grateful for I covet for all the students now in attendance at old Maryville. Let us get and give all that God has in store for us of blessing and service during the coming meetings.

Samuel T. Wilson."

"MERRIE ENGLAND" CANTEBURY TALES

Will Be Offered by Bainonians Friday Night. Humorous And Instructive. Last Mid-winter Entertainment.

Friday evening at 8:00 p. m. the Bainonians will give the fourth and last mid-winter of the year. It will be a portrayal of "Merrie England" as presented by Chaucer in the Canterbury Tales.

Four of the Canterbury Tales have been dramatized by the committee. The Wife of Bath's Tale in which the wife of Bath tells us of her five husbands that she has had, their virtues and faults, and "Welcome be the sixth".

In the Nun's Priest Tale you will find the attack of the Fox upon the proud cock Chanticleer and Madame Partlet very exciting.

The Prioress' Tale will call for your deepest sympathy. The Manicples' Tale will be pantomined.

The humor which so marks the writings of this great English poet will be an important factor of the entertainment. Old English music written in the time of Chaucer will be used.

The Bainonians will present this entertainment with the skill and vim which so characterizes their mid-winters, and a delightful as well as an instructive program is promised.

CLOSED SUCCESSFUL LYCEUM COURSE

Panama Singers Pleased Large Audience. Next Year's Course Announced Soon.

Friday night, Jan. 26th., the Panama Singers of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau concluded the 1916-17 course offered by the Y. M. C. A.

Although the quality of the quartette was only mediocre, the snap and vim which they put into each number won the plaudits of the big house.

Mr. Hederstrom, basso, was the most versatile member of the company. His solo work and his readings made a great hit and he was repeatedly encored.

Mr. Noble, "the slim man on my extreme right" won the audience with his pleasing personality and winning smile.

As a whole the program was well received, and the big crowd went home well pleased with the evening.

Manager Roy Anderson and President Ferntheil of the Y. M. C. A. provided a splendid course this year and undoubtedly they will receive the patronage of a larger number of people in next year's course, which will be announced April 1st.

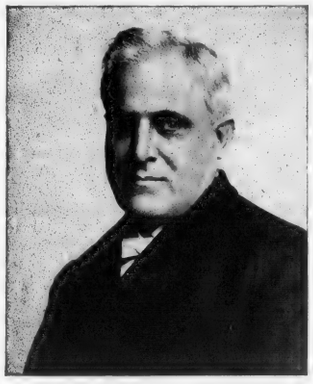
BASKET BALL GAMES THIS WEEK

Four basket ball games are scheduled for this week for Maryville teams, three for the girls who go on a road-trip Wednesday, and one for the Scrubs at Maryville Saturday evening with the Wheat High School team. It is quite probable that Lum Reeder will bring his team of Y. M. C. A. stars to Maryville Thursday evening for a game with the varsity.

The Wheat High School team is coached by J. F. Brittain, a former varsity basket ball captain on the "hill" and is a good high school team.

The Wheat team visited in Maryville last winter and played a close game with the Scrubs. Last year the team had with them "Big" Fritz who weighs more than 300 pounds, playing at center and it is understood that he is with the team this year. He has developed wonderfully as a basket ball player since last season.

U. T. FAILS TO FULFIL THEIR AGREEMENT



Game They Promised to Play Called Off. They Try to Arrange a Five Game Series. Poor Losers.

Manager Crum of the varsity basket ball team was unable to come to an agreement with Coach Bender of Tennessee for his team's visit to Maryville, and after much effort all attempts to come to an agreement have been stopped. Unless something unexpected develops the University team will not appear in Maryville this season.

By previous arrangement Coach Bender had agreed to bring his team to Maryville provided the Maryville Tennessee game at Knoxville went off alright and no one disputed that. But following the game at Knoxville Coach Bender refused to bring his team to Maryville as he had agreed to do, unless the Maryville manager should first sign up for two more games in Knoxville. This Manager Crum refused to do as Coach Bender had already agreed to come to Maryville for return game and all efforts to bring Tennessee to Maryville this season have ceased.

Last year when Maryville agreed to play football in Knoxville in 1916 it was generally understood that the University was to play baseball in Maryville in 1916 which they did; foot ball in Knoxville in October 1916 which game was also played and basket ball at Maryville in 1917, instead of last season, as Maryville first insisted. But now the foot ball game, the thing that Tennessee most wants with Maryville has already been played in Knoxville and Coach Bender does not care to bring his basket ball team to Maryville as the foot ball game which Tennessee was working for is already over.

The U. T. authorities want Maryville to come to Knoxville again next fall and are holding an open date for them, but it is very likely that this will be cancelled unless the University basket ball team comes to Maryville at once, as Manager Bryson of the 1917 foot-ball team has two good offers for the same date from schools of greater prominence than Tennessee.

Dr. Edgar A. Elmore, Chairman of the Directors.

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Wednesday, February 7, is the date set this year for the first meeting of the Directors.

Dr. E. A. Elmore, D. D. of Chattanooga, Tenn., as chairman of the board will preside at the meeting. Dr. Elmore was elected to the chairmanship in 1906 and has served in that capacity since that time.

The report of the president of the college, and the treasurer's report will be the feature of the meeting. The committee appointed to supervise the construction of Carnegie Hall will make its final report, and if favorable the building will be accepted.

Owing to the shortness of time in which to prepare an adequate program, Carnegie will not be dedicated until June. At that time a day will in all probability be set aside as Dedication Day.

EDITORIALS

There is a big difference between being a good sport all the time and a good sport only when you win.

--:--:--

What would the sporting writers of the Knoxville papers say if they had the right dope on the basket ball team from "little college town". They speak of our "four-year men team". There is one four-year man, two two men who have played on the Varsity two years and two who are playing for the first time.

--:--:--

That the University of Tennessee athletic teams are good sports as long as they win can not be doubted but when they lose a contest they also lose their sense of good sportsmanship.

As stated elsewhere in this issue U. T. had agreed to play Maryville a return game of basket ball in Maryville, but the local management neglected to sign a written agreement to that effect, taking in its stead the verbal agreement to that effect from Athletic Director Bender of Tennessee. It is too bad that a State University of Tennessee's standing cannot retain the services of an athletic director whose word is as good as his signature. We had the pleasure of defeating them on their home floor and they are just too poor sportsmen to come over and take their second dose of medicine.

There is football contract awaiting the pen of the Highlander's manager, which provides for a game with U. T. in Knoxville next fall. Let us hope that it will not be signed until the authorities at Tennessee see fit to bring their little band of basket ball tossers over here like they said they would.

This is not the first time U. T. has tried to put it over on Maryville, but it is undoubtably the last chance they will have to make the attempt.

If you can't be a good sport—don't be any at all.

ANOTHER BOOST FOR CHAPEL EXERCISES

It is interesting to observe the improved condition of our morning chapel service.

Where formerly the students often delayed the opening of these services many minutes by failing to be in their places at the appointed time, the piano now strikes up the notes of a hymn which is the signal for each pupil to be in his place. Many minutes are gained by the new order of opening.

Dean Barnes has been instrumental also in delivering us from the former rush of a disorderly exit.

Instead we now march out of the Chapel in a dignified and orderly manner, to march music, seniors first, then each division following, in groups of two, until the last row has passed out.

It is remarkable how well the students fall into the rythm of the march, each showing a keen appreciation of the new order of things by striving to make the exit a delightful part of the morning service.

A visitor lately remarked that it was a sight well worth coming to the College to see the students in such perfect order, marching out of the Chapel in dignified and orderly recessional.

We trust the report which recently reached us may be true, that the College Orchestra which Miss Hale and Mr. Tedford have had under organization since the beginning of the year, is soon to contribute a share toward the further success of our chapel service.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

One of the most necessary factors wanting on College Hill is a fire-department, consisting of between forty to fifty inmates of Carnegie and Memorial Halls. Should another fire break out, similar to the one of last spring, the organized fire extinguishers could, through previous systematic training, gain complete control of the fire. If such a student fire department existed, which had daily or weekly drilling in the maneuvers of fire prevention, all confusion and inefficiency of non-trained fire workers would be eliminated.

If the student body is in favor of such a movement, let a mass meeting of the boys be called and the members of the fire squad will be elected.

—Carnegie Inmate.

THE MAIDEN'S SIMPLE REPLY

Being cognizant for an indeterminable duration of time of the clandestine perturbations inhabiting the lower portion of my cardial structure, and perceiving the consummation of my nocturnal somnambulances and daylight aspirations gaining equilibrium in the scintillating and majestic features of your smiling visage which I have perceived with increasing mystification, fascination, enchantment, and irreconcible covetousness, I now reply.

I portray in my realms of fantastic fancies that I hear the tintinnabulation of the sonorous bells of joy breaking into exultant glee, giving their mutual assent to the pleasant notification which I count it a pleasure to communicate to the towering physique in whose austere and august presence I discover myself.

Aw heck—My vocabulary is extinct—I give it up.

Jno. T Hicks.

HER REPLY

It would afford me inconcievable and unfathomable joy, pleasure and delight to grant your majestic esteemed and honored request, if it were not for the fact that a far more gallant species of your noble sex, has previously, on account of a greater and grander flow of highly polished, euphonius, musical words, won my humble favor and won the pleasure which you now vainly seek for yourself.

L. M. Loveless.

SHE REPLIED:—

Aw, listen now, Pop, where do you think you're at? When you come springing that line of chatter and I get an earful, how do you expect me to think of anything but the little squirrels and nuts and things like that?

Now for the love of Mike, be reasonable and chop that stuff up into little spoonsful so that I can get it without having to chew all day. If you tried to peddle that line to a highbrow you'd get your block knocked off. You're balmy 'n the attic, man, you got bats in your belfry, you're loose in the lid, and if you went into the zoo all the animals would take one look and then tear you to pieces. No, nothing doing. Beat, it, for I've got a date. Ta-ta.

H. J. Jordan.

These replies might have been in the previous number, but the laborious efforts required to set them in type required more time than usual.

BIG CROWD WITNESS LEAGUE PLAY

INTER-CLASS GAMES CONTINUE GOOD CONTESTS

LADIES' LEAGUE

Team	won	lost	Pct.
Junior	2	0	1000
Sophomore	1	1	500
Freshman	1	1	500
Senior	0	2	000

Saturday's results:
Juniors 8; Freshmen 1; Sophomores 22; Seniors 5.

MEN'S LEAGUE

Freshman	3	0	1000
Sophomore	0	2	000

Saturday's results: Freshmen 18; Sophomores 7.

The second series of games in the inter-class basketball league were played Saturday and were even more exciting and hard fought than the previous games especially that of the Freshmen and Sophomore boys, which was rough and thrilling at all times. The Sophs were again losers, but showed much better team work than at any time previous, and with the program of practice that has been planned for this week will no doubt bring great joy to the large number of Soph followers who are planning to be out in an organized body Saturday to lend their support.

The game between the Freshmen and Junior girls was watched with most interest because each team had won over its previous opponents. This was the closest game of the afternoon, the Juniors winning by score of 8-1, due to the splendid work of Miss Brockelhurst, who scored all their points.

The Senior girls were even easier for the Sophs than they had been for the Juniors, and the Sophs ran up a score of 22-5. and now everyone is watching with great interest for the meeting of the Sophs and Juniors Saturday.

The first game played was between Senior and Sophomore girls. The Sophs showed themselves to be the masters at all times and the first half ended in Sophs favor 10-0.

Miss Striplin scored 5 points in the second half for the Seniors, but in the meantime the Sophs had scored 12.

The large score of the Sophs was due to the goal shooting of Miss Davis, who scored 14 of their points and to the aggressive work of Miss Thompson at guard.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Sophomore		Senior
8 Bailey	forward	5 Striplin
14 Davis	forward	Sheddan
Newell	center	Hopkins
Thompson	guard	Hickey
Miles	guard	Pleasants

Time of halves, 12 1-2 minutes; Referee, Dixie Webb; Field goals, Sophs, Bailey 4; Davis 7; Seniors, Striplin 2; Foul goals, for Seniors, Striplin 1.

The second game played was between the Freshman and Sophomore boys and was the most exciting that has yet been played in the league. The Sophs were kept on the defensive at all times by the fast playing and team work of the Freshmen.

The Freshmen entered the game with a determination to win and they did not halt their rapid and rough playing at any time. At times the Sophs seemed to be completely smothered by the rapid pace.

The first half ended with a score of 9-2, and the score for second half was 9-5.

Marshall was the star of the game securing 4 field goals and playing a good all around game. The best showing for the Sophs was made by "Red" Hayes, who played hard and steady at all times.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Freshmen		Sophomore
Drake (c)	forward	McNutt
8 Burkhart	forward	Cox
8 Marshall	center	5 Frater
2 Johnson	guard	2 Hayes (c)
Georges	guard	Norgan

Substitutes: for Sophs, Johnson for Frater; Frater for McNutt; McNutt for Hayes; Hayes for Cox. Field goals for Sophs, Hayes 1; Frater 1. For Fresh, Burkhart 3; Marshall 4; Johnson 1; Foul goals, for Sophs, Frater 3; for Fresh, Burkhart 2; Time of halves 15 minutes. Referee, Feeman.

The third game was between the Freshmen and Junior girls and was the closest contested of the afternoon. The Juniors winning by a final score of 8-1. Until Saturday, neither team had lost a game and this game was the center of attraction and the Juniors showed their ability to keep their record clean, due to their forwards and the work of Miss Mosley at center.

The score for the first half was 6-0 in favor of the Juniors, but in the next half the Juniors, due to excellent guarding by Miss Templin, scored only one goal, while Miss Wells pitched one foul in this half.

The game was featured by the work of Miss Brockelhurst, forward and Miss Moseley, center on the Junior team, and by the guarding of Miss Templin of the Freshmen team. Miss Templin has shown up well in all games played thus far and already many have picked her as the best guard in the league.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Freshmen		Juniors
Floyd	forward	Simpson
1 Wells	forward	8 Brockelhurst
Newton	center	Moseley
Templin	guard	E. Henry
Henry	gaurd	Knapp

Substitutes for Freshmen, Hayes for Floyd; Field goals for Juniors, Brockelhurst 4; Foul goals for Freshmen, Wells 1; Time of halves, 10 minutes; Referee Dixie Webb.

The ladies' teams will play as follows Saturday:

Freshmen vs. Seniors; Sophs vs. Juniors.

The men's league: Sophomore vs. Freshmen.

VISITED FAT STOCK SHOW LAST WEEK

Thursday, Jan. 25, the Agriculture Class journeyed to Knoxville in charge of Prof. Hopkins, who has taken the place made vacant by the absence of Coach Kiefer, to visit the Fat Stock Show at the University Eperiment farm.

The class visited in Knoxville until after lunch, and met at 1:30 p. m. to go to the Experiment farm with Prof. Hopkins. At the farm many wonders of modern farming were viewed and the scientific methods studied. C. Proffitt of Maryville.

The class left the farm late in the afternoon feeling that they had spent a most profitable and enjoyable day.

MURPHY DEFEATS MARYVILLE CO-EDS

The Murphy College girls basket ball team was even a more worthy foe at home than abroad and when the Maryville team journeyed to Sevierville Friday with the avowed intention of defeating Murphy at Sevierville they found that several things had not been considered seriously enough. Maryville returned home with the short end of a 21-10 score.

The result of the game was a disappointment locally and the trip was not satisfactory to the members of the squad for they felt that with neutral officials Maryville might have been a winner. The Murphy manager refused to agree to a neutral referce and the Maryville girls think they received a very bad deal in the second half when Miss Harrison of Murphy was officiating. They claimed to have been constantly overguarded although very few fouls were called against Murphy for this offense.

During the second half, Miss Ethel Burchfield, Maryville's star guard was ordered from the game by Miss Harrison of Murphy. Miss Burchfield was playing a wonderfully good defensive game and it was to give Miss Massey the Murphy star a better chance, that she was sent from the game.

The game was attended by more than 300 rooting fans but no cheers were accorded the Maryville team.

The Murphy floor is much larger than at Maryville and this was of great disadvantage to the local team.

The Maryvillians took the lead early in the game and at the end of five minutes' play the score stood 5-0 in favor of Maryville, but at this time the Murphy officials called such a large number of fouls on Maryville that the local team was completely demoralized and lost all their pep and the first half ended with a score of 12-8 in favor of Murphy.

During the second half the decisions were even more unpopular to the Maryville team and Miss Burchfield was sent from the game during this half. She was replaced by Miss Stinnett. Murphy scored 9 and Maryville 2 during the half.

Miss Marshall starred for Maryville, making 7 of the ten points.

Miss Massey with 17 points was the Murhpy College star. Twenty minute halves were played which is much longer than the Maryville team is accustomed to play. The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Maryville		Murphy
7 Marshall	forward	13 Massey (c)
3 Hackworth	forward	4 Montgomery
D. Webb (c)	center	D Cate
Cameron	gaurd	Ingle
Burchfield	guard	M. Cate

Substitutes: for Maryville, M. Stinnett for Burchfield. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee and Umpire Miss Harrison and Weisbecker, alternate.

MARYVILLE STUDENT CONTRIBUTED TO ART EXHIBIT IN KNOXVILLE

Members of the College Art Class attended recently the opening Exhibit of the Knoxville Art Gallery, which is at present in the auditorium of the handsome City Library. Here, the Nicholson Art League has arranged an exhibit of unusual attraction, the work of local artists, of whom Knoxville has many.

Miss Smith of Maryville contributed several canvasses, one, a painting of one of our own students. Who is it? Better go and see.

SENIOR PREPS BEST JUNIOR PREPS. 30 to 8

Follwing the inter-class league games the Third and Fourth Prep teams met Saturday afternoon and after one of the roughest games of the season the Fourth preps were returned winners by a score of 30-8.

The Fourths showed a well balanced and trained team while the Third preps showed good individual effort, but they did not have good team work.

Capt. Legg and Muse starred for the Thirds. Sizer and Weisbecker were the stars for the Fourth prep team and each played a good offensive game.

The same teams will probably meet again this week.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Third preps		Fourth preps
4 McGrath	forward	6 Robinson
Miner	forward	10 Weisbecker
Latimer	center	8 Sizer
Legg (c)	guard	2 Callahan
4 Muse	guard	2 Kendriks

Substitutes for Fourth preps: Kelly for Robinson, Field goals for Fourth preps, Robinson 3; Weisbecker, 4; Sizer, 4; Callahan, 1; Kendricks, 2; Kelly, 1. For Third preps: McGrath, 1; Muse, 2; Foul goals, Third preps, McGrath, 2; Fourth preps, Weisbecker, 2.

DREAMLAND

We are happy this week. For in "Miss George Washington", we have a feature that we know everybody will like—and that fact makes the job of running the theatre a lot more fun. You can get us to admit though, that we like this job of trying to please some eleven hundred kinds of preferences—leaving out the nine hundred that we don't try to please. All that this means is that we are sincerely anxious to please you, that we may have your favor and your good will. We're always grateful to the people who tell us that they do or don't like a picture we are showing. You can come here every day in the full confidence that we will have for you the best we can get—and we think that nine times out of ten you will be sincerely pleased. What we are striving for is to provide such programs that you will want to come to the Dreamland whether or not you know what is on the bill, confident that it will be an entertainment that you will enjoy.

Tuesday, Jan. 30—"Pearl of the Army", chapter 9 of this thrilling serial of preparedness, featuring Pearl White, who as a producer of thrills has no equal, 2 reels. One Bray cartoon and one Universal comedy, something to make you laugh.

Wednesday, Jan. 30—Paramount Feature in five acts, "The Years of the Locust". This story is a story of unusual merit and features Fanny Ward, who was last seen here in "Witchcraft". At present Miss Ward is starring in a series of unusual photoplays, and you will think so if you see this feature. Ham and Bud Comedy, 1 reel.

Thursday, Feb. 1—"Pillars of Society", (Triangle). This is an Ibsen play, featuring that well known star, Henry Walthall, known as the Mansfield of the Screen, 5 reels. Don't you like Mack Swain, the inimitable Ambrose? He is one of Mack Sennet's funniest comedians and will be with us today in a funny Keystone Komedy, entitled "Vampire Ambrose". Even the title is funny, but wait—.

Friday, Feb. 2—9th Chapter of the most talked about serial ever run in Maryville. Liberty, featuring Marie Walcamp and Eddie Polo, 2 reels. Ford Animated Weekly, always good, 1 reel. One Bray Cartoon and one Universal Comedy make up a high class short reel program that is sure to please.

FOR A BIGGER AND BETTER MARYVILLE

Vol. 2 No. 16 | Maryville, Tennessee, Tuesday, February 20, 1917 | Five Cents

ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVANGELISTIC SERIES EVER HELD

Rev. J. M. Broady Peerless Leader. Seventy-one Conversions. Over Two Hundred Reconsecrations. Celebrated 40th Anniversary.

Twelve soul-stirring, character-forming and purpose-fixing days—thus, briefly, may "the February meetings" be characterized. Rev. J. M. Broady's messages, strong, virile, frank, firm, courageous, together with the personal efforts and prayers of students and faculty, have influenced 71 students to begin the Christian life, and over 200 students to reconsecrate their lives to the service of the Master.

The student body, and those who were privileged to attend the meetings, will long remember the tremendous earnestness of the leader, and his passionate appeals for clean and righteous living. They will long remember the practical illustrations, taken mostly from his wide experience with college students and others which Mr. Broady always used to support his statements regarding the Christian life. In using these illustrations, he drove home the point he wished to emphasize or make clear, and they always "hit the bull's eye", too.

Some of the illustrations were humorous, the majority were serious, while a few were really dramatic, both in essence and in effect. Illustrations of successful and unsuccessful college men predominated.

It was by the use of these effective weapons that he gave the devil some terrible body blows (and a couple of black eyes!).

The climax of the meeting was reached at the closing service, last Friday morning. When the hymns were sung and the sermon preached, there were still many who had made no decision for Christ. Then the ice began to break, and one by one, in quick succession, young men and young women arose to indicate their decision in response to the leader's ardent appeals.

Then something extraordinary happened! One of The Seniors Arose! It was easy now to plead for others to follow this young man's lead. And they followed! So quickly and so steadily did they "hit the trail" that the President of the College, Dr. S. T. Wilson, who has been through forty such campaigns, was overcome with joy, buried his head in his hands, and wept like a child. There were others besides Dr. Wilson in the audience who could not keep back the tears—of joy.

With yells for Mr. Broady, for Mr. Hammontree, who sang for us so beautifully, for "February meetings" and for "Thank God", and with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again", the twelve days of privilege and spiritual uplift were at an end.

A large number of the students followed Mr. Broady to the Southern depot, where he was cheered and applauded as his train pulled out.

VARSITY CO-EDS TO PLAY E. TENN. NORMAL

Good Girls' Game Promised. Varsity Boys Go To Asheville. U. T. May Return Game.

Interest in basket ball this week is being greatly revived, due to the large number of games to be played. The Varsity goes on a road trip to North Carolina, playing Asheville Y. M. C. A. and Asheville school at Asheville and playing Tusculum at Greeneville on the return. The girls' varsity has two games scheduled for the local floor, one with Grant University of Athens, the other with East Tennessee Normal of Johnson City. Besides these games Coach Bender of the University of Tennessee has expressed a desire to bring his team to Maryville following their Virginia trip, provided Tennessee makes a good showing on this trip. Coach Bender wishes to play one game at Maryville and one more at Knoxville, but whether or not the games are played will depend on the success his team has against the Virginia teams.

The Varsity will probably be up against the strongest team it has met this year when it meets the Asheville Y. M. C. A. team and if Maryville wins this game they should win the other two.

Following Tusculum's decisive defeat here Maryville should not experience much trouble in winning from them provided Maryville gets over to Tusculum in good condition.

Coach Doak, of Tusculum, claims his team is fully fifty per cent better than when they appeared in Maryville and with the two new men in the line-up and the fact that they are playing on the home floor Coach Doak feels safe in predicting a Tusculum victory.

The game will be rough and hard fought if it is to be judged by those of the past, but if it goes off smoothly Maryville should win by a good margin.

It will be recalled that two years ago the Maryville-Tusculum game came to a sudden halt with the score tied. For this reason Maryville did not play at Tusculum last year.

The games scheduled for the girls' team are the best of the season. The Athens' team played here last year, drawing the largest crowd of the year.

The East Tennessee Normal team will appear in Maryville for the first time. Miss Arda Martin, forward on Maryville's varsity last year, and without a doubt the best girls' varsity player ever at Maryville, is playing with the Johnson City team this year. She is expected to make a great showing against her former team-mates. The two games will probably be played under the "one center line" rule as under this rule Maryville made such a good showing in Kentucky.

The Varsity leaves Wednesday morning and will return Saturday; the following making the trip, Manager Crum, Capt. Garrison Feeman, McCall Witherspoon, Clemens and Hodges.

WILL LEAVE FOR NEW YORK IN TWO WEEKS

Greatly encouraged by the ready responses to his solicitations during his previous visit to New York, Dr. Wilson plans to return about the first of March.

The magnificent sum of one hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars, ($165,000) has been subscribed to date on the Centenial Forward Fund of three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, ($325,000). There is plenty of time in which to secure the remainder, June 1, 1919 being the date set for the close of the campaign.

In speaking of the prospect for a successful culmination of his efforts Dr. Wilson said, "If we do not become involved in war our country will still be prosperous and the people will give to deserving things".

The student body rejoices with Prexy in the rapid progress made and wishes him continued success in his efforts for the college.

ATHLETIC AND FORENSIC FEE HAS BEEN ASSURED

Resolution Passed at Recent Meeting of Directors. Great Boost to These Activities.

One of the resolutions adopted at the recent meeting of the college Directors is of paramount importance to the two leading student activities. Be it resolved, "That an athletic and forensic fee of $1.00 a term be collected of each student beginning next September, the payment of which shall admit the student to all athletic games and forensic events on the hill; ninety percent of the amount to be adopted to athletics and ten percent to forensics".

The passing of this resolution was the result of much agitation on the part of the student body for such a fee, and the loyal support accorded the proposed fee by the faculty and President Wilson.

The debt of the athletic association, which is almost a thousand dollars will soon be paid off and athletics put on a firm financial basis.

The insertion of the word forensic was the finishing touch to the resolution, which will give new impetus to debates and oratorical contests.

MANY FELLOWS PLAN TO ATTEND

BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE

BY DR. J. WATT RAINE, BEREA COLLEGE

Blue Ridge Conference is not a place where abnormally pious fellows go to soak themselves in an atmosphere dripping with religion. If you are that sort of Righteous Wilile, you will not feel at home there. They would probably drop you into the swimming pool for the sheer pleasure of hearing your holy tones come gurgling up through the water.

You might justly infer that Blue Ridge is not permeated by a severe classic formality. It is a gathering of friends; four hundred young men, and a few older men, enjoying themselves together for ten delightful days. There is nothing greater than friendship, and any possible chance to enter this Blue Ridge group should be eagerly seized. This is not a summer resort where you scrape a shallow acquaintanceship and painfully converse about the weather or the table.

Have you wished that you could share some of the deeper experiences of sane and healthy men? Have you wished that you could get down to something solid in religion? Have you wished you could take time to investigate some things that you have heard vaguely mentioned, or touched upon, occasionally but never really explained? Would you like to ask questions of somebody that really knows—somebody that is not afraid to dig into the very heart of things—where you will not shock some good old soul and be called an infidel just because you want to examine the evidence and make sure? Would you like to find out what method of Bible study and praying busy and practical men have found juicy and helpful? Would you like to do something for your bunch at college, or still more, for your younger brother's bunch, to keep them from making fools of themselves, and going to the dogs?

You are the man to go to Blue Ridge. But what about finances? I have just two suggestions: (1) Decide to go. (2) Get the money. This chance comes only once or possibly twice in a lifetime; you must not shilly-shally and let the opportunity slip through your fingers.

TENN. PHILOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

Meets Here This Week. Faculty To Entertain. Splendid Program Arranged.

We are to have as our guests on Friday and Saturday of this week the members of the Tennessee Philological Association who will hold their eleventh annual meeting here at that time. About twenty or thirty delegates will be present from out of town, representing Universities, Colleges, Normal Schools and High Schools throughout the State.

The Association is composed of teachers of Latin, Greek, German, French and English and the program is made up of papers and discussions along these lines. Prof. Schaeffer is to speak Friday morning on "The Place of Modern Languages in Our School System" and Mrs. Alexander has a paper Friday afternoon on "The Dominant Note in the New Poetry". Dean Mathes of the East Tennessee Normal School, formerally Professor of Greek in our Faculty, is to discuss the subject "Some Aspects of AppalachianEnglish". Other papers likely to be of interest to students in the various language departments are "Milton's L'Allegro and Il Penseroso". "How we vitalize the Study of Latin", "The Simile in the Aeneid", and "Modern Elements in a Very Old Book (Job)". The program has been posted on the various bulletin boards. Any who care to attend any of the sessions will be cordially welcome, even if they have to leave before the session is over. The place of meeting in the mornings and afternoons will be in the Bainonian Hall.

Dr. Chas. E. Little, Dean of the George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, will deliver the President's Address Friday evening at 7:30 in Bartlett Hall on the subject "A Popular Language in an Imperial Government". This will be of general interest and perhaps the strongest number on the entire program. All who can should avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Dr. Little.

At the close of the evening session the Faculty will tender a reception to the visiting delegates. Lodging and breakfast will be procided in private homes. The guests will take their dinners and suppers at the Co-operative Boarding Club.

The officers of the Association are: President, Dr. Chas. E. iLttle, Dean of the George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville; Vice-President, Prof. H. J. Bassett, of Maryville College; Secretary and Treasurer, Dr. D. R. Lee, Professor of Greek in the University of Tennessee.

The college feels honored in having the opportunity to entertain the Philological Association and everything will be done to welcome them cordially and to make their stay as pleasant as possible.

POSTOFFICE SUB-STATION FOR MARYVILLE COLLEGE

The request of Maryville College for a postoffice on the "hill" has received favorable consideration at the hands of postal authorities in Washington.

It will in all probability be next fall before any definite steps are taken towards its establishment.

Money orders, postal insurance, postal saving departments and the many other conveniences of a post office will be at the service of the students.

The college is very fortunate in securing this sub-station and the members of the faculty who made it possible are to be congratulated.

DR. IRA LANDRITH IN STIRRING ADDRESS

Nation Wide Prohibition Leader Thrills Large Audience. Guest of I. P. A.

Under the auspices of the I. P. A. Dr. Ira Landrith lectured to a large audience at the New Providence Church Saturday night. Dr. Landrith is a man of nationwide reputation. As a member of the "Flying Squadron" in 1914-15 he thrilled thousands with his eloquence, speaking in 255 towns and cities throughout the United States, including all the state capitals. He was also candidate for Vice President on the Prohibition ticket in 1916. For the last 21 years he has been one of the leading journalists of the South.

Every one expected a great speech from him and certainly no one was disappointed. He did not have a set speech on prohibition, but talked as the occasion demanded. For almost two hours he held the audience spellbound, very frequently being interrupted with applause. When he expressed his opinion that Maryville College is the best college on the face of the earth, he received long applause.

"Saloonless America by 1920", "The last political platform has been written without a plank for nationwide prohibition" were his favorite phrases.

Dr. Landrith's enthusiasm and faith in the cause of Prohibition are great factors in the success in the movement. Such men as Dr. Landrith are making the prospects bright indeed for a "saloonless America by 1920".

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING OF DIRECTORS HELD

Important Resolutions Adopted. Degree Confered. Appointment Made. Gratifying Reports Heard.

At the semi-annual meeting of the college directors held February 7th, several matters of importance were passed upon.

Resolutions regarding the demise of Miss Margaret Henry were adopted and the fund established in her memory received the hearty approval of the directors. This fund is near the $25,000 mark, $17,000 having been paid to the treasurer to date. The aim of the friends of Miss Henry is to make the fund $100,00, and to make the fund $100,000, and there is every indication that it will be attained.

The board thanked Miss Caldwell for all she had done in her efforts to continue the work of Miss Henry.

Miss Alice Gillingham was appointed Associate Scholarship Secretary.

The sympathies of the directors were extended to A. S. Kiefer in the loss of his father. His resignation was accepted with regret.

The building committee was thanked for their share in the rebuilding of Carnegie Hall. The new building is to be dedicated in June.

A committee of the faculty was appointed to arrange the program for the dedication.

The degree of L. L. D. was conferred upon Hon. Jesse S. L'Amoreaux of New York. Mr. L'Amoreaux is a leading attorney of that place and a warm friend of Maryville College.

The directors, after acting upon routine matters, adjourned until June.

HE BROUGHT A MESSAGE

It was with genuine regret that we witnessed the departure of Rev. Joe L. Broady last Friday morning. He came a stranger to many of us, an old friend to others, but when he left he was the friend of every student on old college hill.

Preaching the gospel as many of us had never heard it preached before, showing us the great mistakes we were daily making, pleading with us as man to man to right our ways and join the forces of Christ, Mr. Broady endeared himself to all of us.

Telling the story of Christ and His Lord in a masterful way and urging all who were not following Him to join the colors of Christianity, appealed to the large audience of college men and women. The fact that Mr. Broady made it clear that it was a "man's job" to stand up for Christ caused us to appreciate the magnitude of the message he brought.

It was good of Rev. Broady's church to allow him to come here for the ten days and we sincerely thank them.

To Mr. Broady himself, who left us with higher conceptions and nobler aspirations for Christian service we express the deepest gratitude of our hearts and wish him God speed in his work for the Master.

GREATEST BOOST OF THE YEAR

The new athletic and forensic fee which was recently adopted by the college directors is the greatest boost these two activities have received this year, in fact it is the most progressive step taken by that body with regard to student activities in many years.

It is the plan of the Athletic Board of Control to allot a specified amount to the different representative teams of the college, to tennis and natatorial teams. The same thing will be done by the Forensic League.

The student receives more for his money than ever before, and the best part of the new fee is that every student will be in attendance at the different contests of the year, giving the teams the support of the entire student body.

The outlook for the future athletic and forensic events on the "Hill" is exceedingly bright. Better teams will be in the field for Maryville, stronger opponents will face these teams. Larger crowds will attend the games and contests, and the interest in these activities will continue to grow each year.

We feel profoundly thankful to the Directors for taking this matter under their consideration and for taking favorable action. The opportunities for gigantic strides in these two activities are at hand. Watch Maryville take her place in the front ranks of intercollegiate contests, both athletic and forensic.

WHEAT HIGH WINS OVER M. C. SCRUBS

Closest Game of Season. Wheat High Fast Bunch. Coached By Maryville Alumni.

The Scrub Basket Ball team playing its first scheduled game of the season, Friday evening lost to the Wheat High School team. It was one of the best balanced High School teams that ever appeared at Maryville, winning by the score of 20-19, after the hardest fought game of the season.

The Wheat team is coached by two former Maryville Varsity men and certainly showed no lack of practice or training, for at times the team-work was remarkable. Their passing was excellent at all times.

One very noticeable thing missing which usually characterizes High School games was the fact that the men at no time tried to star as individuals, but always worked as a team.

For a few minutes the Wheat team threatened to make a run away affair of the game and took a big lead which Maryville was never able to overcome.

The game was fast and spirited at all times and the Wheat team was able to make and keep its lead by excellent team-work and a passing game that is seldom equalled by a Prep team. During the first half the Wheat team showed a remarkable defense and were able to keep the ball at their end of the court during practically the entire half. The half ended with the score of 17 to 11.

During the second half the game was much rougher and this accounted for the small score made during this half.

The game was featured by the work of W. Fritz who scored half the points of his team, and by the playing of "Big" Fritz at center. Arnold played a good game at guard and his passing with that of H. and W. Fritz kept Maryville almost continually on the defense.

Hodges starred for Maryville and it was his playing during the second half that enabled Maryville to almost win the game. The teams lined up and socred as follows:

Maryville		Wheat
2 Davidson	forward	Driskill 4
2Eagleton	forward	W. Fritz(c) 10
10 Sears	center	H. Fritz 6
Flannery (c)	guard	Jamces
5 Hodges	guard	Arnold

Substitutes for Maryville, Scruggs for Eagleton. Field goals for Maryville, Davidson, 1; Eagleton, 1; Sears, 5; for Wheat, Driskell, 2; W. Fritz, 5; H. Fritz, 2. Foul goals. Hodges, 5; H. Fritz, 2. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee Feeman.

SENIOR PREPS LOOK LIKE CHAMPIONS OF PREP TEAMS

The fourth prep team met little opposition Saturday when they went up against the second prep team and won easily by the score of 28-8.

The first half ended with score of 20-5, and only rough playing during the second half held the score down.

Weisbecker and Sizer, with several long shots, starred for the fourth preps. The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Fourth		Second
8 Weisbecker	(c) forward	2 Hall
6 Kelly	forward	4 Boswell
10 Sizer	center	Sawyers
2 Callahan	guard	Eitner
2 Hendrix	guard	1 Kase

HOSPITAL CROWDED DURING THE LAST MONTH

Since the middle of January there have been thirty-four cases of measles treated at the college hospital. None of the cases have resulted seriously, due no doubt to the excellent care given each patient by Miss Postlethwaite, nurse in charge. The epidemic of measles now seems to be in its last stages as there are fewer cases registered at present than at any time since it started.

1918 CHILHOWEAN STAFF ELECTED

The annual staff for the Chilhowean of next year has been elected. Marie Townsend, Editor-in-chief; Maude Pardue, Art Editor; McNutt, Photographic Editor; H. Y. Hayes, Business Manager; J. K. Witherspoon, Advertising Manager. With this efficient staff it is hoped that next year's annual will be among the best Maryville has ever had.

ANOTHER ALUMNUS' LAMENT

I never was much of a poet,
My knowledge of rhythm ain't keen,
But I just Can't help trying to answer,
My Old Pal Rabbi '15.

Four years we roamed the campus together,
The old walls don't forget us, I hope,
Now you're Grand Gazabow in a Northern School,
And I'm teaching "Gym" in the South.

Those were the days weren't they,
"FIFTEEN?"
We'll never see any like them.
Remember you half wrote my Society Speech
And we'd get up at four and cram "Chem?"

Like you I get "homesick" for College
The Profs and the chapel and the boys,
I wish I could buy you some peanuts
Then talk over the game and its joys.

I'd like to slip over to Pearson's
Meet "Whiskers" and turn back with a jerk
I'd like to help work on a Thanksgiving "box",
Why I might even take up some work.

Doesn't the news in the "Echo" sound natural?
"A class scrap in the gym, during snap"
(The lights went out as a mat- of course)
"East Tennessee Champions", too.

We read of the team and its laurels
Of a football reception at hand."
Of eloquent Brittain, a big debate,
"A big midwinter close at hand.

"Mr. Webb around taking pictures
Of Freshman, State clubs, and what not",
(A splendid excuse to be absent from Greek)
"Class football", and "My last trip to Rome".

But Alas Rabbi, we "had that in fifteen"
Our school days are over,
We're through,
And now I'm exercised by the high price of eggs,
And you have your teaching to do.

We'll just have to read the "Echo".
Let others "swap lies" 'neath the moon,
Adios, amigo, muy estimado,
Let's meet at the banquet next June.

Lester E. Bond, '15.

Saturday's Results

Sophomores 12; Seniors 4.

The interclass basket ball league enters upon its final week with two teams tied for first place and with the Seniors claim to the cellar championship thoroughly established and even though they win Saturday the best they can do will be to bring the Freshmen down to share cellar honors with them.

The Juniors and Sophomores enter the final week tied for first place, with two more games to play, meeting twice next week in the games that should decide the league championship.

The Juniors forfeited to the Freshmen Saturday and this may prove to be their undoing as this allowed the Sophs to move up one full game. While the Juniors were forfeiting the Sophs were easily winning over the Seniors.

The first game played Saturday was won by the Sophomores from the Seniors by the score of 12-4. The Senior team lacked weight with which to successfully meet their heavier opponents, although they at times showed speed that threatened to place them in the lead.

The game was featured by the work of Miss D. Clayton at forward and Miss Newell at center. Athough Miss Thompson was in for only one half she continued the fast and aggressive playing that has made her work a feature this season.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Seniors		Sophs
Shedden	forward	D. Clayton 8
A. Striplin 2	forward	Davis 4
M. Mitchell 2	center	Newell
Hickey	guard	M. Thompson
Wright	guard	E. Miles

Substitutes, for Seniors: L. Pardue for Wright; for Sophs: M. Pardue for Thompson. Field goals, for Seniors: Striplin, 1; Mitchell, 1; for Sophs: Clayton, 4; Davis, 2.

Time of halves, 12 1-2 minutes; Referee, Dixie Webb.

FISH AGAIN DEFEAT SOPHS

The second game was between the Soph and Freshmen boys, and was the closest and hardest fought of the season.

The first half ended with a score of 11-8 in favor of the Freshmen. The second half was just a little faster and a little rougher than the first.

Cox and Hayes starred for the Sophomores and Burkhart and Gibbons for the Freshmen.

The teams lined-up and scored as follows:

Soph		Freshmen
M. Cox 4	forward	Burkhart 10
Y. Hayes 7	forward	Gibbons 6
Johnson	center	Marshall 2
Norgan 2	guard	Georges

BEREA DEBATERS COMING

The two teams that will meet Berea began their preliminary skirmishes against each other last night. Capts. Black and Young report their forces in perfect fighting trim, and predict that they will give the Berea fellows the battle of their lives.

The debate between Maryville and Berea will be held in Voorhees Chapel Friday night, March 2. A large crowd will be on hand to give the Maryville team the support it deserves, and warmly welcome the team from Berea, Kentucky. Another team from Maryville debates at Berea, Ky., the same night.

WATCH MARCH 9. Keep posted! Mark the date on your calendar.

FAREWELL MESSAGE FROM THE LEADERS

REV. J. M. BROADY

"Tell the boys and girls of Maryville College that this has been the best meeting I have ever conducted. I appreciate the loyalty and love of the student body. You are a loyal bunch. I believe that all who took the stand for Christ in these meetings are going to be loyal and true to their decisions. They will always be found on the side of right".

PRESIDENT S. T. WILSON

"The meetings just closed marked one of the most successful series in many ways, that has ever been held. It was gratifying to see the spirit of open-mindedness on the part of the students. Mr. Broady again showed his tact and kindliness. The hearty co-operation of both teachers and students greatly aided the work."

MR. HOMER HAMMONTREE

"To the boys and girls of old M. C. who have recently taken the stand for Christ,—Jude 24, "He is able". The overcoming life can only be lived by daily prayer and Bible study".

THIS SHOULD BRING THE FRESHMAN

To The Faculty and Student Body:

Recently I received a communication which was sent out by the Registrar, requesting the Alumni to do what they could in the up-building of the College Department of our Alma Mater. While thinking over methods for accomplishing this, this plan, which is practiced by many colleges in the North occurred to me as feasible for Maryville, as no school in those parts does this:

Hold, sometime in the late winter or early spring a Basket Ball Interschoolastic for the High Schools of East Tennessee and surrounding territory. This could easily be arranged with little expense and should draw from a great many of the high schools, as nearly all of them play basket ball.

The expense should not be much as, the students could entertain them and they could be given their meals at the boarding club. The trophies would cost something, but a school should be compelled to win it for two or three successive years to claim it. The championship of East Tennessee should be the title given the winners. The competing teams would have to bear their own traveling expenses.

A good game between the Varsity and some other college should be staged as a complimentary entertainment for the visiting teams, and other amusements furnished in order that they be well entertained during their stay. It would probably be wise to class the competing High Schools into two classes, according to the size of the school.

Student managers could look after this and I feel sure make a great success of it, thus bringing many prospective college students in touch with the "Old Hill."

Respectfully submitted,

H. W. Threlkeld, '16.

CONSERVATION

We sometimes talk about "the conservation of our natural resources". Why not begin talking about "the conservation of our Spiritual resources?" We mean the conservation of the results of the "February meetings". Why not organize "fellowship circles" in the various halls, for prayer and spiritual uplift? Shall we allow the fire and enthusiasm of the meetings to die out? Will the "February Meetings" be merely a "flash in the pan?"

We have been talking "conversion", why not now begin talking "conservation"?

BASEBALL OUTLOOK BRIGHT THIS YEAR

Practice to Be Started Soon. Coach Everett To Be In Charge. Many New Faces Will be Seen on Team.

The sunshine and warm weather of the past week brought out the baseball gossip for its first warming up and from the interest shown the largest number of try-outs that ever faced a coach at Maryville on opening day will probably report to Coach Everett for the initial practice March 5th.

The candidates this year will include an unusually large number of former High School and Prep School stars. It is reported that the Freshmen class has the largest number of former prep players in the history of the college.

A large number of new men have announced their intention of trying out for the various positions, and this with the men from last year's varsity and scrub teams will give Coach Everett the hardest job he has ever faced at Maryville.

From last year's team the following men will report: Capt. Hodges, Manager McCall, Clemens, Feeman, Flannery, and McClenaghan, and from the scrubs: Davidson and Stephens. Eb King, one of the best amateur players in Tennessee, will be seen with the following new men out for practice, Reed, Burnett, Holt, Scruggs, McLaughlin, and Sears. Besides these men it is estimated that fully sixty others will report for practice the first week.

None of last year's pitchers are back on the hill and it is here that Coach Everett and Capt. Hodges are going to find their hard work. The pitchers will have to be uncovered from the new men and for this reason all men with experience as slab artists are especially urged to report for practice.

Manager McCall has about completed his schedule which will be one of the best home schedules ever attempted by a Maryville manager, and several good road trips are promised.

The opening game as in the past will be with Young High School about March 17. The following games have already been secured for the home lot: Young High School, West Virginia Wesleyan, Lincoln Memorial, Georgetown University, Chattanooga Southern League team, Washington College, Tusculum, University of Tennessee, Grant University and Cumberland College and possibly the University of Michigan and several other games to be scheduled later in the season.

ALUMNI NOTES

'09. Homer Hammontree who for five years taught music in the Moody School at Chicago, resigned his position last year to take up the work of a gospel singer. In December he was obliged to abandon this work because of a severe attack of laryngitis and it was feared that he would never be able to resume it again. Recently, however, the condition of his voice has improved and he has begun to use it again. Mr. Hammontree was in Maryville for the last night of the February meetings and delighted and inspired the audience with his solos. He also assisted in the final meeting on Friday morning. Mr. Hamomntree was fresh from a meeting at Marietta, Ohio, and goes from here to Clarksburg, West Virginia. His many friends are glad to know of his recovery and wish him continued success in his work.

E. T. NORMAL WENT DOWN IN DEFEAT

Best Girls' Game of Season. Big Crowd Out. Miss Martin Normal's Leader.

The East Tennessee Normal furnished the opposition for the most exciting girls' basketball game played on the local court this year. The weights of the two teams were about equal and both teams played hard and fast.

The work of the Normal squad during the first half and of Maryville during the second featured the game.

The first half was played under the one center line rule and this, with the intense rivalry between the two teams, made the game fast and rough. Maryville seemed to be in the best condition and stood the rapid pace much better than did the Normal. The half ended with the score 8-6 in favor of the Normal, Maryville having been kept on the defensive most of the time, due largely to the team-work of Misses Martin and Satterfield.

The second half was played under the double center line rule. Maryville took the lead in this half through the offensive of Misses Marshall and Webb at forward, and the defensive work of Miss Cameron at guard.

Miss Martin scoring all of her team's points, starred for the Normal team, and Miss Marshall with 14 points and Miss Cameron starred for Maryville.

Line-up and score follows:

Normal		Maryville
Satterfield	forward	Marshall 14
12 Martin (c)	forward	Hackworth
F. Smith	center	(c) Webb 4
N. Brown	guard	Cameron
Isenburg	guard	Burchfield

Substitutes: for Maryville, C. Moseley for D. Webb, D. Webb for Hackworth. Field goals for Maryville, Marshall 7; Webb 2; for Normal, Martin 6. Referee, Feeman.

The Maryville girls will probably have one more trip and one more local game both to be played with Grant University of Athens. A return game at Johnson City with the Normal team may be arranged later.

THE WEST VIRGINIA CLUB ENTERTAINED

The little "Pan Handle State" is well represented here. Recently the club was reorganized with fourteen members, including Miss Jackson, the popular matron of Baldwin. The club's first social affair occurred a few days ago when Miss Jackson delightfully entertained at Baldwin in honor of her guest, an intimate friend, Miss Minnie B. Newcomb, from Dorothy, W. Va.

There was no lack of original and well selected games, and these were supplemented at the proper hour by delicious refreshments. Altogether it was one of the very happy occasions that break the routine of college life; and the West Virginians are immeasurably grateful to Miss Jackson for the afternoon of pleasure she gave them.

F. L. PROFFITT BUYS FARM NEAR BYINGTON

F. L. Proffitt, treasurer of the college, turned a large real estate deal last week according to a Knoxville paper. The land involved is north of Knoxville near Byington and was sold by P. W. Bevins and wife for a consideration of $25,000. Mr. Proffitt does not intend to give up his work as treasurer of the college to take charge of his new farm. His brother, Charles Proffitt will manage the farm.

"THE COURAGE OF COLLEGE WOMEN"

The devotional meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday, Feb. 25th, was a very interesting and impressive service. The leader, Miss Lily Henry, reading an excellent paper on the vital subject, "The Courage of College Women". Miss Listyah favored the audience with a very beautiful vocal solo.

On next Sunday afternoon the meeting is to be in charge of the Freshman girls, subject, "Through Freshman Spectacles".

Don't let other things keep you away from the devotional meetings. You can help others and they in turn can help you through these meetings.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT GROWS RAPIDLY

Has Out Grown Its Quarters. 189 Pupils Enrolled. New Building Needed Soon. Most Popular Elective.

Have you ever gone into that part of the Chapel building which is used by the music department, at a time when the work is in full swing?

It happened to be our mission to conduct some guests of the Philological Association through this department last week and we were impressed with the consciousness of what a large place this department has come to fill in the work of the college.

Miss Hale, who is the head of the Music Department conducted us through the place and furnished us with information concerning it.

Not a nook or corner of the large part of the building given over to to the department is without a piano, every available bit or space being used to accommodate the rapidly growing number of pupils continually seeking admission.

We recall that when the chapel building was erected it was considered by many as the height of folly to suppose so much space could ever be used by the music department. Now it fills these and many other rooms which have been added, while still there is are urgent need of more space. In fact some measures will have to be taken before the end of the year to meet the further demand of this popular department.

We learned that the highest water mark in its history has been reached this course. Where one hundred and thirty-five pupils were registered for piano alone, six teachers being employed in the teaching of this one branch of music.

Including voice, violin and piano, there is an enrollment of one hundred and eighty-nine pupils.

With such a record as this department has gained during the last years, in numbers and efficiency, we feel that Maryville College has reason to be proud of its music department which now has a course so thorough and systematic that it entitles its graduates to advanced work in any large Conservatory.

In fact we see no reason, with such a foundation, why a special music building should not in the near future be erected on the college campus, providing proper and sufficient building equipment to make possible a real Conservatory here in Maryville, so favorably located to claim musical patronage from a large part of the South.

Sewanee is to have a new athletic field, according to the plans there will be a quarter-mile cinder track running around the field proper, also a two hundred and twenty yard straightway. The athletic field proper will be sodded in Bermuda grass. There will be a bleachers and grandstands and will cost about $25,000.

HONOR H. J. BASSETT WITH PRESIDENCY

Philologians Elect Local Prof. President of Organization. Interesting Papers Read. Large Attendance at Sessions.

Last Friday and Saturday the eleventh annual meeting of the Tennessee Philological Association was held on the Hill. Many of the leading educators of the state were in attendance.

Drs. Little and Steele of Peabody College and Vanderbilt University respectively, spoke briefly at chapel on Friday morning. They received a cordial reception from the students.

Sessions were held all day Friday and Saturday in Pearsons and Bartlett Halls. The large number of students who attended showed the interest they took in the excellent program.

Dr. Charles E. Little, the retiring president addressed a large audience in Voorhees Chapel on Friday evening. "A Popular Language in an Imperial Government" was the subject used by the speaker. His address was interesting and instructive and was fully appreciated by his auditors.

Following the address the members of the Association were tendered a most delightful reception by the faculty of Maryville College. Pleasing refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Saturday afternoon officers for the ensuing year were elected. H. J. Bassett, head of the Latin department of Maryville College was honored with the presidency.

Members of the local faculty who participated on the program were Mrs. Alexander, Prof. F. F. Shaeffer and H. J. Bassett

Leading members of the Association spoke very highly of the hospitable manner in which they had been received and entertained. Their stay here was short, but they learned of Maryville College and the work it is doing.

This was the largest attended and most instructive session the Philologians have ever held and Maryville College was pleased to have the privilege of entertaining such a distinguished body. It is hoped they will see fit to choose Maryville for a second meeting in the future.

U. T. MAY PLAY HERE NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Between the appearance of the Tennessee basket ball team this season in Maryville only one difficulty stands at present, there is an agreement upon the referee, and this will probably be settled today. Not much difficulty would be met in selecting the referee were it not for the fact that Coach Bender demands a very exacting referee who will call every foul because he thinks that with Reeder to shoot the fouls that this will be of immense advantage to Tennessee.

The University team is just back from its Eastern trip and is confident of winning from Maryville as they defeated the University of Virginia on this trip. Their defeat at Tusculum was due merely to the fact that Tennessee was playing second string men.

LATEST REPORT

The University of Tennessee will try out their prowess on the local court next Monday night.

All agreements have been made and Coach Bender will bring his squad over seeking revenge.

Special arrangements will be made to accommodate the enormous crowd that will be out to witness the Vols attempt to trim the Highlanders in their own den.

TO DISCUSS IMMIGRATION WORK THURSDAY NIGHT

The Ministerial Association will meet next Thursday at 6:00 p. m. in Bainonian Hall and will consider the problems of immigration work. Several of the members are planning to enter this important phase of the Church work so a lively and instructive discussion is promised.

BALDWIN GIRLS HONOR SENIOR CO-EDS

Most Enjoyable evening. Baldwin Parlors Presented Gala Scene. A Glimpse into The Future.

Early in the week lovely handpainted invitations had been received by the girls of '17 requesting their presence at Baldwin Hall on Saturday evening.

The entertainment was delightfully informal and a splendid program was rendered.

The opening number was unique and amusing. The Senior girls were requested to come forward if they wished to see their future forcasted. And what girl is not interested in her future? That they all are was proven by the way in which the dignified Seniors rushed forward and eagerly waited for a glimpse into that "mysterious beyond".

Two girls dressed to represent Miss Striplin, a prosperous young lawyer, of the class of '17, and a friend of hers, were discussing members of the class and as the various names were mentioned, characters representing them passed into the room and out again. Among the most amusing were those taking the parts of Miss Russell, Miss Wright, Miss Mitchell, and Miss Jones whom no one expected to ever marry but who will greatly surprise us all, if the prediction comes true; and Miss Sheddan, the very intellectual member of the class, from whom so much was expected, but who, according to the prophesy, is to spend her life selling "Fish". Miss Sugg is to be an accomplished musician, and it gave her great satisfaction to learn that her efforts are not in vain and that some day she will reach that goal for which she is striving.

Miss Carson is to be a missionary, and Miss Hopkins is to be married to one of our most deligent Bible students, who is to become a great preacher and a most devoted husband.

After this most instructive and amusing feature of the program ended the Seniors returned to their seats feeling very grateful to the Baldwin girls for solving for them these mysteries over which they had so often pondered.

Then came other delightful numbers among which were readings by Miss Covert, Miss Wicks, Miss Morton, and Miss Wilson. Between these readings a Victrola furnished Hawaiian music. After the singing of the "Alma Mater" by a sextette delicious refreshments were served.

Before the evening closed, Miss Fancher gave a toast to the girls of '17 to which Miss Sheddan, vice-president of the Senior class, responded. After much cheering for "Good Time", "Miss Jackson", and the "Girls of Baldwin Hall", the Senior girls were forced to say "good night" to the Baldwin girls who had so charmingly entertained them.

ORANGE AND GARNET DEFEAT TUSCULUM

Win on Foreign Court. Good Contest. Varsity Lose to Asheville School. Season Nears End.

Greeneville, Tenn., Feb. 22.—The Maryville College basket ball team closed one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school today when it defeated Tusculum on the Tusculum floor by score of 25-19. So far the Varsity has not lost a single game this season in which the regular varsity line-up was used.

The Maryvillians took a six point lead after ten minutes of play and the lead was never overcome. After fifteen minutes of play the score was 12-4 with Maryville going stronger all the while.

The Maryvillians showed team work and a passing game that surprised local fans and players and Tusculum was helpless throughout the entire game before Maryville's almost perfect defense and the guarding of Clemens and Witherspoon.

The goals secured by Tusculum were largely on long luck shots of which the local players were forced to take a great number on account of the Maryville guards breaking up any semblance of team-work on the part of the Tusculum players.

The Maryville players were all over the floor passing and dribbling and Tusculum, unable to "check up", attempted to start rough play but received even a shorter end at "playing the man" than they had "playing the ball".

Garrison was momentorily stunned in the latter part of the second half when he collided in mid-floor with McCall and it was while he was in a dazed condition that Tusculum scored six of their points in rapid succession and it appeared as if they might overcome the Maryville lead, but the Maryville team soon got together and held Tusculum safe until the final whistle.

Tusculum was sadly lacking in some one to throw their free tosses. Out of thirteen attempts only three were thrown. Ramsey scoring one out of seven and Coile two out of six. The large number of fouls on Maryville were due to the fact that Tusculum played a rough, charging game and, as the game was not called as close as the Maryvillians were accustomed to have it, they were not inclined to accept and returned it in other ways for which a foul was generally called.

Maryville had seven free tosses, Garrison scoring five of them. Garrison scoring fifteen points, McCall eight and the team work of Feeman made these men the individual stars of the game.

M. Doak with ten points and Benson with four showed up best for Tusculum.

The game was attended by a large crowd and was the closing event of Tusculum's holiday celebration. The Tusculum team received great support since the spirit of rivalry was at its highest point. In fact at times several Tusculum subs and followers became so imbued with the spirit of the game that they interfered with the Maryville players. It was finally necessary for the referee to remove them from the side line.

Coach Chambers of the Deaf and Dumb school officiated and his decisions were entirely satisfactory, although he did not call the game as close as the Maryville team was accustomed to being ruled.

TALK IT UP

The "Buy at Home" movements now so general throughout this great country of ours, are the direct results of outside competition endeavoring to take away local trade. The constituents of a community know that it is foremost importance to insure the growth of their own town or city if they are to reap the benefits of growth and development.

Recently the national government sent a board of investigation to look over proposed sites for a mamouth armor plant. This board visited the cities and towns who had inducements to offer the government in order that their community might be chosen as the location of this enormous plant. It meant a great deal to these cities if they could secure this new titanic industry, hence they pulled, boosted, talked, and did all in their power to make a good impression on the board of investigation.

The growth and development of Maryville College rests to a large extent on the way its constituents, its student body, boost it. The place it will take with other schools and colleges does not depend on the catalog it puts out as much as it does on what its students say about it.

Maryville College students are known for their loyalty to their Alma Mater, and this article is not written to instill that spirit, but as a reminder that there is always competition around the corner and we must boost our own goods, talk up our own college, in order that it may grow and we may grow with it.

"THE INDEPENDENT" AND "THE NEW REPUBLIC" REDUCE RATES

Two of the best weeklies to report and interpret current events—never before so significent as now—are "The New Republic" and "The Independent". Thousands of students over the whole country are reading them in their own rooms, because the subscription rates to students has been reduced one half.

A list of about thirty names has already been sent to "The Independent" Another list is now lengthening; and a list of subscribers to "The New Republic" has been started. I have volunteered to receive and forward subscriptions to these weeklies. The orders will be sent about March first.

RATES:

"The Independent" to separate address, one year two dollars; for any period less than one year, five cents per week.

"The New Republic", for three months, fifty cents. No other rate has so far been made. Full information as to individual address and longer periods of subscription will be received this week.

The rates apply to students and professors.

DUAL TRACK MEET WITH TUSCULUM IN THE SPRING

Maryville track men received good news Saturday, with the return of the basketball team from Tusculum. While there a large number of Tusculum students and also those in authority at Tusculum expressed a desire to meet Maryville in two track meets in the Spring. One to be held at Tusculum, the other at Maryville as was done several years ago. Much interest has been manifested in this branch of sport at Tusculum and a good team is expected to be found among the large number of students at that institution.

Manager Caton in discussing the matter Saturday said that Maryville would certainly meet Tusculum provided Tusculum could be scheduled for a meet both at Maryville and Tusculum. Since Tusculum is anxious for Maryville to come there during commencement week this will probably be done as Manager McCall of the baseball team has about completed arrangements for the baseball games at Tusculum at that time.

Fully fifty men are expected to try-out for the Maryville team this Spring, and a large number of these will soon be in training for the remaining two cross-country runs, which will be held soon. Besides the two meets with Tusculum which no doubt will be scheduled, Manager Caton expects to schedule two other meets, which with the annual class field-day contest, will complete his schedule.

The student council at Cornell at its last meeting passed resolutions recommending that the minimum wage paid working students should be twenty-five cents an hour and that those working for their board should not be required to work more than three hours per day or twenty-one hours per week, excluding time for meals.

PRICE OF BOARD TAKES A JUMP

With potatoes at $2.50 and more per bushel and other necessities taking leaps and bounds upward it became an impossibility to feed the members of the Boarding Club on $1.95 per week. Mr. Walker, the efficient manager of the club, stated that it had not been the purpose of the officials to raise the board this year, but on signing new contracts for 1917 he found that he would be compelled to pay much higher prices for foodstuffs.

The jump was not very high, just enough to insure the additional rise in prices. The new rate is $2.00 per week. It is not anticipated that very many of the members will dissolve relations with the club on account of this necessary raise of five cents a week.

Everyone seen departing from the aforementioned fateful office carried a look of consternation mingled with humbled pride.

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 21—The Asheville school's fast quintet defeated the Maryville College basket ball team today by score of 35-27 in the fastest played game of the season at Sulphur Springs. The game was very close and was anybody's game until the last few minutes when Asheville took a good lead.

The Maryvillians seemed handicapped by playing in a caged court, being soon slowed up by the rapid pace and on account of the absence of Feeman from the line-up. Although at times passing the ball completely around the Asheville team the Maryvillians seemed generally unable to get started with their well-known team work.

The line-up follows:

Asheville (35)		Maryville (27)

Saturday's Results

The interclass basket ball league finished its schedule Saturday with the exception of one postponed game which will be played this week between the Junior and Sophomore girls.

The Freshmen team decided not to ask for a forfeit in the case of the Junior-Freshmen game, as was announced that they had done last week. The game was played Thursday, the Juniors winning by score of 15-1. The game Thursday was featured by the work of Miss Simpson, who scored 12 of the Junior points and by the guarding of Miss Templin of the Freshmen team.

The final positions of the teams were not settled until each team had played Saturday, while the Juniors and Sophs were battling for the league championship the Freshmen and Seniors were trying to dispose of the cellar championship. This berth was awarded the Seniors as the Freshmen found little trouble winning.

The Soph-Junior contest was the feature of the afternoon since the championship depended upon it. These teams had not met previously and each played to the limit, the Juniors winning by the score of 8-4.

The final game was played between the Freshmen and Sophomore boys, the Fish easily winning by score of 31-8.

The league finals in which varsity players will be permitted to participate will probably not be started until next week, and in the meantime all teams will be preparing for the fray. Mr. Hunter of Knoxville Y. M. C. A. will referee the final game.

The first game played Saturday was between the Senior and Freshmen girls and was easily won by the Freshmen by score of 16-0. The game was featured by the work of Miss Hayes who scored 14 of her team's points and by the excellent guarding and passing of Miss Templin who seemed to have little trouble in holding the opposing forwards scoreless. Miss Sutton showed up best for the Seniors.

The line-up and score follows:

Freshmen (16)		Seniors (0)
14 Hayes	forward	Garrison
2 Wells	forward	A. Striplin
M. Henry	center	M. Mitchell
G. Templin	guard	Sutton
Floyd	guard	Hickey

Substitutes for Seniors: Sheddan for Striplin, Wright for Hickey. Field goals for Freshmen, Hayes 7; Wells 1. Referee Miss Arda Martin.

The second game was between the Junior and Soph girls and settled the league championship. The first half ended with score 4-2 in favor of the Sophs. But the Soph captain made the mistake of keeping out at the beginning of the second half Miss Thompson one of the best guards in the league, and although she was sent back in in the last few minutes of play the Juniors had scored 6 points and having held the Sophs scoreless had sewed up the league championship. The game was fast and rough and was featured by the work of Misses Thompson and Davis of the Sophomore team and Misses Brockelhurst and E. Moseley of the Junior team.

DATE OF BEREA DEBATE CHANGED

The debate between Maryville and Berea has been postponed to March 9. On that date the two teams will lock horns at Maryville, while another team representing Maryville will "deliver the goods" at Berea, the same night.

Both teams, that will fight for the Orange and Garnet, are working hard. While they make no predictions, they are hoping to repeat last year's performance, when Maryville won at both ends.

The student body is behind them and will be out on March 9 en masse to cheer them on to victory.

THOSE COLLEGE YELLS

After "Those College Bells".

BY S. W. BOARDMAN, JR.

Those college yells! Those college yells!
How many a tale their accent tells,
Of foot-ball games and of election,
Since first I heard their strong inflection.

These student hours will pass away;
And many a throat that's here today,
Which of much pain and soreness tells,
Because it gave those college yells.

So shall it be when I am gone,
Those college yells will still yell on.
And other lungs will wake these dells
With your sweet sound, old college yells.

INTERURBAN LINE TO KNOXVILLE

Last Saturday an election was held in the city of Maryville. The people of the city voted to give the Knoxville Interurban Railway Company a franchise. The franchise calls for the completion of the work within eighteen months. This new line will be of great advantage to students as it will provide rapid and cheap transit to Knoxville.

SUDDEN CONCLUSIONS

A little man was hanging to the coat tail of a portly German. Suddenly the car gave a lurch and the little man unceremoniously seated himself upon the lap of a lady passenger. After he apologized, the German turned suddenly to him: "Say, what nationality are you anyway"? he asked.

"Always thought I was Irish", replied the little man. "Guess I must be a Laplander, though".—Ex.

DREAMLAND

We wish to announce that with no little amount of effort we have secured for presentation in Maryville the only and original version of SNOW WHITE. This picture is made by the Famous Players and is released by Paramount Pictures Company. Marguerite Clark is starred in this picture, and all lovers of the dainty Marguerite know what that means. She is the spirit of ever lasting youth, so eagerly welcomed by so many thousands of men, women and children when her lovely face and tiny figure flash out on the screen. There is another production of "Snow White" on the market at the present time, but it is decidedly an inferior offering and this is the "Snow White", the only one in which Miss Clark, "the smallest star with the biggest personality appears. There are no vampire women or cigarette smoking jades and weak men to work out the schemes of the plot. It is wonderfully refreshing to all that is best in man, woman or child. Here Saturday, March 10th.

Tuesday, Feb. 27—Ambrose's Rapid Rise,, a funny Keystone Komedy featuring Mack Swain, the heavy weight comedian. "Pearl of the Army", chapter 13, featuring Pearl White. Universal Comedy.

Wednesday, Feb. 28—"The Victoria Cross", a Paramount feature in five parts, featuring Lou Tellegen. This is a virile play written around the present European conflict. Ham and Bud Comedy.

Thursday, March 1—Triangle feature in five acts "Diane of the Follies", featuring Lillian Gish. This picture gives Miss Gish an opportunity to display some of the most beautiful gowns ever worn by any star in any picture. Universal Comedy.

Saturday, March 3—"The Traveling Salesman", Paramount feature in five parts, featuring Frank McIntyre. Mr. McIntyre made this play famous on the speaking stage in the larger cities, and is now duplicating his success with it on the screen. A comedy well worth your time to witness.

Y. M. C. A. CELEBRATES ITS FORTIETH YEAR OF SERVICE

Present Cabinet Makes Good. Pays Off Old Debts. Various Committees Report.

On Jan 5, 1916 the members of the Y. M C. A. elected the present officers.

The winter and spring terms proved to be a tremendous success in every way with the Association. The devotional meetings were attended by large and enthusiastic audiences. The Mission and Bible Study classes were well attended and the student body in general boosted the Association. However, it was not able to do the work it wanted to do because of the financial condition. When the present cabinet took charge of affairs there was a debt of $196.50 with $0.75 in the treasury. There were however, somes resources which were turned into money. A great financial campaign was started and all but $70.00 was raised. This amount was carried over until this year.

In May the constitution was revised by suggestion of the State Committee, changing the names and duties of some of the committee chairmen and the date of election of officers. The election of officers will be the fourth Monday in April.

When school began in the Fall the College and the Y. M. C. A. found they had a great task on hand securing rooms for the men owing to the lack of dormitory accommodations. This however, was overcome by the willingness of every member of the Association. Then another attempt was made to lift the old debt, so the boys got together and hauled trunks. This did not prove very satisfactory. So it was decided to depend on the pledges and the Lyceum for the finances of the work. Attention was centered on the financial work of the Association but the religious part was not overlooked.

Now that the financial strain is relieved the Y. M. C. A. is prepared to go on and do a greater work for the student body and the College than ever before.

SOCIAL

At the beginning of this school year, a joint social was given in Bartlett Hall, where a splendid programme, followed by games and refreshments, was enjoyed by all present.

Later in the year the boys were entertained. On this occasion, the contests arranged by the physical director were quite strenuous and amusing. It is to be hoped that another social will be held this year, and if the Faculty and Y. W. C. A. committee cooperate with the Y. M. C. A., its success is assured

The Reading Room is kept open on Saturdays, Sunday afternoons, and from 1:10 until 5:00 on other afternoons. A large library of books and twenty-five good periodicals are there for the use of the students. As soon as the funds permit, the Y. M. C. A. will equip the room adjoining the Reading Room as a Game Room and place of entertainment for the visiting athletic teams.

MEMBERSHIP

The number of members in the Y. M. C. A. this year shows an increase over the past few years, there now being 211 members in the Association.

This membership is composed as follows:

Faculty, Active Members - -	15
Student, Active Members -	174
Student Associate Members -	22
Total - - - - -	211

Last year the total membership was 194, so this represents an increase of 17.

Any of the students who may have been overlooked in the membership canvass are urged to make themselves known to the Membership Secretary who will be glad to enroll them as members of the greatest student organization on the Hill.

EXTENSION

The work of the Extension Committee includes all the work of the Association done outside the student body. During the past year the work has been almost entirely the conducting of religious services. Every Sunday afternoon services are held for the unfortunates confined in the county jail. On Thanksgiving Day, a special musical program and a short service were furnished for these people, and a large size box of good things given to each one. Union Sunday School, led by a Y. M. C. A. Superintendent and taught by Y. M. C. A. teachers, has made great progress during the past year. Four pulpits outside of Maryville have been filled by Y. M. C. A. men, and eight different church services of the local churches conducted by different men at different times. In these services it has been the plan to present the realities and beauties of the "Young Man's Christ". In the near future, a team is to go out to one of the nearby towns and conduct a three-day evangelistic campaign among the boys of the town.

DEVOTIONAL

The devotional committee of the Y. M. C. A. appreciates fully the cooperation of students and professors in the work of the year. This alone has made the Sunday afternoon meetings a success and made it possible for Mr. Broady to win so many of our boys for Christ. Continuing with us, all will be benefited as active participants in Christian student activities, and will make it possible for the Y. M. C. A. to complete an already gloriously successful year.

LYCEUM

For several years the Y. M. C. A. has conducted for the student body and the public a course of lectures and entertainments. The course usually consists of five or six numbers, one or two of which are popular lectures and the rest musical or dramatic entertainments. During the past collegiate year we have had five excellent numbers, all of which were contracted for through the Redpath Lyceum Bureau. The course consisted of the following numbers: "Old Home Singers", "Kaltenborn Quartet and Elsie Baker", "Brooks Fletcher", lecturer, "Alton Packard" cartoonist, and "Panama Singers".

The course was provided at small cost, tickets for the entire course costing one dollar and seventy-five cents.

No definite announcement can be made as to the course for next year. By April the 1st. the management will announce the course for next year. The student body and the public have generously supported these entertainments during the past year and in planning the course for next year the management would appreciate any suggestions which would add to the value of the lyceum.

EDUCATION

The Religious Education committee is a committee composed of the former Bible Study, Mission Study and Social Study Committees.

This committee has been hard at work endeavoring to give the student body a religous education, different in point of view than that of

DEPARTED FOR NEW YORK CITY TODAY

Having spent a month away from his work on the Forward Fund, Dr. Wilson returned to New York City this morning. But while he has not been actively engaged in canvassing for funds the work has gone on just the same. During his stay in Maryville the Doctor has been greatly encouraged by the receipt of letters from parties who had become interested in the College through the reading of "A Century of Maryville College". In speaking of the assistance the book was rendering him Dr. Wilson said, "I find that the time I took from the campaign in which to write the book has been made up many times by the new friends it has found for the College". Over 800 copies of the book have been disposed of to date. It creates interest in the heart of every one who reads it. One man said "I was so intensely interested that I sat up a large part of the night in order that I might finish it". It is the book that is making so many new friends for the College.

The Doctor's favorite room has been reserved for him in Hotel Chelsea. With the splendid results of the February Meetings fresh on his mind and the many promising letters he has received while here, Prexy goes back to active campaigning for the Forward Fund. It is needless to say that the best wishes and prayers of the student body go with him and hope for him the success which he so richly deserves.

CO-EDS ADD ANOTHER VICTORY TO LONG STRING

Athens, Tenn., March 2.—The Maryville College girls' basket ball team easily defeated the Grant University team tonight by score of 68 to 18.

The Maryville team is composed of fast aggressive individuals who have developed team-work that makes them by far the best girls' team thae has ever appeared on a local floor.

The game was played under the one-center line rule, the center being allowed to shoot. Miss Webb, center for Maryville, played a large part in her team's scoring and featured the game with her floor work.

The team work and passing of the Maryvillians, especially of B. Marshall, and the goal shooting of Miss Marshall and Miss Hackeworth, who seldom missed a shot, made the game the best exhibition of team work and goal shooting ever given on an Athens floor.

The Athens girls will probably play a return game in Maryville next week.

The line-up follows:

By a special vote, the Ministerial Association of Maryville College, desires to express in this manner, their appreciation of the wonderful inspiring and instructive address given by Miss Eva Listyak, at the last meeting, and to extend to her the hearty wishes and goodwill of the Association.

YEAR'S INITIAL FORENSIC EVENT

BEREA VS. MARYVILLE

"Live Wire" Subject For Debate. Both Teams Confident.

For over three months have the Maryville and Berea debating teams been working on their 'constructive' and 'rebuttal' speeches, and next Friday night, at 8 p. m., they will be given the chance, (they can hardly wait!) to show the audience and convince the judges (beg pardon), it should be "honorable judges", that since the opponents have failed to produce sufficient evidence to prove their points, therefore, be it resolved that Maryville wins—(oh! hold on! it may be that Berea wins) the debate.

At all events, Voorhees Chapel will undoubtedly be crowded to its capacity on next Friday night, March 9, for the student body, always loyal to its team, is coming out en masse to give the Berea boys a royal reception, and to support the Maryville team.

Furthermore, many of the town folks will want to be there, for the subject to be debated is not only of interest to College students, but to all true and loyal Americans. The immigration question, and its problems, is confronting the country today as never before, and no college student, as well as no American citizen can afford to miss an opportunity to hear this question "thrashed" out by six men who have made it a thorough and exhaustive study for the past three or four months. The exact wording of the question is as follows: "Resolved, That the U. S. should further restrict immigration by a Literacy Test, Constitutionality conceded."

The team that will debate here is as follows: Norman Black, capt.; Howard McGrath and Wm. Dillinger. The team which leaves for Berea Friday morning and debates there Friday night is as follows: Ralph A. Young, capt.; Homer Weisbecker, F. Theodore Miner.

Both Maryville teams have been debating against each other for more than two weeks and are in perfect fighting trim, full of "pep", and brimming over with joyful expectations.

The Maryville teams won both debates last year from Berea, and they hope to do it again on Friday.

The team that went to Berea last year received a very warm reception from the Berea faculty and student body, and it is only a matter of "good sportsmanship" that the Berea team which comes here ought to be made to feel that they are among friends. Why not give them a warm reception when they enter the "dining room" at Pearsons, and in the Chapel? Let's get together and act the part of "good sports".

REPORT DELIGHTED HIS CHURCH PEOPLE

A letter from Rev. J. M. Broady brings the good news that he suffered no ill effects from his strenuous days at Maryville. "I have not suffered any ill effects from the strenuous, yet delightful days at M. C. My people are delighted with the reports of the meetings", is the way Mr. Broady puts it.

This is good news to the many friends of the evangelist who knew what strain he was working under. He had spent a month in Florida, at the orders of his physician, previous to his coming to Maryville. He was advised at that time that he would not be able to stand the strain, but he came just the same. It is pleasing to learn that there were no ill after effects.

VOLS TAKE FINAL GAME OE SERIES

Good Snappy Exhibition. Over 600 See Game. Ye Old Pep In Evidence. Final Score 30-23.

The University of Tennessee quintet won the final and decisive game of the basket ball series with Maryville by score of 30-23.

The University was enabled to win by the excellent individual work of Lum Reeder who scored 22 of his team's points and by the fact that Maryville tried an unusually large number of long difficult shots of which only a few were scored. It seemed for awhile as if the ball just would not go in for Maryville as the Highlanders played it all over the basket before they scored.

The Maryvillians as a team at times played a great game but the game was largely one of individual prowess, and especially was Garrison's work commendable, for with Feeman he was all over the floor shooting, passing and roughing it up in a way that he had not previously shown this year.

Maryville took the offensive from the first whistle and had almost continuous possession of the ball for several minutes, when after an innumerable number of shots had failed to score, Tennessee took the ball and scored five points, Maryville soon followed and from then on to the end of the half the score was close but U. T. leading.

During the half Maryville did not show much of an inclination to pass the ball and the long shots, although striking the basket in great numbers, did not go through with a certainity that brought joy to the fans.

Garrison was playing all over Davidson at center and Maryville was keeping possession of the ball, but lost a large part of the shots and the half ended with score 13-11 in favor of Tennessee.

Maryville started the second half with a rush and following some brilliant work by Garrison and Feeman took the lead for the first and only time during the game. For the first few minutes of the half Maryville broke into their best form and threatened to sweep aside Tennessee,

FRIENDS OF COLLEGE MEN

The Y. M. C. A. is a common friend of each and every young man that enters Maryville College. The very essence of local Y. M. C. A. work is spreading a sentiment of good-will among the fellows, strengthening character and creating a desire to become contributors to the work of uplifting mankind.

Throughout its four decades of existence the Association has had a steady growth along the lines of social usefulness. Plans are now nearing completion, by means of which the "Community Work" will be extended to neighboring towns and counties.

The altruistic spirit is firmly intrenched in the minds and hearts of the social workers and they are systematizing the work to be done in the communities, of and near Maryville.

The attendance thus far, while not so large as it might be is very gratifying indeed. The promptness, regularity and cooperation of the members has been encouraging throughout the year. The remaining school months will be filled with various entertainments, but that is no valid reason why the atendance on Sunday afternoons should decrease in the least degree. The individual training derived from any student organization depends upon what each individual contributes towards the activities of the Association. But such training is only a primary object, when one considers the fact, that the local Y. M. C. A. is a branch of the larger Christian organization that is redeeming the world. But in the final analysis, the success of all organizations depends upon the cooperative individual support of each and every member.

The Y. M. C. A. being a human organization is subject to mistakes, short-comings and possibly criticism by some "would-be-knockers". But if you should meet a "knocker" just ask him to attend the meetings on the following Sunday and present his complaints so that present faults may be eliminated; by doing so, he will be advancing the interests of an organization that is making an honest effort to provide a social and religious training for every young man on College Hill.

CAMPUS NOTES

Mr. Charles F. Kelley of Knoxville was a visitor last Sunday. Headquarters was Pearson's parlor.

Miss Esther Covert has been confined in the hospital with tonsilitis.

A party of five young ladies were chaperoned to Knoxville last Saturday by Miss Postlethwaite. They fail to animadvert the Bijou.

What are you Preps going to do to Berea? Clean 'em up boys,—clean 'em up.

After her wonderful experience at Atlantic City last fall the Dean of Women, Miss Caldwell (Miss Mollie) feels competent to take charge of the girl participants in the Water Carnival next spring. Floating, etc. — — — —! !

"Tommy Atkins" Loft is rapidly disproving the idea that all Englishmen like caps and mustaches. He never wears the former and can't grow the latter.

Cedric Miller occupied the pulpit of Washington Church near Byington last Sunday.

Mr. T. J. Miles visited his daughters on the hill Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Whalin spent a few days in the city last week. They were entertained at a dinner party by Miss Edna Foster on Friday evening. These young people have the distinction of being the first members of '16 "under the wire".

Mr. Zollie Howard, one of last year's Prep debaters, visited on the campus last week end.

Miss Winifred Decker's father was on the Hill Saturday.

Quite a few students attended circuit court, which was in session last week. Some of the Professors were also seen before the bar.

Our old friend "Hank" Sentelle of football fame went to work for the first time last Saturday morning at a near by plant. He picked up his tools at 6 a. m. and the next time he was seen he was sitting beside a fair maiden at the breakfast table—yes the same morning. Some people can't miss a meal.

Miss Mary Emma Armentraut, who left last week on account of illness, is quite sick at her home.

Miss Lois C. Wilson, '16, who is in school in New York City, said in a recent letter to her home folks: "I am glad to hear that the College meetings were such good ones. The 'Highland Echo' that came to hand yesterday told all about them. I'm for that paper! It's a newsy one all right".

From the looks of the calendar shown on this page there will be no lack of entertainment around the week ends. Then there will be baseball too.

A word to the ignorant should suffice——Two weeks from tomorrow the Winter Term exams begin. Don't say we didn't tell you.

Say that was some crowd at the game last night! ! ! ! ! Must have been 600.

T. W. Goddard, with his team from Wheat High School witnessed the game. "Tom" says there will be some Wheat players on the M. C. team next year. Well—here's hoping they fill the bill.

Misses Smith and Raynes of Knoxville were visitors here last week.

COLLEGE CATALOG IN HANDS OF PRINTER

The sixteenth volume of the college bulletin, the annual catalog number, was placed in the hands of the printer last week.

Prof. C. H. Gillingham, registrar, assisted by Miss Marshall, prepared the "copy" and arranged the reading matter in proper order.

The annual catalog of Maryville ranks with the best college catalogs in the south; and it portrays the college in its many phases in an admirable manner.

MISS GENEVIEVE GIBSON "BANQUETS" JUNIOR BASKET BALL GIRLS

Miss Genevieve Gibson was the charming hostess at a "dinner" party in honor of the Junior girls' basket ball team Saturday night. Plates were laid for seven and the following delicious courses were served:

Cream of Tomato Soup. Potato and Nut Salad, Sandwiches, Olives, Saltines, Nut Bread, Jelly, Angel Food Cake, Cocoa.

At a late (?) hour the guests departed declaring that they had had a most delightful and spiffy time.

Those who enjoyed the feast besides Miss Gibson were, Misses Zeora Broklehurst, Josephine Knapp, Mary Miles, George Simpson, Elizabeth Henry and Elinor Moseley.

BASEBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Coach Everett of the baseball squad was a gloomy man during the past week for he had planned to send his protege into hard practice Monday afternoon. The continued rainfall made this impossible.

However Coach Everett plans to get his men together during the latter part of the week, if only for an indoor workout, and for preliminary instructions.

The schedule as arranged by Manager McCall, is a hard one with a large number of games for the home lot. For this reason the Coach is especially desirous of getting his men into action as soon as the weather will permit.

It is expected that nearly one hundred men will answer the first call for candidates, among whom will be found six of last year's team, several from last year's scrubs, a large number of former prep and High School stars who give promise of developing into real diamond stars. Besides these there are several men who have had experience with other college teams.

FACULTY—SENIOR B. B. GAME IN NEAR FUTURE

The annual Senior-Faculty basket ball game is to be played soon and if a small part of the crowd that attended last year's game is in attendance and a few of the events are repeated every one may be assured that they will be entertained by the banner event of the year.

The Faculty-Senior games are always closely contested and this year promises even a closer game. The first game will be played between the ladies of the faculty and the Seniors. The Seniors will use their regular league line-up. The second game will be between the men of the Senior class and the faculty. The line-up for the teams will not be given out until next week.

Another class meets Sunday morning at 8:00 o'clock in Bartlett Hall. There are 38 men enrolled, with an average attendance of 26. This class is studying "Student Standards of Action". JUNIOR CO-EDS FINISH SEASON UNDEFEATED

The Junior Class girls basket ball team finished the season without a single defeat, playing its last scheduled league game Saturday against the Sophs, winning by score of 5-2.

A large crowd was on hand to witness the final game, the support being about evenly divided between the two teams.

The leading part in the game was played by the guards as the game was largely a defensive game. Although the ball was for a greater part of the time in possession of the Juniors, the splendid work of Miss Thompson held the Junior score down.

The first half ended with neither side having scored. But in the first few minutes of the second half the Soph defensive slipped just a little and each of the forwards scored one goal and Miss Brockelhurst scored a foul.

The Sophs scored one goal and the half ended with score of 5-2. The feature of the game was the guarding of Miss Thompson who was all over the floor guarding, passing and recovering the ball. For the Juniors Miss Elizabeth Henry and Miss Moseley showed up best. The line-up and score follows:

Sophomores		Juniors
Davis	forward	Z. Brockelhurst 3
G. Bailey 2	forward	Simpson 2
H. Newell	center	E. Mosely
M. Thompson	guard	E. Henry
E. Miles	guard	Knapp

Referee, Weisbecker.

BIG MOCK TRIAL

The Junior Alpha Sigmas had the time of their lives on last Saturday night. A big crowd of members and visitors were out, in spite of the rain, to see the Big Mock Trial.

The participants of the Divorce Case indulged in lots of fun and humor, and at the same time the various lawyers showed their literary ability by strong orations in their final appeal to the jury.

Divorce Case as follows: Mrs. Jackson pleading for Divorce from Mr. Jackson.

Att. for State	Att. for Defense
Wolf	R. A. Shelburne
White	D. N. Eitner

Mr. Jackson was found guilty of non-support and a divorce was granted to his wife. The Alpha Sigs are now flourishing. Everybody come and start off the new term with a rush. Election and installation of officers next Saturday night, March 10, 1917.

"THROUGH FRESHMEN SPECTACLES"

A large number of girls attended the Y. W. C. A. devotional meeting on Sunday afternoon, March 4th. Every one enjoyed looking "Through Freshmen Spectacles" at their "Ideals" given by the leader, Miss Mamie Pleasants; at "Our Work" by Miss Helena Turner; and at "Our Methods" by Miss Porter.

The enjoyment of the meeting was increased by two vocal solos. Miss Newton sang "Just For Today", and Miss Dickson "My Father Knows".

The meeting next Sunday is to be an open meeting on, "Lessons from Lives of Great Women", instead of "The Christian Ministry of Music" as was scheduled. The latter subject will be discussed on the 18th. Every girl is especially requested to take an active part in the open meeting next Sunday.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The work of the Ministerial Association of Maryville College, during the past six months has been, in every sense of the word, a great success.

Our semi-monthly meetings have been instructive, helpful and uplifting to the large number who have attended them. The local mission work, also has prospered, and we feel that our labors in that direction have not been in vain, for the whole mission situation has yielded a great abundance of fruit. Then we feel that the work of our respective committees should not be overlooked. The Family Altar committee has done quick work with amazing results, and the same good results can be said of all our committees.

For these and countless other blessings the Ministerial Association is profoundly thankful. To all of the speakers, who have inspired us by their helpful addresses, we desire to express our thanks. To those who have assisted in the mission work we are exceedingly grateful. And lastly, to our Heavenly Father, whose all-wise plan has made these things possible, we are profoundly thankful, and pray that the world may have been better for our having lived in it, and that each and every one with whom we come in contact, may be blessed and helped by our association together.

SOPH-FISH DEBATE PRELIMS BEING HELD

The Sophomore and Freshman classes are working on the preliminaries for their big debate next month.

It is rumored that there will be several members of the fair sex upholding both the negative and affirmative side of the question.

Both classes are handicapped in producing the best possible teams, owing to the best debaters in their classes being slated to appear in the inter-collegiate contests.

PALACE THEATRE

Tuesday, March 6—"The Red Woman", featuring Gail Kane and Mahlon Hamilton. The thrills and romance of Mexico constitute the basis for this tempestuous tale of love and passion. Racial prejudices, the intrigues of cowboy and gunman and the love of a white man and an Indian maid all figure in this startling drama. The scenic effects are wonderful. The story is decidedly unusual and the climax is big and absolutely unexpected. Miss Gail Kane is entrancingly beautiful in "The Red Woman'. It's Brady Made.

Wednesday, March 7— "The Glory of Yolanda", featuring Anita Stewart, America's Daintiest Actress. A Dramatic Play of how the Great White Flame of Purity burned in the soul of a Russian dancing girl. The Russian atmosphere is most realistic in the Glory of Yolanda which stars America's daintiest actress, Anita Stewart. It would seem that the part of Yolanda was created especially for this young screen star who truly won the love and admiration of motion picture fans the world over.

Thursday, March 8—"The Lass of the Lumberlands", featuring Helen Holmes. The 15th Chapter is entitled "Retribution". Charlie Chaplin Comedy.

Friday, March 9—"Dante's Inferno". Little need be said about this classic. It is one of the most marvelous plays of the picture stage, depicting with remarkable faithfulness the journey of Dante and his associates through the torture chambers of the inferno. Its lessons leave a deep impression on grown folks as well as children.

Saturday, March 10th—"Purple Mask", featuring Grace Cunard and Francis Ford. This great detective serial is growing intensely interesting. 1 reel Pathe Cartoon. 1 reel American Comedy.

Monday, March 12—"Patria", featuring Mrs. Vernon Castle, Milton Sills and Warner Oland.

VOLS TAKE FINAL GAME OF SERIES

but soon the defense strengthened and Maryville was back at the long difficult shots of which Garrison scored two.

Four fouls were called on Maryville by Umpire Luck, following Maryville taking the lead, on what appeared to be the closest of close decisions. The officiating of Chambers as referee was excellent, yet that of Luck on the out of bounds and rushing was far from meeting the approval of the crowd present. As Reeder was making practically every chance good on foul shots, they went a long way in determining the final score. Reeder shot 8 fouls; just one more than the number of points by which Maryville lost.

Garrett had his ankle injured during the half and was replaced by J. Reeder who failed to score.

Feeman scored three and Garrison two field goals for Maryville during this half and Reeder four and Davidson two for U. T. Reeder had five foul goals to his credit and Garrison only two and the half ended with score 17-12.

The Highlanders were considerably outweighed, but it seemed as if only luck beat them, for in possession of the ball the greater part of the time and with a large number of shots which would hang on the edge of the basket seemed to go against them.

The game was fast and rough although not so rough as the two games played in Knoxville nor did either team, owing to the smallness of the floor, display the team work that they had shown at Knoxville.

Reeder was easily the star for U. T., with his total of 22 points he was practically the entire team.

Garrison and Feeman starred for Maryville and their work featured the game at all times.

Extra provisions had been made for handling the crowd and the attendance was estimated at between six and seven hundred, the largest basket ball crowd at Maryville in several seasons.

Line-up and score follows:

Tennessee 30		Maryville 23
L. Reeder 22	forward	Feeman 8
Garrett 4	forward	McCall 4
Davidson 4	center	Garrison 11 (capt.)
Jacobs (c)	guard	Clemens
Wolfe	guard	Witherspoon

Substitutes for Tennessee, J. Reeder for Garrett.

Field goals, Reeder 7; Feeman 4; Garrison 4; Garrett 2; McCall 2; Davidson 2.

Foul goals, Reeder 8; Garrison 3.

Time of Halves 20 minutes.

Referee, Chambers, Deaf & Dumb School. Umpire, Luck, Georgia Tech. Timekeepers, Harper, M. C.; Bender, U. T.

BEREA-MARYVILLE BREAK EVEN

Home Team Wins. Boys Lose At Berea. Good Support Accorded Both Teams.

The second annual debate between Maryville and Berea resulted in a tie, both schools winning at home, and losing on the enemies territory. In both cases the decisions were two to one.

AT MARYVILLE

It was a close debate. Everyone that heard it admits that Berea came back strong this year. But in spite of the fact that Berea "had speeches that had been winning debates all over the country" as their coach let out after the debate, they went down in defeat before the avalanche of Maryville argument.

Throughout the constructive argument it seemed as though Berea had a little the better of the question, for Mr. Whitaker, with his questions, Mr. Fenwick, with his maps and charts and Capt. Evans with the final wind-up, drove home some very conclusive arguments. On the constructive speeches for Maryville, Messrs. McGrath and Dillinger, took up the social and economic side of the literacy test, while Capt. Black presented the plan. Maryville undoubtedly won by her rebuttals. Here Berea seemed very weak, being unable to meet many of the arguments presented by the Maryville team. But from the very outset the Maryville team tore to pieces the arguments advanced by Berea. All the members of the team are to be congratulated on their splendid rebuttal speeches, which, after all, is the true test of a debater.

The judges for the debate were, Dr. R. S. Radford, Dean J. D. Hoskins and Dr. T. W. Glocker, all of the University of Tennessee. Their decision was rendered two to one in favor of Maryville.

The team was well backed by a loyal bunch of rooters, who cheered for both sides during the debate and when chairman, C. W. Henry announced the decision, everyone fairly fell over one another in getting to the stage and congratulating the debaters, who had represented their Alma Mater so ably.

AT BEREA

The Maryville Debating team, representing the Preparatory Department, left for Berea at 6 a. m. Friday, and arrived at Berea early the same afternoon. A large crowd of Berea rooters greeted the team at the depot, waving Maryville colors, Orange and Garnet, and Berea pennants, and displaying signs announcing "War" in the Berea Chapel that night between the two teams. To the great surprise of the Maryville team, and to their great delight, a company of pretty Berea girls, sang the old Maryville "Alma Mater" as the team stepped off the train into the auto which was waiting for them. The Maryville team then showed its appreciation of this splendid hospitaltity, and, standing with uncovered heads in the auto, gave 15 Rahs for Berea.

The team was then hustled to one of the halls, where rooms were reserved for every member of the party, Professor Johnson having the extreme delight of occupying the room of an old Classmate at Wooster U.

After a little nap in the afternoon the fellows were taken over to the Academy Dining Hall, where more surprises awaited them. No sooner were the boys seated at the Faculty table, opposite the Berea team, when a crowd of young ladies marched in singing Maryville's "Alma Mater". They surrounded the Maryville team, and stood there until the song was finished. Then

TENNIS COURTS PRESENT SIGNS OF SPRINGTIME

"Thirty Love" was again heard to ring out over the part of the campus where the tennis courts are located. It was the warm sunshine of the past week that brought out the dust covered rackets and balls.

This will be a banner spring fo. the artists of the net and racket, as it is planned to arrange dual matches with other colleges. Last year the games with Carson-Newman proved very interesting for both spectators and the contestants. The usual class games will be staged in both "singles" and "doubles". So all "would-be" champs had better begin early so as to be able to last until the finals.

The faculty courts were "groomed" last Saturday and the next few days will, in all probability, find members of that body besporting themselves on their private lot.

SOPHS WIN IN THE SEMI-FINALS

Smother Fish In Rough And Tumble Game. Soph Team Work Features. Fish Fight Gamely.

The first of the preliminaries for the College basketball championship was played Saturday, the Sophs winning from Freshmen by score of 28-10.

The game was unusually rough as the Freshmen fought desperately to come from behind. The Sophs took an early lead and were never headed.

The Sophomores were much the heavier and used their weight to much advantage, especially in roughing it, although the Freshmen were, on the whole indivdually lighter, their gameness and spirit made up for their lack of weight.

The Soph defense featured the game, as the Freshmen were never able to get their team work under way, while the Sophomore team work showed up brilliantly at all times, especially the work of the guards, Briggs and Capt. Witherspoon who were able to keep the ball out of Freshmen end most of the time.

Davidson and Sears scored all of the Sophomore points. Davidson scoring seven field goals from difficults angles in addition to four fouls.

The first half ended 17-1, but changes in the line-up of both teams for the second half seemed to be of advantage to the Freshmen, and the half was much closer, the score being 11-9 in favor of the Sophs.

Clemens was the mainstay of the Freshmen team, but the guarding of the Sophs, who at times seemed to smother the other members of Freshmen team prevented him from working to much advantage.

Line-up and score follows:

Freshmen 10		Sophs 28
Eagleton 2	forward	Davidson 18
Brown 6	forward	Hayes
Clemens	center	Sears 10
Johnson	guard	Witherspoon (c)
Drake (c) 2	guard	Briggs

Substitutes: for Freshmen, Walker for Clemens; Clemens for Johnson; Burkhart for Walker. Sophomores: Adams for Hayes; Norgan for Witherspoon; Marshall for Davidson. Field goals for Sophs, Davidson 7; Sears 5. For Freshmen: Drake 1; Brown 1; Eagleton 1. Foul goals for Sophs, Davidson 4; for Freshmen, Brown 4.

Referee, Hunter, Knoxville Y. M. C. A. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

SENIOR PREPS TO GIVE "THE RIVALS"

A DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

To be given by the Senior Preparatory Class Friday evening, the sixteenth, admission ten cents. The proceeds are to go for new "gym" equipment.

"The Rivals" may well be called a comedy, for it is brimful of laughable mishaps and funny expressions. Mrs. Malaprop, aided by Sir Anthony Absolute, the mild father, and Bob Acres, a would-be Chesterfield, make of it a "comedy of errors" from start to finish. Mrs. Malaprop observes that "everyone should study geometry so as to have a knowledge of the contagious countries." Can you beat it? She is the original swallower of the dictionary.

There is a love affair, too, the non-smooth kind, which gives the touch of real life. Come out and get an idea of Mrs. Malaprop's vast vocabulary. Also see some good acting! Don't miss it, for it's going to be one Huge Laugh!

LOCATION TO BE CHANGED AT ONCE

BATTLE BRANCH MISSION SOON TO BE MOVED

Aluminum Company Will Convert Present Site Into Park

The Aluminum Company of America recently purchased the property on which Battle Branch Mission now stands, from Mrs. Y. W. Hannum, its former owner.

In close proximity to the Mission is a spring, which the Aluminum Company is utilizing as a source of water supply for its employes. In order to guard this water supply, and keep it pure, the Company has purchased the adjoining property and plans are already under way looking to the conversion of the grounds into a beautiful park.

In a statement made to a committee from the Mission, Mr. B. L. Glascock, Superintendent of the Aluminum Company, said that, upon the completion of the park, the Company proposes to turn it over to the public, at the same time caring for it, at its own expense. In this way the Company hopes to contribute to the progress of Maryville, as well as to the safeguarding of the water supply.

Owing to these plans, it will be necessary to transfer the Mission building to other grounds. Mr. R. S. Kithcart, a man who has faithfully supported the Mission at all times, recently purchased a lot to which the Mission can be transferred, providing funds can be raised. The lot will cost $300, and $100 will be needed to move the building. A number of broad guaged Marysvillians have already subscribed $200 towards this fund. Among them is President S. T. Wilson, who subscribed generously toward this object.

The building now occupied by the Mission was originally a dance hall, but after a revival which stirred Maryville, a number of people converted the building into a Mission. The work has since been under the guidance and supervision of the Ministerial Association of Maryville College, and Maryville students have done noble, efficient and self-sacrificing work there for many years. Besides preaching, teaching and praying, they have literally donned their overalls, and gone down there to work. They have enlarged and improved the Mission in many ways, have kept it clean, and have not spared themselves in order to make the Mission more attractive. Last

TO ASSIST IN WELCOME OF TROOPS FROM BORDER

The students of the college have been asked to assist the local Board of Commerce in the reception they are planning for the Blount County company of the Third Tennessee Regiment. The fellows who play musical instruments will aid the local band in making the welcome a success in a musical way.

The company contains some former Maryville students and it is expected that many of the college folks will be at the station to witness the arrival and reception.

The time of the arrival could not be learned as the Echo goes to press, but it is thought that it will be either Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning. Whenever it is there should be a big crowd from the hill at the station to take part in the reception.

BASEBALL PRACTICE GETS UNDER WAY

Clear Warm Weather Helps. Big Bunch Out. Schedule Announced. Coach Everett In Charge.

Friday afternoon Coach Everett's first call for baseball candidates was responded to by more than thirty men. Only a light work-out was given the men, but this week will be the beginning of real practice for Coach Everett realizes that he has a hard job on his hands if he is to develop a team from the material on hand the equal of the team that represented Maryville last year.

Only two of the men who played with Maryville up to and including the North Carolina trip are in school this year. Six members who were on the team that finished the season are back again, candidates for their positions.

The pitching staff will give the Coach the most trouble for he has not one of last year's varsity or scrub team staff to start with, and if reports are true, very few promising new men who have had pitching experience.

The following men are out from last year's team for their old positions, Clemens, catcher; Flannery, 1st. base; McClenaghan, 2nd. base; Capt. Hodges, s. s.; Feeman, left field; McCall, center field. Among the others are Davidson and Stevens from the scrubs and Eb. King and R. King of Young High School. Holt, Reed, Deyton and Sears all of whom are on the hill for their first try-out.

The schedule as arranged by Manager McCall follows:

March 27 Deaf & Dumb School, Maryville
Apirl 4, West Virginia Wesleyan, Maryville
April 13, Georgetown College, Maryville
April 16 and 17, Washington College, Maryville
April 23 and 24, Tusculum, Maryville
April 27, Uni. of Florida, Maryville
May 8 and 9, Lincoln Memorial, Harrogate, Tenn.
May 12, University of Tenn, Knoxville
May 17, University of Tenn., Maryville
May 30 and 31, Tusculum, Tusculum

Mr. Frank Hall of Akron, O., is visiting his parents in the city for a few days. Mr. Hall is connected with the Firestone Rubber Co. in Akron.

FINAL GAME OF SEASON PLAYED

Coeds Finish With Rush. Lose Only Two Games During Season. Second Squad Shows up Well. Final Score 27-9.

The final Varsity basketball game of the season was played between Maryville girls and the Athens School, Maryville winning easily by score of 27-9. Maryville had run up such a large score on the visitors when playing at Athens that for a while it seemed as if overconfidence might cause Maryville's defeat.

Maryville used two different teams, the first team playing the first half which ended 17-7 and the second team the second half which ended 10-2.

Maryville missed a large number of easy shots during the first half and with better goal tossing a much larger score would have resulted.

Miss Hornsby scoring all of Athens' points, was their brilliant star.

During the first half the work of Miss Hackeworth, who scored ten points and Miss Lewis at guard featured the game. The work of Misses Henry, Mosely and Phillips featured the second half. Line-up and score follows:

Maryville		Athens
Hackworth 10	forward	I Hornsby 9
Marshall 3	forward	Moore
Webb (c) 4	center	Rowan (c)
Cameron	guard	Dodson
Lewis	guard	L. Hornsby

Substitutes: for Maryville, Phillips for Hackworth; L. Henry for Marshall; C. Mosely for Webb; L. Stinnett for Cameron; A. Creswell for Lewis. Field goals: for Maryville, Hackworth 4; Marshall 1; Webb 2; Henry 3; Mosely 2; for Athens: Hornsby 4. Foul goals for Maryville, Hackeworth 2; Marshall 1. For Athens, Hornsby 1.

Time of halves, 15 minutes.

Timekeeper, Scruggs.

Referee, Rowand and Weisbecker, alternate.

DEAN BARNES ON "MOONSHINE"

At Chapel Monday morning the Dean made a very eloquent "effusion" on the limitations, the ethics, and the theory of "moonshine".

The introduction to the Dean's speech was very touching and pathetic. It had the odor of spring, and lifted one to the celestial realms of heavenly joy.

In his real speech, that is, after his introduction was over, the Dean came down to earth again, and told us to be careful how, when and where we "moonshine". The Dean is requested to give a special lecture on the "how" of this subject, for the edification of all neophytes at this business.

GUESTS OF PROF. BASSETT SATURDAY NIGHT

On Saturday evening the Junior and Sophomore Latin Classes were delightfully entertained at Professor Bassett's. During the first part of the evening Professor Bassett gave a very interesting lecture about ancient Pompeii and his descriptions were made more real by the many pictur s that were shown to illustrate his talk.

After the lecture the guests were entertained with several lively games and contests which afforded much fun.

Just before the guests left delicious refreshments were served and it is needless to say that each one entered whole heartedly into this part of the entertainment.

The party disbanded at ten fifteen and every one expressed their appreciation of the good time they had been given.

EDITORIALS

WHO WILL CHOOSE, AND ON WHAT BASIS WILL THEY DO SO

We have been informed, by the representative of the faculty, that the date for the election of next year's editor and business manager of this paper will be announced in the near future.

As we understand it, the faculty will choose the men who are to conduct the students' publication next year, the students themselves being incompetent to judge the ability of the competitors, and the faculty will announce to the student body the men they have selected to run their (meaning the students') paper.

This method of selection does not appear as quite the fair thing to the present staff, which is doing its best to represent the interest of the student body at large with no favoritism to any individual, or group of individuals.

We will go back into the past a little way, and base the suggestion we offer on the progress the paper has made under democratic and competitive selection of its staff.

The "Echo" succeeded the old "College Monthly" last year and the staff that would have served the monthly published the "Echo" in its stead. The editor and manager of the old monthly magazine were elected by the literary societies.

With the advent of the Highland Echo, and a stronger spirit of progressiveness on the part of the students, this method of proceedure became obsolete. As a result, last year's staff suggested a competitive election of editor and business manager from the student body at large. This suggestion was followed in the election of the present staff. This democratic move, placing the honored positions upon a basis of merit has evidently met with the approval of the students, as the manner in which they have supported the paper shows.

This suggestion in part was made and followed last year that the editor and manager of the third volume of this publication should be chosen on their ability to conduct their respective duties.

In order to enter the competition for editor the student submits an editorial on some subject of student interest preferably, and a news item or report on some student event.

The applicant for the managership, submits his previous experience and records, with endorsements. He also suggests plans whereby he hopes to better the financial side of the paper.

The editor receives one credit in English from the colleges, provided his work as editor is well done. The business manager receives ten percent of the net receipts.

To perpetuate this democratic idea it has been suggested that the papers submitted be examined and passed by the present executive staff and the two representatives of the faculty on student publications. The selection of the body is then presented to the faculty for approval.

The positions are open, the ones who win would do so on their merit, so every one has a fair and equal chance.

The only objection the faculty makes to the above plan is that the present staff will be in a position to perpetuate itself, since they are on the committee which examines the papers submitted. It is not the object of the present staff to perpetuate itself, but to represent the student body, the big group that the paper represents, in the selection of the new staff. We feel that the students should be represented in some way, since it is their paper, and we urge suggestions from the student body on a method whereby they may be represented, if the plan we suggest does not meet with their approval.

The present staff does want to perpetuate the Echo in one way, that is to make it a student paper, edited and managed by students and for the welfare of the student body. To this end we will always work.

POSSESSES INTERESTING RELICS

Mrs. M. A. Lamar, who lives just a little distance back of Pearsons, was kind enough to show one of the reporters of the Echo some interesting relics of days gone by.

Mrs. Lamar has been around the "hill" since the troublesome days just after the civil war. She has witnessed the college grow from one building to a modern up-to-date educational institution of the twentieth century.

In speaking of the activities of the literary societies Mrs. Lamar brought out some programs of the mid-winters they produced way back in the seventies and eighties. A program of the third anniversary of the founding of the Animi Cultis Debating Society held June 21st, 1869 contains such familiar names as E. A. Elmore, T. T. Alexander and M. A. Mathes. An oration was delivered on "Duties of Young Men". In 1883 the Athenians gave an extensive entertainment. "The Moon is Brightly Beaming Love" was rendered during the evening. A program prepared by Charles Alexander, who is now a famous evangelist, contains such warnings as this, "Squire Watchemclose, Captaine Keepemstraight, and President Strikemdumwithalook will keep a sharpe look out to see that no courtin or sparkin goes onne." S. W. Sherrill, who is State Superintendent of Public Schools today, was president of the society at that time. There are several other programs of interest that are in the collection, but space forbids us from quoting. Any who would like to take a peep into "Ye Olden Times" in the literary societies may do so through these programs which Mrs. Lamar will delight in showing.

Y. W. C. A. OPEN MEETING

The devotional meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday, March 11th., was an exceptionally good one. There was no special leader but in the open meeting a large number participated, speaking briefly on the subject, which was, "Lessons from the Lives of Great Women". A vocal solo by Miss Doris Wilson was appreciated very much.

The regular devotional meeting was followed by a short business meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the new year, which begins with the Spring term of the College. The following officers were elected: President, George Simpson; Vice President, Mary Heard; Secretary, Jessie Creswell; Treasurer, Edith Moore; Editor, Helen Lewis.

DR. SILSBY AND PROF. BASSETT AT CHAPEL LAST THURSDAY

Dr. J. A. Silsby of Shang Hai, China, one of the foremost American educators in that country, spoke in chapel Thursday morning. Dr. Silsby spoke in the interest of world wide misisons. With many unusual, well fitting illustrations the speaker presented his cause in a strong manner. Before addressing the students, Dr. Silsby had application blanks of the World Crusade for Missions distributed. At the close of his talk many of those present returned signed applications for membership in the worthy organization the speaker advocated.

PROF. BASSETT TELLS OF FRED HOPE

Following Dr. Silsby, H. J. Bassett, head of the department of Latin, told of Fred Hope. It seemed that Mr. Bassett and Mr. Hope came to Maryville together some (?) years ago. They were close friends during their college career, at the end of which Fred Hope went to Africa, while Prof. Bassett stayed in this country, later to become a member of the local faculty.

After some interesting stories about Fred Hope and his work on the dark continent, the speaker told of the part Maryville College students had taken in his work. He showed how the present war was having a demoralizing effect on Fred Hope's enterprise and how great the need was for the students of Maryville to assist financially in this missionary propaganda.

SOPHS ELECT THEIR DEBATERS

The preliminaries for the Sophomore debating team were held and eight young ladies tried out as contestants for the honor of representing their class against the Freshman. Of these Misses Mildred Crow, Capt., Gussie Jones, Emma Miles and Maude Pardue, alt., were chosen to debate the Freshman on April 21st. It is needless to say that a better team could not have been selected and that the Sophs look forward to another triumph.

BEREA-MARYVILLE BREAK EVEN

the crowd in the Dining Hall, divided into Maryville and Berea rooters, did some patriotic yelling and singing, all of which showed mighty "good sportsmanship".

Great applause greeted both teams when they appeared in the Chapel. The first speaker for Berea took up all of his ten minutes quoting authorities, and trying to show that the American people desire the Literacy Test law. Theodore Miner, first speaker for Maryville, in his constructive speech, showed that the literacy test was a "makeshift", and will not meet the economic demands of the country. He challenged the Berea team to show how the test will regulate immigration. This challenge Berea never answered. The second speaker for Berea used a chart to show that the Southeastern Europeans have had the opportunity to learn how to read.

Ralph Young, for Maryville, then attacked the literacy test, as a selective measure, trying to prove it unsound, unjust and un-American. The third speaker for Berea tried to prove the literacy test as the best selective measure, and Homer Weisbecker, for Maryville presented a plan, the Federal Immigration Commission, as a substitute for the literacy test. In the rebuttals, Berea did some very dramatic work, such as unrolling ten yards of paper containing names of Congressmen and Senators in favor of the bill. Maryville stuck to the issues, and refused to do any "vaudeville" acting.

The decision was announced, two to one in favor of Berea, at which a great shout went up from the assembled audience.

Maryville offers no alibi, except that the two judges who voted in favor of Berea, were Berea men, those in charge having failed to secure the judges Maryville asked for, and expected.

JUNIOR-SENIOR TEAMS PLAY SEMI-FINAL THURSDAY

Saturday afternoon the Sophomore team winners over the Freshmen, will meet the winners of the Junior-Senior contest which will be played today, for the basketball championship of the college.

The Junior-Senior teams have not been seen in action as their game scheduled for Saturday was postponed. Both teams are well balanced and made up of experienced individuals, and a good game will result and whichever wins will give the Sophs a hard battle when they meet Saturday afternoon.

The girls' preliminaries which were postponed Saturday will be played Thursday. The Freshmen meet the Sophs and the Juniors play the Seniors. The winner of the two games will contest Saturday afternoon for the girls' basket ball championship of the college. All of the teams have been greatly strengthened by the addition of the Varsity squad players. The Freshmen will profit the most by this as they will have the following five members of the Varsity squad, Misses Phillips, Cameron, Webb, Hackworth and Mosely in addition to their regular team. The Seniors will have two and the Sophs one member of the varsity squad.

A large crowd was out Saturday afternoon for the games and it is expected that the attendance at the games this week will exceed that of any league game played this season.

FRESHIES HOLD DEBATE PRELIMS

The Freshman preliminary deate was held Monday evening, February 26th in Alpha Sigma Hall. In the presence of a small audience several persons tried out for the team. Profesors Knapp, Bassett and Miss Green were the judges. Those chosen to represent the Freshmen were James Martin, Helen Lewis, Candelaria, and Frank McLaughlin as alternate.

A SMILE

"Nothing on earth can smile but man! Gems may flash reflected light, but what is a diamond flash compared with an eye-flash and a mirth-flash? Flowers cannot smile; this is a charm that even they cannot claim. It is the prerogative of man; it is the color which love wears, and cheerfulness and joy—these three. It is a light in the windows of the face, by which the heart signifies it is at home and waiting. A face that cannot smile is like a bud that cannot blossom, and dries up on the stalk. Laughter is day, and sobriety is night, and a smile is the twilight that hovers gently between both—more bewitching than either."

—H. W. Beecher.

Could this not be a suggestion worthy of practice on the campus.

A LESSON IN ECONOMY TAUGHT BY AN ECONOMIST

How under the sun do we get potatoes so often when we notice that the market price is $8.50 per bag of two and one half bushels? That is a question not many think about, yet it is a problem in itse.f. In New York thre is a movie that will admit you if you present a good "spud" instead of a nickle.

A reporter for the Echo decided to find out if possible how it was that we always had plenty of the valuable fruit of the soil. Stepping into the office of Miss Coulter we asked her how she did it. She laughed quite genially and replied, "I bought 200 bags of potatoes before anyone thought of them taking a trip to the sky in prices". What did you pay for them we asked. "Oh, I must not tell that, it is a secret of the business". We finally discovered that if she had to buy the potatoes now they would cost her about $400 more than she paid for them last fall. That is one of the many ways Miss Coulter saves the Boarding Club money. Was that economy or preparedness?

THOSE COLLEGE BELLS

Those college bells, those college bells,
How many a tale their music tells
Of college prayers and recitations,
Since first I heard their sweet vibration!

Those student hours have passed away,
And many a heart that then was gay
Now of life's care and labor tells
And hears no more those college bells.

So shall it be when I am gone,
Those college bells will still ring on,
And other youths will walk these dells
And sing your praise, old college bells.

A dainty card bearing the following formula, "Announcing the arrival of Joseph Pease on March 12, 1917, Mr. and Mrs. Irving K. Stearns", was received by friends today. year, through the kindness of Mr. R. B. Oliver who provided the necessary funds, and through the efforts of Mr. R S. Gamon of the College, an electric light system was installed in the building which has enhanced the efficiency of the work. The students have also ministered to the needs of the poor people of Battle Branch, have visited them, and cared for their sick, have helped the poor and those in want, have annually given of their voluntary efforts to raise the necessary funds with which to carry on the work, and in many other ways have not spared themselves in order to apply the Christianity of which they spoke.

Battle Branch Without the Mission Would be Like Maryville Without the College. "Battle Branch", as a prominent business man said recently, "presents a crying need!" Those who visit the district and enter the homes of the people cannot fail to see this.

Battle Branch also presents a wonderful opportunity for unselfish service. The work MUST and WILL go on!

The summit of Meru is not very lofty, nor the infernal world very profound, nor the ocean very far to cross, for men who possess energy.

CHATTANOOGA LEAGUE TEAM COMING

Interest Centered In This Big Game. McClenaghan Kept Out By College Discipline Committee. Hard Blow to Team.

The baseball team has been unable to make much progress during the past week owing to the almost continued rainfall that has kept the field in a bad condition.

Coach Everett had already an unusually hard job on hand, but now he finds that he will have to develop a man to take the place of McClenahan, his star second baseman, who although in school will be unable to join the squad for the present at least.

The interest of local fans is largely centered in the visit of the Chattanooga Southern league team, which will play in Maryville in April. This is the first time that any baseball team above Class D has performed in Maryville. The Southern league is one of the best Class A leagues in organized baseball, and the Chattanooga team of this league is just aout the scrappiest and most energetic team playing professional ball in the South.

The Chattanooga team is managed by "Kid" Elberfield, who is one of the best known of the minor league managers. At present the Chattanooga team is training at Orange, Texas, but they will soon go on the road ending their trip through the South Central States by swinging over through western Kentucky and East Tennessee.

The Maryville game will be the last exhibition game played before the team goes to Chattanooga to open the regular schedule. Much intereest has already been manifested in the game and no doubt a banner crowd will greet Manager Elberfield when he brings the Lookouts to Maryville for their final exhibition game.

ALL ABOARD FOR SUNSHINE SATURDAY

No its not a plea for clear weather, although that must be the order of the day. Between the spring and winter terms a hike or trip is usually taken by a number of students. Everyone who went to Elkmont last Thanksgiving had the time of their lives, and are just looking for a chance for another such escapade. After a lengthy conference the Dean of Women and Dean Barnes announced to a reporter of the Echo that they would sanction a trip to Sunshine on Saturday, provided (of course) that chaperones accompanied the party. Sunshine is on Little River, above Walland, about an hour's ride on the train.

Reduced rates have been secured from the railroad. If one hundred or more make the trip, the round trip will be 50c.

All off for a BIG DAY next Saturday.

DR. BROUGHTON AT PRAYER MEETING

Next Tuesday night, Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Knoxville, will conduct the college prayer meeting. Dr. Broughton is one of the leading divines in the South, a most interesting speaker, with a powerful personality behind everything he says. The Y. M. C. A. was the means of securing him for this occasion, and every fellow on the hill is boosting the meeting. There will be a large crowd out to hear this famous speaker, and to give him a hearty welcome on his first appearance on a Maryville platform.

NATIONAL Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY WILL SPEAK

Friday morning, March 23rd, Miss Margaret Burton, National Secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association will speak at the chapel exercises. Miss Burton is one of the leading figures in Y. W. C. A. work and is specially interested in college work. She is now on a tour of the southern colleges and universities. As a leader, Miss Burton has few equals in her line of work, and a strong address is assured.

"THE RIVALS" STAGED IN STYLE BY PREPS.

Filled The Bill. Played to a Large Audience. A Credit To Prep Department.

Last Friday night that splendid old comedy, "The Rivals", which has been reproduced all over the American continent, was staged at Voorhees chapel. The class in senior prep English had charge of the production and the class as a whole deserves great credit for working the play up in such an approved manner. It was given with the vim and punch that keeps the people in front of the footlights interested every minute.

The setting was in rural England during the eighteenth century, and the costuming was in keeping with the time and place.

In spite of the fact that the entire cast was amateur, each member read his lines with good interpretation. Some of the characters deserve special mention for the way in which they carried their role.

Ralph Young, as Sir Anthony Absolute, the dictatorial parent, brought tears of laughter to the eyes of the crowd in the vigorous way he directed his son's affair de cour.

Miss Della Carpenter, in the role of Mrs. Malaprop, the lady with the supercilious vocabulary, provided much amusement in the manner in which she slaughtered the English language.

Howard McGrath and Roy Jenkins, as the rival lovers won their audience by their comical conduct and the humorous situations they placed themselves in.

The other characters did exceptionally well, deserving the generous applause the big house gave.

It was a comedy in every sense of the word and it was delightfully rendered. The college orchestra played several pleasing numbers, and added more to the success of the evening.

Miss Muriel Mitchel directed, assisted by Mrs. West and Miss Buxton. Miss Mary Alexander is instructor of the class which prepared the play.

A neat sum was realized and will be given to the "Equipment Fund for the Gym".

The largest audience that has been seen at the chapel since the last Lyceum number, was in attendance.

The cast of characters follows:

Mrs. Malaprop, Della Carpenter
Lydia Languish, Genevieve Tetedoux
Sir Anthony Absolute, Ralph Young
Captain Absolute, Howard McGrath
Bob Acres, Roy Jenkins
Faulkland, Elmer Brown
Sir Lucius O'Trigger, Homer Weisbecker
Lucy, Troy Haddox
Fag, Percy Buchanan
David, John Robinson
Stage Manager, Thomas Haddox
Advertising, Henry Sentelle

AN UNEXPECTED PLEASURE LAST FRIDAY

MUSIC AND EXPRESSION DEPARTMENTS ENTERTAINED AT CHAPEL

When the students assembled in Chapel Friday morning, they were unaware of the fact that a pleasant surprise awaited them. But the best things come unexpectedly, and so it was in this case. The presence of the orchestra of fourteen pieces, under the direction of Mr. Tedford, seemed to say that something out of the ordinary was on the morning program.

The first number of the orchestra was very good, and received the hearty applause of the student body. The choir, under the direction of Miss Zanna Staater, then sang a beautiful selection, after which Miss Doris Wilson, representing the Expression Department, gave one of the famous "Penrod" readings. The audience appreciated the reading by Miss Wilson, as was shown by the laughter and applause. The male quartette then sang and "hummed" a "darky" tune, which literally "brought the house down". The quartette was called back for an encore.

Miss Hale and Mrs. West deserve credit for arranging the program.

Such exercises as the above are greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the student body, for they help to break the monotony of school life, and of the chapel exercises. If a referendum were taken of the student body, the prevailing sentiment would undoubtedly be in favor of more of such exercises.

The ladies introduced their spring hats to the snow last Sunday. Warm reception, eh?

The man, who, outside of pure mathematics, pronounces the word impossible, lacks prudence.

COLLEGE STUDENTS MUST RETURN BOOKS

All college students must return the books they have used this term and that are not required next term, by Friday afternoon.

Prep students will not change books this term and they will not be compelled to return their books.

The bookroom will be closed all day Saturday, except at the usual mail hours.

Monday the room will be open all day for the convenience of the matriculating college students.

LOOKING FORWARD TO BLUE RIDGE

What Two College Presidents Say About The South's Greatest Student Gathering.

Dr. E. M. Poteat, President of Furman University says:

"Each year of my acquaintance with Blue Ridge I am more deeply impressed with the value of its work. This is the one new thing to say, namely, that it grows upon me. And when I see the growing complexity of college life in the South, I feel more keenly the need of comradship with the finest spirits of our college communities on the hightest levels. Blue Ridge supplies this, and there is no other enterprise in the South which does it anything like so well!"

Dr. W. A. Ganfield, President of Centre College says:

"It gives me great pleasure to try to tell you of my keen interest in and personal enthusiasm for Blue Ridge. The situation is ideal, the accommodations are complete in every way, and all the appointments and arrangements for personal comfort, recreation, and pleasure are superb. The program for the summer of 1916 was simply great.

"In all the country I could not find a place where I would rather spend ten days than at Blue Ridge. It would give me very great pleasure to be able to go every year. Just as soon as my son is old enough, I hope to send him every year until he gets through college. With all this personal enthusiasm and admiration for the place and the program and the college men who come, it is perfectly natural that I am anxious that Centre College might have a big delegation in 1917.

"I have no hestitancy in saying that ten days at Blue Ridge is the very best experience that can come to a college man during his entire course. The only experience better than that of the first summer at Blue Ridge would be a like visit the next summer. I am already looking forward with expectation to the pleasures, joys and blessings of 1917".

ATTENDED LAYMEN'S GATHERING IN ATLANTA

Prof. H. L. Ellis, principal of the preparatory department, attended the Laymen's Conference of the Baptist Church in the South. It was held in Atlanta, and there were over one thousand visitors from all over the south and southwest in attendance. East Tennessee sent a special train with one hundred enthusiastic laymen on board. Maryville had nine representatives on the train. Mr. Ellis stated that they were entertained in a most hospitable manner, and profited greatly by the inspiring addresses and conferences. Some of the leading speakers in the South made addresses. Gov. Catts of Florida was one of the leading speakers. W. W. Chiles accompanied the local delegation.

Don't neglect to get that check from home. The registrar will want it next Monday morning.

COMPLETED FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

A. D. Bryson Has Strong Teams Signed Up. Nearly All Old Men Will be Here,

One of the best football schedules for a Maryville team in several years has just been announced by Manager A. D. Bryson for the 1917 team.

The schedule includes eight games with an open date for the first game. Just what team will play the opening game, which will be played at Maryville has not been decided, although it will probably be Knoxville or Central High School, unless arrangements can be made to secure a local game with Carson and Newman for that date. Five games are to be played on the home lot and four trips will be made.

Three S. I. A. A. teams will be played. They are Tennessee, Chattanooga and Mercer. And the other teams, with the exception of Athens and the open date are in Maryville's class.

Mercer and Maryville meet for the first time, playing on a two-year contract, Maryville to appear at Macon in 1918. Tusculum will play the first home Thanksgiving game ever given to a Maryville team. This also is on a two-year contract, both for Thanksgiving day.

Of the fourteen men who were awarded the Varsity "M" this season all will return to school next fall with the exception of Capt. Ensign, and Manager Gamon, who graduate in June, and with the probable exception of Feeman who will likely enter the University of Pennsylvania next year.

Those who have signified their intention of returning are Manager Bryson, Captain-elect Greer, Sentelle, Tulloch, Briggs, Ford, Flannery, Sears, Cooper, Clemens and Stevens. Besides these are McNutt, who played such brilliant ball in the last games, and only lacked a few quarters of winning his Varsity "M". Reed, who was injured early in the season will also be here, as will "Red" Hayes who was troubled throughout the past season by a weak ankle.

The schedule follows:

Sept. 29—Open Date, Maryville.
Oct. 6—University of Tennessee, Knoxville
Oct. 13—Athens School, Maryville
Oct. 20—Mercer University, Maryville
Oct. 27—Centre College, Maryville
Nov. 3—University of Chattanooga, Chattanooga.
Nov. 10—King College, Bristol
Nov. 17—Emory and Henry, Emory, Va.
Nov. 29—Tusculum, Maryville.

JUNIOR CHILHOWEE CLUB ENTERTAINED

The Junior Chilhowee Club, to which many of the "younger set" of faculty ladies belong, was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Lester Singleton last Saturday night. It was an "Irish Evening" and a program in accordance with the subject was delightfully rendered. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the program, and a social hour enjoyed.

SUPPER HOUR TO BE CHANGED

Beginning next Monday night, March 26th, supper will be served at 5:45 p. m. This is a half hour later than the present hour for the evening repast, and it will allow more time to be spent on the athletic field or at the movies. This change will be welcomed by everyone.

Rev. C. H. Gillingham was in the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church at White Pine Sunday.

EDITORIALS

Every one has reason to be happy now. Spring, baseball, a new term, and a multitude of other good things are on the way.

--:--:--

Exams come but three times a year, so let us put all we have into them. Our efficiency as college students does not depend entirely on the results of the examination, but the report card means a lot to the folks back home.

--:--:--

THIS PARAGRAPH DELETED BY CENSOR

--:--:--

We are trusting that the faculty will reconsider it's ruling in regard to the selecting of next year's staff without representation from the student body. Next week we will be able to offer some ideas from the men who advertise herein. They are a very important factor in the publishing of a college paper. What they say in regard to their willingness to support a paper with a staff chosen without students on the judge's bench, should carry no little weight.

--:--:--

THE NEW "OPEN LETTERS" COLUMN

With this number we are reserving special space for letters that are sent to the Echo or are placed in the Echo Box in Anderson Hall. This paper is the servant of the student body and endeavors to express its sentiments. It should be the real mouth piece of the students. We have done all in our power to make it such an organ, yet there is too little active participation on the part of the students.

It is your paper and there are many things in student life we have failed to touch upon. Are we getting in a rut? This space will be reserved every week and it is your duty to your college to criticise, that it may profit by the suggestions of the student body, which is the dominating power in the college. Let's make this a live wire space, as other colleges do such columns.

Remember that all letters must be signed, although the name need not be published if the writer does not wish it.

The Ministerial Association held a joke meeting last week. Sorry the boys can't give a few to these columns, but maybe they would ask us to use thin paper to print 'em on.—Ahem.

OPEN LETTERS

To The Highland Echo:—

In reading the "Echo" this year I have noted quite an evidence of "the freedom of the press". Good! may the work go on—it seems to me that the paper is being used more and more as the mouth piece of the students, which is its rightful place. I believe there should be one publication which should be, above everything else, the voice of the student body. I think the Highland Echo should be that publication. The editor, of course, must be wisely and carefully chosen, for he holds the responsible position of at once sensing and tactfully expressing the opinion of the student body, and at once making the paper a fit advertisement for the college. I see no reason why the college students, at least, are not thoroughly capable of electing such a man.

I am for the Echo all the time, and believe me, always.

Very cordially yours,
Kidder, '16.

To The Faculty and Student Body:

I was some what surprised to read in the editorial column that the faculty was intending to make the selection of the board of editors and managers of the Echo entirely a faculty affair. To me such action seems altogether unwarranted.

The Echo is the official organ of the student body and it's officers should be chosen, if not wholly, at least in part by them. It would seem to me that the faculty would be robbing itself of a very valuable means of obtaining the common consciousness of the student body by restricting in any way its operations as a purely student organ. I have received so many commendations of it this year, as the livest, brightest paper of its kind that different people have seen. I hope that the faculty will in no way hinder the continuance of it as an unrestricted student publication and I for one will not care to subscribe for it further if such is the case.

Believe me, it is the best advertisement Maryville College has, and the best way of binding the Alumni with their Alma Mater.

Sincerely,
H. W. Threlkeld, '16.

TREASURER'S OFFICE OPEN FRIDAY

The matriculation of students for the final term of the year will begin on Friday morning. The office of the business manager and the registrar's offices will be open all day Friday and half day Saturday. The fee of $2.00 charged for late registration will be in effect this term as in the previous terms of the year, and it will be well for those who contemplate being late on their return for the spring term to register before they go home.

Class work begins on Tuesday. This allows ample time for matriculation.

EXAMS AND SNAP THIS WEEK

There is no use in trying to write a story about this being exam week on the hill, its perfectly evident in the actions of every undergrad that something of great importance is coming off. The only time a story can be written about exams is after they happen and then it sounds so much like the retreat of a German regiment that it can't be published. However, there is a silver plated lining to all collections of visible vapor in the atmosphere, as the old saying goes. It will shine forth on Friday night, March 23rd and all active, able-bodied studes are sure to be out to view the scene. Bartlett Hall will be the center of the display and the Dean of Women has promised that there will be no restrictions as to the number of "goils" allowed on the floor.

Latest Report—Prof. Knapp will have his class in astronomy there with the telescope to get a slant on the silver lining, and they will inform the gathering whether the moon is above China or over the Gym.

FEEMAN TO CAPTAIN 1918 BASKETBALL TEAM

Yesterday morning the Athletic Board of Control awarded the Varsity "M" to six men. Captain Garrison, manager Crum, Feeman, Clemens, Witherspoon and McCall Later in the day these men met and elected "Doc" Feemen to captain the team next year. Feeman has been on the team for two years and has played at forward during that time. He is a most aggressive and consistent player and well deserves the honor his teammates bestowed upon him. With Feeman as the leader of next year's squad, and all the old men back with the exception of Crum the outlook is very bright for a winning aggregation.

FRESHMAN CO-EDS WIN CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP

The Freshmen girls annexed the college basketball championship Saturday afternoon by a clean cut victory over the Juniors by the score of 18 to 6.

The playing of the members of the Freshman team was far above the average while their team work was the best exhibited by any class team this year.

The work of the two centers was about equal, but the fast floor work and passing of the ball by the Freshmen forwards could not be checked by the Junior guards. While the Freshmen guards, Misses Webb and Templin so completely covered the Junior forwards that they were compelled to shoot usually from long difficult angles.

The score at the end of the first half was 14 to 4. But during the second half the Juniors had possession of the ball more often and held the score for this half down to four to two in favor of the Freshmen.

Miss Hackworth with six field goals and Miss Cameron, with three goals and her excellent passing and fast work, featured the game. The work of Misses Webb and Templin at the guard positions was excellent.

Misses E. Henry and Brockelhurst were the mainstay of the Juniors.

The line-up and score follows:

Hackworth 12	forward	E. Henry 2 (Captain)
Cameron 6	forward	Brockelhurst 4
C. Mosely	center	E Mosely
Templin	guard	Knapp
Webb (capt.)	guard	M. Miles

Summary field goals: Hackworth 6; Cameron 3; E. Henry 1; Brockelhurst 2. Time of halves, ten minutes. Referee Feeman; Timekeeper, Frater.

Margaret Bassett:—"Did you say you were in Dean's class in Baby Study?"

Bobbie Adams:—"Yep, he keeps me up on the front row".

Miss Bassett:—"Has he labeled you Exhibit A?"

Adams:—No answered recorded.

IT PAYS

Certainly it pays if you attend the SURE school. We are so often asked whether we guarantee positions that again we say: Our contract with you reads "a position or your money back". As a matter of fact, the demand upon us is so great for our graduates that we have numerous opportunities to place our students BEFORE THEY GRADUATE. And this is easily explained. For years the business men of Knoxville, and throughout the state, have known, and repeatedly tell us, that OUR GRADUATES ARE VASTLY SUPERIOR TO THOSE TRAINED IN OTHER SCHOOLS. Naturally they are the real judges of a school's efficiency. Our free book explains in detail about our superior facilities, and why the BETTER POSITIONS are offered exclusively to OUR graduates. CLASS GAMES COME TO CLOSE

Semi-Finals and Finals Played. Freshmen Girls and Soph. Boys Win Great Season.

THURSDAY'S RESULTS

Juniors 16, Seniors 12.

Freshmen 12, Sophomores 4.

Sophomores 25, Freshmen 7(boys)

Thursday afternoon the two preliminaries in the girls' basket ball series were played, the Juniors and Freshmen eliminating the Seniors and Sophomores. For an added attraction the Freshmen boys attempted to stage a comeback, but missed the mark farther than ever. The Freshmen were hopelessly outclassed by the Sophomores' brilliant team-work, and the game as an exhibition of closely contested basket ball was a failure, but the pep and rough stuff put in the game by both teams, especially in the last half brought a roar of approval from the spectators and this seemed to make up for any lack of a previous interest in the contest.

The first game played was between the Junior and Senior girls, and although the Juniors led at all times a Senior rally in the second half with three goals by Miss Garrison and a sensational shot from a difficult angle by Miss Henry threatened to place the Seniors in the lead.

The game was featured by the work of Miss Elizabeth Henry, who secured five field goals. Miss Henry has been playing at guard but the change to forward was a wise one, as was evidenced by the number of goals she shot. Miss E. Moseley, center for the Juniors played a good game. Both teams scored four field goals in the second half, but the Juniors led at the end of the first half by four points.

The line-up and score follows:

Juniors		Seniors
E. Henry 10	forward	L. Henry 4
Brockelhurst 6	forward	Garrison 8
E. Moseley	center	Hopkins
Knapp	guard	Sutton
M. Miles	guard	A. Creswell (c)

Substitutes for Seniors: Hickey for Sutton. Field goals. E. Henry, 5; Garrison, 4; Brockelhurst 3. L. Henry 2. Referee Feeman.

The second game was played between the Freshmen and Sophomore girls. The Freshmen team strengthened by the addition of five squad players found little difficulty in trounding the Sophomore team and win, thus able to get revenge for their former defeat at the hands of the Sophs.

The work of Miss Cameron at guard was the best that has been seen on the local floor this year. She kept the ball out of her territory at all times by almost unbelieveable fast work and swift, accurate passing. Miss Cameron time and again crossed the floor and recovered the ball before the opposing forwards had hardly had time to realize it had been passed into their territory.

The work of Miss Hackworth who scored ten of the twelve points made by the Freshmen was excellent and her passing with Miss Phillips during the first half apparently baffled the Sophomore guards as these forwards had little trouble keeping the ball in their territory.

The best work of the Sophomores was done by Misses Burchfield and Davis. Miss Davis was forced to leave the game early in the second half and this seemed to weaken the team considerably as they did not score during the half.

The first half ended 6-4, but the Freshmen scored 6 in the second half while the Sophs were unable to score.

The line-up and score follows:

Freshmen		Sophomore
K. Phillips	forward	Bailey
Hackworth 10	forward	Davis 4
C. Moseley	center	Newell
Webb (c)	guard	Burchfield (c)
Cameron 2	guard	Thompson

Substitutes for Sophs: Crowe for Davis, E. Miles for Crowe. For Freshmen: Cameron for Phillips, Templin for Cameron. Referee Feeman. Field goals for Freshmen, Hackworth 4; Cameron 1. For Sophs: Davis 2. Foul goals, for Freshmen, Hackworth 2.

The final game was played between the Soph and Freshmen teams. The Soph team-work seemed almost perfect and this with excellent defensive play held the Freshmen hopeless. For the Sophomores Witherspoon, Briggs and Sears showed up best.

Davidson scored six foul goals. Although the game was very rough only a limited number of fouls were called on either team. The Freshman seemed to be the chief offend-

The line-up and score follows:

Freshmen		Sophomores
Burkhart 2	forward	Davidson 10
Walker 2	forward	Hayes 2
Johnson 2	center	Sears 4
Drake	guard	Witherspoon 4
(c)		(c)
Georges	guard	Briggs 8

Substitutes for Sophs: Adams for Hayes, Marshall for Briggs. Field goals. Briggs 4. Witherspoon 2, Sears 2; Davidson, Hayes, Burkhart, Walker and Johnson one each. Foul goals, Davidson 6. Referee Crum and Garrison, alternate.

ALUMNI NOTES

'06. Much anxiety has been felt by his many friends for the safety of W. A. Freidinger who has been engaged in Missionary work in Syria for a number of years. Prof. Gillingham has received a letter from him dated December 3, 1916, and written from Zahleh, Syria. Of course the letter had been censored. Mr. Freidinger, knowing that it would be, does not refer directly or indirectly to conditions in Syria. He says: "We are again in Zahleh, which is the largest town in Lebanon, after an absence of fifteen months during which we were in charge of the boys' boarding school of our mission at Suk el Gharb. Zahleh as home, means field work with preaching and school administration over our village work.

Mr. Freidinger reports the arrival of a little son, Arthur William, born in Beurut, October 12. Maryville Alumni will anxiously await further news from Syria, knowing that one of their number, with his family, is among the Americans for whose removal the United States government has been negotiating with Turkey for so long a time.

'13. Miss Ella McCampbell has just completed a successful term of school at Rocky Branch, Tennessee.

'16. Friends of Commodore Fisher will be sorry to hear of the death of his father which occurred at his home in Lewisburg, Tennessee, on the 28th of February. Miss Mattie Fisher, a member of the Junior Class, did not return to school after Christmas, but was with her father during his last days.

JUNIOR ALPHA SIGGS PROSPER AND GROW

Last Saturday night saw the Alpha Sigma Hall crowded with Junior Alpha Siggs. Over sixty members were present to elect their officers for the new term. A short lively program was renderd after which the following officers were elected:

President, Dewey W. Eitner; Vice President, G. Callahan; Program Secretary, H. D. McGrath; Secretary, Wolf; Assistant Secretary, R. A. Shelburne; Sargent-of-Arms, Loveless; Censor, McGhee; Janitor Ralph Young. With this new staff of officers at the head of our Society their is no reason why the Alpha Siggs should not continue to be the liveliest Society on the "Hill".

SENIORS TO BE ENTERTAINED FRIDAY EVENING

Mrs. J. B. S. Alexander, assisted by her sister, Miss A. B. Smith, and Madame Dennee invited the class of '17 to be her guests on Friday evening, March 23. The attractive suburban home of Mrs. Alexander will be the scene of the evening's entertainment. The class feels honored with the invitation, and anticipates a most enjoyable evening.

ERRATUM

In last week's issue in the write-up in regard to the home debate with Berea, the following statement was attributed to Prof. C. C. Cunningham, Coach of the Berea team, that, "the speeches of the Berea team had been winning debates all over the country". In justice to Mr. Cunningham we wish to say that the statement was not made by him but by the Berea debaters, themselves.

TUSCULUM vs. M. C. IN DUAL DEBATE

Second Forensic Event of Year. Interesting Question. Strong Teams Represent M. C.

On Friday night, March 30th, Maryville meets her old rival, Tusculum, in a dual debate. Shortly after the triangular debate with Tennessee and Emory & Henry was formed, Tusculum challenged Maryville to a debate. The challenge was accepted by the Forensic League and the question which Tusculum submitted was accepted. It is "Resolved That the Power to Declare Laws Unconstitutional Should be Denied the Supreme Court of the United States".

The team which goes to Tusculum to defend the negative side is composed of Messrs. Deck Williams, Capt.; Joel Georges and David Briggs. The affirmative team at Tusculum is composed of Messrs. C. M. Emert, Capt.; W. W. Piper, Fowler Dugger. The affirmative team which debates at home is composed of Messrs. E. K. James, Capt.; E. W. Mounce and W. W. Haggard. The Tusculum negative team debating here is composed of Messrs. E. I. Day, Capt.; G. G. Malmar and L. M. Rankin

Last year Maryville broke even with Tusculum, losing one and winning one. This year the chances seem bright for winning both contests. Both teams are strong teams and well prepared on the question. It is needless to say that Tusculum will put up a good fight, especially here, for the team that is debating Maryville this year is practically the same team which defeated Maryville at Tusculum last year. However, Maryville has a much stronger team this year than last and there is every likelihood that Maryville will again send Tusculum down in defeat, on her home floor, this year as she did last year.

The tickets for the Tusculum debate will be 25c. This is indeed a very reasonable price for a debate of this consequence, but by buying a season ticket for 40c, one can also hear the Tennessee debate which comes in two more weeks. Let's all get tickets and come out and show the fellows that we are back of them. Let's come and see Maryville win again.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION THURSDAY

The city of Maryville will hold an election on Thursday, March 29th, to elect a Mayor and councilmen for the next two years.

All fellows who have reached the age of twenty-one years since Jan. 10, 1916, and who can honestly claim Maryville as their home are entitled to a ballot, without showing a poll tax receipt. The polling place for college students is the Fifth Ward, Babcock's store.

Many of the local business men, who are popular with the students, are in the race for municipal offices, and have been soliciting their support.

MANY AWAY OVER WEEK-END

Judging by the number of vacant tables at Pearsons Dining Hall from Friday night until Tuesday morning, about one hundred and fifty students were out of town. Some went home, others visited friends and several parties went on camping trips. Miss Coulter, manager of the Boarding Club, stated that there were more people away this year than ever before in her knowledge. This seems to indicate a better financial condition existing within the student body, as it takes the "cush" to make mid-term pleasure jaunts.

MRS. ALEXANDER AND Mme. DENNEE ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Class of 1917 Charmingly Entertained at Suburban Home. "Stunts" Feature The Evening.

Last week the Seniors were delightfully surprised upon receiving an invitation to be the guests of Mrs. Alexander and Madame Dennee on Friday evening.

They were received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander, by Mrs. Alexander and Madame Dennee, and by the Misses Smith who assisted the hostesses in entertaining.

Everything was carried out in purple and gold, the colors of the class. The house was beautifully decorated in these colors and Mrs. Alexander and Madame Denne were charmingly attired in purple gowns with "gold" flowers.

After the arrival of all the guests a procession was formed which marched over to the cozy and artistic bungalow of Madam Dennee and Miss Smith Here in the studio, "stunts" were performed.

Some of the Seniors showed marked ability in acting "foolish". Among the most amusing stunts was the joke on the faculty in which Mr. Haggard and Mr. Dawson, with Miss Pardue at the piano, gave a very humorous impersonation of Dean Barnes and Prof. Gillingham teaching the students "by example" how to march out of chapel. Miss Hopkins and Miss Jones were a typical Mutt and Jeff; and Miss Sugg was cunning as "the little girl with the little curl right down the middle of her forehead".

The prize for the best stunt pulled off by a couple was awarded to Miss Sutton and Mr. Gamon. Miss Sutton was costumed as a gypsy and came down the stairs playing an accordion and crying out, "Everybody come to see Bobbie the monkey". Of course Mr. Gamon had no difficulty in doing his part of the "monkey-act" to perfection.

Miss Frank Sheddan won the prize for the best single stunt, and her act was not only foolish but full of wit. She told a funny story in which she used the name of

DR. BROUGHTON COMPELLED TO POSTPONE HIS LECTURE

A telegram was received late Friday afternoon advising the committee in charge of arrangements that Dr. Broughton would be unable to fill his appointment here Tuesday night.

The First Baptist Church in Knoxville, of which Dr. Broughton is the pastor, sold its church home last week. It is supposed that the many duties of a pastor in the task of selecting a new location for the church make it necessary for Dr. Broughton to devote his entire time to home affairs

Th committee in charge has been assured that Dr. Broughton will come over at a later date, about the first of May. Everyone is looking forward to the opportunity of hearing this famous speaker, and the exact date of his coming will be awaited with interest.

ARE MARYVILLE STUDENTS READING

That Maryville students are not neglecting to keep abreast of the times is shown by the number of weekly periodicals that are taken into their rooms every week.

Eighteen copies of "The New Republic"; Thirty copies of "The Independent".

There are copies of the Independent for general use in Baldwin, Pearsons, Y. M. C. A. and two copies in the Library.

Roget's Thesaurus has become popular with those engaged in literary courses. There being fourteen copies of this splendid work in the hands of the students.

Dr. Hoyt has been largely responsible for this growth in reading among the members of his classes, as he impresses the need and value of good reading matter for those in college.

MISS SIMPSON AND MR. CRUM WIN

Last Saturday night in Voorhees chapel the annual Peace and Prohibition contest was held in the presence of a small audience.

Miss George Simpson, speaking from the subject, "The Home Economics of Prohibition" carried off first honors, and a prize of fifteen dollars.

G. A. Harris on, "The Prohibition Movement" received second place and a prize of ten dollars.

In the Peace Contest M. B. Crum was awarded first place and a prize of ten dollars. There was no second prize in this contest.

Every speaker showed thorough preparation and excellent delivery.

The winners in the local contest are entitled to enter the State contests. The State Peace Contest will be held in Maryville on April 20th, and Mr. Crum will represent Maryville at that time.

Misses Hayes, Dickson, Hartman and Jarrette furnished pleasing musical selections during the evening, adding much to the enjoyableness of the program.

A POPULAR LOCAL PASTOR GIVEN A FORD

Rev. H. S. Lyle, pastor of the New Providence Presbyterian Church, was greatly surprised last Saturday afternoon, when several business men took him to the Ford garage and presented him with a handsome new "Fliver" in behalf of the members of his congregation. "It was a most pleasing surprise", said Dr. Lyle, and he thanked his congregation from the pulpit on Sunday morning. The car is a new 1917 five passenger model, and will aid the pastor greatly in his work.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

First Baseball Game of The Year. Highlanders in Good Shape. The Mutes Have Strong Team.

Wednesday afternoon local followers of the national pastime will have their first opportunity to witness their favorites in a regular schedule game. Coach Chambers will bring over the Deaf and Dumb team at that time to assist the Highlanders in opening what is predicted will be a very successful season.

Bad weather has been a very serious handicap, and Coach Everett has not as yet selected a tentative line-up. The team line-up will not be announced until Wednesday. The greatest interest is centered in the efforts of Coach to build up a pitching staff, as he has none of last year's staff back. Reed, Scruggs, Sears, Lewis and Deyton have been working out daily, and it is likely that at least three of this number will be given a chance Wednesday.

Manager McCall, for several years recognized as one of the best college outfielders of this section, will not be in the game this week, and his spectacular fielding and sure hitting will be missed in the game Wednesday. However, he will again join the squad next week and with his dash and pep will be a power of strength to the team.

The Deaf and Dumb team has almost the some line-up as they used last year, and Coach Chambers expects them to give Maryville a hard game. Duncan has been selected by Coach Shambers to start the game and he is reported as a first-class mound artist, and in him the Mutes are placing most of their hopes. In case Duncan does not fare well on the mound he will be replaced by Chambers.

The Deaf and Dumb team has already played two games, losing both to the strong University of Tennessee, which is reported as one of the best in recent years. The first game was close and Coach Bender's squad was hard pushed to beat the Mutes, but the second was won more easily as the Mutes had an ascension during one inning and never quite got back to earth again.

A large crowd is expected out, the Deaf and Dumb team always draws well in Maryville and besides a close snappy game is assured for the opener.

The game will start promptly at 3:30 with either Dr. McCulloch or Dr. Mitchell as umpire.

The Deaf and Dumb team will line-up as follows:

Acuff, catcher; Duncan, pitcher; Moore, first base; Donehew, second base; Cole, shortstop; Chambers, Third base; Conner, left field; Sellers, center field; Luacde, right field.

First Freshman—"Hurt! I didn't know it. Hurt much?"

Second Freshman—"No. Not much. Just enough to give him an excuse I think".

THE TWO STUDENT REPRESENTATIVES

At a special meeting of the faculty, held March 23, 1917, a plan for the selection of student representatives on the committee to examine material entered in competition for the positions of Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager of the Highland Echo was presented by the staff of the Echo. These suggestions were approved and adopted by the faculty. The following is a true copy of the suggestions as adopted:

"The following form is suggested by the present executive staff of the Echo for the selection of student representatives on the committee to examine the material entered in competition for the positions of Editor in Chief and Business Manager:

The Presidents of the four college classes and the Presidents of the Third and Fourth preparatory classes shall elect two representatives, one from the Senior and one from the Junior class in College.

These two representatives are to meet with the two representatives appointed by the faculty and are to judge the merits of the material entered in the competition.

The selection of manager and editor, based on the results of the competition, is to take place the first week in the spring term. This selection is to be subject to the approval of the faculty, and is to be announced to the students and competitors in the next issue of the Echo.

We also suggest that, after this year, this election of representatives shall take place two weeks before the close of the winter term, the presidents of the respective classes to be assembled at the call of the President of the Senior class. The competition is to be opened at the time the student representatives are selected, and is to close the first week in the spring term, which allows three weeks for the material to be entered."

H. J Bassett,
Secretary of the Faculty.

--:-:--

With the above method of student representation having been decided upon, and it should meet with the approval of all, the contest for the positions of Editor and Business Manager will be opened at once.

It is expected that the student committee and the faculty committee will convene at an early date and announce the basis, the time limit and other details of the competiton.

However, we offer as a suggestion to those who are planinng to go out for the positions the following: The would-be Editor should prepare an editorial on a subject of student interest, and write up a news item or report of some student event.

The would-be Manager should prepare his references and previous experience, with endorsements. Also plans whereby he hopes to better the financial side of the paper if selected for the position.

This is just a suggestion on the part of the present staff to those who intend to try out; the detailed announcement will be made in chapel by the joint committee at an early date.

A CLEAN SLATE

Maryville College is different in some respects from many other schools and colleges. The difference to which our attention is directed at this time is that Maryville's scholastic year is divided into three sections or terms as we call them.

We are now on the threshold of the third and final term of the year. Two terms have come and have gone, our records are on the books as either good or bad. But that is ancient history, and the new term is fairly started. What are we going to make of it? The old records have been marked down, the slate has been wiped clean, and now we have the opportunity of making a fresh start.

Let us, as students, take advantage of this feature of our College and start out with renewed vigor and determination to "Make Good."

APPROACHING WEDDING

The many friends of Miss Gray Webb and Mr. D. W. Proffitt, members of the Class of '16 were pleased to receive the following announcment:

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Webb request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Lillian Gray
to
Mr. David Wilson Proffitt on the evening of Thursday, the twelfth of April
one thousand nine hundred and seventeen
at eight o'clock
New Providence Presbyterian Church
Maryville, Tennessee

This promises to be one of the brilliant events of the season. The contracting parties are well known on the "Hill" and were very popular with the students and faculty during their collegiate career. Mr. Proffitt is now in business at Cleveland. Tenn.

OPEN LETTERS

COMING A CEDARLESS CAMPUS

The campus of Maryville College has long been famed for its numerous cedars. Some of these trees, which cannot be matched for size and beauty, have stood here and watched the development of the college almost from the time it was founded. They have been woven into our music and literature until they have become a part of our institution.

Think! What would M. C. be without its cedars? But do you know that a cedarless campus is creeping upon us unnoticed? In the last few years over a dozen of our best cedars have succumbed to old age or disease. Do you know that many of those around Carnegie were fatally injured by the fire? Do you realize that a great number are past the prime of life and are browning with age? Look!

This matter should be attended to or "our hilltop crowned with cedars" will become a thing of the past. Will we take heed while there is yet time?

L. J.

March 22, 1917.

To The Highland Echo:

Note the following, which I wish to offer as a plan for selecting the future Business Managers and Editors:

First, let each College class be represented in a committee of four, say the four class presidents, or the four class editors.

The duty of this inter-class committee will be to appoint two, one Senior and one Junior, who are to be representatives of the student body. These two with the faculty committees shall compose the committee, who shall use their judgement as to the ability and qualifications of the various applicants. and appoint those they deem most fitted for the above said offices.

Junior.

"DOC" MITCHELL CLOSES BIG DEAL

"Doc" Mitchell, as he is popularly known among the students of the College, closed a big real estate deal last week. He bought the store and stock of D. F. Young & Co. on Main Street. The stock has been sold to the Ellis-Chandler Co. The store building, which is favorably located near the new Post Office building, will be remodeled and converted into an up-to-date drug store. It is understood that "Doc" intends to continue the operation of his store near the depot.

D. F. Young's has been a popular store with the students and they regret that it will no longer be in business.

REGISTER EARLY AND AVOID TARDY FEE

As the Echo was going to press 449 students had registered at the treasurer's office. This leaves about 175 who have failed to put down the cash. A fee of $2.00 is charged for late registration, so all delinquints had better sign up as soon as possible.

OVER FORTY TOOK HIKE TO MOUNTAINS LAST SATURDAY

(A NARRATIVE)

Although rainy the night before, Saturday was an ideal day for a mountain hike. Of course some of the usual grouchers predicted mud two feet deep, but little attention did we pay to them. As soon as we got to Sunshine we began climbing mountains, and such a climb as it was. By the way, Callahan thinks his lady friend has always lived in the mountains. You should have seen them! But to continue—The view from the mountain top was wonderful and we stayed up there for sometime. When we came back down, the baskets were unpacked and if you don't believe we had good things to eat, just ask Red Hayes. After dinner — — Well we can't say about all of them but we are sure that everyone kept on with their good time. Some one around the swinging bridge said that Cox and his girl had an interesting picture taken. We are not prepared to describe it, but Ralston has the film if you want to see it. Four o'clock came long before the moonshiners were ready to leave, but Prof. Shelton (who was really the only chaperon and who was busy keeping watch over Prof. Davis) said that Miss Molly would be expecting us, so we had to leave. The ride home was fine and some tried to improve it by riding on the steps, but the conductor chased everyone inside and locked the door of the car. We got home about time the Anderson bell was ringing. Miss Molly was relieved to find that we were all here and, with one exception, none of us hurt. Miss Covert's face was badly blistered, possibly by the heat of the sun, but probably ——oh well, you have all seen Campbell's head. Everyone was tired but we all voted it one of the happiest days of the year.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Frank Hall returned to Akron, O. last week. While here he interested several fellows in Akron and they returned with him to work in the plant of the Firestone Rubber Co.

Albion McClenahan has had his mother and little brother as his guest for the past week. His brother Joe (about five years old) says proudly, "I am coming to Maryville to school when I am a man like my brother".

Ura Brogden returned home last week. He will not be in college this term.

If Tusculum is as easy in debate as they were in football and basketball the boys will feel like they are having a fireside chat with their best girl Friday night.

Miss Margaret Sugg was the houseguest of Miss Ocey Webb at her home in Townsend over Sunday.

Talk about college boat crews—Maryville would have a fine course to practice on if Main Street were not a public highway.

Miss Joe Knapp visited Miss Eva Ogelvie in Jellico over the week-end.

The Dean is not in the municipal race for Mayor or Alderman, yet he believes every student should cast a ballot, provided he is of age and not of the sex familiarly quoted as "Fair".

Miss Alice Wright spent the mid-term vacation with Miss Winfred Decker in Knoxville.

CATALOG NEARS COMPLETION

The College catalog is rapidly nearing completion. The proof has been read and returned to the printer. The register of the students is the only part not in the printer's hands, and Registrar Gillingham stated that he hoped to have that in condition to send away this week. If this is done the book will be out about the last of April.

Y. W. C. A. NUMBER NEXT WEEK

The Y. W. C. A. will have charge of the next issue of the ECHO and it promises to be even better than the Y. M. number. The number which the boys of the Y. M. featured with their material elicited many favorable comments. "It was a real gem", "One of the best numbers this year" and many similar words of praise were received following the special number.

COLLEGE POSTOFFICE SUB-STATION

Bids have been sent to Washington on carrying the mail from the city postoffice to the college office. In speaking of the probability of the new sub-station being established this spring, Postmaster Cates, of the city office, stated that it looked as if it would be impossible to initiate the new plans until fall.

It is certain Postmaster Cates stated, that the new station will be in operation next fall when school opens.

This is another step toward a "Bigger and Better Maryville".

HERE IS WELCOME NEWS

With the exception of two weeks in January the big natatorium next to Bartlett Hall has been as quiet as a country graveyard all during last term.

There is but a foot of water needed now to fill the tank, and Mr. Frater states that it should be ready for use by the last of the week, or the first of next week at the latest.

The reason assigned by the management for the short time the pool has been in operation this year is the inadequate supply of water. The college system is taxed to its capacity to meet the demands placed upon it by the college buildings. An attachment to the city main is contemplated and if this is done there will be no cause for an empty swimming pool.

THE COMING OF SPRING

TRANSLATED FROM ONE OF HORACE'S ODES BY MISS MARIE TOWNSEND

With charming Spring the west wind comes,
Vehement winter takes its flight,
The derricks drag dry ships to sea,
The ploughman gladdens at the sight,
From stalls the eager cattle go
To meadows free from gleaming snow.

Beneath the moon o'er shadowing,
The cytherean band glides out—,
The nymphs with Venus hand in hand,
And comely graces all about
Great Vulcon looks with burning gaze
'Pon Cyclop's workshops while they blaze.

The shining hair with flowers is twined
Or myrtle sent from earth now fair,
To Faunus' shady groves we go
Our sacrifice to offer there—,
A fleecy lamb to him we bring
Or kid, our votive offering.

Still knocking at the home of poor
And place of the rich, the best,
Stands colorless and morbid Death.
May greedy Life's brief span arrest
Our distant hopes, O'Lestius,
Soon Death's dark night shall summon us.

The ghostly shades shall thee o'er whelm,
Likewise stern Pluto's drear abode,
As quickly as thou goest hence
Freed shalt thou be of earthly load
Lycidas shalt thou see no more,
Whom youths and virgins all adore.

Now all together for a successful baseball season.

ALUMNI NOTES

'94. Rev. R. C. Jones, in a letter to Pres. Wilson from Pitsamloke, Siam, gives interesting details regarding his work. He tells in particular of an accident that occurred while he and his family were making an evangelistic trip in a motor boat. The boat was capsized and the the cabin torn off. Mr. Jones and his family all escaped injury, but lost some of their personal belongings. In the course of another trip the boat was attacked by fish. Fourteen of them varying in length from eighteen inches to two and a half feet jumped into the boat and, to quote from the letter, "we turned the Jonah case around the other way, in so far as our capacity would allow." R. O. Franklin '03 spent the night with the Jones' recently on his way as delegate to the North Siam Mission. His family was in good health.

'07. Rev. S. H. Jewell, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Piedmont, Missouri for the past year has accepted a call to return to his former pastorate in Barton, Maryland. Mr. Jewell took charge of this church immediately after graduating from the Seminary in 1910 and remained until last year when he took up the work in Missouri. His Maryland friends have now induced him to return.

'07. J. C. McTeer, of Knoxville, was a visitor on the Hill one day last week.

'14. V. C. Detty, who graduates from Auburn Seminary this Spring is going to settle in Tennessee. The Presbyterian Advance states that he has accepted the pastorate of the Huntsville and Helenwood churches.

THE MESSAGE OF SPRING

In spite of the fact that Sunday March twenty-fifth was a "semi-holiday", the Y. W. C. A. was well attended. The subject was, "The Message of Spring". Miss Muriel Mitchell, the leader, gave quite an interesting talk after which a large number responded in the open meeting with gems of poetry bearing on the subject.

Next Sunday, Miss Margaret Burton, National Y. W. C. A. Secretary, who was expected to speak in chapel last Friday morning, will be here. Her address will be well worth hearing, and it is hoped that every girl will be present.

MRS. ALEXANDER AND MADAM DENNEE ENTERTAIN SENIORS

everyone present, pointing out individuals as their names were spoken. The prizes were, a mirror for Mr. Gamon into which he was requested to look and see a "fool"; a toy goose for Miss Sutton; and a tiny volume of Mother Goose Rhymes for Miss Sheddan.

After all the stunts had been performed the procession marched back to Mrs. Alexander's where cunning little Mother Goose cards were given out. Those given to the girls contained one half of a quotation and those to the boys the other half. Partners were found by putting together the halves of quotations. Delightful refreshments, still carrying out the color scheme of purple and gold, were then served. Everybody seemed in such high spirits after they had consumed as much as they could of the delicious "eats" that another hour was spent in story telling and "so on". The story telling was engaged in by some and the "so on" by others.

Before taking leave of their hostesses, Senior yells, yells for Mrs. Alexander and Madame Dennee, and "Chilhowee" were given. It was the most delightful of all the parties enjoyed by the Class of '17 this year.

DREAMLAND

Wednesday, March 28—Paramount Feature in five parts presenting House Peters and Myrtle Stedman in "The Happiness of Three Women". A drama that hits you and me straight in the heart. This picture must be seen to be appreciated.

Thursday, March 29—"Old Heidelberg", a Triangle feature in five acts, featuring Dorothy Gish and Wallace Reid. There are still a lot of people who envy royalty. They can't help wishing that they were ruling a country or even a principality enjoying the pleasures of court life. But after seeing Old Heidelberg, they will find that being a ruler has its drawbacks as well as its advantages. Dorothy Gish has become famous as a portrayer of little German girl parts and she is at her best in this production. Bray Cartoon, 1 reel.

Friday, March 30—'Liberty', 17th Chapter, featuring Marie Walcamp and Eddie Polo. "Fickle Fatty's Fall", Keystone Komedy, featuring Fatty Arbuckle. Arbuckle is no "made-up" fat man.. He is the real, genuine fat man, weighing at present something more than 285 pounds. His doting parents attached the name of Roscoe to this famous personage, but he soon outgrew it and is now universally known as Fatty. Dont miss his very funniest comedy, 2 reels. Ford Animated Weekly, 1 reel.

Saturday, March 31—"Lasky" Paramount presents Fannine Ward in a play for which she is especially adapted, entitled "Betty to the Rescue". The captivating star is now a romping, hoydenish, tomboy, with tousled hair and bare feet and clad frequently in a pair of ragged overalls. A gripping, fascinating story of a pulsating West land, 5 reels. Another of those funny Black Diamond Comedies. After seeing these comedies people go out saying "I wonder how they do it", for of all the eccentric characters and odd situations, they are in these comedies.

Monday, April 2—H. B. Warner in a thrilling Triangle five part feature entitled "The Vagabond Prince". H. B. Warner is one of the greatest artists on the American screen today and his interpretation of "The Vagabond Prince" is one that every man and woman should see. Universal Comedy, 1 reel.

Tuesday, April 3—"Perils of the Secret Service", chapter 2. A thrilling series of detective dramas, featuring Kingsley Benedict. Keystone Komedy, 2 reels. Universal Comedy, 1 reel.

CABINET CONFERENCE BIG SUCCESS
Y. W. C. A. CLOSES TWENTY-NINTH YEAR

Visiting Delegates Enjoy Sessions. Retiring Committees Report. New Cabinet in Harness. Another Big Year Prophesied.

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Council which was in session here since Friday night, was a great treat to all who have attended.

Friday night the first session was held. Mrs. Alexander greeted the delegates, representatives from The University of Tennessee, Tusculum College, and The East Tennessee State Normal. She spoke of the great work to be done by the young people's associations and of the breadth of their field of labor. Miss Sheddan from the East Tennessee State Normal gave the response in behalf of the delegates.

Miss MacFarland beautifully illustrated her talk, "The Call of the World to College Women" by this story. "A missionary about to return home asked the Chinese girls of the mission what they wanted her to bring them. She expected requests for all sorts of American articles, but was surprised by a unanimous request for 'A missionary doctor, with blue eyes who could play tennis.' 'What they really wanted", Miss MacFarland explained, "was someone interested in them, who could sympathize, who would appeal to their sense of beauty, and who could play with them".

The Saturday morning Bible Hour was to have been conducted by Miss Ethel Cutler but as she was unable to be present on account of illness, Miss MacFarland made a worthy substitute.

Then the Association Machinery was taken up. Miss Mary Hess from the University of Tennessee gave some very helpful thoughts and suggestions about the cabinet, when she quoted "An Association rises no higher than its cabinet", a feeling of greater responsibility came to each member of the cabinet. Miss Alice Wright spoke of the committees, "How to make Committee Work Effective", and she not only showed wherein this part of the machinery sometimes failed, but also how the cause could be remedied. "By all working together", the chairman should be a commander, but should not do all the work herself. She gave this motto to committemen, "Be ye doers of the work". Miss Kathleen Porter in her talk on Publications showed the importance of keeping posted as to what other associations do.

"An Adquate Voluntary Study Program" was set forth by Miss MacFarland, for use in the Sunday School, in which a four year course is offered. The classes are not to be taught by the lecture method, but just a round table discussion of the texts.

After the Bible Hour talk by Miss MacFarland, Professor Gillingham spoke on "What it Means to be a Christian in 1917". After speaking of some of the problems that the Christians of 1917 must face; he urged that the young people should train themselves to think and to act.

Following the Round Table Talk on "Christian Leadership" the Council was entertained in Bainonian Hall by a Blue Ridge "stunt" and after the glimpse of a meal at Blue Ridge all were eager to "go and see for themselves".

Saturday evening a reception was given to the old and new cabinet, together with the delegates, where every one got acquainted and then were entertained with readings by Misses Doris Wilson and Josephine Wicks. Then refreshments—just give some one who was there a chance to describe them!—were served, and an announcement by Miss Alice Wright, "That it was time to go to the enter-nt at the Baptist Church", sent all back to the hall in a hurry, and the Conference for the time was forgotten. At the New Providence Church Sunday morning, Rev. Lyle continued the program in his Conference sermon.

Sunday afternoon, Miss MacFarland conducted the Vesper Service at the Chapel, and told of the wonderful work that the Y. W. C. A. is doing in non-Christian lands. The last number of the program was omitted in order that the delegates might attend church services at the Presbyterian church.

SUMMARY OF YEAR'S WORK.

The great feature of the work of the Y. W. C. A. during this year just closing has been the weekly meetings. Here the girls may discuss freely some one subject in which they are interested. A visitor at the meetings would be interested in the speech of the leader, the music of the Y. W. quartette, or some one of the association's many soloists, but most of all would she like the open discussions. For in them the real girl is shown; her thoughts, her hopes, her best desires. They come spontaneously, awakened by some words of the leader perhaps. This causes a thought somewhere else, until quite a number have taken part, and new life is given the meeting. This is the most inspiring part of the hour.

No organization can have real growth unless its ideals of love and service are made realistic. The Y. W. C. A. has recently adopted a little six-year old girl of the Blue Ridge Mountains, and is trying to be a mother to her. The delegates to Blue Ridge each year are to visit her, and so keep in touch with their protege.

Y. W. has always been energetic along Mission Study lines. Miss Jackson, because of her personal contact with the Southern Mountaineers, was able to make the study of them exceedingly impressive. Prof. Johnson brought the other America up for discussion, and showed clearly that it was in need of Christian workers.

Committee work has been praiseworthy. Receptions have done much toward promoting good fellowship among the members and new stu-

CHATTANOOGA LEAGUERS TO PLAY HERE MONDAY

The Chattanooga team of the Southern League will stack up against the Highlanders on the local lot next Monday afternoon. The game promises to be the best exhibition of the national pastime to be played on the Maryville diamond this season.

Chattanooga carries such men as "Rube" Marshall, Jim Allen, and Howard Merritt on its pitching staff. The team is managed by 'Kid' Elberfeld, one of the scrappiest managers in organized baseball.

For the past four weeks the Chattanooga bunch have been training at Orange, Texas, and they are reported as being in fine shape.

The Highlanders will undergo some hard pracitce during this week and will give an excellent account of themselves in the contest with the Professionals.

A capacity crowd should be on hand to see this game and to assist the Highlanders with its vocal support.

ATHENIAN DECLAMATION CONTEST POSTPONED

The annual declamation contest of the Athenian Literary Society, which was scheduled for next Friday night has been postponed. The Grover Cleveland Gold Medal Contest, that was to be held on April 28th is not to be held this year and the Athenian contest will take place on the date assigned to it. The best oratorical talent in the Athenian society will enter the contest and excellent orations are expected.

GO-TO-SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY

By a proclamation of the Governor of the State of Tennessee, Sunday, April 8th will be observed in local churches as "Sunday School Day". Everyone is urged to attend the Sunday School services and make it the banner day of the year. Special programs have been arranged in the local churches and the day will be fittingly observed.

MARYVILLE CONQUERS TUSCULUM IN BEST FORENSIC EVENT OF SEASON

Decision at Home Unanimous—Two to One at Tusculum. James and Williams Captained Teams. Look Forward to U. T. Contest.

AT MARYVILLE

The debate Friday night began thirty minutes late, but when it did start, it was well worth the wait for certainly Maryville was represented by one of the best teams that has ever debated on her home floor. From the first speech to the last rebuttal Maryville had the edge on Tusculum. The constructive speeches of the Maryville team were well thoughtout and delivered in a manner which would impress any judge. The Tusculum speakers spoke too fast, and at times they could not be heard beyond the middle of the house. This was probably one reason why they lost. Another reason is that they were not thoroughly prepared on the question.

The debate, although on a hard and rather dry question was far from being uninteresting. In fact the audience was far more attentive and seemed far more interested than usual. And when Chairman J. G. Sims, announced the decision as three in favor of the affirmative, the crowd fairly fell over one another to get to the platform and congratulate the debaters. In fact one person tore up a portion of the floor in her zeal to get to the stage, while another embraced one of the debaters and a third turned over the water pitcher.

In giving the personae of the team, too much praise cannot be given to the individual members.

Mr. Mounce, first speaker did excellently. His delivery was calm and deliberate and his argument conclusive. In rebuttal he came back with an unusual amount of fire and good argument.

Mr. James, captain of the team, and second constructive speaker certainly proved himself worthy of being captain of such a team. His delivery was most impressive and his argument worked out to the smallest detail. His final rebuttal was the best that has been given from a Maryville stage in many years.

Mr. Haggard, last speaker, showed thorough preparation on the question and delivered his speech in a masterful manner. Haggard is a senior this year and Maryville will certainly lose one of her best debaters when he leaves.

The Tusculum men all did will. All the speakers have been debating for several years and their constructive speeches and rebuttals were excellent.

AT TUSCULUM

The negative team composed of Messrs. Deck Wililams, Capt.; Joel Georges, and David Briggs left Friday morning at six for Tusculum. They arrived there about noon and were given a room in the girls' dormitory—ask Prof. Johnson about it.

At 8:00 o'clock Tusculum faced a team that was destined to send them down in defeat 'ere the evening closed.

From the reports of the coach, Maryville's team certainly represented their Alma Mater in a way of which both they and the College can justly be proud. After the debate a delightful reception was given to the team in the form of a social by the Y. W. C. A. The team spent the night at Tusculum, leaving at five the next morning for Maryville.

With both ends of the dual debate now won, the Forensic League is putting forth every effort to win both ends of the Triangular. Let's see two more scalps added to the list already taken.

The students of Maryville College and the people of Blount County will have an unusual opoprtunity on the night of April the eleventh. William Jennings Bryan, orator, statesman and gentleman, known the world over for his profound interest in America and the American people, will deliver his famous lecture "The Making of a Man", in Voorhees chapel. Mr. Bryan has never appeared in Maryville before, although many students and people of the city have had the pleasure of hearing him before There have been one thousand tickets issued for the night. This number will comfortably fill the chapel, and is the limit to the number of seats that will be sold. Great interest is being shown by the people of the city and county as well as students, giving every indication that all the tickets will be taken before the date of the address.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN WEEK FROM TODAY

The third Cross Country run of a series of four being given this year will be run Tuesday, April 10, at 3:15 p. m. The run will be over the usual course, a distance of approximately three and three-quarter miles.

About eight entries are expected. The men winning points in the races last fall have been working hard in preparation for this race.

Manager Caton has not as yet settled definitely with Tusculum for dates for a meet with Maryville, but he expects to close these soon and a large number of men are expected to be out training for the annual field day meet, the two Tusculum meets, and the Annual Prep School meet at Knoxville in May.

MISS SMITH'S STUDIO TO BE SCENE OF ACTIVITIES

The College Art Department with some volunteer helpers, will give two Egyptian Entertainments at Miss Smith's Studio; Saturday, April 7th, at 7:30 p. m., and Monday April 9th, from 3 to 6 p. m.

The entertainment will be thoroughly oriental, consisting of Egyptian pictures of Egyptian scenes; while the studio with oriental pictures and hangings will furnish a unique background.

Only one hundred tickets will be available to Faculty and students, so don't let the grass grow under your feet while you consider; just go.

THE CALL TO SOCIAL SERVICE

Oftentimes a wrong conception is formed of the purpose and the work of the Young Women's Christian Association. And the Association is thought of as only an organization to provide religious entertainment at the devotional meetings, and to have a reception at the opening of the Fall and Winter Terms.

"The purpose of the Association shall be to unite the women of the institution in loyalty to Jesus Christ to lead them to accept him as their personal Savior, to build them up in the knowledge of Christ, especially through Bible study and Christian service, that their character and conduct may be consonant with their belief. It shall thus associate them wtih the students of the world for the advancement of the Kingdom of God. It shall further seek to enlist their devotion to the Christian church and to the religious work of the institution".

One of the greatest problems that faces the Association is, how this purpose can most adequately be accomplished. What does loyalty to Jesus Christ really mean? It means a devoted allegiance to Him—a consecrated service to Him. Service for Jesus Christ can only be rendered "in as much as we render it to His brethern."

The Young Women's Christian Association of Maryvile College has been doing what it could towards accomplishing this purpose. And it has been able to accomplish a great deal among the young women of the college through the ministry of the devotional meetings, prayer, and personal influence and testimony; and it has shared in the national and international work, as you can see from the audited statement of the finances of the Association. Yet, the Association is unable to do all the work it desires to do, because of its limitations.

The call for Social Service is nearer the Association than the call which came to Paul from Macedonia. The opportunity is waiting, can we close our eyes to the vision of Christ's call to serve Him by serving even the least of His brethern? Must we wait till our college life is over before we really serve our Master? Do we owe less loyal allegience to our King while we are training in His camp than we shall owe when we are out upon the great battlefield of life?

PROF. H. J. BASSETT GOES TO LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Classic Association of the Middle West and South will convene in Louisville, Ky., this week. The opening session is on Wednesday. Prof. Bassett, President of the Tennessee Philological Association and head of the department of Latin in Maryville leaves for Louisville tomorrow morning, returning next Monday. The Classic Association is composed of Greek and Latin scholars and teachers living east of the Rockies and west of the Appalachians.

BACK TO THE SMOKIES BETWEEN TERMS

Availing themselves of the opportunity afforded by the holiday last week, a number of our boys were able to pay their respects once more to the good old Smokies.

The promise of good weather, on Friday, was not all that might have been desired; nevertheless, the boys took chances, loaded themselves with Miss Coulter's best edibles, and at about 4 p. m. hit the pike.

It was quite dark when the bunch were across the Chilhowee, and at eight o'clock they struck camp in a disused gold-mill. There was quite a downpour of rain on Friday night and naturally the boys had plenty of fun. Two were sleepng inside an old boiler, lengthwise; one in the box, circular fashion; and the rest were gathered as near under the boiler as possible. At eleven o'clock the only dry spot on the mountain side seemed to be inside the boiler, which happy shelter was much appreciated.—in spite of the rivets.—by those inside. But this rain cleared the atmosphere, and for the next two days the weather was bully. Noon on Saturday was spent at Abraham's Falls. The last night's rain bestowed its blessing here, for the water was so high the boys were able to pull off some aquatic stunts. Pictures were taken; but, of course they have been censored. At four o'clock Cades Cove was reached. New supplies were here taken on board, and two of the boys invested in new shoes. They might have stayed here the night; but as they were informed it was only three miles to the top of the Smokies they pressed onward.

The less said about that three miles the better. The boys climbed steadily for four hours; and when first the sun retired, and then the moon, they were still climbing. This fatiguing work was awarded at last however, wtih the Smokies conquered, a hot supper, and a soft bed of hay. The next morning the sun was up long before the boys, who, at nine o'clock, hiked a short distance to Spencer's Cabin and took breakfast. Most of the crowd rested here awhile, three climbed to the top of Thunderhead, and enjoyed the sight of the mountains where "the skyline blends with the sky".

The down trip was accomplished in far less time than the trip up. The main ridge was left at three o'clock, and, with scarcely ten minutes rest, the boys kept going till they tumbled into the Hotel de Luxe at Townsend. The weary travellers knew nothing more till the next morning, when they followed the track to Kinzell Springs and let the train carry them home.

During the past week most of the bunch have spent their leisure time in bed, trying to recuperate from the effects of their journey.

REGARDING THE HOSPITAL

There are three doctors who visit the Hospital weekly. They are at the Hospital one hour, and the hour is 3:00 to 4:00 p. m. No fee is charged the students for consultation and examination at this hour.

The students are expected to pay for the drugs dispensed at the Hospital.

Dr. Gamble visits the Hospital Monday; Dr. Ellis, Wednesday; and Dr. McCulloch, Friday.

Miss Postlethwaite's periods for seeing students are immediately after each meal.

Student's hours for visiting the sick are 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

COMPETITION TO OPEN THIS WEEK

Last week, following the issue of the Echo, the class presidents met an selected the two student representatives, one from the Senior and one from the Junior class. R. S. Gamon was chosen from the Senior class and F. G. Cooper from the Junior class. These two students will meet with the two members of the faculty, who will in all probability be appointed tonight, and the contest for Editor and Business Manager will be formally opened during the week.

dents. The music committee, upon whose work the success of every program largely depends, deserves credit for the many special numbers which they provided.

The association has been exceedingly fortunate in having the Cabinet Council Conference meet with it this year, bringing new ideas from a number of other schools. The inspiration and practical suggestions which the Conference brought together with the cooperation of every Y. W. girl, will help the promising new cabinet to carry on the work of the past year with increased efficiency and success.

MISSION STUDY

The two Mission Study Classes furnished this year by the Y. W. C. A. were full of interest. Miss Jackson was the leader of one of the classes. In this class one of Dr. Wilson's books: "The Southern Mountaineer" was used as a text. Miss Jackson, being a former home missionary in West Virginia, seemed just the one to direct this class. Prof. Johnson gave lectures in the other class, speaking each week on one chapter of Robert E. Speer's excellent book, "South American Problems". Anyone taking Sociology will realize that Prof. Johnson was capable of the work.

The Y. W. C. A. heartily thanks Miss Jackson and Prof. Johnson for their unfailing interest during the eight weeks.

All those who attended the classes evidenced great interest, because every true American these days is interested in the problems of the sister Americans. Almost the whole progress of evangelizing the world depends on the attitude of the Christian churches at home. No Christian people can afford to slight the great problem of missions.

OPEN SEASON WITH VICTORY

Deaf and Dumb Team Easy. Game Slow and Listless. Highlanders Active With Stick.

The baseball season at Maryville was opened Friday with a slow and loose game, Maryville winning easily from the Deaf and Dumb team by score of 15-4.

A small crowd witnessed the game and very little interest was manifested at any time.

The pitcher seemed to have much the advantage but received far from good support, especially the support given Duncan was poor for although he struck out seven men in six innings and held the Highlanders to 9 hits, they scored 13 runs off him.

The pitching of Scruggs was good and his work featured the game, although at no time did he receive brilliant support. Scruggs struck out ten men in seven innings and had two hits out of four trips to the plate. The Mutes were able to score only one single from his delivery. Their two other hits coming off Weisbecker.

Feeman was the only other Highlander to secure more than one hit, he had one double and one single. Stevens had the only three base hit of the day. He knocked the pill into right field and it was misjudged by the fielder and Stevens had landed on third before the ball could be returned.

The Mutes scored in the first inning, Acuff the first man up struck out. Duncan was hit by the pitcher and both were safe when Chambers hit an infield grounder. Duncan and Chambers worked a double steal and scored, on an out by Moore.

The Mutes scored again in the third on two errors, a sacrifice hit and an out third to first.

The final score for the visitors was in the fourth, when Moore, first up, was given a base on balls and scored on an error, a stolen base and an out by Cole.

Ten Highlanders faced Duncan in the first inning, five of whom were able to cross the plate. The runs were scored through errors, three hits, a base on balls, and a fielder's choice.

Two runs were scored by the Highlanders in the fourth. Scruggs first up singled to left field. Hodge sacrificed him to second. McCall hit safe and on a stolen base and two errors both McCall and Scruggs scored. Maryville scored two runs in the fifth. King doubled to left field, stole third and scored on an out. Scruggs next up was hit by the pitcher, went to second on Hodge's single to left field and scored on an error. The Highlanders continued their run getting in the sixth inning, scoring four times. Stevens first up hit a triple to right field and scored on Flannery's single to left field. Davidson flied out to left field and Flannery scored on an error and a wild pitch. King and Pack were both safe on errors and with a stolen base, each scored on one more misplay by the Mutes' infield. The Highlanders scored twice in the seventh. Stevens, second up was given a base on balls, Flannery flied out to center field; Davidson was then safe and with a hit and a stolen base both men scored. The Highlanders were unable to score in the eighth, as the first man up struck out and the next two went out, short to first.

Maryville had eight stolen bases to her credit, King and Flannery having two each.

EXCITING TIMES IN JUNIOR ALPHA SIGMA

A very interesting program was enjoyed by the members last Saturday night. After a reading by Howard McGrath, and an impromptu debate by Messrs. Young and Shelburne, the meeting was thrown open to the members to tell the most exciting incident in their lives. President Dewey Eitner, told of a fire in his home, which happened when he was young, and how his youthful inexperience enabled him to keep cool, and thus save the lives of the members of the family. Charles Simmons told how he "learned to ride the mule that throwed him". Isaac Huskey told another exciting "Missouri" incident. It was a very "exciting" meeting.

All members are requested to attend the meetings and help make this term the most successful term of the year. Boost Your Society

MISS MORTON SEEMS TO KNOW

Last Monday evening, for something unusual in the weather line, it rained. Three young men from College Hill were invited to spend the evening with friends; but it did not matter if the skies wept, or the ground gave way under foot, the three gallant folks went forward. They missed the road, and stepped lightly and slowly along a field for about twenty-five minutes. The ordinary walk takes about five minutes.

Fortunately for the young men, Maryville mud does not stick very much, and the condition of newly pressed clothes and highly polished shoes needed but little explanation to their friends. The men said they did not see the rod.

It is a common expression that love is blind and probably Riggs is in love, and thinking of Marion (marryin') Dellinger.—We do not know.

When a man comes home and finds the key-hole missing—he's drunk. When a man goes out and finds the road gone ———?

Jane P. Morton.

A DREAM!

It was only a dream, but dreams sometimes come true. I dreamed that Deck Williams at last graduated from Maryville College, got married, and hung out his shingle as a lawyer. He won many cases, and made a great name for himself. His fame spread throughout his state, and one day Deck woke up and found himself a congressman. The great day came! The House of Representatives was crowded, for it had been announced that the Honorable Deck Williams would make his maiden speech on that day. He arose to speak. All eyes were fixed upon him. Such an eloquent flow of language had never before been heard in the House. Such graceful gestures! So sweet a voice! So accomplished in every detail! Then, his knowledge! The audience was amazed, as they sat and listened.

"And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew,
That one such small head could carry all he knew!"

Before he sat down however, he told the audience how he "got his start".

"Years ago", he said, "when I was a student in Maryville College, I was captain of a debating team that beat Tusculum, and the thing that beat them was my tripod. Ladies and gentlemen, it was this tripod that gave me my start! Moral: Get a tripod."

(Editor's note)—This tripod was one of Deck's illustrations in the recent debate. He labeled it "Exhibit A" and it is said that even the judges smiled when he produced it.

WHAT ABOUT EATING?

Fourteen senior men of Oberlin, living together at a college house, have sworn to abstain from linen collars until the prices of collars go back to normal. To carry out their protest, they have donned celluloid collars and carry with them the necessary laundering equipment consisting of a sponge. Among the men are the editors of the college paper, the football captain and manager, and two varsity debaters.—Purdue Exponent.

DREAMLAND

Hello, have you noticed the better pictures we are having? Yes, it is a brand new screen costing something over $200. We have moved it farther to the front and have put in two new lenses in our machines thereby enlarging our picture by three feet on each side. Before the month of April is gone you are going to see linen chair covers on every chair and six big fans in operation, all ventilators, which were down for the winter open, and everything possible will be done to make the Dreamland the coolest place in Maryville. It is impossible to improve the quality of our pictures, for they are the best made, but we are improving the home of them and are going to make it so inviting that you couldn't stay away if you wanted to. By the time you read this our new calendars for April will be in the hands of Mr. Crum for distribution and you can have a calendar and full month's program for the asking. Now for the usual high class Dreamland program.

Wednesday, April 4—Famous Players present Irene Fenwick and Owen Moore in a delightful play entitled "A Girl Like That". A Paramount picture in five parts. Thursday, April 5—Bessie Love and the Triangle Kiddies in "A Sister of Six". Don't you love little kids? And these little Triangle Kiddies are not actors, but just plain everyday little dirty faced kids, whose actions in this picture alternately bring tears and laughter, 5 reels. Bray Cartoon, 1 reel.

Friday, April 6—"Liberty", chapter 18. Only two more episodes of this thrilling serial, 2 reels. Keystone Komedy, 2 reels. Ford Animated Weekly, gets better all the time, 1 reel.

"BATCHERS" LIVE CHEAPLY

That it is possible to attend the University of Oregon and live on from $5 to $10 per month has been proved by the members of the Bachelor's Club. A member of the club recently declared that he lived comfortably on $175 for a school year.

All the members of the club—and there are about thirty men and women—are very healthy and most are gaining weight, says Curtis Beach, president of the club. Women members are working on menus for the use of the members, but these have not yet been completed. It was said that many of the students who are batching do not do so because of financial stress, but because they wish it.—Indiana Student.

PREPAREDNESS MEASURES TAKEN BY MARYVILLE STUDENTS MILITARY---RED CROSS TRAINING

Fellows To Attend Drills. Use Of Local Armory May Be Secured.

These are days of startling reports and surprising news items! "Military training in Maryville College"—it came rather as a surprise. But Maryville College believes in Preparedness. She is therefore preparing her sons for the time when the country may need them.

When the students gathered in chapel Friday morning, they were all aware of something unusual. Suddenly the strains of the National Hymn rang through the air. A tremendous outburst of patriotic enthusiasm followed almost immediately. Everyone knew why the National Hymn was being sung. And never was this Hymn sung with greater vim and enthusiasm!

When Dean Barnes arose to make the announcements of the morning, it was expected he would mention the war situation. He did. And when he announced the military training course to be held by Prof. D. J. Brittain and Capt. Lonas, a great hush fell upon the student body. All students who desire to take military training will be excused from other athletic activities, but will be expected to be faithful in the discharge of their "military training" duties. Great applause followed at the close of the Dean's announcement.

One Red Cross Nurses' Class At Work. Another Being Organized. Co-Eds Enthused.

Twenty-five young ladies, under the auspicies of "The Equal Suffrage League" are lining-up for service. They are starting a class under the direction of the National Red Cross Association. They expect to be ready for immediate service when the call comes for Red Cross Nurses. According to the regulations of the National Red Cross Association, this class must consist of not less than four members, not more than twenty-five. The instructor must be a physician of good standing and one approved by the National Association, before the class can be started. Dr. Ellis, a local physician has given two hours a week to this work. The class must be provided with anatomical charts, full instruction outfit, and Red Cross text books.

All these instructions have been complied with and the course began this afternoon, Dr. Ellis giving his first lecture on Anatomy.

After the second lecture a permanent roll is made out and sent to headquarters of the National Association at Washington, with a fifty cent registration fee for each one enrolled. At the end of the course, consisting of fifteen hours, examinations are given, by a second physician approved by the National Association. To all passing this examination a certificate from the National Red Cross Association will be given. Eighty per cent of these lectures must be attended before the exam can be taken.

This course is open first to the members of the Suffrage League, whose membership numbers 21. Outsiders sufficient to make the required number will be taken in. Since so many of the girls desire this course it looks as though a second class will be organized. The class meets on Tuesday and Friday from four to five o'clock.

POPULAR ALUMNI TO WED THURSDAY NIGHT

At the New Providence Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening, April 12, 1917 the wedding of Miss Lillian Gray Webb and Mr. David Wilson Proffitt will be solemnized by Rev. H. S. Lyle, pastor.

This promises to be the most brilliant social event of the year. Miss Webb and Mr. Proffitt were classmates during their college course, graduating with the class of 1916. Mr. Proffitt is now in business at Cleveland, Tenn., where he owns a dry goods store.

The bridal party will consist mostly of classmates and college chums of the contracting parties. Miss Ruth Newell, '13 of Knoxville will act as Maid of Honor and Mr. Harwell Park '16, of Culleoka, Tenn., will be the Best Man. The Maids of Honor will be Misses Aletha May, Margaret Jones, Margaret Henry and Bernice Lowry. Messrs. G. W. Adams, Chas. Proffitt, Prof. W. L. Johnson and C. F. Kelly will be the Ushers. Mr. Roy Anderson will render a solo, assisted by Miss Eunice May at the piano.

Following the ceremony an informal reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webb, on High St.

As the result of a questionaire sent to about seventy-five colleges in the United States, it has been found that the honor system is considered by nearly all of them to be a great improvement over the proctor system.—The Lawrentian.

COMPETITION FOR POSITIONS NOW GOING ON

The competition for the positions of Editor and Business Manager of the 1917-1918 Echo was opened in chapel Friday morning. The committee, composed of two students and two members of the college faculty drew up the ruies that will govern the competition. They are as follows: "The candidate for the position of Editor will submit one editorial, not more than four hundred words in length, on a subject of his or her own choice; also one concise news item. If the contestant has had previous experience he will please state where and when. All contestants for Editor will present their papers in Dr. Hoyt's room, Anderson Hall, Monday, April 16th at 3:00 p. m. At that time and place they will write an additional article on a subject presented by the committee.

The candidate for Business Manager will submit a statement of his previous business experience and testimonials. This matter to be submitted to the committee by the contestant on Monday, April 16th, at 3 p. m. in Dr. Hoyt's room, Anderson Hall. At that time and place the contest will close".

The Editor receives one college credit in English for his work.

The Business Manager receives ten percent of the net reciepts of the paper.

Remember the competition closes on next Monday at 3:00 p. m.

THREE GAMES FOR ORANGE AND GARNET THIS WEEK

The coming week will be a busy one for the baseball team as they have three scheduled games. The first with Georgetown College of Georgetown, Ky., which promises to be close and hotly contested. The Kentucky boys generally have a first rate team and this year is reported as no exception.

The team is now on its annual Southern trip with good prospects for winning a majority of the games.

The other games will be played April 16 and 17 with Washington College. Very little is known of the strength of the Washington College team as they have not appeared in Maryville for several years. On their last appearance in Maryville they had an unusually good minor college team built up around several professional players, but whether or not they have as showy a team this year is not known.

BRYAN OFFERS SERVICES TO GOVERNMENT

Great Commoner at Country's Service. Will Speak Here Tomorrow Night. Seats Will be Scarce.

Following rapidly upon the declaration of war by the United States on Germany came William Jennings Bryan's offer to serve his country in any way it needed him.

Although opposing war to the time it was declared, Mr. Bryan proved himself a most patriotic citizen by tendering himself to the service of his country in the time of strife.

The subject of Mr. Bryan's address will be, "The Making of a Man". This is one of his most famous lectures. It has been favorably criticised by the leading journalist of the country. Speaking of the subject of the lecture, a prominent citizen of Maryville remarked, "I have heard it twice already and I am going to hear it again Wednesday night".

It is needless to say that a great crowd will welcome Mr. Bryan to Maryville tomorrow night. The sale of tickets indicates that the S. R. O. sign will be on display before the great orator begins his lecture.

The proceeds of the evening will be given to the Centennial Fund by the class of '17 under whose auspices Mr. Bryan is to appear.

RECITAL SATURDAY NIGHT

Three pupils of the Music and Expression Departments will appear in a recital at Voorhees Chapel on Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock

SENIORS ENJOY "BOX PARTY"

One of the most unique parties of the year was enjoyed last Thursday night when the Senior Class, chaperoned by the Dean and Mrs. Barnes, witnessed "The Fall of a Nation", at the Palace Theater.

The party left Pearsons Hall at 8:30 Thursday evening, reaching the theater in time for the nine o'clock show. This was hurrying some of the moonshiners too much, but with the aid of the chaperones even the greatest admirers of the moon succeeded in arriving in time to see the beginning of this noted film.

Perhaps you did not know before that you can have box parties in Maryville. Well, you certainly can! This one was truly a box party as the entire party was "boxed up" in the balcony of the Palace Theater.

The picture, though somewhat sad, was enjoyed and fully appreciated by all present. The boys were really solemn for once, Dr. Barnes was seen to quickly wipe away a few tears, and the girls actually sobbed!

At eleven o'clock the party left the "Box" and went to "Uncle Joe's" where delightful refreshments were served. It was almost twelve o'clock when the girls slipped quietly up Pearsons' stairs, by Miss Mollie's door and into their rooms.

The Seniors wish to recommend the Dean and Mrs. Barnes as delightful chaperones. The Dean surely remembers when he was a moonshiner.

U. T. DEBATERS WILL CONTEST WITH M. C.

Final Intercollegiate Debate. Teams Well Prepared. Modern Question. Friday Night.

Friday night, April 13th, Maryville meets the University of Tennessee and Emory and Henry College in a Triangular debate. Maryville debates Emory and Henry at Emory, Va., and the University of Tennessee here.

This is the first time that Maryville has ever debated either school and it is hoped that both scalps may be added to the collection already taken by Maryville debating teams this year. The Tennessee debate, here, is especially important because if Maryville can win this debate, she can probably get a debate with Sewanee next year and also with West Virginian Wesleyan, besides debating Tennessee again. This would certainly put Maryville on the map as far as debating is concerned.

The question for debate is "Resolved; That the United States adopt a system of Compulsory Arbitration of Labor Disputes for Railroads engaged in Interstate Commerce, Constitutionality Conceded." This is certainly a live question and one which everyone must be interested in as it takes up the recent railroad controversy and the Adamson law. The affirmative team debating at home is composed of Messrs. Horace Dawson, Robert Adams and Edward Campbell. The negative team debating at Emory and Henry is composed of Messrs. William Holmes, Homer Frater and Young Hayes. Both teams are well prepared on the question and are putting forth every effort to win both ends of this debate.

Although there are many attractions this week in the way of entertainment, yet this will be among the foremost and a large crowd of students is expected out to support the team. The members of the team have certainly done their part and with the proper support of the student body there is no doubt but that Tennessee will go down in defeat, even as Tusculum did two weeks ago.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN PREPARE

While the military atmosphere prevails on College Hill, the city of Maryville is not asleep on the preparedness question. Many of the business and professional men have indicated their intention to put themselves in training for the call to the colors.

Thursday night these men will meet at the armory and perfect their organization. A drill will be held weekly under the direction of Captain Lonas of the local company, N. G. T.

This move has been entirely voluntary, and no obligations will be incurred by those who make ready. Those not liable to call are taking this training from purely a patriotic standpoint, in order that they may be ready when the call comes.

LOCAL PROFS. TO PREACH BACCALAUREATES

Next Sunday Prof. C. H. Gillingham will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the Senior class of the Niota High School.

Prof. F. F. Schaeffer will, on the same day, deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Friendsville Academy at Friendsville. The Maryville College Quartet, composed of Messrs. Anderson, Hayes, Turner and Cody will sing at the commencement exercises of the Academy on Thursday night, April 19th.

MILITARY TRAINING FOR MARYVILLE

The announcement that Maryville College is to have voluntary military training opens a pathway whereby the students can prepare themselves, while continuing their work, for service to their country.

This is not the hour to discuss the right or wrong of war, it is enough to know that the honor of our country is at stake and that it must be defended. We are a part of this great national government and it is well that Maryville College should prepare to offer her entire resources to insure the stability and good name of our fatherland.

While there is but a few short weeks until the end of the school year much can be accomplished when it is entered into with the proper spirit.

When the call for volunteers comes Maryville men will be able to offer themselves in a state of preparedness, instead of green recruits.

It is a splendid move and those who plan to take their stand in the ranks should respond and profit by the training.

HAVE YOU ENTERED?

The competition for the positions of Editor and Business Manager of the third volume of the Echo, given elsewhere in this issue, should command the attention of every loyal college man in Maryville.

The Highland Echo is the official organ of the student body and should have at its head the best that the students can produce. We are judged by the things we do, not by the possibilities that lie dormant within the student body.

It is the duty of every fellow who has ability as a writer or possesses business qualities to enter this competition and offer to his college his services.

The competition will be fairly and impartially conducted and the winners may feel that they are deserving of the honor it will bring.

If you have not as yet planned to enter, do so at once. There is ample time in which to prepare the necessary material. Do your duty and try out for one of the greatest honors you can win.

Student (Discussing Military Training on the Hill)—"I'm gonna get married right away; then I wont have to go to war." (Then he receives a sudden inspiration) "Professor, do you think that they will use broom-sticks in place of guns here?"

Professor Walker—"No, they use broom-sticks in married life."

HIGHLANDERS DROP TWO CLOSE GAMES

West Va. Wesleyan Wins 10-9. Leaguers Win 5-0. Highlanders Play Good Ball.

The Highlanders showed an even better defense and better pitching, except in one inning than had been expected and held the Chattanooga leaguers scoreless yesterday, except in the eighth inning when Sawyer succeeded Scruggs on the mound.

Scruggs had pitched good ball for seven innings giving, up only four hits, but Sawyer, who succeeded him, had trouble locating the plate and gave three bases on balls, allowed two hits which coupled with an error and a fielder's choice allowed the leaguers to pile up five runs.

Graff first up walked, Watt advanced him a base when he walked an infield hit by Kitchen moved both men up and an error and a fielder's choice when Marshall came to bat allowed two runners to cross the plate. Another base on balls, a two base hit and sacrifice fly sent three more across the plate.

Rube Marshall who started the game for Chattanooga was in good form as was evidenced by the fact that in the six innings he pitched he held the Highlanders hitless and struck out nine men. Pitler was the only man to have more than one hit to his credit and he had a double and a single out of four trips to the plate.

Feeman played a good fielding game, having six put outs and five assists to his credit.

Manager Elberfeld only played two innings, securing a hit in his one trip to the plate and fielding perfectly his one chance.

Manager McCall had four put outs to his credit, two of which were very difficult, and brought the fans to their feet with yells of approval.

In spite of the cold weather a large crowd witnessed the game which was replete with thrillers and snappy throughout, except during the fatal eighth inning.

THE WESELYAN GAME

The West Virginia Wesleyan baseball team defeated Maryville Tuesday in a slow and ragged contest by score of 10-9.

Maryville scored twice in the first inning on a two base hit by Hodges and a sacrifice and an out by McCall and Flannery and two errors which allowed King to get on base and later score.

West Virginia scored seven runs in the third inning and was never headed. In this inning the Wesleyans had four hits for a total of nine bases and two bases on balls.

Maryville scored four times in the fifth inning on four bases on balls and a three base hit by Feeman.

Sawyer replaced Weisbecker in the fourth inning and gave up three singles in six innings.

Hathaway's ankle was sprained in the second inning and he was forced to leave the game, Hodges going to left field and Cox to short stop.

A small crowd was in attendance and little enthusiasm was shown as the Virginians did not play up to expected form and showed very plainly the effects of the long trip they were just completing, especially the pitchers whose work at times seemed very indifferent.

FROM AMERICA TO EGYPT IN ONE HOUR

To step from American moonlight into Egyptian twilight is not accomplished in a life time. But such was the fortunate situation in which the visitors at Miss Smith's studio found themselves last Saturday evening.

Soft harp music unseen, but distinctly heard, helped to create "atmosphere" right away. While the tourists were assembling the ones already assembled passed the time very pleasantly in admiring the strange designs upon the genuine Egyptian hangings.

Attention was called to the door by the entrance of two guards who, with scimiters at their belts, looked as though they might have come direct from Pharaoh's court. Following these came a priest, an incense bearer, a water boy carrying a bronze water pot of Egyptian history, gaily dressed flower girls bearing trays of blossoms on their heads, and women of different ranks in bright veils and many beads.

Two young Egyptians, usually Misses Beatrice and Gail Wilson told stories from the Arabian Nights. Another fair Egyptian, ordinarily Miss Eva Listyak, sang most pleasingly in,—well the audience had not heard it before.

By this time everybody was ready for the trip to Cairo itself. With Miss Smith, who knows the city quite well, as guide, the pseudo-tourists could feel the rush of the crowd, hear the medley of sound, and see the riot of color, all of which is characteristic of the streets of Cairo. Up and down the Nile, across the desert to the pyramids were the travelers led, even to the feet of the Sphinx itself. Pictured as it was by moonlight, it cast its mysterious spell for a fleeting moment, then on to other things.

The final picture presented to the returning travelers was that of a poor man surrounded by strange and fearful dreams. A similar fate which was prophesied for the tourists never came, for as they made their way back into their own home moonlight, there were only exclamations of how pleasantly the time had passed, how short a stay it had been.

CHRIST OR CAESAR WHICH

Our College has at last followed the lead of other educational institutions through the country, and has declared herself in favor of voluntary military training. We have followed the path of least resistance, led by the impulse of the time. Two courses weee open to us; to reassert our faith in Christ and His teachings, or to adopt the principles of Caesar and force. And we, influenced by one of the greatest crises that our beoved country has ever faced, have chosen the latter way. I am not questioning the expediency of this choice, but I do ask myself this question, "Can the principles of Christianity and of military training find peaceful lodging in the same mind?"

Two sentences used in announcing this step of the College burned like fire into my mind: "We are going into this war to defend Christianity", and, "Christ said, 'When ye hear of war and rumors of war, be ye not troubled; for such things must needs be'".

Going into war to defend Christianity! Is Christianity a thing to be defended with guns and swords? Did Christ, whose followers we call ourselves so defend it? At the most critical period of his life did He say to Peter, Give me thy sword that I may kill these men, or did He say, Peter, put up thy sword? Can military training, which is, when brought down to the last analysis, only the preparation of men to kill their fellow men, be reconciled with the commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself?"

"War must needs be". Too true! War in the world as it is today is necessary. It, I acknowledge must needs be, but I do deny that we should kill or prepare to kill our fellow men in the name of The Great Christ and Christianity.

Let each individual question himself in his own heart and choose the way, and then let him render unto Caesar those things which are Caesar's, or unto Christ those things which are Christ's, for no man can be the bondservant of two masters; for either he will dislike the one one and like the other, or he will attach himself to one and think slightingly of the other.

Leslie Jones.

Maryville, Tenn.
April 7, 1917.

To The Editor of The Highland Echo:

Some account having reached me of the rumors that have been circulated by a student among the student body regarding what took place at the meeting of the Ministerial Association last Thursday night, I deem it my duty and privilege to make known to the students through The Highland Echo at least the true facts of the case.

We enjoyed very helpful devotional exercises and a remarkably interesting and instructive talk by Ralph A. Young on "The Old and New Russia". Then, during the business session, with a view to opening up a discussion on the responsibilities of the ministerial students and the Church with regard to the expected declaration of war, I voiced my personal opinions regarding this. Shortly after I had started to speak, however, the student, the one with whom the rumor reflecting on the Association originated, left the room after being reproved for his ungentlemanly and unchristian conduct; hence the student is ignorant of the things of which he has spoken. After this the meeting was perhaps the most orderly meeting ever held by the Ministerial Association, each member giving his thoughts on the matter under discussion without resentment, ill-feeling, or indulging in personalities of any kind.

The part of my talk which perhaps provoked most of the discussion was the sentence in which I said: "I was disappointed this morning to see the authorities of this Christian College fly the national flag to celebrate the probable entrance of this country into the terrible war that is now devastating Europe—that awful blot on the influence of the Christian Church". I cannot reconcile Christianity and wholesale murder (even if under the name of war), and although I am a British citizen I deplore the fact that this country has decided to cast in her lot even with the Entent Allies. I love the Stars and Stripes, but, because of my love for it, I hate to see it dragged in the mire of manslaughter, and I am praying that we may elevate our nationality to the side of Christianity.

Some have said that I do not know what war means—with almost all of my old schoolmates either killed or maimed for life! With several uncles and cousins already killed! With two uncles on the firing line now (one in France, the other in Salonika)! With two brothers in the service of the British government in Scotland! With two sisters making war munitions in England! Surely I ought to know what war means? Sherman was right. "War is Hell". And hell is the reward of those who fail to execute the principles of the Prince of Peace.

Of course, I am aware of the statement that this country is entering the war on the side of humanity; but Germany thinks the same. Every nation in the conflict calls upon God for help and it thanks him for the victory. Oh, the mockery of it all!

The Word of God assures us that Christiantiy shall be victorious, so, now that the die is cast, let us go through these days of suffering and darkness and do our part, whether on the firing line or at home, with hearts chastened by love, and with an earnest purpose to know our Redeemer better, that we may fulfil His blessed purpose which includes not ourselves only but the whole world.

Andrew Richards.

FOR MISS AKERSTROM

"Backward, turn backward, o h Time, in your flight, and make me a child again, just for tonight". That is what happened on Saturday afternoon! Number 37 Pearsons, otherwise known as Utopia, presented a truly gala appearance, when Miss Helen Brown entertained in honor of Miss Francis Akerstrom, who was celebrating her nth birthday. The afternoon was spent most pleasantly, in playing all the old "Kid-games", which were the delight of our early birthday parties. The first stunt was an Easter egg hunt, which was wildly exciting. Miss Hickey was the lucky winner, for not only did she get the most eggs to eat, but she received "the prize". "Guessing games" which are especially delightful to children, were next on the program. But before the latin-trained minds of the guests were allowed to grow weary from this unaccustomed exercise, the birthday candles on the big white cake were lighted and the most delicious eats were served by the hostess. The afternoon was most pleasantly spent and after wishing the honoree many happy returns of the day the guests made a reluctant departure.

MISS FANSON IN BAINONIAN

Last Friday evening the Bainonians were given one of the most interesting programs of the term. Miss Ethel Fanson read, "The Taming of the Shrew". Miss Fanson's interpretation of the play was good and the portrayal of the different characters vivid. The interesting story of how the good-natured gentleman Petranchio, turning to the gruff domineering lover and husband, tamed the Shrew into the gentle submissive Katherine, was made very real in the hands of Miss Fanson. The program was characteristic of Miss Fanson, delightful as well as instructive.

TO MARS

O Mars! Grim god of war!
I hate thee.
Corrupt! Rotten at the core!
I loathe thee.
"Enemy of the human race", I call thee.
"Foe of all that's good", I name thee.

O Mars! Before the world's courts,
I challenge thee.
To prove thyslef and thy cohorts
A grim Necessity.
Shouldst thou fail—In God's great name,
Get off the earth! Cease man to defame!

O Mars! Wilt thou reply,
—I ask thee?—
Before God's tribunals high—
Before Eternity—
That Civilization, Evolution,
Progress, demand
That Man's best blood be spilt as water upon sand?

O Mars! Again I challenge, summon
And command thee
To prove that man and woman,
Yea, all Humanity
Could not have gained, by Peace and Arbitration,
All these blessings—and more—with less damnation.

"OLD GLORY" SEEN EVERYWHERE

With the proclamation of War by the President of the United States against the German autocracy, a great wave of patriotism has swept over the country, leaving its effect upon Maryville College, as upon the other colleges and universities of our land. The first sign of this spirit of patriotism on the Hill showed itself last Thursday morning when "Old Glory" was spread to the breeze from the top of Anderson tower. It was inspiring and heartening, to say the least, to see the old emblem of Liberty floating at such a time as this. When the students entered Chapel Monday morning they were confronted by the sight of "Stars and Stripes" near the platform. It was greeted with great applause.

A large number of students have purchased flags for their several tables, where it occupies a central position, so that the dining hall presents a sight which is indeed beautiful to the heart of an American citizen.

"O the Star Spangled banner, long may it wave!
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!"

TRIANGULAR CLOSED INTERCOLLEGIATES

Maryville Won From U. T.—Lost at Emory. Takes Second Place. Biggest Crowd of Season Attended.

AT MARYVILLE

For many years the University of Tennessee has been a rival in athletics, but 'ast Friday evening for the first time Maryville and U. T. clashed in a debate which resulted in a complete victory for the Orange and Garnet. This event had been anticipated for several months owing to the opponents' forensic record with other state universities and the prominence of the institution, it being classed as one of the best eight southern universities.

The U. T. team was not thoroughly prepared on the question, the reason given is that they had been allowed only two weeks for preparation, which would easily account for their weakness.

The second speaker presented some good argument, but he failed to drive it home. Despite these facts it was a very interesting and instructive debate as it pertained to the compulsory arbitration of railway labor disputes.

Maryville has never put out a better debating team, each member is to be commended very highly for his faithful work.

Mr. Adams, the first M. C. speaker made a very striking impression on the judges and the audience. His delivery was excellent and his argument weighty. His final rebuttal was one terrific blow after another to his opponents. "Bob" is only a Sophomore this year and it is hoped that he will be here two more years to participate in more victories.

Mr. Campbell, the second speaker delivered his speech in a very convincing manner, showing a very thorough preparation on the question. He showed plenty of "pep" in his telling rebuttal. Two years of debating are also ahead of Campbell.

Mr. Dawson, the concluding speaker, delivered his speeches in his usual impressive manner. He was very much at home on the floor—this victory being the second one in which he has participated during the last two years.

AT EMORY

While the boys defending the affirmative side of the question at home were trouncing U. T., the team that went to Emory were upholding the negative style to the best of their ability.

In order to do the debate up in approved style the Emory men sent one of their number to Bristol to welcome the visitors to Virginia. Upon arriving at Emory the Highlanders were welcomed in a royal manner by the students and faculty and were accorded every courtesy to make their stay enjoyable.

Although the decision was unanimous in favor of the affirmative, the representatives of the Orange and Garnet made a strong plea for their side of the issue and received the plaudits of the large audience.

The judges were Dr. J. R. Dobyns, Rev. E. M. Louthan, Dr. S. H. Yokeley and their decision, while not favorable to the Maryville men, was satisfactory.

A reception was tendered the Highlanders at the close of the mortal combat, adding much to the pleasure of the trip.

The triangular debate, taken all in all, was most successful and Maryville deemed it an honor to have such worthy opponents as Tennessee and Emory and Henry. It is the desire of the Forensic league to be able to entertain Emory here next season and return the hospitality extended to them this year.

DEAN MORGAN AROUSES COLLEGE TO SOUTH'S FOOD CRISIS

Dean H. A. Morgan, of the University of Tennessee appeared in Chapel Monday morning and spoke to the student body on the War and the part which the farmer is to play in bringing victory to the side of democracy. He startled the students by stating that an actual food shortage is staring the South in the face today, and that the first and paramount duty of every southerner is to plant beans, corn, rye, and other food crops. He said that the South actually has only three week's supply of foodstuffs on hand, at the present time when all the world is beginning to feel the pangs of hunger.

Professor Morgan urged the College students and faculty to take a leading part in arousing the people of Blount County to these stern realities, and to arouse the farmers to plant big crops. He urged all to produce more and consume less. That we should be willing to suffer for the great cause for which our country is fighting. "Cut out the luxuries. It is a time to get down to brass tacks. Let the people wake up! Let the young men wake up! God has sent this great war on us to make men of us for one thing". "The supreme test of the Nation has come", says President Wilson. "We must all speak, act and serve together."

Action was taken by the students immediately following Prof. Morgan's rousing speech. Committees were sent out all over Blount County to call the farmers to a great Citizen's Mass Meeting, at which these things would be discussed. Professors Ellis, Proffitt and Johnson, of the faculty, were appointed by Dean Barnes to co-operate in awakening the people to plant gardens, and help in other ways to meet this crisis.

L. M. U. AND TUSCULUM BILLED TO PLAY

Within the next few days the Highlanders will meet two of the best college baseball teams in this section. Lincoln Memorial University comes down for games Friday and Saturday and on next Monday and Tuesday Tusculum will invade the Hill.

The L. M. U. team is built around its pitching staff. Big "Bolden has been pitching one hit and no hit games all this season and will work his hardest against Maryville, an old rival. The hitting of the L. M. U. team has been the heaviest of any team reported this season. In several games they have secured as many as twenty hits. Bolden will probably start the game Friday and a good pitching exhibition is assured.

Tusculum's baseball team needs no introduction to Maryville fans, further than to mention that they have a team of veterans. The snap and punch they put into their games is well known. Tusculum and Maryville have long been rivals, but it has been a long time since Tusculum has taken a series from Maryville and they are looking forward to the team this year to do the work.

The Maryville team will enter these two series knowing how much depends on them as both are championship contenders, and it is certain that whichever way the games go they will be full of snap and fight at all times.

CALLED HOME BY BROTHER'S DEATH

Miss Minnie A. Jarrell was called to her home last Friday owing to the sudden death of her twelve year old brother, Lawrence. He met with a fatal accident on Friday morning. Miss Jarrell and her family have the sincere sympathy of the student body in this their hour of sorrow.

FORWARD FUND MAKES BIG JUMP

Letter From Prexy Brings Good Tidings. Campaign Continues In Spite of War.

Hotel Chelsea,
New York, N. Y.

To The Editor of The Echo:

I am very happy to be able to authorize you to announce another substantial subscription to the Maryville College Centenial Forward Fund. A gentleman in this city yesterday subscribed ten thousand dollars to the fund. Other smaller contributions have also been made. For these providences we thank God and take courage.

As yet it is too early to know what effect the war will have on our campaign. Most of the colleges now in the field for help are expecting to have to intermit their campaigns. Only the future can decide.

Sincerely,
Samuel T. Wilson.

April 12, 1917.

With the entrance of the United States into the European War and the possibility of the financial world receiving the heaviest burden to bear, this letter from Prexy seems to dispel all fears of a disastrous effect on the Centennial Forward Fund.

The donor, whose name was withheld, is a friend of the college indeed, coming as he did with so generous a pledge at such a critical time in the history of the campaign. He has instilled confidence into the heart of the leader and caused those "back home" to rejoice with him in this most recent addition to the ever growing Fund.

Dr. Wilson will be in Maryville the latter part of this month. He is to attend the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which meets in Dallas, Texas, the first of May.

Just begin to look forward to a hearty welcome Doctor—Yea, a real M. C. welcome.

ALPHA SIGMA CONTEST

M. B. HUNTER MEDAL

Four contestants are now preparing orations to enter the Alpha Sigma Oratorical Contest to be given in the latter part of May. Mr. M. B. Hunter, an alumnus of Maryville and a loyal Alpha Sigma, presents a ten dollar gold medal, annually, to the winner of this contest. A committee has been appointed to communicate with Mr. Hunter, in order to have the medal here in due time.

MORE RED CROSS CLASSES ORGANIZED

Since the last issue of the Echo there have been three additional classes in Red Cross Nurses Training organized.

Dr. Ellis is lecturing to Class No. 2, and Dr. Vincent is in charge of Class No. 3. There is also a class of girls, known as the "Teens".

Most of the girls who pledged themselves to attend the lectures are responding faithfully. There are very few "slackers" and the classes give every indication of being successful in their efforts.

HON. W. J. BRYAN ADDRESSED EIGHT HUNDRED

"THE MAKING OF A MAN"

The people of Maryville College and surrounding community had the pleasure of hearing the world's greatest orator on April 11th. Mr. Bryan throughout his lecture portrayed the fundamentals necessary in "the making of a man" so forcibly that many of his hearers were heard to remark that it contained four or five good sermons. The speaker's strong personality and Anglo-Saxon vocabulary, together with an easy and natural delivery instantly gained the undivided attention of all present. The superb oratory of Mr. Bryan will serve as an inspiration and stimulus for all students interested in public speaking.

BULLETIN NUMBER ONE COLLEGE BATTALION

Any male student of the College, or the Preparatory Department of Maryville College, is eligible to be a member of the Battalion upon voluntary enrollment.

Members may enroll by filling out and signing printed enrollment cards in possession of the Commanding Officer or special recruiting officers designated by him.

The first assembly of those enrolled will be held Tuesday evening, April 17, immediately after supper, from 6:20 to 6:45, in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. This assembly will be for the purpose of receiving instruction regarding the first drill, and every member should be present.

First drill will be held Wednesday morning, April 18, at 6 a. m. sharp.

Further details in regard to this drill will be made known to the members at the assembly on Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday morning, at 5:30, there will be bugle call in order that all may be prepared for drill promptly at 6:00, and thereafter calls for assembly and drill will be by bugle.

At present it is the purpose of the Commanding Officer to have drills twice weekly in the morning just before breakfast. The days for these drills will be designated in a later bulletin, and it is the purpose of the Commanding Officer to have these drills on the same days of each week.

Efforts are being made to secure guns and drill manuals from the War Department just as quickly as possible, and nothing will be left undone to secure these at the very earliest moment.

No person enrolling will obligate himself to enlist in any branch of the National Service, but it is hoped that the training will be of such a sort that any who may feel it his duty ever to enlist in the National service, or may be called to the same, may be the better fitted to discharge his duty to his country.

Further details in regard to this work will be made known to the members of the Battalion from time to time by bulletins, orders or public announcement.

E. J. Lones,
Commandant.
D. J. Brittain,
Major Commanding Battalion.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ORATORICAL CONTEST

State Contest to be Held Here. Prize of Fifty Dollars. M. B. Crum Will Represent Maryville.

The State contest on Peace Orations will be held in Voorhees chapel on Friday evening, April 20, 7:45 p. m. Three Universities will compete against the Maryville representative, Mr. M. B. Crum. Sewanee, Vanderbilt and Cumberland will send their most flowery orators in order that the laurels of victory may be brought home.

A prize of fifty dollars is awarded to the winner, and he will be the representative of this State in the Southern States group contest. It will be remembered that the winner of the local contest last year, Mr. Pat Quinn, won the State contest held in Knoxville. The victor in the group contest goes to the National Contest, which is held at Lake Mohonk, N. Y.

The admission is free and a big crowd should be in attendance to cheer the representative of the Orange and Garnet to his best efforts.

BEAUTIFUL EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT PRESENTED

Today, when so much emphasis is being placed upon vocationalism, utility studies must be had in a college curriculum, but studies which touch only the appreciation of the beautiful must also be had. And so Maryville College offers to her students courses in Art, Expression and Music.

Nobody could go to a recital such as was given by the departments of Music and Expression last Saturday night without being lifted a little higher above the plain of ordinary things.

The program was one of the best ever given.

The piano numbers were well chosen to bring out the characteristic talent of both Miss Margaret Sugg and Miss Jonnie Catlett.

Miss Sugg showed a wonderful development of power along with her usual dainty and sympathetic touch. There has never before been a student in the Music Department of Maryville College who was thought qualified to play in public Leschelizky's Octave Intermezzo Op. 44, No. 4. To see the ease and brilliancy with which Miss Sugg rendered this number few would realize how very difficult it really was.

Miss Catlett's series of Chopin's Preludes brought out well her powers to interpret. One could almost see the little child picking flowers in the garden as Miss Catlett softly played Prelude Op. 28, No. 7. While her brilliancy, yet wonderful tone effect of each note in the Hungarian Rapsody held her audience spell bound.

Miss Muriel Mitchell represented the Expression Department by a reading of portions of Eleanor Porter's "Just David". Her cutting of the story was well done. One who had never read the book could easily get the most important parts of the story, while her portrayal of the winsome little lad with his violin under his chin made the tears swell up in many eyes. Miss Mitchell entirely lacks stagy and artificial mannerisms. Her perfect naturalness is her special charm. Her rich, full voice, pleasingly modulated, could be clearly heard by all her audience.

It is certainly a great credit to Maryville College that it can present to the public a program of such a high and artistic character. That it was appreciated by the unusually large audience was evident by the excellent attention given.

THE FORENSIC LEAGUE

With the triangular debate of Friday night the Forensic League closed its first season in Maryville College.

As an organization it has more than served its purpos . In stimulating debating interest on the Hill the league has filled a long felt need. The scope of the organization, although not broad this year, will no doubt be widened next season and it will take in oratorical contests as well as debating.

The honors won for the college are commendable, and with the experience and prestige gained from the past season the teams of next year should make an even greater showing. Breaking even with Berea, winning both ends from Tusculum and taking second place in the Triangular with Tennessee and Emory and Henry is the season's record of which the college and student body are justly proud.

Much of the success of the past season was due to the untiring efforts of Prof. W. L. Johnson, the team's coach and adviser. He devoted his personal attention to each team during the entire season and is deserving of the praise the men bestowed upon him in appreciation of his unselfish service.

"PETITS ENFANTS?"

When Carnegie Hall was rebuilt, fire plugs with hose attached were installed, three on every floor, to prevent a repetition of what occurred last year.

Until recently there was no water in the mains on account of the delay attached to obtaining connecting joints. But as soon as the connections arrived they were placed on the mains and the water was turned on.

The placing of the hose in Carnegie was ostensibly to provide protection against fire, yet some of the inmates of that splendid new building conceived the idea that they were there as a play thing, to be used as a toy in the hands of little boys. With this conception of the purpose of the fire hose in mind some of these weak minded individuals turned the water on in several of the hose and as a result flooded the corridors, much to their youthful glee.

Carnegie Hall was erected for a men's dormitory, and the Carnegie Welfare Association should take some radical steps to remove these "petits enfants" from its environs, sending them home if necessary, requesting their parents to teach them the rudiments of gentlemanly conduct.

PROFFITT—WEBB

A social event of the Easter season that created unusual interest in Maryville owing to the popularity of the contracting parties, was the wedding of Mr. David Proffitt and Miss Lillian Gray Webb which occurred Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in New Providence Presbyterian Church.

The wedding was the happy culmination of a school day romance, and classmates of the bride and groom served as attendants. Rev. Hubert S. Lyle, pastor of the Presbyterian Church preformed the ceremony, using the beautiful ring service, and prior to the entrance of the bridal party a musical program was enjoyed. Miss Eunice May at the organ rendered several choice selections and accompanied Mr. Roy Anderson, of the College, who sang in a most pleasing manner, "O Promise Me" and "Because".

For the occasion, the church was very artistically decorated. Palms and ferns formed a background for the bridal party, while snowy dogwood blossoms banked the choir loft and gave a suggestion of happy Springtime. Tall cathedral candles placed at intervals amid the blossoms cast a soft glow and added the finishing touch to a most effective background for the bridal party.

Misses Bernice Lowry, Aletha May, Margaret Jones, all of Maryville and Margaret Henry of Bristol, Tenn., attended the bride as maids. Misses Lowry and Jones wore pink Taffeta gowns with net trimmings, and wore silver slippers. On the left shoulder the drapery was caught with a large tulle bow. While Misses May and Henry wore green Taffeta frocks and the chiffon scrafs thrown loosly across the shoulders, were held at the wrists by bands of silver ribbon. Their flowers were arm bouquets of pink and white sweet peas and maiden hair fern, tied with pink tulle.

The Maid of Honor, Miss Ruth Newell of Knoxville, had a gown of battleship gray Georgette Crepe with trimmings of taffeta and her flowers also were the pink and white sweet peas.

Little Misses Grace Proffitt and Louise Sanders, charming in white silk frocks trimmed in tiny pink rose buds, preceded the bride as flower girls and carried baskets filled with pink sweet peas and tied with big bows of pink tulle.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was met at the altar by the groom, who was attended by Mr. Harwell Park, of Culleoka, Tenn., as best man. The bridal robe was of white ivory satin and Georgette crepe. The bodice was caught with orange blossoms and embroidered in pearls. The veil was very becomingly arranged in cap fashioned and suited perfectly the birde's classical features. It was held in place by sprays of orange blossoms. Her flowers were bride's roses, valley lilies and maiden hair fern.

The ushers were, Messrs. George Adams, New Market, Tenn., Francis Kelly, Knoxville, Tenn., W. L. Johnson, Maryville College, Chas. Proffitt, Maryville, Tenn.

An informal reception at the home of the bride's parents on High Street immediately followed the ceremony. The handsome wedding gifts were on display for the pleasure of the guests.

The bride's going away suit was of midnight blue cloth trimmed in black silk braid. The large coat collar was of black and white stripped silk and the smart hat of blue crepe was caught on the side with white wings. Her gloves and boots were of gray.

Mrs. Proffitt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. H. Webb, and a graduate of Maryville College, class of 1916.

Mr. Proffitt is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Proffitt of this city and is also a graduate of Maryville College. At present he is manager of the Miller Dept. Store at Cleveland, Tenn., and will take his bride there after the bridal trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Proffitt are both very popular in Maryville and on College Hill, and their many friends regret that they will not make their home here in the future.

The Echo extends sincere congratulations and wishes them a most happy future.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

Our friend Ed. Harper was heard to remark, "I would rather go to a funeral than to a wedding any day." Sure Edward, but how about Brother Lyle?

James Brittain and Tom Goddard were in the burg again over Sunday.

They say that "Red" Hayes carried a twelve pound pressing iron with him to Emory, Va. Supposedly to add weight to his arguments.

Welcome to our midst Honorable D. J. It's good to see you back.

Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Pflanze and Mr. Kennedy, Mrs. Pflanze's father, were dinner guests at Pearsons Sunday.

The Misses Darby have as their guest, their sister, Miss Emmie Darby.

Mr. Forest Brown of Cleveland, Tenn., visited his sister, Miss Jessie Brown, over the week-end. Mr. Brown was very well pleased with Maryville and is planning to enter here next fall.

Miss Fancher had two friends from U. T. as her guests over Sunday.

Talk about economy,—Miss Coulter suggests that you can save your chewing gum by leaving it elsewhere than under your plate.—Ahem, possibly behind an ear.

Profs. Gillingham and Schaeffer preached baccalaureates last Sunday at two nearby High Schools.

What about the straw lids fellows? Pretty near time for them to grace your noble dome, Eh,

"Doc" Brown will return to visit friends,—or maybe it is singular, about the first of May. He is in Middle Tennessee at present.

OPEN LETTERS

"CHRISTIANITY OR KULTUR, WHICH?"

In response to the open letter in last week's issue of the Echo, under the caption "Christ or Ceasar, which,", I wish to submit the following. The aspiring young author has an extremist's views both of Christianity and of war. To substantiate his theories, he quoted a few isolated and unrelated passages of Scripture. In so doing, he has missed the full significance and spirit of the Christian religion and the true interpretation of the Bible. I want to call the attention to the fact that the Scriptures in no place condemn war that is just and in defense of the rights of the people. In fact: Christ Himself said: "I came not to bring peace, but a sword",—that everything not in harmony with the spirit and purpose of His teachings, revealing the will of God to men, was at variance with the best and most permanent progress of humanity and should be done away with. Are practicing what He preached, He drove from the temple, with a rope of cords, all those grafters and low down politicians who defrauded the people and defiled that Holy place.

Hence, German autocracy, kultur, and militarism, together with her dastardly spy system; her inhumane submarine policy, and her immoral ambition, are discords, and not in harmony with the great principles and the true altruistic spirit of Christianity, which teaches "that he who would be greatest among you, must be servant of all"—and for this reason, therefore should be driven, with whips of steel and shot, from her imperial stronghold and prevented from enslaving and defiling the Temple of God, which is His children—the PEOPLE created in His own image. The Christian, more than any other, who has been in preparation in all realms of life, with his love of freedom and fair-play, ought to be the first to respond to the call for such a warfare.

Instead of "Christ or Caesar"—we must choose between "Christianity and kultur". Which will you have? Under the guise of religion, many would-be-reformers are exploiting nonsensical and inconsistent theories that tend to lower the high standard of liberty and patriotism we have enjoyed because our fathers fought and bled; and to pave the way, in a cowardly non-resistance, for the supremacy of kultur, which does indeed typify Caesar in its pagan and selfish spirit. To Christians, therefore, is the call to arms given, that religious freedom, democracy and the exaltation of manhood and womanhood in its manliest and womanliest forms, sanctified and justified through a living Christ, may not perish from the earth. Let us get a sane, proper and consistent conception of America's relation to this holy war, and of our duty first to God, to our country and to humanity, and DO IT.

PLAYERS AVERAGES

In the four games played up to and including the Georgetown game, the Highlanders have secured a total of thirty hits out of a total of 141 times at bat, giving a team average of 213.

This would have een much better but for the game with the Chattanooga leaguers, in which the locals secured only one hit.

Captain Hodges leads the list with an average of 350 followed by Feeman wtih an average of 333; Clemens 277; Flannery 250 and McCall 240.

The players and their averages are given below, although they are approximately correct they are not official:

Player	A.B.	R.	H.	Ave.

Feeman 2 b.	18	3	6	333

Scruggs leads the pitchers having taken part in 21 innings and allowed 13 hits; Sawyers has pitched 8 innings and allowed 6 hits and Weisbecker 4 innings and 4 hits.

Scruggs has no games charged against him as lost, as he started in three games won two and left the other without having been scored on or anyone on base at the time.

Name	W.	L.	Ave.
Scruggs	2	0	1000
Weisbecker	0	1	000
Sawyers	0	1	000

Flannery leads the base stealers with four followed by Hodges, McCall and Davidson with three each, Cox with two and King and Pack with one each.

REMARKS

Patterson in left field for the visitors was the fielding sensation of the day, six put outs and no errors and several of the chances were very difficult.

In the three College games played thus far, the locals have secured a total of twenty-nine hits, enough to win most any three games if bunched just a little.

The sixth inning showed just how well the Maryvillians can bunch hits as they gained a total of seven from Sumner's delivery during this inning.

The attendance at the games this season has been far below that of the past and in fact is less each game. Come on out. The team needs your support.

Lincoln Memorial also has a bunch of heavy swingers. Twenty-three hits in their last game is the evidence.

Clemens, out of three trips to the plate, had one three bagger and a double to his credit.

Feeman was the only Highlander to have three hits. One double, a single and run out a bunt.

Feeman faced the pitcher twice in the sixth and hit safely both times.

In "Big" Bolden of L. M. U. has a pitcher who has this year made a record to be envied by college pitchers. If press reports are true, he has pitched a large number of games this year and not allowed more than one hit to any one game.

Nine errors were charged against the Highlanders Friday, and for this reason they will have to hustle all the more if they defeat Lincoln Memorial. This school is out for the baseball championship of Kentucky and Tennessee.

NO MORE CONTRACTS TO BE SIGNED

No more contracts for the present at least will be signed up for Athletic Contests at Maryville and for this reason all track work will have to be called off as Manager Caton had not as yet contracted for his track meets. This policy was adopted by the Athletic Asociation in view of the fact that many colleges are canceling all contracts for athletic contests during the war crisis.

This will not affect football at Maryville as Manager Bryson happens to have been fortunate enough to have his entire schedule for next fall already complete, but it does do away with all hopes for the usual spring tennis tuornaments as well as the track meets.

It's not how long, but how well we live.

Did you fall in the race?
Did you faint in the spurt
Where the hot dust choked and burned?
Did you breast the tape midst the flying dirt
That the leader's spikes had spurned?
Did you do your best—
Oh, I know you lost. I know that your time was bad.
But the game is not in the winning, lad,
The best of it since the beginning, lad,
Is in taking your licking and grinning lad,
If you gave them the best you had.
Oh, I know the result; I followed you all the way through.
And that is why I am saying, lad,
That the best of the fight is the staying lad,
And the best of all games is the playing lad,
If you give them the best in you.

FRESH-SOPH DEBATE BIG CLASS EVENT THIS WEEK

On Saturday night, April 21st, at 8 o'clock one of the leading class events of the year will be held in the chapel. It has now been more than five years since the Freshman and Sophomore classes have met in debate, usually the circumstances being such that they could not agree. However, this year a debate has been arranged and both classes are putting forth every effort to win.

The Freshman team is composed of Messrs. Martin and Candillera and Miss Helen Lewis. This is indeed a strong team. Miss Lewis is an excellent speaker and has shown debating ability in smaller debates and will doubtless give a strong speech. Mr. Martin has been on the prep team against Berea and helped win the debate last year. Mr. Candillera made an excellent impression on Intercollegiate preliminaries.

The Sophomore class, having put ten men on Intercollegiate, will be represented by a team of girls. This is something new in Maryvjlle and will doubtless prove a drawing card. The team is comopsed of Misses Gussie Jones, Emma Miles and Mildred Crow. Miss Jones is a fluent speaker and quick thinker and as first speaker for the Sophs will lead the attack in a very capable manner. Miss Miles has been on the hill for a number of years and is very popular among the student body. She is among the best speakers in Maryville, is cool and deliberate, not easily rattled by an oppenents argument. Miss Crow is a born debater. She shows up best on rebuttal, and as this is the most important part of debate, she will doubtless give the Freshmen some trouble.

The Question for debate is "Resolved, That a League of Nations be formed to Enforce International Peace". The Sophs have the affirmative, the Freshman the negative. Coming at such a time as this it will be especially interesting to those present.

TO OUR NATION

Oh great and dear United States,
When war seems almost here,
We love thee more than anything
That we consider dear!

You have protected us, we know,
And caused us to be free,
Since our forefathers exiled sailed
Across the deep blue sea.

So now, we turn to thee in love,
And this is what we say:
"We pledge to thee our very all,
Forever, from this day".

Our men will fight for stars and stripes,
Our boys will stand as true,
And all our women will support
The loved red, white, and blue.

And, if we into war should go,
We ask not for our land
Great victory at any price,
But guidance of God's own hand.

FRESHMAN WIN OUT IN DEBATE

Lower Classmen Best The Sophs. Co-eds Compose Latter Team.

Every year there is a Freshman class in college and at the same time a Sophomore class. As it is quite natural for these two classes to meet in athletic contests, it is also natural and appropriate that they should engage in verbal duals. So we have the annual games and debates that create interest and excitment. But the purpose of this little article is to place the historical data of the annual Fresh-Soph debate, which occurred last Saturday night in Voorhees Chapel, before the reading public.

With the chapel decorated in class and college colors, the auditorium filled with friends and allies of each team, Freshman and their cohorts on the one side and the Sophs and their allied forces on the other, the scene had a decided class flavor.

The question of the evening, "Resolved that a League of Nations Should be Formed to Enforce Peace", is one of the foremost topics of pacifists today and will obtain national recognition at the close of the preset war.

Misses Gussie Jones, Emma Miles, and Mildred Crowe, speaking in the order named, upheld the affirmativs while Miss Helen Lewis and Messrs. Candellera and Martin defended the negative. The former Sophs, the latter Freshmen.

Miss Jones proved that there was an imperative need for such a league to enforce peace. Her points were clearly brought out and emphasized in an appropriate manner. Miss Jones was not quite as strong in her constructive argument as she was in her rebuttal, which was full of pep and enthusiasm.

The only lady on the negative, Miss Helen Lewis, spoke first in its defense. Miss Lewis made a clean cut speech, proving the court would be unsatisfactory. Miss Lewis appeared the most at home and drove her points to the best advantage of any of the speakers.

Following Miss Lewis came Miss Miles upholding the affirmative with the contention that the principle was sound in theory. Miss Miles delivered her speech like one who had been carefully trained as to the points to make clear and with frequent appeals to the judges made her side appear to good advantage.

Mr. Candellera then spoke in behalf of the negative, endeavoring to make the plan of the affirmative appear as a strike against democracy. It was a good point and the affirmative neglected to answer his most effective points.

Miss Crowe closed the constructive arguments in favor of the affirmative, bringing the point that their plan was practical in every way. Here again the affirmative made strong and convincing arguments, only to loose the advantage gained a few minutes later in the rebuttals.

Mr. Martin was the final speaker for the negative on constructive and followed up Miss Crowe's practicability idea with proof to the contrary.

The rebuttals were short and snappy by both sides and it was here the debate was won and lost.

If the many questions reputed to be vital to the issue, which both sides placed upon the table of its opponents in such a gentle manner, were really vital, both sides must have avoided the question entirely.

As the decision was announced to the house there was an unheard of amount of applause from the Fish, while the Sophs were momentarily stunned. Then followed cheers for both teams and the ones who had furnished the musical part of the program.

DAWSON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF Y. M. C. A.

At a business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held last night in Bartlett Hall officers for the ensuing year were chosen.

Mr. Horace Dawson is the new President; E. K. James, Vice President; Hal McNutt, Treasurer; and W. B. Holmes, Secretary.

These men will assume the duties of their respective offices the last of May.

CHANCE TO GET IN U. T. WATER CARNIVAL

A recent letter from U. T. advises the local swimming instructors that the U. of T. will conduct a water carnival about the first of June. It is to be an amatuer affair and Maryville has been invited to compete.

The date of the Maryville water carnival is May 31st, and the aquatic artists who enter the local event will be in good shape for the U. T. contests. Full details will appear later.

Any one interested in either the local or the U. T. carnival will please see Mr. Frater at once. Maryville has some natatorial stars and should she enter the U. T. events a good showing would be made.

VANDERBILT MAN WON ORATORICAL CONTEST

The State Oratorical Contest of the Intercollegiate Peace Association was held in Voorhees Chapel Friday evening of April 20. Four contestants were present. In the order of their appearance on the floor Mr. J. F. Upchurch of Cumberland University spoke on "Universal Enlightenment and Peace". Mr. M. B. Crum of Maryville College used the subject "Co-ordination". "The Ultimate Triumph of American Ideals" was the theme of Mr. L. B. Payne of the University of the South; Mr. S. H. Gotchell of Vanderbilt University presented "Will, the Key to Action". The thought, composition and delivery of all the orations were excellent. While Mr. Gotchell of Vanderbilt won the decision, each orator spoke in such a manner as to reflect honor on his institution. The judges were Messrs. Glascock, Spilman and McClure. Prof. C. W. Henry acted as chairman.

The program was pleasantly interspersed with a piano solo by Miss Lena Pardue and vocal solos by Misses Genevieve Gibson and Josephine Knapp.

TURNER NEW EDITOR SCRUGGS NEW MANAGER OF ECHO

The results of the competition for the positions of Editor and Business Manager for the third volume of the Echo were made known to the candidates last Wednesday morning.

The contest for the positions was heated, especially for the managership, and the men who won did so solely on their merits.

The results of the competition, as approved by the faculty, make Mr. J. H. Turner the new Editor and Mr. F. H. Scruggs the new Manager. Both men are members of the class of '18 and of good standing in the student body.

With these two capable leaders and the staff they will choose as the executives of the third volume of the Echo, the College should witness a paper that is a credit to the school and the student body.

HOW TO ACT AT BLUE RIDGE

Some Inside Information By One Who Knows. M. C. Will Be There Again. Get In Line.

By
PROF. A. M. TRAWICK

Dear Mr. Man:

Say, Bo, have you ever been to Blue Ridge Summer School? Up in North Carolina, you know, the other side of Asheville, this side of Ridge Crest, just below Brown's Pasture, not far from Spanish Castle. You couldn't miss the way. Take the right hand road after leaving Black Mountain, and keep on taking the right every time you come to the forks of the road, except the last time where you take the road straight ahead. You can ride in a Ford if you have 40c., but you can walk if you need to. Hounshell always walks.

There will be others with you. From Old Kaintuck to Mobile Bay, from Virginia Beach to Oxford, Miss., they come and many of them will walk because they want to save their pennies for chocolates and fig-newtons. You may send your other shirt and climbing shoes over on the Conference truck if you want. Bob Denny, who has been at Blue Ridge before, left his bundle under Booker Washington cottage, so you need not wonder why he did not bring anything with him.

Hurry up and get to Robert E. Lee Hall before supper. Mr. Wells may not know just how hungry you are, and if you are not prompt Fatty Poteat will get to the table first. Let me tell you now, so you will never forget it; Fatty was never known to be late at meal time. Another thing you will discover for yourself; the first supper is the best meal you will have for ten days Be sure to make the best of it. Thereafter it will be black-strap and baked beans.

While you are eating, a very important youngish looking man will call upon you to lay down your knife and listen to him. You might just as well put your knife down right now, for Doc Weatherford, is going to make his first speech. You will hear him many, many times. but he always breaks into this first supper with a speech. He will say: "Men", (and in this form of address he does not really mean to exclude Phil Trigg and Roy John—Doc is very polite) "Men", says Doc, looking out toward W. D. Jr., "I have thought again and again and again how I can make this Conference the most tremendously real thing in your lives. I want you to throw yourselves with perfect abandon into every feature of the program—I want you to throw your-

GIBBONS FINISHED FIRST AGAIN

The final cross country run was held last week, only five men starting. Gibbons, as in the three other races, finished an easy first.

The five men having the highest number of points awarded the Maryville track M. These men are Gibbons, Callahan, Loft, Cuevas and Riggs.

Track men will now devote their time to preparation for the annual class Field-Day to be held in May.

DECLAMATIONS WILL BE HEARD SATURDAY NIGHT

Some of the most skilled orators of the Athenian Literary Society will compete in a declamatory contest in Voorhees Chapel, Saturday evening, April 28. This promises to be one of the most lively contests of the year, since each contestant is confident of winning. A gold medal will be given the winner.

If you appreciate oratory you can't afford to miss this opoprtunity to hear some of the greatest orators of history represented by the grace and skill of Athenian declamaimers. Excellent musical selections will also be rendered. Everybody is invited to attend.

PYRENE FIRE EXTINGUISHERS INSTALLED

During the past week Pyrene fire extinguishers have been placed in buildings on the campus.

At total of fifty of these "first aid to fire" implements have been installed at advisable locations in the following buildings: Pearsons, Baldwin, Anderson, Science, Library and Hospital. Twenty-five of this number are of small hand type, the other twenty-five are seven and one half gallon size.

The cost was $450. approximately, which is very small to the protection they afford to the occupants of the buildings and the buildings themselves.

Plans have been drawn up for a sprinkler system to be installed in the dormitories, and these plans will be carried out when funds are available.

Every building on the Hill has fire protection now with the exception of the chapel and Memorial Hall.

PROF. McCLENAHAN RETURNS FOR VISIT

Prof. F. M. McClenahan, who has been at the head of the Chemistry Department in Maryville College for the past five years, returned for a visit last week. Prof. "Mac." is on a year's leave of absence and is doing graduate work at Mellon Institute, Pittsburg, Pa. In a very interesting address at chapel Thursday morning, Prof "Mac." told of the interesting work done by the "Fellows" at Mellon Institute. He will be here a week or so, and he continues to remark, "it's good to be back home".

U. OF T. DEAN SPEAKS ON PRESENT NEEDS

Maryville students were singularly honored last Friday morning when they had the pleasure of hearing Dean J. D. Hoskins of the University of Tennessee in an effective address.

"Jimmie D.", as Dean Hoskins is popularly known to the undergrads at U. T., made a most favorable impression on his large audience, talking on the needs of the present day and the place college men and women should take.

This was the second time within one week that University of Tennessee men had spoken from the local rostrum and the Maryville students appreciate their coming and their speeches.

MILITARY SQUADS MAKE PROGRESS

Big Enrollment. Good Feeling Prevails. Companies Have Been Organized.

Responding promptly and loyally to the call of Major D. J. Brittain, 190 students signed their names to cards, pledging themselves to take the military training course now being given under the leadership of Professor Brittain.

Every morning at the early hour of 5:30, the air is rent and the sleepers are wakened by a rousing bugle call, whereupon the potential soldiers jump out of bed, dress and are on the field at 5:40. Five minutes later the bugle sounds "Assemble!" and the militant students 'fall in', forming the Battalion. The Captains then inspect the ranks, adding a touch here and there, in order to improve the appearance of the Battalion. Major Brittain then calls the Battalion to "Attention!", and gives the instructions for the day, warning, praising, encouraging or instructing, as the occasion demands. The Battalion is then divided into four Companies, each Company commanded by an officer with the rank of Captain. Each Captain then marches his Company to one part of the field, puts them through the so-called strenuous "setting-up exercises", divides his Company into "squads", and turns them over to officers with the rank of Corporal. The squads are then put through the drills of the "school of the squad", which includes column marching and "squads right or left", as well as "taking distance". The members of the various squads are also, individually, put through the "school of soldier", which includes "Right Face!" "Left Face!" "About Face!" and so on. The drills thus consume fully one hour, from 5:45 to 6:45 a. m.

The following officers have already been appointed by Major Brittain.

Meade Johnson with rank of Captain; Herbert Jordan with rank of Captain; Fred Lewis with rank of Captain; H. A. Heller with rank of Second Lieutenant.

Mr. Heller, it may be added, is the Battalion Surgeon. Any soldier who feels he must be excused from drill on account of sickness must first report to Surgeon, who will either excuse him, or who will assign him to light drill.

Major Brittain reports that the attendance has been exceptionally good, and that the students are very enthusiastic as well as exceedingly faithful to their military duties. Besides the regular drills, a great many of the students are drilling voluntarily afternoon and night, in order to become more perfect.

Guns for the Battalion are expected this week. Enough to furnish every man will be here in two or three weeks. Plans are under way for sham battles between the different Companies, which promise to be very exciting. Dress parades, for the benefit of the public, will be given shortly. Major Brittain also has informed the reporter of the Echo that some day an unexpected "call-to-arms" will be sounded. Then watch the soldiers run for their guns! At least two or three more officers will either be appointed or elected soon Maryville College will then send a message to Washington, "We are ready, Mr. President, and we're coming!"

ADELPHIC UNION OFFICERS

Bainonian Hall, Thursday just after supper. Each member of the four Literary Societies has a vote in electing officers for this Association. The officers for 1917-18 will be elected from the Athenian and Bainonian Societies this year.

EDITORIALS

WELCOME FELLOWS!

The present staff of the Echo welcomes the new Editor and Manager and wishes them every success in their efforts to represent the student body.

Realizing the imperative need of co-operation between the students, faculty, alumni, business men, on the one hand and the new officers on the other, we place them on the present staff until the end of the year.

They will be glad to receive suggestions for the improvement of the paper next year.

If you know these men congratulate them, if you do not know them become acquainted with them, as they will represent you next year.

WHERE WILL IT END?

What a shame and disgrace to a student body to have an announcement made from the chapel rostrum by the Dean that one of the college buildings must be kept under lock and key except during certain hours when a faculty representative is on guard duty. How does that sound? —on guard duty? When it becomes necessary to close the Y. M. C. A. building on account of the many vandalic acts of an individual or individuals, it is time for the better element in the college take a hand. The whole thing is centered around the attitude of men, if they may be called such, who perpetrate these disgraceful acts.

Is the Y. M. C. A. a students' building or a structure erected by the college for the amusement of the students? If its interior is demolished who suffers, the college or the students? When articles are removed from the lockers who bears the burden, the students or the college? The answer is, it hurts both the students and the college—but the students suffer ten thousand times more than the college.

The question that now arises is, what can we do? Is the "Y" to be kept under lock and key or else under guard all the time? The college, through the faculty admits its inability to cope with situation by applying the lock. Since it is the students who are affected the most either way, why not give them an opportunity to play the part of their own "guard"? Surely it would cost nothing to try this plan, and when the students feel that it is their building, in their hands for protection and care, that the college has no guards around, and that they are responsible to students for what they do, a different attitude will be taken.

When it comes down to the final analysis we find it to be either one or the other, student control, or lock and key. The former should be given a trial for it could never prove a worse failure than the present plan of placing buildings under guard.

This is only one building, but if something is not done, where will it end?

GIRLS CLIMBED TO LOOK ROCK

On last Saturday morning, in spite of the April showers, Miss Clemmie Henry's Sunday School Class, accompanied by a few more of the college girls, set out for Montvale. The lucky girls, on two wagons, enjoyed the stiff ride—when they were not walking up hills—to Montvale Springs.

After the party had explored the place around the hotel and springs, some of the members were heard to express a desire for something more substantial than iron and sulphur water, so the lunch was served. Next, a signal to go to Look Rock was given by Mr. Proffitt(no, not Treasurer Proffitt, but his brother, Charles). Almost all of the party aimed high and climbed to the top of Look Rock in spite of the fact that part of the way seemed almost perpendicular. But the reward was worth the steep climb, for everyone who reached the top was soon convinced that anticipation is not always greater than railization. The view was "lovely", as some of the girls expressed it; "glorious", as others said; and Miss Newell declared that it was the "most wonderful thing" she had ever seen, and if she could live up there she knew that she would be a poet. Miss Hunter said that she knew the breeze would make her fat if she could only stay there.

When Maryville and other places of interest had been located the party "homeward plod its weary way", but some of the girls had to be watched as they had expressed a desire to follow a trail which was said to lead to Happy Valley. When the wagons were loaded to come home, "Doc" Brown's mules did not know whether they had the load of girls, which they took to Montvale, or a load of flowers only—but it proved to be both. Songs were sung and yells were given on the way home; and when the wagons rolled on College Hill, the last yells were given for "Miss Clemmie" and 'good-time', and the girls hastened to get ready for the Fresh-Soph debate, for it was then 7:30. However every girl took time to pay due respect to a lunch which Miss Coulter very kindly gave them.

HOW DOES THIS SOUND?

Following the lead of the young men of the college, the co-eds have organized two military companies for drill work.

There are fifty-seven girls in Pearsons and forty in Baldwin who desire to take these drills.

One of the leaders in the movement stated that they were not preparing to go to the trenches, but desired to make themselves physically fit or as near so as possible. Many of the young ladies are taking this in addition to the Red Cross Work

Two drills will be held weekly, bugle at 6 a. m.

MISS POSTLETHWAITE ON "HEALTH HINTS"

On Sunday afternoon, the Y. W. C. A. met in the Y. W. C. A. Room for their weekly service. Special music was furnished in the form of a solo by Miss Doris Wilson.

Miss Postlethwaite led the meeting. She spoke on "Health Hints for Better Living" in a most impressive way, emphasizing the importance of observing the laws of health. She gave some "Don'ts" which if observed would repay with a longer and happier life.

MEMORIAL HALL CLOSED

As the days go by there are additional evidences of the effect of the present war crisis on Maryville College.

One of the latest moves on the part of the college to economize in every possible way is the closing of Memorial Hall. This is the first time in the history of the building that it has had no occupants, with the exception of the summer vacation period. The fellows who have been making it their home have been transfered to Carnegie Hall, much to their delight.

PRICES SOAR— MUST ECONOMIZE

According to Prof. E. R. Walker the boarding club will face a serious situation before the close of the school year if the prices of necessities continue to climb as they have during the past two weeks.

Potatoes will be worn as ornaments and sugar will go at ten cents a taste while bread will be considered a rare treat if the markets persist in soaring.

Mr. Walker suggests that all members of the club be as economical as possible and not waste "hash" as some are accustomed to do. If the strictest economical measures are adopted by the members of the club, there will not be another rise in the board bill, stated Mr. Walker.

selves wtih perfect abandon into the pool every morning before breakfast". Here Sam Parker jumps upon the table and proposes to three long rahs for Doc Weatherford; and the lid is off.

The real business of the Conference has now begun. The business is divided into three parts: (1) Yelling. Everybody must yell. Yell every time anything is said. yell yell every time anything is not said. If you cannot yell, sing; if you can not sing, do like Fitzgerald does—sing bass. Make a noise! Give fifteen rahs for Kiser William, Watt Raine, or Martha Washington! Wake 'em up!

(2). Athletics. This feature of the Conference consists in walking over to Ray Legate's farm for after-Brown, professor emeritus of Public Speaking, and Will Webb, headmaster of the Department of Wind Jamming, sing the Conference melody: "We've been lecturing to boneheads all the livelong day", and the delegations, including the men from Georgia Tech, join in the antiphonal refrain: "One grasshopper jumped across the other professor's back". Doc Poteat, Fatty's ancestor, stands on his head. Malcom Guess repeats that thrilling little poem: "Lips that have touched paint shall never touch mine", and the lights go out. It is a great occasion.

Now, Bo, if there is anything else important about the Blue Ridge Conference, I will say it if you will remind me of it. I may have overlooked a few things like the class room work, the platform addresses, the life-work appeals, the financial session, the big men and the friendship the Conference makes possible, but I have given you the gist of it. Write to me if you think you may be able to go, and I will tell you more about it.

Yours for Blue Ridge,
The Count.

BASEBALL--DOPE--RESULTS

ORANGE AND GARNET WINS FIRST GAME

The Highlanders yesterday found little trouble in disposing of their old rival, Tsuculum, and won a slow game by score of 12-0.

The game lacked the punch and fight that usually characterizes the games when these old rivals meet.

Scruggs was pitching good ball, allowing only five hits, while the Maryville batsmen collected twelve, three of which, a home run and two singles were the property of Davidson. Clemens, McCall and Jones had two hits each.

A LITTLE DOPE

During the past week, not including the Tusculum games, the team improved its batting average three points, having a total of 58 hits out of 268 times at bat giving an average of 216 againt 213 for last week.

During the week Maryville secured 28 hits out of 127 times at bat for a week's average of 221.

The opponents had a total of 23 hits for the week, giving a total of 44 hits given up by Maryville pitchers in eight games, which is a very good average and tends to show that the loss of a majority of the games should not be balanced against what was at first rated as a weak pitching staff, but against the team's batting and fielding. The team base running for the week was no feature and in fact with more coreful base running at least one of the games lost should have been won.

The following averages are not official.

Scruggs continues to lead the pitchers with 39 innings and having allowed 27 hits. Sawyer was second with 26 innings and 15 hits, Scruggs had exceptionally hard luck, losing a three hit game to Washington College and one bad inning against Lincoln Memorial gave them the game and cutting his average to 500. Sawyer raised his average to 333 by winning one of the two games which he started during the week.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL TAKE TWO

Lincoln Memorial University continued their long winning streak by annexing the two games played with Maryville. The first by score of 6-1, and second by score of 3-2.

In the first game Scruggs held the visitors to one run and five hits for six innings, but they found him in the seventh for six hits, one a three base hit, which with a hit batter, gave them a total of five runs.

The Orange and Garnet secured a total of nine hits, but failed to hit when needed with the results that five men were left on third and a total of eleven left on bases. Five of these were left on at the time the other five were on third.

Sawyer pitched a good game on Saturday, but received poor support as he held Lincoln Memorial to four hits. They scored three runs, two of the runs coming in the fifth, following a single by Brogden and errors by the Highlanders. Maryville scored in the first and the seventh. Clemens hitting a home run on low drive to left field, which is the first of the season for the local lot.

ONE WAY TO SUCCEED

When Theodore N. Vail of telephone fame, was asked how he had attained his success in life, he answered: "By never being unwilling when young, to do another man's work; and then, when older, by never doing what somebody else could do better for me. I was always fond enough of detail to master thoroughly what I was undertaking—and then hated detail enough not to bother with it when I got to the treatment of the general subject".

DREAMLAND

Once upon a time two Village Worshippers at the screen did a marriage scene and went to Jonesburg. They knew it was a good town because it had Five Picture Theaters right on Main Street. They could have all Metropolitan Advantages.

On their first evening in the Burg, while theye were still stopping Metropolitan Hotel, they went for an Orgy. They had It. They did Three of the Main Street Emporium between supper and Closing Time. And next night they rounded up the Rest. When George landed a Job they felt so Rich they could Live High. They would be real Classy and Patronize all Five Halls of Hilarity each week. And they began to Know All the Stars by their First Screen names. Now George was of rangy construction and ran to Legs, while Mille was Pudgy and felt the Heat. She was a Timid Soul who always obeyed her Program and spotted the Nearest Fire Exit. Millie had to Tuck into the ordinary Orchestra Chair by Slow Settling, while George's trouble was to Keep his Feet from Climbing over into the row in Front.

So they found that All Jonesburg's Mansions of Merriment were not alike. There was the Majestic where things were so Snug that Millie had to be Pried Out and George's Knees menaced his Clean Collar. Then there was the Theatorium, where they filled the Aisles with Campstools and the Stools with Patrons (When they could get them), and the Marlborough, where there were do Dim Red Lights down the Side Aisles and the Broadway, where the air was kept from Escaping as it were paid for by the Cubic Foot. So it wasn't long Before these homes of the Heart Trob were seeing them No More.

There Remained the DREAMLAND. It ran only Six Reels, but a Fan could Spread Out and be Comfortable. George and Millie were for it. So were Other Georges and iMllies. nI a month they were calling the Cashier Fanny and Nodding all over the House. It was a Cheerful place and the Manager wore a Grade 'A' Smile. He could Afford to, for he Was Selling out his Stock of Comfort four times a day at One Dime per Easy Seat.

MORAL—Patronize the DREAMLAND. This week, Leonore Ulrich in Her Own People, Wilfred Lucas in "The Microscope Mystery", Dustin Farnum in "The Virginian", Lou Tellegen in "The Black Wolf",. and Charles Ray in "The Honorable Algy". Coming The Seven Deadly Sins.

COLLEGE TO CLOSE TWO WEEKS EARLY, MAY 24

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE APPROVES FACULTY RECOMMENDATION

At Meeting This Morning. Commencement On May 24th. All Students Must Remain Until That Date.

At a called meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors this morning drastic action was taken in an effort to put Maryville College in a position to render service to the United States.

The College faculty, in session for two hours Monday afternoon, requested the special meeting of the executive committee to consider their recommendation that college should close its doors two weeks early. This action on the part of the faculty, and its subsequent approval by the Directors, followed the steps taken by other schools throughout the country of similar nature, to do everything possible to place the services of the great body of students the country over at the disposal of the government.

This action will move the examinations up to the week beginning May 21, and commencement exercises will be held on Thursday, May 24th. The Adelphic Union Banquet and many other social affairs will necessarily be curtailed, and in order that important events may take their place.

No student will be compelled to leave college early now that this action has been taken. This means a full student body until the end of the school year, and credit will be given for the two weeks classes not attended.

A GREAT RECITAL

One of the best graduate recitals given this year, was rendered last Friday night, in Voorhees Chapel by Misses Winifred Decker and Genevieve Gilbson, postgraduates in piano, and Miss Erma Russell, graduate in expression. The playing of Miss Decker and Miss Gibson was almost perfect, and they are to be congratulated on the excellency of their numbers.

Miss Decker delightfully rendered three charming selections from famous composers—not only is her power of interpretation splendid, but her technique is also remarkable and was especially good in the left hand piece, Nocturne, Op. 9, No. 6, which was played with such ease and power by Miss Decker that one could never have discovered from listening only, that it was being played with one hand.

Miss Gibson in her usual dainty and attractive way rendered selections from Rubinstein and Chopin. Miss Gibson has the gift of gaining the sympathy of her audience which at once falls into the spirit of the music of which she seems to become a part. Both of her numbers were delightful, but she excelled in the rendering and interpretation of Lichertanz, by Rubinstein.

Miss Erma Russell, graduating from the Department of Expression, excelled in her selections. She possessed the art of holding her audience throughout each number. Miss Russell's last reading was "The Perfect Tribute", by Andrews. It was here that Miss Russell was at her best, and, it almost brought tears to many eyes, as she pictured the lonely Lincoln, after making his memorable "Gettysburg Address", discouraged at what he thought was a poor attempt; and Lincoln at the bedside of the dying Confederate soldier, who, not recognizing Lincoln, tells him that the Gettysburg address will become one of the world's masterpieces.

FELLOWS COMPELLED TO RETURN HOME

During the past week there have been a number of messages received by students whose parents live on a farm, calling them home. In some cases other members of the family have joined the colors, necessitating the return of the ones at college.

The call has been urgent in most of the cases and the fellows have packed up their "duds" and departed on the first train. The assurances of credit for the work already done and for the work unfinished have not been received as yet. However, it seems that some action must be taken by the college in regard to this matter and a favorable action is hoped for.

Among the fellows who have gone home are, Goodall, Thurmond, Jones, Holmes, and Cody. C. E. Ensign leaves for Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., to enter the Officers Training Corps next Thursday. He will take the examination for second lieutenant in the Army after serving in the training camp until July. Ensign is a member of the Class of '18 and he hopes to be relieved from service long enough to return here and receive his degree.

DR. BROUGHTON TONIGHT

As was announced last week, Dr. Len G. Broughton of Knoxville will speak at the chapel tonight in the place of the weekly prayer service.

Dr. Broughton's ability as a speaker will assure him a large house and no one should miss this opportunity of hearing one of the South's great leaders.

NEWS FROM THE BATTALION

E. K. James was elected Captain of Co. D. by the company. His lieutenants will be appointed this week.

"Close Order" drill has been the leading feature of the past week, and the several companies have perfected this order fairly well according to Commandant Britain. This week the "Extended Order" will be worked out and brought to perfection.

The attendance has been good, almost every man reporting with punctuality each morning.

Men have been detailed to conduct the co-eds in their drills and they report excellent work being done.

COOPER HEADS ADELPHIC UNION

At a meeting of the four literary societies last Thursday evening in Bainonian Hall, the Adelphic Union, which is the four societies combined, elected F. G. Cooper '18, President; Miss Elizabeth Henry '18 was chosen Vice President and John Witherspoon Secretary and Treasurer for the ensuing year.

There was considerable discussion regarding the constitutionality of the election. Mr. Hayes contended it was customary to elect a young lady to the presidency on alternate years. The constitution was never produced by the contender and his motion fell for want of evidence to support his position.

The Adelphic Union Banquet will not be held this year, as a result of the early closing of school.

"SURPRISE WEEK"

This is the week of weeks, the biggest and best week of the spring. One of the surprises of the week was "sprung" this morning when the Class of '17 marched triumphantly down the chapel aisle, clad in the stately cap and gown for the first time this year.

There are to be many more surprises, of greater magnitude than the first, that will characterize this week as the "surprise week" of the year.

It would be possible to inform the readers of the Echo as to the manner, time, place, and description of these surprises, but that would be taking the "prise" out of surprise, so nothing more will be said.

Just keep your eyes open; it is going to be "some" week.

FIVE SPEAK IN ATHENIAN CONTEST

Gold Medal Won By W. Y. Hayes. Declamatory Work Was Good.

In the College Chapel, Saturday evening the Athenian's Declamatory Contest was held, in which a beautiful engraved gold medal, provided by former members of the society, was won by W. Y. Hayes.

The speakers were all carefully prepared, and each one handled a great masterpiece in a masterful manner. The closest interest was held throughout the entire program. Seldom has there been a closer contest and, it is said, that at the close of the program each of the five speakers was expected by some of his hearers to be announced the winners.

The first speaker, Mr. Hayes, delivered the familiar address of Rienzi to the Romans. In the delivery there was more than a spark of the fiery power that the much-wrought Old Roman himself might have put in such an address.

Next came J. B. Deyton with "One Hundred of American Liberty" replete with fine passages, and rendered with such interest and ease as to make a visably favorable impression on the audience. Following him came E. W. Mounce with Graves' "Eulogy on Henry W. Grady". This speech appeals to every loyal son of the South, and with Mr. Mounce's excellent art in oratorical interpretation, small wonder at the interest and the liberal applause.

Following a musical number James Martin came upon the stage with a stirring timely "speal" on "American Liberty" by Carson. Though new at this branch of public speaking Martin gave a great interpretation of a great production.

When the applause died and J. T. Hicks came forward it appeared there was little chance for him in view of all that had gone before. However, he declaimed "The Old South" with a timely southern fiery fervor which placed him very close second to the winner.

In his usual happy manner Prof. Gillingham presented the medal to Mr. Hayes.

Much was added to the interest of the program by some very fine musical contributions rendered by Miss Genevieve Gibson and the College Orchestra.

A retentive memory is a great thing, but the true token of nobility is the power to forget.

TENNESSEE TROUNCED BY HIGHLANDERS IN ELEVEN INNINGS

Vols Star Pitcher Knocked Off Rubber. Scruggs Goes Full Route. Game Replete With Thrills. Score 5-4.

To trounce Tennessee in an ordinary game is an affair to be celebrated, but when the Highlanders were able, with the odds against them, to play an up-hill game for eleven innings and finally win by score of 5-4 no ordinary celebration was slated for the old town.

Kirkpatrick a sub who entered the game in the eighth was the hero of the day for it was in the eighth that his single sent two runners across the plate and caused Chief Bender to retain the service of Turner as bench warmer for the remainder of the game. But Kirkpatrick was not to be daunted by the fact that in the tenth he was facing Emory, Coach Bender's foot ball hero and favorite pitcher, he of the spit ball fame, but they all looked alike to the already Highlander hero and he also smashed one of Emory's choice ones for a single that once again tied the score. Feeman also shares the batting honors, for he had two hits and it was his perfect bunt in the eleventh when two were down and two strikes on him that enabled McCall to score the winning run.

Scruggs had the pitching end of the game well in hand as he had ten strike-outs to his credit and allowed only nine hits, which were scattered except in eighth and tenth when the Volunteers were able to collect two each inning.

Maryville had thirteen singles, four of which came in the eighth when two runs were scored, three were responsible for one run in the tenth, and two with one error resulted in two runs in the eleventh.

For Tennessee, Calloway on short played an exceptionally good game. While Williams in left field especially with his trow-in showed up well. White in centerfield, although sticking out four times did his "bit" when with the bases full he ran forward with Clemen's long fly pulled it down with his back still to the playing field and shut out about four Maryville runs for the fly looked to be easily good for four bases when White caught it almost at the edge of the road.

Capt. Hodges on short played a stellar fielding game for Maryville as several times his stop of hot grounders were just in time to cut off a win. He accepted seven chances without an error.

For an ordinary game the Highlanders seemed to pass up their chances to score when in the fourth with no outs and the bases full they were unable to put over a run before the side was retired. Again in the eighth the Highlanders had the bases full but couldn't put the run across.

The Highlanders had eleven men left on bases and the Volunteers seven.

The game went scoreless with Maryville getting the men on but unable to put them over until the eighth when U. T. in the first-half with two singles, an out and an error, was able to score twice. In their half of the inning the Highlanders scored two runs also. Hodges having singled, McCall singled, Flannery struck-out, Feeman ran out a bunt and Kirkpatrick's single scored, Hodges and McCall the next two men walked but Fee-

JUNIORS TO "STRAW RIDE" CLASS OF '17.

The Senior Class received and gratefully accepted an invitation to be the guest of the Junior Class on Friday evening, May 4th.

It is supposed that the good old time horse and wagon kind of ride will be the order of the day, or night as the case will be. Good logic prevails in the Junior Class, it takes about ten times as long to drive five miles behind a team of horses while that distance can be covered in almost as many minutes in the modern conveyance known as a motor truck. The five miles was not used merely for example's sake. In this specific case the perscribed distance is to be five miles. The man who is to furnish the wagons is spending the week installing speedometers on his several straw wagons, and he will be able to keep the speed down to a minimum and at the same time recognize the five mile limit. It might be stated that the distance limit has been placed on the upper classmen's affair at the suggestion of the Dean of Women, for the purpose of preventing the aforementioned class members from getting "moonstruck" as the result of extended exposure to that solar body.

DR. HOYT SPOKE AT COPPER HILL

Last Sunday morning Dr. Hoyt, head of the English department, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Copper Hill High School. This is the third address of its kind that has been delivered by Maryville professors within the past two weeks.

SPEAKS TO CLASS ON RURAL PROBLEMS

Miss Nelle Howard, Blount County Home Demonstrator, gave a most interesting and instructive talk to Prof. Johnson's class in Rural Problems yesterday morning. Miss Howard told of the work that was being done in Blount County for the improvement of farm conditions. It might be added that Blount leads in this kind of work and that Miss Howard has eighteen clubs under her personal supervision and is doing a "man's job" well.

REV. WM. P. STEVENSON, D. D. COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

On Friday evening, May 18, 1917 the commencement exercises of Maryville College begin and will continue until Thursday night, May 24th.

The graduating class this year is not as large as usual, there being twenty-nine who will receive degrees, while last year there were over forty who were awarded an A. B.

President S. T. Wilson will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in Voorhees chapel as has been his custom in the past.

Rev. William P. Stevenson, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Yonkers, N. Y. will deliver the commencement address on Thursday morning, May 24th at 10 a. m. Dr. Stevenson is one of the leading divines of New York State and a most forceful speaker. The college was indeed very fortunate in securing such a strong man for this important date.

Character is the result of two things: mental attitude and the way we spend our time.

FOR THE GOOD OF U. S. A.

With this number of the Echo comes the official news that the college year has been shortened two weeks.

There are two reasons why this action was taken.

The first reason is that Maryville College sees her duty to her country in this critical hour and desires to cooperate in every feasible way with the government. To do this she has made possible, by shortening her college year, a means of serving her country and her flag by allowing her student body to offer itself to the War Department for service in any branch it may desire to place them. This is the paramount reason and within itself it is sufficient to cause the college to dismiss at an earlier date than had been announced.

The other reason, which is secondary, is that the college desires each student to be here for the final exams and to get credit for the work done so far this year. This will prevent a number of students from taking a premature departure, and will permit the regular school work to continue uninterrupted until the examinations.

The members of the college faculty and the executive committee have taken a step that will meet wtih the approval of not only the parents and students, but with every true and loyal citizen of this great and glorious country. It can but stir the patriotic blood of every true citizen when a great educational institution like Maryville College takes the initive and places nearly a thousand students at the disposal of the country.

It was a great step and we are all proud to be members of such a patriotic institution.

Some students will go back to the farm, others enter training camps and still others will join the Army and Navy and Red Cross forces.

WHAT IS THE "ADELPHIC UNION?"

For many years past it has been the only tie that has bound the four literary societies together. However, this threatens to be a thing of past history. The custom has been to have the President of this organization alternate between the four societies. The boys seem to have forgotten this custom and for the last few elections have overruled and elected the President from one of the Boys' Societies. The girls in this advanced age will not endure a thing of this kind any longer. Boys, think about this seriously, while we still have an Adelphic Union in name.

CHILHOWEAN TO BE HERE IN THREE WEEKS

The Hon. C. H. Gillingham made a most eloquent and pathetic appeal to the students in chapel Monday morning. The effusion was based on the announcement that the 1917 Chilhowean would be placed on sale The proofs have been received and returned to the printer and it is expected that the book will be ready for delivery the third week in this month.

This is the first year in which the Junior Class has ever published the Chilhowean and the indications are that the 1918 number will be up to the high standard of excellence which has been maintained for the past three years.

M. C. A. A. WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Next Monday evening the Maryville College Athletic Association will meet in the chapel and chose the Athletic Board of Control for next year. The Athletic Board of Control is composed of four students representatives, two young men and two young ladies; two faculty members and two business men from the city. The officers of the Board are students. Every student is eligible to vote in this election and a big crowd should be present to cast a ballot.

CELEBRATION FOLLOWS HIGHLANDER'S VICTORY

A big ovation was given the members of the team, as they entered the dining hall last night. This was but the beginning of the celebration which followed the game. A typically Maryvillian "shirt tail" parade started from Carnegie Hall at eight o'clock, led by drums, bugles and cornets, circled the co-ed dormitories, where yells were given for the girls' benefit, and then wended its way towards town. On the way the crowd burst out in music, singing: "We hung U. T. to an old apple tree, as we went marching on! Glory, glory Hallelujah!"

Executing a snake dance on Main Street, and yelling for all the members of the team the students accepted the invitation of both the Dreamland and Palace Theatres, and enjoyed their hospitality, and, incidently, a "show" gratis. Reed Garrison proved to be a very efficient Cheer Leader.

C. F. KELLY LOCATES HERE

C. F. Kelly, a former baseball star and member of '17 has secured the position of assistant cashier in the Bank of Maryville. Mr. Kelly has been with the Union National Bank in Knoxville for the last nine months and comes highly recommended. The many friends of "Buncomb" are glad he is to be in Maryville permanently and extend to him a hearty "Welcome to our city".

THE HARVARD IDEAL

The "Round Table Boys", members of the Graduate School at Harvard, got together recently and agreed on the "girl that's worth while" as follows:

She is attractive, graceful, and healthy, but not necessarily pretty.

She can dress tastefully and entertain any one and make him feel at ease.

She can make bread as well as fudge, and make cake as well as rarebit.

She is appreciative of the dance and of sports.

She is broadminded, sympathetic, tactful, unselfish, optimistic, thrifty, of good disposition, and moderate in all things.

She can stand reverses without worry.

She is gentle to children and kind to older people, especially her parents.

She has a broad education, but not necessarily a college one.

She is modest and true and homeloving.

She has good social standing, is of a religious nature, and is not too proud to pray.

AMERICA NEEDS PHYSICIANS

National Defense Council Urges Co-operation of Students.

By L. J. Desha

College students—both men and women—who have not definitely decided what their life calling shall be, would do well to consider the medical profession. There was never a time when the prospects in this line were more inviting. In 1912 the number of graduates of medical colleges was 4482; in 1917, there are only 3367 Senior students enrolled. That means that this year there will be only three new doctors available for every four supplied a few years ago; and the number of undregraduates now in residence shows that this ratio will continue to decrease. At the same time, the population of the country and the consequent need for physicians is steadily upon the increase.

Now comes the sudden demand of the Army and Navy for very large numbers of doctors. These two services alone will need more than the combined total of graduates of all medical colleges for the years 1915, 1916 and 1917! In fact a number of these colleges have already been urged to release some of their 1917 graduates in advance of the regular time and to continue in full operation throughout the Summer vacations in order to speed up the graduation of the underclasses. Undergraduate medical students, in turn, have been urged by the Council of National Defense to consider that the best service they can do their country is not to enlist now, but to continue their medical work in order that the country may have their trained services; which it needs badly, instead of untrained service which it can secure in abundance.

As to students in schools of arts and sciences, a committee of the Council of National Defense recommends as follows: "Ordinary foresight demands that we face the possibility that the war on which we have entered may last for years. Medical schools to supply trained men for the future as well as the present emergency must be kept in operation under any circumstances. While aiding to the uttermost in overcoming the present shortage of men, the necessity of keeping the source of supply open emphasizes the importance of conserving our raw material. Therefore, men now in college looking forward to medicine as a career should be made to understand that it is their patriotic duty to the nation at this time to continue their studies and enroll in the medical school of their choice".

At this time, therefore, both patriotic sentiment and the advantages of entering a profession where there is a recognized demand for men, combine to interest college students in medicine. And that interest gains with the realization that never before in the history of the world was there an opportunity for the medical man to be of as great service. Modern discoveries in rapid succession within the last few years have increased to a previously unthought of degree the physician's power over disease.

These same modern discoveries, which give present day graduates advantages not enjoyed by some longer in the profession, make necessary a more rigorous course of training, and therefore only college trained students are now admitted to the study of medicine. For the session commencing in September 1917, students with only one year of college work will be accepted provided they have completed certain specified courses in Biology (Zoology or Botany) Chemistry, Physics, and German or French. After Jan. 1, 1918 no Class "A" medical school will admit any student with less than two years of college work including the subjects just mentioned.

It is to be hoped that the war will be over before the medical students who enter in 1917 can possibly be graduated. But whether that be true or not, the demands of the civilian population are sufficient to insure a bright future to all serious minded well prepared students—men or women—who enter upon the medical course at this time.

GRANDSTAND OBSERVATIONS

Bring on the Hohenzollerns, the Hapsburgs, and the von Hindenburgs next! We can whip them too, 'y heck.

Two U. T. students, sitting in the grandstand yesterday near an 'Echo' reporter, gave vent to their feelings of superority in these words: "You Maryville fellows are very ambitious! You think you can beat U. T.! Why, our team is going to roll up such a big score, you wont be able to count it! You don't know this fellow Turner, either. He's some pitcher". And so on, and so on, ad nauseam.

The 'Echo' reporter looked for these gentlemen towards the end of th game. They were nowhere to be seen.

Tennessee used two pitchers, while Scruggs, 'the dependable one', the cool-headed man, twirled the whole game—eleven innings—for the Highlanders.

By the way, we knocked the famous Turner out of the box, in the bargain. He's a good pitcher, of course. Hence the Highlanders deserve more credit for "getting his number".

The Tennessee center fielder who caught Bob's long hit, that was heading for the road, deserves great credit for this remarkable feat.

Our own "Big Boy" Hodge, at a critical period in the game, also made a spectacular catch, in back of second, which brought the crowd to its feet.

Talking about the crowd. Did you notice that every available seat was taken, and many had to stand? It was a big, yelling, rooting, shouting noisy crowd. A typical American baseball crowd.

Say fellows, the Maryville townspeople have been supporting our team very loyally and faithfully this year. Did you see Ed Harper—and his bucket—on the side lines? Ed is always at the game. If you happen to have any undertaking business to do, you know where to go.

A bunch of Maryville townspeople and students carried Scruggs off the field at the end of the game. He certainly worked hard for the victory.

When "Doc" Feeman made the hit that brought in the winning run, pandemonium was thrown loose. Professor Walker was seen jumping up and down for joy, like a two-year-old.

Well, this makes three victories over U. T. this year, in baseball, basketball and debate.

The College Catalog, published annually, is off the press. Any student wishing a copy may get one by calling at the Registrar's office.

Mr. M. B. Crum left for his home in Greene County Friday morning to take his brother to New York for an operation under a specialist. He has the good wishes of the students while away. He will return Wednesday or Thursday.

TEAM AVERAGES

In the batting list given last week a mistake was made in placing Capt. Hodges second with an average of 300. He should have headed the list with an average of 330.

This week Jones a new man leads the team with an average of 500, but of the regulars McCall has moved from the third to first-place with an average of 32, while Hodges lost 35 points and went into second place with 295.

The team average during the week gained four points as it now stands at 220. For the week the team secured 20 hits out of 66 trips to the plate, finishing with an average for the week of 303.

Maryville gathered a total of twenty hits during the week as against 18 of their opponents. But the playing of the Highlanders, especially of the infield, was very slow and loose and several were run out that ordinarily should have been outs.

The absence of King, who has withdrawn from school, from third in the second Tusculum game seemed to be the deciding factor against Maryville. But now McClenaghan has received permission to join the squad and having been placed at third he should be a great defensive strength, while on the bases he is a terror to opposing players. If he is able to hit up to his usual form, the offense of the team will be greatly strengthened.

The following averages are not official. The averages are up to and including the Tusculum games:

Player	A.B.	R.	H.	Ave.
Jones r. f.	4	2	2	500
McCall c. f.	43	5	13	302
Hodges (c) s. s.	38	9	11	295
Davidson l. f.	29	5	8	276
Clemens c.	33	4	9	272
Feeman 2 b.	37	4	10	270
Scruggs p.	19	4	4	216
Flannery 1 b.	40	6	8	200
King Eb 3 b.	36	8	6	167
Stevens 2 b.	28	4	4	160
Sawyer p.	7	0	1	142
Hathaway r. f.	4	0	0	000

Scruggs continues to lead the pitchers, having pitched 48 innings and allowed 32 hits. Weisbecker pitched 13 innings and allowed 17 hits.

ALUMNI NOTES

'09. C. H. Bunch, of Morristown, was on the campus one day last week, visiting with his sister. Since the first of the year Mr. Bunch has been located in Morristown where he has purchased an interest in the Globe Book Company. The Company furnishes school supplies of all kinds as well as books.

'11. Mark A. May has just finished his graduate work in Columbia University looking to the degree of Ph. D., and this degree will be conferred upon him in June. His Alumni friends extend congratulations.

'16. Miss Aletha May left for Chicago last week to enter the Moody Bible Institute.

MISS E. MOSLEY LED Y. W. C. A.

One of the most wide awake Y. W. C. A. meetings of the year was led Sunday afternoon by Miss Eleanor Moseley. After the reading of the Scripture lesson, Miss Lena Pardue rendered a piano solo. The subject "Ruts: Get Out and Stay Out", was made very interesting and helpful by the leader. She emphasized the importance of avoiding the ruts and not fearing to blaze a new trail.

After a vocal solo by Miss Genevieve Gibson the meeting was thrown open, and many of the girls "did their part" by giving some thought on the subject.

EX M. C. BOYS JOIN NAVY

Last Sunday evening two former Maryville students entrained for Nashville where they will be given their final examination and then sent to the training station at Newport News, Va.

Both fellows attended Maryville College for several years and were very popular with students and faculty. Ellis was a coming basketball star, and if he had remained in school this winter would have undoubtably landed a Varsity berth.

Goddard would have been in his Junior year this year had he returned. He has been with one of the local manufacturing plants since last spring and had attained a splendid position, which he gave up ih order that he might answer the call of his country.

It is only consistency to say that these two fellows, who made good records in their collegeiate work, will make good in whatever branch of the Navy they will have the honor of serving.

TO WAR

Listen,—a clamour is heard in the air:
The tramping of many feet, long been in training,
The roar of the big guns—the shells that tear
Through breastwork and fortress with blood the land staining.
Hark,—is that some mother's sorrowful moan?
Oh! dreaded War who can for thee atone?

Think of the terrible slaughter and blood;
The shriek of the pierced and moan of the dying;
Think of the bullets whose sickening thud
Oft on the bare ground leaves many men dying;
Think of the carnage and wild devastation
Found in the wake of a war like nation.

War, thou all-terrible god of of destruction,
Thou, whose messengers, Bloodshed and Gloom,
Destroy many countries by armies in action,
And many nations send fast to their doom,
Oh God, thou All-mighty Ruler of Love
Save us from this fate by Thy power from above.

U. T. MAN TIED MISS SIMPSON

In State Contest of Prohibition Orations. Five Schools Were Represented. Held in Knoxville.

"The Home Economics of Prohibition" was the subject of Miss Simpson's oration, and it was so well composed and cleverly delivered that it won the decision of half the judges. The other half decided in favor of Mr. Wm. Lowe of the University of Tennessee.

There were five entrants in the contest, representing as many colleges. Tennessee, Johnson Bible College, Maryville, Milligan and Cumberland were the schools and their speakers had previously won the local contest.

The first and second prizes were added together and then divided evenly between Miss Simpson and Mr. Lowe. First was forty dollars and second prize twenty-five.

The winner of the State contest is to represent Tennessee in the Southern group contest, the winner of the group event goes to the National contest. Since there was no winner in the recent affair , a second meeting of these two orators will be held this week to decide who will bear Tennessee's colors in the Southern States Contest. This second meeting of these two excellent speakers will be held in Maryville in all probability on Friday night.

If it comes down to either Tennessee or Maryville and the contest held at home, a great crowd will be out to assist Miss Simpson put Tennessee's man in second place. To beat Tennessee in baseball—why should she win in oratory when a M. C. speaker has her home crowd behind her. All be there when Miss Simpson and Mr. Lowe indulge in forensic combat.

SENIORS AND JUNIORS HAD "SOME TIME"

To say that the Seniors and Juniors enjoyed their straw ride would be putting the soft pedal on the music. It was one more ride—and it did not end when the speedometer declaimed ten miles for the round trip.

With musical talent in each wagon, and chaperones too, harmony prevailed at every jolt. Farmers along the route taken by the upperclassmen were aroused from their peaceful slumbers, the moon even hid its face, and the chaperones found they were decidedly nearsighted as well as deaf.

After three hours of most excrusiating pleasure the horses (you thought we were going to say chaperones) drew up in front of the chapel and the wagons were unloaded of their burden of intellectual elite.

The party then 'wended its way' to the basement of the chapel where the most delicious refreshments were disposed of with remarkable alacrity.

Madame Dennee and Messrs. Davis and Johnston were chaperones of the approved type and it was a real pleasure to have them along.

This is the final event of the year for the two upperclasses and it was enjoyed and appreciated by the guests to the fullest extent.

WILL ELECT OFFICERS

A special meeting of the Ministerial Association, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year, will be held in Bartlett Hall, Thursday night, immediately following the evening repast. Plans will also be formulated for raising the $200.00 necessary to pay for the moving of the Mission, and to carry on the work for the summer.

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES AT CHAPEL

They were not announced. They were not advertised. They were not heralded. Yet they came. The Muses came. We are glad they came. We enjoyed their harmonious, rythmical, melliflous melodies. We enjoyed them all the more because they were patriotic melodies. It was only Thursday morning. Yet it seemed to be an extraordinary morning.

That the student body appreciated this entertainment furnished by the College Orchestra was shown by the applause that followed the martial music, the vocal selections, and the patriotics airs. Mr. Tedford and Miss Hale are to be congratulated on the fine work of the orchestra. Miss Zanna Staater's vocal selection "Keep the Home Fires Burning", must have pleased the audience greatly, since they called her back for more.

Miss Marguerite Sutton's reading "Old Glory", was excellent. It was given with such passionate feeling that the audience could not help having the same enthusiasm for "Old Glory" that Miss Sutton had. Miss Muriel Mitchell's reading, was fitting to the occasion and rendered in Miss Mitchell's usual charming way.

PALACE THEATRE CHANGES HANDS

Beginning the first of the month the Palace Theatre came under new management. It was impossible for Mr. Drummond to give the house the personal attention necessary, and he arranged with the Dreamland Amusement Company to take over the lease for the present.

It is understood that the new managers will switch some of the attractions that have made Dreamland popular to the bigger house and shift programs in such a way that the big drawing cards can be seen at the Palace where there is room to care for the crowds.

Mr. Drummond and his local manager, Mr. Olds have conducted a high class house, and the service they have rendered cannot be criticised. The new managers will continue the high class attractions that have characterized the Dreamland shows from the beginning.

ANNUAL SPRING PARTIES WERE BIG EVENTS

The annual spring class parties came off last Friday night as has been their custom for many springs.

The only difference from the usual spring party was the curtailing of the refreshments, following the plea for economy.

At the late hour of eleven thirty the last straggling couple had arrived on Baldwin porch and enacted the farewell rites.

The different classes appreciate the kindness of the townspeople in opening the doors of their homes to them and thank them for this hospitality. It is only through their kindness that these parties are given and every year new friends are made by this spirit of open heartedness.

RECITAL SATURDAY NIGHT

The final recital of the scholastic year will be given at the chapel Saturday night.

Misses Lowry, Pardue and Kittrell will give their post-graduate numbers in piano. Miss Mary Kate Rankin will appear in her post-graduate recital in Voice. Miss Celia Rough in her graduate recital in Piano.

These young ladies have been preparing for some time and will render a most pleasing program. A large audience is assured them.

Be a man or woman, don't be a "squealer".

PRESIDENT WILSON REVIEWS BATTALIONS AND ADDRESSES STUDENTS

"I am glad to see the students of Maryville College preparing to serve their country", said President Samuel Tyndale Wilson to the two Battalions, composed of the men and women students, respectively, as he reviewed their several companies Monday morning.

President Wilson has just returned from New York, where, according to a statement he made in Chapel, he has succeeded in raising the Forward Fund to more than half of the necessary $300,000. The President, in his address at Chapel, spoke very optimistically of the future of Maryville College, saying that a great many new and influential friends have arisen, especially through the influence of the new book, "A Century of Maryville College—A Story of Altruism".

The students were delighted to have their President back with them, after an absence of two months, as was evidenced by the warm reception they gave him in Chapel.

HE DISAPPOINTED AGAIN

Dr. Broughton, who was to speak at the chapel last Tuesday night, wired at the eleventh hour that he would be unable to come. This was the second time Dr. Broughton failed to put in appearance after he had been announced. C. H. Gillingham filled the date in an admirable manner, delivering one of the best talks of the year. The college military companies attended the meeting in a body.

CAMPUS GETS CLEANED FOR COMMENCEMENT

The semi-annual "campus cleaning" has been in progress the past few days under the direction of landscape gardner McCurry and Prof. Davis.

The effects of the lawn-mower and hedge shears are quite noticable, and improve the appearance of the campus a great deal.

The Library has been undergoing some treatment with brush and paint. The familiar old saying, "A little brush and paint make a building look like what it 'aint", comes to mind.

The driveways have been smoothed and resurfaced and are now quite presentable to the incoming visitors.

It has been rumored that the four old boilers, which have been peacefully reposing in front of Carnegie for the past two years, are to be sold to a junk dealer and hauled away. However this rumor has not been verified.

At the rapid rate the campus is being put in good shape it will present a neat front to the alumni and other commencement visitors when they arrive next week.

SPRING TENNIS TOURNAMENT BEGINS THURSDAY

The Annual Spring Term Tennis Tournament will open Thursday afternoon with about twenty entries for men, and a large number of entries in the ladies' tournament. All entries must be handed into the the Managers, Mr. Dawson and Miss Crain by Wednesday noon

The men's tournament is expected to be an especially hard contested one as several of the best players on the "Hill have" been practicing regularly for some time.

The tournament will open Thursday, continuing Friday afternoon, and if necessary it will continue through Saturday afternoon.

The class tournament, singles, doubles, and mixed will open Tuesday, May 15th.

Following the class tournament the student champions will meet the faculty champions for the "hill" championship.

DO YOU WANT TO FARM THIS SUMMER?

F. L. Proffitt, college treasurer, has consented to use his power and influence in placing Maryville men who wish to farm this summer. There have been applications for men coming from the farmers, and the college, through Mr. Proffitt, is going to supply as many men as apply to him for farm work.

All fellows who contemplate such work this summer will do well to talk it over with Mr. Proffitt at once and make arrangements. The farmers need men badly and those who sign up to work will begin as soon as school is out.

TEN MEN WILL GO TO TRAINING CAMP

There are ten Maryville men who have passed the examinations for the Officers Reserve Corp. The camp at which these men will be trained is Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. It will open on the 15th of this month. Full credit for college work will be allowed these fellows, and the two Seniors in the party will receive their degree without finishing the term's work.

The men who leave here next Monday are, Martin '17, Dawson '18, James, Campbell, Norgan, L. Johnston, Frater, Webster, all of '19 and Weisbecker of '21. Ensign '17 departed last week. There will be four or five alumni at the camp besides the undergrads.

Telling the truth is right. "Tattling" may be right but it belongs to primary kids.

CANCEL BALANCE OF BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Season's Averages Compiled. Hodges Heads Batting List. Eleven Games Played.

Manager Feeman of the Varsity Baseball Team announces a cancellation of the remaining games on the schedule. This action calls off the annual trips to Tusculum and to Harrogate, where Lincoln Memorial is met. The two remaining games scheduled with Tennessee, one for Maryville, and one for Knoxville, are also called off

Along with the cancellation of the baseball schedule, the action of the Athletic Board of Control makes necessary the cancellation of the annual inter-scholastic track meets and water and tennis tournaments.

No action has been taken as regard football for next fall, and the schedule will be played out as contracted for. Further announcements in regard to football for next fall will be made next week by Manager Bryson and Capt. Greer.

PITCHERS STANDING

The Highlanders played eleven games during the season, all at home, winning five and losing six. The team took part in three shut-out games, Scruggs shut-out Tusculum April 23, by score of 12-0, this being the only shut-out game being won by Maryville. The other two were lost, one to the Chattanooga Southern League team by score of 5-0; and the other to L. M. U., April 21, by score of 6-0.

The local team took part in only one extra inning game, Scruggs pitching the Highlanders to victory in an eleven inning contest with Tennessee.

Scruggs led the pitchers with an average of 666. Sawyer was second with 333.

FIFTY-THREE WILL BE ELIGIBLE TO ENTER

Provided they make good in their final exams there will be fifty-three preparatory students eligible to enter college next fall, stated Principal Ellis. This number will be able to register without conditions, and there are others who will be in a position to enter, but they will be compelled to carry conditions.

This seems a very commendable record for the preparatory department, and it is a credit to principal and his excellent corp of instructors to be able to prepare such a large body for college entrance.

The Maryville College Preparatory Department is ranked with the very best High Schools in the State and its graduates can enter any college or university on their credits.

The past year has been one of the best years in the history of the prep department, a total of 509 students being enrolled.

BATTLE BRANCH MISSION MOVED

The Battle Branch Mission Building where services for the people of that part of Maryville are conducted under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, was moved to a new location last week. Five hundred dollars was necessary to pay for the new lot, which is not far from the old place, and for the expense of moving the building.

Three hundred dollars has been raised. Two hundred dollars more is needed. All Maryvillians should get behind the Mission, and support it, financially and morally, for the Mission has been and is doing a great work among the people of Battle Branch. By supporting the Mission, you are helping along the progress of Maryville, and the cause of Christ. Those interested should see Mr. R. S. Kithcart, Maryville.

EDITORIALS

REVIVE THE MONTHLY MAGAZINE

The Highland Echo took the place of the old College Monthly. It has filled the purpose of the Monthly in one way and yet in another way it has never been able to fill the gap left vacant by the discontinuation of the Monthly.

The four pages of the Echo provide space for the weekly sporting and social events on the Hill and for general news items. The Monthly did the same thing, in a summarizing way. But the Monthly gave something which the Echo can never give, that something is articles of a purely literary nature.

The College Monthly should be revived in the near future, next year if possible, and it should be made the livest Literary Magazine in the South. Maryville College has an abundance of material, splendid literary material, and there should be a place for it in the college publications.

Next week the Echo will be a Literary Number. The paper will be devoted to the literary productions of the students. It is the earnest desire of the Staff to make this prove the need of a Literary Magazine in Maryville College.

Every student who has a good short story or poem should present it. The co-operation of the English departments in both college and preparatory schools is urged to make the next issue representative of the work of the College.

Mr. R. A. Young will have entire charge of the paper next week and he will be glad to confer with anyone having material. Either place the material in the Echo box or give it to Mr. Young.

Let's make the literary number one of the best numbers of the year.

AGGIES WORK HARD. TEST MILK DAILY

Wednesday morning Prof. Hopkins' Agriculture Class made a trip to the College farm to inspect and work a lime spreader. The lime spreader is a new implement in the agricultural line and the class was benfitted very much by being able to witness the excellent work done by one of these new farm implements.

Mr. James Calloway, agent for a big farm implement company, loaned the Aggies the ilme spreader and they extend hearty thanks to him and his company.

The class has been testing milk sent in by various dairies. A sample taken from the dairy of Charles Ellis as a result of the test showed 6.9 percent butter fat, which is the highest yet tested.

DEBATERS PRESENT PROF. JOHNSON WITH LOVING CUP

At a very interesting and enthusiastic meeting in Science Hall, last Saturday night, the College and Preparatory debaters gave a beautiful engraved loving cup to Prof. W. L. Johnson, in appreciation of his faithful and efficient services as coach of the debating teams.

The meeting was opened by President W. W. Haggard, of the Forensic League, and the matter of giving certificates to the debaters was discussed, and passed in the affirmative. After discussing the prospective opponents for next year, in which U. T., Emory-Henry and Sewanee were named, the following officers were then elected by the League:

President, E. K. James; Vice President, Deck Williams; Sec. and Treas., Robert Adams.

With an eloquent speech, W. W. Haggard then presented Coach W. L. Johnson with the silver loving cup. Prof. Johnson was certainly "caught napping" for once, since all words failed him, for a few moments. However, he soon regained his usual self-control, and very warmly thanked the debaters for this token of their love and appreciation. He expressed great hope of the future of debating in Maryville College. Four out of six debates won, is the record of both sections of the League this year.

HIGHLAND GLANCES

Cody decided that the best thing for him to do was to stay on the Hill and sing at meal time.
